THE liability to loss from lightning at this season of the year, makes it important that farmers, should insure their horses and cattle and their crops in the barns, &c., Call on W. G. Horner, Emmitsburg. aug 4-5-m

A CITIZEN of this town, says he particularly noticed a man in the town, on Sunday morning, and from the description of the man, Carr, who escaped from the Hagerstown jail since read, feels certain, he was the man.

EMMITSBURG is a very unsafe resort for thieves and felons; with intelligent and efficient officers of the law, who know their duties and have the will and the courage to perform them, the law-breakers, have a quick journey to Barwick's barrettes.

THE Democratic State Convention met at Masonic Temple in Baltimore on Thursday and nominated Robert M. McLane, of Baltimore, for Governor, J. Frank Turner, of Talbot county, for Comptroller, and Charles B. Roberts, of Carroll county, for Attorney general.

IT is while for people to make note of that when a postage stamp is partly on the wrapper of a newspaper itself so as to fasten it in its place, the whole thing becomes a sealed package, and requires full postage. This is why many newspapers do not reach their destination. It is very convenient for the sender thus to secure the wrapper, but it makes a "sealed package." And the cost will be three cents for every half ounce or fraction thereof.

FRUIT cans by the hundred at M. E. Adelsberger's.

THE Rev. John R. Williams, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, of Hagerstown, on Sunday before last notified his congregation of his resignation, to take effect on the first of October. He commented freely upon the unchristian conduct of some of the members towards him.

CLARENCE, aged about 11 years, and eldest son of Mr. George Rider, was drawing the rubbers of the wagon, on the Gettysburg road, on Thursday, his foot slipped, and the wagon ran over it, mashing it very badly. Dr. J. W. Eichberger, Jr., is rendering surgical assistance in the case.

WE had a pleasant call from Mr. M. P. Shields, of Fairfield, Pa., on Monday. He is about to remove to Michigan, and will sell his valuable personal property, at Fairfield, on the 25th inst., and start west on the 28th. Being a patron of the EMMITSBURG CHRONICLE, he has ordered it to follow him to his new home.

WE have received a complimentary copy of the Baltimore Sun of August 10th, in miniature, with a likeness of its venerable proprietor in the middle of the sheet which is attached to a very neatly gotten up card in imitation of a frame, and is artistic in all respects, that it will be an ornament wherever it is placed.

MR. JOHN A. HORNBERG brought to this office, three potatoes of the Early Vermont variety, they weigh together 3 1/2 lbs., and are the nicest we have seen this season. We are fast reaching to a point when one potato shall satisfy a whole family at a meal, and our young friend is the man to test the possibilities of any soil he may upturn.

Every housekeeper should test sugar before using it in preserving. If you put a spoonful of pure white sugar in pure spring water, the water will remain clear; but if the sugar contains glucose or other impurities there will be sediment in the bottom of the vessel. Brown sugar made of glucose will become ropy when put in water.

List of Letters.

The following letters remain in the Post Office, Emmitsburg, Md., September 17, 1882. Persons calling will please say advertised, otherwise they may not receive them:

Mrs. Eliza Harris, Miss Mollie Loyd, Christ C. Miller, Ann Tobian.

The Last Chance.

On Monday and Tuesday, the 1st and 2d days of October, the Registers of Voters will be put on file from 8 o'clock a. m., until 7 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of registering qualified voters, and this will be the last opportunity offered previous to the November election for registration. Keep it in mind.

THE Female Seminary, Hagerstown, has been re-opened for the ensuing school year. Ninety boarding pupils have already arrived and with what are to come the roll will exceed one hundred members. This is the largest attendance in the history of the institution and is accepted as a high compliment to the principal and his corps of assistants.—Globe.

ONE day last week Dr. Harrison Wagner, the famous litigant, now in the county jail serving a term for contempt of Court, addressed a letter to Mr. John H. Handley, a Baltimore lawyer, asking the latter to pay him a visit. Mr. Handley replied and demanded a fee of $100 in advance for such services. As yet Wagner has not complied with Mr. Handley's request.—Union.

DEATH OF MISS MAGGIE GROFF.—Miss Maggie Groff, daughter of Mr. David Groff, of Middletown, died Tuesday morning after a few months' illness, of consumption, in the nineteenth year of her age. Miss Groff was one of the most popular and well-known young ladies in Middletown Valley, and her death has cast a deep shadow over the community.—Times.

DEATH OF ex-Judge Delashmunt.—FREDERICK, MD., Sept. 18.—Ex-Judge Elias Delashmunt, aged 84 years, a well-known and highly respected citizen of this county, died at his residence, near Frederick, at an early hour this morning from the effects of an overdose of laudanum taken to relieve neuralgia. He had been suffering also from severe nervous prostration for some time.—Baltimore Sun.

The Camels have Come.

Not very long ago Mr. John W. Garrett, President of the B. & O. rail-road made a present of a very fine horse to King Humbert of Italy, the latter has made a return gift of four camels and some cattle to Mr. Garrett; the camels have reached Baltimore and are to be placed in Druid Hill Park. Much interest was attached to their landing, and a transport to Baltimore as the vessel in which they crossed the ocean, grounded near New York.

A FATAL accident occurred on Saturday evening last to Frank Beecker, on the farm of Dr. Jos. L. Snively, near Shady Grove. Mr. Beecker was the contractor to put up a new barn for the doctor, which was raised the early part of last week. He used a portable engine to do his sawing, and while ripping lath, on the evening stated, on a circular saw a piece of the timber flew back and struck him a violent blow in the abdomen which caused his death at 6 o'clock on Sunday morning. His remains were taken to his home at Cashtown, Adams county for burial.—Valley Echo.

Clover Stack Burned.

On Saturday last, whilst Mr. Jacob Ahalt was hauling clover seed on the farm of Mr. Henry C. Remsburg, about two miles south of town, with a steam engine, the coal gave out and they fired the engine with wood. The sparks thus emitted set fire to a stack of clover which it is estimated would have yielded about twenty-two bushels of seed, and it was speedily consumed. The rear end of a wagon in close proximity to the stack, was also burned.—Valley Register.

Fire Near Liberty.

Late on Monday afternoon of last week a fire was discovered in the straw stack on the premises of Mr. G. W. Strasberger, near this place, and in a short time the straw, a log stable, and the post fence surrounding it, were entirely consumed. The dwelling house being very close to the stable, was in great danger, but fortunately was saved. The straw is supposed to have been unintentionally ignited by some small children who had been playing around the stack. No insurance; loss about $150.—Banner.

Death of a Former Maryland Lady.

Mrs. Sophia W. Stewart, relict of William Stewart, founder of the firm of Stewart & Bowen, Indianapolis, Ind., died in that city recently, aged 74 years. She was a native of Montgomery county, Md., and was married in Baltimore in 1835, residing for twenty years in Hagerstown, after which she removed with her husband and children to Indianapolis. The papers of that city deplore her death as a great loss to society and to the Presbyterian Church, of which she was a member.

A CLERICAL GATHERING.—A meeting of representative Clergymen of the Maryland and the Zion's Churches of the Reformed church, was held in the church of the Incarnation in this place on Thursday. The ministers present were, Revs. Hoefmeier of Middletown, Md., E. R. Eschbach, D. D. of Frederick, N. H. Skyles of Jefferson, D. N. Dittmar of Littlestown, Pa., and G. B. Resser of Emmitsburg. The object of the meeting was to consider the propriety of dividing the Emmitsburg charge and contracting its limits; it is understood that their action resulted in recommending the division, and providing for carrying the same into effect.

Commercial Printing.

It is frequently said by business men that the package sells the goods, and there is a good deal of sound sense in the observation. It is also equally true that a business firm is very often judged by its stationery. A house that sends out its bills on any scrap of paper that comes handy or writes a letter on a sheet of foolscap, is generally regarded as slovenly and lacking in "get up and get."

It pays to have neatly printed bill-heads and letter heads, envelopes, statements, cards, etc., and it is a constant advertisement of enterprise as well as of your business. The office of the EMMITSBURG CHRONICLE is the place to get all manner of bill-heads, statements, letter-heads, cards, envelopes, circulars, &c., &c., done up in the neatest style and at prices that cannot fail to please, call in.

Dangerous Counterfeits.

There is said to be in extensive circulation one of the most deceiving counterfeits ever manufactured.—The pieces which purport to be half dollars, are of the proper color, and the die from which they are struck is perfect. They also ring like the real coin, but are light in weight, being made of nickel and are worth about fifteen cents.

A dangerous counterfeit of the standard Bland dollar has made its appearance. The chief of the United States Secret Service has pronounced it a splendid piece of workmanship. It is a facsimile of the Government coin and cannot be detected by the regular tests. The weight is correct, and the plating is so well done that acid used in tests has no effect upon it.

An Unexpected Phenomenon.

Under the above caption the Caloclin Clarion of this week devotes considerable space, to a description of certain "tall slender columns of smoke or vapor that have risen perpendicularly and as straight as an arrow in the immediate locality of chimney rock" the peculiarity of the matter is the forcible upward course of the columns and their immediate disappearance at a given height. They are nearly all the while, on the look out for the sensational, in that favoured district. It would seem now as if they were about to have a volcano, and then buried Mechanicstown will fill a chapter in history which is not promised by her present glory. There is either a volcano, giving off its notes of warning, or that "Chimney Rock," is the out-let of a warmer region than the wicked care to contemplate.

Democratic Meeting.

EMMITSBURG, Sept. 15th, 1882.

The Democrats of Emmitsburg met at the Western Maryland Hotel, agreeably to notice. The meeting was called by Joseph Byers, Esq. On motion James W. Troxell, Esq. was called to the chair and Vincent Sebold, Esq. was appointed Secretary. The following gentlemen were then chosen as delegates to the County Convention to be held at Frederick on Saturday next: Jas. W. Troxell, C. T. Zacharias, Felix Walter, Felix Diffendall, Jno. F. Hopp, Wm. H. Cronse, Thos. Barry, J. F. Hickey, E. S. Taney, Dan. Lawrence, Vincent Sebold, I. M. Fisher, Hiram Taylor, W. W. Crapster and J. C. Rosensteel.

The following were chosen to serve in the Central Committee: Jas. A. Elder, Jos. Byers, C. T. Zacharias, Jas. W. Troxell, Felix Walter, W. H. Cronse and I. M. Fisher. It was resolved that the delegates shall go to the Convention unopposed, and that the proceedings of the meeting be published in the county papers.

The Central Committee will meet for organization on Saturday, the 29th inst. VINCENT SEBOLD, Sec'y.

Cause of the Explosion of Oil Lamps.

Professor Aiken's weekly report shows that during the past week one hundred samples of oil supplied by dealers in the southwestern district have been tested. Twenty-six flashed at the standard of 120 degrees, and seventy-four between 123 and 130 degrees. Professor Aiken states that the two accidents with kerosene oil recently noticed in the daily papers have been investigated. In both cases the lamps had been investigated. In both cases the lamps had been left standing not quite full of oil during the day. In both cases the oil was above the standard, and gives probability to the supposition that such accidents are generally due to the presence of an explosive mixture of air and oil vapor above the surface of the oil in a lamp that has been left standing some hours, and being only partially filled. Hence, he says, it is in the very highest degree possible that a lamp properly filled with oil of standard quality can never explode, and the prudent precaution of having lamps well filled before they are lighted needs only to be suggested.—American.

The Horse Thief Lodged!

On last Tuesday night, a mare was stolen from the stable of Mr. Augustine Arnold, in Taneytown; $20 reward was offered by him for the return of the mare. On Thursday, Mr. Granville T. Crouse, found the animal some two miles north of Mechanicstown, tied in the woods; he brought her to town, and sent her to Mr. A. B. F. Orndorff, who was in search of the stolen mare. In the evening a young man stopped at the Western Maryland Hotel; for some reason Mr. Crouse had his suspicions aroused and informed Constable Ashbaugh, who afterwards arrested the party and took him before Esquire Henry Stokes, he gave his name as John W. Rider, of White Hall, Pa., and made a full confession of the whole transaction, and as usual in such cases, stated that he had been drinking, and put up at a Hotel in Taneytown, during the night he left his room climbing down the porch posts, went to the stable and took the mare, and started off not knowing where he was going, or what he intended to do. He hitched the mare in the woods, and went to Mechanicstown, then returned to get her, but found she was gone, came here in hunt of the mare, and was found himself. After getting all the facts as far as could be gathered, the justice committed him to Frederick County jail, for the action of Carroll Co. authorities, where Constable Ashbaugh, conveyed him on Friday morning, the young man appeared to be not more than twenty-two years of age.

From The Examiner.

On Thursday night of last week, the residence of Mr. George Wm. Cramer, north of this city, was entered by burglars and three watches and chains belonging to Mr. Cramer and his wife, and his son Harry, stolen therefrom, together with money and a handsome gold ring. The thief or thieves entered the bed chamber of Mr. Cramer and carried his son's clothes in the bath room where they were found early Friday morning. This is one of the boldest robberies perpetrated in this section for some time, and is a caution for our people before retiring to lock the doors of their bed chambers.

Mr. J. A. Gilbert who has been a sufferer with consumption for many years, died at his residence on North Market street, this city, early Friday morning, in the 50th year of his age. Deceased was well known in this city, and had many friends who will regret to learn of his death. His remains were interred on Sunday afternoon at Mt. Olivet Cemetery. Rev. Dr. Eschbach and Daniels officiating.

The Adamstown charge, which was until lately, a part of the Jefferson charge of the Reformed church are erecting a neat two-story, front and back, parsonage in Adamstown, near the church. Messrs. R. Claude Dutrow, of the Adamstown congregation and Cornelius Thomas, of the Manor congregation, constitute the building committee.

PERSONALS.

The Misses Duphorne returned to their duties, as instructors in the Hagerstown Female Seminary, last week.

Prof. G. F. Mull of Lebanon returned to this place on Friday last, and they all left for their home on Friday.

Rev. Andrew T. Hays, of Worcester county has been visiting his parents near this place. He preached in the Lutheran Church on last Sunday evening and Sunday previous, to large and highly interested audiences.

Mr. Alonzo L. Barry of Cecil county visited his old home in this place.

Mr. Peter A. Kelly of the House of A. R. Blacklock & Co., Baltimore gave us a call on Tuesday, he is a very agreeable gentleman and a good business man, thoroughly acquainted with the requirements of the trade, and we are always pleased by his visits.

Dr. Geo. W. Welty of Brooklyn, N. Y., made a flying visit to this place last Friday, and returned home Saturday with his family, who spent the summer here.

Mr. Chas. D. Smith, left on Monday for his home in St. Joseph, Mo. The claims of his business always make his visits shorter than his friends desire.

Mrs. Samuel Motter returned home from Philadelphia on Tuesday highly pleased with her visit.

Misses Hattie and Fannie White went to Hagerstown on Monday, to attend the Seminary.

Mrs. Charles Wentz, of Union Bridge, visits her father Mr. Isaac Hyder.

Dr. James B. Neal and wife returned from their wedding tour on Tuesday evening, when a reception was held at her father's, Rev. Wm. Simonson's.

Dr. George T. Motter of Taneytown, and wife made a visit on Friday.

PERIODICALS.

October brings the concluding number of The Century year, and of the twenty-sixth volume of the magazine. The portrait of Longfellow which accompanies Edmund C. Stedman's admirable essay on the poet, is thought to be one of the best of The Century series of frontispieces.

Professor George P. Fisher, of Yale, reviews the positions held in religious thought and history by Martin Luther, after Four Hundred Years." With it is printed a copy of Lucas Crauch's woodcut portrait, made in 1546.

Richard Grant White's "Old New York and its House" is one of the most interesting among the illustrated articles. William H. Rideing's interesting jaunt about London, "In the footsteps of Thackeray," describes and illustrates houses and scenes described in Thackeray's novels, and also places of interest like the Charter-house, where Thackeray received his early schooling. H. H. contributes an illustrated paper on the "Outdoor Industry of California," Landells, and Hole. W. J. Stillman's "Characteristics of London," and the paper of an anonymous "Foreigner in Florence," succeed in making travel picturesque without the aid of pictures. The "Bread-winners," the anonymous novel which is attracting so much attention, and "A Woman's Reason," "Through Waterspout and Typhoon," by James G. Wait, is a story of the tropical seas, of graphic and realistic power. The poetry of the number is contributed by Roger Riordan, L. Frank Tooker, Miss Charlotte Fiske Bates, Edna Dale; and in "Bric-a-Brac," by Richard A. Jackson and others.

The American Farmer comes to us as usual with a variety of interesting and suggestive matter, and its readers can not fail to be benefitted by a careful perusal of the entire contents. Meadows, Fairs, Live-stock, Feeding, Dairy, Poultry, Flower and Kitchen gardens, &c., all are in for a full share of intelligent notice. "The progress of Agriculture in the South" is discussed, by Thomas Pollard, and the Home Department, is not forgotten. Published by Saml. Sands & Son, 128 W. Baltimore St., Baltimore.

Hints on Bee Culture.

Perhaps no industry in this country has been so much neglected, by people generally as that of Bee Culture, certainly none in which there is so great a percentage of clear profit. Bee Keeping like any other profitable employment requires more or less attention to be a success, a great majority of the people have never fully realized how much pleasure and profit can be derived from Bees, for the simple reason that they are content to plod along in the old way with nothing but an old hollow log or a rough leaky box as a home or storehouse for their Bees and indeed it does seem unreasonable that we should expect that the thrifty little creatures, fit types, as they are, of all that is industrious and diligent, to store up their delicious sweets for us while men the superior creature, furnishes to them the primitive and uncomfortable dwelling place, taking all this into consideration it is any wonder so many fail to reap any benefit from the Honey Bee. On the other hand it has been fully demonstrated that in almost every instance where Bees are looked after, furnished with comfortable hives, that they return tenfold all the time and money spent on them.

Mr. W. S. Cathen, of Pleasant Hill, S. C., commenced the season of 1880, with three swarms of Bees, he increased the number to fifteen, and made 205 lbs. of nice honey. Mr. Eckman, of Richmond, Texas, commenced the season with sixty-nine swarms and got over ten thousand lbs. of honey and 42 new swarms, he got 402 lbs. from one swarm. There are many other instances on record almost as good.

Any one who will give Bee Culture the proper attention, may be equally successful, and as before intimated a Bee Keeper must keep up with all the late practical improvements in Bee Culture. The hive being of prime importance. The necessary requisites of a good hive is that it shall be entirely accessible in all its parts, have the necessary ventilation. The breeding and honey making apartments completely separated when necessary. THE PERFECTED BEE HIVE as the name implies has all the above mentioned requirements, and in addition it is positively self-cleaning at all times and under all circumstances. It is made without hinged doors, as they destroy many Bees when the hive is being closed up. It admits of nothing but an upward current of air entering at the bottom, drives the foul air up and out of the hive, allows the operator to reach the most remote corner of the brood chamber, without removing a single frame of comb or destruction of any Bees. The Comb frames are made self-bracing and cannot swag. The connection from brood to honey chamber is so arranged that the Queen Bee does not deposit her eggs in the honey boxes.

The Perfection Hive from its peculiar construction may be suspended or hung upon an insulated post or cross bar thereby making it perfectly insect proof. In substance we claim for the PERFECTED BEE HIVE that it possesses superior advantage over all other hives combined, now on the market.

Therefore all who desire to have success in Bee Culture and that it shall be entirely satisfactory and pleasant should invest in farm right for the PERFECTED BEE HIVE.

This is to certify that Mr. J. T. Denny, has used the PERFECTED BEE HIVE successfully for the two past seasons and after seeing the Bees at work in the Hive we think it possesses all the advantages claimed for it.

A Thief Caught and Jailed.

Some ten days ago, Mr. G. T. Crouse, of the Western Maryland Hotel, discovered that a box usually kept in his chamber, containing about forty dollars in money, and some papers, was missing. His suspicion was directed toward a colored man named John Hill from Taneytown, who was about the house for several days. Mr. Crouse procured the service of Detective Rouzer, of Gettysburg, who set to work to ferret out the case. Wm. Crouse, making the proper information, Henry Stokes Esq., issued a warrant and placed it in the hands of Constable Ashbaugh, who succeeded in arresting the guilty party on Saturday night; he confessed to the taking of the money, and took the officers to the corn field where the box was concealed; when taken before the Justice, he waived a hearing and was sent to jail. The case was worked up with much skill by the officers, and his arrest was only accomplished after a general chase from Emmitsburg to Taneytown, and through corn fields and by-ways.

Circuit Court.

The September term of the circuit court was convened at 10 o'clock Monday morning with Judges Ritchie and Lynch upon the bench, Robert Barlick, sheriff, Adolphus Earhake, Jr., clerk, and John C. Motter, State's attorney. The court appointed Wm. H. Todd for man and William Glessner, bailiff of the grand jury, and Luther M. Engelbrecht bailiff to petit jury. The following gentlemen were then drawn as members of the grand jury:

Hanson T. C. Green, Joab Hull, Hanson Clary, Charles J. Lewis, Daniel Wolfe, William Toms, Sr., Justus Miller, Jonas Kregle, Henry Hyder, John W. Brengle, Wm. L. Morrison, John A. Bear, Wm. Mantz, George W. Hull, Perry G. Smith, Daniel Smith, of J. Iago Collyflower, Daniel Shroyer, Lewis E. Bollen, Wm. Hamilton Parry, J. Henry Cramer, Peter Kemp.

The following gentleman compose the petit jury:

Wm. S. Bantz, Hanson Bassard, B. D. Chambers, John Culler, Joshua J. Dill, John Diffendall, William Devillbiss, Rufus H. Davis, Eli Frost, T. F. Grossnickle, Z. L. Magruder, Wesley Marker, H. W.
