A SONG OF LONG AGO.

BY JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY. A song of long ago; Sing it lightly, sing it low, Sing it softly-like the lisping of the lips we used to know-When our baby laughter spilled-From the heart forever filled-With a music sweet as robin ever thrill-

Let the fragrant summer breeze, And the leaves of locust trees, And the apple buds and blossoms, and the wings of honey bees. All palpitate with glee, Till the happy harmony Brings back each childish joy to you and me.

Let the eyes of fancy turn Where the tumbled pippins burn, Like embers in the orchard's lap of tousled grass and fern; And let the wayward wind, Still singing, plod behind The cider press-the good old-fashioned kind!

Blend in the song the moan Of the dove that grieves alone. And the wild whirr of the locust and the bumble's drowsy drone; And the low of cows that call Through the pasture bars, when all The landscape fades away, at evenfall.

Then, far away and clear, Through the dusky atmosphere, Let the walling of the kildee be the only sound you hear.

Oh, sweet and sad and low, As the memory may know, Is the glad, pathetic song of long ago.

gives a clear, soft, brilliant white light of 85 candle power! Purer and brighter than gas light, softer "The Rochester."

And with it there is no smoke, no smell, as brokes chimneys, no flickering, no aweating, no climbing up of the flame, no "tantrums" nor annoyance of any kind, and it never needs trimming. Its founts (oil reservoirs) being tough rolled seamless brass, with ceatral draft, it is absolutely unbreakable, and as safe as a tallow land.

Only five years old, and over a million and a half in use. It must be a GOOD lamp to make such a telling success. Indeed it is, for lamps may come and lamps may go, but the "Rochester" shines on forever! We make over 2.000 artistic varieties, Hanging and Table Lamps, Banquet, Study, Vase and Piano Lamps, every kind, in Bronze, Porcelain, Brass, Nickel and Black Wrought Iron.
