to our great country.

The graduating class of 1967 of Taneytown High School has discovered a unique way to both end their final celebrations and add to their fond memories of their high school days. Perhaps some of the members of our community noticed their activities last Wednesday morning around 12:30 or 1:00.

This originally began during the first month of this school year when two three-dimensional numbers, covered with elements of the conditions of the conditions two three-dimensional numbers, covered with aluminum foil, were hung in the rear of the school auditorium. These numbers, "67," were four feet high, three feet wide, and six inches thick. These seniors marched down main street and up George Street to the center of the athletic field. Here, a memorial service was held, the candles came together in the cremation of the treasured numbers, the ashes were buried, and the graduates solemnly walked away leaving a flower-covered mound of dirt marked with nine lit candles. Celebrations were officially ended for the class of 1967 of Taneytown High School with a two-firecracker salute.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Dear Papa:- Today is Father's Day and I recall the many happy days we had together from the time I was a tiny child! You were always so thoughtful and kind to all of us and I'll always remember how you saved many steps for dear Mama when you administered to us whenever any of the children were ill.

What made me love you so much from the very beginning that I was able to understand is the way you taught all the children that dear Mama came first and that alone made us have so much love and respect for

I remember so many hours when you used to play games with me and the manner in which you named my 21 dolls, all in a row! Then, one day you walked so far to purchase a very special doll for me. How I recall when you used to manage your business activities at recess time to come to the locked school gate to give me a penny and to embrace me between those big heavy bars of the Oakdale Public school to purchase some goodie from that dear old German woman who was right there with her basket on her lap, whom all the kids called, "Grandmom" and was adored by those kids. I recall the first time. I made biscuits call the first time, I made biscuits and you went into ectasy about them telling everyone, "No biscuits could have been better!"

There were so many beautiful things that you taught me and which registered from the beginning of childhood. . . "Always keep an appointment between life and death," "never hold wrath when the sun goes down," "never have words with any of your sisters or brothers" "don't put off for tomorrow which can be done today" "Never marry a rich man unless you really love him!" and I vowed to keep all those promises I made to you.

I'll never forget when you named me, "Your Last Rose of Summer" and that was the very first sheet music I memorized on the piano which you loved to hear me play. I often have wondered why you really named me that, Papa unless it was because I was your last daughter! Oh! how I recall when you named your four daughters, "Your four lovely Graces!"
You added, "Flo was the Roguish girl, Edna was the Classical girl, Mildred the pretty girl and Irene was the stylish girl!" (I do think you really loved girls more so than boys)!

I'll always remember the way you admired me when I was dressed in the new evening dress for the first big dance affair of my life! You rose from your chair (I then was 18) and taking me in your arms and kissing me said, "My Pet, you are so much like your dear mother, at the age of 18"!

I remember those cold winter Fall and went as far as the car would go in such a distance for Chestnut hunting, as you called it. We both loved

And-oh-Papa I remember when I was three and you were with me so much as I was just getting over Scarlet Fever and I said, "Oh, now I can see," as that dreaded disease left me blind! You could not believe what you just heard and you quickly said, "What is Papa holding up"? "Your pipe!" I quickly replied! That day, I will always remember the way you crushed me in your arms saying over and over again, "Thank God" and the beautiful prayers all throughout my three month's of blindness.

You were like the Rock of Gibralter to me! Your wonderful encouragement in everything I did. If I was worried about an examination coming up for school, you would tell me to lay down my books of study and get up early in the morning when my mind would be fresh and clear and somehow it always worked.

I'll always remember the manner in which you prayed at twilight each night as you parted the draperies and looked EAST up at the Heavens and as I entered the room, I would stand there and pray to, with my head bowed in reverence! bowed in reverence!

How sorry I am that you and my minister never met, for I have al-ways thought as soon as that special handclasp was given that you immediately would have loved one another and been brothers! (And I think you know just what I mean).

Oh — there are so many things, dear Papa that I remember that somehow I keep a special place in my heart just for you! No girl had a finer father! The day you were leaving us forever and you called my name and then dear Mama's saying, "Jenny, this is George. I am coming!"

Then your dear ever closed forever! Then, your dear eyes closed forever!
This day — Father's Day. . . . . my Precious, Beloved, Noble and Handsome Father! Your Last Rose of Summer ... Irene.

GRASSROOTS OPINIONS

HARTFORD, WISC., TIMES PRESS: "The Postmaster General of the United States has suggested that the Post Office Department be taken out of government and converted into a private corporation. We have pushed this idea for many years, feeling that private enterprise, given the budget now alloted to the PO, would give twice the service, and show a nice profit doing so. There would be no 'free riders' in such an operation, as parcel post now is. Either the thing would make a profit, or it would be done away with. Antiquated methods of operation, antiquated equipment, and inefficient operations would be done away with in a hurry, and with the removal of the political yoke around its neck, the results could be nothing but good."

FINDLAY, OHIO, REPUBLICAN-COURIER: "There were more murders than ever before last year. Crime was on the increase and seems to be this year. . . . Last year only one criminal was executed in the United States. Yet in 1935 there were 199 executions. . . . The idea seems to be spreading that capital punishment is not a deterrent to crime. But those who advocate its abolition have not yet come up with the kind of a subsitute, by way of punishment, that seems to stem the tide."

MORRIS, MINN., TRIBUNE: "Every couple of years, Congress wrestles with the problem of increasing social security benefits and taxes. If it wasn't so costly the whole affair might be somewhat amusing. Each time the various committees go through the same round of hearings, listen to a parade of expert witnesses, and, at some length, draft a program of benefits and taxes for the next 25 or more years. This extended program lasts without serious criticism for a few days or weeks at best. Then the clamor starts for new benefits which require new taxes and within a few months Congress is back at it, reworking the whole program again."

OPPORTUNITY, WASH., SPO-KANE VALLEY HERALD: "The medicine men of the U.S. treasury have discovered that it is . . . lack of 'international liquidity' which is causing the trouble, and not our own theory that there simply isn't enough gold in the world to keep our spenders happy, so we are now going to spend something else — international paper gold."

WALTERBORO, S. C., PRESS AND STANDARD: "It was interestng to note the return of a North Carolina family from Australia. Last year much publicity and ado was made over the migration of the Ray A. Price family to Australia because of the 'head of the house's' disapproval of certain things in this country. But time, experience and hindsight finally got through to him and he realized that things were not as bad as he had thought. So often this is true. As a school teacher, he found that government control of the schools was stronger, and felt more there than in this country. And the salaries paid were not as attractive on the site as from afar; and the independent, small merchant, merchandising specialist, is not the idyllic dream some opponents of bigness propound."

ROCHESTER, N. H., COURIER: 'Young people, exposed to all the liberal philosophies which seek to enjoy today. The example of parents Nation which was founded on the dignity and worth of man rather petuating our way of life."

WACO, TEXAS, JOURNAL: "It is hard to pay taxes, even when you are convinced that the tax law is izens are convinced that a tax law is unfair, the consequences can be extremely serious. The United States of America was founded by men in revolt against unfair taxation, among other things. Therefore, it is important when a citizen feels that a tax law is unfair, that he let his representatives in Washington or the state capitol or the county court house know how he feels and why."

O'ER THE RAMPARTS WE WATCH

OLD GLORY

A day traditionally known as Flag Day, when we pay our respects to "Old Glory," came on June 14.

The first Flag Day remembrance took place in 1877 when the Government requested all public buildings to fly the national flag in commemoration of its 100th anniversary.

Since this time the day is dedicated to the freedom that symbolizes America, a flag that is to be respected by all Americans. It denotes a positive act of pride, performed by those who realize the importance of keeping the red, white, and blue symbol of our nation flying in the breeze.

We, as Americans, on this day should not be lax in the manner in which we display our flag or the way we behave when the flag is in our presence. The very fact that we are free to decide how we want to honor the flag should be the best reason to wave it.

Let all of us be proud of our flag and honor it.

JUNE

Out here in the country, we have the old-fashioned variety, called by some people, "cabbage roses." And, of course, wild roses spice the lanes and by-roads. Honeysuckle riots along fences and hedgerows and daisies open their hearts to the sun. Wild strawberries will soon be ripe and the air is heavy with scent of new-

Now the Carolina Poplar sheds a green canopy over our old stone house.
As I look up through its leafy branches, they seem to almost reach the sky. This silvery old tree, a faithful friend indeed, has stood serenely by through all kinds of weather. I am especially grateful for it, now that hot, sultry days are on the way.

June is a joyful time of weddings

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all my doctors, nurses, friends, relatives and Rev.

June is a joyful time of weddings and graduations, of picnics, iced tea and strawberry shortcake. It marks the beginning of long, lovely summer days, when, in the words of James Russell Lowell, "heaven tries earth if it be in tune, and over it softly her warm ear lays."

FATHER'S MOUSTACHE CUP

When I was just a little lad, Not more than nine or ten, A wondrous cup my father had

I envied even then.
'Twas not for little boys to use,
Or guests who'd come to dine, Nor was it one the girls would choose Of Dresden china fine.

It held about a quart, I think, When mother filled it up, And there was father's name in pink Upon that moustache cup.

It had a handle wide and strong. A very sturdy rim,
Designed to keep his whiskers long
From sinking 'neath the brim.
As I recall those happy times,

It now appears to me This was the worst of dinner crimes—

Pa's whiskers like a fan. I wished I had a moustache then.

I used to sit and think
How proud I'd be when, like the men,
I, too, might and sit and drink. It seemed so long before I'd be

To age and manhood grown
And have a cup designed for me
And kept for me alone;
To me it seemed the peak of pride Must be a moustache cup
And that small china shelf inside

To hold my whiskers up. But time has altered many things, Old fashions long have fled, The self-same song the robin sings, The same sun shines o'erhead,

The self-same coffee and the tea Still weary toilers cheer,

But life's not as it used to be;
My father is not here,
And yet I fancy I behold him near Us when we sup,

And see him smiling as of old Across his moustache cup. -Edgar A. Guest

P.S.: To all of the fathers, on your day, June 18, a special "Happy Father's Day."

LUTHERAN BROTHERHOOD HOLDS 50th ANNIVERSARY PARTY IN 80 CITIES

Two area men were cited for serto church and business during Lutheran Brotherhood's golden anniversary observance, June 13.

Awards signifying the honors were presented to Dr. Dwight F. Putman, Gettysburg, Pa., and Richard L. Un-ger, 351 W. Middle Street, Gettysburg, Pa.

Both were cited by Lutheran Brotherhood during a dinner for some 36 persons held at the Grafensburg Inn, Chambersburg, Pa. The affair was similar to dinners held in 80 cities throughout the U.S. and Canada on the fraternal insurance society's 50th birthday, June 13. Host at the dinner was Donald C.

Haynes, 325 Pangborn Blvd., Hagerstown, Md., Lutheran Brotherhood general agent.

The master of ceremonies was James Fair of Taneytown, who is the representative for Lutheran Brothergood in this area.

Dr. Putman, recently retired from the presidency of the Central Penn Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, was presented a Martin Luther Medallion from Lutheran Brotherhood for his contributions to the life of the church. The bronze medal, three inches in diameter and mounted on a wood base, has a full-length, raised portrait of the 16th century reformer. The medallion is the Lutheran Brotherhood distinguished service award.

SECOND LOOK AT ALIMONY

Divorce ends the marriage. divorce may not end the fighting, particularly over alimony. All too often the parties return to the courtroom for a second round, as one or the other seeks to change the amount of the alimony payments.
What rules apply? To start with, a court will not reopen the question at all unless there is something really new in the situation. Suppose a divorcee comes in and says:

"I'm just not satisfied with the alimony I'm getting. It was set too low at the original hearing."

That alone is not enough grounds for a change. All the arguments of both husband and wife should have been set forth fully at the time of the divorce, when the amount of alimony was first established. The court's time should not be wasted in ploughing the same ground over and over again.

Nor is the court likely to amend the alimony award simply because of minor financial difficulties—caused, for instance, by a brief layoff from work or moderate losses in the stock market. market. Such fluctuations in a person's fiscal health are so common that they were presumably allowed for in the original decree.

Still, there are some circumstances important enough to intifer a some circumstances.

important enough to justify a modification of alimony. The law recognizes that conditions can change in significant and unforeseen ways after the divorce. Thus:

In one case, the ex-husband suffered a disabling heart attack. In another case, the ex-wife inherited a large sum of money from a relative. Both of these events were held to be a sufficient change of conditions to call for a lovering of climater. tions to call for a lowering of alimony payments.

Fraud, too, may provide a reason for alimony revision. For example, a husband may have fraudulently concealed his assets at the time of the divorce, thus tricking the court into setting alimony too low.

Should a man's alimony burden be lightened because he has remarried? That may carry some weight with the court, at least if he has new children to support in the second mar-

Nonetheless, as a rule, his primary duty continues to be to his first wife. As one court put it: "A man may not shun marital obligations assumed in one relationship by contracting others."

NEW MEAL PLAN FOR CARROLL COUNTY GENERAL HOSPITAL

The Carroll County General Hospital initiated a "Four-Meal-A-Day" plan for patients on June 1. This departure from the traditional breakfast, lunch and dinner has been adopted by many hospitals through out the country in recent years in an endeavor to coordinate the needs of the patient and the routine of the nospital in a more efficient pattern.

There has been an increasing awareness on the part of physicians that "food is basic in the treatment of any disease.'

These meals will consist of an early morning "Continental breakfast," consisting of juices, coffee, tea or milk and a selection of pastries, muffins and toast. "Brunch" is a combination selection of breakfast and/or lunch items. Dinner at 4:00 P. M. will be supplemented by an evening snack at 8:00 P. M. The innovation of this system brings about changes in work sched-ules in the Dietary Department which will allow them, with no increase in labor force, to accept complete re-sponsibility for the preparation, delivery of trays and pick-up following meals, which they have not been able to accomplish in the past.

Tray serving since the opening of the hospital has been ably handled by a dedicated group of adult and high school volunteers. The service rendered by these women has been of immeasurable value to the hospital

Even More Committed

Lesson for June 18, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 11:19-30.
Devotional Reading: Ephesians 2:11-22.

The reports that came back to the little community of disci-ples in Jerusalem were quite encouraging - up to a point. The persecution against the followers of Christ could not wipe out the Church: many of the disci-nicia, Cyprus, and Antioch. Let all the congrega-tion say "Amen!" Not only had many disciples escaped from Jerusalem, but

Rev. Althouse they were preaching the Gospel in these far-flung places. Let all the congregation say "Amen?"

Finally, there comes a report from Antioch saying that many Greeks (Gentiles) there were hearing the Gospel and responding to it, forming a considerable com-munity of Gentile followers of Christ in Antioch. Let all the congregation say: "WHAT'S THIS?"

Another Change! We can imagine what was the reaction of some Jerusalem Christians: "Another change! What is the Church coming to? What will become of it if 'they' keep changing everything?"

First they had been asked to overcome their considerable feelings about Samaritans and accept these despised people into the fellowship of Christ. Next, they had been shocked to hear that a few Gentiles had even be-come followers. Now, however, word came to them saying that a whole Gentile community of followers had been established in Antioch and was continuing to grow. They were being asked to think, not of a Jewish Christian Church with some Gentile Christians in it, but a Church which is every bit as much Gentile as Jewish.

It is the same kind of problem faced by many Christians congregations today when they are challenged to welcome and even admit as members Negroes or Puerto Ricans. Let one Negro attend your Church and apply for membership, and there may be comparatively little difficulty getting this past the governing board of your church. In fact, you may even find that some of your people will look upon him with a sense of satisfaction as our Negro member." But, instead of one, let that number be' multiplied and let the congregation be faced with the possibility of receiving a large group of groes as members — perhaps. In time, a majority - and then we find a different attitude.

Loss Of "Our Ways"

It wasn't that the people in Jerusalem had anything against the Gentile convert as such, you understand, but they were rightly afraid of the changes these new people would bring into the Church. The fellowship in Jerusalem didn't want anything to change. They were accustomed to a pattern of life that included all the major religious duties of the devout Jew. This involved obeying the strict food laws, going to the Temple at the hours of prayer, and attending the synagogue on the Sabbath. What would happen to their way of life if the Church took on a Gentile flavor? This is the same fearful question we ask today when the Church opens wide its doors.

They were justified in their fears of change. It wasn't long until the Jewish Sabbath was replaced with a Lord's Day observance commemorating the resurrection of Christ on the first day of the week. The food laws were largely ignored by Gentile converts. In fact, the inclusion of whole style of life to which they had become accustomed.

Hand Of God

Barnabas was probably no more eager for change than any-one else in Jerusalem. Yet, it must be said of him: "When he came and saw the grace of God, he was glad." When he saw the hand of God in these changes, he accepted them. He was committed to a style of life, but he was even more committed to the will of God. Are you?

Six Bridge Dam and Reservoir Project

Congressman Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., (R.-Md., 6th) announced that the outlook for prompt action to start the Six Bridge dam and reservoir project in Frederick County

"is very promising."

Mr. Mathias released correspondence with Col. Frank W. Rhea, Baltimore District Engineer of the Army Corps of Engineers, in which Col. Rhea declared that "the project remains the best solution to the major water problems of the Monocacy River Basin." Col. Rhea last week assured the Congressmen that the assured the Congressman that the Corps of Engineers "will have an up-to-date description of the Six Bridge project, together with a cost estimate and project justification, ready for the fiscal 1969 budget and for the appropriation hearings, should the project be authorized."

In reply, Congressman Mathias told Col. Rhea that "the interest and efforts of the Corps will be good news for the entire Monocacy Basin. Obviously Frederick and Carroll Counties cannot continue to grow without a fully adequate water supports." without a fully adequate water sup-Bridge project will also offer important recreational benefits, both at the reservoir itself and on the

Noting that "the State Department of Water Resources estimates that the Monocacy Basin water situation may be critical by 1975," Mr. Mathias "it is imperative to start work on this project at once, since completion may take some 7 years."

The Six Bridge dam, recommended by the Corps of Engineers in its Potomac Basin Report in 1963, has been endorsed this spring in a pending report by the Water Supply and Flood Control Sub-Task Force of the Interdepartmental Task Force on the Potomac Basin directed by the Section 1997. made; he has been informed by the During ASCS in Washington.

Because of bad weather some producers have planted and replanted feed grains without getting a satis-factory stand. The failure of the crop is due to abnormal weather condi-tions. Apparently, some growers have used chemicals for weed control that have left a residue which makes it impractical to devote the land to other crops, such as soybeans, for harvest this year.

Because of this problem some producers now want to designate as diverted acreage the land planted to feed grains which have failed. This would then permit the land initially intended as diverted acreage which is free of chemical residue to be used for production of other crops.

The procedure is being changed to The procedure is being changed to provide that land on which feed grains were planted but failed and which is classified as feed grain land for purposes of price-support payments may be designated as diverted acreage. This will be subject to county committee approval at the request of the producer and a finding that the chemical residue prevents the use of the land for another crop this year. # "people walk all over us"

Lucas-American Floor-Life Floor Enamel is "made to be walked on." . . . is tough and elastic and covers more square feet per gallon than ordinary floor enamels. It dries IN HOURS to a smooth, hard, NON SKID finish that provides TOTAL-PROTECTION, from scuffing, and ALL KINDS of weather, Keeping it clean is no problem with Floor-Life either. Just plain soap and water keeps it looking new. Try Floor-Life on YOUR floors, and walk all over us. Everyone else does ... and we love it!
