HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

T.H.S. ANNOUNCES FOURTH ANNUAL SCHOOL-WORK PLAN

The Diversified Occupation course offered in the Taneytown High School is an attempt to help non-college bound students find his or her place in the world of work.

There are approximately 40 students in this category. They have become interested enough to register for this plan and it is our desire to place them in a work situation throughout the community if such can be accomplished.

The idea known as the "School-Work Plan" is a practical way of setting up desirable attitudes toward the work world. It has as its primary objectives the following: The promotion of good student work habits and attitudes, the encouragement of desirable traits of character, the promotion of cooperative attitudes in students, the promotion of student guidance, and making possible a limited supervised introduction of students to the activities and demands of the working world.

The student workers will report to their jobs every Monday, Wednesday and Friday that school is in session. They are to remain on the job for six hours, or longer if they should so desire. No remuneration is expected for the student for that part of the time spent in your employment which is normally a part of the legal school day; however, it is expected that if the student should be employed for any part of the day over and above the hours mentioned, that he or she be paid a nominal sum in proportion to the value of the student's effort in behalf of the employer.

Starting Wednesday, February 22, students will approach local businesses and industries to ask for placement. The program itself will run from March 13 thru April 21, 1967. Businesses and industries interested in having students placed with them or anyone desiring further information may call on Mr. Hugh Friend, Guidance Counselor, or Mr. Frank Mather, Principal, at Taneytown High School. The phone number is 756-6345.

On Feb. 13 thru 17 the Student Council sponsored a school spirit week. On Monday, the 13th, the homerooms made posters which inspired school spirit. These posters were judged on Thursday, the 16th, by the Varsity basketball team. The prize given for this was a free trip on the spectators' bus to the tournament. First prize was given to Mrs. Motter's 7th grade homeroom. Marathon Day was held on Wednesday, the 15th. Friday, the 17th, was to have been "Badge Day," but due to the weather it was postponed until Wednesday, the 22nd. In general, the week went well and the Student Council was pleased to see that so many students bought links for the chain which was hung on the school walls.

On Thursday, Feb. 16, sixty-eight tenth grade students went to Gettysburg to see the movie "Julius Caesar." Chaperones were Mrs. Harold Rodgers, English teacher, and David Horton, history teacher.

Judy F. Welty ranked first in a written homemaking knowledge and attitude test given to senior girls December 6 and becomes Taneytown High School's 1967 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow, it has been announced. Registered for the test were 581,334 girls in 14,753 of the nation's high schools, a new record for the 13 years the program has been offered by General Mills, its sponsor. Judy will be awarded a specially designed silver charm, and she remains in contention for state and national scholarship awards ranging from $500 to $5,000.

Shooting Education

The Taneytown Jaycees are going to sponsor a Shooting Education Program for boys in grades 4 through 6 to be held at the Elementary School, February 25, March 4 and March 10. On March 10, the session will meet at 7:30 P. M. Parents will be invited to an open house. At this meeting a marksmanship competition will be the order of the program whereby awards will be given.

Everyday our newspapers relate stories involving youngsters who have either shot someone or were shot with an unloaded gun. The excuse is always the same, I DIDN'T KNOW THE GUN WAS LOADED. Through the Shooting Education Program, we will attempt to eliminate these types of accidents. The program is directed toward the youth in order to provide instruction in the correct handling of guns. This kind of training and that of correct gun handling can provide any youth with a lifetime of safe shooting fun.

A number of Jaycees will be on hand to provide instruction in safe gun handling, marksmanship and sportsmanship. Daisy air rifles will be used for the marksmanship part of our program.

An essay contest sponsored by members of the William Winchester D A R W was held recently in the Taneytown Elementary School along with other schools in Carroll County. Winner of the sixth grade contest was Pamela Gonder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Gonder, Westminster Road.

Post to Reorganize Boy Scout Troop #348

Commander Joseph B. Shaum, Hesson-Snyder Post #120, Taneytown has announced a meeting to reorganize Boy Scout Troop 348. The meeting will be held in the social room of The American Legion Home on Broad Street on Monday, February 27 at 7:30 P. M.

Mr. Porter Lee, Scoutmaster of a Westminster Boy Scout Troop and active in Scouting for many years will be present to assist in the reorganization. Mr. Lee will be representing the Baltimore office.

Troop 348 has been sponsored many years by Hesson-Snyder Post #120. Mr. Wilbur O. Thomas has served as Scout Master and through his leadership the troop has been successful in scouting and community activities. Hundreds of boys from the community have benefited from his guidance in the scouting program.

Commander Shaum invites parents of boys who are interested in becoming scouts and other adults who have an interest in the Boy Scout program to attend this meeting. If scouting is to continue to be an active part of the Taneytown community, then your interest displayed at this meeting will be an incentive to Boy Scout leaders.

Robert Wantz, chairman of the post Boy Scout Committee states that he is expecting a large attendance for this affair. He said many parents have asked about the program that has been planned for this night. He is looking forward to seeing many of them at the meeting and that February 27 was selected because it does not conflict with any other meetings or community affairs.

First Vice Commander John Damon has conducted a survey of the boys who are interested in becoming scouts. This was completed in cooperation with the schools. Mr. Damon said that if all the parents of the boys turn out for this meeting we will have a full house. Let's hope he's right.

Scout Paper Drive in Taneytown this Saturday, February 25

The paper collection of Taneytown Boy Scout Troop 348, twice postponed, will be conducted this Saturday, February 25, if the weather proves favorable. The usual rural routes will also be covered besides the city of Taneytown, and bundles securely tied will facilitate the handling of these large collections in the limited time available. Every effort will be made to hold the scrap drive, but should snow or rain interfere, or snow and ice on the ground make it hazardous, any change will be radio announced through the courtesy of stations WHVR and WTTR.

Recent Events

Sixteen members of the troop observed Scout Sunday with attendance in uniform at Holiness Christian Church, Keymar, the Rev. Wilbur W. Whalen, minister; several were also present for Sunday School, and a few took advantage of the warm welcome extended by being present at their youth fellowship in the evening.

Eight members participated in the First Aid meet at Sudbrook Junior H. S., Pikesville, Saturday evening, where more than 20 teams were entered from troops throughout the Arrowhead district of the Baltimore Area Council.

Two recruits have joined the troop's ranks, Steven and Paul Berube, who come from Roseville, California, and now reside in the Taneytown vicinity. Both entered the First Aid contest, which also included: Clifford Glacken, Thomas Monthley, Robert Six, George Stonefifer, and Harold and Steven Wantz, with Steven Wantz acting as captain.

It is hoped that another swimming evening may be enjoyed before too long in the fine large pool at McDonogh school. Soon thereafter it will be time for the first spring camping trip.

Paper Collection

Scouts able to help with the scrap drive Saturday are asked to be on hand by 8:00 A. M. so as to get a good start. In case of unsuitable weather, a new day will be chosen and published. Any shift of plan will be broadcast over radio stations WHVR and WTTR. Their public spirit in performing this service is greatly appreciated.

MEETING OF SENIOR CITIZENS

The Taneytown Senior Citizens held their regular meeting, Monday, February 20th at 7:30 P. M. in the social room of the Lutheran Church. Due to the absence of the president and vice-president, the secretary, Mrs. Margaret Alexander presided and welcomed the members and guests. Due to the inclement weather the attendance was not as large as usual, but there were 17 members and three guests present.

The scripture was read by Mr. Wallace Reindollar followed by prayer by Mrs. Alexander, for the devotional portion of the program.

Mr. George Fream had asked the Club to sponsor the "Wishing Wells" again this year. These are to be placed in each of the banks and the money received is for the Easter Seal Campaign, which is for the benefit of crippled children. This is a worthy project and it is hoped that many people will remember to drop some coins in these containers when they visit the bank.

A short program followed—a poem entitled, "Seventy," was read by Mrs. Alfred Zollickoffer; a patriotic quiz, and a historical quiz were given, and caused a great deal of amusement among the contestants. Readings on Lincoln and Washington, and a poem on friendship were given by Mrs. Roy Kiser.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moyer showed slides of their trip last Fall to the western part of the U. S. and Hawaii. Everyone enjoyed the lovely slides and the interesting comments by Mrs. Moyer and we are very grateful to them for sharing them with us.

The hostesses, Mrs. Pauline Vaughn and Mrs. Belva Putman served delicious refreshments of cherry pie and ice cream, cookies and coffee to all present.

The next meeting will be held on March 20, at 7:30 P. M. The hostesses will be Mrs. Mary Koons and Mrs. Margaret Alexander.

'HISTORICAL' BILL INTRODUCED

State Senator Goodloe E. Byron of the Carroll-Frederick District has announced that he had introduced a bill which would permit the creation of local trusts to manage and operate historical shrines and architectural "treasures" in the several counties of Maryland.

Byron noted that if enacted, the legislation would enable the Maryland Historical Trust, an organization whose members are appointed by the Governor, to name separate county trustees to assist in the acquisition of buildings or other memorabilia which have played a part in the history of Maryland.

A past president of the Frederick County Historical Society, Byron said, "My bill will enable other local historical organizations to help preserve their antiquities."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:
On Monday, February 6th, I attended a meeting of the City Council in Taneytown.

I asked the members of the Council where the 47,1407 acres of land were located which the resolution published in the Carroll Record of February 2nd stated that the Council wish to annex. I was told that the land borders on Rt. 97 across the road from the Raft Restaurant.

I told the City Council that a number of taxpayers in Taneytown who read the resolution were puzzled as to the exact location of the tract, and I suggested that the Council publish a map in the Carroll Record showing the present boundaries of Taneytown and the two plots of land which they wish the taxpayers of Taneytown to approve for annexation.

Mr. Henry Reindollar, Jr., Clerk, said to me, "The Carroll Record does not have the facilities to print such a map." He also said that in the past The City Council had difficulty getting The Carroll Record to accurately report the Council's position on matters of civic interest. Mr. Reindollar then asked, "Did The Carroll Record print your letters to The Editor accurately as you wrote them?" I replied, "Yes, the letters were printed word for word as I wrote them but there was one which The Carroll Record refused to print."

Mr. George Naylor, president of the Council, said to me, "Jim, try to come up with something constructive in the future." I believe that my suggestion of a map showing the present boundaries and the land they wish the taxpayers to approve for annexation is constructive. How can the City Council in all fairness ask the taxpayers of Taneytown to come to a meeting on March 6th at 8:00 P. M. at the town office and say yes or no on annexation of two plots of land when they do not know exactly where the lands are located? It should not be necessary for a citizen of Taneytown to hire someone who has the knowledge to follow degrees, minutes and seconds from point to point to establish facts on which the taxpayer can base his opinion.

The present administration, of which Mr. George Naylor is very much a part, wrote a letter to the owner of a business building in Taneytown which has been empty for several years, asking the owner of this building not to rent or lease this property to a firm which wished to establish a branch plant in Taneytown similar to plants now in operation in Emmitsburg, Hanover, and several other nearby communities.

It would be of interest to the citizens of Taneytown if Mr. George Naylor would explain if he thinks this action on the part of the City Council was constructive.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

"Take The Greyhound Bus and leave The Driving to Us," and that is just what I did the day after the snow storm — up to Philly! The roads all the way were clear and it was a beautiful white scene! The driver was one of the most efficient I have ever seen and I simply was compelled to ask him how long he was driving the bus and he stated T H I R T Y Y E A R S !

As I entered Wanamaker's, it truly was the most charming sight of SPRING—for there it was, as no other store can compare with those decorations of trees in gold and with bridges displayed with dancing figures tip-toeing over those bridges! There were tiny lights, just hundreds of them all throughout the branches and that wonderful organ being played at the special hour!

Then, the grand feast at "Tad's" of the charcoal steak, Idaho potato and salad bowl at 1226 Market St. Ummmmmm nothing could be finer with the added Garlic French roll and the Roquefort Dressing. Remember when I wrote about it in a previous Column and told that man Tad to go ahead across the states and open many of them. Up to date he has t h i r t e e n and is doing grand! So I am telling you again as I did in that previous Column, if there is a couple who has what it takes to open and operate such a place, he would be glad in less than a year's time.

Start on a small scale in a tiny store right in Baltimore after you have gone up and visited the place and observed the manner in which it is run! Strangers talk to one another and this is what they say, "Did you ever taste anything to compare? This is something to write home about!" And much else! All for the price of $1.29. Every day including Sunday from 11:00 A. M. until Midnight!

Then, of course, I had to buy one of those Reading pretzels and there I was, folks walking along Chestnut Street eating that big pretzel! As much as I love visiting the City of Brotherly Love, where I was born and reared, I prefer Baltimore and the State of Maryland anytime.

So many were purchasing Valentine gifts and there were hundreds and hundreds walking briskly on the snow-covered pavements to their destination in their high boots. Many coming from the wonderful old Catholic Church with the ash mark up on their foreheads.

You know that old saying, Folks as to, "Now, I've heard everything!" Well, I thought and said those very words so read on... when I first moved into this lovely old apartment house and unpacked the dishes and pictures, etc. I realized, I left our beautiful hand-painted "Coat of Arms" in the bottom of a huge box. The porter here had taken the boxes off the porch down into the basement to destroy by fire. I quickly ran after him but it was too late! You have no idea just how I felt, for it was painted in gorgeous colored oils in Washington, D. C. I notified "The Home Insurance Co. with whom I have been dealing for a number of years and the Claim Department Adjuster came up and said nothing could be done for that is what we call "A FRIENDLY FIRE!" How about that, folks? The huge Eagle of Bronze on the first floor center in Wanamaker's is the meeting place for many for the saying is, "Meet me at the Eagle!"

Upon my return, I had to get out one of the No. 10 buses as no Taxi was in sight anywhere and that bus was so crowded that I was the last one in with my suitcase on the step with the closed door behind me heading homeward! There were two little girls about 14 or 15 on that bus and we started talking.

This morning, I was floored to get the most beautiful letter from one of those girls. I wish I could write it here for it has convinced me how lonely teen-agers are with working Mothers and the things that young girls confided in me! She told me of the magnificent thing I did for her this one night! Cute? I did not realize that it registered, the little talk I had given to her, so you see, folks one never knows!

And another beautiful letter from General Dwight Eisenhower was here upon my return in reply to the one that I sent him.

The first bit of nice weather I hope to be seeing you. Have a grand weekend and don't grumble about the snow for it all means less bugs this Summer. Until next week, D. V.

And—a . . . P. S. Brought some of those grand "Philly buns" back with me.

I am,
faithfully yours,
Irene deLeon Love.

THERE SHOULD BE A LIMIT

It has become very difficult for the average citizen to save for his old age. Federal and local taxes take most of the surplus an individual can accumulate. If the tax collectors don't get it while he is alive, they take as much of his estate as possible when he dies.

More and more older people depend on various government handouts. This is the penalty for government seeking to provide everybody with a tax-purchased ticket on a political gravy train. It ultimately means the death of individual independence.

There is hope, however, that the young people who see their earnings taken for all manner of political schemes will awaken in time to vote "no" to most of the fantasies of the tax and spend planners.

Some leaders in Congress are already saying it is time to "stop, look and listen." The world has never seen such prodigal public spending as the U. S. taxpayer is asked to sanction.

—Industrial News Review

FACTS AND OPINIONS

In his inaugural message, Ronald Reagan, now governor of California, said: "Government is the people's business, and every man, woman and child becomes a shareholder with the first penny of tax paid. With all the profound wording of the Constitution, probably the most meaningful words are the first three, 'We, the People.' Those of us here today who have been elected to constitutional office or legislative position are in that three-word phrase. We are of the people, chosen by them to see that no permanent structure of government ever encroaches on freedom or assumes a power beyond that freely granted by the people. We stand between the taxpayer and the tax-spender."

According to the National Federation of Independent Business, Inc., "The seemingly present day . . . public be damned' attitude of labor monopolies is apparently no more palatable than it was when expressed by monopolistic industrialists around the turn of the century."

A good requirement for all public officials would be the following as outlined by J. Edgar Hoover for FBI personnel: "Selection of personnel is a primary key to effective operation in any organization. We feel that our personnel do not work for the FBI, but rather we consider that they are the FBI. Our recruitment and selection program is, therefore, calculated to enlist employees of fine quality—men and women who have a capacity for growth. The Agent applicant in particular must meet rigid physical and educational requirements; he must have a real interest in a career of service, and his private life must withstand the closest scrutiny."

George Hagedorn, economist and vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers says: ". . . if we are to avoid subjecting the economy to severe inflationary strains, we will have to settle for somewhat less rapid growth than we have been used to in the recent past. According to these projections, our potential growth in the remainder of the 1960's will be only about three-quarters as rapid as our actual growth in the decade so far."

Said Maurice Stans at the 71st Congress of American Industry, "We don't have to reverse or reconsider our federal programs on a wholesale scale, we merely have to hold them back a bit. We don't have to set the clock back to 1896, we simply have to slow it down while we close the three-year lead that spending has gained over revenues. We don't have to veto progress, we merely have to abandon the 'crash' psychology that we can solve all human ills by massive doses of instant money."

R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president-personnel services of United States Steel Corporation, believes there is little evidence of true collective bargaining being practiced today. He observes: "Instead, we see a succession of massive power plays. In my opinion, such tactics are heading us in a direction which endangers both collective bargaining and the competitive free enterprise system of our country."

Portland General Electric Company predicts that, "To provide America's electric energy needs by the year 2000, the electric utility industry plans to build the equivalent of seven additional power systems, each equal in electric energy size to all that is serving the American people today."

Annual reports covering endowments of four Ivy League universities show steady emphasis on common stock investment, particularly in New York Stock Exchange-listed issues. Harvard's General Investments totaled $975 million, 54.7 per cent in common stocks; Yale's Endowments totaled $470 million, 69 per cent in common stocks; Princeton's Pooled Funds, $311 million, 73.6 per cent in common stocks; Columbia University's Pooled Funds, $210 million, 44.3 per cent in common stocks.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

Here's the address for "Jimmy" Motter: Cpl. James H. Motter 2098955 Ward 4C, Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Md. 20014. (You may recall I mentioned last week that he had been wounded in action in Viet Nam. He was sent home to the hospital in Bethesda and his mother gave me his address. Do send him cards and notes for I'm sure he will appreciate them so much.)

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baumgardner of Keysville were Friday evening visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cluts of River Dale Farm near Keysville.

The remodeling at the Detour Bank is about completed (and its originality is gone).

Elmer A. Wolfe PTA Executive Committee meeting at the school on Monday, Feb. 27, at 8 P. M.

Thanks so very much to all those who have contributed to the Lutheran Seminary Auxiliary so far. There is still next week yet if you would care to contribute and have not yet done so.

Our sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Dr. Charles Hopkins of Taneytown who died of a heart attack last Saturday. It surely was a shock to many of his friends and acquaintances in the area and he will certainly be missed for he was quite a familiar figure to almost everyone. Again we extend our sympathy to Mrs. Loren Austin. Her father, Robert Miller of Union Bridge, died on Friday after an extended illness. It has been just about a year since her mother died. It was just last month that her husband had a heart attack, but he is much improved now. So much sorrow in such a short time.

Wednesday evening callers at the home of Mrs. William Weishaar and Randy near Detour were Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Hobbs of Keysville and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Weishaar and Lorietta of Taneytown. Thursday afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Laff Hyle and Mrs. Mary Fossett of Westminster.

Martha Dutrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Dutrow of Mt. Union, was a Friday overnight visitor with Beth Wilhide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide near Detour.

Noticed on a trip to Frederick on Monday that the chapel at the Maryland Baptist College at Walkersville looks completed on the outside. Also, that the new Post Office looks as though it is open for business.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fleharty and family and Mrs. Ralph Fleharty near Detour were among those who attended the "Sportsman's Show" at the Farm Show buildings in Harrisburg on Saturday. They also called on Mrs. Leslie Mason of Harrisburg before returning home. (Believe we also saw the John Blanchfield, Jr., family there. Mr. and Mrs. John Miller and family of Middleburg toured the exhibits, too.)

It was Youth Sunday at Keysville Lutheran Church on the 19th. The Sunday School class of 7th and 8th graders participated in the service with the help of their teachers, Mrs. Carroll Dougherty and Mrs. Richard Bowers. They were Dean Trout, Richard Haines, Steven Scheller, Roy Bassler, Wayne Fleharty, Peggy Glass, Rodney Devilbiss, David Schaffer, Danny Reisinger and Lee Bassler. They did a wonderful job! It was very apparent that they had studied and practiced for their parts. We commend each and every one of them.

Joan Thomas near Detour spent the week-end with Joann Myers of Westminster.

Ladies of the Keysville Lutheran Church: help and donations are needed for the food stand which will be at the sale on Tuesday, Feb. 28 (that's next Tuesday!) at the farm of Herman Steffen just outside Detour. If there are any questions, call Mrs. Edward Coshun or Mrs. Robert Stine.

Lenten Service for the Union Bridge Lutheran Parish on March 1 at Keysville. A good day on Wednesday the 15th, for Mrs. Bankert's fifth grade class at Elmer A. Wolfe School to take their trip to Annapolis. There were 35 students, Mrs. Bankert and 12 mothers. They visited the State House, the Governor's Mansion, Naval Academy grounds including the Museum and John Paul Jones crypt, and the Recreation Center (lunch was eaten here). Senator Charles Smelser welcomed the group and helped them throughout the tour. They were greeted by Governor Agnew and Comptroller Goldstein. They enjoyed a session in either the House or Senate in the afternoon and had some time for souvenir shopping afterwards before the return trip. All-in-all, a very full day. (Governor Agnew did not have sufficient time to greet each one individually, but it was a thrill to have him talk with us just the same. Sure Timmy Munshour, especially, won't forget it for a long time to come.)

Last week I commented on getting ready for the Washington's Birthday sales, but I didn't expect them to start so late. It certainly is not possible for so many stores to have so many things that are good "bargains" for a period of a week or more. This sale come-on started for one day only; now it takes a week. It gets rather disgusting. Wonder what "George" would have thought about it? —Dharyls Fleharty

FAIRVIEW

In a passing conversation not long ago someone made the remark—"This is a terrible world in which we live in. No, my friends no, what more can we ask for—cultivation, God has given us ground in which to plant seed for vegetables for our families, seed also to plant to feed our cattle and poultry so we can have food. Yes, sometimes we do have to ask for rain, but it is given in due time.

Sometimes a little late for some things; but yet the Lord always provides. He never lets us down if we trust in him. It is not the world that is so terrible, it is us who live in it, and what we make it is what it will be. May God help us all to get along better in the future with our fellow-men and enjoy this beautiful world in which we live.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Baker of Taneytown; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carl and children, David, Daniel and Deborah, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frock, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Stultz and Mrs. Ray Hyde.

We hope you both have a wonderful day together with many more to follow. May God richly bless you. We all wish all the very best who are celebrating birthdays and wedding anniversaries the rest of this month.

"Modern War"

(Rev. J. W. Spencer)
Death's angels ride among the clouds, And hurl their bolts below, They lurk beneath the ocean wave Their deadly charge to throw.

Upon the surface of the sea, And on the bog or sand; Rise the dread heights of destruction Which the brain of man has planned.

Give us engines for the slaughter Beat your plowshares into swords, Make us weapons yet more deadly, That the foe may die in hoards. Call the best inventive genius, Call the skillful craftsman, too, Let them slink not thought or labor 'Til the victor's goal we view.

Men are dying by the thousands, Fathers, brothers, mothers' sons, Perish somewhere in the conflict, Far from home and dearest ones.

Aged folks, and little children Suffer, too, war's deadly sting. Soiled death with little glory, No heroic deeds to sing.

Raise me now a cry to heaven, Why this awful storm of hate, Sweeping every land and nation, Rushing millions to their fate? "Lord of hosts," hear our petition, Cause that soon this war may cease, Men reforge their swords to plowshares

Bow before the Prince of Peace! Prayer meeting will be held by The First Church of God members on Tuesday, February 28 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cornett and family by the pastor, Rev. Herbert Myers at 7:30 P. M., everybody welcome.

A TRIBUTE

How many times have you entered a store and were asked by the clerk or owner — "Can I help you?" Probably you have never given serious thought about this question. But on the other hand, looking back through the years... wasn't there one person's way of asking, most impressive and distinctive? To me, Charles "Doc" Hopkins was such a person and with his passing, memories of the many pleasant meetings that I shared with him, become treasured moments of human relationships.

To know and enjoy the fellowship of "Doc" was a bright respite in the hectic pace of the business world, and for that matter, the community in which we live. Trained in an exacting and demanding profession, "Doc" was never too busy to assume extra duties and responsibilities that he believed to be of the greatest good for his town, townspeople and the area

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports —John Breth

It's a trifle early to talk about the AMERICAN LEAGUE ROOKIE OF THE YEAR for 1967 but there are glowing notices on some of the youngsters getting ready to start spring training.

Probably the most touted youngster in spring training in the American League this season is Reggie Smith, an outfielder coming up to the Boston Red Sox from Toronto of the International League.

Smith was named Most Valuable Player in the league in 1966 after hitting .320. He is a center fielder. Smith drove in 80 runs and clubbed 18 home runs. He is a switch hitter. One thing more, Smith has such a strong throwing arm that some people connected with the Red Sox insist he was moved to the outfield from third base to protect the Boston first baseman.

Bright young catching prospects are never numerous but the Chicago White Sox seem to have one in Duane Josephson. He is a six-foot, 195-pound boy who hit .324 at Indianapolis with 77 RBI's. Duane is very fast for a catcher and is a line drive hitter.

Remember just a couple of years ago when Rick Monday, a star at Arizona State University, was the most sought after young player in the country? Well, Rick will be up with Kansas City this year. He hit 23 homers at Mobile last season.

From that same Arizona State team is Reggie Jackson, also coming up to the A's. He hit 23 homers in a half season for Modesto of the California League in 1966.

The Minnesota Twins will take a long look at southpaw Jim Olom who won 20 and lost 8 for Denver last season. Tom Phoebus was 13 and 9 at Rochester and then pitched a couple of dandy games for the Baltimore Orioles in September. He was not eligible for the World Series . . . but the Orioles didn't need him.

The number one rookie on the Yankees is Bill Robinson, who is recovering from recent leg surgery. At Richmond last summer, Bill hit .312 with 20 homers.

Washington is pinning its hopes on outfielder Hank Allen, who played in the Pacific Coast League last year and hit .299. Some of the other more promising rookies include Baltimore's Mike Epstein, Minnesota's Ron Clark, California's Jim Spencer, Cleveland's George Culver and Steve Bailey.

RICK REICHERDT, the power-house swinger of the California Angels, will experiment with his batting style in 1967.

Rick wants to give switch-hitting a try. He says that batting left-handed against right-handers will give him a couple of advantages: one, he will be a step nearer first base and, two, he will be able to hit more to right field to advance a base runner from second to third even on an out.

Of course, the experiment will go out the window fast if Rick discovers that he can't hit the ball left handed. He does many things left-handed now and believes he can make the change.

The slugger right-hander is currently in Europe, talking baseball in Germany and Holland on a one-man good-will tour.

You might recall that last summer Rick had to undergo what amounted to emergency surgery for a kidney ailment and missed the last part of the season.

He says he feels great, although he has added a few pounds which he intends to lose by the start of spring training.

Talking about his illness, just before taking off for Europe, Reichardt said: "I knew I had this condition but I didn't realize how fast it was catching up with me. I had terrible headaches, caused by high blood pressure and a general reaction from the kidney ailment. The last headache I had before the operation was so bad they had to give me heavy sedation."

Reichardt then concluded, "But now I feel better than ever."
That may lead to some headaches for the American League pitchers next summer.

Regional Board Meeting of S. S. Cooperative

Paralleling the prediction that the future directly ahead would be brighter for both agriculture and the business that supply it, Southern States Cooperative's dollar volume increased 11.2% during the first six months of the 1966-67 fiscal year.

This information was contained in a report presented to the cooperative's members at a regional board meeting held in Westminster on Tuesday.

A total of 44 of these regional meetings are now being held by Southern States over a five-state area.

John Feland, director, Petroleum Services of the cooperative, told the session that there are a number of reasons why agriculture's future is so bright.

"This country no longer has a farm problem, but a food problem," he said. Our population alone is rising so rapidly that we must count on feeding 7,200 new mouths every day. Burdensome and costly surpluses have all but disappeared except in cotton and tobacco. We are now faced with potential shortages (pork a year ago, dairy products today).

In addition to our own rising demand for food, Feland said, we have a major responsibility to help meet the food needs of the world. "While we can't feed the world," he added, "we will continue to need large quantities of farm products in helping prevent famine in food deficient nations."

All this has resulted, he said, in the easing of acreage restrictions by the government. This year "the government is asking for 16 million more acres in wheat, 4-5 million more acres in soybeans, 9 million more acres in feed grains." However, these will not be enough to meet the projected demands of more food in 1970 or 1980.

Feland pointed out that if the farmer is to "share in this brighter picture he must find the means to finance his programs of increasing production during periods of tight money like the one we find ourselves in today. They must balance the steady rise in production costs by cutting expenses wherever possible and making the best possible use of manpower and machinery.

At the same time, he warned farmers to look for higher prices for farm machinery, less labor, higher prices on production supplies.

"To stay in farming," Feland said, "more and more farmers may be doing more and more outside work at other jobs to supplement their income."

Farmers must pay more attention to the markets for which they produce, he said. "They must be willing to accept a certain discipline in production and marketing — to grow the particular varieties and grades of crops and produce the kind of livestock products that the consumer demands and which will sell in the markets that are available."

Robert W. Bryan manager of the cooperative's regional office in Baltimore reported to the session that Southern States Cooperative's dollar volume for the first six months of the current fiscal year totalled $45,314,000 as compared to $40,800,000 a year ago.

Feed volume for the same period, was up $500,000.

Fertilizer volume was about the same as last year for the period. Seed volume stood at $2,200,000, a 5% increase over last year.

Farm Supply volume reached $10,500,000, up $1,000,000 over the same period last year.

Petroleum volume for the first six months hit 46,373,000 gallons, up about 10%.

Dollar volume of Southern States Grain Marketing Cooperative for the period was down $3,400,000. This was due to the dry weather in much of the cooperative's territory which resulted in greatly reduced grain crops, particularly in corn and soybeans.

Stanley Stabler of Brookville, a director of the cooperative, presided at the session.

In his opening remarks Stabler recognized the guest young farmers invited to the session and pointed out that the cooperative has a "continuing interest in young farmers and farm youth." In addition to supporting "Young Farmer programs, the organization also supports 4-H, FFA, FHA and similar groups," he said.

Guest young farmers attending the meeting were: Donald Hoff, Charles Geisinger, Myron Wilhide, John Rinehart, Mehrl Weant, Ronald Anders and Wayne Diabic.

Attending the session from this area were Harry Hahn manager of Southern States Taneytown Coop., local Southern States retail outlet at Taneytown, and board members Martin Zimmerman, Clyde Wilhide, Albert Wilhide, Richard Wilhide, Paul Brower, Percy Bollinger and Wayne Cregger.

ACROSS THE FENCE

by ROBERT L. JONES County Extension Agent

I'm often asked questions about the kinds of lime to use on cropland or on the lawn. Mrs. Ray Hollinger, Westminster, posed this question the other day and it's a good one.

The two major sources of liming material is ground limestone and burnt lime. The "oxide" content of lime is the factor which indicates lime quality. Usually burnt lime contains above 90 percent oxides while ground lime contains around 50 percent. So actually it's the pounds of oxides applied to soil that's important because this is what brings about a chemical change to reduce acidity.

It all boils down to the fact that either of these kinds of lime are equally good as long as the pounds of oxides applied are equal. A good rule of thumb is, two pounds of ground limestone is equal to one pound of burnt lime. Ground lime is usually slightly cheaper on a cost per pound of oxide.

"You reap what you sow" could never be more true yet, few farmers take advantage of our free seed testing service provided by the University of Maryland Seed Laboratory. The seed brought into our office is sent to the University for germination and purity tests. Seeding rates can be increased for seed low in germination and seeding poor seed can be avoided.

With the spring seeding of clover, alfalfa, oats just around the corner, small samples of seed should be brought in now in order to get test results before seeding. It's a good idea to have all home grown or left over seed tested. It's added insurance for a good crop.

Want to give yourself a financial check up? Then set down a "net worth" statement because this is what measures financial progress from year to year.

On the left side of the page list your assets. These include the value of everything you own—cash, stocks, bonds, cattle, feed on hand, real estate, machinery and equipment. On the right side of the page list your liabilities or everything you owe. Include notes, bills due to others, interest due, mortgages on real estate, cattle or machinery. Subtract total liabilities from your total assets and the difference is your net worth.

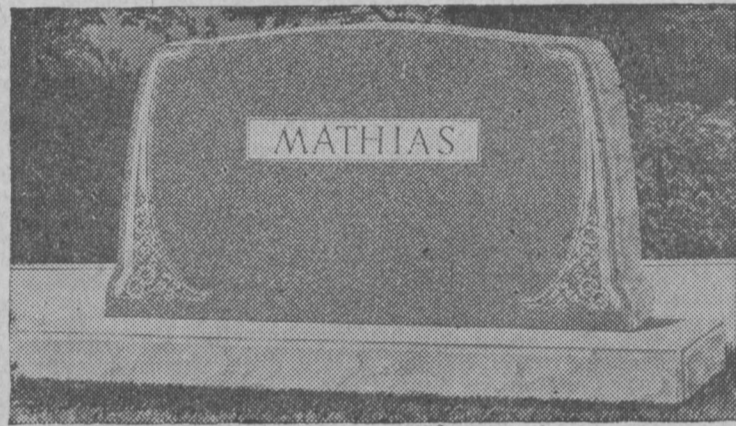

Knowing your net worth helps measure management ability, can be used in securing loans, and provides personal satisfaction.

MOTION PICTURE CENSORSHIP

Last week the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee heard testimony on the McCourt Bill to abolish the State Board of Motion Picture Censors.

Proponents argued that movie censorship in Maryland has been ineffective in controlling the distribution and exhibition of truly pornographic films. They noted that the legitimate motion picture industry already regulates itself in this area.

Those opposed, including Eberth Quinn, Chairman of the State Board of Censors, advanced the position that the motion picture theatres would be inundated with third-rate smutty films unless some routine measure of censorship was exercised. In continuing, they maintained that the continuing function of the Censorship Board has been essential in protecting the movie-going public.

It should be carefully noted that Maryland is the only remaining state to maintain a State Board of Motion Picture Censors.

During the hearing several Senators questioned the witnesses as to the effectiveness of Maryland's criminal laws in preventing the screening of obscene motion pictures. They discovered that existing statutes only prohibit the display of such films to those under 21 years of age.

However, Senate Bill 41, which is now pending before the General Assembly, would, if enacted, be an all-inclusive "obscenity" statute providing stiff penalties for the publication, distribution, and exhibition of obscene films as well as other materials.

It would also close loopholes in the present criminal laws by treating obscenity not only by the content but also by the purpose of distribution. The proposed law would also contain stiffer fines and prison sentences for second and third offenders thereby providing additional discouragement.

After hearing the testimony, the Senate Committee was impressed by the necessity of passing Senate Bill 41 to bolster the existing statutes in this very sensitive area.

Cooking Cool

by Betty Crocker

During heat wave time — think cool, cook cool, eat cool. Start supper with chilled consommé, topped with slices of lemon. Follow with a meal in a sandwich, using the recipe below for a Crusty Sandwich Loaf. The bread is real homemade yeast bread — but don't let that scare you. It's made with Bisquick and baked in just 15 minutes. (In the cool of the morning, of course.) Once the bread cools, wrap it in foil and let it sit till sandwich stacking time. Then make lots of food tea, sprigs of mint afloat. For dessert — cold sliced peaches and cream. Serve your refreshing meal within the shade of a breezy patio. And now you're cooking! But cool.

CRUSTY SANDWICH LOAF

(Your answer to the Poor Boy)

Dissolve 1 package active dry yeast in 1/4 cup warm water (105-115°). Add 2 1/2 cups Bisquick and beat vigorously. Turn onto surface well dusted with Bisquick. Knead about 20 times. Place in greased square pan, 8x8x2 inches. Cover with damp cloth. Let rise in warm place (85°, if you'll pardon the heat reference) until double in size, about 1 hour.

Heat oven to 400° (before the sun's up strong, remember). Bake 15 to 20 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from pan. Brush with butter and sprinkle with 1 1/2 teaspoons oregano, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper.

Now to build a banquet on bread: Cut cool loaf into 2 layers. Butter each layer. Fill generously with lettuce and several layers of Provolone cheese, then layers of salami, more cheese and lettuce. Replace top of loaf; cut into squares and garnish each square with a ripe olive on a wooden pick. 9 servings.

OR

Call it a Hero or Submarine! Simply vary the fillings another time around. Instead of salami and Provolone, try sliced ham, chicken, turkey or luncheon meat — and American, Swiss or Colby cheese.

OR

You bake the bread and cut it, but let everyone invent his own sandwich from a spread of meats and cheese. Real cool thinking!

On blistering hot no-cooking days, think salads — seafood or fruit with garnishes bedded in ice.

HEALTH FACTS by Rohe

Illustration of a Bedouin and a soldier, with text: 'THAT OLD DEVIL SUN' The nomadic Bedouin tribesman fought the harsh effects of the sun and sand by wearing a long coverall called a djellaba (jell-a-ba). Contrary to our notion, the hotter and sunnier the day, the more he enveloped himself in protective gear. In Colonial India, Maharajahs had special servants who did little but shade their masters with large umbrellas. In the frequent 100-degree heat, British army men wore solar topees and their wives were never without long-sleeved dresses and parasols. Today, during the sunny season we wear less clothes rather than more and expose our skin to the drying rays of the sun. To eliminate the dry skin discomforts that often result, doctors recommend using Alpha-Keri after shower spray. This therapeutic oil spray places an invisible protective shield on the skin that "locks in" moisture.

BUSINESS Keys to Success

Is Hard Work Necessary?

In this day of the electric can opener and the power lawn mower, is hard work still necessary to get ahead?

Listen to Henry Ford II: "My grandfather drew a sharp distinction between working hard and doing hard work. He believed very strongly in the former, and very little in the latter."

Nobody will deny that the father of mass production (and some say of the automobile) was a hard worker. But Henry Ford's boyhood on a farm convinced him that men and horses were doing a lot of hard work that should be done by machines. "It was a conviction that dominated his life," says his illustrious grandson, now chairman of the billion-dollar Ford empire.

A simple idea—yet it raised American society to heights beyond the wildest dreams of the ancient Romans. Study any self-made man and you'll find the ability to "work hard" is abundant somewhere in his make-up. He perseveres, sacrifices pleasures that interfere with his goal, and tackles every job with unique ferocity. But he shuns "hard work" like the plague. There are machines for that sort of thing—and it's just plain foolhardy not to use them.

The key word is "productivity". Productivity made this country prosper, and it can do the same for you. There's hardly a field of endeavor left where a machine can't outproduce a man by at least 100 to one—and do it more accurately. And yet hundreds of thousands are still doing the work by hand. That's "hard work".

One office copy machine, for example, can multiply an office manager's time at least by a factor of five, according to a pioneer in the field of industrial efficiency, Charles Bruning Company, division of Addressograph Multigraph Corporation. Want your office associates to see what you've been reading in a book on better accounting methods? With the newest copier, you don't have to farm out the book and hope it comes back; you just lay it on top of the copier, and in a couple of minutes you have enough copies to send to a half-dozen people who'd be interested in seeing the article.

MOM, DON'T BLOW YOUR HOLIDAY COOL; PAPER PLATES HAVE "ARRIVED"

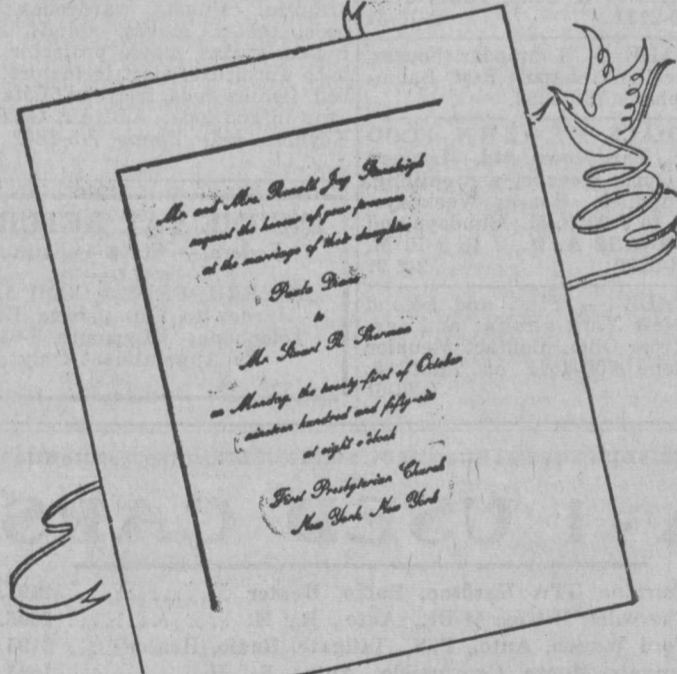

Much of the family fun and gastronomical pleasure of the festive holiday season come from odd-hours raids on the barely dented turkey and other assorted left-overs.

Fun, that is, for everyone but Mother, if she gets stuck with the usual accumulation of dirty dishes left by the kids home from college, their friends, and drop-in relatives who are chronic dishwashing drop-outs.

But things can be made much easier for Mom if she keeps a stack of the new, sophisticated paper plates on hand for refrigerator raiders. No worry, either, about the social acceptability of rigid, plastic-coated firmware plates, made in lovely china-like Williamsburg and Pottery designs by Fonda Division of Standard Packaging Corporation. No longer are these paper plates identified solely with picnics and summer barbecues. In addition to greatly increased year-round use in the home for labor-saving meals, buffets, etc., they have made an important breakthrough "downtown". Thousands of business people now enjoy lunch daily on Fonda plates in more than a score of private dining rooms and cafeterias operated for the personnel of big New York companies by Schraff's, the famous confectionery and food service organization.

Little and Much
Lesson for February 26, 1967

Background Scriptures: Luke 16 and 17.
Devotional Reading: Matthew 25:14-30.

Many of us delight ourselves in thinking of all the wonderful things we would do if our circumstances in life were different. If we had some outstanding profession, how hard we would work. If we were rich, how generous we would be. If we had more time, how helpful we would be to others.

It is a convenient frame of mind, for while we occupy ourselves with thoughts of what we would do, we are freed from thinking about what we can do. As Dag Hammarskjold has put it: "The great commandment is so much easier than the ordinary everyday one, and can all too easily shut our hearts to the latter."

When Great Task Comes

It is also very deceptive, for if we do not do what we can do now, we are not likely to do well when the great task comes. There is a close relationship between the great and the small tasks. "He who is faithful in a very little is faithful also in much," said Jesus.

Gilbert Stuart, an English architect, has received recognition for two projects. One of these was a new telephone booth. Both of them, it is said, bear the marks of true genius. Perhaps we find this difficult to understand. We would expect a man of genius to use his full capacities in designing something so important as a cathedral. But why should he have invested so much talent in the design of something so prosaic as a telephone booth?

Test of Small Tasks

Isn't this what Jesus meant? Faithful discipleship is required in the small tasks as well as in the great ones. If you do second-rate work in the telephone booth-sized jobs, you are not likely to do any differently with those of more importance. "If you have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon," asks Jesus, "who will entrust to you the true riches?" (Luke 16:11 RSV) God tests us in the small tasks: if we perform them faithfully, he may entrust to us something greater.

We must also keep in mind that what seems important in our judgment may not be so important in God's scale of values, or vice-versa. So said Jesus: "... what is exalted among men is an abomination in the sight of God." The important task of your lifetime, as God sees it, may be the seemingly small task that is before you now, not some imaginary great thing in the future.

God's Competitor

Probably there is no portion of our lives in which this is more true than in our stewardship of God's gifts, particularly of money. We may comfort ourselves with the thought of how charitable we would be if we were wealthy, yet miss completely what we could do with what we already have. Why should God give us more if we manage so poorly what we have?

To many people, the stewardship of money is one of the unimportant areas of Christian discipleship. Yet if we take seriously the teachings of Jesus, it cannot be a small thing to God. The way we handle our money says much about the rest of our discipleship, for money is often one of God's greatest competitors. "You cannot serve God and mammon," he warned.

There are many telephone booth-sized areas in our lives that need cathedral-sized efforts. The great tasks may seem more romantic, more exciting, more rewarding. Yet, as Fenelon put it: "It is, however, only by fidelity in little things that a true and constant love to God can be distinguished from a passing fervor of spirit."

NONFAT DRY MILK
GIFT OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

It's Corn Meal Treat Time

Old Southern cooks who spent their days in the kitchen used to be the only ones who held the secret of corn bread. Now the busiest homemaker can bake homemade corn meal muffins, corn bread and even corn fritters in the time it takes to set the table and call the family to dinner.

Prepare corn meal batter from self-rising corn meal, refrigerate it and then bake it... up to three days later. The leavening action is held in check until the instant the batter meets the heat of the oven or skillet.

The new leavening agent, a product of Monsanto Company, is the modern baking secret. Hush puppies for dinner? Pancakes or hoe cakes? With prepared batter in the refrigerator, they are quick, easy and just as delectable as the old Southern cooks used to make.

Corn Sticks or Corn Muffins

- 1½ cups self-rising corn meal mix or self-rising corn meal
- 1¼ cups milk
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons melted butter, shortening, or cooking oil
- Sugar may be added to taste

Generously grease 12 corn stick molds or muffin tins and place in oven while preheating to 450°. Mix milk, egg and butter in a two-quart bowl. Add self-rising corn meal mix and blend until smooth. Pour batter into a closable pitcher or other container for use and storage. The batter can be kept in this type of container and stored in the refrigerator for up to three days. This simplifies the preparation of delicious corn sticks over busy weekends and during last minute dinner planning. Fill the preheated molds or tins approximately ¾ full with fresh or stored batter. Bake 15 to 20 minutes at 450° or until a golden crust forms. Serve hot with plenty of butter and stand back!

ANNAPOLIS REPORTS

The jails in both Carroll and Frederick Counties have been very much in the news recently. A special Legislative Council Committee on Prison Administration recommended that all non-support offenders be sent to the county jails rather than into the State system. Senate Joint Resolution 19 requests a complete study and review of the desirability of the State Government operating (including management and financing) the local jails in the Counties and in Baltimore City.

Senate Bill 256, introduced by your correspondent, authorizes the employees of the Department of Game and Fish under certain circumstances to stop and search vehicles in Carroll County for fish and game violations. It is known as "Search Without Warrant" and has been the law for a number of years in the Western Maryland Counties including Frederick. It is most helpful in apprehending persons who drive over peoples land at night "spotlighting" for deer.

Senate Bill 262 provides for the establishment of prevailing hourly wage rates by the Commission of the Department of Labor and Industry for Workmen and Apprentices employed by contractors and sub-contractors with State jobs, or any institution supported in whole or in part by public funds.

Senate Bill 263 is known as the Tax Reform Bill and raises an additional $120,000,000 by means of a graduated income tax. There appears to be a great deal of sentiment for a combination Sales Tax and Income Tax. A one percent increase in sales and income taxes would raise about the same amount of money as the proposed graduated income tax. There will be much debate on this during the next thirty days.

Senate Bill 289 provides for a new pay plan for salary increases for State employees. It gives immediate salary increases and includes five increments to be given annually over a period of five years. The total cost of the implementation of this plan effective on July 1, 1967, for the 1968 Fiscal Year will be $29,725,000. This represents an average of 14.5 percent of increase for State salaried employees.

Senate Bill 297 provides that all scholarships in certain private institutions of higher learning in Maryland must be awarded by the State Scholarship Board on the basis of need and ability of the student. Western Maryland College in Carroll County and Hood, St. Mary's and Saint Joseph Colleges in Frederick County are included in this bill.

Charles H. Smelser
State Senator
Carroll-Frederick District

This week we would like to discuss several bills we feel might be of interest to Carroll County. House Bill 78 is presently being discussed in the Judiciary. This bill will provide that any charitable, educational, religious, or other nonprofit institutions shall no longer be able from pleading as a defense to tort action the fact that it is such an institution. What it means is an organization such as a hospital would be subject to the same liabilities as any other person, firm, or corporation. Under the present law they are not treated as such.

House Bills 42 and 45 have to do with consumer protection. These bills would provide consumers with protection from unscrupulous individuals who try to defraud the public through false advertisement or false packaging. It would put this commission under the authority of the Attorney General Office.

Another bill known as House Bill 161 or the duty free lunch period was voted against by your two delegates. We are not opposed to a duty free lunch for teachers, but we feel that this is a matter that should not have come before the legislature. We feel that this is an administrative problem of the local school system and feel that this is being handled in Carroll County under existing practices. Our reasoning for opposing the bill was that the cost could be tremendous in such subdivisions as Baltimore City for people who would have to be hired to look after the children when the teachers are not there.

We are now faced with the problem of providing more monies to the subdivisions for teachers' salaries, school construction and increased operating costs. With only so much money to spend we feel we have to give priority to basic needs.

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

FT. KNOX, KY., Feb. 17 — Army Private Richard E. Bowers has been assigned, here in the United States Army Training Center, Armor (USATCA), to Company D, 13th Battalion, of the 4th Basic Combat Training Brigade, for his initial eight weeks of military training.

He will spend the next two months learning all the fundamental skills of a soldier in today's modern, action Army, and will fire more than 500 rounds of live ammunition under simulated combat situations, including those encountered at night, during a three-week course with the soldier's basic weapon — the M14 rifle.

He will also be taught protective measures and first-aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks and close-in combat, and will be schooled also in the use of the hand grenade, bayonet and hand-to-hand combat.

Much of this instruction and live demonstrations, and by living under actual field conditions for several days.

Interspersed with constant emphasis on proper physical conditioning, diet, rest and health habits, will be ample opportunity to utilize USATCA's many and varied recreational and religious facilities.

Following the completion of his basic training, PVT Bowers who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rohrbaugh, of Rt. 1-M, Taneytown, Md. will receive at least an additional 8 weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

February — American History Month Observed

The William Winchester Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met at the home of Mrs. Edgar G. Barnes, 25 Court St., Westminster, observing the designation of February as American History Month. Mrs. William S. Foresman, Washington, D. C. was co-hostess with Mrs. Barnes, and Mrs. F. Donald Shriver poured.

Under the direction of the chapter's historian, Mrs. Keith M. Brown, Taneytown, the chapter sponsored an essay contest in many of the schools throughout the county. Mrs. Brown was particularly pleased by the announcement that Miss S. Renee Herling, a fifth grade student at the William Winchester School in Westminster was the winner of the state fifth grade American History Essay Award.

Miss M. Louise Mathews, magazine chairman, pointed out to the members that the current issue of the D. A. R. magazine contains the essay of Miss Barbara Broadwater, Middleburg. This essay was the national eighth grade American History Essay Award for 1966.

Further, in cooperation with Mrs. Brown, it was announced that Mayor Neal W. Powell, Taneytown, and Mayor Joseph H. Hahn, Jr., Westminster, signed proclamations similar to the proclamation signed by President Lyndon B. Johnson designating February as American History Month.

To conclude the observance of American History Month, Mrs. Joseph W. Shirley, Jr. addressed the group on the topic, "The Betsy Ross Story Revisited," which was a fascinating narrative, in spite of the limitations of material regarding this famous American patriot.

Guests of the chapter for the afternoon were Mrs. Eugene L. Ensor, Mrs. W. Raymond Hicks, and Miss M. Virginia Stoner, Westminster. The meeting was adjourned to meet March 1st at the Carroll County Historical House to honor the County Good Citizens chosen from among the senior classes in the county high schools.

Regional Planning Discussed

from Sen. Charles H. Smelser
Carroll-Frederick District

I have had many inquiries from citizens of Carroll County relative to the Regional Planning Council.

Some are in favor of Regional Planning; others are concerned that it would adversely affect Carroll County. Certainly, as an elected representative of the people of Carroll County, I want to do those things that I feel will be beneficial to the County.

I have obtained information on the subject from people not only closely associated with the Regional Planning Council, but people I have known for many years and have respect for their judgment.

Senator Jervis Finney of Baltimore County and Mr. James J. O'Donnell, Director of the State Planning Department, have offered their time to discuss the Regional Planning Council with groups from Carroll County, if they so desire.

The following letter from Mr. O'Donnell was written to me after a discussion we had relative to the Regional Planning Council:

Dear Charlie:

In line with our recent conversation about the Regional Planning Council, the following commentary might be of benefit to you in evaluating this question. The following comments in quotation marks are taken from a memorandum developed by some of our staff personnel relative to the particular question.

"In light of recent debate over the possibility of Carroll County's withdrawal from the Regional Planning Council, I have made some brief observations concerning the inadvisability of this course of action. Although Carroll County is an integral part of the Region and its continued participation in the Region's planning program is certainly necessary, its absence from the Regional Planning Council would have a far more serious effect on the County than on the Region.

"Carroll County is the most rural political subdivision in the Region, and thereby has the most to lose by not participating in regional planning. Without the benefits of regional planning and cooperation, the County's vast acreage of precious undeveloped land, which could be preserved as permanent open space, may soon fall victim to development pressures from the Baltimore area, a phenomenon over which Carroll County will have no control. Metropolitan growth is a regional problem, and can only be solved through the use of regional development controls which are the products of regional planning and mutual cooperation.

"Furthermore, participation in the Regional Planning Council will enable Carroll County to keep informed with regard to changing development pressures and growth patterns, as well as State public improvements and Federal projects inasmuch as they affect the County. Carroll County would be forewarned of these decisions and plans, and not be forced to accept them after it was too late to do anything about it.

"Critics of regional planning have argued that a regional plan, once adopted, would be a rigid document strictly enforced and would deprive member subdivisions of much of their political autonomy. This is certainly not true in the case of the Regional Planning Council. The regional plan now being prepared will be a general development guide and not an inflexible document. No county will be required to adopt any portion of the plan which the county feels is not in its best interest, nor will the opinions of the Regional Planning Council, with regard to their review of county plans, be enforceable on the county. In order to guarantee that future decisions made by the Regional Planning Council truly reflect the interests of its political units, a bill is being introduced in the General Assembly this year which will alter the structure and membership of the Council. If the bill is approved by the Legislature, Carroll County's representation on the Regional Planning Council will include the President of the Board of Carroll County Commissioners and one other Board member. This would insure local approval and support of regional decisions.

resentation on the Regional Planning Council will include the President of the Board of Carroll County Commissioners and one other Board member. This would insure local approval and support of regional decisions. "Finally, Carroll County stands to lose a considerable amount of Federal funds by withdrawing from the Regional Planning Council. Federally assisted programs such as those for the construction of water and sewer facilities allow larger matching grants to a county in a Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA), if these programs are reviewed and certified by a regional planning agency as conforming to the adopted regional plan. For instance, Carroll County, which is in the Baltimore "SMSA" would be eligible for an additional 10 per cent Federal matching grant for the construction of a sewage treatment plant, if the project were so certified by the Regional Planning Council. The Federal government would, therefore, pay 55 per cent of the total cost of construction."

I hope you will find this commentary useful.

Sincerely yours,
James J. O'Donnell,
Director.

FAITH

Trust, like faith, is the bird that sings while the dawn is still dark. —Anonymous.

"The Faith of Our Fathers" —H. Gordon Green

I have just finished reading this true story of a Canadian farmer who made his religion a way of life. Although he didn't come from a religious family, he was influenced by a traveling evangelist when he was 17 years of age.

His son speaks of his father as being an intelligent, understanding and hardworking man. He always demanded much of his children, but in return, he gave them a heritage of love.

It wasn't just his family that this farmer affected; neighbors came to him for advice; he took in strangers; he protected animals as well as humans.

This was a most heart-warming book, I highly recommend it.
