A NEW LYRIC. BY THOMAS BAILEY ALDRICH.

Between the budding and the falling leaf Stretch happy skies; With colors and sweet cries Of mating birds in uplands and in glades The world is rife.

Then on a sudden all the music dies, The color fades. How fugitive and brief Is mortal life Between the budding and the falling leaf!

O short-breathed music, dying on the tongue, Ere half the mystic canticle be sung! Who, if 'twere his to choose, would know again

The bitter sweetness of the lost refrain, Its rapture and its pain? Though I be shut in darkness and become Insentient dust, blown idly here and there,

For having once held against my lip Life's brimming cup of hydromel and wine— For having once known woman's holy love And a child's kiss, and for a little space Been born companion to the Day and Night,

Fed on the odors of the summer dawn And folded in the beauty of the stars, Dear Lord, though I be changed to senseless clay, And serve the potter as he turns his wheel, I thank Thee for the gracious gift of tears!

A Visit to Chalcedony Park, Arizona.

BY H. C. HOVEY.

Twenty years ago a miner who had been prospecting in Arizona gave me an oblong block of peculiarly marked agate. After letting friends cut off a dozen pairs of sleeve buttons from it, I had the rest of the block polished as a cabinet specimen. It was evidently a kind of petrified wood, and the donor told me that there were immense quantities of it in the region where he had been exploring. That same region is now known as the Chalcedony Park, and was mentioned to me by the railroad officials as being one of the most extraordinary of the many remarkable localities along the Santa Fe route. Holbrook was the place where I was told to leave the cars and take a stage for the park. But there was no stage, and the sand storm that was raging at the time was such as no man who valued his comfort and safety was willing to encounter. Corizzo was somewhat nearer the park, but it was a mere watering station, with no houses nor conveniences. On stating the case to the conductor of the fast California express, he kindly relaxed his rules and stopped his solid train of Pullman cars at "whistling post 233" in the midst of the sage brush, and just at sunset. Pointing to a windmill near the horizon, he said, "That is Adam Hanna's ranch, the only house within ten miles. May be you can get a horse there; and if not you can foot it in the morning." The train rolled on and left me and my kodak alone in the wilderness.

CATARAH CURED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 1, 1888. Dr. Hartley, Baltimore, Md. In the winter of 1877 I suffered very seriously from Catarah; failing to obtain relief otherwise, I resorted to the use of your Catarah Remedy with entire satisfaction. The application of the remedy is painless, and my nose, head and throat were soon relieved. I keep a bottle in the house for use in case of a bad cold and find it invaluable.

GREEN B. BAUM, Commissioner of Pensions. DR. HARTLEY'S GREAT REMEDY is the most complete and satisfactory home treatment for Catarah. It removes all offensive odors from the breath, restores the senses of smell, taste and hearing, immediately relieves headache and prevents consumption and in the head and grippe. A Learned Walter.

At a dinner party given at George Crum's road house at Saratoga Lake, recently, a party of gentlemen, prominent in the political and the commercial world, were discussing their visit to the Pompeian reproduction on South Broadway, known as the "House of Paus."

"What curious names are attached to the different rooms," observed one of the party. "Why, there's the 'vestiarium' and the 'tablinum,' and I don't know what—too much for me!"

Some of those around the table endeavored, in a learned manner, to assist his memory, but they made an amusing failure, and all laughed heartily. One of the waiters, a young colored man from Georgia, was an attentive listener, and the merry twinkle in his eye indicated that he was amused. One of the gentlemen, who was acquainted with the waiter, said:

"Charley, just enlighten these gentlemen."

All eyes were turned upon Charley, who, somewhat diffident at first, finally said:

"Gentlemen, if it is your pleasure, I'll do the best I can. The vestiarium is simply the cloak room, and you pass through this before entering the atrium. The bed rooms are known as cubicula. There are also the tablinum, the alae, the sanctum, the fauces, the peristylum, the viridarium, the cubiculum, the bibliotheca, the triclinium, the oecus, the bethum, the culina, the larium, the hortus, and other portions. Shall I explain each?"

The amazed banqueters looked at each other for a moment, when one observed:

"Um! Um! No, I thank you; life is too short!"

When Charley Reynolds stepped out of the room inquiry was made about the young man. The gentleman acquainted with him said:

"He is one of the brightest young men in my district, is a college graduate, and can handle Latin and Greek the same as English; but, like all book-worms, he such a diffident mortal that I wonder he didn't refuse to give those jaw-breaking names. He is simply here for the season, earning a few dollars to enable him to pursue his studies next fall."

As the party rose from their two-hour-fifteen-cover-wine course dinner, a gentleman took occasion to remark:

"If there is any subject you gentlemen are not clear upon, just call in one of the waiters."—Chicago Tribune.

A Naturalist's Fleas.

A naturalist who is both an ardent student in his branch of science, and absentminded to a degree which keeps his family on the alert, recently celebrated his silver wedding. Many guests were invited for the occasion and the house was made ready for the reception of the company.

Just as the first guest arrived one of the daughters was sent to summons the father, who had not come from his study. Care had been taken that he should be reminded to dress in time, so he was all ready, and at the summons of the daughter he came to the parlor.

When they reached the room the daughter noticed that her father carried in his hand a small wooden box, and as he shook hands with the nearest guest she saw him drop it. The cover rolled off, and she gave a sigh of relief when she saw that the box was apparently empty.

The naturalist, however, uttered a cry of dismay, and instantly went down on his hands and knees in a vain attempt to gather up something.

"Have you spilled anything, father?" she asked.

"Spilled anything?" he echoed, in evident indignation over her calm tone. "I have lost fifty fleas that I have just received from Egypt!"

The effect of this intelligence on the family was nothing in comparison to the effect the catastrophe had upon the company before the evening was over, and the only thing that the naturalist said to his friends in answer to their congratulations upon his happy married life, so his daughter declared after all was over, was to ask that if they carried away any of the Egyptian fleas they would return the same to him!

THE GREAT MILITARY REUNION.

The cholera excitement has seemed, this week, to be pushed into the background, by the tremendous demonstration of military enthusiasm, which drew such crowds to Washington, that every available space was filled to the utmost capacity.

The decorations of the city were on the grandest scale and the whole display magnificent in the extreme.

The absence of the President, though a great damper to the enthusiastic participants in the festivities, did not interfere with the successful carrying out of the elaborate programme, and the throngs of visitors, no doubt, felt fully repaid for the discomforts to which they were necessarily subjected in crowded thoroughfares and insufficient accommodations.

Whether the event has any political significance or is likely to have any important influence on the turning of the political scales, remains to be seen, though public excitement is not likely to quiet down till after the great presidential contest has been decided.

We are a wonderful nation, notwithstanding our propensity to throw mud at each other during political campaigns, and are sure to settle down all right when "the little scrimmage" is over, so we feel very sure, whoever wins or loses, that the "Ship of State," will continue to ride safely over the billows and the American eagle perch as proudly on its masthead as though no demagogue had ever raised a cry of danger to the liberty of which we are so proud.

NO OTHER Sarsaparilla possesses the Combination, Proportion, and Process which make Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar to itself.

TEN RAILWAY VICTIMS.

WOOSTER, O., Sept. 22.—The Chicago express train crashed into a freight train on the Fort Wayne road at Sixteen.

The express was approaching at full speed, when the freight, which had been lying on a siding, suddenly pulled on to the main track in front of it.

Both engines were derailed and ground into a shapely mass. They were followed by six cars of the express, including the postal car, two express cars, the baggage car, the smoker, and one coach, together with five of the freight cars.

The wrecked cars were totally destroyed by fire. One coach and the sleeping cars on the express train were not wrecked and escaped the flames. It is feared the missing persons perished in the fire.

All attention at first was paid to the passengers imprisoned in the burning baggage and day coach. Two or three of them were pinioned down by broken timbers and were powerless to move.

The corrected list of the killed is: A. D. Glenn, brakeman on freight train; Algheny, J. Smith, Christine O., fireman express train; Hammond, Algheny, fireman freight train; J. D. Patterson, Beaver Falls, postal clerk; J. P. Mann, Columbiana, O., postal clerk; H. S. Allen, Columbiana, postal clerk.

Missing—Two ladies, supposed to be from Espyville, Pa.; lady and child, supposed to be from Alliance, O.

Of the injured Frank Burk, engineer of the express, James Ade, of Upper Sandusky, O., and G. Stockner, of Pittsburg, the two latter passengers may die. Five others were slightly hurt.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 22.—Passenger train No. 8, on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road, was wrecked by robbers three miles west of this city.

The wreck occurred at a small bridge which crossed a ravine. It was impossible for the engineer to see the misplaced rails in time to check the speed of the train and the coaches piled one over the other until the baggage and mail cars were completely hidden from view.

Three Pullman sleepers remained on the track, but the other cars were completely demolished. Men, women and children were piled over each other, caught in the seats and thrown through the windows of the car.

An examination of the track was made, and it was found that the fish plates had been removed and the bolts taken out and stolen from ten ties.

The dead victims of the robbers are: Frank Baxter, express messenger, Kansas City; J. Blumenthal, express guardsman, Mexico, Mo.; James Chaddick, fireman, Topeka; Edward Mayer, stoker, Topeka.

It is feared that several of the wounded will die. A reward of $1,000 is offered to the arrest of the miscreants.

VETERANS OF THE G. A. R.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The parade of the Grand Army veterans yesterday was a magnificent affair, fully 70,000 survivors of the war between the states being in line.

Nearly half as many old soldiers were in line as passed on the avenue on the historic days of 1863, and their footstep on the parade ground was a reminder of the past.

Secretary Rusk's striking figure at the head of the military department was the signal for continued applause. Secretary Noble marched with his post, the Ransom post, of St. Louis.

General B. F. Butler occupied a carriage with Lynn post in the Massachusetts department. His progress was marked by continuous applause, and his conspicuous bearing was kept continually before the eyes of the spectators.

Of the larger states the Pennsylvania department occupied the longest time in passing the commander-in-chief, fifty minutes. Ohio was a close second, followed by five minutes, New York, third, with thirty minutes.

Last night at the capital was even more brilliant than the day. Shortly after dark the multitudinous thousands of lighted windows while the parade was in progress repaired to the vicinity of the monument.

The feature of the illumination was the brilliant representations of corps badges. Seventy of these had been placed on supports at convenient distances in red, white and blue.

A fine display was shown in the White House grounds in front of the mansion. Here innumerable lights were half hidden in the shrubbery, all of them changeable in character, disappearing and reappearing in the most bewildering manner.

The illumination of the treasury building with colored electric lights was especially fine and notable, as also were a number of large set pieces at intervals along the avenue, the most conspicuous being a great arch of blazing light at the corner of Tenth street.

The Grand Army of the Republic is a representative body composed of 1,147 delegates chosen from all of the various departments, others allotted on the basis of membership of the departments and others chosen by the members of the organization by virtue of present or past office in the national organization.

After General Palmer had read his annual address at the opening session yesterday the usual reports were submitted by John Taylor, quartermaster general, reported receipts $35,960.77, expenditures $30,216.06, balance on hand $7,548.79.

The report of Inspector General John F. Pratt contained the following summary of the condition of the Grand Army at latest receipt of reports and statistics from department inspectors: Total number of posts, 7,630; total number of post members in good standing, 591,509; number of muskets owned by posts, 30,058; number of posts having rifle funds, 2,018; total amount of rifle funds, $476,505; total amount expended for relief, $310,448; total amount of post funds in hands of quartermasters, $839,370; total amount of property other than in quartermasters' hands and relief funds owned by posts, $1,342,183; total membership in good standing, 409,446.

Adjutant General Phisterer's report shows for the past year a gain of 229 in the number of the posts, making the total number 7,368. During the calendar year there was a gain in membership of 64,401; but the losses were 66,109, leaving the number of members in good standing Dec. 31 last, 408,781, an apparent loss of 17,888. This loss is said to be apparent, because in one department it was found that nearly 3,000 had been added without authority, and the returns previously made were incorrect, so that there was actually a gain of about 1,300 in the total strength of the organization.

During the year the deaths numbered 6,404; honorably discharged, 1,829; transfers, 9,490; suspensions, 34,367; dishonorable discharges, 467, and delinquents, 13,582.

Junior Vice Commander T. E. Clarkson, of Omaha, offered the following resolution. It was seconded by ex-President Hayes and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, by the members of the twenty-sixth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, and through them the 600,000 of its members, that their most sincere and hearty sympathies be hereby extended to Comrade Benjamin Harrison in the deep affliction which has kept him from our midst, with the earnest hope and prayer that his noble wife, the true and true and true, may be spared to him and to us for even greater opportunities for good.

Governor Chase, of Indiana, ex-departing commander, asked the encampment to determine the location of the encampment of 1893, as he was compelled to leave the city. He presented the name of Indianapolis.

Back to the White House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The special train bearing Mrs. Harrison arrived this morning, and the invalid was carried out in her cot to a carriage in waiting and taken to the White House.

The party left Long Lakes yesterday noon and came by special train. The change was made at the earnest solicitation of the patient, who has been suffering from rheumatism of the hip.

A Pardon for Deacon PARIS, Sept. 22.—Among the pardons signed by President Carnot in honor of the one hundredth anniversary of the first French republic, which is being celebrated today, is one giving liberty to Mr. Edward Parker Deacon, the American who was sentenced on May 26 last at shooting and killing the Frenchman Abelle when the latter threw a stone into Mrs. Deacon's apartments in the Hotel Splendid at Cannes.

Homesteaders Indicted for Murder PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22.—The grand jury yesterday returned true bills in all the cases against the Homestead men growing out of the riot there on July 26 last. There were six indictments handed down, three of which were for murder two for aggravated riot and one conspiracy. There are in all the cases an aggregate of 167 defendants, although many of these are defendants in two or more of the cases. In all of the cases passed upon Hugh O'Donnell, Hugh Ross and Elizabeth McLuckie of Homestead are named as defendants. Several of the indicted men are officials of the Anarchist Association.

Willie Tillbrook, Mayor of Emmitsburg.

Mayor Tillbrook of McKeesport, Pa., had a scrofula bunch under one ear which the physician lanced and then it became a running sore, and was followed by erysipelas. Mrs. Tillbrook gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Sarsaparilla the sore healed up, he became perfectly well and is now a lively, robust boy. Other parents whose children suffer from impure blood should profit by this example.

HOOD'S PILLS cure Habitual Constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

No. 1204 MISCELLANEOUS DOCKET. In the Circuit Court for Frederick County, AUGUST TERM, 1892.

In the matter of the Report of Real Estate consisting of 15 acres of land, more or less, situated and lying in Emmitsburg District, Frederick County, Md., assessed in the name of George R. and J. M. Ovelman, as made by Charles F. Rowe, Collector of State and County Taxes for Frederick County.

The above report having been read and considered, it is therefore this 22nd day of September, A. D. 1892, ordered by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, that the Clerk of this Court give notice by advertisement for six successive weeks in the "Emmitsburg and Cross Keys" newspapers published in Frederick County, Md., of the said report, and that all persons interested in the property described in the above Report of Sales to be and appear in this Court on or before the 22nd day of October next, and show cause if any they have, why said report should not be finally settled and confirmed.

JOHN A. LYNCH, Judge of the Circuit Court. In accordance with the foregoing order notice is hereby given this 22nd day of September, 1892, to all persons interested to be and appear in said Court on or before said 22nd day of October, 1892, and show cause as aforesaid. (Filed Sept. 22nd, 1892)

THOSE who are interested in the merits of the various cough medicines should read the statement of Mr. S. B. Walker, a prominent citizen and druggist, at Calamus, Iowa. It is as follows: "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for eight years and it has given universal satisfaction to my customers. I use no other in my family, and have never called a doctor for any throat or lung trouble. We feel that we could not keep house without it." 50 cent bottles for sale by C. D. Eichelberger.

JOSEPH WISE DEAD. Last Monday night about eleven p. m., Joseph Wise, died at his residence on York street near Pleasant street, after a short illness. Mr. Wise was well known and had many friends in this place. He was about 40 years of age and leaves a wife and an adopted daughter to mourn their loss. The deceased is a son of Mr. Emanuel C. Wise, and was a cigar maker by trade, at which he worked until last Thursday. The funeral took place on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.—Hagerstown Citizen.

RIGHT or WRONG. Which will ye have? It does seem as if some folks prefer to have the last section of the liver rather than the first. They perpetually dose themselves with purgatives totally without virtue as alternative of liver trouble. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the successful candidate for the people's choice, and yet, popular and well known as it is, there are unfortunates who keep on trying the drastic remedies of former days. It is to the intelligent portion of the public that the well known and long tried properties of the Bitters appeal. Reason should be guided by experience in the matter of medication. "The best guide to our feet is the lamp of experience." For over a half century the Bitters daily has met with the endorsement of people suffering from liver complaint, malaria, constipation, rheumatism, debility and troubles accompanied by dyspepsia. Lately it has declared itself and been thoroughly approved as a remedy for "the grippe."

COUGH SYRUP.—Yes I am tired of hearing and seeing the word; yet if you want a good, reliable, pleasant-to-take, Cough Syrup, and a large bottle for the money, ask your druggist for Dr. Fahrney's and take no other.

CAVE IN. Thursday night last the arch over Dr. T. N. Snively's well caved in and narrowly escaped carrying the rear corner of his residence to the bottom, 75 feet below. The well had been closed several years ago and was built over. The accident might have been a very costly one to life and property if some lodging rock had not stayed the foundations of the building.—Waynesboro Gazette.

HO! my sisters see the banner Waving in the sky, Are you broken-down, discouraged? Courage! help is nigh. On that banner read this legend: "Suffering women, hail! Pierce's Favorite Prescription No. 1 was known to fail. The success of this remedy is wonderful. Its record is unparalleled. It has cured thousands of cases of female weakness, irregularities, and all diseases peculiar to the sex. It can always be depended on to do exactly what is claimed for it. All the proprietors ask is a trial. That will convince the most skeptical of its wonderful virtues. Price ($1.00) refunded if it fails to give satisfaction. Guarantee printed on every bottle-wrapper.

THE HARPER'S FERRY IMPROVEMENT. The new bridge at Harper's Ferry, will be 94 feet higher than the old bridge. The tunnel they are cutting under Maryland Heights will be 875 feet long, 20 feet high, and 30 feet wide. The Harper's Ferry end of the new bridge will enter the town where the depot now stands, and will follow Shenandoah st., to Potomac st., then proceed south of the county road and the pulp mill to Island Park. The company also intends building a fine commodious depot. They have at present about 150 hands, and are pushing the work day and night. It is understood they want, or will shortly want, about 700 hands. The contractors are under bond to complete the bridge and tunnel by the first of March, 1893.—Mail.

A WRECK occurred on the Potomac Valley Railroad on Saturday evening. An Eastern-bound passenger train ran into a pile of rocks and earth that fell upon the track in a cut. The engine was wrecked and Mr. Hollingshead, the engineer, was seriously injured. This accident delayed some of our western visitors.—Compler.

THE True Laxative Principle Of the plants used in manufacturing the pleasant remedy, Syrup of Figs, has a permanently beneficial effect on the human system, while the cheap vegetable extracts and mineral solutions, usually sold as medicines, are permanently injurious. Being well-informed, you will use the true remedy only. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

NEW CORN CUTTER. Mr. Joseph Byers, of near this place, has purchased a new corn cutter. The machine cuts two rows of corn at the same time and requires three persons to operate it. One to drive the horse, and the other two ride on the machine and gather the stalks together, while two large stationary knives cut them off. This is quite a labor saving machine and is said to do its work satisfactorily.

MULES STOLEN. Two mules were stolen Sunday morning at 10 o'clock from the stable of Mr. Thomas Gorsuch at Catoctin Furnace, this county, one a gray and one a bay. Samuel Donnelly, Geo. Kitchiner and Silas Husler, all white, are suspected of having stolen the mules, as they were seen with them at Mt. Alto, Pa., Sunday afternoon. Harry Gorsuch and Charles Fraley have gone in pursuit of them.—News.

WHEN you desire a pleasant physique, one that will cleanse your system and give you the clear headedness and buoyancy of youth, try St. Patrick's Pills. They are the most pleasant cathartic and liver pills in use, and after having once tried them, we are confident that you will never be satisfied with any other kind. 25 cents per box. For sale by C. D. Eichelberger.

BETTER ORDER IS NEEDED AT THE DEPOT. Our attention has been called to the annoyance caused by the small boys who congregate at the depot in this place at evenings, and await the arrival of the train. They gather at that place apparently for no other purpose than to keep the grounds echoing with their hideous and distracting noise, and when the train arrives they rush upon the platform and blockade it, making it almost impossible for the passengers to get off without tramping on or falling over them. The railroad officials should see that better order is maintained at that place.

A POINT FOR YOU. In view of what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others, is it not reasonable to suppose that it will be of benefit to you? For Scrofula, Salt Rheum, and all other diseases of the blood, for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Loss of Appetite, That Tired Feeling, Catarrh, Malaria, Rheumatism, Hood's Sarsaparilla is an unequalled remedy.

HOOD'S PILLS cure Sick Headache. Many Strangers at Gettysburg. Last Sunday is said to have been the biggest day Gettysburg has ever had. Fully 12,000 people were landed in that place on Sunday. The greatest number of whom were Grand Army men from nearly every State in the union, who were en route for Washington, D. C., to attend the national encampment, and stopped for a few hours to take in the Battlefield. In the afternoon the One Hundred and Forty-ninth New York Regiment dedicated its monument on Calver's Hill. Col. Lewis Stegman delivered the oration, and Miss Nellie Collins unveiled the monument.

A CURE FOR CHRONIC DIARRHOEA.—Mrs. E. Gleason, of Salem, Dent Co., Mo., writes as follows: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured me of chronic diarrhoea after years of standing, when it seemed I could live no longer, I was growing so weak. I had tried several doctors in this State and several in Iowa, but they could do nothing for me. I was finally induced to try a bottle of your medicine. After using three bottles of it I was entirely cured. I cannot say enough in its praise. I wish that every family knew the worth of it as I do, and I am sure they would never do without it." For sale by C. D. Eichelberger.

A YOUNG man by the name of Charles Fisher called at Thompson's livery stable on Monday and hired one of the best single rigs. The young man represented that he wanted to Silver Run. He departed with the horse and buggy but did not return. Mr. Thompson, the proprietor of the stables, started in pursuit of the young man on Tuesday to recover the horse and buggy, which he then believed was stolen. On Wednesday a telegram was sent home by Mr. Thompson, saying that he was on the track of Fisher, who was about six miles ahead of him and making for the mountains, in Pa. Fisher is from Kingsdale, Pa., where his parents reside.—Westminster Carroltonian.
