

Emmitsburg Chronicle.

C. M. MOTTER, Editor & Publisher.

Established by SAMUEL MOTTER in 1879.

TERMS—$1.00 a Year in Advance.

VOL. XIII.

EMMITTSBURG, MARYLAND, FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1891.

No. 2.

DIRECTORY FOR FREDERICK COUNTY.

Circuit Court.
 Chief Judge.—Hon. James McSherry.
 Associate Judges.—Hon. John T. Vinson and Hon. John A. Lynch.
 State's Attorney.—Edw. S. Eichelberger.
 Clerk of the Court.—W. Irving Parsons.
Orphan's Court.
 Judges.—Geo. W. Shank, Geo. Koogle, Benjamin G. Fitzhugh.
 Register of Wills.—Hamilton Lindsay.
 County Commissioners.—Eugene L. Derr, David Fisher, Josiah Englar, John P. Jones, Jonathan Biser.
 Sheriff.—Otho J. Gaver.
 Tax-Collector.—Isaac M. Fisher.
 Surveyor.—William H. Hilleary.
 School Commissioners.—Samuel Dutrow, Herman L. Koutzahn, David D. Thomas, E. R. Zimmerman, Jas. W. Condon.
 Examiner.—Glenn H. Worthington.

Emmitsburg District.
 Notary Public.—Paul Motter.
 Justices of the Peace.—Henry Stokes, Jas. Knoff, Jas. F. Hickey, Josiah Hobbs.
 Registrar.—E. S. Taney.
 Constables.—W. P. Nunemaker, Abraham Halberstadt.
 School Trustees.—O. A. Horner, S. N. McNair, Jos. A. Myers.
 Burgess.—William G. Blair.
 Town Commissioners.—Oscar D. Fraley, Jas. O. Hopp, J. Thos. Gelwicks, A.M. Patterson, James A. Elder, Samuel R. Grinder.
 Town Constable.—Wm. P. Nunemaker.
 Tax Collector.—John F. Hopp.

I. S. ANNAN & BRO. GENERAL STORE.

CHURCHES.

Ev. Lutheran Church.
 Pastor.—Rev. Luther DeYoe. Services every Sunday, morning and evening at 10 o'clock, a. m., and 7:30 o'clock, p. m., respectively. Wednesday evening lectures 7:30 o'clock, p. m. Sunday School at 9 o'clock, a. m.

Reformed Church of the Incarnation.
 Pastor.—Rev. U. H. Heilman. Services every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and every other Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Wednesday evening lectures at 7:30 o'clock. Sunday School, Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

Presbyterian Church.
 Pastor.—Rev. W. Simonton, D. D. Morning service at 10 o'clock. Evening services at 7:30 o'clock. Wednesday evening lectures and prayer meeting at 7 o'clock. Sabbath School at 8:45 o'clock, a. m.

St. Joseph's (Roman Catholic).
 Pastor.—Rev. H. E. White. First Mass 7 o'clock, a. m., second mass 10 o'clock, a. m., Vespers 3 o'clock, p. m.; Sunday School, at 2 o'clock, p. m.

Methodist Episcopal Church.
 Pastor.—Rev. J. F. F. Gray. Services every other Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Prayer meeting every other Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Sunday School 1:30 o'clock, p. m. Class meeting every other Sunday at 3 o'clock, p. m.

NEW CONFECTIONERY.

HAVING opened a Confectionery Store in the room recently occupied by Jos. K. Hays, with an entirely new stock of goods,

NEW STOCK OF GOODS,

I respectfully solicit a share of the public patronage. My stock is just fresh from the factory and consists of all kinds of

CANDIES, FRUITS, NUTS, TOYS, Etc.

Have the largest and most complete Stock of Confectionery

every shown in Emmitsburg and am prepared to furnish

Schools, Parties, Private families etc., at shortest notice. Have also a large stock of and sell WM. H. BIGGS & BRO'S CELEBRATED FLOUR.

CANNED GOODS

M. E. ADELSBERGER.
 Dec. 14-1889.

KNABE Grand, Square and Upright PIANO FORTES.

These instruments have been before the Public for nearly fifty years, and up on their excellence alone have attained an UNPARALLELED PRE-EMINENCE WHICH ESTABLISHES them as UNEQUALLED IN TONE, TOUCH, WORKMANSHIP & DURABILITY.

Every Piano Fully Warranted for 5 years. A large stock of all prices, constantly on hand, comprising some of our own make but slightly used. Sole agents for the celebrated SMITH AMERICAN ORGANS AND OTHER LEADING MAKES. Prices and terms to suit all purchasers.

WM. KNABE & CO.,
 22 & 24 E. Baltimore Street, Baltimore.
 July 5-1y.

DR. FAHNEY'S TEETHING SYRUP
 It is safe to give to babies a few days old, and its good effects in ordinary doses, are seen in children five and six years old.
 There is nothing in the drug market that gives more universal satisfaction than Teething Syrup. Thousands of physicians are prescribing it daily. An over dose is not dangerous—it will prevent cholera infantum if used in time—no better soothing syrup made—many testimonials give proof of these words— all dealers sell it for 25 cts. Sample bottle sent on receipt of 10 cents. Made only by DR. D. FAHNEY & SON, HAGERSTOWN, MD.

STOP. LOOK.

I have just received a large lot of PURE ALL RYE WHISKEYS for harvest and medical purposes, distilled by the well-known William Forst, at Glen Rock, York county, Pa., whose distillery was established in 1836. This Whiskey has no equal and is absolutely pure. Doctors recommend it as the best for medicinal purposes. Have high and low prices. Give me a call before buying elsewhere and be convinced.

—CALL ON—
GEO. T. EYSTER,
 —AND—
 See his splendid stock of GOLD & SILVER, Key & Stem-Winding WATCHES.

A SUDDEN SHOWER.

BY JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

Barefooted boys send up the street,
 Or skurry under sheltering sheds;
 And school-girl faces pale and sweet,
 Glean from the shawls about their heads.

Doors bang; and mother voices call—
 From alien homes; and rusty gates
 Are slammed; and high above it all
 The thunder grim reverberates.
 And then abrupt, the rain, the rain...
 The earth lies gasping; and the eyes
 Behind the streaming window-pane
 Smile at the trouble of the skies.

The highway smokes, sharp echoes ring;
 The cattle bawl and cow-bells clank;
 And into town comes galloping
 The farmer's horse, with steaming flank.

The swallow dips beneath the eaves,
 And flirts his plumes and folds his wings;
 And under the catula leaves
 The caterpillar curls and clings.
 The bumblebee is pelted down,
 The wet stem of the hollyhook;
 And sullenly in spattered brown
 The cricket leaps the garden walk.
 Within, the baby claps his hands
 And crows with rapture strange and vague;
 Without, beneath the rose-bush stands
 A dripping rooster on one leg.

MR. MOUSE.

BY MRS. M. F. BUTTS.

So trim and slim and gracefully thin,
 With gray fur leggins as tight as his skin,
 With gray fur mittens just to his mind,
 And a little gray tail hanging down behind.

So trim and slim and gracefully thin,
 With a little gray vest buttoned under his chin,
 With a gray fur coat nicely trimmed
 And lined,
 And a nice little tail hanging down behind.

There's a rap and a tap, a scuffle and din,
 A tap and a rap, but he can't get in,
 Though he raps and taps and begs on his knees
 For a crumb of cake and a morsel of cheese.

For a crumb of cake, if never so small,
 For his three wee babies behind the wall,
 In three gray suits all trimmed and lined,
 And three little tails hanging down behind.

—Our Dumb Animals.

THE DARK DAY.

A Graphic Description of an Unexplained Phenomenon.

BY T. C. HARBAUGH.

From the Philadelphia Weekly Times.

My great-grandmother was one of the few old women that could tell from actual experience the story of the wonderful Dark Day that fell on the 19th of May, 1780. She was a girl of 13 at the time and lived on a farm near Boston. For several days before the 19th the air had been full of vapors, as if the woods were burning somewhere in the neighborhood, but this did not excite much comment. Children went to school as usual, but on the 19th the darkness came on so suddenly that they could not see the lessons in the books and all looked frightened. The teacher would go to the door and stand there a long time looking at the strange state of things. My great-grandmother used to smile when she told how eagerly the scholars watched him, and how the childish faces blanched when he would return to his desk with a puzzled countenance.

They could see that he was greatly perplexed if not deeply troubled. He was a learned man for the times, and had told his scholars much about the earth they inhabited, but it was clear to them all that the singular darkness mystified him.

By and by the chickens began to seek their roosts, and all at once a little girl, who had been frightened from the first, burst out crying. Then the master dismissed the school.

It was a silent procession that took the path over the hills after school was dismissed. The children refrained from speaking and the master walked at their head, as if he were a guide, and the words of the psalm, "The voice of the Lord is heard over the waters, and the voice of the Lord is heard over the multitude of the water," were in his mind.

Everywhere birds were flying to their nests and the cattle in the fields were uttering strange cries. In some instances they leaped the pasture fences and ran pell mell towards the stables, and the sheep huddled together and filled the heavy air with bleating.

My great-grandmother used to say that the clouds that dreadful day had the strangest colors she ever saw. In some places they were red, yellow and brown and had the most fantastic shapes.

Everything that was white in the sunlight suddenly became yellow, and the very leaves on the trees changed color. When she reached home she ran into the hall to see what time it was by the great clock that stood there; but she could not see the big hands without a light, and then she found that instead of being bed-time, it was not yet noon.

It had been raining since morning, but the rain was unlike any that had ever fallen. Upon the water that was caught in tubs and barrels was a sooty scum, and it had a smell like that of burnt leaves.

You may imagine how frightened everybody was. Neighbors came together and discussed the situation, but not one was competent to offer an explanation. Some thought it meant disaster to the Americans, for you know the war of the Revolution was going on at that time, and of late King George's men had gained some victories. Then, it was the year famous for Benedict Arnold's treason, and when that deed had been done those that remembered the Dark Day were not slow to say that it portended the traitor's work.

My great-grandmother often said that it looked more like night than anything else, for no one went out without a lantern, and the lights could be seen flitting hither and thither as we see them on the streets of a dark night. The vapor that had arisen was so unwholesome that birds affected by it fell dead to the ground, or, flying blindly through the air, would bring up in the houses. The old lady used to recall the incident of a robin, which flew into her father's house and was easily captured by the children, who were glad to harbor the poor bird till the next day and then release it in the beautiful sunlight.

It was not strange that superstitious people thought that the end of the world had come. Some of the frightened ones were descendants of those that had lived in the days of New England witchcraft, and the stories they had heard in childhood led them to believe that the end of time was at hand.

As the darkness increased the people flocked to the churches and religious services were held. Those that had been enemies made up and asked each other's forgiveness. Long separated people came together, and some men paid debts that they had owed for years. The theme of the preachers that stood in the pulpit that day and discoursed to the pale congregations was the story of Sodom and Gomorrah, and some told how for hersins God had almost destroyed Nineveh. The churches were filled to overflowing, and all came away silent and cast down.

My great-grandmother and her brothers and sisters stood at the window and looked out upon the darkened earth. They could not see very far on account of the dense gloom, but they could hear the howling of the frightened cattle and the piteous bleatings of the sheep. The darkness extended far and wide.

The greater part of the male population were in the army, but some of those left at home mounted their horses and rode away to see how far the gloom went, but could not find the end of it.

It became known afterwards that the Connecticut Legislature was in session at the time, and that when the members could no longer look into each other's faces, a great fear came over some of them and one arose and said:

"Mr. Speaker, this is either the day of judgment or it is not. If it is not, there is no need of adjournment. If it is, I desire to be found doing my duty. I move that candles be brought and we proceed to business."

There is a story of a man who, believing that the end of time was at hand, ran to the creek and threw himself in. But a neighbor drew him out and advised him to wait a little longer, which he did, and the next day he was so pleased

THE KATTE-GRINDER.

One day as a knife grinder was turning his wheel on a street of Naples, a young painter came to him and said to him, "Do you manage to have enough work, and are you never in want?" "No," "Thank God!" replied he, "I have plenty of work, and a comfortable living." The poor painter's eyes were full of tears and said to him, "Ah! I wish I were as well off as you are." The grinder said to him, "Are you in want?" "Yes," I left my native country and came here to learn painting. I stayed at an inn for a long time. I have been sick for ten months and have paid out all the money which I had. The people turned me out of the inn three days ago, for I had no money," replied the poor painter; "I feel very ill and am starving, and I need some medicine and some food, but I have not a farthing." The grinder made him accompany him, and went to his garret where he lodged. They both went up five flights of stairs. The grinder made a bed for him and nursed him for more than a month until he became quite strong. Suddenly the painter got a supply of money from his own home and offered him a part of the money for his care, but he refused to touch a penny.

The grinder said, "You have put it in my power to pay off an old debt. About five years ago, I was in distress in Rome and in want of food. A generous stranger helped me until my distress had passed away. I said to him that I would give some money to him before I went away. But the generous man said, 'No; when you find a man in similar trouble, you help him, and you can pay me through him.' I have now found you in trouble. Should God send any body to you in trouble, help him as I did you and that will pay me." The painter no doubt obeyed what he said.

THE GLASS OF WINE.

King Charles XII of Sweden, when still a young man, on one occasion, took more wine than he ought, and while in this state he forgot the respect due to the queen, his mother. This occurrence grieved his mother so much that she retired to her own apartments, refusing to see any one. The next day the king inquired the reason of his mother's absence from table. The reason of the queen's withdrawal could not be concealed. At the same time the king began to reflect on what had happened the previous day. He resolved to make all possible amends for the past. He ordered his servants to bring a glass of wine and taking it in his hand, he went directly to the queen's apartments, saying, "My mother, I have only just learned the manner in which I forgot the respect due to your majesty and how wanting I was in politeness. I come to beseech your forgiveness. To prove my steadfast resolution, not to err again, I drink this glass of wine to your health, swearing that it shall be the last." So saying, he drank off the glass of wine and bowed.

He left the queen's apartments and from the same time until the day of his death he never drank wine again.

"I wish you would go to the closet and get my hat," said Mr. Juddy to Tommy Traddles, who was on a visit to the former's home.

"I would like to oblige you, sir," replied Tommy, "but I'm afraid; somebody told me that you have a skeleton in your closet."

MRS. MISTRESS (to servant who is about to throw away an old lamp)—"What is the matter with that lamp, Bridget? Does it creak?"
 Bridget—"I don't know if it smokes or drinks; but it goes out noights, mum!"

TOOTHACHE can generally be cured immediately by putting a small piece of cotton, saturated with strong ammonia, into the hollow of the affected tooth.

"Insects are not universally applicable." "Which, for instance?"
 "Well, a farmer can go to seed and a cow to grass and not be any the worse for it."

Many Persons
 Are broken down from overwork or household cares.
Brown's Iron Bitters rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

POPINJAY—"There goes a man who was brought up with a silver spoon in his mouth." Penseby—
 "I know a man who was brought up with a dozen silver spoons in his pocket."

There is a story of a man who, believing that the end of time was at hand, ran to the creek and threw himself in. But a neighbor drew him out and advised him to wait a little longer, which he did, and the next day he was so pleased ever saw. In some places they were red, yellow and brown and had the most fantastic shapes. Everything that was white in the sunlight suddenly became yellow, and the very leaves on the trees changed color. When she reached home she ran into the hall to see what time it was by the great clock that stood there; but she could not see the big hands without a light, and then she found that instead of being bed-time, it was not yet noon.

It had been raining since morning, but the rain was unlike any that had ever fallen. Upon the water that was caught in tubs and barrels was a sooty scum, and it had a smell like that of burnt leaves.

You may imagine how frightened everybody was. Neighbors came together and discussed the situation, but not one was competent to offer an explanation. Some thought it meant disaster to the Americans, for you know the war of the Revolution was going on at that time, and of late King George's men had gained some victories. Then, it was the year famous for Benedict Arnold's treason, and when that deed had been done those that remembered the Dark Day were not slow to say that it portended the traitor's work.

My great-grandmother often said that it looked more like night than anything else, for no one went out without a lantern, and the lights could be seen flitting hither and thither as we see them on the streets of a dark night. The vapor that had arisen was so unwholesome that birds affected by it fell dead to the ground, or, flying blindly through the air, would bring up in the houses. The old lady used to recall the incident of a robin, which flew into her father's house and was easily captured by the children, who were glad to harbor the poor bird till the next day and then release it in the beautiful sunlight.

THE DARK DAY.

My great-grandmother was one of the few old women that could tell from actual experience the story of the wonderful Dark Day that fell on the 19th of May, 1780. She was a girl of 13 at the time and lived on a farm near Boston. For several days before the 19th the air had been full of vapors, as if the woods were burning somewhere in the neighborhood, but this did not excite much comment. Children went to school as usual, but on the 19th the darkness came on so suddenly that they could not see the lessons in the books and all looked frightened. The teacher would go to the door and stand there a long time looking at the strange state of things. My great-grandmother used to smile when she told how eagerly the scholars watched him, and how the childish faces blanched when he would return to his desk with a puzzled countenance.

They could see that he was greatly perplexed if not deeply troubled. He was a learned man for the times, and had told his scholars much about the earth they inhabited, but it was clear to them all that the singular darkness mystified him.

By and by the chickens began to seek their roosts, and all at once a little girl, who had been frightened from the first, burst out crying. Then the master dismissed the school.

It was a silent procession that took the path over the hills after school was dismissed. The children refrained from speaking and the master walked at their head, as if he were a guide, and the words of the psalm, "The voice of the Lord is heard over the waters, and the voice of the Lord is heard over the multitude of the water," were in his mind.

Everywhere birds were flying to their nests and the cattle in the fields were uttering strange cries. In some instances they leaped the pasture fences and ran pell mell towards the stables, and the sheep huddled together and filled the heavy air with bleating.

My great-grandmother used to say that the clouds that dreadful day had the strangest colors she ever saw. In some places they were red, yellow and brown and had the most fantastic shapes.

Everything that was white in the sunlight suddenly became yellow, and the very leaves on the trees changed color. When she reached home she ran into the hall to see what time it was by the great clock that stood there; but she could not see the big hands without a light, and then she found that instead of being bed-time, it was not yet noon.

It had been raining since morning, but the rain was unlike any that had ever fallen. Upon the water that was caught in tubs and barrels was a sooty scum, and it had a smell like that of burnt leaves.

You may imagine how frightened everybody was. Neighbors came together and discussed the situation, but not one was competent to offer an explanation. Some thought it meant disaster to the Americans, for you know the war of the Revolution was going on at that time, and of late King George's men had gained some victories. Then, it was the year famous for Benedict Arnold's treason, and when that deed had been done those that remembered the Dark Day were not slow to say that it portended the traitor's work.

My great-grandmother often said that it looked more like night than anything else, for no one went out without a lantern, and the lights could be seen flitting hither and thither as we see them on the streets of a dark night. The vapor that had arisen was so unwholesome that birds affected by it fell dead to the ground, or, flying blindly through the air, would bring up in the houses. The old lady used to recall the incident of a robin, which flew into her father's house and was easily captured by the children, who were glad to harbor the poor bird till the next day and then release it in the beautiful sunlight.

As the darkness increased the people flocked to the churches and religious services were held. Those that had been enemies made up and asked each other's forgiveness. Long separated people came together, and some men paid debts that they had owed for years. The theme of the preachers that stood in the pulpit that day and discoursed to the pale congregations was the story of Sodom and Gomorrah, and some told how for hersins God had almost destroyed Nineveh. The churches were filled to overflowing, and all came away silent and cast down.

My great-grandmother and her brothers and sisters stood at the window and looked out upon the darkened earth. They could not see very far on account of the dense gloom, but they could hear the howling of the frightened cattle and the piteous bleatings of the sheep. The darkness extended far and wide.

The greater part of the male population were in the army, but some of those left at home mounted their horses and rode away to see how far the gloom went, but could not find the end of it.

It became known afterwards that the Connecticut Legislature was in session at the time, and that when the members could no longer look into each other's faces, a great fear came over some of them and one arose and said:

"Mr. Speaker, this is either the day of judgment or it is not. If it is not, there is no need of adjournment. If it is, I desire to be found doing my duty. I move that candles be brought and we proceed to business."

There is a story of a man who, believing that the end of time was at hand, ran to the creek and threw himself in. But a neighbor drew him out and advised him to wait a little longer, which he did, and the next day he was so pleased

THE DARK DAY.

My great-grandmother was one of the few old women that could tell from actual experience the story of the wonderful Dark Day that fell on the 19th of May, 1780. She was a girl of 13 at the time and lived on a farm near Boston. For several days before the 19th the air had been full of vapors, as if the woods were burning somewhere in the neighborhood, but this did not excite much comment. Children went to school as usual, but on the 19th the darkness came on so suddenly that they could not see the lessons in the books and all looked frightened. The teacher would go to the door and stand there a long time looking at the strange state of things. My great-grandmother used to smile when she told how eagerly the scholars watched him, and how the childish faces blanched when he would return to his desk with a puzzled countenance.

They could see that he was greatly perplexed if not deeply troubled. He was a learned man for the times, and had told his scholars much about the earth they inhabited, but it was clear to them all that the singular darkness mystified him.

By and by the chickens began to seek their roosts, and all at once a little girl, who had been frightened from the first, burst out crying. Then the master dismissed the school.

It was a silent procession that took the path over the hills after school was dismissed. The children refrained from speaking and the master walked at their head, as if he were a guide, and the words of the psalm, "The voice of the Lord is heard over the waters, and the voice of the Lord is heard over the multitude of the water," were in his mind.

Everywhere birds were flying to their nests and the cattle in the fields were uttering strange cries. In some instances they leaped the pasture fences and ran pell mell towards the stables, and the sheep huddled together and filled the heavy air with bleating.

My great-grandmother used to say that the clouds that dreadful day had the strangest colors she ever saw. In some places they were red, yellow and brown and had the most fantastic shapes.

Everything that was white in the sunlight suddenly became yellow, and the very leaves on the trees changed color. When she reached home she ran into the hall to see what time it was by the great clock that stood there; but she could not see the big hands without a light, and then she found that instead of being bed-time, it was not yet noon.

It had been raining since morning, but the rain was unlike any that had ever fallen. Upon the water that was caught in tubs and barrels was a sooty scum, and it had a smell like that of burnt leaves.

You may imagine how frightened everybody was. Neighbors came together and discussed the situation, but not one was competent to offer an explanation. Some thought it meant disaster to the Americans, for you know the war of the Revolution was going on at that time, and of late King George's men had gained some victories. Then, it was the year famous for Benedict Arnold's treason, and when that deed had been done those that remembered the Dark Day were not slow to say that it portended the traitor's work.

My great-grandmother often said that it looked more like night than anything else, for no one went out without a lantern, and the lights could be seen flitting hither and thither as we see them on the streets of a dark night. The vapor that had arisen was so unwholesome that birds affected by it fell dead to the ground, or, flying blindly through the air, would bring up in the houses. The old lady used to recall the incident of a robin, which flew into her father's house and was easily captured by the children, who were glad to harbor the poor bird till the next day and then release it in the beautiful sunlight.

As the darkness increased the people flocked to the churches and religious services were held. Those that had been enemies made up and asked each other's forgiveness. Long separated people came together, and some men paid debts that they had owed for years. The theme of the preachers that stood in the pulpit that day and discoursed to the pale congregations was the story of Sodom and Gomorrah, and some told how for hersins God had almost destroyed Nineveh. The churches were filled to overflowing, and all came away silent and cast down.

My great-grandmother and her brothers and sisters stood at the window and looked out upon the darkened earth. They could not see very far on account of the dense gloom, but they could hear the howling of the frightened cattle and the piteous bleatings of the sheep. The darkness extended far and wide.

The greater part of the male population were in the army, but some of those left at home mounted their horses and rode away to see how far the gloom went, but could not find the end of it.

It became known afterwards that the Connecticut Legislature was in session at the time, and that when the members could no longer look into each other's faces, a great fear came over some of them and one arose and said:

"Mr. Speaker, this is either the day of judgment or it is not. If it is not, there is no need of adjournment. If it is, I desire to be found doing my duty. I move that candles be brought and we proceed to business."

There is a story of a man who, believing that the end of time was at hand, ran to the creek and threw himself in. But a neighbor drew him out and advised him to wait a little longer, which he did, and the next day he was so pleased

THE DARK DAY.

My great-grandmother was one of the few old women that could tell from actual experience the story of the wonderful Dark Day that fell on the 19th of May, 1780. She was a girl of 13 at the time and lived on a farm near Boston. For several days before the 19th the air had been full of vapors, as if the woods were burning somewhere in the neighborhood, but this did not excite much comment. Children went to school as usual, but on the 19th the darkness came on so suddenly that they could not see the lessons in the books and all looked frightened. The teacher would go to the door and stand there a long time looking at the strange state of things. My great-grandmother used to smile when she told how eagerly the scholars watched him, and how the childish faces blanched when he would return to his desk with a puzzled countenance.

They could see that he was greatly perplexed if not deeply troubled. He was a learned man for the times, and had told his scholars much about the earth they inhabited, but it was clear to them all that the singular darkness mystified him.

By and by the chickens began to seek their roosts, and all at once a little girl, who had been frightened from the first, burst out crying. Then the master dismissed the school.

It was a silent procession that took the path over the hills after school was dismissed. The children refrained from speaking and the master walked at their head, as if he were a guide, and the words of the psalm, "The voice of the Lord is heard over the waters, and the voice of the Lord is heard over the multitude of the water," were in his mind.

Everywhere birds were flying to their nests and the cattle in the fields were uttering strange cries. In some instances they leaped the pasture fences and ran pell mell towards the stables, and the sheep huddled together and filled the heavy air with bleating.

My great-grandmother used to say that the clouds that dreadful day had the strangest colors she ever saw. In some places they were red, yellow and brown and had the most fantastic shapes.

Everything that was white in the sunlight suddenly became yellow, and the very leaves on the trees changed color. When she reached home she ran into the hall to see what time it was by the great clock that stood there; but she could not see the big hands without a light, and then she found that instead of being bed-time, it was not yet noon.

It had been raining since morning, but the rain was unlike any that had ever fallen. Upon the water that was caught in tubs and barrels was a sooty scum, and it had a smell like that of burnt leaves.

You may imagine how frightened everybody was. Neighbors came together and discussed the situation, but not one was competent to offer an explanation. Some thought it meant disaster to the Americans, for you know the war of the Revolution was going on at that time, and of late King George's men had gained some victories. Then, it was the year famous for Benedict Arnold's treason, and when that deed had been done those that remembered the Dark Day were not slow to say that it portended the traitor's work.

My great-grandmother often said that it looked more like night than anything else, for no one went out without a lantern, and the lights could be seen flitting hither and thither as we see them on the streets of a dark night. The vapor that had arisen was so unwholesome that birds affected by it fell dead to the ground

THE APPROACHING MILLENIUM.

If, as Lieut. Totten asserts, and proves, by a very ingenious interpretation of the "Book of Esdras," we have reached the last decade of the present order of earthly things...

We fancy however that the Yale Professor, with all his knowledge of ancient writings and his skill in following their interpretations and calculating their enigmatical numbers...

Not simply because he bases his calculations upon an apocryphal prophecy, nor because it is hard to accept the theory, that in the days of Esdras the world was already getting old, and its glory departing...

Whether Professor Totten believes that the final end of all things earthly is to be preceded by the millennium, and that the present indications tend toward such a realization...

The learned professor is undoubtedly in earnest and has fitted his chronological dates together with an accuracy that cannot well be refuted as the data from which all conclusions on such a subject must be drawn...

We can but think however, that if the end is as near as represented, there will be no time for the gradual decay which the dismal words, "The world hath lost its youth and the times are growing old" would seem to presage...

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure.

A LETTER from Acapulco, Mexico, to the San Francisco Examiner quotes Silva Palma, captain of the Chilean cruiser Esmeralda...

A PATRIOT has discovered that the sun never sets in the domain of the United States. When it is 6 P. M. at Attou Island, Alaska, it is 9:30 A. M. of the next day on the eastern coast of Maine.

END OF LONDON'S ARISTOCRATIC SCANDAL.

The sensational trial which has been the centre of interest in London for some time was ended on Tuesday by a verdict in favor of the wealthy defendants...

Whether the complainant in the case was really guilty of cheating whilst gambling, as was asserted, or not, the facts brought out on the trial, are anything but complimentary to the morals and manners of English society...

R. L. GARNER a learned crank, has turned his attention to the investigation of the Monkey language and is devoting considerable time to the task of learning monkey sounds and interpreting them.

LAST Saturday was Confederate Memorial Day, and the ceremonies of decorating the graves of the deceased soldiers by the surviving comrades was conducted in an impressive manner.

AFTER all the stir and pursuit by the Cruiser Charleston, the Chilean Insurgent transport Itata steamed quietly into a Chilean harbor and was surrendered voluntarily to the U. S. fleet.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

TRUCKERS around Norfolk predict a short Irish potato crop. OYER $4,000,000 has been lost by fire in New York city since January 1st.

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD, Canada's distinguished premier, died on Saturday, in his 86th year.

Mrs. PRISCILLA RANDOLPH, of Somerset County, N. J., was badly hurt on Monday by the explosion of a piece of candy she had bitten.

RICHARD S. BASTINE a prominent lawyer of New Jersey died in great torture on Saturday last of hydrophobia, the result of a cut bite some months ago.

THE towns of Badia, Calavena and Tregnano, in Northern Italy, were destroyed Sunday by an earthquake. The inhabitants were compelled to take to the fields for safety.

CURRENT bushes in the vicinity of Bloomington, Ill., are infested by a deadly parasite which almost completely covers the green fruit. A child died recently from eating the parasite-infested green currants.

A WATER SPOUT burst near San Luis Paz, in the State of Guauajuato, Mexico, Sunday, water from which swept away many houses and cattle uprooted trees, and for a space of three miles the country was completely devastated.

E. D. THAYER, the aged president of the Brandon National Bank, of Brandon, Vt., after transacting some business in Omaha, left that place for Chicago on Friday with a small hand-satched containing $40,000 in notes and mortgages.

THE heaviest rain and hail-storm in South Dakota for years burst upon the city of Hot Springs Monday and lasted two hours. Water poured down in torrents, deluging the streets to the depth of two feet.

A COLONY of about twenty-five Poles has left Chicago for New York on route to the land of their nativity. One of the men remarked that the colony was returning to Poland to remain permanently.

A LETTER from Acapulco, Mexico, to the San Francisco Examiner quotes Silva Palma, captain of the Chilean cruiser Esmeralda, as saying that on the appearance of the United States cruiser Charleston, off the harbor of Acapulco, the Esmeralda had her decks sanded for action, and that the Charleston had every man at the guns.

A great blood purifier for all domestic animals, Biggs Bros. Crown Stock Food.

THE ELECTRIC STREET RAILWAY.

Written for the Chronicle.

Many popular errors exist as to the safety and manipulation of street cars by means of the overhead system, and it seems the duty of a newspaper like the CHRONICLE to give such a description of the entire system as will give readers an intelligent understanding of the subject.

An electric street railway may be divided into three departments—first, the power station; second, overhead wires and last the motor cars.

The electric generator or dynamo is the key to the electric railway. It is a machine which when driven by a steam engine or water wheel acts to convert the mechanical energy of the engine or wheel into electrical energy.

Electrical pressure or tension may be likened to the pressure in a tall water column, in the sense that the pressure may exist without any actual flow. In one case when the cock is opened a flow of water takes place, and in the other case when the ends of the wire are connected a flow of electricity occurs.

WE are all familiar with the ordinary unit, such as the foot unit of measurement, the pound unit of weight, the gallon unit of quantity and pounds per square inch as indicative of the steam pressure. The electricians have had to adopt special units, as a matter of course, and the units are the volt, which is the unit of electrical pressure; the ohm, which is the unit of resistance in the wire or other conductor; the ampere, which is the unit expressing the volume of current flowing through the circuit.

Various types of dynamos have been devised for various purposes. The electro-dynamo, usually operates at a machine pressure of two to five volts, but having an extremely low resistance of circuit, both within itself and in the plating vessel it is constructed to sometimes give an enormous current running sometimes even up to 10,000 amperes, yet with a motor and a dynamo the only way to feel the current is to touch the tongue to the two conductors.

An incandescent light machine of common type operates at a constant pressure of about 110 volts and the current capacity is in proportion to the size of the machine generally from fifty to 500 amperes. An arc-light machine is constructed to deliver a variable pressure which varies automatically according to the resistance of circuit, so as to resist to drive such a machine.

The type of generator which now interests us is that designed for electric railway purposes. It is of the general character of the incandescent dynamo. That is to say, its construction is such that while it generates a constant electrical pressure the volume of current flowing is dependent on the number of cars on the track and the load on each of the cars.

Under ordinary circumstances of easy grades and moderately loaded cars, the average amount of power required may be fairly stated at about eight horse power per car, which will drive the car on levels at good speed, ten or twelve miles per hour. In a large plant, then the dynamos and engines and boilers must have a large aggregate capacity. Electric railway dynamos are constructed in sizes from fifty to 250 horse power. Probably the most commonly adopted size is 100 horse-power. In cases where two or more dynamos are required, they are driven either by an independent engine or by means of a countershaft and clutch-pulleys driven by a single large engine. In any case, it is easy to drop any dynamo very quickly in the event of any emergency. But the current can be stopped more quickly still. Bearing in mind as stated above that, for the generation of electric pressure only, no circuit is necessary, but that before any current can flow the circuit must be closed, it is completed by some sort of wire or conductor having both ends attached to the carbon blocks, it will be readily understood that such a device can be instantaneously stopped by simply opening the circuit, for example by cutting the wire, or throwing a lever which forms a part of the circuit.

Further details of the operation of the cars and the construction of the motors will be given later. T. J. McTigue.

MT. ST. MARY'S COLLEGE NEWS.

They Came—They Saw—We Conquered.—An Exciting Game of Ball—Examinations—Persons.

A large crowd of people assembled on the baseball field yesterday afternoon to witness the most exciting game of ball that has taken place on the Mt. St. Mary's College diamond this year.

The contesting nines were, "The Reveres," of Mt. St. Mary's College, and "The Freshman Team," of Pennsylvania College, Gettysburg, Pa.

Among the spectators were visitors from Emmitsburg, Mechanicstown and Gettysburg and the neighborhood of the College, and conspicuous among them were many of the fair sex accompanying friends of the strangers.

The visiting nine reached the College at half past one o'clock, and after donning their field uniform were escorted to the ball field by the home team.

A short time was allowed each team to practice, during which the scores were arranged and the Umpire chosen. The game opened promptly at half past two o'clock with William Seton, of the Reveres at the bat.

Although the home team made several fine hits in the first inning yet when their third man was called out, they had only scored one run. They had the satisfaction of knowing however, that they knew hereafter where to look for the ball.

In the return inning the Freshmen failed to find the ball and struck out in one, two, three order.

In the second inning the Reveres scored another run. While the strangers struck out again.

In the third inning the home team was shut out, and the visitors by some excellent playing scored three runs.

In the first half of fourth inning the Reveres made two runs, and in the second half the Pennsylvania's made one more, tying the score. Which remained tied till the seventh inning. It is needless to say that during this time the excitement was intense and cheer after cheer went up as each side endeavored to change the figures.

The seventh inning however, was the decisive point in the game, and in this inning the strangers met their Waterloo, the home team remaining at the bat till they had scored five more runs.

In the last two innings the Reveres added two more runs to their score, while the strangers made nothing. The game therefore closed with a score of 11 to 4 in favor of the Reveres of Mt. St. Mary's College.

The game was well fought and the victory well won, and there was some splendid playing on both sides as can be seen from the account which we print in full below.

The Freshmen of the Pennsylvania College, made some warm friends at the Mountain and it is hoped that in the future one of the regular features of ball playing at the Mountain will be an annual game with the Pennsylvania Freshmen.

THE GAME BY INNINGS.

First Inning—Seton opened with a hit, stole second and came home on Ingoldsby's grounder to Beam. Teague reached first on an error by Heilmann, but was thrown out at second by Tate. Echeverria struck out. One run. The visitors were disposed of in one, two, three order. Tate and Gilbert fanning the wind and Miller being thrown out at first by Echeverria. No runs. Second Inning—Mullen reached first on an error by Nicholas, went to third on a wild throw to first by Gilbert, and home on Dyer's fly to Lantz. Cashman was thrown out by Miller and King fouled up out to Tate. Nicholas and Heilmann succumbed to "Feet's" twisters and struck out. Beam fled out to Ingoldsby, a pretty catch. Third Inning—Farrell was thrown out at first by Gilbert. Seton fled out to Lantz, and Ingoldsby died an easy death at first! Gilbert to Nicholas. For the visitors this inning was productive of runs and also howls from an enthusiastic alumni from Pennsylvania College.

Fickinger got his base on balls but was thrown out while trying to steal second. Lantz struck out, but Valentine drew forth a howl as he lined out a safeliner. He stole second and third and scored on Farrell's failure to hold Ingoldsby's throw of Tate's hot grounder. Gilbert reached first on Ingoldsby's throw over Farrell's head and Tate and Gilbert scored on Miller's two-bagger to left center. Nicholas ended the agony by knocking a grounder to Farrell. Fourth Inning—Teague knocked a grounder to first and was retired. Echeverria went to his base on balls, to second on Beam's fumble of Mullen's hot grounder and Farrell on Dyer's timely two-bagger to left center. Mullen stole second and came in on the same hit. Cashman lined out a single to left and advanced Dyer to third. But they were both left, King and Farrell striking out. Two runs. Heilmann made a single, stole second, went to third on Farrell's wild throw, and came home on Beam's grounder to Echeverria, who threw him out at first. Fickinger arrived safely at first. Teague not fielding the ball, but was thrown out while trying to steal second. Lantz struck out. This inning tied the score. Fifth Inning—This was short and sweet. Seton struck out. Ingoldsby made a hit, but made the third out, Lantz catching Teague's high fly and quickly throwing to first. Valentine went out, Teague to Farrell. Tate went out the same way, while Gilbert was thrown out by Ingoldsby. Sixth Inning—Echeverria hit to Gilbert and was thrown out at first. Mullen to first on an error by Fickinger, who took Beam's place at third, the latter injuring his finger. Mullen stole second and Dyer reached first, four bad balls. Both were left as Cashman fled out to Miller and King was thrown out by same man. Miller reached first on an error by Dyer, was advanced to second on Dyer's fumble of Nicholas' ball, but was thrown out at third by Cashman. Nicholas was caught napping at second by Echeverria and retired. Heilmann went out. Echeverria to Farrell. Seventh Inning—This was characterized by some very heavy hitting on the part of the Reveres, all the runs being earned. Farrell knocked a hit grander which hit Gilbert on the shoe. He stole second and while trying to steal third was hit by Seton's single to left. Seton stole second and third and scored on Ingoldsby's grounder to short. Teague made a single, advancing Ingoldsby to third. Both scored on Echeverria's hit. Mullen sacrificed to Miller, sending Echeverria to third. Echeverria scored on Dyer's hit. The latter stole second and scored on Cashman's two-bagger to center field. Cashman was left, King being thrown out at first by Miller. Dalrymple reached first on a missed third strike by Seton, but was thrown out, Teague to Farrell. Fickinger knocked a fly to short right field and Teague captured it after a hard run. Lantz went to first on four bad balls, but was left, Valentine being thrown out, Echeverria to Farrell. Eighth Inning—Farrell was thrown out at first by Miller, Seton by Heilmann, and Ingoldsby reached first on an error by Fickinger who was playing third. Teague ended the inning by going out on a grounder to Nicholas. Tate opened up by going to first on balls, but died there as Gilbert flew out to Teague. Miller ineffectually agitated the atmosphere, and Nicholas was thrown out at first by Teague. Ninth Inning—Echeverria flew out to Dalrymple who was now playing right field. Mullen reached first on Feckinger's fumble and stole second and scored on Dyer's grounder to short. Dyer stole second and scored on Cashman's hit to left-center. The latter stole second and third, "dead easy" as he expressed it himself, but was left, King being thrown out at first by Heilmann, and Farrell by Miller. In the last half of the ninth, the visitors went out in one, two, three order. Heilmann was thrown out by Teague, Dalrymple struck out and Fickinger ended the game by knocking a grounder to Farrell.

The special features of the game were: Of the home team—the splendid battery work of Echeverria and Seton and fine base steal of the latter from second to third; Farrell's fine work on first; Ingoldsby's catch of high fly; Dyer's timely batting and fine base stealing; Teague's fine fielding and catch of running fly, and J. Cashman's all round playing. Pennsylvania's—Tate's fine catching; Miller's splendid fielding and batting; Nicholas' fine work on first base, and Lantz's three fly catches in center field.

Table with columns: Mt. St. Mary's, Runs, Hits, Errors, Outs, etc. Lists scores for various innings and players.

Table with columns: Mt. St. Mary's, Runs, Hits, Errors, Outs, etc. Lists scores for various innings and players.

Table with columns: Mt. St. Mary's, Runs, Hits, Errors, Outs, etc. Lists scores for various innings and players.

When you want Dry Goods, Call or Write for Samples. Hamilton Easter & Sons, 23, 25, 27 E. Baltimore St. Baltimore, Md.

White Marble Building, Between Charles and Light Streets, Are Large Importers, Jobbers and Retailers of DRY GOODS.

There is a large Marble Warehouse, five stories high, each floor is 50 by 300 feet, filled with the best quality of Goods. They sell nothing but DRY GOODS. Their system of selling every article at a small profit, but of a thoroughly reliable quality, has been their ruling principle for the past sixty years.

When you want Dry Goods, Call or Write for Samples. Hamilton Easter & Sons, Baltimore, Md.

ADVERTISING.

We are firm believers in the efficacy of printer's ink. We employ it in various ways and methods, but we only use it to tell people of the good things we have and to attract attention to us.

Buy them right and the rest is plain sailing.

When we buy a bargain we sell a bargain.

Now, these in the main, coupled with the fact that everything sold must be satisfactory, has made us the leading merchants with sales double that of any store in Adams county.

THE LEADERS In Dry Goods, Notions and Carpets.

G. W. WEAVER & SON, GETTYSBURG, PA.

SALE EVERY DAY

M. F. SHUFF'S FURNITURE STORE.

I AM NOW PREPARED TO MEET THE SPRING TRADE WITH THE Finest Stock of Furniture EVER DISPLAYED IN THIS SECTION.

My Warerooms are crowded, and I am determined to close out the entire stock during the next three months.

A visit to my place will convince you that I have the goods as represented, and the prices that I mean to sell. The stock consists in part of Solid Walnut Bedroom Suits, Solid Oak Suits, Oak Finish, Walnut Finish, Light Finish, and everything in the Latest Style and Finish.

I Can Furnish a House from Top to Bottom

Repairing of all kinds neatly and promptly done. I also sell the New American High Arm Sewing Machine, which for simplicity, durability, and the ease with which fine work can be produced is unexcelled, while the price will astonish all.

UNDERTAKING : IN . : ALL . : ITS . : BRANCHES.

I have the Largest Stock of Supplies and the Finest Hearse in this section. Supplies and prices to meet the wants of all. Calls by day or night promptly attended. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Trotting Stallion for Service NINETTO

The standard bred trotting stallion will be kept for service at Mechanicsville, Emmitsburg and Rocky Ridge this season; arrangement of dates given later.

Order Nisi on Sales—Real Estate. In the ORPHANS' COURT OF FREDERICK COUNTY, APRIL TERM, 1891.

Notice to Creditors. This is to give notice that the Subscriber has obtained from the Orphan's Court of Frederick County Maryland, Letters of administration on the estate of FRANCIS D. MYERS.

Emmitsburg Chronicle.

Entered as Second-Class Matter at the Emmitsburg Postoffice.

FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1891.

Emmitsburg Rail Road.

TIME TABLE.

On and after Nov. 9, 1890, trains on this road will run as follows:

TRAINS SOUTH.
 Leave Emmitsburg at 8.20 a. m. and 2.52 and 5.50 p. m., arriving at Rocky Ridge at 8.50 a. m. and 3.22 and 6.20 p. m.
TRAINS NORTH.
 Leave Rocky Ridge at 10.40 a. m. and 3.33 and 6.35 p. m., arriving at Emmitsburg at 11.10 a. m. and 4.03 and 7.05 p. m.
 JAS. A. ELDER, Pres't.

Established 1837.

Wetly's all rye whiskey. It has no rival for superiority, is absolutely pure, and has a reputation of the highest standard for excellence and purity, that will always be sustained. Recommended by physicians. Also Old Kentucky Whiskey and Speer's celebrated Wines, for sale by F. A. DIFFENDAL.

YESTERDAY was the hottest day of the season.

PEN-MAR will be opened for the season next Thursday.

FOR SALE.—A one-horse spring wagon Apply at this office.

A VALUABLE COW belonging to Mr. Nathaniel Rowe died Tuesday night.

Two cars standing on the track near Hanover, were unroofed by a heavy wind storm last Thursday evening.

THERE is talk of organizing an electric light company at Westminster. Why don't Emmitsburg have electric lights?

A NUMBER of persons from this place and vicinity took advantage of the excursion train to visit Baltimore last Saturday.

MR. JOHN M. BELL killed a black snake at the west end of town yesterday. It was five feet long and of the racer species.

MR. WM. D. COLFLOWER is having his house occupied by Mr. John A. Horner, repainted. Jno. F. Adelsberger is doing the work.

"ALL my reports go with the modest truth. No more nor clipped, but so." Bracy's medicine cures all headaches at all times.

THE Clarion says the contract for building St. Stephen's Episcopal Church at Mechanicstown has been awarded to Mr. Joseph A. Weddle.

THE closing exercises and distribution of premiums at St. Euphemia's school, this place, will take place on Monday, June 22nd inst., at 6 p. m.

THE freight rates on the G. & H. R. R. have been reduced about 12 per cent. since the road has come into control of the Reading.—Star and Sentinel.

TUNE up the system of your horse by using Biggs Bros. Crown Stock Food.

COMMENCEMENT exercises were held at New Windsor College this week. Miss Anna Annan and Master Mottet Annan of this place are among the scholars.

THE Vigilant Hose Company turned out on Tuesday evening and tested the fire plugs all over town. Everything was found in complete working order.

THE Clarion says, cards are out for the marriage of Robert Biggs, Esq., and Miss Alice C. Betts of Baltimore city, in the Cathedral on Wednesday June 17th.

MR. JACOB SMITH has had a new roof put on the South side of his residence, and Mr. James A. Rowe also had a new roof put on his house, occupied by E. H. Rowe.

A CHILDREN'S DAY service will be held at the M. E. church on Sunday evening at half past seven o'clock. The regular Children's Day collection will be taken up on this occasion.

A BUNCH of keys attached to a steel chain has been left at this office by a gentleman who picked them up on the street. The owner can have the same on proving ownership.

SURVIVAL of the fittest. Downs' Elixir has outlived every other cough remedy simply because it is the best. For sale by James A. Elder, Emmitsburg, and A. C. Musselman, Fairfield, Pa.

WANTED.—A white girl to do general house work. No washing and ironing to do. Apply in person or by letter to Mrs. L. S. MACOLLI, No. 45 East Church St., Frederick, Md.

THE Hanover merchants have combined against the Baltimore cheap excursions. They agree not to buy goods in Baltimore if the railroad continues the excursions, and the first member of the association offending is to pay a fine of $100.

MORE people, adults and children, are troubled with constiveness than with any other ailment. Dr. Henry Baxter's Mandrake Bitters will cure constiveness and prevent the diseases which result from it. For sale by James A. Elder, Emmitsburg, and A. C. Musselman, Fairfield, Pa.

A GREAT opportunity is afforded both to buy and sell real estate in this section, by the North End Real Estate Agency. Read their constantly increasing list of properties. There are several good bargains among them and one real sacrifice. Correspondence solicited. This agency will surely do business for they have the will and the opportunity.

THE iron has arrived for the new bridge over the Monocacy at Sell's ford, on the eastern boundary of this district. The new bridge will replace the one destroyed by a tornado last summer.

EVERY bottle of Amica & Oil Liniment sold is warranted by the proprietors to give satisfaction or money will be refunded. For sale by James A. Elder, Emmitsburg, and A. C. Musselman, Fairfield, Pa.

JAMES E. BAKER, Esq., sent a bunch of rye to this office last Friday, which is supposed to have grown from a single grain. There are fifty stalks in the bunch and it is of good height. He says it sprang up voluntarily.

On Tuesday of last week Stewart Annan, accompanied by one of his school mates rode from Chambersburg to Emmitsburg and after taking dinner here returned to Chambersburg the same evening by way of Gettysburg.

The Waynesboro Daily Gazette suspended publication at the end of the time specified for the experiment, the last of May. The sales of the paper were sufficient to warrant its continuance if more advertising patronage could be had.

NEXT Monday the Baltimore American will issue an anniversary edition which will comprise twenty-six pages and a souvenir supplement. The American truly says this will be equal to fifty pages of the average New York papers. More than fifty tons of white paper will be used in the edition.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

The man who is too poor to subscribe and pay for the paper published in the town in which he lives is not fully capable of running a business or raising a family. When men learn that mental food is of more importance than food for the body they will rise in the world easier and faster.—Fredrick News.

The following letters remain in the Post Office, Emmitsburg, Md., June 8, 1891. Persons calling will please say "advertised," otherwise they may not receive them.

Miss Lizzie Adams, Mrs. Regine Hahn, Stephen A. Walsh, S. N. McNair, P. M.

Resolutions of Thanks.

At a recent meeting of Massasoit Tribe, No. 41, I. O. R. M., resolutions of thanks were adopted as follows: First—to the ladies who so kindly assisted them at their recent festival; second—to Mr. J. M. Kerrigan for the use of his shops on the occasion; third—to Mr. Joseph K. Hays for his efficient services in rendering the affair successful, and fourth—to the citizens in general for their generous contributions.

Behind the Bars.
 W. E. Miller, alias Edwards, the "spectacle man," who enjoyed life in this place last summer by looting around in the shade and eating his fill of landlord Sparrow's good grub, without paying anything therefor, is now doing service in the Maryland penitentiary. As stated in the Register last week he was convicted in the Circuit Court of Washington county of the larceny of clothing from a Hagerstown Hotel. On Thursday he was sentenced to the penitentiary for three years and six months, and was taken thither on Saturday.—Valley Register.

Typhoid Fever and Bad Water.

Dr. H. U. Onderdonk, of the College of St. James, a skillful chemist, has lately received a number of bottles of water from wells, for analysis. These have been sent by physicians from several districts of the county and from wells used by families where there is typhoid fever. The physicians attending these cases have suspected the drinking water as being the cause, from the fact that in every instance the barn yard or the cess-pool seemed to drain towards the well. In every instance Dr. Onderdonk found the water impure and some samples were of the vilest character. It is astonishing how people can drink such stuff and live. Farmers are often negligent of their wells and it is likely that there are impurities where none are suspected. But nothing will make a man mad quicker than to suggest to him that his well is not all right unless it be to hint that his watch does not keep good time.—Hagerstown Mail.

Important Trade Name Decision.

Judge Thayer, of the United States Circuit Court at St. Louis, has recently handed down an opinion, and granted a perpetual injunction against the defendants in the case of The Hostetter Company against the Bruggeman, Reinert Distilling Co., alias "Gold Spring Distilling Co.," prohibiting the advertising, manufacturing or selling of any article of stomach bitters, either in bulk, by the gallon or otherwise, or in any way making use of the name "Hostetter" except in connection with the sale of the genuine bitters, which are always sold in bottles securely sealed; and also prohibiting the sale of any bitters in bulk, though the name "Hostetter" be not used, but the suggestion made to the purchaser that he can put them in the empty Hostetter bottles, and purchasers would not discover the difference. His decision supports The Hostetter Company in the exclusive use of the name "Hostetter" in connection with either the manufacture or sale of stomach bitters in any manner or form whatsoever, and finally establishes its ownership in the name "Hostetter" as a "TRADE NAME."

Death of Capt. Benjamin Poole.

Capt. Benjamin Poole died Wednesday the residence of Mr. George T. Kerr of this place. Captain Poole was a native of Maryland, lived at Keysville, Md., for twenty-nine years, and was a member of the Maryland Legislature twenty-five years ago. He was seventy years old, and leaves a widow, but no children. The remains were interred in Mt. Olivet cemetery on Friday afternoon.—Hanover Citizen.

Preparing for the Fourth of July.

At a meeting of the Vigilant Hose Company held last Friday evening, it was decided to abandon their annual Fourth of July Picnic, in favor of a Union Picnic and Celebration, provided several other organizations and societies in Emmitsburg would participate in the affair. To this end invitations were extended to Arthur Post No. 41, G. A. R., Massasoit Tribe No. 41, I. O. R. M., the Emmit Cornet Band and the Emerald Beneficial Association. The invitations have been accepted and each organization appointed a committee for the purpose of making concerted arrangements. These several committees met at the Firemen's Hall on Tuesday evening and organized into a general committee of arrangements, with Capt. Geo. T. Eyster chairman and W. H. Troxell, secretary.

The committee will hold another meeting this evening, at which more definite arrangements will be made and the place for holding the picnic selected. The general co-operation of the public is requested, in making the affair successful, and if the weather is favorable we may expect the largest demonstration on this occasion that Emmitsburg has had in many years. Look for the posters which will appear soon.

Complimentary.
 Our neighbor, the CHRONICLE with its last number entered upon the thirteenth volume. There are many who count their years by scores that can learn much from this one just entering its teens. The CHRONICLE from its founding has been kept upon a plane of dignity and scholarship that has brought it the reward of honor among the brethren; under its present management it is all that the most ardent hopes of its late lamented founder could wish, to say this is sufficient eulogium. We wish our esteemed neighbor a prosperous future.—Catoctin Clarion.

The Emmitsburg CHRONICLE has entered upon its thirteenth year. Thirteen is an unlucky number, but in this case we hope it will prove the contrary and that the CHRONICLE's thirteenth year may be the brightest and most prosperous in the history of its existence. In neatness of typographical appearance, fullness and accuracy of news items and wisdom of editorial utterance, the CHRONICLE has hardly a superior in this State and very few equals. It deserves the warm support and practical encouragement the people of Emmitsburg appear to be giving it.—Fredrick News.

Crown Stock Food will prevent all the ills that dairy cows are heir to.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following transfers of real estate have taken place in this county, as recorded in the Clerk's office during the last week:
 William H. Todd and wife to George M. Snook, parcel of land, $100. C. M. Wenner, E. V. Wenner, et al., to Samuel and Daniel Line, lot in Brunswick, $250. The Frederick City Manufacturing and Development Company to G. F. S. Zimmerman and G. W. Tyson, lot of ground, $50. Frederick City Manufacturing and Development Company to Hardt & Keefer, lots in Frederick City, $445. George T. Motter, assignee, to Hezekiah D. Harker, 964 acres, $2,021.25. Harriet A. V. Fagle and husband to David M. King, 1 acre of land, $35. Eli C. Benn to Eli C. Waskey, 204 perches, $6.40. Frederick City Manufacturing and Development Company to Clarence L. Hartsock, lot in Fred'k city, $300. Joseph Cronje, trustee, to Fredericktown Savings Institution, 208 acres, 2 roads and 15 perches, $121.50. The Fredericktown Savings Institution to John D. Weller, 208 acres, 2 roads and 15 perches, $2,500. The Frederick City Manufacturing and Development Company to Charles W. Ross, lot in Frederick, $215. John C. Motter and M. G. Urner, trustees, to Jane R. Wachter, parcel of land in Lewistown, $50.50. Charles W. Johnson and wife to John C. Palmer, 3 roads and 334 perches, $62.35. Frederick City Manufacturing and Development Company to Frederick and Catoctin Mountain Road Company, lots in addition to Frederick, $425. Henry W. Bennett and wife to Burtis Bennett, 22 acres and 2 roads and 2 perches, $900. Burtis Bennett and wife to Andrew N. Cramer, 704 acres, $3,500. Charles E. Kinn and wife to Charles W. Johnson, 2 acres, 3 roads and 304 perches, $80. The Fredericktown Savings Institution to John D. Weller, several parcels of land, $2,073. John J. Meyer to Mary E. Lutz, real estate, $1, love, &c. Alexander Pearre to Liberty and New Windsor Turnpike Company, properties, rights, of property, road, &c., $3,800. Warner T. Grimes and wife to S. M. Birely and V. B. Osler, property in Mechanicstown, $4,000.

Across the Deep, to the Far West.

On steamboats, cars and stage-coaches, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is carried as the most important item in the materia medica of the traveling public. It dispels vitiated, brackish water of its hurtful properties and execrable flavor, counteracts the pernicious effects upon the stomach of bad or indigestible food, remedies cramps, heartburn and wind upon the stomach. It is a fine defense against malarial disorders, nullifies the effects of excessive heat, cold and damp, relieves sick headaches, and is an incompressible cure for constiveness and biliousness. The fatigue of travel often tells most disastrously upon invalids and convalescents, occasionally to such an extent as to jeopardize life. Persons in feeble health, apprehensive of bad effects from travel, will find it provided with the Bitters, be far less likely to have their fears realized.

Arrested on Suspicion.

We give as the sequel to the fire at Mr. J. A. Colflow's residence at Hagerstown, as reported last week, the arrest of Mollie Fogle, a domestic in Mr. Colflow's employ, on suspicion of having done the burning. She was taken to Frederick on Saturday last. She was given a hearing before Justice Thomas Turner in Frederick, who committed her to jail in default of $1,000 dollars bail.—Clarion.

The Oldest Member of Arthur Post Dead.

Mr. Peter Glosser, who during the war was a member of Co. C, Cole's Cavalry, died on the 5th inst., and was buried last Sunday at Mount Joy Lutheran church, the pastor, Rev. M. H. Hellman officiating. Mr. Glosser was the oldest member of Arthur Post No. 41, G. A. R., of Emmitsburg, and would have been 72 years of age in July. A portion of Arthur Post attended the funeral, and the Ritual of the order was served at the grave by Commander Horner and Senior Vice-Commander McNair, assisted by Theodore McAllister, Commander of Corporal Skelly Post of Gettysburg, who acted as Chaplain.

Players Played.

The Hilda Vernon dramatic Company played in Emmitsburg last week; they played out there but not until after we were green enough to allow them to play off on us. We won't eat shoe pegs in mistake for oats, but in the matter of printing for busted dramatic companies we are veridant enough to critic a cow on the lookout for something soft and green. And unless we don't know ourselves, we'll do it over again—so really we will be content to be laughed at or kicked as the humor suits.—Clarion.

The above company completed a four days engagement here Saturday night. The closing entertainment terminated somewhat abruptly, by the audience leaving the hall in the middle of the performance.

Blasting Accident.

Mr. William Welty has been digging a well on his premises near Stony Branch School House, and last Saturday, after having lighted a blast and waiting for some time for the explosion, concluded that the fuse had gone out. He was about to relight it by means of a fire brand on the end of a pole, and just as he leaned over the top of the well the explosion occurred, pieces of flying stone striking him in the face and producing severe injuries. He was rendered insensible by the accident and has only had a few rational moments since. He suffered a severe cut on the left side of his head, about four inches long and his nose was completely split in two besides being torn loose from his lip. Dr. J. W. Eichelberger, Jr., rendered surgical aid in the case and is hopeful of his recovery.

More Railroad News.

The Boonsboro Times says: "From reliable information received from headquarters very recently we are able to announce to our readers that the West Virginia Central Railroad is now contemplating the extension of its line, by way of Hagerstown or Williamsport, through our section of this county and Middletown Valley, to Baltimore. We have talked with quite a number of our leading citizens upon the subject and their unanimous sentiment is in favor of an earnest and practical effort to secure this road. When the proposed extension of the West Virginia Central, east and west are completed, it will be the shortest and one of the most important thorough lines, and the advantage of such a modern highway through our section is beyond estimate."

PERSONALS.

Miss Carrie Byers has gone to Baltimore.
 Maj. O. A. Horner and family are visiting in Baltimore.
 Miss Edith Motter spent Saturday and Sunday at home.
 Mr. Paul Sweeney returned to St. Joseph, Mo., on Monday.
 We had a pleasant call on Monday from Mr. John P. Harbaugh of Sabillasville.
 Mr. James V. McDevitt of New York City, made a visit to his mother in this place.
 Mr. C. T. Zacharias was in Baltimore yesterday. He says it was terribly hot in the city.
 Mrs. Geo. B. Resser of Hanover, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Motter.
 Mrs. J. F. Shorb of Taneytown made a visit to her mother, Mrs. Isabelle Troxell, this place.
 Mr. Thomas Smith of Upton, Pa., is with his family visiting his mother Mrs. Margaret Smith, in this place.
 Master J. Stewart Annan is home for the summer vacation. Frederick Howell of Williamsport, Pa., accompanies him.
 Mr. Edgar Bussey of Alabama is visiting among the scenes and friends of his boyhood here. We are pleased to learn that he is in the enjoyment of excellent health and is also well pleased with the South.
 Gov. Seay of Alabama spent several days at the Emmit House this week. He has a daughter at school at St. Joseph's Academy and will return here commencing week to attend the exercises at St. Joseph's.
 Mr. Ed. A. Shorb, after about two years and a half service in this office, went to Baltimore Saturday, where he will divide deeper into the mysteries of the "art preservative." We hope he will have a successful career. His position here is being ably filled by William J. Jordan.
 The Hanover Citizen says: "Rev. Geo. B. Resser, the new pastor of Emmanuel's Reformed church, arrived with his family last week and they, with Mr. Bowman and his family, as the retiring pastor, were tendered a reception on Tuesday evening at the residence of Geo. Forney by a large number of the members of that congregation."

SABILLASVILLE ITEMS.

Many persons of this vicinity attended the Dundark Reunion at Hagerstown last week.
 A Sunday School celebration will be held at the U. B. church this place on Sunday, June 14th.
 A festival will be given for the benefit of the U. B. church this place, June 18th, 19th and 20th.
 Miss Ruth Springfield and sister of Indiana are visiting their uncle, Mr. Adam Bowser, of this place.
 The Waugh shooting case is still agitating the minds of the people in this neighborhood. Mr. Waugh is slowly gaining consciousness as is stated by his attending physician. He can inform his attendant when he is in need of refreshments of any kind, and is said to recognize every person that visits him. He is resting quietly and will probably recover. Mrs. Waugh's brother, Mr. Daniel Swope, and a friend, recently called at the jail to see her. At first their presence did not attract Mrs. Waugh's attention, but on being questioned about the shooting she wept bitterly and said trouble caused her to do it. She begged her brother repeatedly to take good care of her child, and plead to know what they would do with her. Mr. Waugh has not expressed the slightest indication that would betray his wife as the guilty one, neither is he aware that she is in jail.

FAIRFIELD ITEMS.

Mr. Adam Batt of Gettysburg is visiting his friends here.
 Mrs. H. M. Hafer of Reading, Pa., is visiting friends at this place.
 Mrs. Mary J. Ramp of Polo, Ill., is visiting among her friends here.
 Mr. Wm. Baumgardner of Ohio is visiting friends in this vicinity.
 Mr. Walter Homer has gone to work in one of the machine shops at Waynesboro.
 Mr. Henry Sanders of Illinois is visiting among his many friends in this place.
 Mr. Dunlop Paxton has returned home from his visit at Princeton, N. J., and is looking well.
 Mrs. Joel Musselman, who was a daughter of Mr. James Witherow died last Saturday, of consumption. Her funeral took place on Monday.
 Mrs. Harry Bennett fell across a tub in the cellar the other day and injured her side and back. Mrs. B. is a hard working woman, and it is to be hoped she may recover soon.
 The directors of the school board met the first Monday in June, and organized by electing the following officers: Clark Marshall, president; E. Swope, secretary and D. C. Shulley, treasurer.
 The statement made last week that Mr. Charles Grothly had been granted a pension of $14 a month was a mistake, as his pension is $30 a month with $750 back pay. He is certainly a lucky man.

You can prevent distemper, pneumonia, etc., and keep your stock always in condition by using Biggs Bros. Crown Stock Food.

FREDERICK COUNTY ITEMS.

A new school district has been granted from Lewistown and Catoctin Furnace.
 Eight public drinking fountains will be erected at different points in Frederick before long.
 The clerk of the Circuit Court issued twenty-three marriage licenses during the month of May.
 The corner stone of a new M. E. Church was laid Tuesday at the "Corners," near Mt. Pleasant.
 Miss Ida Heaver, of this vicinity, owns a white peony stalk which contains 205 flowers.—Wolfeville News.
 The Standard Oil Company will erect an oil house at Frederick, which place will hereafter be one of the company's distributing points.
 The free delivery experiment at Middletown continues to give satisfaction. During the month of May the carrier handled 10,611 pieces of mail matter.
 Mr. Bernard C. Steiner, son of Dr. L. H. Steiner, formerly of Frederick, has been appointed to the chair of History and Science in Williams' College, Mass.
 We learn that Rev. Fr. W. H. I. Reaney, resident Catholic Pastor at this place, has concluded to accept the position of Navy Chaplain recently tendered him, but will not enter upon his new duties for some time.—Liberty Banner.

Ask your Merchants for Crown Stock Food, should he not have it, write to Biggs Bros., Rocky Ridge, Md.

Elizabeth Ryan, the insane pauper who has been confined at Montevue Hospital for the past 15 years, and for whose board Allegheny county had agreed to pay $1,100, is now believed to belong to Charles county, and therefore the claim will be collected from that county.—News.

A few days ago Mrs. Milton Cutsall, of near Jefferson, suffered with convulsions from inhaling poison. Her husband had set strychnine in the corn crib for the purpose of getting rid of vermin. Mrs. Cutsall wanted some corn and going to the crib gathered up some of the loose grains and began blowing the dirt from among them. It is supposed she inhaled the deadly drug, which threw her into convulsions. Dr. E. B. Smith, of this city, was summoned and applied the proper antidotes and relieved the suffering woman.—Fredrick News.

Life has been a burden to me for the past 50 years on account of great suffering from very severe and frequent headaches. Brady's Compound has done wonders for me. I am now a new man and shall proclaim the merits of your medicine to all I can reach." George P. Fowler, Attorney at Law, Palatka, Fla.

Mr. Worthington Resigned.

At a special meeting of the School Commissioners held last week, Mr. Glenn H. Worthington, secretary and treasurer of the board, and school examiner for the county, tendered his resignation, to take effect August 31st. The resignation was regretfully accepted by the commissioners, who fully appreciate the efficiency with which Mr. Worthington has filled the office, and the great improvements he has made in the public schools of Frederick county, which are to-day unsurpassed by any in the state. Mr. E. L. Bollitz of Mechanicstown was chosen his successor, and the selection is looked upon as a good one, as Mr. Bollitz is well fitted for the position and will no doubt fill the office with credit. He will assume the duties on September 1st.

No farmer or dairyman can afford to be without Crown Stock Food. It is a boon to breeders of all domestic animals.

MARYLAND ITEMS.

A bath house 20x50 feet is being erected at Pen-Mar.
 1783 transient guests stopped at the Hotel Hamilton, Hagerstown, during the month of May.
 The furnace at the Hagerstown iron works will be started up shortly by two young men from Baltimore.
 Mr. J. M. Stover, at Edgemont, has $3,000 bearing peach trees, and expects two bushels from each tree.
 Seventeen young ladies received diplomas at the first graduating exercises of the Johns Hopkins Training School at Baltimore last Friday.
 A new postoffice has been established at Buena Vista Springs, in Washington county, with Walter A. Clark as postmaster.
 The Westminster Fire Department has decided to have a torchlight parade on Fourth of July night, and to hold a strawberry and ice cream festival at their hall afterwards.

A healthy cow produces healthy milk. Moral—Use Biggs Bros. Crown Stock Food.
 Calet McIndoe of the Sixth district of Maryland, whose home is at Lonaconing, was one of the five highest in the graduating class at West Point this year, who are known as "star" members.

The miners and employes at the Oakland Coal and Coke Works, Garrett county, are on a strike. The miners demand an increase of 20 cents per ton. The company has served notices on the strikers to vacate the company's houses now occupied by them.
 The main building of the Concordia Opera House, Baltimore, was almost completely wrecked by fire on Wednesday evening, while the annex building was partially damaged by fire and water. The interior of the main building is a total ruin, and about all that is left are the walls. The estimated damage is placed at from $80,000 to $100,000 with $125,000 insurance.

Articles incorporating the Hagerstown Tube and Iron Works have been approved by Judge Douglas. This company will manufacture wrought iron pipe, iron, brass, steel and other metal fittings, and other articles made wholly or in part of iron, steel or brass. Its capital stock is sixty thousand dollars, divided into six thousand shares.—Herald and Torch Light.

Crown Stock Food acts like a charm on hogs, and will surely prevent hog cholera, etc.

Summer Excursion Tickets.

To all northern and eastern seaside, lakeside, and mountain resorts, as well as to Deer Park and Oakland, the Virginia Springs, Niagara Falls, Luray Caverns, Gettysburg, and to all points, in fact, where people gather in search of health and pleasure, are now on sale at all Baltimore and Ohio Railroad ticket offices at greatly reduced rates. These tickets will be sold from June 1st to September 30th, and are valid for return passage until October 31st. Before selecting your route or resort consult B. & O. summer excursion book in which shortest routes and lowest rates via "Pietresque B. & O." to all resorts are given from points on that road east of the Ohio river; profusely and artistically illustrated. This book can be procured free of charge upon personal application to ticket Agents, B. & O. R. Co., or you can have it mailed to you by sending name and address with 7 cents in stamps, to Chas. O. Scull, Gen'l Passenger Agent, Baltimore, Md.

DIED.

POOLE.—On June 3, 1891, at the residence of Mr. George T. Kerr, in Hanover, Pa., Capt. Benjamin Poole, formerly of Keysville.

REGISTER OF WILLS.

TO THE VOTERS OF FREDERICK COUNTY. I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the above office, subject to the ratification of the Republican Nominating Convention, and earnestly solicit your support. Yours very respectfully,
 JOHN H. CUTSHALL, June 13-4c.

FOR REGISTER OF WILLS.

I respectfully announce myself a candidate for re-nomination for REGISTER OF WILLS, and solicit the support of my friends.
 HAMILTON LINDSAY, apr 3-c

TO THE VOTERS OF FREDERICK COUNTY.

For Register of Wills, JAMES K. WATERS. Subject to the decision of the Democratic Nominating Convention. June 5-c

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE CHRONICLE.

Only $1. June 11-y

ONE ENJOYS

both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidney, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF. QUINCY, ILL. NEW YORK, N.Y.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

For Welty and Rocke Food strictly unadulterated Whiskies, Choice Rums, Wines, &c., go to F. A. Diffendal's, Emmitsburg. Also Old Kentucky Whiskey and Speer's celebrated Wines. Give your houses painting work and mending of all kinds, done with neatness and dispatch, by Jas. A. Rowe & Son. Have your Watches, Clocks and Jewels repaired by Geo. T. Eyster, who warrants the same, and has always on hand a large stock of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry and Silverware. Feb 8-4c.

ICE CREAM.

I HAVE opened my ice cream parlors on West Main street, and am prepared to furnish the public at all times with a superior article of my own manufacture. Picnics, Festivals & Parties furnished in any quantity at short notice. Prices reasonable.

ICE!

I also have a large supply of excellent ice, which will be delivered daily to all parts of

