PRAYER FOR PEACE

THANKSGIVING 1966

In many homes across the nation today, there's a vacant seat at the dinner table. It seems like yesterday, when the high chair was put up in the attic, and he sat down at the table for the first time, propped up with a few pillows.

As he began to grow tall, he talked about many things. He would be one day a policeman or space scientist, professional ballplayer or a college professor. The world was his oyster.

His adolescent years passed quickly — high school days had come and gone — and suddenly overnight he became a man — for Uncle Sam beckoned and approved.

His turkey dinner with all the fixings will not be the same as ours. The Viet Cong may not wait. We'll miss his infectious grin — his kidding around with the rest of the family — no, he is on serious business now.

To those families with the empty chair — words are inadequate to express the feelings of a family separated by war.

What all of us can do, when we sit down to the traditional Thanksgiving Day feast, is to pause — give thanks to the Supreme Being and pray that a safe return may be granted to those absent and that peace will come to the world.

And as George Washington proposed in his Thanksgiving Day proclamation in 1789 thanks for constitutional government, let us hope that the governments of the world may become servants and not masters of the people.

Taneytown Community Thanksgiving Service

On Thursday, November 24th, at 9:00 A. M., at the Taneytown United Presbyterian Church on York Street, the Annual Community Thanksgiving Service will be held for all the people of Taneytown and vicinity. Everyone is most cordially invited to attend. The Rev. Robert V. Johnson, pastor of Emmanuel United Church of Christ at Tyrone, will deliver the Thanksgiving sermon on the subject, "Our Journey of Thanks." The Rev. Howard W. Miller, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, will read the scripture. The Rev. Warren M. Eschbach, pastor of Piney Creek Church of the Brethren, will offer the Pastoral Thanksgiving Prayer. The Rev. William F. Wiley, pastor of Grace United Church of Christ, will preside at the service. The combined choirs of the host church and Grace United Church of Christ will render the anthem, "Bless Ye the Lord," by Thompson. The free-will offerings will be given to the Maryland Children's Aid Society.

CARROLL COUNTY 4-H ACHIEVEMENT NIGHT

Achievement night was held on November 19th at the Westminster senior high school. The seats in this spacious auditorium were nearly all in use. Approximately 85 voices were heard in the 4-H chorus. They sounded wonderful.

Between musical selections, Mr. John Plog and Mrs. Patricia M. Stabler, who are extension agents, 4-H and youth, gave out the awards to deserving young people.

Record keeping was a necessity in order to be considered for one of the many fine awards. Some of the youngsters felt it was too much trouble to keep a record book — as some of us think it is also.

As I watched these starry-eyed youngsters receive their awards you were given the impression that it was well worth the time and work involved.

—Esther N. Speak.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce was held Monday evening at Taney Inn.

The following officers were elected to serve for 1967: president, Frank Dunham; 1st vice-president, Neal Powell; 2nd vice-president, Paul Morelock; treasurer, Murray Baumgardner; secretary, Singleton Remsburg; directors, Elwood Harner, Alfred Heltebride, Merwyn Fuss and Charles Arnold.

The annual Christmas party for the children of Taneytown was set for December 9th. President Dunham appointed the following committee to be in charge of the party: Paul Morelock, chairman, Alfred Heltebride, Wilbur Long, George Fream and Wayne Baumgardner.

Following the brief business meeting, the following guests were introduced. Mr. Ed Felgenhauer, Robert Bankert and Ted Koons; all of the Hampstead Chamber of Commerce. The following guests from the Black and Decker Co. were then introduced. Mr. Adam Quick, vice president in charge of production of all American operations for Black and Decker; Mr. Joe McDonald, director of manufacturing engineering and Mr. Fred Alden, works manager of the Hampstead plant. Mr. Quick spoke to the group on plant location, outlining the many and myriad problems relating to plant location. He stated that management only knows their own goals and objectives. They cannot know what problems this will create for the community in which they may locate. Therefore, the community problems are their own to solve and in dealing with potential industry, a community should be prepared to give quick documented answers to industry questions.

Mr. Joe McDonald showed a slide strip with sound which told the Black & Decker story. This slide strip is used as a part of the orientation program for new employees at Black & Decker.

Mr. Fred Alden then spoke on "Industry Living With the Community." He stated that if he had to name the two most important assets that the Hampstead location has to offer, he would say good people and plenty of room. He gave the following points as ways that the Black & Decker Hampstead situation could be improved. 1. More and better housing; 2. A vocational training school for Carroll County; 3. More access roads.

Mr. Adam Quick then summarized the evening's presentation and stated that probably the best guide line to use in attracting new industry would be "If you want to attract new industry, you have got to think like they do." A question and answer period followed. One answer will interest the people of Taneytown. Mr. Quick was asked if Taneytown had ever been considered as a probable site for the Black & Decker plant now situated at Hampstead. His answer was, no, it had not been considered, simply because it was just a little too far from the Towson operation. He also stated that Hampstead was absolutely the farthest distance from Towson that his company would consider.

If you invite new members to your club

With fresh ideas for things to do, If every member takes some part When asked, by saying, "I'll be glad to."

If every meeting starts and stops on time

And the business is kept snappy, If each committee does their job well, A "thank-you" will make them happy. If your club rotates its leaders And they welcome another view — then

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning. A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Happy Thanksgiving! And do go to church and Thank God for your many Blessings!

How wonderful the country is in the Winter — such a homey feeling that no one adjective could describe.

Have a case of that wonderful "Mountain Valley Mineral Water" from Hot Springs, Arkansas, which has been before the public now for almost a century and it sure did something for me. It is truly wonderful! It is a naturally pure mild alkaline, health water. Not carbonated and not a laxative. But a natural diuretic. You will never drink any other kind of water after you have tasted this!

All the stores appearing lovely for the holidays, and to my surprise, there were many school buses parked on Lexington St. on Saturday and I made inquiries to the bus drivers for that one and they stated so many children from all parts of the city were in the New Theatre viewing that precious picture, "The Sound of Music;" nice?

There will be a Holly Tour on December 4, benefiting Youth Work in the area of the Central Churches of Baltimore. This will be most interesting. It is administered through the First Presbyterian Church. Holly Tour Homes will be open from 3:00 to 8:00. There will be 15 homes opened to the public. It surely will be worth your while!

And down in the Lexington Market, folks near the Eutaw entrance at last I found those big Reading pretzels! Ummmmmmmmmm good!

And thinking about a real feast, by all means visit the "Carriage House" at 889 N. Howard Street. It has been open four years but recently went an entire new face lifting and adjectives could not describe the charm of that place! It is run by Ruth and Rusty, and Rusty introduced his wife to me as his boss! The place is situated along "Antique Row" and there is a grand Smorgasbord Luncheon from 11 to 2:30 P. M. on Wed., Thurs. and Friday. It is truly the finest of its kind in Baltimore and frankly it has that New York atmosphere. It is closed on Sundays. The delightful food is served in excellent taste.

Mr. (Rusty) Petrides started working in the restaurant business in N. Y. City at the age of fifteen! It is open from 11:30 A. M. to midnight. I do not want to tell you more — go see for yourself and there will be many surprises. The food is simply wonderful!

The "Farmer's Almanac" for December states it will be a wild month with so much cold, wind and snow! Ugh! Don't complain, just think of this past Summer!

Why not give the entire family, folks "THE CARROLL RECORD" for Christmas? That is one thing all will enjoy.

Now, here is the beginning as to the many requests as to the Horoscope readings— from November 20 to December 20, inclusive is "SAGITTARIUS."

Jupiter, the ruling planet of this sign is lavish with desirable gifts to its subjects endowing them with mental qualities of a high order, including unusual powers of discrimination which in turn give a lofty sense of justice, foresight and wisdom in all commercial and industrial interests. These people are the ones who move the world by their concentrated energy. Lots of times the public may think they are cold and distant but in reality it all is depth. This sign has many beautiful people, in fact, quite handsome. The eyes are a striking feature, being large and expressive, seeming to penetrate beyond the vision of ordinary mortals! They are strong, honest, fearless and blunt and the most beautiful characters.

They are way ahead of the other fellow in thoughts and ideas and everyone should take their excellent advice. They dislike secretiveness as they are so honest themselves. These people are just different from the rest of humanity, as they are born at the time of the year when the days are shortest and the nights the longest. In fact, many of the world's greatest achievements are the accomplishments of people born under this influence. I could go on and on, folks but Sagittarius people are simply wonderful to be around!

Don't forget the Maryland Dog Show on the 27th of this month at the Fifth Regiment Armory. This year all proceeds will go to the Heart Association of Maryland. And I hope to be seeing you there D.V.

Until next week, D.V.

I am, Faithfully yours, Irene deLeon Love.

THANKSGIVING — A GREAT TRADITION

It has been said that nothing is so constant as change. Bulldozers and earth movers give evidence of this every day. And yet, a few traditions and principles will very likely be with us as long as there is a United States, and as long as we enjoy freedom under representative government.

Once again, it will be a sober day for many who have members of their families in the Armed Forces. And it will be a sad day for more than a few who must endure an empty space at the table that will never be filled. For these, the tragedy of war has exacted the ultimate price.

GRASSROOTS OPINIONS

ONEONTA, ALA., SOUTHERN DEMOCRAT: "It's always gratifying to have people not only read the editorial column but to comment on it favorably as well. However these kind remarks always make the writer wonder how many readers there are who disagree with opinions expressed but won't speak up."

PORT HURON, MICH., TIMES HERALD: "That was an amazing comment by Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz the other day. He told a meeting of union members in Kansas City that 'there won't be any inflation in this country.' One wonders which country he was talking about."

WEST POINT, MISS., TIMES LEADER: "One of the chief social and moral problems in our massive and depersonalized society is the growing division between private and public morality."

FOREST CITY, N.C., COURIER: "Your doctor says, 'Take a walk.' Take a long walk, every day, if you can find the time. Any sort of walking is good, but a brisk walk is excellent. Walking or hiking is an excellent exercise that involves many of the muscles of the body. One of its big advantages is that walking is universally available as an exercise nearly every day of the year. The strain of the activity depends on the pace and distance. . . . The AMA cautions the untrained person against an exercise orgy in hiking or in any other vigorous physical activity.

OCALA, FLA., STAR-BANNER: "Taxes are going up in Canada, and the government is planning to cut spending. Get that: government spending will be cut. (We haven't heard anybody in Washington even hint such a possibility despite increasing cost of purchasing power.)"

GOODING, IDAHO, LEADER: "This Administration is attempting to fight a war and create a 'Great Society' at the same time. The effort may well be more than the taxpayers can afford."

FOUNTAIN, COLO., ADVERTISER & NEWS: "Time was when a private company and/or individual was expected to look after his own welfare and charity was something to take only when absolutely necessary. America was a strong, moral nation, with parents having sole responsibility for their offspring."

COLUMBIA, TENN., HERALD: "We should remember that work continues to be indispensable to man's security, well-being and growth. This is no less true for the disabled and handicapped than for those of us who are more fortunate. Our society has prospered because it offers to all the hope of achieving fullness of life."

New Garnish For Baked Ham

That “good old standby” for easy dinners, baked ham, will have brand-new appeal when you present “Ham with Cranberry Pears.” Bake fresh Bartlett pear halves with an orange-accented mixture of almonds and canned cranberry sauce for this quick, easy and so-impressive glamorizer.

Ham and pears are among the happiest of meat-fruit combinations. Heat thin slices of fresh Bartlett pears in the same skillet with frizzled boiled ham for a delectable accompaniment to waffles or pancakes. Fill a chilled pear half with ham and celery salad and serve as first course. Toss crescent-shaped slices, shredded western iceberg lettuce and ham slivers with creamy blue cheese dressing for a hearty lettuce slaw.

California has produced one of the best and biggest crops of Bartlett pears in many years. Enjoy them, not only with ham and other favorite foods, but simply eaten out of hand.

HAM WITH CRANBERRY PEARS

3 fresh California Bartlett pears	Dash salt
1 cup canned whole berry cranberry sauce	2 tablespoons melted butter
1 teaspoon grated orange rind	1/4 cup roasted sliced almonds
1/4 cup orange juice	Baked ham

Pare, halve and core pears; place cavity-sides up in baking dish. Mix all remaining ingredients except ham; spoon into pear halves; pour liquid over and around pears. Cover dish tightly and bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven 30 to 35 minutes. Serve warm as accompaniment for baked ham. Makes 6 servings.

THANKSGIVING

Over 300 years ago, a group of brave Englishmen called Puritans, faced the unknown perils of a stormy ocean and the even greater ones of a strange, wild country, and on a frail little ship called the Mayflower, they sailed for the new land of America. The motivating force here was a great love for God, and a strange desire to worship Him in their own simple and sincere way. In England, the Puritans had suffered much persecution on account of their religious beliefs and practices. They fled to Holland and sought refuge there, but decided that only by coming to the New World could they ever hope to attain complete religious freedom.

After long, weary weeks of travel, the Puritans finally sighted the rock-bound coast of New England. With fervent prayer and great joy, they landed on Plymouth Rock, in the Massachusetts harbor, in December of the year 1620.

That first cruel Winter took a heavy toll of lives. Added to the miseries of cold and hunger was an even greater threat—the ever constant one of hostile Indians, who displayed their hatred for the white men by the horrible use of tomahawks and bows and arrows. Puritan men were actually compelled to carry guns with them on their way to church, as protection against the murderous red men.

Mercifully, however, some of the Indians proved themselves to be friendly. A chief named Squanto and some of his people were kind and helpful to the Puritans. They taught their white brothers how to plant corn and other crops, and showed them how to fertilize the ground by putting a dead fish into each hill of corn. The first crops were so successful that Governor Bradford, in the year 1621, right after the harvest, set aside a special day for prayers and thanksgiving to God for His bountiful blessings. On that happy day, the Puritans and their Indian friends—who contributed gifts of food—sat down to a mouth-watering feast, which consisted of wild turkey, venison, oysters, clams, sweet potatoes, corn, cranberries, and pumpkin pie. This marked the very beginning of our traditional Thanksgiving Day meal.

Gradually the custom prevailed of appointing thanksgiving after the harvest. This began, as we have said, in the New England Colonies. In 1817, New York adopted it as an annual custom, and it spread through many of the states by the middle of the 19th century. In 1864, President Lincoln proclaimed a national Thanksgiving Day, and every President since then has followed suit.

We, who live in America today can thank God for our brave Puritan forefathers. They have bequeathed to us our richest heritage—the freedom and the right to worship in the church of our choice, without any interference or hindrance. This is indeed the greatest freedom of all.

—Zola Cantwell.

Eager Beaver Girls' 4-H Club members will hold their Christmas gift workshop on Friday, Nov. 25, at 10:30 A. M. at the home of Mrs. Joseph Coshun near Mt. Union.

Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Catlin and Mrs. Gertrude Warner of Detour were Mrs. Warner's niece, Mr. and Mrs. George Ream of Newport, N.J., and Mrs. A. F. Shiffman of Dunkirk, N.Y.

Announcement in the bulletin at Keysville Lutheran Church: "Richard Dinterman and Barbara Brown were united in marriage yesterday at the parsonage in Union Bridge. Best wishes to this couple." We add congratulations, also.

A Parish Thanksgiving Observance was held at Keysville Lutheran Church on Sunday evening. Charles Petrey of the Westminster Coca Cola Bottling Co. showed the film "Wonderful World." This film, which is over a mile long and takes 42 minutes to see, was made by three photographers on an unlimited expense account on a trip around the world. They "shot" over eight miles of film and it was edited down to the very best of the trip. The color was beautiful and the trip delightful. Light refreshments of cider and gingerbread were enjoyed afterwards in a fellowship hour.

Homemakers Council members will hold the annual planning meeting in the Conference Room of the County Office Building on Nov. 30 at 10 A. M.

Anyone missing a little black female dog? One adopted our family last Friday. She is wearing a collar but no identification and was evidently tied because there is a piece of torn cord attached to her collar. Please give us a call if it sounds like yours or we may also adopt her. Thanks.

And now to each and everyone of you and your families: A Very Happy Family-type Thanksgiving from myself and my family.

Cub Pack 459

Indians took over the meeting of Cub Pack 459 at the Church of the Brethren in Union Bridge on Friday evening, Nov. 18.

Three members, Jeff Yingling, Mike Caricofe and Danny Zile, had finished their requirements for their Webelos badge. With the lights out and a simulated log fire in the center of the room, Chief Sam Fleming and a number of braves (members of Scout Troop 330), who were in Indian costume and wearing feathered headpieces, ushered the three boys to the front of the room to receive their badges.

Scoutmaster William Fleharty of Troop 330 then welcomed Mike and Danny into the Troop by lighting the candleabra: twelve candles representing the separate parts of the Scout oath with the one which stands for all good things in Scouting. Earl Myers, ADC, read the points while the candles were being lit. Mr. Fleharty presented the boys with their badges and their mothers "pinned them" as Tenderfoot Scouts. "Taps" was played to end the ritual. (Jeff will also join the Troop but he will not be 11 until December.)

Due to the absence of the Cubmaster, no awards were available and the Cub Committee regrets this omission. Dr. David Edwards opened the meeting by leading the singing of several songs. A short business meeting was held. Den 4 closed the meeting by making the Living Circle. Mrs. J. H. Caricofe served refreshments.

Keysville-Detour Homemakers Club

Eric Gratz, Carroll County representative of Children's Aid and Family Services, was guest speaker at the joint meeting of Mt. Union, Union Bridge, Keysville-Detour and New Windsor Homemakers Clubs at the Church of the Brethren in Union Bridge on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 15.

Mr. Gratz, a former Methodist minister who has his Master's Degree in Social Work, explained his office is not to be confused with Maryland Children's Aid, which is an adoption service. Children's Aid and Family Service Society, Inc., which began in Baltimore in 1912 and opened the office in Westminster in November 1963, is supported by the Community Chest—United Appeal from which it received 88 per cent of its funds. Sliding scale fees are charged to those who can afford to pay. There are 50 people on the staff and they all have their Master's Degree in Social Work to be better able to help those who call upon them.

There are actually three services they offer, he went on. They are counseling in general: for marriage problems, parent-child relationships and the pre-marital couples; foster care service, and the homemakers service program. He told more about each of these services and gave several danger signals for which to watch to be able to tell if someone should need counselling.

President of the Mt. Union Club, Mrs. Joshua Staley, extended welcome to all who attended. Mrs. O. P. Jones gave a reading on Thanksgiving. Mrs. Russell Frock, county council chairman, was a guest and brought greetings from the council. Mrs. Janet McMurtry, extension agent-home economics, introduced newest agent, Mrs. Barbara Kirichok. She also reported the cancellation of the December training meeting for home management chairmen and the date for the joint meetings in 1967 will be in May. She urged the return of the yellow "skill" sheets and told of the availability of a First Aid Manual through the office.

Members then separated into local groups for short business meetings before enjoying the refreshments served by the Mt. Union Club members, who were hostesses for the afternoon.

An Old-Fashioned Recipe Worth Duplicating (by Margaret N. Freeman)

Did you ever ask a seasoned cook for a recipe and end up with directions for a scant cup of this, a heaping tablespoon of that, and a pinch of something else? Well Margaret says her mother makes the best Swedish pancakes—thin, tender, and fragrant—and because I can't seem to add a little of something, a lot of something else and come up with the right consistency. I haven't equaled them, but since they are worth duplicating, I keep trying!

Our Thanksgiving news goes back again and again to the old standbys—traditional turkey and pumpkin pie, and the old-fashioned theme of Thanksgiving itself—a day enshrined out of 365 in which to offer thanks.

It seems to me the Pilgrims had a very good recipe for Thanksgiving. More than 300 years ago a small crude ship rode anchor near a bleak New England coast. The common folk within were without wealth or fame, but their hearts beat high with the spirit that was to clothe their memory in everlasting lustre. They had left their native land on the other side of the Atlantic for the new world to find themselves and prosperity, a home and freedom to worship God.

Before the Spring sun covered their ice-bound coast with green growth, half of them died, but that handful of men and women who remained took new heart when Spring came. They seemed to accept their hardships and sufferings as a test of faith. They had embarked on faith; founded their colony in faith; and they continued to look in faith to God for future guidance.

As we all know the story so well how the Pilgrims came and settled in this country—this story is old, yet ever new. I shall omit some of this article and conclude with this portion.

The first Thanksgiving Day in 1621 was followed by a meager year; 1623 was even worse. Tradition tells us after Spring planting, that colony had five kernels of corn per person. In New England, it was a long custom to place five kernels of corn beside dinner plates and tell how Pilgrims, despite poverty, gave thanks to God, these kernels represented to the people the blessings of God. During the revolutionary struggle Congress feeling the need of reliance on God, recommended yearly the feast of Thanksgiving to praise the Lord for progress and renew hopes for ultimate victory. When that struggle ended and the peace treaty was signed Congress recommended a general day of Thanksgiving commemorating return of peace.

Washington, in the first year of his Presidency issued a Proclamation setting aside a certain day to observe Thanksgiving Day.

A like Proclamation was issued in 1795 for people to give thanks for general benefits—thus Thanksgiving observance was left to presidential sanction and recommendation.

Lincoln set the day aside, more as a consecration than a Thanksgiving. After reading this article I thought perhaps you would enjoy it as much as I. We do need to thank God for our many blessings, not only on November 24 but every day of our lives. Some will say what do I have to thank God for? Well stop for a moment and think how God gave us life—how are we using that life? Look—God gave us eyes to see the glory of his creation, a beautiful world to live in—are we enjoying it? Listen, what do we hear? The sound of our heart beating within us. God gave us all this; what have we given him? He deserves more than thanks. He wants you, you, and me to tell others about His wonderful thanksgiving and the one whom we owe it all.

God's timing, God's help is always sure; his methods seldom discussed; delay will make our pleasure poor, surprise will give it zest, his wisdom is sublime; his heart profoundly kind; God never is before his time and never is behind.

News was scarce this week due to writing and sending them early. I hope you enjoy what I have written. May God be near one and all this Thanksgiving Day.

IN MEMORIAM In loving memory of my dear husband, ELMER T. WELTY, who passed away two years ago, November 28, 1964.

Hand in hand we walked together Missing not one stepping stone Now I stumble on the pathway As I try to walk alone. Nights are long, and oh, how lonely; Darker than I have ever known; Morning brings me no contentment Just another day alone. Two lonely years have passed away Since my great sorrow came The shock that I received that day I still remember well. I miss you, oh, I miss you so I often don't know what to do; I hope my trials will soon be over Then forever be with you.

Loving wife, Alberta.

THE IDEAL GIFT

"When you make up your Christmas gift list, don't overlook U. S. Savings Bonds. They're better than ever this year." That's the opinion of Mr. Vernon E. Beall, volunteer Chairman of Savings Bonds for Carroll County.

"Savings Bonds now pay interest at the rate of 4.15 per cent when they are held to maturity — and they mature in just 7 years," Mr. Beall pointed out.

"I can't think of a better gift for our loved ones," he said. "Not only do Bonds 'keep on giving' over the years, but they help support our men fighting in Vietnam."

"When you buy Bonds," Mr. Beall added, "you also solve your gift-wrap problem. Attractive gift envelopes are again available at your bank. They are easy to mail, and can be slipped into a Christmas card envelope or tucked into a Christmas stocking."

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports — John Breth

In appearance, DICK BASS of the Los Angeles Rams does not appear to be the logical successor to Jim Brown as the leading ground gainer in the National Football League. But the stumpy, five-foot-ten, 205-pound Bass holds a narrow margin over Cleveland's Leroy Kelly and Chicago's Gale Sayers in the race to win the N-F-L-O rushing title left up for grabs when the powerful, six-two, 230-pound Brown retired.

Bass, one of the smallest and lightest fullbacks in the league, does not run with the muscle and force that were Brown's trademarks. Instead, he uses a little shuffling gait, hoping to break into the clear, where he can exhibit his blazing speed.

Coach Allie Sherman of the New York Giants is among those impressed with Bass. Sherman says: "He's one of three or four backs in the league who make a lot of plays on their own. He turns 4-yard plays into 40's."

Bass says: "If I can break away for 40 to 50 yards to score, I'll try to head over to the sidelines and give the guys a chance to make blocks. That's the only glory they get on a touchdown run. It helps the guys when they feel they're helping the team."

Bass, an all-out team player, adds: "What I want is to make the line-man want to die for me. If they're inspired enough and want to win enough, they'll make the little extra moves to spring me loose."

That's all Bass needs . . . just a little daylight as Green Bay Packers coach Vince Lombardi would say. Then, Bass, a slippery runner, can navigate on his own, although he always welcomes all the help he can get. Bass, the kind of inspirational leader that every team needs, has helped the Rams compile a five and five record in the N-F-L's rugged western conference. But it has not satisfied him. Bass would rather see the Rams in first place and his name further down the list of leading ball carriers than have Los Angeles in its current position of fourth and he being the number one ground gainer.

The casualty rate among pro football quarterbacks is high but that doesn't stop GARY CUOZZO from wanting to see action.

Gary is the number two quarterback of the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League. Since Johnny Unitas is the number one quarterback of the Baltimore Colts, Cuozzo doesn't see much action.

This is the fourth season with the Colts and while he had no kicks in general, he would like a chance as a first-string signal-caller sometime soon.

Here is how Cuozzo put it: "They have done real good for me. I can't complain. But you can learn just so much by watching. I'm at a point where I have to start playing."

Asked what he intends to do about it, Cuozzo said: "I'll take my action at the proper time."

Cuozzo did have to take action . . . on the field . . . last season when Johnny Unitas was injured. Gary had a tremendous day against the Minnesota Vikings, throwing five touchdown passes but late in the season he was sidelined himself with a shoulder separation. That forced the use of running back Tom Matte as an emergency quarterback.

Matte won a measure of pro football glory by leading the Colts to a victory over the Los Angeles Rams and almost did it again a week later in a divisional playoff against Green Bay. The Packers won it in overtime. 13-10 Matte then directed the Colts to an easy win over the Dallas Cowboys in the playoff bowl in Miami. That's the N-F-L playoff between the second-place finishers in the two divisions.

Cuozzo, referring to his inactivity, says, "It's a lot easier to start a game than go in there later on. It takes time to pick up the tone, at the least a series of downs."

Today's Sport Laugh — Fullback Jim Nance of the Boston Patriots had a big afternoon last Sunday against the Oakland Raiders. But at one stage of the game, he started to rub his left shoulder. A teammate anxiously asked if Nance was all right.

Replied Nance: "It hurts a little. But I've still got the other shoulder."

Youth Basketball

The Taneytown Jaycees are happy to announce that the Taneytown Youth Basketball program has been organized for the 1966-1967 season. The successful season of last year's program has proven that a Youth Program such as this is a worth-while and accredited project to the community of Taneytown.

It is the intention of the Jaycees through the Youth Basketball Program to acquaint the youth of the community with the skills, the competition and the sportsmanship aspects of basketball. The age group is 10 thru 17.

Our tentative schedule will be Saturday afternoons from 12:00 to 3:00 P.M., starting with the Saturday of December 3rd. During these sessions there will be several Jaycee committeemen to give instructions and necessary organization for the afternoon activities.

To enroll in Taneytown's Youth Basketball program just fill out and sign the form which will be distributed to the various schools.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

Is There Any Hope?
Lesson For November 27, 1966

Background Scripture: Jeremiah 31, 32.
Devotional Reading: Jeremiah 31:1-16.

Several years ago an American submarine was trapped with its entire crew far below the surface of the ocean. At first it was believed that rescue attempts had a good chance for success. Messages were tapped out on the hull of the stricken sub, establishing contact between those above and below. Despite heroic efforts to rescue the crew, time finally ran out. With oxygen failing, someone tapped out a last desperate question: "Is there any hope?"

Many today are preoccupied with that question. They look at the pain, the evil, and the turmoil of this complex world today and want some assurance of what the future holds. What kind of world will it be for our children and their children? Will they still stand under the threat of nuclear destruction, under the tension of racial hostilities, under the danger of growing world Communism?

Signs Of The Times
When we read the signs of the times it is difficult to decide which way they are pointing. Every hope seems balanced by some threat, every stride forward by a big step backward, every indication of encouragement by mounting pressures of despair. Commencement speakers and politicians delight in foreseeing a "bright new day" before us, but is that really what lies ahead? Some people are saying, "Stop worrying and leave it up to man — he'll bring a brighter day!" Never before has man had so much about which to be optimistic with himself. His progress in science and technology are unbelievable. Is there no limit to man's potentialities? There is: Man himself.

When the First World War was fought, many believed that they were fighting a "war to end all wars." In the interval between the First and Second World Wars people were supremely optimistic about the ability of man to build a world free of armed conflict. Education, science and culture would eliminate the causes of warfare. Given enough time and motivation, there wasn't anything man couldn't do.

The Nagging Question
Education, science, and culture did expand and grow at a dizzying pace, but so did the causes of war. Mankind's great and optimistic hopes for the future were dashed by the even more terrible World War Two.

Now, once again we are envisioning the paradise of the world that is "just around the corner." The growth of science, culture, and education is far greater than ever before. Once again people are predicting a not-too-distant Utopia: life, push-buttoned to the hilt; life created in the laboratory test tube; humanity molded into new forms by the management of human genes!

Because many of us remember the disappointments of the past, we find ourselves asking that nagging question: "Is there any hope?" The present can better be endured when we have some assurance of the future. Yet the past seems to fairly bellow: "Don't count on man!"

In the dark days when Judah was under siege by Babylon, the people of Judah asked that nagging question of the prophet Jeremiah. Instead of telling them, he showed them. Buying a piece of real estate outside Jerusalem, Jeremiah demonstrated in a very tangible way that he believed God would restore Judah.

This man whom many regarded as the "prophet of doom," actually held the most optimistic outlook. But it was an optimism, not about man, but the power of God.

Do you believe in the future? No, let us not believe in the future but in the God in whose hands the future rests. Is there any hope? Yes, but in God, not man.

Easy-Do Chicken Dinner

"Chicken Complete" is a new idea in casseroles—it has separateness AND togetherness! Chicken pieces, first crisply fried, bake atop a creamed vegetable duo to make a casserole with identity. Convenience foods—canned vegetables, evaporated milk, a bouillon cube—fashion with ease the flavorful base of this delicious chicken dinner.

Chicken Complete
1 can (1 lb.) green beans
1 can (1 lb.) small whole potatoes
½ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
2½ to 3 lb. frying chicken, cut up
¼ cup salad oil
2 tablespoons butter
1 small onion, chopped
1 chicken bouillon cube
1 cup boiling water
1 tall can evaporated milk (1½ cups)
Paprika
Drain beans and potatoes. Mix flour and salt. Roll chicken in flour mixture to coat well. Reserve remaining flour. Heat oil in a large skillet and fry chicken until tender and lightly browned. Remove from skillet; set aside. Add butter to pan drippings. Add onion; cook and stir over low heat until tender. Remove skillet from heat; blend in reserved flour. Dissolve bouillon cube in boiling water. Blend into flour mixture in skillet; then stir in evaporated milk. Cook and stir over medium heat until thickened. Add drained vegetables. Turn into a lightly buttered 2-quart casserole. Arrange chicken on top. Sprinkle with paprika. Cover and bake in preheated moderate oven (375° F.) 20 minutes, or until vegetables and chicken are hot. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

WIDE PARTICIPATION SOUGHT IN '67 FEED GRAIN PROGRAM

The Department of Agriculture will seek a wide participation in the 1967 feed grain program to balance supply and demand and safeguard farm income.

Gary R. Brauning, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said today that a widespread farmer participation will be urged for the program again next year because "fence to fence" planting—which would become general if program participation were poor in 1967—could easily mean production of more corn and grain sorghum than is needed and could be profitably sold. With a couple of years of normal weather, feed grain producers would be back where they were in 1961, before the diversion programs undertaken to stabilize supplies and prices.

The 1967 feed grain program, therefore, looks toward limited acreage diversion and increased expansion of production geared to needs—in other words, an increased out put from about 12 to 15 million more acres without the risk of a drop in income.

Diversion payments under the 1967 program will be available to growers on "small farms" (those with feed grain bases of 25 acres or less).

Farmers will be able to qualify for price-support payments and loans on their 1967 corn and grain sorghum crops by signing up to take part in the 1967 feed grain program and then diverting 20 per-cent of the farm's feed grain base and meeting other general program provisions. Growers on small farms will be eligible also for diversion payments equivalent to 20 per-cent of the total county support (loan plus price-support payment) for the first 20 per-cent of the base acreage diverted and 50 per-cent of the support on any additional acres diverted, up to the total base.

For corn, the 1967 price-support loan rate has been increased from $1 to $1.05 per bushel, national average, and the payment rate stays at 30 cents a bushel on the projected yield of the acres planted up to 50 per-cent of the base acreage. For grain sorghum, the loan is increased from $1.52 to $1.61 per hundredweight, national average, and payment stays at 55 cents. Loans are available on corn and grain sorghum farms.

Sign up under the 1967 program will begin early next year.

AN "IF" FOR GIRLS

by Elizabeth Otis

If you can dress and make yourself attractive,
Yet not make puffs and curls your chief delight;
If you can swim and row, be strong and active,
But of the gentler graces lose not sight;
If you can dance without a craze for dancing,
Play without giving play too strong a hold,
Enjoy the love of friends without romancing,
Care for the weak, the friendless, and the old;
If you can master French and Greek and Latin,
And not acquire, as well, A priggish mien;
If you can feel the touch of silk and satin
Without despising calico and jean;
If you can ply a saw and use a hammer,
Can do a man's work when the need occurs,
Can sing, when asked, without excuse or stammer,
Can rise above unfriendly snubs and slurs;
If you can make good bread as well as fudges,
Can sew with skill, and have an eye for dust;
If you can be a friend and hold no grudges,
A girl whom all will love because they must;
If sometime you should meet and love another
And made a home with faith and peace enshrined,
And you its soul — A loyal wife and mother,
You'll work out pretty nearly to my mind,
The plan that's been developed through the ages,
And win the best that life can have in store,
You'll be, my girl, a model for the sages,
A woman whom the world will bow before.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

PUSHING ANOTHER CAR

Trapped in a tight parking space, a motorist decided to push against the car behind him. He glanced into his rear view mirror, then started moving backward. Unhappily, his quick look hadn't shown that the woman who owned the other car was just opening her door to get in. As he pushed her car, the open door struck and injured the woman.

She sued later for damages, and the man was held liable for his failure to take a better look before pushing.

"Such a maneuver," said the court, "is dangerous and should not be undertaken until safety has been made reasonably certain."

Whenever you set a second car in motion with your own car, you suddenly expand the scope of your responsibility. One judge put it this way:

"In so handling two cars, the driver must be as mentally alert and as physically responsive as a western cowboy riding two horses Roman fashion."

On the other hand, pushing another car is not wrong if you proceed with care. Even if there is an accident, you are ordinarily not liable if you were not negligent. For example:

A kindly motorist offered a push to a man whose car had stalled in the street. After pushing it about 20 feet, he let the front car roll ahead on its own momentum. The driver reached the corner, turned—and hit a woman pedestrian.

In due course the injured woman sued the good Samaritan, arguing that he had provided the original impetus to the car that struck her. But a court held him not liable, since the accident happened after he had broken off "control" of the front car.

As a rule you may assume, in pushing, that not only the other driver but also the car itself will behave in a normal manner. Consider another tight-parking-space case:

Here, the motorist nudged the car ahead, little suspecting that it had been left in gear with the ignition on. The motor caught—and, as he watched in helpless horror, the car crossed the street and crunched through a plate glass window.

But again, the motorist was held not liable for the damage done, since the front car's behavior was so unexpected.

Thus, in judging your liability for pushing another car, the law requires you to allow for dangers that may fairly be anticipated—but nothing more. The law demands foresight. It does not demand clairvoyance.
