

THE WORLD MOVES ONWARD.

As a torrent, whose course has been obstructed by an intervening obstacle, moves on again when the impediment is removed, so the great calamity, which but lately arrested the world's attention, and turned its busy, ever active forces into grief and mourning, and held them for days in suspense, having met its requirements, now takes its place in history, and the great untiring factors, which made up the records, have started again in their course of business, labour and pleasure. The world moves onward. Men die; others occupy their places, new faces appear, while the scenes remain. Humanity lives, and its tide rolls on and on, to the boundless sea of eternity.

Having passed to drop a few flowers into the grave of departed greatness, to express a people's sorrow; everywhere, by sea and land, the din of commerce, the fields of politics and the avenues of pleasure, have resumed their wonted active and cheerful aspects. In the presence of sorrow and suffering, the oppositions and animosities of political warfare seemed to be forgotten; but opposing parties in the State, are a political necessity. A government which should run unobstructed in one course, without the wholesome safeguard of an opposition, would soon become a despotism. It is the watchfulness of opposing forces, which restrains power within just limits, and gives due security to liberty. The offices are the prizes, which maintain the active existence of the parties, for, however warm may be the impulses of patriotism, there is yet necessity that its problems shall appear in a greater or less degree to the personal needs of man.

Thus then, the annual canvass for the offices now begins. The parties have put forth their candidates, and these appeal to the people for their suffrages. For the present there are no immediate great issues which command the popular consideration as growing out of the division of parties. The adhesion to old affiliations, the personal relations of candidates and personal characters, with possible elements of fitness in some cases, will therefore determine the course of the electors. Hence the people should be on the alert, to prevent the selection of indifferent or incapable agents for their business. "A living dog is better than a dead lion," is a good text, and may well be remembered in choosing between man and man.

The signs of the times are propitious for the future advancement of our institutions. Every new test of endurance seems to add to its vital strength. A new President regularly and efficiently installed in office in a private parlour in New York city when death had claimed his predecessor, notes the silent working of a system which may well claim the admiration of the world. And thus it must and will be, so long as the people themselves keep the government in their own hand, and from upon the machinations of disorganizers.

ROADS AND TREES.—The Harrisburg Independent says: We want a new road law compelling supervisors to macadamize a certain number of miles every year. If such a law had been passed twenty years ago, to day we would have elegant roads in every section of the country, and it would have been done at a great saving to the taxpayers of the country. There is another thing that should be done, and that is to plant trees on both sides of the roads. In the summer months driving over our roads is killing on the horses, and anything but pleasant to the people who travel over the roads. There is any quantity of dust, but no shade. It is nothing but the broiling hot sun and dust.

In Europe the public roads are lined on either side with shade trees, which is a great relief to the horses and travellers. The great majority of farmers in this country seem to have an aversion to shade trees.—There are comparatively few farm houses in the country that are surrounded by shade trees. They are exposed all day to the rays of the broiling sun, and must be anything but comfortable at night.

They had a $100,000 fire in Bradford, Pa., on Friday of last week. No fire organization, no water supply, and the fire swept unchecked up and down both sides of the street.

EDITORIAL TRIALS.

Among the many strange experiences, which continually occur to try the patience and tax the time of an editor, there are none more provoking and discouraging, than those which arise from the carelessness, and want of consideration on the part of correspondents.

The waste-basket, it is true, is a ready and convenient arrangement for ending these troubles, but cases will arise, when the temptation to use it must be resisted. Every person wishes his suggestions to appear in print in the neatest and most correct manner; the more careless the writer, the more exacting is he in this respect. But here comes a manuscript carelessly written, on both pages of the sheet, blotted, and almost illegible, which, though it may serve the economic purposes of the writer, and indulge his laziness, reaches the sublime in audacity, when it closes with a request to excuse haste and blots from want of time.

Is not the editor's time as valuable as that of the person? The time required to decipher the imperfect writing costs him money; it is time needlessly thrown away, by those he employs to do his work; it requires attention that other engagements may demand, to study out illegible scrawls. The work that is worth doing at all, should be well done. The man who cannot take time to form his letters distinctly, has no more right to impose upon a printer, than a mechanic to turn over his half finished work to his employer for completion.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

AN artesian well has been sunk on the grounds of the Atlantic Hotel, Ocean City, from which a stream of pure, clear water has been secured at a depth of seventy-four feet. It flows from the pipe a few inches above the ground at the rate of twenty-five gallons per minute.

LONDON, September 28.—A despatch from Rome to the Times says the destruction caused by the earthquake in the Abruzzi far exceeds anything indicated by the first reports. The Archbishop of Chieti appeals piteously for help. He says the disaster is only comparable to that of Casamicciola. Over one thousand houses are uninhabitable, and the remainder are more or less fissured. Four-fifths of the population are shelterless.

It seems impossible. That a remedy made of such common, simple plants as Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Dandelion, Etc., should make so many and such marvelous and wonderful cures as Hop Bitters do, but when old and young, rich and poor, Pastor and Doctor, Lawyer and Editor all testify to having been cured by them, you must believe and try them yourself, and doubt no longer. See other column.

ARTHUR MCKNIGHT, proof reader at the government printing office, while intoxicated on the 4th inst., jumped out of the top window of a three-story house into a yard on Ninth street, near the patent office. He is supposed to have sustained dangerous internal injuries.

Mr A. B. Alost is now, at the age of eighty-two, writing his poetical autobiography, and building a new study in his house at Concord, the old one being too small to contain his library. He expects to occupy his new study next winter, and complete his autobiography.

THE epidemic among horses, known as "pink eye," has struck Washington. About sixty horses of the Washington and Georgetown Railway Company are battling with the disease. Three of this company's horses have died within a week.—Other horses all over the city are reported as affected with the disease.

MRS. MARY CRAIG, known as the largest woman in the United States, died on Monday last in Danville, Ind., of dropsy of the heart. The despatch announcing her death gave her weight as 800 pounds. She was one of the curiosities that escaped from the fire of Barnum's Museum in 1855.

THE mysterious horse disease known as "pink eye," and called horse hay-fever, influenza, dropsy and blood poisoning by different veterinary surgeons, is alarmingly on the increase at St. Louis, and its spread is as fast as the epidemic. It is estimated that there are 6,000 horses laid up with the epidemic.

THURLOW WEEP, in the New York Evening Post, proposes that Queen Victoria and the British flag be saluted with extraordinary honors at the conclusion of the coming celebration at Yorktown in acknowledgment of the sympathy and solidities shown in England during the late President's illness.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., October 5.—A train of fifteen oil tanks belonging to the Union Tank Company, containing 350,000 gallons of crude oil, took fire this morning on the Erie Railroad three miles west of this village and near the bridge crossing the Delaware river. There were fifty cars in the train originally, but when the fire commenced the oil tanks were cut loose a few rods from the bridge and an engine in the rear drew the other cars across the bridge and out of danger. As the cars exploded one by one the volumes of flames shot up hundreds of feet into the air, and fragments of the tanks were thrown fully one thousand yards.

THE Rev. Stuart Robinson, D. D., died at Louisville, Kentucky, 5th inst., age 63. He was born in Ireland, but graduated at Amherst College, and studied theology at Princeton, N. J. He was ordained a minister of the Presbyterian Church, and between 1852 and 1856 was settled in Baltimore, and during the same period edited the Presbyterian Critic. In 1858 he became pastor of the Second Broadway Presbyterian Church, and president of the Polytechnic Public Library of Kentucky. He was the author of many pamphlets, on various issues between Northern and Southern Presbyterians. The True Presbyterian, edited by him, was suppressed during the war.

Wanted for Clergymen. "I believe it to be all wrong and even wicked for clergymen or other public men to be led into giving testimonials to quack doctors or vile stuffs called medicines, but when a really meritorious article is made up of common valuable remedies known to all, and that all physicians use and trust in daily, we should freely commend it. I therefore cheerfully and heartily commend Hop Bitters for the good they have done me and my friends, firmly believing they have no equal for family use. I will not be without them." Rev. —, Washington, D. C.

THE DEATH OF FLETCHER U HARPER.—Fletcher Ulling Harper, a grandson of Fletcher Harper, of the original four brothers of the firm of Harper & Brothers, died in New York Tuesday. His father is Joseph W. Harper, second, who now resides in Europe. Mr. Harper was educated at the Moravian Academy, Nazareth Hall, Nazareth, Pa., and subsequently at Frankfurt, Germany, and Fay's Institute, Newport, R. I. In 1870 he came to New York and entered the publishing house. He was put to work at a compositor's case for eighteen months, after which he took a responsible position in the counting-house. Last week, when at Richfield Springs, he suffered an attack of paralysis. He was brought to New York in an unconscious condition, and died without regaining consciousness.

A MAN came to town the other day, and there was some mud adherent to the wheels of his buggy, forthwith there arose a sort of Lilliputian curiosity, to know what it was, and whence it came? Surely that sounds dry.

Our estimable young friend, Eugene L. Rowe, Esq., was, last week, admitted to the Frederick Bar. As he is energetic and well read, we predict for him a successful career, in the profession to which he has applied himself.

WHEN flies abound, the atmosphere is said to be healthy; when that condition changes, they leave without notice.—Their late abundance here, though against personal comfort, may be regarded a sign for the general good.

The Oriole and the Fair. Those who may be exercised about the Oriole at Baltimore, and our County Fair, should remember the former ends on the 12th inst., the latter on the 14th, and they can attend important parts of both.

LIST OF LETTERS.—The following letters remain in the Post Office, Emmitsburg, Md., Oct. 3rd, 1881. Persons calling will please say advertised, otherwise they may not receive them: Devilbiss, Mrs Sarah; Riley, Mrs S H; Richards, Mrs Fanny.

A Good Recommendation. EMMITSBURG, Oct. 23, 1880. All I have to say of the Wildlife Rat Trap is: It is the best I have ever seen. The most we ever caught, was 27 rats in one trap, one night. I just put it in the cellar last night, and had three rats this morning. I would not be without one. Yours respectfully,

WILLIAM P. GARDNER, Sold in Emmitsburg, by D. Zeck, July 2-ly.

MR. PLYER HOKK cut down the large, old paper-mulberry tree in front of his house on Thursday. We presume he will replace it with a better kind of tree.

WE invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Buckeye Mfg Co., Marion, Ohio, in another column. They offer rare inducements to earn an honest living. sep24-6m.

THOMAS S. GORSUCH, Esq., of Frederick, was nominated by the Republican State Convention, which met at Cambridge on last Wednesday, as a candidate for Comptroller of Maryland.

THE Republican Judicial Convention, to nominate a candidate for the office of Chief Judge, of the sixth circuit of Maryland, met at Frederick, on the 29th ult., and nominated Hon. Francis Miller, of Montgomery county, for the position.

THE floor of the barn belonging to Mr. Joshua Eckstine, was partially destroyed by fire, one night last week, caused by a pile of lime, which had been thrown on the floor. The timely arrival of Mr. Eckstine prevented the loss of the building.—Boonsboro Times.

CONSIDERABLE sickness is reported at Easton, Md., and vicinity. For two months the physicians have been busy, day and night, and the druggists also.—There is a general opinion, that this unusual sickness is owing to the imperfect drainage of the meadows north of the town.—Sun.

Apple Blossoms. Mr. Joshua S. Motter gave us a twig of an apple tree, the other day, which had several full blown blossoms on it, they were very beautiful and fragrant.—We have since learned that various kinds of trees, all over the neighbourhood, are in blossom.

THE increase of the business of the Western Maryland Rail Road, has taxed the capacity of its motive power to the utmost extent, and the crowded condition of the shops, making it impossible to procure new locomotives, has caused the discontinuance of the Pen-mar excursions.

DURING the past summer, Cold Spring Creamery, in Carroll county, has manufactured and sold, at wholesale prices, 1200 gallons of ice cream, besides what they retailed at the factory, which is no small amount. They consumed 3 barrels of sugar in the manufacture of the ice cream.

The Lutheran Synod. The Synod of Maryland began its sessions in Washington city, on last Wednesday. It represents all the churches of that denomination, in Maryland and the District of Columbia. The Rev. Dr. Mann presided at the opening session.

HENRY HETTERLY, a you man, residing in Mechanicsville, and employed as a brakeman on the Western Maryland Railroad, was caught between the cars, one day last week, near that point, and partially crushed about the head and body, sustaining injuries, that in the opinion of his physician will prove fatal. He has a wife and two children.

A NUMBER of farmers residing in Church Hill district, Queen Anne's county, have within the past two weeks, had their sheep stolen by the wholesale. Capt. C. F. Hollingsworth lost six in one week, and Mr. Samuel Brown as many in five, and Mr. Frank Bishop, who resides in the same neighbourhood, five.—These were all stolen in one week, and were fat enough for market.—Sun.

The Shade Trees. Whatever is to be done in regard to planting them, should be done at once. We commend the whole question to the watchful attention of our ladies, and trust they will bring their efficient influence to bear in urging the matter onward. We care not whether an association is formed, or how the work is done, but we must have the trees. Avoid the man who opposes so good and needful an improvement.

Attempted Suicide. Mrs. Zenchraft, wife of John Zenchraft, residing near Westminster, attempted to take her own life, by hanging, on Tuesday morning last week, but was discovered by her husband, in time to prevent the rash act. She has been suffering from slight attacks of insanity at times, and has made similar attempts at other times.

Sad Death. Mrs. Savilla, wife of Mr. Jos. Flohr, residing north of Franklinville, died very suddenly and unexpectedly, on Wednesday last. She was feeling as well, or better than usual and was in the garden when she was attacked with a spasm, and died before medical aid reached her, having lived but a few minutes after the attack came on. The funeral on Friday was one of the largest that has visited our cemetery. The deceased was a daughter of Mr. Joseph Rowe, who resides but a short distance north of town.—Clarion.

DEAD.—The little son of Dr. L. M. Zimmerman, of Myersville, in this valley, who received a horrible cut in the head with a hatchet on the evening of the 12th inst., as previously noticed in these columns, died at 11 o'clock last Monday night, having survived his in-juries just two weeks. The remains were taken to Woodsboro' for interment.—Valley Register.

What We Know About It. [Ciro, (Ill.) Radical Republican.] "What do you know about St. Jacobs Oil?" said one of our oldest subscribers. This was a fair question, and we answer, that we are reliably informed, that a gentleman of this city, who has suffered untold agony, and spent a mint of money to get relief from Rheumatism, in desperation bought some and tried it, and declared that it is the best remedy for Rheumatism he ever heard of.

Probably Fatal Accident. A little girl named Emma Fisher, 8 years of age, residing at 182 North Fremont street, was severely and it is feared fatally injured last evening. She was playing with some companions in front of a plumbing establishment a short distance from her home, when a large upright boiler fell over on her, throwing her to the pavement and crushing the right side of her skull. She was removed to her home and attended by Dr. Gibbons. At a late hour last night she was lying in an unconscious condition and not expected to live.—Gazette.

More Bag Ties. Farmers, and everybody who needs to tie a bag, will find these just the thing. They gain time, are convenient every way, and perfectly secure, and they can't open until you choose, and they can be opened without picking and fussing with knots, whilst your gloves are on, if you choose; examine them, see for yourself, and you won't be without them. Always on hand, and for sale at this office. PAUL MOTTER.

An Editor in the Field. Our neighbour, of the Catetia Clarion, having become a candidate for the Legislature, made a sort of an apology, in the last issue of that paper, as to his position. Being in good company, we do not see any occasion for any excuses. Personally, the editor of this paper has been "in the hands of his friends," these many years; they elected that he should remain among them. "Stick to your friends," &c., and we have been content in retaining their confidence. We congratulate brother Cassell, and wish him a successful canvass.

Sudden Death. Miss Kate Slank, died very suddenly at her home in Ringold, Sunday after-noon, aged about 60 years. She had been to church in the forenoon, and on returning home complained of feeling unwell, but did not apprehend anything serious. After eating her dinner, she sat down and took up a little child, and almost instantly became prostrated, dying before aid could be rendered her. By some it was thought she had been over- come by the heat, and died from the effects of it. She has many friends who sincerely mourn her sudden taking off.—Old Fellow.

Aids to President Schley. The President of the Frederick County Agricultural Society, Dr. Fairfax Schley, has appointed the following gentlemen to act as his aids during the exhibition, which will be held near this city next week, viz: A. J. Dehshammitt and Douglas Hargate, of Frederick; Pottinger Dorsey, of New Market; Edward Hobbs, of Liberty; A. T. Snouffer, Jr., of Buckeystown; J. Columbus O'Donnell, of Petersville.

[COMMUNICATED.] "What is it?" "Who is it?" "What's the matter?"

Our usually quiet town was in a state of excitement on Friday morning last.—Cause: Several figures, or effigies in the second porch of one of our Hotels. The first impression was that one of the figures was intended for "Guiteau," but the question was asked, "who are the others?" (his companions). Another remarked that the end figures were "Cock and hats, and looked as if intended for continental soldiers." Could it be possible that any one could be found in this country, so base as to hang the "Father of our Country" and his compeers, in effigy? No. Such an idea could not be entertained for a moment, and besides, they looked as if intended to represent females. What can it mean? One remarked that the centre figure was intended to represent a "Tadpole." When the excitement had reached "fever heat" and guesses were exhausted, it was discovered that the terrible figures were "hanging-baskets," dressed up to protect them from the frost.

Frederick County Agricultural Exhibition. Dr. Fairfax Schley, the able, popular and energetic President of the Agricultural Society of Frederick County, has neither spared time, labor or expense, to make the next Exhibition commencing on Tuesday, the 11th instant, the most attractive and successful ever held in the country. In this laudable effort he was ably supported by the other officers and members of the Society and should the weather prove favorable, we have no doubt their fondest hopes will be fully realized. The lists of premiums are higher this year than at any former time—the display of stock and machinery will be finer than was ever seen at any former Fair—the trotting will be better—the comforts and conveniences on the grounds will surpass those of any previous Exhibition, and we doubt not the attendance will be the largest ever seen at a County Fair, as Baltimore, Washington, City, Carroll, Montgomery and other counties of our State, and Pennsylvania, Virginia and Delaware will be largely represented. Everybody looks for and expects to see the finest and largest Fair next week ever seen in Frederick county.—Union

Every Time. [Keokuk Constitution.] A man, or even a piece of machinery that does its work right every time, is we think, very correctly judged "valuable." And certainly none the less valuable is any article designed to relieve the ills of mankind, and which does so every time. Mess. Jones, Cook & Co., Bay State Brewery, Boston, Mass., write: We have used St. Jacobs Oil among our men and find that it helps them "every time." We therefore heartily recommend it as a pain-healing liniment.

PERSONALS. Rev. E. S. Johnston is at present at Washington, D. C., in attendance at the meeting of the Maryland Synod. Mr. J. Taylor Motter and family, are visiting at Greenastle, Pa. Rev. Wm. Siminton is at Ealtimore, attending the meeting of Presbytery. Misses Hattie and Fannie White are visiting at Graceham, Md. Miss Emma Motter, in company with Miss Annie Eichelberger, returned to her home in Williamsport, Md. Miss Mary King of Gettysburg, Pa., was visiting her sister, Mrs. Winfield Hornor.

Mr. Abe Landauer, of Frederick, was in town this week, in his usual jovial mood. William Annan, Esq., of Baltimore, a son of the late distinguished Dr. Samuel Annan, visits Dr. Andrew Annan. Misses Mahel and Edith Motter returned home from Gettysburg. Marriage of a Daughter of the Governor, Westminster, October 4.—To-day Mr. E. W. Mealy, of Hagerstown, a friend of Governor Hamilton, came to this place to investigate a report which was published to the effect that Miss Clara Hamilton, daughter of the Governor, had met a young gentleman named J. H. Stanhope at Pen-Mar, and was there married to him by a minister of this city—Rev. Dr. Murray, of the M. P. Church. Friends of the Governor had denied the marriage, and had stated that the young lady was now at school in New York. When Mr. Mealy arrived here this morning he found that about the last of last August young Stanhope appeared at the court-house and procured a license for his marriage to Miss Hamilton, directed to Dr. Murray. He (Stanhope) applied to Dr. Murray, who agreed to accompany him to Pen-Mar. There the marriage took place. The young lady is said to be about seventeen years of age, and Stanhope not over twenty. The family of the latter reside in Hagerstown.—American.

From the "Star and Sentinel." George T. Cline, a native of Frederick, who moved to Illinois in 1858 and bought 1,040 acres of land near Chicago for $3,000, sold the tract a few days ago for $60,000.

The large flouring mill of Peter Lough, on the Yellow Branches, Cumberland county, was destroyed by fire on Monday night of last week, with 1250 bushels of wheat, 500 bushels oats, 600 bushels corn, besides rye, flour, &c. The mill cost $20,000. Mr. Lough had $22,000 insurance on building and contents.—Supposed to have been fired by an incendiary. The formal inauguration of Rev. C. A. Stork, D. D., as Professor of Didactic Theology in the Theological Seminary at this place, took place in Christ church on Wednesday night. After prayer by Rev. E. S. Johnston, of Emmitsburg, Md., Rev. C. S. Alberts, of Carlisle, President of the Board of Directors, delivered the charge to the Professor elect. Dr. Stork then publicly took the obligation imposed on all the Professors by the constitution of the Seminary, and proceeded to deliver his inaugural address—an eminently scholarly production, full of bright thoughts, in which Dr. outlined his ideas wherein theology, as a science, has failed to meet the demands of the present age and the advance necessary to restore it to its rightful position as the "queen" of sciences. The exercises throughout were interesting and were attentively listened to by a large audience, embracing a number of clerical members of the Board of Directors.

Concert by Gilmore's Band from 3 to 5 o'clock P. M. at the Washington Monument, in Mount Vernon Place. ORIOLE PAGEANT AT NIGHT. The mystic pageant will start at 7 P. M. from Madison and Boundary avenues; Col. H. D. Loney, chief marshal, and aids; local tableaux, designed by James Hodges and Dr. A. J. Volck; floats of German societies, attended by 150 mounted members of the Butchers' Association, in costumes; tableaux of French, Italian and Caledonian societies; tableaux of business firms. The mystic part of the pageant will comprise 24 floats, under the direction of T. C. DeLeon. Route of Procession: Madison avenue to Eutaw street, to Fayette, to Carey, to Broadway street, to Broadway.—At Broadway Institute figurants will climb from the floats, thus ending the display. The floats will move on by Thames street, Ann street and Patterson avenue to Canton and thence back to Druid Hill Park. October 12.—Grand Banquet and Ball in honor of the French Constitutioners.

AGENTS WANTED for the Life, Public Health Service and Assassination of our Martyred PRESIDENT GARFIELD. Perfumery, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Proprietary Medicines, Tobacco and Cigars. Dr. C. D. Eichelberger, Dealer in.

A Terrible Fall and Narrow Escape. Last Friday Evening, Mr. Jno. M. Bell, proprietor of Carroll Mills, (formerly McDevitt's), had seated himself on a short bench by the door, on the south side of the mill, to rest in the cool refreshing breeze. He fell asleep, and it is supposed, the weight of his body over-balanced the bench, when forthwith, he and the bench both fell out the doorway, some 10 to 14 feet from the ground. Mrs. B. came into the mill, and not seeing him, proceeded to search for him, and found him insensible on the earth.—The next morning he sent for his physician, Dr. R. L. Annan, who found him wonderfully preserved, but very much shaken up. We understand a couple of his ribs were broken, but on Monday he was quietly moving around some little in the mill. We congratulate Mr. B., on the general coolness of his proceedings in this case.

NOTICE TO FARMERS AND OWNERS OF PRIVATE RESIDENCES.—The safest and best company in which Farmers and owners of Private Residences can insure their Property, is the Time-Tried and Fire-Tested Agricultural Insurance Company. It insures nothing but Private Residences and Farm Property. In the last 27 years it has not had a loss of over $5,000, on one Fire, and it cannot be affected by sweeping conflagrations, as its risks are all detached. It insures against damage by Lightning, whether fire ensues or not, and insures Live Stock against being killed by Lightning anywhere on the farm. The Agricultural Insurance Co., is a stock company, and the strongest and largest company, doing an exclusive Dwelling Business in the United States, if not in the world, and is now issuing 50000 Policies a year. For further particulars, apply to W. G. HOKNER, Agent, Emmitsburg, Md.

[COMMUNICATED.] HAGERSTOWN, Oct. 6, 1881. DEAR CHURCH.—The sudden break in the heated term, by the coolness of last Wednesday morning, not only encouraged my absence from home, but proved a most beneficial change in favour of the Agricultural and Mechanical Exhibition, now under full run at this place. Reaching the Fair Grounds about 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, the first noticeable feature, was the cloud of dust which hung over the whole enclosure of 29 acres. The buildings are located on the summit of a ridge; there are fine roadways, but the soil being clay, is soon reduced to powder, and the brisk gale of wind of course kept this continually in motion, and it was almost amusing to observe how soon it reduced all persons to a common level, or earthen color, so that broadcloth and home spun were unrecognizable. Entering the grounds we came first to the Ladies' Rooms, then the Exhibition Hall, and the Vegetable and Poultry Department, the Restaurant, and the Machinery Hall.—About the middle of the ridge is the Grand Stand, which overlooks the course for the trials of speed, as they are called, of the horses. There were several of them during the day, but not being skilled in that department of entertainment, I am unable to say more than that the coolness of the air seemed to favour the horses, which were thus used to divert the waiting crowds. An Artillery Company from Martinsburg, Va., added to the merriment of the occasion, by firing several salutes from the guns, of which there were eight on the field. There was a fine display of goods, machinery, farm products in every variety, as also vegetables. I noticed a pumpkin the circumference of which was 6 feet and weight 105 pounds. The poultry, and all down to the dogs, was highly creditable, and altogether equal to that of other occasions on which I have been here. The attendance is of course very large. The people of this county take pride in their yearly display of home products, and the promises are that the income will largely exceed that of former years. This morning came in with a heavy frost and some ice. The fair grounds are alive with people already at 10 o'clock. The outgoing mail will not admit my giving an outline of the day's work. S. M.
