BEECHER'S TOMB.

The Last Resting Place of the Great American Pulpit Orator.

Many strangers from a distance, representing all nationalities, visit Mr. Beecher's grave at Greenwood Cemetery even in the cold winter days. A Sunday or two ago a large number of the great preacher's admirers were present and examined the plain but solidly-built New Hampshire granite tombstone which marks the last resting place of the great American pulpiter. A keeper is present every afternoon and several of them on Sundays to prevent people from coming down the embankment which leads to the grave, in order that the grass may not be trodden. Visitors come in carriages and on foot and many beautiful, fragrant flowers are deposited on the still green mound under which Brooklyn's loved citizen so peacefully sleeps. Some of the women shed tears as they leave the plot and many tender words are uttered, such as a gentleman remarked the other day to his wife while passing some red roses and violets on the grave: "My dear, here rests one of the intellectual giants of the nineteenth century." Another admirer—a woman—exclaims: "God be praised for Mr. Beecher's teachings." Remarks regarding his goodness to all races frequently heard by those who linger at this now sacred shrine. On the tombstone is chiseled:

HENRY WARD BEECHER.
Born June 24, 1813.
Died March 8, 1887.
"He thinketh no evil."

The last line was suggested to Mrs. Beecher by Miss Francis E. Willard, the famous reformer and temperance orator, while in the White mountains a few summers ago, as an inscription to be placed on his tombstone, and Mrs. Beecher complied with Miss Willard's request. The grave of Mr. Beecher, leaving room for Mrs. Beecher to be placed along side of her devoted companion. The plot is neatly kept, but no trees are on it, and a substantial fence, with granite side posts, surrounds it, and a zinc bench stands directly in front of the gate on the path for visitors. The grave is never without flowers, and the keeper states that no grave is more sought for than Mr. Beecher's, and that people at the entrance of the cemetery never complain that they are compelled to walk through the entire cemetery to reach it. The Beecher plot is on the quiet Dutch village of Flatbush, and the plot wherein repose the remains of the first wife and eldest son and namesake of Dr. T. De Witt Talmage is close by it, only a few rods away. Thus the two famous preachers of Brooklyn will rest near each other in Greenwood until the dawning of the resurrection morning. People naturally drift from Mr. Beecher's grave over to the Talmage plot. The ground surrounding Mr. Beecher's grave has become exceedingly valuable now, and commands an enormous price, and leading members of Plymouth Church have secured every inch of it for their last resting places. Dr. David Abel, the eminent missionary to China, lies close by to Mr. Beecher, and so do Dr. Stephen H. Tyng, ex-President John McClintock of Drew Seminary; Rev. Dr. George Washington Bethune, the American pulpiter who, died in Florence, Italy; Dr. Noah Hunt Schenck, Dr. E. H. Chapin, the celebrated Universalist divine, and Mr. Beecher's own friend, Rev. Dr. Richard S. Storrs, who has a fine plot near the Beecher grounds. Thus many of the Plymouth preacher's old ministerial friends are reposing very near him. Next spring Mr. Beecher's grave will be beautifully decorated, and the entire summer it will resemble a handsome flower garden. Many prominent men and women of the Nation have visited the great commoner's resting place since he was interred there from the general receiving vault, among them Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll, Senator William M. Everts, Dr. Talmage, Miss F. E. Willard, Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, Dr. Joseph Parker, of London; Miss Emma C. Thursty, Hon. S. V. White, Dr. Edward Beecher, and a number of others.—Brooklyn Eagle.

HATCHING MUSCALONGE.

Artificial Propagation of the Big Game Proved to Be Feasible.

The progress of modern fish culture is no more aptly shown than by an experiment in the artificial hatching of muscalonge which was successfully accomplished at Chautauque Lake last spring. Although shad and trout have been hatched in large quantities by artificial means, all experiments with muscalonge had before this been failures. The work was done under the direction of the New York State Fish Commission, with the object of artificially propagating the fish and stocking the lakes in the interior of the State with them. The experiment took place at Jamestown on the lake, and was commenced in the latter part of last April. Mr. Jonathan Mason, an assistant at the Caledonia hatchery, and a fish culturist of many years experience, was dispatched by Mr. Seth Green on April 23. He at once commenced operations on the lake, and was assisted by Mr. Eleazer Green, a resident of Jamestown, who has taken great interest in the artificial propagation of muscalonge. A seine was employed to catch the mature fish. After considerable difficulty about a dozen muscalonge ranging in weight from six to nine pounds were caught. From a six-pound female about 2,000 eggs in good condition were first obtained, then, on the following day, 60,000 eggs obtained from a sixteen-pound female and 40,000 from two other females. The spawn was placed in hatching boxes and kept in still water over night. The next day it was taken across the lake to Southlands creek, where there was a little current. The temperature of the water ranged from 50 to 55 deg. most of the time, but fell as low as 45 deg. and rose as high as 65 deg. before the experiment was finished. The formation of the fish in the eggs could be seen on the fifth day, and the fry commenced hatching on the eleventh day. On the twelfth day the eggs hatched rapidly, and by night it was estimated that 60,000 young muscalonge were hatched. A number of them were taken to the Caledonia hatchery, where they were examined with a microscope daily. They were three-eighths of an inch in length when hatched. They showed no movement of the gills or signs of breathing until they were nine days old, but the heart action and the circulation of the blood were seen to be strong and vigorous. They are helpless little creatures, and lay so quiet for hours at a time that one would think they were dead. When nine days old they showed signs of life. They were then half an inch in length, and the yolk sack, which is of good size when they are hatched, was two-thirds absorbed. At fifteen days old the yolk sack is entirely absorbed and the fish commence looking for food.

LUCKY INVENTORS.

THE INAUGURATION.

Although it poured rain all day Monday, the programme for the inaugural ceremonies was fully carried out. The oath of office was administered to President Harrison by Chief Justice Fuller at the east front of the Capitol, and he read his inaugural address under the shelter of an umbrella. President Cleveland and President-elect Harrison rode from the White House to the Capitol in an open carriage, Mr. Cleveland carrying the umbrella.

The parade was a brilliant affair notwithstanding the rain, although some of the Clubs that expected to turn out with hundreds of members had dwindled down to tens and twenties. The fire works were postponed until Wednesday night.

Mr. Ingalls administered the oath to Vice-President Morton in the Senate Chamber. An address was then delivered by Mr. Ingalls, after which he declared that the Senate stood adjourned sine die. Mr. Morton having taken the chair just vacated by Senator Ingalls, rapped to order the Senate of the fifty-first Congress, which was opened by a prayer offered by the Chaplain, Rev. J. G. Butler, D. D., after which Mr. Morton delivered an address, and then administered the oath of office to the new Senators.

Washington City was crowded beyond its capacity, many of the visitors returning to Baltimore to spend the night, while others were compelled to remain on the streets during the pouring rain.

The inaugural ball took place in the evening, and was a brilliant affair, fully 15,000 persons being present, and the richness of the costumes served to heighten the gorgeousness of the decorations of the ball room.

THE NEW CABINET.

President Harrison sent the following nominations for his Cabinet to the Senate on Tuesday, which were confirmed by that body without opposition: Secretary of State—James G. Blaine, of Maine. Secretary of the Treasury—William Windom, of Minnesota. Secretary of War—Redfield Proctor, of Vermont. Secretary of the Navy—Benjamin F. Tracy, of New York. Secretary of the Interior—John W. Noble, of Missouri. Postmaster-General—John Wanamaker, of Pennsylvania. Attorney-General—W. H. H. Miller, of Indiana. Secretary of Agriculture—Jeremiah Rush, of Wisconsin.

ARBOR DAY.

Governor Jackson having appointed Wednesday, April 10th, as Arbor Day, it is to be hoped that all our citizens, old and young, will enter into the spirit of the work on the appointed day, and as schools, families and individuals do their share towards making the institution a permanent success. If every one who is able in our little community will plant a single tree, shrub or vine on the regularly appointed day, each year, our mountain village will soon become a veritable paradise.

THE NEW BRITISH MINISTER.

Sir Julian Pannecote has been appointed British Minister to the United States, and it is stated that Lord Salisbury selected him for the post on account of his knowledge of the fishery question.

At the convention of the National Republican League held in Baltimore last week, Judge John M. Thurston of Nebraska, was elected president. The next meeting will be held in Nashville.

Deafness Can't be Cured by local application, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever: nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that we can not cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Home Evidence

No other preparation has won success as home equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla. In Lowell, Mass., where it is made, it is now, as it has been for years, the leading medicine for purifying the blood, and toning and strengthening the system. This "good name at home" is "a tower of strength abroad."

People of Lowell. It would require a volume to print all Lowell people have said in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mr. Albert Estes, living at 23 East Pine Street, Lowell, for 15 years employed as boss carpenter by J. W. Bennett, president of the Erie Telephone Company, had a large running sore come on his leg, which troubled him a year, when he began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The sore soon grew less in size, and in a short time disappeared.

Praise Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. C. W. Marriott, wife of the First Assistant Fire Engineer of Lowell, says that for 10 years she was troubled with stomach disorder and sick headache, which nothing relieved. The attacks came on every fortnight, when she was obliged to take her bed, and was unable to endure any food. She took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after a time the attacks ceased entirely.

Many more might be given had we room. On the recommendation of people of Lowell, who know us, we ask you to try

The loss sustained by Mr. Simon D. Best by the burning of his barn, near Germantown Station, Montgomery county, recently, amounts to over $6,500; insurance $3,780.

Don't Get Caut. This spring with your blood full of impurities, your digestion impaired, your appetite poor, kidneys and liver torpid, and whole system liable to be prostrated by disease—but get yourself into good condition, and ready for the changing and warmer weather, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It stands unequalled for purifying the blood, giving an appetite, and for a general spring medicine.

We have received the seventh annual report of the Baltimore Eye, Ear and Throat Charity Hospital, for the year 1888. Out of a total of 2,249 patients treated during the year, 2,245 were charity patients. This institution is supported by voluntary contributions. Medical attend nee is furnished free, and when the circumstances of the patient warrant it, board and nursing will also be furnished free. The Secretary has kindly sent us some tickets which we will be pleased to distribute among the poor of this vicinity who may be suffering from any of the above diseases and need medical attendance. The hospital is open daily, except Sundays, at 2 p. m., and is located at 625 W. Franklin street, between Pearl and Pine streets.

Rows 4 for Barn Burners Withdrawn. The Colonial and Manheim Mutual Protection Insurance Company of York County believing that the evidence in the hands of the board of managers warrants the belief that there is no organized gang of fire-burners operating in the district in which they insure barns, have resolved to withdraw the reward of $500 they offered for the apprehension and conviction of the persons firing barns which they had insured. This company lost $12,000 by the burning of eight barns. Detectives are still at work and developments are expected from the incendiaries' belt of operations. The York county commissioners meet in regular session next Thursday, when it is believed they will take decisive steps.—Sun.

Always Young. Why is my wife so precious in my sight? Is it because her eyes are always bright, And grace and modesty are in her air? Neither, believe me, though she's very fair, She says, and says it with an earnest diction: "This growing old, I find, is all a fiction, Since fortune sent me 'Favorite Prescription.'" Dr. Pierce's famous remedy of that name is, indeed, a perfect specific for "female weakness," and kindred ailments. By druggists. Cleanse the liver, stomach, bowels and whole system by using Dr. Pierce's Pellets.

From the Frederick Union. The Frederick County Agricultural Society extends a cordial invitation to the farmers of this county to assemble in this city on Thursday, the 14th instant, in convention, for the purpose of organizing a Farmers' Institute. The convention will meet at ten o'clock on the morning of the day designated in City Hall. Prof. Henry E. Alvord, director of the Maryland Agricultural College, and Prof. Bishop will be present. The former will deliver an address upon commercial fertilizers, and the latter will talk of potato culture. An address upon stock breeding will also be delivered by a prominent gentleman. The farmers of the entire county, and others interested in farming, are most cordially urged to be present and bear the addresses that will be made.

deputy Sheriff Dudgeon on Monday took Henry Smith and Eugene Richardson to the Maryland penitentiary, where the former will serve a term of three years, and the latter eighteen months.

The district meeting for the Eastern district of the German Baptist church will be held in this city on Tuesday, April 25.

A Terrible Misfortune. It is a calamity of the direst kind to feel that one's physical energies are falling in the prime of life—to feel more nervous, more dissipated, weaker every day. Yet this is the unhappy lot of hundreds who surround us. A source of renewed strength which science approves, in behalf of which multitudes of the debilitated have and are every day testing, and which, in countless instances, has built up constitutions sapped by weakness and infirmity and long unbenefitted by other means, surely commends itself to all who need a tonic. Dr. J. C. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, containing the purest botanical, soothing to the nerves, purgative of digestion and a fertilizer of the blood. Dyspepsia and catarrhs of the stomach, the second a consequence of lack of stamina—these and other troubles of the alimentary tract, all forms of neuralgia, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, constipation and biliousness are annihilated by this standard family medicine.

A COMPANY has been organized at Frederick to be known as the Louis McMurry Packing Company of Frederick County, and articles of incorporation filed in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court. The capital stock is fifty thousand dollars. The new company will use the same plant and continue the business of the late Louis McMurry.

More Stealing. Mr. M. C. Dotterer's bakery in this place was entered by a thief on Saturday night, and three sacks of flour and about 150 cakes carried off. Entrance was effected by climbing up to the roof of the bake house by a ladder, and from the roof the thief got in a second story window and came down stairs, carrying off the plunder through a side window.

It is said that a great many Englishmen are visiting this country this season. I asked Jinks what they came for. He said he supposed "to marry soft-pated, millionaire women, to talk the fellows out of their money, who want to be fooled, and to lay in a supply of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup."

"The greatest cure on earth for pain, Salvation Oil; take up the strain.

RAILROAD EXTENSION. A corps of surveyors have been in Carroll county examining routes for the extension of the Harrisburg & Gettysburg Railroad to Washington. A meeting was held in Westminster on Friday night, and a committee appointed to confer with the managers, asking them to consider that place in their route to Washington.

Emmitsburg lies in a direct line between Gettysburg and Washington, and if our citizens come forward now and present the inducements offered by this route to the managers, we may yet secure this long coveted connection with the coal and iron regions of Pennsylvania.

March April May. Are the months in which to purify the blood, as the system is now most susceptible to benefit from medicine. Hence now is the time to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, a medicine peculiarly adapted for the purpose, possessing peculiar curative powers. It expels every impurity from the blood, and also gives it vitality and richness. It creates an appetite, tones the digestion, invigorates the liver, and gives new life and energy to every function of the body. The testimony of thousands, as to the great benefit derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla, should convince everybody that it is peculiarly the best blood purifier and spring medicine.

Heavy Rain P. The heaviest rainstorm for years set in on Saturday evening, about five o'clock, and continued throughout the night, all day Sunday and Sunday night, and on Monday increased into a perfect down pour. We have heard of no accidents attending the storm in this vicinity, but the creeks were swollen, and Tom's Creek flowed around the bridges, becoming impassable. Mr. Thomas C. Seltzer, who collects cream and milk for the Emmitsburg Creamery, was forced to put up his team for the night at a farm house on the road, not being able to cross Tom's Creek.

Although several washouts occurred along the railroads in Washington county, no accidents are reported. Streams overflowed their banks at all points. At Elliott City, the Patapsco river was higher than at any time since the flood of 1833. Jones's Falls in Baltimore, was swollen to rushing torrent and an extra abutment at the Charles street bridge was washed away. The streams contributing to the water supply of the City were swollen, causing them to overflow their banks and inundating the surrounding property.

Consumption Sorely Cured. To THE EDITOR.—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. A Married Woman's Contract. A decision of considerable general interest, involving the enforcement of a contract by a married woman to sell her separate real estate, has just been rendered by Judges Lynch and Vinson, of the Circuit Court for Montgomery county sitting as a court of equity. The case was that of Harvey C. Fawcett and Benjamin W. Clark vs. Cynthia Stearn and Joseph J. Stearn, her husband, and Wm. T. S. Kirk, being a demurrer to a bill filed to compel Stearn and his wife to convey a tract of land in Potomac district, Montgomery county, upon which gold quartz has been found, to Fawcett and Clark, in accordance with an option that had been given them on the property at $10,000. The question at issue on the demurrer was whether a married woman could execute a binding contract to convey her separate estate. The court decided that a married woman's statutory power to convey her separate estate (jointly with her husband) carries with it as a necessary incidental the power to contract to convey.—Sun.

Gov. Jackson has designated Wednesday, April 10, as Arbor Day. The Governor recommends that the day be devoted by people throughout the State to the planting of forest trees, and that parents and school teachers encourage children to plant or transplant at least one tree on the public highway or around their home or school house.

The centennial anniversary of the United Brethren Church was celebrated in old Otterbein Church, Baltimore, last Thursday. The bells which rang out a welcome to the first conference one hundred years ago, rang out a welcome to this meeting, and created a great deal of enthusiasm. The session closed on Saturday evening.

Col. Charles Gilpin, at one time surveyor of the port of Baltimore, was struck by the Cincinnati Express on the B. & O. Railroad in Cumberland, on Wednesday last week, and had three ribs broken and his skull fractured, from the effects of which he died the same evening. Col. Gilpin at one time resided in Frederick, where he was favorably known.

A Pretty Wedding. Mr. William H. Sellers was married to Miss E. Katie Rowe, youngest daughter of Mr. Nathaniel Rowe of this place, on Thursday evening. The wedding took place in the Ev. Lutheran Church, the ceremony being performed by the newly-elected pastor, Rev. Luther DeYoe. Precisely at 8 o'clock the wedding party entered the church, as the organ pealed forth the wedding march, which was brilliantly executed by Mrs. E. L. Rowe, the organist. Mr. C. C. Rowe, brother of the bride, and Miss Norway Myers, acted as bridesmaid and groomsmen. The ushers were Messrs. A. S. Rowe, S. L. Rowe and J. E. Hoke. The bride was dressed in white, but wore no veil, while the groom wore the conventional black. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's father, and a large number of friends offered their congratulations, in which the CHRONICLE heartily joins. Mr. and Mrs. Sellers will reside at the old homestead, in this place. Mrs. Sellers will accept our thanks for the liberal supply of cake sent to this office.

Found Guilty. Geo. Gingell for selling choice Liquors of all kinds. From the Gettysburg Chronicle.

On Friday, Justice Thomas, of Arendtsville, in default of bail, committed Charles E. Coe to jail for trial upon the charge of sending a threatening letter to Hiram Trostle, merchant, of Arendtsville.

On Sunday morning, the barn on the farm of Wm. Patterson, Jr., in Cumberland township, about three miles south of Gettysburg, and one mile east of Round-Top, fell a prey to the flames, the fire first being seen in the mow. The live stock was all saved, as well as some wheat in bags, but the loss in implements and machinery, hay, &c., is almost total. Mr. Patterson has an insurance of $500 on the barn and $400 on contents in the Mummaburg Company. The house was saved with great difficulty, but a hay shed close by escaped destruction through a favorable wind. The origin was no doubt of an incendiary character.

MAKE THE BURDEN LIGHTER.

"Let me carry your pail, my dear, Brimming over with water!" "No! I'll take hold, and you take hold."

And she would have her own sweet way, As her merry eyes grew brighter; So she took hold, and he took hold, And it made the burden lighter.

And every day the burden seemed Lighter by being divided; For he took hold, and she took hold, By the self-same spirit guided.

Till by and by they learned to love, And each trust in the other, Till she for him, one twilight dim, Left father and left mother.

When storm and sunshine mingled they Would seldom trouble borrow, And when it came they met the same With a bright hope of to-morrow.

And now they're at the eve of life, While the Western skies grow brighter For she took hold, and he took hold, And it made the burden lighter.

Literative Employment for Women.

The following extracts from an article in the American Farmer for February, are so full of pointed practical good sense that they must commend themselves to every thoughtful reader...

A boy chooses a trade or a profession as a matter of course, and if he is clever and ambitious he loses no opportunity of learning or acquiring practice in anything which may be of service to him in his after career.

Girls can do this just as well as boys. Half the villages in which girls spend their time idly and uselessly, need milliners, dressmakers, or modern supplies, and would repay munificently girls who had pluck enough or ambition enough to start a fancy store...

It is really of little importance what we do, the main point is to put one's self into one's work and exalt it by our doing of it. A great deal is said of motives which exalt and give dignity to labor...

It is the most common thing in the world for girls to think that, neglectful and careless as they may be of the manner in which they perform ordinary routine work...

In one of Dr. Burton's Yale lectures the following advice was given to young ministers: When trouble is brewing, keep still. When slander is getting on its legs, keep still.

When trouble is brewing, keep still. When slander is getting on its legs, keep still. When your feelings are hurt, keep still, till you recover from your excitement at any rate.

They should remember the greater is nothing, if it does not include the less. The top rung of the ladder is the highest because the rest are below it, and must have been climbed to reach it...

Lucy is astonished. Miss Lucy had often begged mamma to take her to church, so one Sunday she received permission to go, but with the understanding that she was to keep perfectly quiet.

The best thing that has been done for the women of the present century, is putting work upon a paying basis. Women who work, whether they are princesses or peasants, are proud of the money it brings, and are neither too high nor too low to be benefited by it; in fact it brings them an equality which is more real than any which could be expressed by a statute.

To be disassociated from active life, is to be shut out from the world and its interests, and left to the dreariest of solitudes in the midst of crowds. It is under such circumstances that men and women become a nuisance often to themselves and others.

It is indeed in the region of practical home-life, that the remunerative chances lie, and the wise girls will wisely take advantage of them. Look out for all the avenues to such business as lie directly within the scope of the average woman's ability, and choose that which suits your circumstances and inclination...

It would be easy to multiply examples of successful women in business, but they are too numerous to make it necessary; nor is this little work designed to furnish direction, example, or information in regard to business, or professional life.

A young man stepped up to the counter of one of our furnishing stores the other evening and called for a pair of socks. "Be sure that you get them large enough," said he, "for when they are too small they always wear through at the toes."

The burning of rubbish heaps, which always occurs after spring cleaning, should be done at night, and when warm weather has enticed the May bugs to venture out. Many of these will be attracted by the light and destroyed.

"Bring in the oysters I told you to open," said the head of the household, impatiently. "There they are," replied the Irish cook, proudly. "It took me a long time to clean them; but I've done it, and thrown all the nasty insides into the strait."

The seed corn nearest the tip, produces the strongest and best plants, followed by that from the butt, while that from the middle was poorest. We sometimes say "out of sight out of mind," but we do not necessarily imply that a blind man is insane.

The latest initiate in the ranks of fiction is a cowboy who claims to have caught a cholera germ with a lariat. No wonder the minutes fly so fast. They are making up time. ADAM was perhaps the first man who thought marriage a failure.

ADAM was perhaps the first man who thought marriage a failure. "I usually lie down."

When you see a runaway coming, do not try to check him by a rush from the opposite direction or the side, for you will be immediately knocked flat by the collision, but instead prepare yourself for a short run with the horse.
