LOCAL ITEMS.

Every babe should have a bottle of Dr. Fehrbach's Teething Syrup. Druggists sell it. 25 cents.

MR. SAM'L RIDENOUR, one of Hagerstown's oldest citizens, died there on the 20th inst., in the 88th year of his age.

WANTED—5,000 logs at Iron Dale Saw Mill, to saw on shares, Wm. L. McGinnis, one mile west of Emmitsburg.

TAKE DR. FAHRNEY'S Syrup of Wild Cherry and stop your cough. Nothing equals it. All druggists sell it.

For Fire Insurance in First class companies call on W. G. Horner, Agt. office N. E. corner of the Public Square, Emmitsburg, Md.

MR. JAMES W. SMITH, of the vicinity of Woodsboro', recently purchased the farm of John Fulton, deceased, in the Glades, for $10,000.

MR. DAVID FAHRE, a well-known and highly esteemed citizen of Frederick, died there on Monday evening of last week, aged about 75 years.

Cot. Thos. J. McKim, a very respectable and influential citizen of Cumberland, died suddenly at his residence in that place on Sunday evening, aged 46 years.

The cold wave struck this place after night-fall on Thursday, with a driving wind, a light snow fall and a general freeze up again. Did St. Matthias let loose the currents?

BE NOT deceived by the outbursts of spring like weather there may occur now and then and go abroad without sufficient wraps for the sudden changes. We will yet have considerable cold spells before the winter closes.

Those persons who attended to the cleaning of their bee-hives on Monday, and staid at home all day, according to the old saying, can depend upon it, that their rewards in honey will be large; and that their bees will not wander abroad.

A young daughter of John Abrams, living in the second district, Anne Arundel county, fell recently with a pair of scissors in her hand. The scissors entered on one side of the windpipe and came out on the other, inflicting a painful wound.

MR. J. HOWARD DANNEB sends us his subscription from Atlanta, Ga., where he resides as manager of the "Georgia Department of the People's Mutual Live Stock Insurance Association of Maryland." We wish him success in his new and inviting situation.

THE only reliable catarrh remedy on the market today is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from poisonous drugs and offensive odors. It has cured thousands of acute and chronic cases where all other remedies have failed. It quickly cures cold in the head and catarrhal headache. Price fifty cents.

GOVERNOR LLOYD sent in his appointments for the state and the city of Baltimore on Wednesday. In the lists of Justices of the Peace for Frederick county, those for the 5th election district are: James Knouff, Isaac M. Fisher, Henry Stokes and Henry Eyer. Register Edward S. Tancy.

No appetite, low spirits, headache, flatulency, sleeplessness, languor, constipation—are those, or any of them, among your ailments? If so, try Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters, and tell your sick friends its effects; this is the only advertisement the medicine requires. It has spread from house to house, from village to village, all over the land, in this way.

Farm Sold.

Mr. Jeremiah Flohr has sold his farm lying immediately east of Mechanics town, containing 92 acres to Dr. M. E. Leatherman for $3,252. The doctor will not rent it but will place a farmer on it.—Clarion.

Misnomers.

The terms sun-rise and sun-set actually have no meaning as regards the revolutions of the universe; but such is the force of custom that he who would seek to change the nomenclature would be a daring man.

"Age cannot wither it nor custom state its infinite variety." Flesh is hardly heir to an ache or pain which cannot be cured by using Salvation Oil. It is painfully annoying to be disturbed in public assemblies by some one coughing when you know Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is only 25 cents.

More Snow.

We had quite a brisk snow storm on last Sunday, that whitened the landscapes, but the snow soon disappeared in the bright sunshine of Monday. The week altogether has been one of great variety in the weather, in which Thursday with its rain took the palm for disagreeableness.

Blind Tom.

A large audience was in attendance at the concert of Blind Tom on last Friday evening. His wonderful genius elicited the encomiums of all present and the performance was generally regarded as an unapproachable treat.

The following letters remain in the Post Office, Emmitsburg, Md., Feb. 22, 1886. Persons calling will please say advised, otherwise they may not receive them:

Miss Minnie Ray, L. O. Shields, Arthur Schleicher (2), Mrs. Martha Walter.

The Frederick Election.

The election on Monday for Mayor and five Aldermen for the three ensuing years, resulted in the choice of the Democratic candidate for Mayor, by a reduced majority, and three Democratic Aldermen, leaving the political complexion of the board as for the past three years.

A Good Time for It.

This is the time of the year when the County Commissioners should make an occasional excursion, into the rural districts to inspect and have sensible observation of the state of the public roads. One trip in a year, gentlemen, is in great contrast with the daily experience of hundreds of tax-payers.

MARBLE-PLAYING is now in full roll. But alas for the degeneracy of the times! The old terms of span, knuckle tick, fenn, picks, &c., are among the "lost arts, and the game more resembles the ancient "long bullets," than anything else. Instead of an organized proceeding with laws inexorable to govern it, now-a-days it is simply a matter of grab and talc.

THE public sales in a neighborhood are a fair index of the permanency and financial standing of its citizens, in this view, it may be noted that fewer sales are posted in our district at this time than in several years preceding, whilst our neighbors across the line present a situation in which it appears as if one farmer in every five were about to "pull up stakes" and go.

The Star.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of The Star, published in New York City and edited by Hon. William Dorsheimer. Being in accord with and supporting the administration of President Cleveland, it will commend itself to all persons who hold Democratic views, as well as to others who desire correct knowledge of governmental affairs.

By special arrangement, in conjunction with the EMMITTSBURG CHRONICLE, we will furnish The Weekly Star, a pure family paper, for the exceedingly low price of $1.50 a year in advance—the two papers for seventy-five cents each. Read the advertisement.

She Did Not Forget His Heroism.

J. Willbur Dorsey, of Ijamsville, this county, is reported to have recently come into possession of $60,000, the generous gift of a young lady whose life he saved last summer. Dorsey spent last season at Atlantic City, N. J., and while bathing one day he rescued a young lady from a watery grave and restored her to her distracted mother. His act of bravery was greatly appreciated by the young lady and her friends. The young lady is said to have died recently, and in her will it was found she had bequeathed Mr. Dorsey $60,000 for his heroism. Dorsey last season pitched for a base ball club in Frederick city and in Lonaconing.—American.

The Picture Craze.

Many newspapers are working the picture business for all it is worth, and it often happens in utter defiance of the taste and intelligence of the reader. When one of the delineations may represent the features of the person intended, the great majority are simply caricatures and hence a fraud and an imposition upon the public. If there were not a demand for the trash it would not appear. Like all new things it has its day and will disappear in time and the newspapers will again appear as such, and not as deceptive sheets that gull the simple. Only the other day a leading paper, presented what should have been a likeness of the mother of Washington, but instead of the promised view, there was the picture of Washington himself labelled for his mother, so likewise Hancock, McClellan, Seymour, Archbishop Gibbons and many others are represented without a single redeeming feature of resemblance. Good pictures are only printed on the finest paper.

Wind Storm.

During the heavy wind storm of last Saturday, the top was blown off of W. H. Hardman's huckster wagon, and a man by the name of Marshall who drives Rogers butcher wagon from Fairfield to this place, had his wagon upset and the meat scattered along the road for some distance. His little boy who was with him was pretty badly hurt.

A MAN of this place on Saturday last, observed a sort of commotion about his bee-hive, and thinking they were going to swarm, provided himself with an old tin-pan and a stick, to clatter them together if they started out. Fortunately the internal commotion subsided and order reigned. Had he looked on Monday he might have discovered the cause of the discord.

To temporize with your health instead of promptly using Dr. Bull's Baltimore Pills is supreme folly. Positively the best, Day's Horse Powder. See that you get no other. All druggists keep it.

The "baby's best friend" is the most appropriate title for Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. It is guaranteed to be free from opium and laudanum.

The Twenty-Second.

Washington's birth-day proved a bright and lovely day for the season and might have been balmy, but for the accumulated snow that lingers in the mountain near by and on the surrounding roads. The only thing notable for the day was the parade of the Vigilant Hose Company about 5 o'clock p. m. in their uniforms with the national colors floating in the breeze and keeping step to the music of the brass band, they made a fine display and elicited general admiration for their orderly marching and manly, soldier like bearing.

Alden's Cyclopedia of Universal Literature.

This work is the outcome of many years of planning and preparation. It will be an almost indispensable work of reference for every library, large or small, a trustworthy guide to what is most worth knowing of the literature of all ages and all nations. Occupying a dozen or more volumes, and yet issued at a price so low as to be within the reach of all, a familiarity with its contents will constitute a liberal education to a degree that can be claimed for few other works in existence. Dr. Lossing, the eminent historian and author, says of it: "I am strongly impressed with the great intrinsic value of the work as a popular educator in a high department of learning. The plan is admirable. Combining as it does a personal knowledge of an author with specimens of his or her best literary productions, gives it an inestimable power for good among the people." The work is being published in parts of 160 pages each, paper covers, at the price of 15 cents, also in very handsome cloth-bound volumes, gilt tops, 480 pages, for 40 cents. The parts can be exchanged for bound volumes, at any time. Five parts are now ready, also the first bound volume; volume two will be issued in March. The publisher's 322-page illustrated catalogue of standard books may be had for 4 cents, or condensed 16-page catalogue, free. John B. Alden, Publisher, New York.

Death of Elder John Heilman.

Mr. John Heilman founder of Heilman Dale, Lebanon county, Pa., and father of Rev. U. H. Heilman, Pastor elect of the Reformed Church at Emmitsburg, died suddenly on the 18th inst., at his residence near Lebanon, Pa., aged 72 years, 3 months and 5 days. He occupied many positions of trust in the church of his fathers, and filled them well, as a Trustee of Franklin and Marshall College at Lancaster, Pa., he was particularly efficient, and his death will leave a vacancy not easily to be filled.

From the Union.

Mrs. Harriet Doll, widow of the late Ezra Doll, residing on East Second street, was paralyzed last Saturday morning. Her entire right side is affected, and notwithstanding she is nearly 85 years of age, she is doing as well as could be expected.

Mrs. Charlotte Parsons, relict of the late Mason Parsons, died about two o'clock Wednesday morning at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Thomas L. Miller, about four miles north of this city. Mrs. Parsons was aged about 74 years, and had been ill but a short time. She was a lady much esteemed by all who knew her. She leaves three children, W. Irving Parsons, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Frederick county, Simon Parsons, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Miller, at whose house she died.

The Board of Commissioners of Charities and Corrections met Tuesday morning to make the remaining appointments. They met at the Court House, with all the members, Messrs. Honck, Best, Mullinix, Brown and Buckley, present. The appointments are as follows: Clerk, William Tyler, of Brookhill, vice H. C. Burger, of Frederick; farmer, Cornelius Barrier, of Tuscarora, vice Thomas Cochran, of Jefferson; foreman, John Merchant; butcher James Abrecht; baker, Hy. Shifer; watchman, J. Edward Doll; chaplain Rev. John J. Kanner.

DR. J. SHEPHERD MCKENZIE.

Graduate of the University of Edinburgh, Ophthalmology, and Royal Eye Infirmary has opened an office, in the Telephone Exchange Building, East Patrick street, Frederick, where he may be consulted by those suffering from disease or any difficulty of their eyes. Dr. McKenzie has made a special study of the diseases of the eye, and has an active practice of ten years in Europe and America believes he can successfully combat the diseases which are so destructive to this delicate organ. All examinations are made with the ophthalmoscope and other scientific instruments used in modern ophthalmology. A correct diagnosis is made of each person's case and an accurate statement given of the exact condition of their eyes. In functional diseases of the eyes, where glasses are indicated, the doctor cuts grinds and adjusts them for each person thus insuring perfect vision, ease and comfort to the wearer. These glasses are free from the imperfections usually found in glasses, viz: Mud specks, cracks, flaws, waves, blisters, etc. They are made from pure quartz, very white and as transparent as the purest spring water. These goods are not put on sale in the shops. They are only ground and fitted to order. Thousands of people who are suffering with their eyes from over-lacrimation, pain over the eye and through the globe, a dull heaviness of the eye itself, a morbid feeling as though there were sand imbedded in the mucous membrane of the lids, very sensible to light and air and a desire to partially close the eyes, or an impatient inflammation in the globe of lids. These and a great many more troubles may be cited which can be entirely overcome if the person so afflicted will consult an oculist who understands the physical and physiological causes, the laws of light, refraction, etc. There are very few cases of eyes or vision but can be brought to approximate nearly normal vision with properly adjusted glasses. Testimonials of the most substantial character. Cases treated since the doctor has been in town can be readily ascertained by any person who will take the trouble to inquire. Office hours from 7 to 9 a. m., 12 to 5 and 6 to 8 p. m. Aug. 15-ly.

Select Reading.

Mr. George G. Everhart, the eminent eclectician of Baltimore, will give a Select Reading in Gelwick's Hall, this place, on Saturday evening, March 6th, for the benefit of the Church of the Incarnation. Mr. Everhart, it will be remembered gave an entertainment of this kind in Annapolis, some years ago, which was very highly appreciated by all who heard him, which together with the object should secure a full house. Reserved seats will be for sale at the post office, Mr. Stokes', and at this office.

St. Matthias' Day.

Wednesday was St. Matthias' Day, as spring like, as could be. The tradition runs, "If he finds ice he'll break it, and if he finds none he'll make it." The day is thus a sort of correlative to Candlemas, determining the approach or the delay of spring. The ice being abundant, we may now expect its rapid disappearance, the coming of the song birds, the springing of the grasses, and the work of gardening will begin.

On Saturday morning last a child of Mr. Martin L. Baker, who lives in Liberty township, Adams county, Pa., a short distance from Emmitsburg, was left for a while alone, by its mother, who on her return to the house found the infant enveloped in flames; in her consternation she wrapped it quickly, in her own garments and hurried to her father-in-law's house several hundred yards distant. The child was terribly burnt, and died in the evening. It was the only child of the family and was aged about 16 months. The interment took place on Monday from the Lutheran church, Rev. E. S. Johnston officiating.

Death of Major Edward Watts.

Major Edward Watts, of Hagerstown, died in that place on Sunday last, aged 77 years. Major Watts was well known in Maryland and Pennsylvania. He was a graduate of West Point and in the same class with Gen. R. E. Lee. He was a civil engineer by profession. He came to Maryland many years ago and assisted in surveying the Chesapeake and Ohio canal, and was the inventor of the old-time locks used upon the canal. He was a brother of Judge Frederick Watts, of Carlisle, Pa. His wife, a daughter of the late Col. Hollingsworth, of Hagerstown, died several years ago.—Sun.

What to Do.

When the clothing on a gets afire, the first thing to do is to immediately lie down on the floor and crawl along until a table cover or other enveloping material may be reached for suppressing the flame. It may sometimes be done by rolling over and over. An attendant should promptly throw the person afire to the floor, and with his coat or whatever may be convenient smother the fire. Every one knows that flame ascends, hence the recumbent posture will prevent dissemination, and the inhalation of the flames which is certain death; woolen carpets, &c., are the best to suppress fire as they can't burn like cotton and such like goods. Many lives are needlessly sacrificed by reason of indecision of purpose and the want of promptness in such cases.

The Baltimore Sun of Thursday charges Senator Bowler, of our County, with inconsistency, on the marriage tax, saying "It was formerly for upholding the restrictive practice of the state, now he is for sweeping away the license entirely." It is an old saying that "a wise man will change his opinion when he finds he is wrong, but a fool never." The office of a legislator imposes upon him the obligation of investigation upon all subjects that may come before him, in a degree of earnestness beyond ordinary situations. We respectfully commend the course of the Honorable Senator, in having availed himself of his opportunities in the case before us; and believe him to be in full accord with the sentiments of his constituents of the county in moving for the largest liberty in carrying out the motto of the state, "Crescit Eo."

Reville in favor of the orthodox view of the creation as now held. Lilly, and the critical paper on the English dramatist, Middleton, by Swinburne, are both of certain and suggestive articles. Miscellaneous.

The Royal Danish Family.

Said Mr. Lassen, bookkeeper at Gall's carpenterhouse, to a Journal reporter yesterday: "You know I'm a Dane, so I read that anecdote about Prof. Andersen, our Minister to Denmark, in today's paper, with considerable interest. It dwells upon Minister Andersen's shaking hands with the Queen of Denmark as something surprising, even shocking to the punctilio of that court. Now that's all nonsense. Nothing is thought of shaking hands with the King or Queen. It's a very plain, Democratic sort of court. When I was a boy Frederick VII. was King of Denmark. He was just a plain, every-day King. The boys in the streets didn't call him 'Your Excellency' or 'Your Majesty.' It was just 'How d'ye do, King Frederick?' and he would pat us on the head or tap us on the shoulder. I have seen him come down to the dock where the boys were fishing and inquire about their catch, and when he was shown a particularly good string or an especially large fish, he would make some jocular remark that would tickle us youngsters amazingly. "The present King, Charles IX, is an accident. He was not in the line of succession at all. The Count of Schleswig-Holstein might have been King if he had not gone over to the side of the Prussians in the Schleswig-Holstein war. He did it to save his estates and in the hope of getting other property to which his family thought they had some title. So he fell by the way-side, and Christian was made King. Before he was King, Christian did not live in any great style. His income was only 10,000 crowns, and a crown is only 24 cents. Why, I have looked out of my back door many a time and seen Christian's seven daughters in the back part of his house washing and hanging out clothes. I don't think the family ever had a horse. I know the girls had a billy-goat to play with and draw them about."

"The Door Ajar." The Golden Rule gives the following incident, showing how a little boy reasoned: "Ray," I said, "set the door ajar for mamma." "Yes, ma'am," and the eager little feet rushed across the floor and opened the door wide. "Why, my dear child," I said, "don't you know what 'ajar' means? It means that you should open the door just a little bit." The boy stopped in the middle of the floor, and gave me an astonished look out of his blue eyes, as he said, "Why, mamma! don't you know the verse, 'There is a gate that stands ajar?' And do you think that Jesus would open the heaven door just a little bit? I tell you 'ajar' means very, very wide open."

A DEAL of breakage amongst glass and crockery can be prevented by the simple precaution of placing lamp chimneys, tumblers and such articles in a pot filled with cold water to which some common salt has been added. Boil the water well, and then allow it to cool slowly. When the articles are taken out and washed they will resist any sudden changes of temperature. A LADY who had been abroad was describing some of the sights of her trip to friends. "But what pleased me as much as anything," she continued, "was the wonderful clock at Strasburg." "Oh, how I should love to see it!" gushed a pretty young woman in pink. "I am so much interested in such things. And did you see the celebrated watch on the Rhine, too?"

The way to wealth is as plain as the way to market. It depends chiefly on two words, industry and frugality; that is, waste neither time nor money, but make the best use of both. With out industry and frugality, nothing will do, and with them, everything. Two races of men are dying out, the Laplanders, who number 30,000, and the Maoris of New Zealand, reduced from 100,000 to 45,000 since the days of Captain Cook, and likely to be extinct by the year 2000. The most delicate, the most sensible of all pleasures consists in promoting the pleasures of others.

Humourous.

PEOPLE who "went South for the winter" this year have found it.

As was predicted, the winter has been very open and lots of cold weather got in.—Picayune.

SINCE the prohibition movement got under headway in Georgia, the crop of colonels has fallen off one-half and it is not unusual to hear a man addressed as mister.

A Lesson for the Minister.

There is in this city a little boy, not more than four years old, who sings "Peek-a-Boo" so well that he is frequently stopped on the streets and called upon to give a concert. The other day he came into an office where there were two ministers, and the little fellow was called upon to sing, which he proceeded to do, promptly and satisfactorily. At the conclusion of the song he was promised some apples. In an hour or two he called to get them, but the party promising had failed to get them; so matters stood until next day. At 3 p. m. there was a prayer-meeting at the church, and the usual solemnity characteristic of such occasions was over all. "Suddenly there came a tapping, tapping" at the church door. It was opened and in stepped the four-year-old, with both hands in his pockets, and looking into the eyes of the preacher, said: "Ain't you never a-goin' to give me them apples?" Things were somewhat disturbed for a moment, but the boy taught all hands to pay their debts or they would hear from them, even in a prayer-meeting.—Columbia (Cal.) Sun.

"Old Punkthead." "If you can get Old Punkthead there to tell you the bed story, you're in luck," said mine host, aside. Can't you tell this young man that bed story?" he asked turning to the old 'un. "Ain't much of a story," he began, "but it got me inter trouble. Now at hum I've allers had a bed wat sooted me. It wasn't much of a bed, ter be sure, but my grand-popp' slep' inter it an' it's good enough fur me. I han't proud of I am han'sum. It is one of them high-posted beds, an' whin I gits inter it I hain't huv up ter the wall like somebody was under it boosin' or it."

"Wall, one day I hed ter go to taoun on bizness, an' ez I was goin' ter be ouat all night I takes my grip along, with my night gwond an' nightcap in it. I went ter the circus, walked around an' seen the sights, hed my fill of peanuts, and about eleven o'clock, I sabsays up to the hotel wat's kept by Mr. St. Nickylason, Broadway street. I walks up ter the desk and sez ter the feller behind the bar, sez I, 'I want a room.' "How high?" sez he. "I don't care," sez I, "ennywhar betwixt yer an' the roof." "He-laffs an' sez, 'I mean the price. Will $10 soot yer?' "I tole him that I didn't want ter buy the house, an' that I only kum ter stay one night. He said he'd compermise on $2, an' I finally gev it ter him. "Want me ter keep them valley-buls?" sez he, pintin' ter my grip. "I wasn't as green as that, and I tuk it up with me. A nigger showed me up to ther attic, an' to make a long story short, I got inside and locked myself in. Ther was a bed in one end o' ther room, but it looked too purty to muss up, an' I guess it was only thar for show. I hunted through the other room, an' thar I found a bed. It was a funny-lookin' thing, an' was med ov tin with wooden sides. I didn't like ther looks ov it, but I wasn't goin' ter be green, so I ondresses an' jumps in. Ther folks at hum hed tole me not ter blow ther gas out, but ter turn it out, an' when I gets in I looks fur ther crank. I finds it all right an' gives it a yank. What happint? I was almost drowned. Somebody up stairs, I guess, pours about a million pails of water over me, an' I yells an' yells until ther hired man cums in an' yanks me out. "Who throwed that water?" sez I; show me ther man wot throwed that water, an' I'll pulverize him, I will by grasshoppers?" "Then he called me a durned fool and it was a bath-tub. Then I hed ter go down by the kitchen stove and stay thar all night ter git dry. No more hotels fur me, an' if I'd a caught old St. Nickylas I'd a mashed him. I would, by chowder,"—N. Y.
