MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL MEET

The regular monthly meeting of Mayor and City Council of Taneytown met in regular session on Monday evening, June 26, with all members present. Officers James Boone and Joe Fleischman gave their monthly reports.

The Council received two delegations and dealt with their problems. The various committees rendered their monthly reports. Mr. Ott, Chairman of the Lighting Committee, recommended three new lights at the Park entrance to replace the old existing lights. This recommendation was approved. Chairman Wm. Hopkins, of the Weed Committee, reported progress on weed control stating that only a few property holders have not mowed their lawns.

The Swimming Pool Committee, Thomas Smith, Chairman, reported 127 family season tickets sold to date and 24 individual season tickets. There has been considerable controversy concerning the closing time of the pool. By unanimous Council action, it was decided that the pool will be cleared at 8:50; bathhouse cleared at 9:10. These instructions will be posted at the pool premises.

The Police Committee reported contact with Sgt. Hahn, Maryland State Police, for the purpose of developing procedures and practices on the part of our local police in conformity with State Police practices. Certain State Police duty forms will be adapted for use by the Taneytown Police Department and Officer Boone will maintain radio contact with the Westminster Barracks during his assigned duty hours. This is to help insure immediate contact with Officer Boone at all times. The citizens are reminded that if they need the services of Officer Boone, the proper and quickest way to reach him is by calling the Westminster Barracks. The Barracks will in turn contact Officer Boone by radio and dispatch him.

The Street Committee presented the following street program for this year:

- (1) Widen Baumgardner Avenue to a width of 40 feet thus eliminating a traffic bottleneck which has been present for sometime. This new width will extend from East Baltimore Street to Taney Drive.
- (2) Conover-Hurd Alley. This alley will be built with a 12 foot paved surface.
- (3) Stanley King Alley, 12 foot right of way.
- (4) Lescalle Alley, 12 foot right of way.

Repair work:
(1) Carroll Street Extended will be repaired where water and sewer entered newly constructed homes.

Several additional requests were received by Council for new construction of streets. It is regretted that this construction cannot take place this year due to sizable expenditures necessary for the expansion of the Taneytown water system.

Action was taken to secure apparatus from a chemical company for spraying insecticide for mosquito control. Council had been advised that such an apparatus is loaned by certain chemical companies at no cost if the insecticide is purchased from them. It should be pointed out that the sprayer owned by the Corporation is in very bad repair and is considered too dangerous for operation.

On Saturday, July 1, from 10:00 A. M. to 12 noon, Senator Goodloe Byron will be present in the Taneytown City Office to visit with constituents. If you have any questions or requests of the Senator, please present yourself at the City Office during this time.

LET FREEDOM RING

FOURTH OF JULY

On Independence Day, 1967, it might be well for us to remind ourselves that the freedom which we commemorate is not self-perpetuating. It is something we must work for, conscientiously and continuously, even as did our forefathers. They were ready to die for freedom; can we do less than strive to nurture and protect it?

Of the fifty-six who signed the Declaration of Independence, five were captured by the British and executed as traitors; nine others died from wounds or the hardships of the Revolutionary War. Still others saw their homes and plantations destroyed. For those who lived the reward was poverty—their possessions commandeered, their lands laid waste.

These were the men who gave us an independent America one hundred and ninety-one years ago. They are the men who pledged: "For the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of the Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other, our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

Through their sacrifice we do have freedom. We do have our unalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Let us not take these sacred rights and our God-given freedom for granted. There are those who would chip away, little by little, these things we cherish most. It's up to us to prove that we will not be deprived of our heritage.

Taneytown Carrier is Expert Driver

Mr. Howell B. Royer, Taneytown Rural Carrier No. 2 has been awarded the Expert Driver Award Certificate and Badge by the National Safety Council for 30 consecutive years of exceptional safe driving. In presenting the award to the rural carrier, Postmaster George Fream noted that the National Safety Council Safe Drive Award is the recognized trademark of professional drivers who have proven their skill in avoiding traffic accidents. The more than two million drivers who have earned the award since 1930 have made it the highest award for professional safe driving performance. The total cumulative miles of safe driving logged by Mr. Royer in performance of his official duty during the past 30 years exceeds 375,000 miles.

SENATOR BYRON TO BE AT THE TANEYTOWN CITY OFFICES ON JULY 1

State Senator Goodloe E. Byron announced that he will visit Taneytown on July 1, for the purpose of meeting with any Carroll Countians who wish to discuss legislation, or other problems affecting the County. Senator Byron will be available at the City Offices on that date from 10 A. M. to 12 noon to meet with interested individuals or groups.

This will be the fifth in a series of monthly meetings which Senator Byron will hold in various sections of Carroll County.

Water Supply Dwindling

The Mayor and City Council wishes to inform the water consumers within the City of Taneytown certain facts relative to the use of water.

Based on the slowly decreasing amounts of water furnished by our wells we would ask all to conserve water as much as possible and to refrain from wasting water. We do not have to point out the seriousness of not having any water. The well located at the old fairgrounds, near the elevated tank, has decreased from 75 gallons per minute during November through June 15, to a present figure of 60 gallons per minute. The well in the Carroll Heights area has decreased from 155 gallons per minute to 150 gallons per minute for the same period of time.

During the summer of 1966 a water ban had to be imposed—a very unpopular act but a necessary act for the protection of the citizens of the town. It is hoped this does not become necessary during this Summer of 1967, therefore, the plea, to you, the public, is to conserve water before the imposition of another ban is necessary.

Steps have been taken to supplement the present supply of water by drilling another well on a lot purchased from the Cunningham Farm and located at the rear of the old creamery. A geologist was hired, the area in and around Taneytown was studied and this particular location was pointed out as a very good site to drill for water. We are presently down to 500 feet with a 12-in. opening, a 24-hour test has been run and the well is now producing, according to the test, around 250 gallons per minute. Upon completion of this test, the geologist came back, all rock strata was studied and upon recommendation of the geologist we are proceeding to a depth of 600 ft. with a 8-in. opening. At the 600-ft. level the geologist will again come back for further examination and study. At the 600 ft. level drilling may stop or further drilling may be recommended. It is hoped this well can be tied into the present water system late this Summer.

Bids for a new pump will be advertised for in the near future and plans for tying this well into the present water system is underway.

Water is a precious necessity, let us all conserve it before it is too late!

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning. A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

How beautiful "Longwood Gardens" by the bus trip last week of our church group! The day was ideal and I thought as I sat alone on the bench away from the crowd that I was in Heaven! That is one trip you and you should make. I talked with people who go back and back again and they stated, especially at night when they remain over to see the display of all the colorful fountains! Although, the Gardens have been under development since 1906, the property dates back to Colonial times which was acquired by Pierre Samuel duPont (1870-1954). The original Longwood tract dates from 1700, a grant of land by William Penn to George Pierce, whose son built the old Pierce house in 1730. Members of that family owned the property until 1906 when it was purchased by P. S. DuPont.

There is so much history to it and it is all for free to gaze upon. The open air theatre is on the site where the barn was of the Pierce family and it is 62-ft. across and 34-ft. deep! It features a 6-ft. high water-curtain and colored fountains which is operated every evening and every one states — "this you should not miss!" There is a pipe organ for recitals. No one need to go out of these United States to see beauty, for we really have it here and the slogan is, "See America First!" You can imagine the trees, how huge, having been planted by the Pierce family when they first lived there!

The five and dime of Woolworth's had their opening last week and it is the duplicate of the one on Chestnut St. in Philadelphia. The store was crowded and they were doing a land office business. I talked with a number of executives for there were many present that day and also the gentleman who designed it and I surely did congratulate him. Many of the former salespeople were right there. Baltimore surely can be proud for such a grand addition to the main shopping street.

Now, all buses in Baltimore will be air conditioned and it is such a joy to ride in them. Just 75 new ones will be on the street soon and when I read the cost, it is almost unbelievable—$250 MILLION! ! !

And this sure did surprise me, as I always thought the Gabor family arrived in a group to live here in America but it was Eva Gabor who was the first of the three Gabor sisters to arrive from their native Hungary!

Saw the sweetest monkey on Lexington St., with his owner just showing him off. Ordinarily, I do not care for monkeys but this one was just different. Was young and not thin, as they usually are, and he had the most beautiful shade of Autumn Mink color fur I have ever seen on any monkey and he was so beautifully groomed! Am sorry that I did not ask questions about that one!

Now, Mrs. Housewife—the most delicious instant mix is by "Salada" which is the true fruit—nothing else to compare to—and if your grocer does not have it ask him to order it from the company, "Salada Foods Inc." Woburn, Mass. Ummmmmmmm good!

And now as to Israel . . . Little Israel could hardly be termed aggressive in the face of the fact that it's puny population of six million is surrounded and constantly threatened by some ninety million Arabs! But now in the face of actual warfare, the responsibility for the first shot is of minor importance. Only world loss and sorrow can ensue such a war! Our country is trying to maintain a neutral attitude which may be difficult to maintain if the Russians come to the assistance of a desperate Nasser! The Arabs have always been against the progressive Jew and are filled with envy. They have always wanted to exterminate the industrious Jews!

No matter which side wins, the tragic destruction of much of the Mideast cultural heritage will be an inreplaceable loss to mankind, not to mention the billions in assets to be lost to both belligerents. Even if the Arabs were ever to win, the hatred of Jews, now centuries old, will persist. Cannon balls do not kill ideas and the young of the Jews for the reestablishment of their ancient homeland will never die! There is a sad relationship between blind religion and economics and the possession of territory while the Arabs fight among themselves—constant bickering between ambitious nations—figures, they solidify in the furtherance of common hatred. Love may build the civilizations of the earth but animosity can quickly undo the loving labor of centuries! Just as a Cancer eats away at the vitals of an apparently healthy person. We make remarkable scientific advances, penetrating celestial space investigating the moon and the sun's planets but at the same time, our power of racial destruction is frightful!

So long, Folks. Love your neighbor. Have a grand week-end. Until next week D. V.

Faithfully yours,

Irene deLeon Love.

A kindhearted old gentleman saw a little boy trying to reach a doorknob. The man rang the bell and asked: "What now, little boy?"

"Run," said the boy, "that's what I'm gonna do."

"You can lead a boy to college, but you can't make him think."

You can tell a child is growing up when he stops asking where he came from and starts refusing to tell where he's going.

THURSDAY, JUNE 29, 1967

INDEPENDENCE DAY

The 4th of July is upon us again, and there should be a firm rededication to the principles and ideals that brought forth the "great experiment" in human liberty — the United States.

It is customary to recall with reverence an immortal remark of one of the nation's founders on this most important of dates, but perhaps at this time in our history, it would be more timely to quote a contemporary, an instructor in political science at Mercy College, New York. The professor says, "the Constitution is just a piece of paper which can be scrapped if it has outlived its usefulness. Just like anything else." According to his remarks, as reported in the Portland, Oregon, Journal, the basic political and cultural system of the United States must be revised even if it means a revolution culminating in violence.

Fortunately, the professor is protected by the very Constitution he belittles. Like any other citizen, he may speak his mind without fear, which in itself shows that we have kept faith with the founders of our nation. Because of this faith, the professor may speak with intemperance. Our detractors notwithstanding, the 4th of July has a deep meaning for most American citizens, and it will be so commemorated this year as it always has been in the past.

"GRASSROOTS OPINIONS"

CUREO, TEXAS, RECORD: "As long as the people of this country believe the press is, in fact, free, there is little danger of newspapers losing their freedom. If the public becomes convinced newspapers are deliberately distorting the news, misrepresenting officials, or otherwise using their pages for selfish purposes, the public will become apathetic. Thus, in the trend of consolidation and chain ownership of so many papers it is vitally important that huge and growing chains allow each individual newspaper to be a free entity in its news coverage and in its editorial expressions. . . . freedom of the press . . . demands diversity, individuality and — freedom of the press."

HARTLAND, WISC., REPORTER: "There's a big investigation in Washington, D.C., concerning the purchase of drugs under brand names or generic names. It has been indicated that generic name buying is often cheaper. We wonder how the prescriptions for some of those people causing the fuss are ordered: by well known reputable brand names or by a generic name?"

BROWNSVILLE, PA., TELEGRAPH: "It is with sorrow one views the death of General Francisco Franco's experiment in liberalization in Spain. Five years ago, Franco set in motion a relaxation of controls, and he brought to his government more democratic, far less authoritarian men to build the new Spain. When the people of Spain had a taste of democracy, however, they thirsted for more. Since the first of this year, we have been disheartened to see the more progressive men in the Franco government pushed aside and the diehards, ultra-conservatives again taking control."

WARRENSBURG, MO., STAR-JOURNAL: "The Constitution forbids cruel and unusual punishment. Well, the punishment meted out by Municipal Judge John B. Lawrence of San Bernardino, Calif., to a couple of teen-age girls who pleaded guilty to shoplifting was certainly unusual. Some might even say it was downright cruel. . . . What Judge Lawrence did was to order the two girls, both overweight, to whack off 10 and 15 pounds respectively within six months — or spend another 29 days in pokey."

WALTHAM, MASS., NEWS-TRIBUNE: "Dr. Alastair M. Stuart, a zoologist at North Carolina State University . . . has bored into termination affairs until he knows their social behavior, their government, their communications system. He has also learned that termites not only recognize their friends, but know their enemies as well. 'Termites,' he reports, 'live in a sort of democracy. They even have what amounts to a military draft. When danger threatens the nest, a general decision is made as to how many and which termites will be sent out to combat that danger.' If any termite draftees have burned their draft cards, Stuart did not report it."

ARGO, ILL., NEWS: "While suburbs are tackling the question of open housing in terms of the color question, it should be pointed out that regardless of color, religion or race, it is the couple with a child or several children that find it more difficult to find an apartment or a rental place to live, regardless if they have money to pay. Next, it is more difficult for the single girl to find a rental room than it is for the bachelor."

THOMASVILLE, GA., TIMES-ENTERPRISE: "In view of governmental intervention in private business, in the form of wages and hours and minimum pay scales and of so-called fair practices in the competitive world with reference to products and services, it may become necessary for radical and revolutionary practices to be developed with reference to the care and treatment of the ailing. . . . We would hate to see the time come when the medical profession and other professions have to be directed and regulated by a system of bureaucratic controls spewed in Washington."

NEWTON, MISS., RECORD: "Basic for any stable society and healthy personality is a sound, consistent conscience with well-defined moral precepts. This is needful from infancy to old age, in small groups and large groups. . . . Many people take discipline and authority as opposite to freedom and individualism. The result is confusion, loss of order and breakdown of the individual reasoning and rationale."

Tempting Busy Day Casserole

When time is short and family appetites clamor, a tempting quick version of the favorite "Tamale Pie" is an ideal menu choice. From the Test Kitchens of Libby's comes this easy recipe which uses the teen favorite, Barbecue Sauce with Beef for Sloppy Joes as the magic short-cut ingredient. The Sloppy Joe mixture is an always-ready combination of seasoned meat sauce for hearty hot sandwiches or "instant casseroles."

In this satisfying main dish, the Sloppy Joe mixture is combined with canned Corn Seasoned with Butter, chopped ripe olives and a dash of onion salt. The in-a-minute topping is an eye-pleasing arrangement of packaged frozen corn sticks or a cornbread mix prepared according to package directions.

With a bowl of sour cream, plain or mixed with chopped chives or scallions, to be spooned on each serving, this hearty tamale casserole makes an easy informal buffet supper dish for adults or teens.

Quick Tamale Casserole

2 cans (15½ ounces) Barbecue Sauce and Beef for Sloppy Joes	1 teaspoon onion salt
1 can (12½ ounces) Corn Seasoned with Butter, undrained	1 package (7¾ ounces) frozen corn sticks or 1 package (10 ounces) cornbread mix
1 can (4½ ounces) chopped ripe olives, drained	Ripe olives
	Sour cream

Combine "Sloppy Joes," corn, olives and onion salt. Place in 1½ quart shallow casserole. Top with corn sticks or cornbread mix prepared according to package directions. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Garnish with ripe olives. Serve with sour cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Keysville-Detour Homemakers Club "Wigs" was the topic of interest at the annual covered-dish supper meeting of the Keysville-Detour Homemakers Club on Wednesday, June 21, with Mrs. Charles Stonesifer of Keysville as hostess. Guests were Mrs. Robert Zentz, Mrs. Leroy Dinterman, Mrs. John Watkins, Mrs. Wilbur Law, Mrs. Clyde Wilhide, Mrs. Lou Myers and Mrs. Sam Myers.

Mrs. Lou Myers has a Wig Shop in Walkersville and brought with her several wigs for display. She said that wigs have been around since the 3rd Century B.C. when they were made from animal fur. They have been used in the theater through the years. Between the 12th and 16th centuries, they were almost forgotten but Queen Elizabeth I brought them back into vogue again. She had 80. They again slowed in use but TV has brought them back again. Wigs range in cost from $30 to $600 with human hair that is hand-sewn into the caps being the most costly. Some of the

NEIGHBORHOOD YOUTH CORP PROJECT IN CARROLL COUNTY

On June 19th thirty-three young people began work in the Carroll County schools as a result of a federally sponsored project.

The thirty-three boys and girls are serving a worthwhile function within the county schools by assisting as custodians, doing clerical work and serving in school cafeterias. They will be employed and will work in their school jobs for ten weeks during the summer when schools are closed.

Ned C. Musser, Assistant in Federal Programs, reports that the enrollees selected will gain experience in doing a job well and at the same time contribute their skills to a civic endeavor. Persons selected for employment under this project were those boys and girls who school officials felt could profit most from the work experience.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports

—John Breth

You just can't walk into the big leagues and take the pitching apart. That's the way the big first baseman of the Baltimore Orioles, BOOG POWELL, looks at it.

Powell believes that it takes about four years to learn how to hit in the big leagues. He adds . . . "You don't learn in one year, two years or even three. It takes four."

One of the great students of hit-ting, Ted Williams, always insisted it was impossible to judge a hitter on one year in the major leagues. Said Ted . . . "Let me see what a batter does in his second year in the majors and then I'll tell you what kind of a hitter he is going to be."

Powell agrees with that and points to George Scott, the powerful second-year man of the Boston Red Sox, who is having a little trouble at the plate now. Powell says it's because the pitchers think they have his weakness. They are jamming him on the hands. Word has gone around the league and every pitcher Scott faces is working on him the same way.

Powell says, "George will have to adjust to that. As soon as he learns to hit that kind of pitch they will start giving him more variety and he will see more pitches that he is able to hit and hit well."

Powell then added, "Hitting in the major leagues is a far cry from batting in the minors. Scott's in-ability to hit a certain type of pitch at this stage of his career means little. He is one of the strongest players in the league. He has only one full season in the majors behind him so it is silly to expect him to be knock-ing down fences."

Incidentally, Boog himself has played five years in the major leagues and has increased his output with each year. This is his sixth season. Last year, his fifth, saw him hit 34 home runs and drive in 109 runs as Baltimore won the pennant and the World Series.

He's quite a bit behind that pace now but he thinks the warm weather will bring an improvement in his hitting.

Here are some notes from the NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE—

The all-time iron man of the Na-tional Football League is the now retired Dick Modzelewski of the Cleveland Browns. Dick played in 180 consecutive games before calling it a day at the end of the 1966 season.

However, that mark may not last through the 1967 campaign. Jim Ringo, the center of the Philadelphia Eagles, is working on a string of 168 games and is in position to top Modzelewski's mark on the 13th game of the season. The Eagles will be at Dallas for that game on December 10.

Pittsburgh Steeler coach Bill Aus-tin says his team may receive a be-lated bonus from—of all things—an injury to quarterback Bill Nelsen last year. Nelsen spent part of his convalescent period with the coaches in the press box.

Says Austin, "I think it made a believer out of him. Bill got the idea of what we were trying to put across to him."

Nelsen required surgery for a knee injury suffered in the second game of the season but got back into action for the last three games of the cam-paign and functioned very well.

Here are some short quotes:

From coach George Halas of the Chicago Bears: "We have looked at films of our new quarterback, Jack Concannon, over and over and believe he has a potential. He's bright, big, young, fast and strong. We will give him all the opportunity he needs to make it as our quarterback."

From the rookie pass-catching end of Baltimore, Ray Perkins: "Johnny Unitas and Ray Berry have been my idols since I was in grade school. I was following them before I even heard of college football."

From Dallas quarterback Don Meredith: "I'm not a scrambler. It's true that sometimes I'll move out of the pocket periodically in a game. However, if the defense reacts in a different way, I may go right back into the pocket and never come out the rest of the afternoon."

Today's Sport Laugh — Kansas State's football team played eight games last season and lost them all. Asked to describe the Kansas State offense, coach Doug Weaver said: "It's new. We put it in this year. So far, we call it ineffective."

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS WITH COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

The Board of Education met with the Board of County Commissioners on Monday morning, June 26. The groups discussed thoroughly educa-tion's needs for land and construc-tion, with particular attention to the Westminster area.

The Board of Education specified to the County Commissioners that it had definitely decided not to avail itself for school or community college construction of the land commonly known as the Carroll Young farm.

The Board of Education also com-municated to the Commissioners that it did not project renovations or ad-ditions to the present Westminster Senior High School physical plant. The Board of Education members af-firmed their immediate desire to be-gin construction of a new high school and vocational-technical building for the Westminster area to be located at the southeast of Westminster. The vocational-technical center would serve pupils from other secondary schools in the county, as well as some of the needs of adult education.

The Board of Education asked the County Commissioners to commit themselves as rapidly as possible to the agreement or rejection by the Commissioners of funds to purchase the Close property at Routes No. 32, 97, and Hook Road. The Commis-sioners were also asked to consider favorably a forthcoming request of the Board of Education for funds to exercise the option and purchase the Conaway property adjacent to South Carroll High School, on which the Board of Education presently holds option. Locating the high school and vocational-technical building south-east of Westminster and enlarging South Carroll High School would financially aid Carroll County in that a new senior high school for the southeast of the county would not have to be built as soon as projected by the Engelhardt survey.

The Commissioners also received information on the School Planning Construction Aid Program, Section 22 of Article 77, Public Schools Laws of Maryland, as amended by Chapter 142, of the Acts of 1967. This legis-lation materially increases State sup-port in the construction of school buildings in the counties of Maryland and Baltimore City.

DELEGATE DULANY WRITES OF CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

William B. Dulany, one of the De-legates elected from Carroll County to serve in the Constitutional Con-vention, stated that he was pleased and honored to have been chosen as a Delegate, and that he wished to pub-licly express his appreciation to all those who in any way contributed to his election.

"Although the voter turn out was not very high, the State of Maryland has selected a very distinguished body to redraft its Constitution, and I am proud to have the opportunity to work with those elected," Dulany added.

"The plans for re-writing our Con-stitution have received excellent cov-erage in the press from time to time, and this coverage will, no doubt, be continued. It is therefore hoped," Dulany followed, "that the general public will follow the issues and the deliberations of the Convention, and will advise the Delegates of their position, ideas and thinking from time to time."

"I am looking forward with en-thusiasm to active participation in the Convention and hope that I can contribute to the preparation of a document which will be approved by the overwhelming majority of the voters of Maryland," Dulany con-cluded.

The Delegates to the Convention have been invited to an orientation session to be held during the week of June 26 on the campus of Goucher College. The Convention is scheduled to convene officially on September 12, 1967.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara

Q. Through payroll deductions I have accumulated more than 150 shares of stock in the corporation where I work. I'll retire in three years. Should I sell the shares a few at a time so I will not have to pay so much tax at one time, or should I wait and dispose of them all at once and pay the tax on my long-term capital gain?

A. I don't see why you would want to sell your shares at all. Surely the dividend income will be valuable to you when you retire. And the com-pany you work for has an excellent dividend record. You would have no tax to pay at all on the stock itself as long as you hold it and receive only the dividend income. You would, of course, have to report your di-vidend income on your income tax re-turn.

Q. I have $5,000 invested in govern-ment bonds, bought through payroll deductions at the store where I work. Should I invest my money in stocks to get more or should I still contin-ue buying bonds through payroll savings?

A. From the information you give me, I think you would be wise to re-serve about $2,000 in a bank savings account or in bonds and invest the rest in securities. I suggest you di-vide the $3,000 investment about equally between a good major man-ufacturing company, an oil company, and a utility.

It sounds to me as if you are in an excellent position to form an in-vestment club. You could take part of the money you are now investing in government bonds and put it into an investment club, where you and a group of friends would learn more about the world of finance, and learn how to pick worthwhile investments on your own.

Q. What industry or type of stock do you anticipate will show the great-est growth in the next 5 years?

A. Before you go looking too hard for a growth industry, consider this for a moment: You aren't going to be investing in a total industry, but in one or two companies of an industry.

Therefore, I think your concern should be with growth companies, whether they are in a growth indus-try or not.

For instance, those who bought stock in Wolverine Shoe a few years back are very happy investors today: though they bought into what is sup-posedly a "sick" industry, the corpora-tion itself has proved to be a very healthy and growing one and has yielded better results than have a lot of companies in growing industries.

Growth in a particular company is not necessarily guaranteed because it is part of a growth industry. The soundest growth results from an ag-gressive management. A poorly man-aged company can have growth if it is lucky enough to be in a growing industry, but once problems develop it may show up very poorly.

There is this ever-present danger in investing in a growth industry: a lot of new, untried companies are drawn into it. When the saturation point is reached, there is likely to be a shake-out. Only the best-managed are likely to survive—and a growing industry may obscure poor manage-ment.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

WINNING THE REWARD

Edwards flew into a rage when he found the hub caps missing from his car. Shaking his fist, he sputtered: "Why, I'd give $100 to know who stole those hub caps!"

The man next door, hearing these words, took them literally. He did a little quiet sleuthing, and sure enough discovered the culprit. But when he claimed a $100 reward, Edwards re-fused to pay off.

And in a court test, the judge sided with Edwards. His angry exclamation, said the judge, was obviously just a way of letting off steam, not a serious offer of a reward.

The legal obligation to pay a re-ward is based not on the ethics of gratitude but on the principles of contract law. There must be an offer, seriously meant. And there must al-so be a performance that fits the terms called for in the offer.

Thus, a reward offered for locating a robber "and" his loot is not earned by one who locates the robber—but not the loot.

Nevertheless, to encourage the catching of criminals, the law usually gives the claimant the benefit of the doubt.

For example: An alert citizen led police to the hideout of a fugitive killer. But their effort to arrest him resulted in a gun fight in which the fugitive was slain. In these circumstances, was the citi-zen entitled to a reward offered for the man's "arrest"?

A court said he was indeed, be-cause — for all practical purposes — he had done the job for which the reward was offered.

Is everyone eligible for a reward that is offered to the general public? No. As a matter of public policy, cer-tain individuals may be disqualified even if the reward offer doesn't say so.

For instance, a policeman who does no more than his duty cannot ordinar-ily claim a reward offered by the victim of a crime. Otherwise, the po-lice might be tempted to give better service to people willing to offer re-wards.

Nor may a reward be claimed by someone who was himself involved in the crime. Thus, a man who helped to find some stolen shoes was denied a reward, when it turned out that he had also helped to steal them.

As one judge put it: "No man shall be permitted to profit by his own iniquity."

Slugs, a new insect in corn, caused concern in the Taneytown area. However, the damage which began three weeks ago on Norman Sauble's corn has diminished and the corn seems to be growing satisfactorily.

The hot and drier weather helps to reduce the infestation since slugs are most common around greenhouses where damp conditions prevail. Several other farmers have reported some damage although not sufficient to warrant chemical control. Constant vigilance by farmers helps to spot insect problems quickly and prevent widespread outbreaks which does untold damage to crop production.

Farm accidents can be prevented by farmers themselves. In short, safety should never take a vacation. Over 8,000 farm residents were accidentally killed during 1966. What is even more alarming is the accident rate on farms is going up until it is now third following mining and construction.

Studies at the University of California indicates that it takes less than two seconds for a tractor to tip. When the tractor reaches the "point of no return" only seven-tenths of a second is needed to complete the rollover. The chance of a driver jumping to safety is very remote.

I saw a tractor at one of the machinery dealers equipped with a protective roll over bar. I'm sure these are available from all machinery dealers, and they also give shade for the operator. Might be a cheap investment for safety sake.

Since I will be attending summer school at North Carolina State University for the next three weeks, this column will not appear during my absence.

"Don't you ever want to?"

"Well . . . yes, kind of," said the draftee, squirming nervously in his chair.

"Then, young man, why don't you?" said the psychiatrist.

No Loitering!

Lesson for July 2, 1967

Background Scripture: Acts 13,
Devotional Reading: Psalms 90.

For too many of us, evangelism means welcoming the new church families that move into our community and persuading them to transfer their membership to our church instead of another. This concern, of course, is legitimate, but it is something considerably less than the proper response to: "Go therefore and make disciples of all nations."

Rev. Althouse who join our churches today — youth confirms the exception — are persons who already are church members.

But what of the great numbers who are not committed to Jesus Christ? The command was not to seek letters of transfer, but to win people to Christ. We are to seek, not a change of membership, but a change of life. Nevertheless, our evangelism, if we have any at all, seems directed to the "nice" people, the "solid citizens," the people whose lives do not seem to need much in the way of radical change.

More Than Welcome

In our city there is a coffee house sponsored by various churches in the area. Its purpose is to minister to the rootless young adults of the area. As I was speaking of this ministry with someone, they wanted to know: "Are there likely to be any hoods or beatniks coming there?" The words were spoken with distaste. My answer: "I sincerely hope so." God is concerned about these people too: the alcoholic, the dope addict, the "dropout," the "hipster," the delinquent, the homosexual, the bearded and the unwashed.

Too often today we Christians pat ourselves on the back if our church makes an attempt to welcome anyone who happens to cross its threshold. Yet, necessary as it is for churches to receive all who come, our mission is not one of sitting and waiting. We are called to reach out, to go "where the action is," to the places where we will find those who need the Gospel of Christ. We are too often content to be found when our mission is to go and find.

Not Content To Wait

This is the strategy we find in Acts 13. The church at Antioch was not waiting for someone to come in; it was willing to be sent forth. When the guidance they sought was given, they set apart two of their own number, commissioned them, and sent them out to find those who needed the Gospel of Christ. They were a congregation that reached out. Once before, when the Mother Church in Jerusalem had come upon hard times, the people at Antioch took up a relief collection for them. Now they were reaching out again.

Barnabas and Paul went forth as preachers, for theirs was an era when people still listened eagerly to the spoken word. Today this is no longer true. Accustomed to television, radio, and ever-present loud speakers, people today turn a deaf ear to street-corner preaching and even close their eyes to tracts, Bibles, and other media. Words seem to have become cheap.

Deeds So Loud

The most effective communication today is witness, deeds that speak so loudly that they cannot be ignored, deeds that make people want to know what is behind them. Those who need our message today, for the most part, will not come to our churches. Nor will they even attend evangelism crusades in tents or public stadiums. We have made it quite clear that before they are acceptable, they must first shave their beards, cut their hair, change their clothes, and stop doing whatever it is they do and we would not.

The "No Loitering" sign should be posted, not for the stranger outside our churches, but the believer within. The "outsider" will not come, so we must go. That is how it was for Paul and Barnabas. It is no less true for us.

Acres Of Flowers

Wouldn't you like to see flowers growing by the acre as do the sweet peas in this picture? National Garden Bureau's new slide program gives you a chance to do this — and in many states.

The program that National Garden Bureau, the educational service of the Garden Seed Industry, is introducing for 1967 takes the viewer on a magic carpet tour of the areas in California where flowers are grown by hundreds of acres, shows behind-the-scenes breeding work and the later trials of these new flowers in many states.

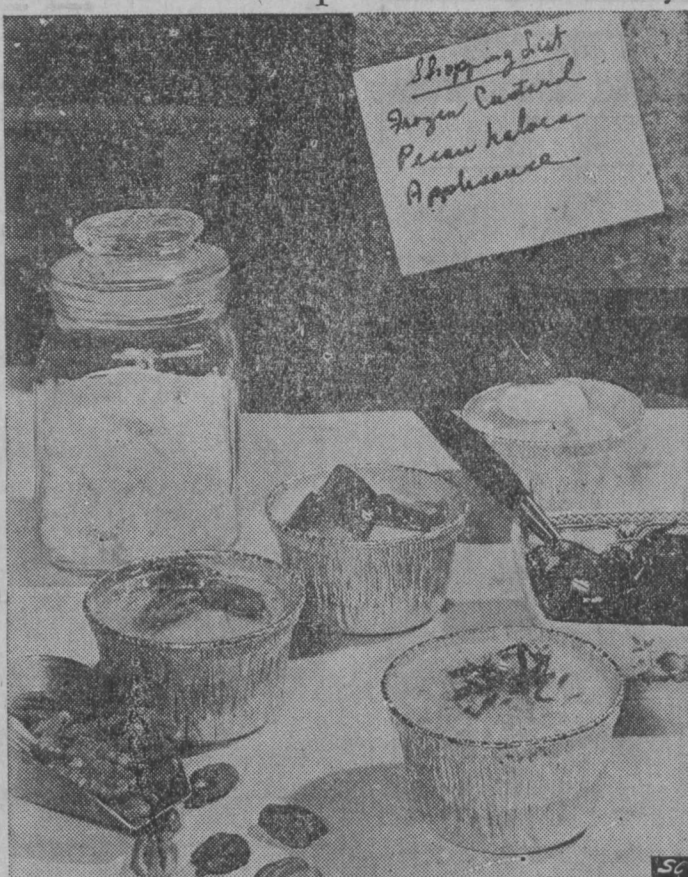

Titled "Adventures in Flowerland," this is a slide program with script to be read as slides are shown. It is available for loan on payment of postage and insurance. Other National Garden Bureau slide programs are: "Plant Seeds To Make America Beautiful," which shows numerous ways of doing so; "Newest Flower Fashions," the 1967 edition; "Ideas For Making Your Garden Gay," "First Steps In Arranging Annual Flowers," and "See What Seeds Can Do For You." The titles are self-explanatory.

There are also 2 quiz programs available: "Show Off Your Knowledge Of Annual Flowers" and "Mix 'N Match Vegetables And Their Flowers." Prizes of seeds are sent to the winners of these quizzes.

Garden clubs, Granges, 4-H Clubs and Junior garden clubs regularly use National Garden Bureau Programs. But these also have been loaned to libraries, schools (for use in science classes), Lion, Kiwanis and Rotary groups as well as many other organizations.

For more information about the loan of these programs, send for a request form to National Garden Bureau, 708 West Long Lake Rd., Bloomfield Hills, Mich. 48313

This has been a busy and somewhat hectic morning, with just a little bit of everything taking place. And so for the space of a few moments, I am taking a "breather" in the front porch swing. The latter, of very ancient vintage, once belonged to my great-aunt. As a child, when my folks had this same swing on their front porch, I spent many happy, carefree hours in it. Even now, many years later, I still enjoy the old swing's soothing, swaying motion.

As I creak gently to and fro, my thoughts become more settled. And I become aware of all the beauty which lies around me. The sun on this sparkling June day is hot, as it is apt to be at this time of the year. But a pleasant, cool breeze sings through the South Carolina Poplar and whispers to my old fashioned rose bushes. Their delicate perfume fills the air with a priceless aroma. The peonies are just about through and the tall, stately hollyhocks are now coming into bloom.

The quiet pastoral loveliness looks very much like a painting. The cows, finding it too hot to eat, seek the welcome shade of the walnut trees, down by the bridge. As they recline, each shiny black and white cow chews her cud, in perfect contentment. One could find no more peaceful scene.

The birds, on the other hand, are quite active today. The mulberries are rapidly getting ripe, and many of my feathered friends are feasting upon them. From the top of the pear tree, in the old orchard, a redbird whistles loudly. In the South Carolina Poplar, the young Baltimore Orioles have left the nest, and are apparently now learning to fly. This nest, by the way, is amazingly well-built. It will take many a strong storm to dislodge it completely from the branch to which it is so firmly anchored.

And so the moments slip away, and I must leave the old swing and my day-dreaming, and get back to my many tasks. But it was time well-spent, for now I feel able to tackle just about anything!

—Zola Cantwell.

MISS CYNTHIA MATHEWS
NEW MD. DAIRY PRINCESS

Winner of the 5th annual Maryland Dairy Princess contest is Miss Cynthia Marie Mathews, of Route 2, Union Bridge, Frederick County. Miss Mathews won the dairy princess title at the contest sponsored by the Maryland dairy interests at the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel on Wednesday, June 28. She was competing against eight other girls from other areas within the state. Miss Mathews was named "Miss Congeniality" in a vote taken by her eight competitors.

Runner-up in this annual contest was Miss Diane Lynch, of Queen Anne's County, on Maryland's Eastern Shore, who was named to represent Kent, Cecil and Queen Anne's Counties in a contest held at Kennedyville, Md., several weeks ago. Miss Lynch is the first Queen Anne's county girl to enter the Dairy Princess contest.

The nine contestants came to Baltimore Tuesday evening and were put up at the hotel, undergoing certain tests that evening. The Dairy Princess tests are designed to bring out personality, poise and the ability to talk to sell dairy products—before an audience.

Each candidate was given a topic for a brief talk before the 100 officials of Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers, Inc., Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers to which the Mathews family ships the 45,000 lbs. of milk their 65 Holstein cows produce each month, and Capitol Cooperative, plus members of the girls' families and others interested in dairy farming who were present in the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel in the Charles Room. Miss Mathews was crowned by State Comptroller Louis Goldstein and Miss Doris Scott, of Denton, Caroline County, the 1966-1967 Dairy Princess, who will go to Chicago on July 17 to compete in the national Dairy Princess contest sponsored by the American Dairy Association.

Guests at the luncheon preceding the crowning were welcomed by Kenneth Miller, of the Maryland Farm Bureau. The invocation was given by Hugh Heaps of the Maryland Dairy Herd Improvement Cooperative. MCMP President Edgar G. Emrich introduced Toastmaster, Dr. Charles P. Ellington, Director Services and Control, University of Maryland. The farewell address was given by Miss Scott. Miss Mathews will enter the national contest in 1968.

Judging the contest were, Harry T. Kaufman, Director of Public Relations of the Philadelphia Dairy Council; Mrs. G. Willard Oakley, of Salisbury, wife of the President of the Maryland Farm Bureau and Mrs. Reginald S. Ticknet, wife of the headmaster of the Gilman Country School for Boys (Baltimore) Lower School.
