DR. FAHRNEY'S

TEETHING SYRUP

It is safe to give to babies a few days old, and its good effects in ordinary doses, are seen in children five and six years old.

There is nothing in the drug market that gives more universal satisfaction than Teething Syrup. Thousands of physicians are prescribing it daily. An over dose is not dangerous—it will prevent cholera infantum if used in time—no better soothing syrup made—many testimonials give proof of these words— all dealers sell it for 25 cts. Sample bottle sent on receipt of 10 cents. Made only by Drs. D. FAHRNEY & SON, HAGERSTOWN, MD.

STOP. LOOK.

I have just received a large lot of PURE ALL RYE WHISKEYS for bar-vest and medical purposes, distilled by the well-known William Foust, at Glen Rock, York county, Pa., whose distillery was established in 1836. This whiskey has no equal and is absolutely pure. Doctors recommend it as the best for medicinal purposes. Have high and low prices. Give me a call before buying elsewhere and be convinced. feb 7-1f

SLIPPING AWAY.

They are slipping away—these sweet, swift years,

Like a leaf on the current east; With never a break in their rapid flow, We watch them as one by one they go Into the beautiful past.

As silent and swift as the weaver's thread,

Or an arrow's flying gleam; As soft as the languorous breezes hid, That bit the willow's golden lid, And ripple the glassy stream.

As light as the breath of thistle-down;

As fond as a lover's dream; As pure as the flush in the sea-shell's throat,

As sweet as the wood-bird's wooing note, So tender and sweet they seem.

One after another we see them pass

Down the dim-lighted stair;

We hear the sound of their steady tread In the steps of centuries long since dead, As beautiful and as fair.

There are only a few years left to love;

Shall we waste them in idle strife? Shall we trample under our ruthless feet These beautiful blossoms, rare and sweet,

By the dusty ways of life?

There are only a few swift years—ah, let

No envious taunts be heard; Make life's fair pattern of rare design, And fill the measure with love's sweet wine,

But never an angry word!

—Demorest Times.

The Lady and the Gavel.

BY EDITH SESSIONS TUPPER.

Did you ever see a woman wield a gavel? No? Then you have something to live for.

Woman has invaded nearly every precinct supposed to be consecrated to man. I believe there are as yet no women ward heelers or horse jockeys, but in every other direction has the fair sex shown an ambition worthy of commendation.

When the dear creatures vote, go to Congress and sit in the Speaker's chair, then will you see parliamentary tactics that will set the world agape, and then only will you understand the true significance of the gavel as a means of force, grace and noise.

You have seen a mischievous child possess himself of a hammer and pound upon the first looking-glass which chanced to be near, have you not? At first a gentle tap-tap, as if half-terrified at the power of the instrument he wields; now louder, stronger, a crack! Now crash! bang! smash! glass and profanity fly in all directions, the body is spanked and the hammer hidden. But the hankering for the hammer has been born and the little rascal never rests until he finds it again and proceeds to smash more glass.

There is a faint parallel between this glass-smashing and the gavel-wielding of fair woman. Madame is a bit afraid of the little mallet at first, but when she finds what a splendid row she can make with it she bangs royally away, no matter what the consequences may be. If she breaks things, so much the better.

Feminine inconsistency will crop out everywhere, in spite of the most dignified conditions. Madame may study her little manual thoroughly and have parliamentary usages and orders of business at her tongue's tip, but once in the chair she is prone to sink the president in the woman, forget all her little lessons, make the wildest sort of rulings, allow the business meeting to be transformed into a Babel of cackle and giggles, and permits a go-as-you-please assembly and a generally delightful feminine brawl.

Thus, just before putting a question, the Chairwoman is quite liable to suddenly ask an opinion as to whether the Club or Society, as the case may be, will select sandwiches and pickles or chocolate and cake for its next reception, or between the eyes and nose she will quietly vacate the chair to button-hole a sister member in the corner and consult her whether she shall have Vandykes or turned-back cuffs on the sleeves of her new gown.

At a well-known woman's club not long ago during a heated election a member suddenly discovered she had lost her garter, and the body not only went into executive session with closed doors, but resolved itself into a committee of the whole to find that lost ligature. It was the Chairwoman herself who triumphantly waved the dainty silken band aloft, handed it to its blushing and distressed owner, suspended the order of business until it was restored to its proper place and then put the previous question.

A business meeting of a woman's club or society generally runs itself in a happy-go-lucky fashion. It opens decorously enough with the roll-call or prayer; it finishes in shrill gabbling and a confusion of tongues. Nor is all the talking done by the sisters. The lady who wields the gavel takes a hand herself, and can talk a straight half-hour without finching. Looking in on its deliberations one would fancy it a drum, a tea, a sewing society—anything under heaven but a business meeting. Knots of women scattered here and there are whispering, chatting and sniggering like school-girls, talking over the new shoulder capes or the Cleomecean Case.

The President bangs loudly with her gavel, the chattering ceases for a moment, only to begin with renewed vigor. Then a duet commences something after this fashion:

"Ladies, we are to read from 'In a Balcony' this evening."

"Shall you be at the Bigheader's reception?"

"Mrs. Shallow, will you read Constance?"

"I shall have the fronts of mine faced with mink."

"Miss Slender, please read the Queen's part."

"There is no doubt about his getting the divorce."

"What's that?"

"Divorce?"

"Who is it?"

"When?"

"You don't mean it!"

"Ladies! ladies!" thwack, thump, bump, bang, goes the gavel and silence is restored for a brief space.

It is said that it is not possible for women to go to heaven, and the reason for this extraordinary statement appears to be found in the Book of Revelations where it distinctly says: "And there was silence in Heaven for the space of half-an-hour." It is argued that had there been any women in glory this could not have happened. The feminine celestial world have broken on this solemn stillness by announcing that her crown did not fit her Psyche knot, or that she would like another feather or two in her wings, or that, if no one objected, she was going to exchange her palm branch for a shorter one which she could wave more gracefully.

The autocratic nature of woman will assert itself when the gavel is placed in her hands. The average woman directly she is elected chairwoman or president believes that unto her all powers are given, not even excepting soothing and divination. I have known gentle women to develop into tyrants and mothers in Israel to make rulings that would stun Mr. Reed, and in order to carry their point, resort to tricks which would cause a ward politician to turn pale with envy.

Let me give an illustration. I was once present at a business meeting of a woman's missionary alliance in a fashionable church. The chairwoman was a lovely lady with snowy hair, angelic eyes and a spiritual face, and she had every committee cut and dried before her gavel fell. One of her henchwomen moved that an executive committee be appointed by the Chair which should in turn appoint the members of all other committees. Just fancy a missionary ring of that dimension! This motion was put and carried in a hurry, and the Executive Committee retired to the pastor's study to make its appointments. But in some inscrutable fashion the slate was broken, and when the report was made it was found that certain sisters had been placed upon the wrong committees.

This was not to be borne by the lovely old autocrat in the chair. Her gavel fell with a thundering thump. "This will not do at all," she calmly announced. "I wanted Mrs. Blank on the Coal Committee for the South Sea Islanders and Mrs. So and So on the committee for sending tennis blazers to Labrador. Ladies, you have mixed things up terribly. You may retire and arrange these details," and this beautiful, awful old despot actually bulldozed that Executive Committee into doing her bidding, and the society accepted the appointments without a murmur.

Often, too, does the feminine "chair" consider that her position carries the prerogative of delivering lectures upon etiquette, habits of good society and a general conduct of life. The gentle mentor pounds her principles and gavel harrows into her hearers. Sometimes, too, she drops into reminiscence and gives her history from the cradle to the grave, tells what she did under the most trying conditions of her life and cheerfully recommends a like course to her listeners.

Sometimes she launches the fiery javelins of her scorn and anger at existing frauds, sin and the public press. Then is she indeed terrible, and it is a marvel that the outpouring of these vials of wrath do not immediately purge the atmosphere of all evil and hypocrisy. In fine, the lady who wields the gavel can do almost anything well, except properly conduct a business meeting.

Testing a Trunk.

A slim-faced man with a graveyard cough was inspecting some trunks in front of a Grand street store yesterday, when the proprietor of the place appeared and asked: "Looking for a trunk, sir?"

"Yes."

"Here's the best $4 trunk ever made, and I'm the only one that sells 'em at less than $5."

"No good," replied the pale-faced man with a sorrowful shake of his head. "One of these trunks wouldn't stand the journey from here to Poughkeepsie."

"What! I'll warrant 'em to go around the world! Take hold of one and bang it about and convince yourself."

"Do you give me leave to wrangle with one?"

"Of course I do! Take right hold."

The man with the graveyard cough drew in a full breath, called out: "Sech-neck-ta-day," as if warning a car-load of passengers, and then reached for the trunk.

"Rip!" went one of the handles—"rip-rip!" went the other, and as he stood it on end and upset it and flopped it back again one hinge busted loose and the cover split in two. With a twist of the wrist he gave it a slam-bang, which completed the wreck, and, with a bow to the trunk-man, he joined the crowd and disappeared.

"Upon my soul!" gasped the proprietor as he viewed the ruins, "but I made a big mistake in him! He's a baggage master instead of a dying traveler."—New York World.

These cheap rates are not restricted to delegates, but are open to the general public. Tickets will be valid for return journey on trains leaving Minneapolis July 12th to 15th inclusive. Proper Time for Feeding.

The farmer who is up and at the barn before daylight in the winter, to give his stock a hurried morning feed, before he goes away to the day's work at mill or market, will no doubt find them requiring another feed at noon, and again another after his day's labor is done. On the contrary, the farmer who does not go to the barn until after daylight, and who feeds leisurely, adding a little more as they eat what is put before them, until their appetites are satisfied, will not need to feed again until in the afternoon, when the same course of feeding will furnish them enough to last until morning. Probably this method will keep the cattle in quite as good condition, upon less food, than would be used by the other method.

TO FIGHT THE LOTTERY.

The opponents of the Louisiana lottery are arranging to make a vigorous campaign against the constitutional amendments to be voted on in that State, which were framed in the interest of the lottery company. The initial meeting of the anti lottery people was held in the Grand Opera House, New Orleans, last evening, at which addresses were delivered by a number of prominent Louisianians, including the Rev. Dr. B. M. Palmer, the most distinguished divine in the State. Referring to this meeting the New Orleans Delta says: "It signals the opening of the campaign throughout the State. From now on the campfires will burn on every hill in the State; the sons of Louisiana will muster in every parish, in every town, to repel the foe who is striving to become their master." The lottery people are also said to be active, and it is charged that the lottery company is flooding the State with circulars offering to loan the farmers money at 1 per cent. per annum. The anti-lottery press and leaders denounce this as an attempt to bribe the farmers into supporting the constitutional amendments, the vote on which is to be taken next April.—Sun.

NEXT week we will close our forms on Thursday evening and articles or ads. for that issue must be in by noon on that day to insure their insertion.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

SUNDAY'S storm did a great deal of damage in the Illinois river belt. Both the pressure and volume of all the natural gas wells around Finley, O., have fallen off of late. AFTER all, the best way to know the real merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, is to try it yourself. Be sure to get Hood's. THE New Haven Railroad directors indicted in New York for indirectly causing the car stove tunnel accident were acquitted. SEVENTY-FIVE houses were washed away by a terrific flood caused by a clog-burst, at Cherokee, Iowa, on Wednesday. 10,000 poor children were treated to a feast of ice cream, strawberries and cake at the Madison Square Garden in New York on Saturday last to the music of Gilmore's Band. THE movement to effect a consolidation of the cotton duck manufacturers of the United States is being pushed by those interested, and it is said that the matter is now in a fair way to be settled at an early day. THE Supreme Court of Indiana has decided in favor of the teaching of the German language in schools, holding that the law is compulsory, and the language must be taught wherever the requisite number of patrons shall petition for the same. TONE up the system of your horse by using Biggs Bros. Crown Stock Food. GOVERNOR PATTON of Pennsylvania has been using the veto prerogative very freely during the past week, on bills authorizing the appropriation of State funds for various purposes, as he considers reinforcement necessary in the present financial condition of the State. THE anarchists of New Bedford, Mass., held a jollification on Memorial Day at the house of a farmer named Mastala, near that city, and John Most was present. Wednesday the children in the house found a small dynamite bomb, and while they were examining it it exploded, tearing the flesh off a little girl's hand so badly that amputation of the fingers will be necessary.

EIGHTY-THIRD Annual Commencement

Mt. St. Mary's College.

THE INSTITUTION'S MOST SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The Eighty-third Annual Commencement exercises at Mt. St. Mary's College opened Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock with lectures illustrated by experiments with Thos. S. Grasselli, Cleveland, Ohio, and James T. Rahilly, Petersburg, Va. The subject of Mr. Grasselli's lecture being Hydrogen—On the Atomic Theory and Doctrine of Equivalent Proportion, while Mr. Rahilly's lecture took up the science of "Electricity—On Electro-Magnetic Induction and its application in the Arts." The young men were prepared for these lectures by Prof. James A. Mitchell, who is instructor in both of these sciences. During Mr. Grasselli's lecture he used a balloon to demonstrate the lightness of Hydrogen, and in the afternoon the balloon was sent up in the air, and afforded considerable entertainment to the students, who watched its ascension and a bird that followed it until both were out of sight.

Tuesday evening the final contest was held for the two gold medals for elocution. The contestants were, Wm. F. Cullen, Spruce Creek, Pa.; Fernando Echeverria, Elizabeth, N. J.; Emmet L. Farrell, Blackville, S. C.; Joseph Ingoldby, Boston, Mass.; Joseph A. Malone, New York City; Wm. McConnell, Lambertville, N. J.; Lawrence McBride, Paterson, N. J., and M. J. O'Shaughnessy, Huntsville, Ala. The names of the successful competitors are given among the collegiate honors.

On Wednesday morning the graduating exercises took place and were presided over by Rt. Rev. John A. Watterson, D. D., Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, and a former President of the College, His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, who was expected to be present, being unable to attend on account of sickness. The classic grounds and buildings of the College were decked in holiday attire on the occasion, while from the flag pole on the campus gaily waved the stars and stripes, a fitting emblem for an institution that has sent forth so many men now prominent in both Church and State. The exercises were held as usual in the spacious commencement hall which was tastefully decorated with garlands of laurel around the pillars and hanging in festoons from the ceiling, with the Nation's flag daintily draped upon the wreaths. With in the railing was a bust of the late Rev. John McCaffrey, D. D., for many years President of the College, and the gift of Dr. Byrne.

During the performance of the entrance march the presiding Bishop entered the hall, escorted by the Faculty and took seats on the platform, after which the students filed in. The Bishop occupied a seat in the center of the second platform, with Rev. Wm. Byrne, D. D., Vicar General of Boston on his right, and Rev. Edw. P. Allen, D. D., President of the College, on his left, while the members of the graduating class occupied seats on either side of the same platform. Seats on the first platform were occupied by Rev. Jno. J. ADVERTISING. We are firm believers in the efficacy of printer's ink. We employ it in various ways and methods, but we only use it to tell people of the good things we have and to attract attention to us. When people once get to the store we advertise with low prices and a proper stock—this is an advertisement that strikes home, and goes farther than ink, because unless backed by facts that are indisputable, it draws but once and don't have the desired result even then. Now in the matter of low prices how is it that in a majority of cases we are below other stores? This question naturally arises. Here is the answer. We have learned the secret of making our goods at less money than our competitors. We aim to Buy them right and the rest is plain sailing. When we buy a bargain we sell a bargain.

Now, these in the main, coupled with the fact that everything sold must be satisfactory, has made us the leading merchants with sales double that of any store in Adams county. Our store is now filled with the choicest of everything and the prices make the sales.

NEW PASTOR.

Ordination and Installation Services at Piney Creek and Taneytown Presbyterians Churches.

The above named churches having become vacant in October last by the dissolution of the pastoral relations existing between them, and the Rev. W. Simonton, D. D.,—a relation covering a period of 17 years,—and the churches having jointly called Mr. Pedro Risocco, a licentiate of the Presbytery of Philadelphia to become their pastor, a Commission of the Presbytery of Baltimore was appointed to ordain and install the young brother over the churches.

This commission consisting of the following persons: Rev. William L. Austin, of Baltimore, Rev. Henry Branch, D. D., of Ellicott City and the Rev. W. Simonton, D. D., with ruling elders, Dr. Robert L. Annan, of Emmitsburg, and Dr. C. Birnie, of Taneytown, met in the Taneytown Church, June 21, 1891, and organized by the appointment of Rev. W. L. Austin, as Moderator, and Rev. W. Simonton, Clerk.

The Moderator stated that Mr. Risocco had been examined in open Presbytery upon all the parts of trial for ordination except the usual written discourses founded upon the Word of God, and that said examinations had been sustained.

The Commission then heard Mr. R.'s popular lecture on the 15th Psalm, and also his popular sermon on I John, 5: 10, as further parts of trial. Both exercises were heartily and unanimously sustained.

It was then ordered that his ordination and installation take place at Piney Creek to-morrow morning, and that he be installed at Taneytown on the morning of the day following.

The Commission met accordingly on Tuesday morning, June 23d, at Piney Creek. By request, the Rev. William M. Paden, of the Presbytery of Philadelphia, preached a most interesting and effective sermon from I Cor. 3: 21, "All things are yours."

The Rev. W. L. Austin presided, proposed the constitutional questions and made the ordaining prayer, with the laying on of the hands of the Presbytery in attendance. The charge was given to the Pastor by Rev. W. Simonton, D. D., and that to the people by the Rev. H. Branch, D. D. The benediction was pronounced by the newly ordained and installed pastor.

At the close of these solemn and impressive services, in which all present were deeply interested, the congregation repaired to the adjoining grove, where the ladies spread a bountiful repast, and a favorable opportunity was afforded for the people to meet their pastor face to face, and extend to him and his estimable wife their cordial sympathies and congratulations. The whole occasion was one of great interest to pastor and people, visitors and friends, many of whom had never before witnessed an ordination service, not excepting the ministerial brethren who conducted the public exercises.

The installation services at Taneytown took place on Wednesday morning, June 24th. The Rev. Jacob Belville, D. D., of the Presbytery of Lehigh, a former pastor of the church, and who began his ministry here 47 years ago, preached a most appropriate, excellent and edifying discourse from Acts 16: 5; "And so were the churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily." The Rev. W. L. Austin presided, proposed the constitutional questions, and gave the charge to the pastor. The Rev. W. Simonton delivered the charge to the people.

Thus under favorable auspices, the churches of Piney Creek and Taneytown are happily supplied with a pastor unanimously chosen and settled, under conditions more favorable to spiritual prosperity than in any part of their previous history. With hearty union and cooperation in all the lines of church work and life, on the part of all concerned, the most blessed results may with the Divine favor be anticipated.

It is expected that the manse now in course of erection by the Taneytown congregation will be completed in the early autumn.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

ST. EUPHEMIA'S SCHOOL.

Every available seat in the spacious hall occupying the second floor of St. Euphemia's School building, was filled on Monday evening, the occasion of the closing exercises, in fact a number were compelled to stand during the performance.

Promptly at six o'clock the first notes of the entrance march were struck, and during its performance the scholars filed into the hall, as usual. At the close of the march Master E. Pennel, a "wee tot" delivered the opening address, welcoming the audience and closing with "three cheers for St. Euphemia's." The programme was then given in full as follows: "Waves of Ocean," a duet admirably performed on two pianos by Misses M. Kerrigan, S. Hoke, M. Hoke and A. Baker. This was followed by the girls' chorus, "Quid Retribuam." "Valse de Concert," a piano duet, by Misses Kate and Belle Hann. Hoop, Song and Drill, by the Junior Girls was a very pretty feature. The little girls appeared with gaily trimmed hoops, with which they executed a number of attractive figures during the course of the song. The Chorus, "Distant Chimes," by the Senior Girls was exceedingly fine, and the rendition so perfect that the dying away of the last notes was an excellent imitation of the last vibrations of the bells. Twenty-four boys then appeared in a flag drill, and gave the audience a chance to see that they too were susceptible of training, and after going through with different figures concluded by singing the "Red, White and Blue," while Master Guy Hoppe accompanied them with his cornet. "Danse Ecossaise," a duet, was played on two pianos by Misses M. Sweeney, B. Weaver, B. Hann and M. Tyson. The Concert and Motion Song, by the little girls was very sweet and attractive. "Sweet Silver Moon," a vocal duet, was sung by Misses M. Sweeney and R. Weaver, and Miss Margt. Tyson played a piano solo, "The Sleight Ride." Miss M. Sweeney sang an "Ave Maria," after which thirty-four boys appeared in Calisthenics Exercises. The boys did remarkably well, and again little Ed. Pennel attracted special notice by his correct movements, strict attention to himself and apparent disregard of the audience.

Misses Edna Smith and Helen Tyson acquitted themselves well in the duet, "I Sing Because I Love to Sing." "Le Depart," was played on two pianos by Misses M. McGrath, B. Hann, J. Byrne and H. Tyson. "Morning Invitation," boys chorus, and "Smiles," a concert recitation by the Junior Girls, both came in for a share of applause, as did also the song, "Always Prompt to School," by Misses Alice Baker, Marian Hoke, Sallie Hoke and Mary Kerrigan. Guy Hoppe was down on the programme for a cornet solo, "Maryland, My Maryland," which he of course played well, and ended with the "Star Spangled Banner." The Calisthenics Exercises by the senior girls included a number of new and attractive movements. "Good Bye," a recitation, was given by Misses O. Weaver, M. M. Carren, B. Tyson and G. Lingz. The Preliminary were then distributed and after a few remarks by Rev. Dr. McSweeney, of Mt. St. Mary's College, the entertainment closed with "St. Euphemia's Chorus," sung by the whole school to the tune of "Yankee Doodle."

Before the Preliminary were distributed Father White announced that for several good reasons it had been decided to abandon the custom of awarding numerous premiums and those given on this occasion would be only for regular and punctual attendance. The following pupils who had not been absent more than three days during the scholastic year received premiums: Masters George Nusser, V. de P. Lawrence, Norman Hoke, Bernard Baker, Ernest Adelsberger, Eugene Weaver, Maurice Nusser, Edward Hardin and James McGrath, Misses Margt. Tyson, Bernice Lawrence, Henrietta Lingz, Mary Sagle, Mary Stouter, Etta Dorsey and Marian Hoke, and to Miss A. McCarren for Excellence. Premiums were also awarded to twenty-seven girls and fifteen boys, for regular attendance at Sunday School.

The musical part of the programme, which was the principal feature, was under the direction of Miss C. M. Kreckhoefer, the teacher, and the success in this line as well as the excellence of thorough training on the part of the scholars, reflected a degree of credit on her, that should make a lasting impression upon the audience. The exercises in Calisthenics were faultless and the recitations splendid. The Calisthenics training was carefully conducted. The programmes used on the occasion were printed on a type writer by Geo. Nusser, a pupil of the school.

During his remarks, Dr. McSweeney called attention to the delightful location of the school building and the grand view to be had from the hall on the second floor, and said that an effort should be made to have as many as possible of the visitors to Emmitsburg during the commencement season, get a glimpse of this grand scenery.

Besides Revs. H. E. White, C. M., and A. Mandine, of Emmitsburg, Rev. Dr. McSweeney, Rev. Francis P. Ward and Rev. Daniel Quinn, of Mt. St. Mary's College, and other clergymen were present.

The exhibitions of crayon work, drawing and penmanship were exceedingly fine, and comprised work that required marked talent as well as instruction to produce.

In future the school will close regularly the last week in June, as in the present instance, and open on the first Monday of September following, all who enter as pupils and do not miss more than three days during the scholastic session will be entitled to special premiums. This means is resorted to in order to stimulate the children to be more punctual in attendance, as without attending regularly it is impossible for them to make progress in their studies. During the past year type writing and penmanship have been added to the list of studies. Those pupils who have commenced typewriting and short hand have shown a diligence and attention deserving of commendation.

EGHTY-SECOND Annual Commencement.

ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY.

The Eighty-Second Annual Commencement and Distribution of Premiums at St. Joseph's Academy near this place occurred on Thursday. Rt. Rev. John A. Watterson, D. D., Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, and a former President of Mt. St. Mary's College, presided.

The presiding Bishop and other clergymen present occupied seats arranged for them on a platform among the audience. Bishop Watterson sat in the middle with Rev. A. McKenna of the graduating class at the College, and a number of others whose names we were unable to ascertain.

The exercises opened with Deilman's grand entrance march; the performers being, pianos—Misses N. Thompson, M. McSherry, F. Droogan, J. Grasselli, K. Lawler and C. Hennessy; harps—Misses M. Morris, E. Sexton and E. Kane; organs—Misses C. H. Cassard and L. Muth, during which the scholars entered the hall, and executed a Calisthenics March and Wand Drill. Each young lady carried a wand decorated with wreaths and either red, white or blue ribbon, and wearing badges to match. After going through the drill which comprised a number of pretty and graceful movements, the tri-colored wands and badges adding greatly to the general effect, and bowing to the presiding Bishop, they took their seats. Next on the programme appeared a "Greeting to Our Cardinal" by the Graduates, which was omitted, owing to the absence of His Eminence, occasioned as stated below, by sickness. Then the Overture—"Merry Wives of Windsor"—Piano Quartette, Nicola was exquisitely rendered by Misses M. Levert, S. Levert, L. Muth and I. Gaspari. "Music on the Rappahannock," recited by eleven young ladies was beautifully rendered, both in expression and gesture, and was followed by the chorus, "Lovely Night"—Offenbach, a grand piece of music. The Distribution of Premiums in the English Classes, was next in order, for Languages, Music and in the Art and Ornamental Department. Following the distribution "Der Wiederhall Von Der Ferne"—Gillet, a representation of a ball at a distance was rendered by Misses M. Shorb, M. Levert and F. Droogan, on the pianos; Misses E. Sexton, M. Morris and E. Kane, on harps; Misses C. H. Cassard and L. Muth, organs, and Prof. Gaull on the violin. The Cantata—"Daughter of Jairus"—Rheinberger, was afterwards presented, followed by the Coronation, and honors for amiable deportment and observance of the regulations of the school were awarded to a large percentage of the scholars. "Traviata," arranged by Ketterer and Durand followed, performed by Miss C. H. Cassard at the piano, Miss N. Thompson, organ and Prof. Gaull, violin. "The First Te Deum," a mingling of recitation and singing, by the graduates and chorus, the closing chords of which were inspiring, was beautifully rendered.

The Academic Honors were then awarded as follows: In testimony of having passed honorably through the graduating class, gold medals to Miss Nellie P. Skinner, of McConnellsburg, Pa.; Miss Ellen L. Silver Medals for distinguished success in the respective English Classes were awarded as follows: First Senior class, to Miss Emily Droogan, Albany, N. Y.; Second Senior, Miss Coana M. Hennessy, Eagle, Wis.; Third Senior, Miss Mary Kuhn, Hanover, Pa. A Silver Medal was also awarded to the young lady standing first in each of the respective classes.

The Valedictory—by Frederick to St. Joseph's, by Miss Ada Mosby, Warrenton, Va., was then sung by the McKenna, M. A. Bronnan, E. Stewart, J. Grasselli, K. Lawler and M. Levert; Harps—Misses E. Kane, E. Sexton and M. Morris; Organs—Misses I. Gaspari and L. Muth.

His Eminence, Cardinal Gibbons had expressed his intention of being present at the closing exercises, but was unable to attend on account of recent illness. This was a great disappointment to all, but especially to the young lady graduates, who had prepared the "Greeting" mentioned in the programme.

The musical programme was arranged under the supervision of Professor Finche of the Peabody Institute, Baltimore, but being called to Europe before the expiration of the scholastic term, his place was supplied by Professor Gaull of the same Institution, who ably conducted the musical performances throughout.

Miss Ada Mosher of Baltimore has been giving lessons in Elocution at the Academy during the late term and was present on the occasion.

In closing the record of the Commencement Exercises at St. Joseph's it seems quite appropriate to give, at least, a passing notice to the display of work done during the year by the skillful fingers of the fair students. The effectively arranged display of drawing, painting, embroidery, needlework, etc., forms in itself an Art Exhibition, which could not well be surpassed.

The oil paintings as well as crayon drawings display a great deal of talent both in design and execution and not a few of them could claim a prominent place in the gallery of professional artists, whilst the beautiful and varied specimens of painting on plush, satin, bolting cloth, celluloid, etc., exquisite in themselves, made up as they were into dainty toilet sets, sofa pillows, banners, screens, etc., presented a bewildering array of beauty worth looking at and remembering.

Besides these displays of decorative art, there were numerous specimens of fine sewing done by hand. Genuine old fashioned sewing, which recalled the good old times when the ability to ply the needle with neatness and skill was considered essential to a refined ladylike woman. The Herbariums in which the girls will carry home with them so many beautiful specimens gathered from wood and mountain side during their happy school life, were exquisitely neat and attractive, whilst the displays of penmanship, stenography, etc., prove that the course of instruction included the practical and useful as well as ornamental.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

During the heavy rain storm on Tuesday afternoon the peach orchards of Mr. John L. Sherry, on the battlefield, were somewhat damaged. A number of large limbs were broken and several old trees uprooted. On the farm of Mr. Wm. Wible, adjoining, two large maple trees were shattered and prostrated by what seemed to be a cyclone. Lightning destroyed the well-known large chestnut tree back of Strasburgh's schoolhouse, in Buchanan Valley.—Comptroller.

Children's Day Service.

The Children's Day Service at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning was according to the programme arranged by the general superintendent of Sunday School work of that church in the United States. The exercises were exceedingly interesting, especially to the children and the arrangement of the programme was such that the bible depicted as the central thought, around which the other parts clustered; all the hymns, bible readings, etc., being selected to illustrate this feature. The music was excellent and covered the greater part of the programme which included a kindergarten exercise also an address by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Simonton. The collection amounted to $10.58, and this money is devoted to a general fund used in defraying the expenses of organizing Sunday Schools in destitute parts of the country. Last year the fund raised in this way by Sunday School children, throughout the country reached the sum of $30,000.
