

HOW POPULAR INTEREST PROCEEDS.

It is interesting to note the singular fact of the periodical prevalence of certain crimes, which like diseases, seem to run a certain course and then die out, to make room for others. It is ever so with the follies of the world, when one leads, others are sure to follow, exciting the public attention, ministering to its restless demands, or gratifying the ill concealed desire to lay hold of the horrible, the scandalous, or the homotous in daily life, as the case may be.

After weeks of prolonged attention to the late assassination trial, with all its disgusting interruptions and unseemly scenes, the civilized world hailed its close with ill-repressed satisfaction and applauded the finding of the jury.

The press has been to blame for overtaking public attention with the conduct and sayings of the convicted criminal, one subject of wonderment or of disgust has followed another, and crime has taken a new start, it is time that public attention should be restored to matters of momentous interest, bearing on the public welfare.

Let the minds of the people now turn to the civil reform questions, which have been agitated for years; let them insist upon proper enactments for future guidance, let them compel attention to their demands, and try to bring back governmental usages, to the purity of the earlier days of the Republic. And there too is the Mormon problem, every city and town and neighborhood, should move forward in the demand, that this festering sore, this vile blot on our national honour should be removed; not mitigated, not smoothed over, but be throttled and once for all destroyed beyond return. The vile thing admits of no palliation; like a cancer it will eat further and further into the vitals of the body politic; carrying deeper and deeper degradation in its course. The sooner it is met, the easier it will be cured, and now is the time for action.

THE WINTER'S BEAUTY.

The beauty of the snow has been the theme of poetic inspiration, and the idea has involved so much force within it, as to have produced a great deal of slang in allusion to it. Persons whose all of life is enclosed within the narrow streets of the towns, and who look upon the snow as simply producing impediments to walking, in the slush and dampness which follow, and other in conveniences out of the usual course of daily experience, may be excused for the one-sided view of the case. But out in the rural districts, where the fleecy product of the Ice King's loom, lies in broad expanses over the landscapes, bends into graceful forms of beauty, the trees and shrubs and vines; the mind must be wanting in appreciation that is not delighted with the glory and the richness and the unutterable purity of the scene.

The deadlock in the New York Legislature is broken and the regular Democracy has been harmonized. With the change of a candidate for speaker, the Tammany Hall Democrats agreed to go into the regular organization without a stipulation as to results. The speaker elected is an unexceptionable man to the whole Democratic party; but the result shows that there was no occasion for disagreement, and the Tammany Hall Democrats and John Kelly have been sufficiently well disciplined. If this result has the effect of curing Kelly and his followers of a chronic habit of giving trouble in the party, we will regard the deadlock and the end as connected with coming events in a most conclusive way.—Baltimore Gazette.

The Baltimore Sun of last Monday contained the official report of Capt. Turtle through Col. Craighill, on the Chesapeake and Delaware ship canal, between the Chesapeake and Delaware bays, and in a supplement gives a fluently executed map of the several routes proposed and surveyed, and the general topography of the country through which the canal may pass. The choice of routes has been narrowed down to what are known as the Choptank and the Safras, the ice records giving the preference to the former.

A fire in Jersey City last Saturday, destroyed a large amount of very valuable property.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent]

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 8th, '82. It is clear that the enemies of Mr. Blaine have not yet succeeded in putting him at a disadvantage.—The spectacle of a retiring Secretary of State hurling open letters at the President accusing him of vacillation and blandering in the foreign policy of the Nation is sufficiently novel to attract attention. Mr. Blaine's position is not only plausible but calculated to be popular if the public mind becomes interested in the subject. It is a fact that our foreign policy has deteriorated to a farce. We have had none since the days of that harmless jelly-fish, whose notion of American dignity was confined to the proper adjustment of letters of passport, and who had no conception of the growth and power and force of the United States in the diplomacy of the world.

The advent of Mr. Blaine on the scene in the high capacity of diplomat was notice served that the spinal column of the Government was about to be stiffened, and it was stiffened with a vigor which recalled the palmy days of Jay and Webster and Buchanan. Some people suppose it is the proper policy of a powerful nation to wink at all manner of indignities to which ten cent governments propose to subject it and its representatives, and that conservatism means nothing more or less than an abject willingness to be peaceful at any cost. By publishing the text of his dispatch proposing a peace congress of American powers, and by his letter to President Arthur, Mr. Blaine has toppled down a structure of misrepresentation, the rearing of which cost its authors several weeks of laborious falsification. I am not going to champion the side of the ex-Secretary but I can see through the attacks that have been made upon his diplomatic career. The business of belittling and maligning one of the ablest and most popular statesmen of our time is at best a poor one, but it becomes what insurance man call "extra-hazardous" when it is practiced upon a man of Mr. Blaine's fighting capacity.

Some of the bills for the Yorktown celebration are beginning to turn up, and like nearly all bills for entertainments of that sort they are quite curious. One of the items regarded as remarkable is a charge of twenty-five dollars for water furnished an official party from Washington. It is said to be the first time a party of that sort has used water. Water, however, was not all that was drunk, for there are several charges for things called entertainments, under which disguise a great deal of wine was paid for. It was the boast of one who attended at the Government expense that the boat on which he traveled was literally swimming in champagne. It is, even at this late day, rather a comfort to know that somebody had some fun at Yorktown, even though the Government has to pay the bill. About the time the affair came off it wasn't safe to say Yorktown to anybody around Washington, the disappointed visitors were so mad.

The railway corporations are getting some attention just now in Congress. Firing has commenced all along the lines. The Northern Pacific is in the jaws of the Judiciary Committee, the Kansas Pacific has been bombarded with shot and shell by John Anderson of the First Kansas District with an array of facts and figures to startle Congress, and the Ways and Means Committee, that tried to choke a piece of jobbery for the Reading Railroad down the throat of the House, was defeated by the crushing vote of 109 to 45. All these facts, occurring within a few days, are convincing proof that Congress has some notion of protecting the Government interests from the land pirates who have settled on the public domain. Monopoly will experience a few paralytic shocks within the next ninety days. Bear this in mind.

It is interesting on receiving days to see the stream of callers on their rounds in our politico-fashionable society. Since the first winter of the Hayes administration the Cabinet has not taken so prominent a place in official society as it had done for many years prior to that time, nor have the Cabinet families had so many callers. The number of callers each "Cabinet lady" receives on her day has fallen off from nine hundred to four or five hundred. No hostess can more than greet her visitors as they pass in and out on those days. One of the Cabinet ladies who has done her best to visit, as well as to attend to home and other duties, mentions that she now has over five hundred unreturned calls. Speaker Keifer's wife has, I think, had more calls on each reception day she has had than any other lady now in official society here. As the Speaker lives at a hotel in the central part of the city it is always convenient, even in bad weather, for ladies to call on Wednesday to see his wife and she has taken pains to make her receptions very agreeable. She seems likely to retrieve by the make up of her social committee some of the popularity her husband apparently imperiled by the arrangement of those of the House of Representatives. DOM PEDRO.

On last Friday there was a terrible explosion in the Millerhan coal mine, near Coalfield Chesterfield county Va., and thirty-two miners were entombed by it. Various attempts have since been made to find the bodies and to ascertain the condition of the mines; up to last Monday the bodies of five of the Victims had been recovered. There has been an amount of heroism and self-sacrifice developed in the search which is beyond all praise.

THE Prize Fight, between John L. Sullivan of Boston, and Patrick Ryan of Troy, N. Y., came off at Mississippi, Miss., on last Tuesday, when Sullivan defeated Ryan, in nine rounds, lasting twenty six minutes. The brutal exhibition was witnessed by immense throngs of people, and there was no attempt at interference by the officers of the law. Between $100,000 and $200,000 are supposed to have changed hands on the result.

NOT A CANDIDATE.—Mr. Henry Watterson, who is an intimate personal and political friend of Hon. Saml. J. Tilden, states through the Louisville Courier-Journal that Mr. Tilden has no idea of being the next President of the United States; that his counsels and his purse are open to his party, but that 'his person he has reserved to his declining years, which he proposes to enjoy with his friends, his books and his pictures, of which he is fond.'

Hens often have a habit of biting and pulling their feathers and greedily eating them until their bodies are bare. This practice, it is believed, is occasioned by a want of salt, as when salted food is given they make no attempt to continue the habit. Salt porked chopped fine and fed twice a week has been adopted with success, while others put a teaspoonful of salt with two quarts of meal or shorts moistened, well mixed, and fed about twice every week. Fowls, like human beings, to be healthy must have a certain allowance of salt. So long as the American people prize sugar sweet cakes, and the New York hotels consume 1,800,000 chickens and poultry, and 5,500,000 of eggs every week, the poultry business of this country will remain a good one. Give your fowls warm, clean houses and dry, grassy runs if you would have them clear of roup and cancer. And feed them regularly with good nourishing food, if you would have them free from disease, lay more eggs, and be more profitable every day.

VALUABLE RECIPES.

FRUIT STAINS.—Freezing will take out all old fruit stains, and scalding with boiling water will remove those that have never been through the wash.

LEMON FLAP-JACKS.—One pint of milk, four eggs, juice of one lemon, flour to make a light batter, pinch of soda. Fry in hot lard. Serve with sugar and nutmeg.

SKINNY MEN.—Wells' Kidney Ren. Absolute cure for nervous debility and weakness of the generative functions. $1. at druggists. Prepaid by express $1.25, 6 for $5. E. S. Wells, Jersey City, N. J.

DUMPLINGS FOR SOUP.—Make your dumplings like cream-tartar biscuits, and roll them well in flour before dropping them into your boiling soup. Cook fifteen minutes.

DON'T GET THE CHILLS.—If you are subject to Ague you must be sure to keep your liver, bowels and kidneys in good free condition.—When so, you will be safe from all attacks. The remedy to use is Kidney-Wort. It is the best preventive of all malarial diseases that you can take. See advertisement in another column.

TO REMOVE RUSTED BOLTS.—To remove bolts that have rusted in, without breaking them, the most effective remedy that we know of is the liberal application of petroleum. It rarely fails to accomplish the work. Care must be taken that the petroleum shall reach the rusted parts, and some time must be allowed to give it a chance to penetrate beneath and soften the layer of rust before the attempt to remove the bolt is made.

CHEESE SOUFFE.—This dish must be sent to table, direct from the oven, in the pan in which it has been baked, as it falls if kept standing. Beat separately the whites and yolks of two eggs; add to the yolks one tablespoonful of sifted flour, two of grated cheese, a pinch of cayenne, one of salt, and one cup of milk; when well mixed, add the whites beaten to a froth, and stir briskly; pour into a buttered shallow pan, and bake in a quick oven until a rich brown—about fifteen minutes.

LEMON CAKE.—Three cups of sugar; one and one-half of butter; one of sweet milk; a teaspoonful of soda; four eggs; six cups of sifted flour; the grated rind of a couple of fresh lemons, and the juice of one. Stir the sugar and butter to a cream, then add the eggs beaten to a froth and half of the flour. Dissolve the soda in the milk, and strain it; add the remainder of the flour.—When the whole is thoroughly mixed, add the lemon juice and rind, and stir it for several minutes.—Then bake it in butter pans in a quick oven.

"You Don't Know their Value." "They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a half bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I am confident I should have lost both of them one night if I had not had the Hop Bitters in my house to use. I found they done them so much good I continued with them, and they are now well. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough."—B., Rochester, N. Y.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

For all Female Complaints. This preparation, as its name signifies, consists of Vegetable Properties that are harmless to the system, and which will be recognized, heretofore, in all cases, and when it is used, it is in every case a health-giver, and a cure for all the diseases of the female system, and is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country.

It will cure all the worst forms of falls of the uterus, Leucorrhoea, Irregular and painful Menstruation, Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Discharge, Prolapsus, all Displacements and the consequent weakness, and especially adapted to the change of life. It will dissolve and expel from the uterus an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors there is checked very speedily by its use. In fact, it has proved to be the greatest and best remedy that has ever been discovered. It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new firmness to the system, and restores the system to its normal condition, and relieves weakness of the stomach.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is prepared at 22 and 24 State Street, Lynn, Mass., Price 25c. Sold by all druggists. Send for pamphlet. Address: without charge, this paper, No. 100, No. 100, No. 100.

The Children's Magazine.

ST. NICHOLAS.

This illustrated magazine for young folks has now attained a circulation larger, probably, than that of any other monthly magazine of the class. It has been called "the literary companion of the child," and is the first to give to boys and girls the very best illustrations that could be had, and has earned the name of

'The Children's Art Magazine.'

The greatest living writers of Europe and America are among its contributors.

Distinguished Contributors:

Charles Dudley Warner, F. H. Longfellow, John G. Whittier, H. H. Boylston, Sara Robinson, Bart. Hart, Gail Hamilton, Thomas Hughes, Louis Burdick, Mitchell Mitchell, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Geo. Tompkins, Washington Childen, The Goodale sisters, Alfred Tennyson, John Jay Chapman, Geo. Rosset, John Ruskin, Susan Coolidge, Edward Eggleston, Prof. R. A. Proctor, Ch. Sims G. Cozzetta, Mrs. A. B. W. Whitney, Frances Hodgson Burnett, Celia Shaxter, Marion Harland, T. Higginson, Lucy Leacock, Noah Brooks, Andrew A. Aldrich, in Woodland, Mrs. Ophelia B. Aldrich, and hundreds of others.

What England Says of It.

London Daily News: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

'The Spectator': "It is the best of all children's magazines."

'The Illustrated London News': "It is a magazine for the young that can be said to equal it," etc. etc.

Brilliant Features of 'The Coming Year.'

The ninth volume, which begins with the November, 1881, number, will contain a new Serial Story, by Mrs. M. M. Deane, "The Silver Skates," etc. A second serial story, full of lively incident, "The Hoosier School-Boy," by Edward Eggleston, author of "The Hoosier School-Master," etc. A single article of universal interest, "The Children of the Future," by Richard Wagner, the eminent composer. Two other serials, one dealing with a campaign in the late war, and the other with a Home and Boy Life in the 18th Century. Plays for Home and School, "Bancroft's Practical and Amusing Story," illustrated with Practical and Diverse Papers, Articles on Sports, and the Treasure-house of Literature, will be among the features of this volume.

An immense edition will be printed of the Christmas Number, which will be ready about December 1st.

Price, $2.00 a year; 25 cents a number. Subscriptions taken and magazines sold by book-sellers and news-dealers everywhere, or the publishers.

THE Century Magazine,

(SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY)

THE COMING YEAR.

With the November number began the new series under the title of THE CENTURY MAGAZINE. It is in fact a new, enlarged and improved "Scraper." The page is somewhat longer and wider, admitting pictures of a larger size, and at the same time, a larger amount of text.

Fourteen Additional Pages.

The following is a summary of the leading features of the new series for the year: A new novel by Mrs. Barrett (author of "The Last of the Mohicans," etc.), entitled "Through One Administration," a story of Washington life. Studies of the Louisiana Cases, by Geo. W. Cable, author of "The Grandissimes," etc. A second of the "Life of Lincoln," and traditions and romance of Creole life in Louisiana.

A Novel by W. D. Howells (author of "A Chance Acquaintance," etc.), entitled "The American and Modern Sculpture." A "History of Ancient Sculpture," by Mrs. Lucy V. Mitchell, to contain the best series of engravings yet published of the masterpieces of sculpture.

Representative Men and Women of the Nineteenth Century, and of the Younger Sculptors of America, fully illustrated.

A popular and valuable series, to be illustrated with wonderful completeness and beauty. Archæology and Decorative Art in America will be treated in a way to interest the amateur and housewife; with many practical as well as beautiful illustrations from recent designs.

Representative Men and Women of the 19th Century. Biographical sketches, accompanied by portraits of George Eliot, Robert Browning, Rev. Frederick W. Robertson, by the late Ben. Stanley, Matthew Arnold, Christina Rossetti, and Caroline Newman, and of the younger generation, including the late Mrs. Henry James, Jr., and George W. Cable, by Richard Grant White. A popular and valuable series, to be illustrated with wonderful completeness and beauty.

The Editor's Department throughout will be unusually complete, and "The World's Work" will be a feature of the new series. The price of THE CENTURY MAGAZINE will remain at $2.00 per year (25 cents a number). The portrait size of THE CENTURY MAGAZINE is the same as before, and the paper is of the same quality. It is offered at $5.00 retail, or together with "The Century Magazine" for $2.00. Subscriptions are taken by the publishers, and by book-sellers and news-dealers everywhere.
