THE SCHOOL SITUATION

Statement from the Taneytown Citizens, Letters to the County Commissioners and the Board of Education

An informal session to discuss the proposed consolidation of Taneytown High School with Francis Scott Key High School was held recently by interested and concerned individuals. At that time it was decided that two committees be enlisted: one to meet with the Board of County Commissioners, the other with Mr. George E. Thomas, Superintendent of Schools. A report of the statement presented to the County Commissioners is found following this article. The committee appointed to meet with Mr. Thomas consisted of James Fair, Rev. Robert Mitchell, George Naylor, Jr., Mrs. Mary Clingan, Mrs. Jean Zent, and Mrs. Marjorie Zent.

During the conference with Mr. Thomas on Tuesday, May 2, several proposals were presented by the committee. Mr. Thomas agreed that several of these alternative suggestions may be a provided.

proposals were presented by the committee. Mr. Thomas agreed that several of these alternative suggestions provide a new, fresh approach to the problem and may have some merit. He encouraged the committee to refine their ideas, get them in writing, obtain some support from citizens and groups, and submit them in time for study before the meeting of the Board of Education, Wednesday, May 10.

A public meeting was hastily called for last Friday evening to discuss the matter with any and all interested parents and citizens who could attend. Those attending that meeting went on record favoring a four-step proposal and unanimously agreed that a formal letter be presented to Mr. Thomas and the Board of Education. It was emphasized that these proposals should ultimately better the educational opportunities for all of the posals should ultimately better the educational opportunities for all of the attendance area now being served by Francis Scott Key School as well as the Taneytown area. Should these ideas meet with favorable response, support from the Union Bridge and New Windsor areas should also be forthcoming.

Groups and organizations are urged to consider these proposals at the earliest possible date and to send letters of endorsement and support to Mr. Thomas and the Board. Time is of the essence since budget considerations are involved here, as well as planning.

Following is the text of the letter which was presented to Mr. Thomas, Monday morning, May 8:

From a report in the public press of the proceedings of a recent Board meeting, we learned of the recommendation to consolidate Taneytown mendation to consolidate Taneytown High School with Francis Scott Key High School, effective September 1968. The purpose of this letter is to provide the Board with some of the thinking of our community on this subject. We are certain, since both you and our local citizenry are concerned with providing our young concerned with providing our young people with the best possible educa-tion, that you will consider our proposals carefully.

Needless to say, the proposal to give up our high school and to consolidate anywhere is not a happy thought for us. No community, think-ing of the sociological and economic factors involved, not to mention the added inconvenience to our youngsters and their parents, would welcome such a proposal. Yet many in our community can see the handwriting on the wall: the trends towards consolidation in present-day education, the Engelhardt report, etc.; and we can see that at the present moment, with the best educational interests of

The "elsewhere" concerns us. For we are not at all convinced that consolidation with Francis Scott Key High School is sound and proper, Consolidating Taneytown with Westminster at this time in anticipation many professional opinions substantiate that judgment. Yet even with the proposed improvements in facilpled with the facts that Key is not near any major highway—indeed the access from Taneytown is downright hazardous-and that more and more high school students find it advisable to drive, makes Key an undesirable location for a high school. On the other hand, Rt. 97 from Taneytown to West-minster is an excellent, safe highway and is open the year 'round.

The following is the statement which was prepared and presented to the Board of County Commissioners by the citizen's group on May 2:

We are a group of interested citizens representing a large segment of our community. We are here today to discuss with you our high school situation and its relation to the proposed school budget.
First — we would ask to keep our school at any cost even if it means commuting teachers where the classes are small in some special subjects. It certainly would be less costly to the county to commute teachers than to transport hundreds of students to another school.

The people of our community are strongly in favor of keeping our high school and not consolidating with another. Our people realize that once our high school is gone, the element of youth and its various activities go with it and it will be many years before its return. Also it is a lot to ask of parents to support another school far removed from the community. Another factor is the inonvenience of extra distance in having to transport to and from school children that participate in the extra our young people in mind, that con-solidation elsewhere seems to be a Engelhardt report that a small school

(I REMEMBER MAMA)

I remember Mama (and I never called her Mother) because "Mama" seemed so much closer! I was the 7th child of 8 children and I recall when I was about 17, Mama told me that she thought four children were an American family and my quick reply was, "Well, you had two American families." She smiled sweetly. Mama was the most patient soul I ever knew in my entire life-time and we were very, very close, more so than all the rest of the children.

She was a very beautiful woman with very white skin, dark brown hair (which remained that way until death) and large, pensive brown eyes which had a certain light in them at all times. And with all those children she had still maintained her children she had still maintained her lovely figure. I know she did not want so many children but each child was so very different with their own personality; and I recall my dear Dad telling me that as soon as I was born (in that great tall bed which reached the ceiling) that he took me in his arms and said, "Jenny, this child you will love the best for she will be closer to you than all the

At times now when I look back, I know that I worshiped my Beloved Mama, as many of my Mama's friends used to say, "Jenny, you should not allow this child to follow you around from place to place. When I was blind for three months from that disease of Scarlet Fever, I wanted to have my dear Mama with me all the time and she would hold me so much on her lap, as I was then three years of age. I always felt the type of housedress that she wore and recognized it by the touch. One day, my eldest sister of 17 held me on her lap with the same type of house dress on and she forgot and house dress on and she forgot and talked and my heart was broken! As soon as my sight was restored (I recall the beautiful prayers) of dear Mama's, constantly, asking God to restore my sight and—oh—this I can remember as though it was yesterday, I said, "Now, I can see your beautiful face Mama," as I patted her cheeks and I saw the big tears come into her eyes!

Then, I remember pushing the rolling chair on member pushing the rolling chair on the boardwalk where we had our Summer home in Wildwood, N. J. Dear Mama used to say, "I think it is too much for you to do this!" I quickly answered, "You are my two babies and now I am pushing you as you pushed me!"

It sent an editor to Uruguay to look over the land which in 15 years has fallen from the ranks of the most affluent and economically sound to the list of Western nations with the most critical ills and found that it is common for government workers to retire on nearly full pay when they are in their mid-40's. Welfare cheating is common. Uruguayans are aware of what is happening in their country and asked the Nation's Business editor, "Is this the way the United States is going, too?"

Regulation of wellhead natural gas prices by the Federal Power Commission will cause a shortage of natural gas in the United States, and even if price levels were to be raised immediately, it is already too late to totally avert this shortage. According to a Mobil Oil Corporation executive, ". . . the shortage will result because natural gas prices allowed by the commission are too low to justify sufficient exploration to meet the demand."

American consumers spent more than $28 billion for health care in 1965, or 6.5 per cent of a total of $431.5 billion in consumer expenditures, according to figures released by the U.S. Department of Commerce. This was an increase of 9.5 per cent over that of 1964

Counterfeiting U.S. currency reached an all-time high in 1966. Recovery of counterfeit money and arrests for counterfeiting were also at an alltime high. The Secret Service recovered $9 million in counterfeit currency last year. Only $900,000 of this amount ever was passed on to the public.

"The tax advantage granted to co-operatives many years ago should be "The tax advantage granted to corigorously re-examined to determine if it is justified under present-day conditions." - Mortimer M. Caplin, Former Commissioner, Internal Revenue Service.

Remember what outdoor enthusiasts went camping in four decades ago? The box-like camper body on a Ford truck (bottom) was the rage back in the 1920's. In dramatic contrast is the ultramodern Gold Line camper (top) introduced recently by Travel Industries, Inc., of Oswego, Kansas. This new application, designed specifically for Ford's F-250 pickup, represents the latest development in such campers. Molded of Cycolac, a tough, lightweight plastic material, the camper has a sculptured design not possible with conventional camper materials.

A COUNTRY PERSON AT HEART

As enthusiastic as I am, generally speaking, about living in the country, I would be the first to admit that it does have certain draw-backs, particularly in the Winter. For instance, lack of central heating (no offense to my faithful friend, Hercules), in our old stone house means that where some rooms are comfortable, others remain rather frigid. Then too, I do not appreciate living on a back country road when it becomes drifted shut with snow. For us, this means isolation and inconven

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports -John Breth

For years it has been a standing gag on the Baltimore Orioles . STEVE BARBER's right to think like a left-hander, because he is one. Barber always laughs when he men-tions it. The idea being that it's a joke and he knows it and everybody

The Baltimore club began to think that Barber was acting left-handed during spring training when he tried to pitch too hard too soon. That brought on a recurrence of the arm trouble that has plagued Steve for the last few years.

When the Orioles left Florida to head north for the opening of the regular season, Barber was left behind at Daytona Beach. In one of those bookkeeping deals that major league clubs indulge in, Barber was transferred for a couple of days to a minor league team.

But he was brought back to Balti-ers and shrubbery. About an nour and a half was spent shopping in Lancaster; after which they had dinner at Zimmermans, on 66 N. Queen ment to pitch against the California Angels in the second half of a double-

And again to everybody's surprise he had a no-hitter going with one out in the ninth inning. Game: T. Lawrence-137.

Barber greeted the second Califor-nia hitter in the ninth, Jim Fregosi, by laughing at him. It was not a derisive laugh, although Fregosi may have thought it was. Barber admitted afterward that he was laughing because the humor of the situation struck him suddenly. Here he was just a week from banishment to the minor leagues and working on a nohitter in the majors.

Well, as you know, Fregosi spoiled Barber's no-hitter. He rapped a dou-ble to left field and Barber had to Mrs. settle for a one-hitter. Steve came back with another good game a week later. He beat Kansas City, although he needed help from the bullpen, both Moe Drabowsky and Stu Miller coming in on relief assignments.

The word is that the new manager of the Boston Red Sox, DICK WIL LIAMS, is from baseball's old school . . . a guy who likes to play every game as though it's the deciding contest of the World Series.

Williams is charged up for every game. No holds are barred as he drives his club for a hit or a run that might mean victory. He wants every player to be for the team and not for himself. The Red Sox finished ninth in the American League last year and there was plainly a lot of dissension on the club. If any of last year's problem children are still in action they may be in for a surprise.

Although Williams claims he's not ience, which we could very well do without. Yes, I must admit in all honesty that at such time, I am who played for Dick at Toronto the

The aggressive side of Williams' character comes to light in everything he does . . . playing cards, playing golf, you name it.

He played pro baseball for 17 years, 13 of them in the majors. He played for a lot of managers and says he learned a little from each of them. But he adds, "I use my own system.' That he does, as the Red Sox will testify, if you take the trouble to ask them. MOTHER'S DAY TRIBUTE

No matter how low he has fallen And she loves him.

A Mother's Prayer

Dear God, help me to live up to the faith I see in my child's eyes. I am so very human, so very frail yet to her I am a tower of strength. I can soothe her small hurts, I can give her love, I can protect and cherish her. Yet I can never be half of all I must be, without you to guide Help me and watch over her. Teach her the things that are beyond my power, so that she will one day be a better woman than I; and in her turn, a better mother.

Spicy Beef And Macaroni Casserole

Ground beef, elbow macaroni and stewed tomatoes provide wonderfully tasty teamwork in this delicious casserole that's sure to appease the heartiest Fall appetite. As economical and quick-cooking as it is flavorful, this dish is one to file under "H" for hamburger — and for when you're in a hurry!

The beef is seasoned with salt and Tabasco, the piquant liquid red pepper, before browning. Then it's alternated with layers of cooked macaroni in a baking dish, and canned stewed tomatoes, spiced with chili powder and oregano, are poured on top.

One great advantage to this dish is that it can be prepared in advance, but it requires longer baking after refrigeration. advance, but it requires longer baking after refrigeration.

Of God or Man? Lesson for May 14, 1967

Let's assume that your pastor is involved in the drive to secure equal opportunities in employment and housing for Negroes in your community. Let's assume further that he has refused to heed from you and Rev. Althouse your church to such a pastor? Is this not civil disobedience?

That is what we call it today. In the day of Peter and John it may have been called something else, but it was really the same thing. These men believed that their obedience to God made it impossible to obey civil authorities in a particular situation. In this case, you will remember, it all started when Peter and John healed a man by the Beautiful Gate and then witnessed to the power of Jesus. Dragged before the Council, the two disciples were warned not to heal, preach, or teach any more in the name of

Impossible To Obey

Peter and John, however, did not stop their public witness. They continued and, because they continued and thus defied the ruling of the Council, they were thrown into jail for their civil disobedience. Furthermore, by the help of God, they escaped from jail and resumed the very work they had been forbidden

There is really a parallel here, isn't there? Peter and John got into trouble with the civil authorities when, in response to God's guidance, they helped a man who was the victim of a physical disability. Some Christians today have gotten into trouble with the civil authorities when, in response to what they believed to be God's guidance, they have helped men who are the victims of prejudice and injustice. In both cases there is civil disobedience, an attempt to "obey God rather than men." (Acts 5:29 PSV)

Perspective of Time

Strange, isn't it? Today we remember Peter and John as great heroes of the faith because they obeyed God rather than men. Yet, at the same time, we look down our noses at those who would seek to do the same thing today. Why is it that civil disobedience appears so much more holy in the First Century than in the Twentieth?

Unless we want to reject much of the New Testament, we Christians can hardly say that civil disobedience is never justifiable. Jesus himself participated in civil disobedience when he strode into the temple, overturned the tables of the money changers, and drove them out. That wasn't even a passive act.

Ah yes, we say, but Jesus and Peter and John were doing the will of God. Yet, isn't this also the motive of those engaged in controversial issues of conscience today? True, we argue, but suppose we don't agree that this is the will of God? Then what?

God Always Prevails

There's the rub, isn't it? How do you respond to someone who believes he is doing God's will, when you don't agree or aren't sure? This was the same problem that confronted the leaders of Jerusalem. Peter and John believed that they were doing the will of God, but the men of the Council were certain that they were not. Then it was that wise Gamaliel reminded the Council that if something is of God, nothing will defeat it in the long run; if it is not of God, nothing we do will make it ultimately succeed. God always prevails. So, let us see whether this is of God

There are bound to be issues over which Christians will not agree concerning the will of God. Let us respect the Christian conscience of one another and follow our own convictions, confident that in God's own time his will

School Situation . . .

(Continued from Page 1) Westminster would be even less than to Key. We are confident that the new school at Westminster will offer a much richer curriculum in better facilities than could ever be provided at Key. Another factor not to be overlooked is the natural inclination of our people towards Westminster for shopping and for business. By keeping the flow from Taneytown the second largest community in the County, towards Westminster, we shall surely keep additional dollars in our County and in our State.

2—Use Taneytown High for a middle school (Grades 6-8), as recommended by the Engelhardt report until such time as a new high school might be built in the northwest area and conversion is made to the 4-4-4 system. This would immediately relieve some of the overcrowded facilities at our elementary school.

3—Plan to use Francis Scott Key ultimately as the middle school for northwestern Carroll County in phase III. The Engelhardt people propose a new middle school be constructed near the F.S.K. site for this area. Our proposal would eliminate constructing a school for upwards of 1,000 students at that time. We feel Key would be an excellent facility as well as an acceptable site for a middle school. Youngsters of this age do not drive, nor are there the after-hours orthwestern Carroll County in phase drive, nor are there the after-hours activities usually associated with high schools.

4—Begin planning for a new comprehensive high school for northwest Carroll County to serve Middleburg, Taneytown, Myers, Uniontown, and Union Bridge Districts. New Windsor might be included, too, or could be assimilated into Westminster, depending on the ultimate sites of the various country. ing on the ultimate sites of the various schools. This would also alleviate the problem of transferring New the problem of transferring New Windsor students to Westminster middle school and back to Francis Scott Key High School. We feel this would be the optimum in education for all the children in the north-western section of our County. Such a school built at the proper time would also eliminate the need for additions to the Westminster High School as projected in the Engelhardt report.

In addition to this four-step proposal, we would strongly urge you to take immediate steps to halt the practice of allowing pupils (other than agricultural students) to transform from Townstown to Work and the fer from Taneytown to Key and then transporting them. This permissive transfer of students could very well wreck the educational program for Taneytown High School next year. Those who have been attending Key and those who are taking vocational agriculture must be allowed to continue, of course. But to provide transportation from one attendance area portation school is intendance to another school is intendance to the protect with to another school is inconsistent with the practices in any other part of the County, and surely would be highly detrimental to education in our area.

We would be grateful for your serious and objective consideration of our proposals. We believe they are sound ones, offered by us in a most sincere spirit of concern. We believe, too, that the magnitude of the decision which you must pender receiving which you must pender received. cision which you must ponder requires that the lines of communication between you and us remain open. Therefore, we anticipate that you will keep us informed of the progress of your deliberations in this matter, and we welcome the opportunity to send at any time at your invitation, a responsible delegation from our community to discuss the implications of of your ultimate decision. We are confident that your clear thinking on this vital issue, and ours, will surely bode well for the finest possible education for our young people.

MAY

(Edgar A. Guest)

Here's May in the World,
With her petals of pink
And her skies just as bright
As a baby's first wink,
And the trees newly gowned
In the loveliest green,
And young life where the scars
Of old Winter have been!

Here's May once again! With her orchards in bloom, Like a bride at the altar Arrayed for the groom; There's a wreath in her hair, And her bridal bouquet Scatters beauty afar As she flings it away.

Here's May with her youth,
Just as lovely to see
As when first the world looked
On the green of the tree.
Man runs his brief race, Then his story is told And the grave takes him in But May never grows old.

Here's May! The same May Which thrilled men of the past. As she was long ago, She shall be to the last, And though over the world Countless ages have rolled, May has smiled at them all And never grown old.

REPORT OF THE NOVEMBER 1966 TERM GRAND JURY

To the Honorable, the Judge of the Circuit Court for Carroll County:
The Grand Jury for the November 1966 term of the Circuit Court for Carroll County met on November 14 and 23, and December 7, 1966, and on May 1 and 2, 1967. Thirty-five witnesses were interviewed and twenty three indictments were returned. The three indictments were returned. The Grand Jury visited the County Jail and Central Laundry Correctional Camp as required by law. The work of the Grand Jury provided a unique opportunity to examine and discuss various aspects of government, some of which we now wish to call to the attention of the citizens of Carroll County.

I. Jail At the request of our predecessor Grand Jury, we interviewed the County Commissioners separately to as-certain their views on the age-old jail issue. We found that each commissioner proposed a separate and distinct solution to the problem. Commissioner McKinney favored the building of a new facility generally along the lines of the architect's study calling for a three-story struc-ture with the basement to be used for civil defense, the first floor for administrative offices, the second floor for the jail, the federal and state governments to contribute part state governments to contribute part of the building costs. Commissioner Bair favored a small one-story structure with a knock-out wall for future expansion. Commissioner Walsh favred a modest renovation of the existing jail. The Grand Jury urges that no money be spent on renovating or remodeling the existing jail. If the Commissioners cannot agree on the plan of a new facility, we suggest that they appoint a committee to study the various proposals and that they agree to abide by the decision of that committee.

II. Dog Law

In view of the many complaints concerning dogs running at large and the problems created by this, it is our recommendation that the County Commissioners immediately pass a dog law to protect the citizens living in residential areas. We will not presume to go further and suggest the details of this law, but we do go on record as believing the need to

> III. Central Laundry Correctional Camp

In our visit to Central Laundry Correctional Camp on May 1, we found all aspects of the plant to be in good order. It was brought to our attention by the Director of Correctional Camps that more recreational facilities are to be built and that additional security is to be provided by the erection of a high fence. In view of the high rate of escape (14 escapes between January 16 and March 7, 1967), we wholeheartedly approve the providing of greater security.

IV. Sheriff's Budget

At the request of the Grand Jury, the Sheriff reported on his need for additional help and his need for funds to pay adequate salaries to his help. It is our belief that the present salary of the deputy sheriff is most inadequate, particularly when one considers the nature and hours (approximately 70 hours per week) of his work. We also feel that the need for an additional deputy with an automobile is urgent. The orderly administration of justice is dependent on the prompt service of process and the prompt arresting of criminal de-fendants, and it is indeed impossible for the Sheriff and his existing deputy to keep up with the ever-increasing work load.

V. Tanney Road

Our attention was called to the dangerous condition which exists on Tannery Road near its intersection with Gorsuch Road where Tannery Road zigzags across two sets of railroad tracks three times within a mile. We suggest that this situation be corrected by straightening Tannery Road, thereby reducing the number of crossings and making it more safe for those who use it. VI. City of Westminster Parking Lot

The Grand Jury expresses its concern over the conditions which exist in the downtown Westminster business area, particularly that area bounded by Longwell Avenue, Main Street, Railroad Avenue and City Hall. An elegant City Hall, blinded only by its self-glorifying lights, looks dawn upon a magadam platter of the self-glorifying lights. down upon a macadam plateau of trash, beer cans and broken beer bottrash, beer cans and broken beer bot-tles. It appears to be a meeting ground for the idle and a breeding ground for trouble and lawlessness. It is also frequented by hot-rodders who spin wheels and perform other antics with their automobiles. Ac-cording to the testimony of one lady, women and children are frequently women and children are frequently required to step aside in order to make way for or get around gathering teenagers. We urge that Mayor Hahn and the City Council of Westminster give this situation their immediate that the council of the council o mediate attention and take appropriate action to improve conditions in this area. Whatever action, if any, which has been taken thus far appears to be entirely ineffectual.

And, having concluded all matters brought to their attention, this Grand Jury begs leave to be excused from further service. Roland R. Childs, Foreman.

Today's Investor By Thomas E. O'Hara

Q. I have money invested in stocks, but am near the retirement age and would like to dispose of them and invest in mutual fund shares. One fund has a plan in which I can invest $50,000 and receive a guaranteed $250 a month. What do you think?

A. What you are asking me is, if you should sell all of your stocks and put all of your money in one mutual fund?

I think you should do some very sharp figuring before you do it. Selling your stocks means you are going to probably have to pay some taxes on the sales. $250.00 a month would be a return of 6 per cent on $50,000 be a return of 6 per cent on $50,000 and if the sales commission on your purchase is as little as 7 per cent—it may be higher depending on the fund you buy—the fund will have a smaller amount invested for you and have to earn a higher rate in order to pay you the $250.00. If the mutual fund guarantees to pay you $250.00 fund guarantees to pay you $250.00 a month this simply means that part of the payment made to you will be a return of capital whenever the earnings of your $50,000 fall below

You didn't say what stocks you own, but if your portfolio consists of good grade common stocks, the chances are that these will appreciate as much as a mutual fund. While mutual funds have been good investments, very few mutuals have grown faster than the Dow Jones industrial averages over a period of time.

With the amount of money you are talking about there is much professional advice available to help you decide on the investment that will decide on the investment that will offer some protection against the built-in inflation of our economy. The trust department of your bank should be able to help you or to put you in contact with a good investment counseling organization. I would do considerable investigating before making a change making a change.

Q. A stock I have been watching hit 18 and I asked a broker to buy 10 shares for me. But I actually had to pay 18% in addition to his regular commission. I took it, but wonder if I should have.

A. Your broker probably bought the stock "at the market," which means he paid the price it was bringing at the moment he placed the order. Often when investors order their stock to be bought "at the mar-ket," they are under the impression ket," they are under the impression that this means it will be bought at the last previously quoted sales price. It is more likely to be a small fraction above or below the last sale quoted. And this is what happened to you. Between the time you placed your order and your broker placed it, the price had gone up 36's the price had gone up %'s.

If it is your intention to buy only at a specific figure, you must place your buy order at that particular price, and not "at the market." But remember: you then have to wait the stack extends of the stack of th until the stock actually sells at the price you've specified.

I help support my mother. Would it be wise—or possible—to sign over to her some of my stocks, with the stipulation that they revert to me upon her death? My thought is that this would assure her of an income and at the same time give me a tax break. What do you think?

A. You probably can achieve both of your goals, but I doubt if you can do it quite the way you've suggested. I urge you to consult a good tax lawyer before you proceed.

If you couldn't accomplish what you want any other year I wouldn't want any other way, I would think you could simply give the stocks to your mother and she in turn could leave them to you in her will. But-again consult a lawyer first.
