END THE DEADLOCK.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The caucus of Democratic members of the house yesterday afternoon resulted in a harmonious adjustment of the differences which have divided the Democratic majority on the World's fair appropriation, and if the plan adopted be carried out (and there appears to be little difficulty in the way of this) congress will adjourn early next week, with the chances in favor of Monday as the day. The caucus was well attended. Three members of the Texas delegation—Messrs. Kilgore, Bailey and Anthony, who have been bitterly opposed to the World's fair appropriation clause in the sundry civil bill—without the aid of the caucus, placed themselves in a position where they might be bound by its action. Mr. Holman presided, and Mr. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, was secretary.

When Mr. Holman had called the caucus to order there was some preliminary inquiries by a few members to ascertain whether the action of the caucus would be binding, but they were apparently satisfied with Mr. Kelly's explanation that it was not intended that the action should be binding on individual members, but that it was hoped a harmonious agreement would make the caucus action satisfactory to all members on the Democratic side.

This over Mr. Kelly, chairman of the committee on adjustment of the difficulty, presented the report of the committee and entered into an explanation of the details. Mr. Kelly told the caucus that the committee had labored long and earnestly to reach a satisfactory agreement, and that it could reach no better understanding than that shown by the report. He explained the necessity for its adoption, holding that the deadlock would be broken, and that it was not agreed to. He outlined the mode of procedure planned, and begged the caucus to sanction the agreement in the interest of peace.

When Mr. Kelly had finished his explanation there were loud cries of "Vote!" There was no attempt to oppose the report, and when Chairman Holman, yielding to the cries for the question, put the motion that the report be adopted, there was a great chorus of "Ayes," while not a dissenting vote was in the negative. Mr. Holman announced unanimous concurrence in the report and the caucus adjourned, after a session of less than an hour.

The preliminary action in the direction of carrying the sundry civil bill and the Durbin bill through the house will be made (it will in all probability be carried) for the reconsideration of the vote by which the house rejected the bill. ## THE JURY'S VERDICT.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 4.—The inquest into the deaths resulting from the riot at Homestead was concluded yesterday before Coroner McDowell. The jury was out about an hour before the verdict was returned. There were no witnesses examined, the only matter being the charge to the coroner.

At 4:40 o'clock the verdict was rendered. The returned cases of the seven strikers who were killed read almost alike in each one. That on the death of Silas Wain states that he came to his death "while in the company of others in unlawful assembly upon the property of Carnegie, Phipps & Co.'s steel works, Millin township, to prevent the landing of two barges loaded with Pinkerton guards to protect said property, and being struck by a missile from a cannon which had been taken by said unlawful assembly to the Pittsburgh side of the Monongahela river and discharged by them, striking and instantly killing said Silas Wain, and we recommend that said unlawful assembly be certified to the September sessions of the grand jury."

In the cases of the three Pinkerton men similar returns were made in each case. The death of John Connors states that it was caused from shock and exhaustion due to a gunshot wound in the right arm, "being shot by a ball from an unlawful assembly on the Carnegie property which led to a battle. The threatened strike against the Carnegie officials and the Pinkerton guards, charged with the murder, were begun yesterday, and warrants were issued for the arrest of the defendants. At 11 o'clock Messrs. Brannan, Cox and Hugh Ross, the prosecuting witness, went to Aldermen King's office, on the south side, and made the information, and the warrants were issued."

Later the accused men appeared in court. Alderman King appeared in the court room and served the warrants upon the men in waiting. After listening to the argument of the attorneys, H. C. Frick, Lovejoy, Curry and Leishman, the jury was released in $10,000 bail each. A. W. & W. B. Mellon, bankers, going on their rounds.

MARYLAND MATTERS.

CENTREVILLE, Md., July 29.—The county commissioners of Queen Anne's county, Messrs. West and Wynn, today began a thorough inspection of the different long bridges in the county, many of which are reported to be in an unsafe condition.

ELKTON, Md., July 29.—The catalogue and premium list for the Cecil county fair, next September, have been made out. Many valuable specimen premiums are offered, and the programme of races is very attractive. Although the society for the last year omitted holding a fair, it is thought the exhibition this year will be far superior to any it has yet held.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Frank Brown, the wife of the governor of Maryland, narrowly escaped death from sunstroke in this city during a shopping expedition. Going to the Hotel Keim, she was assigned to a room, and shortly after her bell rang. The door, which was locked, was forced open and Mrs. Brown was found lying unconscious on the floor.

HILL, Md., Aug. 2.—Lightning killed sixteen sheep for John H. Webb, a farmer residing near Whitton. The sheep sought shelter from the severe storm under the eaves. The lightning struck the roof of the building ran down the chimney, and the sheep were killed. The entire flock, Rev. Robert Powell, Democratic supervisor of elections for Worcester county, is in very poor health and drove down town last Tuesday for the first time in several years.

PRINCE ANNE, Md., Aug. 2.—The new board of school commissioners for Somerset county, consisting of Dr. Gordon T. Atkinson, Colonel Eph G. Polk and William H. Jones, organized today, making Dr. Gordon T. Atkinson president and appointing W. H. Dashiell secretary. The main business transacted was the appointing of school trustees. The old board for Washington academy, Prince Anne, were reappointed, namely: Messrs. T. Dixon, H. Filmer, Lankford and W. J. Griffith. The schools in Somerset will open Sept. 19.

EASTON, Md., July 29.—Only two of the Talbot county officials recently appointed by Governor Brown have yet qualified, and they are William S. Dixon, inspector of oysters at Oxford, and John S. Crockett, deputy commander in the state fishery force to succeed Thomas F. Bridge as captain of the sloop Eliza Hayward, which is a guard boat for the Choptank river and its tributaries. If a survey of the Bayward is made she will probably be put out of commission, as she is old and is said to be rotten and unseaworthy. Captain Crockett will probably have one of the new state vessels.

CUMBERLAND, Md., July 31.—The Republican congressional primaries for Allegheny county were held Saturday evening. For the past week United States Sub-Treasurer George L. Wellington and Senator George A. Pearce have each been making a vigorous fight to carry the county in the district convention, which convenes in this city on Aug. 11, and the contest between them has excited more feeling than is witnessed in any other election. Although Wellington has carried six districts out of twenty-four in the county the supporters of Mr. Pearce are enthusiastic over the vigorous fight their candidate made.

DELAWARE, Md., July 30.—A cat supposed to be a descendant of the cat which bit the child of the late George H. Barnes, at Aberdeen, and scratched and bit the child's face and arm. The cat was pulled off and thrown upon the ground, where it attacked and killed a small dog. The cat was a pet of the little boy, and he went to it, having been told it was sick and was gently stroking its back when the animal turned upon him with great fury and fastened its teeth in one of his cheeks so that it had to be pulled off violently. Dr. Viridit took the spinal cord from the cat and sent it to the Pasteur institute, New York, to determine if the animal was suffering from rabies. The child will be sent also for treatment.

CAMBRIDGE, Md., Aug. 1.—Fire broke out in Handley's livery stable Saturday, and before it could be controlled it had destroyed sixteen dwellings and stores, two hotels and a bank in the business section of the city. The loss will exceed $100,000. The lot in which the fire started was full of hay, which burned rapidly, and a valuable trotting horse belonging to J. F. Barton was burned.

The flames spread to the stables of Fox's hotel, then to the hotel itself, the Maryland Central hotel, the residence of Charles M. Creighton, the Chronicle-Democrat and News offices, the millinery store of Miss Fannie Jordan, John W. Ransom's law office, G. L. Bramble's real estate office and the National Bank of Cambridge, all of which were destroyed.

EASTON, Md., July 29.—Deputy Sheriff McCall and A. G. Pascault, C. T. Connell and John H. Thompson, the police committee, who went to Worcester county in the steam yacht Benita to search for Albert Mitchell, the alleged express robber, returned today unsuccessful. The little steamboat and all hands came near being wrecked in Little Choptank river in the storm Wednesday night. When the storm was at its height and the yacht was driving before the sea in seemingly a sinking condition they were driven close enough to the barge Ella Langstaff, lying at anchor in the river, and which they could only see by the lightning flashes, to enable them to jump into the chains and rigging. McCall and Pascault were severely hurt, and the latter was found next day washed ashore on Taylor's Island, and was brought home minus smokesack and anchor cables.

CORRIGAN AND THE POPE.

The New York Archbishop Contradicts a Statement of His Holiness.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—A dispatch received here from Rome contains a remarkable statement as regards the attitude of Archbishop Corrigan toward Archbishop Ireland, and incidentally the pope in the Faribault school matter and its recent treatment by the Vatican. The statement was given out by a high authority at the Vatican. The dispatch says: "Considerable surprise has been caused here by an effort of Archbishop Corrigan to establish the inexactness of one of the statements of the pope in his recent letter to the New York bishops. After the consecration of Bishop McDonald, of Brooklyn, the archbishop of New York addressed a letter to the pope, signed by himself and some of his suffragans, saying that it had come to their knowledge that a threat had been made to the pope that a culturkamp would break out in America if the pope ventured to condemn the arrangements lately made by Archbishop Ireland of the schools situated in Faribault and Stillwater, Minn."

In his reply the pope distinctly stated that nobody had made such a threat. Upon receipt of the letter the archbishop of New York, to prove his point, collected a number of quotations from the memoirs of the Archbishop of St. Paul, and of the letters of Cardinal Gibbons, that seemed to bear a different sense, and forwarded them to Rome to the members of the sacred college, wrapped in separate packages, in order to show the pope the mistake of the pope.

But the quotations are not to the point, for in none of them does either Cardinal Gibbons or Archbishop Ireland ever say to the pope that an American culturkamp would follow the condemnation of arrangements for the schools of Faribault and Stillwater. They only allude in a general manner to a remote danger overhanging the church in America if certain false pretensions made there recently were permitted to grow.

Archbishop Corrigan's step has caused a most painful impression here, and it is regarded as an act of great disrespect to his holiness.

The work of improvements on the Water Works is now about completed, and the town has a source of water that can be relied upon in the most extreme emergency. The following extract from a letter written by J. A. Starbuck, of Yorktown, Iowa, speaks for itself: "Two years ago, in harvest time, a young man came in my store and said he had been binding wheat during the forenoon, and was so bad with diarrhoea and colic pains, that he would have to lay off unless he could get relief. I took a bottle of your diarrhoea remedy from the shelf; gave him a dose; sold him the bottle, and told him I would give the money back if it did no good. He came in next morning and said the single dose did its work so well, that he not only kept up his place binding during the afternoon, but had worked all night, and had the price of the dose I gave him been three dollars, it would have been cheap. I will further say, keep on with your good work. You cannot recommend your medicine too highly. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is one of the greatest medicines of the age; it cannot be beat. Wishing you much success and prosperity which you richly deserve, I remain, truly your friend." For sale by C. D. Eichelberger.

The Temptation.

To go out doors in rough weather is not strong, but we are, many of us, compelled to face rough weather frequently. Diseases which arise from a chill are peculiar to no season of the year. This is true, therefore there should be in the closet of every household—what? Not an unmedicated stimulant, absolutely devoid of anything but an excitant action, but a tonic and an alterative, the quality of defence against changes of weather. Hostetter's Stomach Bitter, an article of its class possesses. Not only does it relieve the complaints which it eventually cures, it fortifies the system against the bad effects of changes of temperature, fatality and too often shown in the daily form of "la grippe." It produces a radical change in the weakened condition of a system peculiarly liable to be attacked by cold, and it tends to provide against the danger resulting from an impoverished condition of the blood and a disordered state of the liver or bowels.

At a meeting of the Board of County School Commissioners on Tuesday morning, Mr. E. L. Boblitz was reappointed to the position of School Examiner, and Mr. A. B. Holtz, Assistant School Examiner.

Took His Toe for a Snake. A colored man, while working in the hayfield on the farm of Mrs. Deal, in the Swamp, Annapolis, ran his foot under the hay, his big toe protruding. ### Let Frederick County Do Likewise.

Pat's Great Wonder.

We are surrounded by dangers all the way from the cradle to the grave. "The great wonder is," as Pat says, "that after getting out of our cradle, we live long enough to reach our grave." Thousands are out of health—morose, morbid and miserable, because they do not avail themselves of the remedy within easy reach of them. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery would cure them.

Water Supply.

Owing to the temporary dismemberment of both wells on East Cemetery Hill, and an increased use of water on account of the hot weather, the Water Company on Friday notified the consumers of the state of affairs and asked economy in the use of the water. Active measures were at once taken and yesterday both pumps were again in full working condition and the supply in the reservoir is increasing. Economy in the use of water will enable the company to hold their own during the coming dry months. With a view to securing a full supply the managers have decided to dig another and larger well. The pump in the new well is to be replaced with one of larger size.—Gettysburg Compiler.

After being treated by a physician and getting no better, I took from my shelves a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The best Liver Pills; mildly giving all the benefit and none of the discomfort of other pills.

Tux opening paper in the August Eclectic is a strikingly interesting study, Greek life, by Walter Pater. The discussion of British politics by St. Louis Strachey, deals specially with that side of it suggested by the title, "Ulster and Home Rule." "Ancient Rome and Modern London," by Edward J. Gibbs, is the theme of a very interesting comparison. In the paper by a London Editor, on "Authors, Individual and Corporate," our readers will find an interesting study. Mrs. M. E. Sandford tells us about "French Girls' Schools," and Dr. Farquharson sets forth "The Case for Moderate Drinking," with the dexterity of a barrister and the resources of a scientist. Sir Herbert Maxwell is the author of a striking paper on "Speech." Arminius Vamberg analyzes the political situation in Central Asia with acumen, well supported by "The East by the West" in popular science. There are two articles in popular science, the "New Star in the Secret of the Heavens," by J. Ellard Gore. Edward Delle writes caustically but entertainingly of "The American Newspaper Press," and there is a fascinating article on "Harem Life." There is a dramatic story, and a number of short papers and poems, in addition to the more serious papers.

Lost and Found.

Mr. Pius Felix had a rather singular experience one day this week. Whilst preparing to start out on his route to gather up supplies for shipment to the city, he put his little girl in the wagon and gave her his money pouch to play with. The child opened it and saw a roll of notes, besides the silver money, and thinking it was old paper, took it out and pushed it through a hole in the bottom of the wagon. Mr. Felix started off, without noticing what had been done and did not discover his loss till he had gone several miles and was about to pay for some purchases. Concluding that the money was gone for good, he continued his journey and did not return till late in the day, when he found the roll of bills in the street, in front of his house, just where the wagon had stood whilst he was getting ready to start.
