TAPE WORM.
In one of the tropical provinces of Germany there has been found a root, the extract from which has proved an absolute specific for Tape Worm.
It is pleasant to take and is not debilitating or disagreeable in its effects on the patient, but is peculiarly sickening and stupefying to the Tape Worm, which loses its hold of its victim and passes away as a natural and easy matter, entirely whole, with BEAR and while still alive. One physician has used this remedy in over 400 cases, without a single failure to cure, with whole, with BEAR and while still alive. ## A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.
FROM THE SON: "23 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 23, 1882.
"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the enclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous cure."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.
Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS.

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My suffering was great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the Sarsaparilla in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them as follows: I have tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt. Oct. 21, 1882.
Yours gratefully,
Hiram Phillips."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blisters, Sores, Bolls, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Druggists; $1, six bottles for $5.

DR. JOHN BULL'S
Smith's Tonic Syrup
FOR THE CURE OF
FEVER and ACUE
Or CHILLS and FEVER,
AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the cure of CHILLS, FEVER, and FEBRUANT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the patient, however, requires a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA is the old and reliable remedy for impurities of the blood and Scrofulous affections.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS
In order to enrich the blood, and thus impart fresh vigor to an enfeebled system, stimulate flagging digestion with the national invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which, by infusing energy into the operations of the stomach, promotes, may insure thorough digestion and assimilation, and consequent nutrition. A gain to appetite, vigor and flesh, is invariably found to follow a course of this deservedly popular tonic, which is, moreover, a reliable preventive of malarial fevers.
For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

EATING LOCUSTS.
Professor Riley, the entomologist of Washington City, recently invited a friend to assist him at breakfast, on cicada (the seventeen-year locust) he regards them as nutritious and highly palatable when fried in batter, and having a flavour peculiar to them, "being the quintessence of vegetable juices." As cats and dogs, chickens, birds, hogs, &c., consume them voraciously, it might be strange that they should not prove good human food. The Professor then stewed in milk. We should think they were milky enough in their own constituent properties, and would prefer the fry, done in good sweet butter. The Indians eat grasshoppers, eastern people subsist on them. John the Baptist has been ever known for his peculiar diet of locusts and wild honey, and their can be no reason why persons relishing them should be denied the sonorous insects.

Tastes differ and no one can make his own likes or dislikes the rule to govern others. However for the present we prefer to cling to cicadas, rather than venture on to the untried "vegetable juices" elaborated by the cicada.

PEARRE BAILED OUT OF PRISON.
J. Graham Pearre convicted in the Criminal court of Baltimore of an assault with felonious intention on Mrs. E. M. Kirkland was admitted to bail last Saturday, in the sum of $5,000 pending a decision of his case in the court of Appeals.

THE EXTRA.
Our patrons will recognize in this issue the fulfillment of the purpose we foreshadowed one week ago, to issue what we then called an Extra number, between the completion of the 52 numbers of our sixth volume, and the initial number of Volume VII. It is in fact a gift to our friends on the one hand, and an expedient to keep up the continuity of our engagements, whilst at the same time we make the needed changes in the office preparatory to what we have stated is to be a New Departure. The correct course would have been to make no issue this week, but as necessity governs in the case, we present this issue in its present form, to meet the requirements of the time, and the hope that under the circumstances it may prove satisfactory.

We trust our friends from all quarters are prepared to give us a nice send off for the New Volume, to begin on the 13th inst., in the way of remittances for subscription, with the names of many new subscribers to be added to our lists. We shall be prepared for any and all emergencies that may arise. As we offer our paper at the very low price of one dollar a year in advance, it must be evident to all, who choose to think, that we shall need earnest support in our work, that must consist in acts and not mere promises, and they will not admit of delay.

It is the combined results of forces working together, that will bring success; every body can have the satisfaction in the matter of knowing that what is helpful to our efforts, must eventually prove beneficial to our community; and thus our request is meant to be understood not as a personal favour to us, but for the public good. The enterprise of a community react on all its interests. There is none however, more all pervading, than the power of a well conducted newspaper. It is the mouth-piece for all undertakings, the medium by which trade establishes itself, intelligence moral and good fellowship are promoted, while at the same time it is the index of the character and enterprise of the people. All this of necessity involves the question of the paper's support. A man cannot work without proper and sufficient nourishment, no more can a newspaper thrive, and make its influence felt, without the liberal use of the means necessary to sustain it. This implies patronage, not only in extending its circulation, but also the extensive use of its columns for local advertising.

Send in your subscriptions, and make known your wants; and the things you have to sell. We are fully prepared to meet all demands in whatever may pertain to the printer's business. Call and see us; examine our varied stock of goods, and specimens of work, and leave us your orders.

DECORATION DAY

DECORATION DAY was very generally observed on Saturday last. In marked contrast with many preceding occasions, in which the day was a time for stirring up sectional animosity and hatred, the animus of the proceedings on Saturday was patriotic, many tributes were given to the bravery of the men who fought in vindication of what they believed to be right. Gen. McClellan emphasized this idea in his speech at Sharpsburg on Saturday last. Speaking of the opposing forces after a tribute to "the Army of Northern Virginia," he says:
"And that other army, which once made its advance from yonder heights across the Antietam, whose dead lie buried here, that Grand Army of the Potomac, so very dear to me—what more can I say of it than I have often said in the past?"
"I can but report that it was ever worthy of its fame, whether in adversity or success—and never more so than on this field; that it was ever true to itself, and that it always deserved the gratitude of the country. No page of its long history is obscured by shame; and, as one who commanded it through times of extreme trial, I can justly say that it never failed me in the hour of need. So long as life lasts I shall remember with the deepest gratitude the confidence and affection with which it honored me. I am glad, inexpressibly glad, that I have been permitted to live until the fame and exploits of these magnificent rivals have become the common property of our people; when the ability and the virtues of Robert Lee, and the achievements of the magnificent Army of Northern Virginia, as well as the heroism and renown of the proud Army of the Potomac, have already become a part of the common heritage of glory of all the people of America."
"Would that I could to day meet here in living presence that splendid soldier, Robert Lee, on this very field where, in all honor and earnestness, we strove as enemies for the cause which each deemed just, and once more take him by the hand, as in those long past days when we served together in the land of the Montezumas, and prove to all that the fact that we had fought against each other in many a stubborn fight had left no rancor in our hearts, and that we were once more reunited in devotion to our common country. I know that that noble nature bore no malice, and that he would be the first to respond to the appeal and unite with me in paying to the gallant dead of the Army of the Potomac the same tribute of reverence that I now desire to offer to those of the Army of Northern Virginia."

ABOLITION OF SLAVERY IN BRAZIL.
RIO DE JANEIRO, May 29.—The new ministry of Brazil has adopted a program for the abolition of slavery. It consists of a general registry of all slaves, with a declaration of the value of each slave registered, subject to a yearly depreciation of five per cent., making the maximum value of slaves of sixty years 200 milreis each. Slaves over sixty years of age will have no monetary value, but will be obliged to serve for a term of three years. The existing emancipation fund will be created from a tax of five per cent. on all public revenues, except exports, and indemnification will be made to slave owners in five per cent. on the value of one-half the value of each slave, and a service of five years in payment of the remainder.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR LOCUSTS
The earliest printed notice of locusts in this country is apparently to be found in a passage in the "Transactions of the Royal Society in 1666," which says: "Some few years since, in New England, there was such a swarm of a certain kind of insects that for the space of 200 miles they destroyed all the trees of the country. There appeared innumerable little holes in the ground out of which they broke forth in the form of maggots, which turned into flies with a kind of tail or sting which they stuck into the tree and thereby envenomed and killed it." Whether these "insects" were the seventeen-year locusts, which are now thought to be comparatively harmless to vegetation, is an interesting subject of speculation. —Baltimore Sun.

BURIED IN PEACE.
YESTERDAY (Monday) the body of Victor Hugo was borne to its last resting place in the Pantheon. "To the sovereign poet," said one of the orators at the Arch of Triumph, "France renders sovereign honors." And another declared the ceremony to be "not a funeral, but an apotheosis." The descriptions of the grand pageant, the tremendous outpouring of the people, the multitude of wreaths and flowers from far and near, and of the ceremonies and the orations, make it evident that the scenes of yesterday in Paris were unparalleled in history. —American.

Can Be Had if Wanted.
"Have you any malaria here?" asked a lady who was looking at a rural boarding-place for her family. "Well," said the landlady, "we haven't got none just now; folks haven't asked for it; but we'll get it for your family if you want it." Most folks get malaria without wanting it. To get rid of its noxious effects, use Brown's Iron Bitters. Mrs. S. R. MacDonald, New Haven, Conn., says, "I suffered from malaria for nearly six years. Brown's Iron Bitters cured me completely."

CLUVERIUS CONVICTED.
On the twenty-sixth day of the Cluverius trial, at Richmond, Va., the jury found a verdict of "Murder in the first degree."
The crime for which Thomas Judson Cluverius has been convicted is the murder of his second cousin, Fannie Lillian Madison, on March 13th. The evidence was wholly circumstantial.

THE City of Serinagur, India, was visited by a frightful earthquake on Sunday last. The greater part of the City was destroyed. The entire loss was not known at first accounts as many of the inhabitants still remained buried in the ruins. The city lies near the centre of the Vale of Cashmere. The damage is immense.

A GOOD PRECEDENT.
All the members of the Town Council of Plymouth, Pa., have been indicted by the Grand Jury for maintaining a nuisance and for criminal neglect of duty in failing to keep the town in a good sanitary condition. This is an excellent precedent. —N. Y. World.

It is the mouth-piece for all undertakings, the medium by which trade establishes itself, intelligence moral and good fellowship are promoted, while at the same time it is the index of the character and enterprise of the people. All this of necessity involves the question of the paper's support. A man cannot work without proper and sufficient nourishment, no more can a newspaper thrive, and make its influence felt, without the liberal use of the means necessary to sustain it. This implies patronage, not only in extending its circulation, but also the extensive use of its columns for local advertising.
