An Important Difference.

To make it apparent to thousands, who think themselves ill, that they are not affected with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleansing, is to bring comfort home to their hearts, as a costive condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Hurt on the Railroad.

James Riffo of this place, a repair hand on the Emmitsburg Railroad narrowly escaped serious injury on Wednesday morning. He was standing at the side door of the baggage car, looking out, when the 9.30 train came in, and as the car passed the cattle pen, near the depot, the guard rail of the pen struck him on the head and shoulders and knocked him to the ground. He fortunately fell in the gutter alongside the track and escaped without further injury than being bruised. Dr. R. L. Aunan attended him.

Good Sense!

Disease is largely the result of impure blood. To purify the blood, is to cure the disease! As a blood-purifier and vitalizer, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery stands head and shoulders above any other known specific! Its power in this direction is nothing short of wonderful. Guaranteed to benefit or cure in every case, or money refunded.

The great question of the day is: "How to keep the Irish dynamite excitement in a manageable condition." Easy enough. Give each man a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cts. The triumph of the age—Salvation Oil, a first-class liniment, for twenty-five cents.

The Brunswick Herald closed its first volume last week, and has flattering prospects for the future, having about surmounted the difficulties attending the start of an enterprise of the kind. The Herald, like the town it represents, has grown rapidly in strength and importance, and will in the near future be printed entirely in Brunswick. We wish it continued success.

An Impudent Performance.

Jim, a colored boy in the employ of the Misses Motter created a sensation on Tuesday evening by taking a horse out of the stable, without the knowledge of the family, and hitching him to a jagger wagon, that was in the barnyard, which he filled with a party of his colored friends and drove with them to a dance about three miles from town. A young man connected with the family saw the party driving down street and recognizing the horse, proceeded at once to inform the owners of the fact. Constable Hann was summoned and sent out after the horse which he found hitched at the scene of revelry and quietly took possession of, leaving the whilom triumphant driving party to foot it home through mud and snow and pay the expense of the capture and return of the horse and vehicle.

MESS. CAGE & SHEPHERD, of Alexander, Texas, write us regarding a remarkable case of rheumatism there as follows: "The wife of Mr. Wm. Pruitt, the Postmaster here, had been bed-ridden with rheumatism for several years. She could get nothing to do her any good. We sold her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and she was completely cured by its use. We refer any one to her to verify this statement." 50 cent bottles for sale by C. D. Eichelberger Druggist.

Pleasant Soiree.

On Wednesday evening of last week, a number of young ladies and gentlemen assembled at the residence of Mr. Geo. A. Oehler, near this place, where a pleasant evening was spent in social conversation and games, interspersed with vocal and instrumental music. At eleven o'clock the guests repaired to the dining room, the ladies acting as escorts, where refreshments consisting of cakes, confectionary and lemonade were served. About 11:30 the guests departed for home, after thanking the host and hostess for their hospitable entertainment. Among those present were Misses Bertie Chiz, Ella Buffington, Annie Fuss, Emma Devilbiss, Nina Morrison, Lizzie Hockensmith, Dora Harner and Mamie Ocker; Messrs. John Fuss, Harry Buffington, Howard Harner, Charles Hockensmith and Geo. M. Morrison.

Rev. Wm. Hollinshead.

Pastor of the Presbyterian church of Sparta, N. J., voluntarily writes strongly in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. He says: "Nothing I know of will cleanse the blood, stimulate the liver or clean the stomach like this remedy. I know of scores and scores who have been helped or cured by it."

The highest praise has been won by Hood's Pills for their easy, yet efficient, action.

Last week Mr. S. L. Johns, of McSherrystown, was badly bruised by being thrown from a buggy in Lancaster county.

Mr. Hofter was here several times last week with contractors for work on the Gettysburg Electric Railway, showing them the ground, as well as the maps and specifications. He says work is to begin as soon as spring fairly opens. The road will be a trifle over seven miles in length. The steam railroad to Round-Top is likely to be used as a part of the electric line.

On Wednesday last Mr. John F. Sharetts, of Cumberland township, brought a two-horse load of wheat to J. Geo. Wolf & Sons' warehouse, in this place.

Mr. Sharetts was at the end of the tongue in placing the wagon on the scales for unloading, when the offside horse became frightened and made a plunge, the tongue striking Mr. S's left leg between the knee and hip, causing a fracture and severe bruises, which Dr. Diehl, of this place, examined, after which he was taken home in a hack. Dr. Simpson, of Harney, Md., reduced the fracture. At last accounts the patient is doing well.

Scribner's Magazine for March is at hand and furnishes a bright array of reading matter. "The Water-Route from Chicago to the Ocean" is discussed by Charles C. Rogers; "A New England Kismet," is an entertaining little sketch by Alice M. Earle; Samuel Parsons, Jr., writes of "Small Country Places," giving useful advice with regard to laying out of grounds, planting of trees and shrubbery, &c. "The Wrecker" by Robert L. Stevenson and Lloyd Osbourne, is continued; Wm. A. Coffin furnishes the third and concluding paper, on "American Illustration of Today." Wm. F. Apthorp has a second article on "Paris Theatres and Concerts," which takes in "The Opera, The Opera-Comique, and The Conservatoire;" Robert Grant contributes a highly entertaining and decidedly realistic sketch, entitled "The Reflections of a Married Man," which is to run through four numbers. M. N. Forney, Editor of Railroad and Engineering Journal, writes of "Speed in Locomotives," and is followed by H. Walter Webb who describes "A Practical Experiment;" There are several fine poems and "The Point of View" embraces "The Ethics of Unloading," "Wordsworth's Arcady," "A Weak Point of the Specialist," and "Scholars in Politics."

It is sweet to live, but oh! how bitter—to be troubled with a cough, day and night. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, however, is a sure remedy. 25 cents. "I CANNOT sing to night! My throat is sore." "Of course you haven't tried Salvation Oil?" "No." "Then get it, and you will sing like the birds."

Sad Death.

News was received in town on Wednesday evening, that John F. Rhodes had been found lying dead in a field near Middle Creek bridge, on the Gettysburg road. He had not been home since Saturday morning, and his mother becoming alarmed at his absence, instituted a search which resulted in the finding of his dead body as stated above. John had been in town on Saturday, and while here indulged to a great extent his weakness for strong drink. When last seen he had started from the bridge at Middle Creek, for his home, about a quarter of a mile distant, and it is evident that he laid down before reaching his destination, and died from the effects of cold and exposure. John was a good hearted, hard working young man, and the main support of his widowed mother. His death is a severe blow to her, and the circumstances under which it occurred make it all the more deplorable. He was in the 33d year of his age. His funeral took place on Thursday afternoon, Rev. J. B. Kerschner officiating. Interment in the Lutheran Cemetery, this place.

"I HAVE just recovered from a second attack of the grip this year," says Mr. Jas. O. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days, against ten days for the first attack. The second attack I was satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" 50 cent bottles for sale by C. D. Eichelberger Druggist.

The marriage of Miss Martha, daughter of Mr. Ephraim Eckenrode to Mr. Harry Hobbs was one of the prettiest events of the kind witnessed in the Mountain church for some time. The bride, attended by her father, entered from one side, and the groom unattended from the other, meeting in the center; where, ready to perform their respective duties, waited three maids of honor, Miss Mary Eckenrode the bride's sister, Miss Aggie Arnold of Taneytown, and Miss Theresa Eckenrode cousin of the bride, and their respective escorts, Mr. George Keepers, Mr. John Eckenrode and Mr. George Althoff. The ceremony performed by Rev. Edw. P. Allen, D. D., was witnessed by a number of relatives and friends, who united with him in wishing them much happiness. A large reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents on Tuesday evening. May success attend them.

The March Eclectic leads off with an article by the Duke of Marlborough, entitled "Merry England," which seems almost a misnomer, for it deals principally with the characteristics and institutions of American life. Sir C. Gaven Duffy contributes reminiscences of Thomas Carlyle, which are fresh and rare. Articles of reminiscences appear to be dominant in this issue. Mr. Edward Dicey gives us much suggestive talk apropos of Tewfik Pacha, whom he knew well, and there is a synopsis of reminiscences concerning the late Cardinal Manning, a picturesque and fascinating personality, independent of his rank in the Church. H. B. Trail discusses "Minor English Poets," and there is a tribute to the blind poet Mars-ton, by Coulson Kernahan. Three science papers of a popular turn are, "The Fuel of the Sun," by J. Ellard Gore, F. R. A. S., "Inter-Astral Communication," by Camille Flammarion, and "Some Possibilities of Electricity," by Prof. William Crookes. Mr. J. G. Alger contributes a paper on "Women in the Reign of Terror." "The Fall of Balmaceda" is treated by an English writer resident in Chile and gives the best account of the episode which has appeared. The article entitled "Prince Bismark Followed Up" is full of interest to the reader. Among articles which might be specially mentioned is Sir Herbert Maxwell's essay on "Pleasure." There are two strong short stories, "The Four Students" and "The Ebony Crown" Several notable poems and clever short papers.

A great blood purifier for all domestic animals, Biggs Bros. Crown Stock Food.

A BRILLIANT BALL AT "PLEASANT LEVEL."

Commented.

On Friday 26th, ult., a pleasant fancy ball was given by Mrs. C. H. Jourdan, in honor of her daughter Edith's 14th birthday. Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, the occasion was one of success in every feature. The Hostess attired as "Goddess of Night," wore a dress of black silk, and velvet bodice, low neck and short sleeves, ornamented with silver stars, and on her head a silver band, mounted with an owl perched on a branch. Miss Edith, as "Flower Girl," looked very pretty in a pink dress gracefully draped with flowers, a spray, adorning her shapely arms, and a basket of roses at her elbow. Miss Flora, as "Peachoutas," looked handsome in a red costume trimmed with spangles, a tomahawk at her side, and feather crown. Miss Lelia Taney wore a beautiful dress, representing the character of "Winter," with crown of crystal, looking very pretty and attractive. Miss Laura Taney, as "Lady of the Olden Times," Miss Bessie as "Folly," and little Alice as "Gretchen," were tastefully and appropriately dressed. "Gretchen" being a particular attraction of the evening. Miss Nina Quinn, as "Girl of the Period," was handsomely attired, and sustained her character with much dignity and grace. Miss Josie Cretin, as "Evening" was elegantly dressed in blue and pink, with point back and front of Swans Down, and short sleeves finished with the same trimming. Josie was in her usual captivating mood, and succeeded in making many conquests. "The Gypsy Girl" was well represented in the person of Miss Georgia Moore, whose dark eyes were particularly visible under the handsome head gear of crimson silk. Miss Emma Moore as "April," was most gracefully attired to represent the showery month, with grasses and spring flowers, adorning her sapphire dress, not forgetting the miniature umbrellas. Miss Sweeney, as "Dawn," was prettily robed in white, a symbol suitable to the character. Among the gentlemen present were: Mr. Edgar Annan from Emmitsburg, Mr. William Speed, from Motter's Station, Mr. Lawrence Dielman, Mr. Harry Manning, Mr. Paul Corry and Messrs. Moore, Taney, Bennett, and Duran, the last mentioned, a young Spaniard from Mexico, the admired of the evening. Refreshments were served at twelve, in the brilliantly illumined diningroom. Being leap-year the ladies officiated as gentlemen. After partaking of a sumptuous repast, the delightful music was again sounded, and dancing was indulged in until a late hour. The ball was a perfect success, and all present had a royal good time. But the feature of the evening was the little dancing figure, who came in at the eleventh hour, skipping and hopping around the room, much to the amusement and delight of the company. After participating in a few dances, in which grace and dignity were displayed, she glided from the room in the same frivolous manner, leaving the company to guess who she was. Miss Edith was the recipient of many handsome presents.

Deafness Can't be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Impaired taste and smell, offensive breath, ringing noises in the head, defective hearing, nose and throat ailments, are not only relieved, but positively and permanently cured! Taken for a Crank.

A semi-frenzied delight often to possess people of strong nerves in meeting at those with weak ones. The irritability of the nervous hypochondriac is ridiculed as natural ill temper. The very genuine and distressing symptoms from which he suffers are made light of. "He" or "she is a crank!" is the cheerful sort of sympathy with which the nervous invalid meets from the unfeeling and thoughtless. At the same time no complaint is more defined and real, none has a more easily ascertainable origin when it is chronic. Imperfect digestion and assimilation are always accompanied by nervous debility and anxiety. Build up the powers of assimilation and digestion with Dr. Carter's Stomach Bitters, and nervous symptoms, sick headaches and a generally feeble condition of the system are remedied. Remember that fearful ravages are produced by a gripe among weak, nervous people. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters cures it and prevents malaria, rheumatism and kidney complaint.

The flag raising at Union School House, came off on the 23d. The house was filled to its utmost capacity. After an address of welcome by the teacher, speeches were made and readings given by a number of the scholars. Several G. A. R., men who were present also made speeches. The flag was raised while the crowd sang "Rally 'round the flag," after which three cheers were given for the flag.

The Fairfield Lutheran Church was dedicated on Sunday with appropriate and impressive services. Rev. E. J. Wolf, D. D., of Gettysburg, preached at the morning service; Rev. E. S. Johnston, of Stoystown, at the afternoon service, and Rev. H. L. Baugher, D. D., of Gettysburg, in the evening. Rev. Mr. Enders, of York, had charge of the cauvass for funds, and by the way, he is an adept in that calling. The whole cost of the church was a little over $6,000, of which amount $2,300 was unprovided for up to the date of the dedication. Subscriptions to the amount of $2,300 were raised at the meetings, so the debt has been wiped out.

The flag raising at West Fairfield School House took place last Thursday night. Although the night was dark, the school house was crowded. Mr. F. Shulley, who presided, opened the meeting by stating its object, after which the hymn, "America," was sung, and speeches were made by Messrs. G. Sites and Frank Watson, Mr. Samuel Gamble, of Emmitsburg, Mr. Kitzmiller. Mr. Thomas Winebrenner related some of his war experience. Charley Kitzmiller, a son of a veteran, made a speech, and Mr. George McClellan, of Gettysburg, and Mr. H. Moore also spoke. After the singing of the "Army Hymn," the flag was raised with the usual ceremony.

Description of a Flag Raising.

Not knowing exactly the object of so many flag raisings in our neighboring county, I accepted the general invitation and visited one at West Fairfield on Thursday of last week. I took no notes and did not know the programme, but after marching from Fairfield, I found Comrade F. Shulley of the G. A. R. Post at that place, in the chair. The exercises opened by the singing of "America," led by the Sons of Veterans, after which speeches were made, explaining the objects of the meeting. I do not remember the names of all the speakers, but most of them were from the vicinity of Fairfield. The history of the flag was given for the benefit of the school children, in which the speaker stated that it was only the emblem of liberty, used by our government to guarantee all our rights. One speaker said the object of these flag raisings was not, as some supposed, a political one, but merely to show that the flag was the emblem of liberty, the liberty of every American citizen to vote as he pleased, without regard to party. Comrade Kitzmiller said "we are raising the flag over the school houses because the common school is the poor man's university. The rich can educate as they choose, but the poor, or common people have the free school, by which their children are enabled to gain knowledge and become intelligent American citizens." Turning to a portrait of Prof. E. E. Higbee, hanging above the teachers desk, draped with an American flag, Mr. K. said he was glad to see that picture hanging in the school house, but it ought to have a companion picture, that of Thaddeus Stephens, as he was the father of the common schools in Pennsylvania. The Commonwealth owes a debt of gratitude to Dr. Higbee, as he has done more to elevate and improve the schools of the State than any other man and he wished he could see his portrait hanging in every school house within its borders. Mr. McClellan from Gettysburg came in late, but made a very neat speech, appropriate to the occasion. There were other songs and two of the Sons of Veterans recited pieces of poetry. The teacher read a selection appropriate to the occasion and afterwards he read a very humorous story. After a few more remarks by some of the G. A. R. men, which kept up the good humor, the crowd moved out to school grounds and raised the flag, while the singers rendered "Rally 'round the flag." Just how the flag raising got started I have been unable to learn, but once begun, it seems that others caught the enthusiasm, and now there are few school houses in Adams county from which the stars and stripes does not float. The gatherings are certainly very interesting and nothing seems to mar the enjoyment.
