We know not what it is, dear,

This sleep so deep and still—
The folded hands, the awful calm,
The cheeks so pale and chill,
The lids that will not lift again,

THE TWO GREAT MYSTERIES.

Though we may call and call; The strange white solitude of peace That settles over all. We know not what it means, dear,

This desolate heart pain,
The dread to take our daily way
And walk in it again,
We know not to what sphere
The loved who leave as go:
Nor why we're left to wander still,
Nor why we do not know.

Nor why we do not know. But this we know-our loved and lost,

If they should come this day, Should come and ask us "What is lire?" Not one of us could say. Life is a mystery as deep As death can ever be; Yet, oh, how sweet it is to us, This life we live and see!

Then might they say, those vanished

ones,
And blessed is the thought— And blessed is the thought—
So death is sweet to us, beloved,
Though we may tell you naught,
We may not tell it to the quick,
This mystery of death;
Ye may not tell it if ye would,
The mystery of breath.

The child that enters life comes not As little children sent.

Nothing is known, but I believe
That God is overhead;
And as life is to the living,

Over in Waynesboro they are just booming right along, and no doubt that excellent little paper the Daily Gazette deserves more credit than it gets for the success of the factories. This week the climax was reached at the Frick Works, in closing a contract with a St. Louis company for two 100-ton ice and refrigerating machines, with the capacity of making 100 tons of ice a day and cooling 200,000 cubic feet of space. The price of the machine is $190,000. This is only one contract for one of the concerns, and they are all booming.

According to the estimates of the New York Sun, England and France will each have to import about one hundred and sixty millions of bushels of wheat, or a total of three hundred and twenty million bushels, and the Sun is of the opinion also that there will be demand abroad for American corn. It is thought that Italy will require 40,-000,000 bushels of wheat above her own production, Spain 20,000,000, Belgium 32,000,000 and Switzerland some 14,000,-000. As Russia, who has heretofore been a large exporter of wheat, this year has scarcely more than will be needed at home, the demand for American wheat ought to be active and at higher figures than usual.

JAMES BUSSELL LOWELL

FRIDAY, AUGUST 14, 1891. The Distinguished Writer, Post and Diplomat Passes Away in the House in house in which he was born.

Family friends now say that Mr. Lowell has been ill for a year. His illness began with kidney trouble, but he was not confined to the house till abouthree months ago. For the last month he has been confined to his bed. His daughter, the wife of ex-Congressman Burnett, has been with him during his illness. Several weeks ago, say his friends, he had a severe stomach trouble and, following the use of opiates to re lieve this, came a recurrence of the kid ney difficulty. Dr. Walcott states that Mr. Lowell has suffered greatly from sciatica, which has thoroughly perme ated his system.

"Why Don't You Let Me Die." Last Sunday a bowel trouble devel Two professional nurses were put on duty, so that there was never closely watched. About two weeks or more ago he became delirious, and up to Monday he recovered consciousness only at brief intervals, when he gave mem bers of his family signs of recognition He seemed to think he was far away from home, and to long to get back to Elmwood and his family. At times too, he fancied he was entertaining visitors. Last Sunday he seemed better, and the delirium left him. On Monday he appeared brighter than at any time during his long illness. Up to that time the room had been cool, but then he began to show the effect of the heat. on Monday afternoon, when the nurses changed the bedding, he suffered intensely when moved, and finally said "Oh, why don't you let me die?" These "Oh, why don't you let me die?" These words were his last, He seemed from that time to lose heart, and was in a comatose condition until the end.

A National Calamity. By his death this country loses a brilliant genius-one whose works will perpetuate his memory and keep his name standing in the front rank of the literand everywhere will his loss be felt.

Came a Great Publisher.

New York, Aug. 13.—Mr. George Jones, editor of the New York Times, lied at Poland Springs yesterday morning.

It was in 1645 that Mr. Bowen had a big hit by the publication of the "Indian Summer Reverie," which is conceded to be the most poetical of all his graver poems. "The Vision of Sin Launfal," a romance on the search for the Holy Grail, appeared separately, and in the same year the "Fable for Critics" and the first series, of the "Bigelow Papers" were published. The latter was suggested by the author's indignation at the Mexican war of 1846-7. His second series of the papers was rublished. ond series of the papers was published in 1861. During these periods Mr. Lowell was appointed professor of modern languages at Harvard university, succeeding Longfellow.

Some of his later works included "Fireside Travels," "Under the Willows," "My Study Window," "Among My Books," "The Cathedral," "A Life of Keats" and "The Rose." He also wrote many critical and biographical essays. While at Harvard Mr. Lowell distyl covers! magazines, among them edited several magazines, among them being The North American Review and The Atlantic Monthly.

Our Representative Abroad. Mr. Lowell held two diplomatic positions. In 1877 he was appointed minister to Spain and in 1880 minister to Great Britain. He resided in London until 1885. While there Oxford and Cambridge conferred upon him the degrees of D. C. L. and LL. D. In 1884 he was recalled. Mr. Lowell was married in 1844 to Miss Maria White, of Watertown. C., with a pleasure party of four young men and six girls, was caught in a sudden squall late yesterday afternoon on Maumee bay. The girls crowded into the little cabin to escape a wetting. When the squall struck the boat she capsized. Three of the girls were extricated from the cabin, but the remaining three—Lena Sanberg, Ellen Feeley and Clara Bowds—were drowned.

FEARFUL BARGE ACCIDENT. Fourteen were Killed Ontright and Thirty

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Fourteen persons were killed outright and thirty which he was Born.

BOSTON, Aug. 13. — James Russel
Lowell, LL. D., D. C. L., the poet, es sayist and diplomat, died yesterday morning, at his home in Cambridge, the house in which he was born.

Sons were killed outright and thirty more were injured at Cold Spring Harbor at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.
They were just clearing the dock on an excursion barge to return to Brooklyn when the vessel was struck by a heavy squall and dashed against the dock, It was in the midst of a terrible thunder storm, the waves ran high and some people think that the mast of the barge on which the people were killed was struck by lightning. This is not known, however.

The excursion was sent out by the large dry goods house of Geiser, of Brooklyn, for the benefit of its employes, but many other persons took advantage of the excursion to go along. In all there were about 600 persons, nearly all of whom are residents of Brooklyn and Williamsburg. The excursion had two barges, which were towed by a large tug. The excursion left Brooklyn early in the morning and arrived at Cold Spring Harbor about noon. A Scene of Terror.

The boats had barely put off from the dock on the return trip when the accident happened. All was at once excitement and confusion. Women and children were running about and screaming with fright. The sky was dark and threatening, and a heavy sea was running when the upper deck of the barge fell with a crash upon the crowd beneath. Fourteen persons, among them the pilot of the barge lay dead upon the deck when the wreckage was cleared away, and upward of thirty more were severely injured. Others are supposed to have fallen into the water.

The Barge Was Rotten. The coroner immediately summoned a jury, and after an examination permitted a removal of the bodies. The jury in its verdict strongly censured the owner of the excursion barge for care-lessness, as the vessel was found to be as rotten as punk and totally unsea-

Among the killed are the following. Robert Shuler, pilot of the steamer; Mrs. Laigerfinek, aged 40 years, of Graham avenue, Brooklyn; Miss Gatz, aged 25, of Ewen and Stagg streets. Brooklyn; Carl Schneider, aged about 45; Mr. Siho, aged 50. The rest of the dead were mostly women and children who have not yet been identified.

The bodies of the thirteen persons who were killed were brought to Brooklyn last night on a boat which landed at the foot of North Sixth street, Williams that of Mrs. Martha Seaman, of Brook-

About 175 people were injured in the accident. Most of them returned to Brooklyn on a special train.

Six Pleasure Seekers Lost.

Boston, Aug. 10.—A yachting party of nine, four men and five children, sailed from South Boston yesterday to cruise in Dorchester bay. Only three of the nine returned alive. Within three hours of the time the sail was set the boat upset, and six souls were in eternity. The names of the dead are:
John M. Burke, 46 years old; Nellie Burke, 12 years old; James Burke,
8 years old; Annie Carmody, 13 years old; Thaddeus Mauthorn, 30 years old. The skipper of the boat was John Burke, an experienced sailor. It is said the Annapolis, Md., Aug. 10 .- John Duvall, whose mind has been unbalanced by the supposition that he was about to lose his property, committed suicide by taking strychniae. He told his sisters with whom he lived that he had taken the deadly drug. Everything was done to save him, but he died in great agony.

Derwood, Md., Aug. 7.—About a dozen masked men in Montgomery county went after a resident of Derwood for alleged wife beating and administered a thrashing with stout hick-ory switches. The incident very natu-rally created a great deal of excitement. The husband, when sober, is said to be a good business man, but had been on a spree for a long time. The masked men did but little punishment, as the victim promised to do better in the future.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12.-The third convention in Maryland of the People's party or Farmers' Alliance is now in session here. Reporters are not admitted. The convention will last for two days. The convention, it is believed, will nominate Frank Brown for governor. Mr. Brown is the Democratic nominee for governor. There are about fifty delegates present, but they claim to represent a constituency which believes it can secure the next legislature. President Hugh Mitchell, of Port Deposit, presides, and Canfield Jenkins, of Pomonkey, is secretary.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 8. — On the last Sunday in August the handsome new building, Calvert hall, the future home of the Brothers of the Christian Schools in Baltimore, will be formally and publicly dedicated by Cardinal Gibbons with impressive ceremonies, and a sermon by Bishop Keane, of Washington. A life size statue of Lord Baltimore will be unveiled on that day and placed in the large niche prepared for it on the corner of the building outside. In leaving the old hall on Saratoga street, which of incendiary origin. for half a century has been the scene of the Christian Brothers' work, the oldest house of the order in the United States is abandoned. BALTIMORE, Aug. 10.—The club men of Baltimore as well as the society peo-ple generally were much surprised to learn that Sidney Frey, one of the best known members of Baltimore swelldom. who has been missing from his usual places for a month, had enlisted in the army. On the 21st of last month he entertained at the Baltimore club a number of friends and they had a good time. It now appears that on the fol-lowing day he entered the recruiting office and was accepted on six months probation. He was sent to Jefferson barracks and upon the close of his probationary period will enter the cavalry service at Seattle.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

Fagged Out "Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor

Enterprise, Believille, Mich. "I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excel lent appetite." En. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md. N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsa parilla do not be induced to buy anything else
