

125 Horses Perish.

For the second time in five years the stable of Griffin & Manion, on North Eutaw street, between Preston and Hoffman streets, Baltimore was destroyed by fire Monday night.

In addition to the destruction of the building 125 horses lost their lives and 130 vehicles of various kinds were consumed.

The loss is estimated at $300,000, including building and stock, which is only partly covered by insurance.

The fire was first seen shortly after 7 o'clock. It had already made rapid headway. How it originated is unknown, but it is supposed to have started on the second floor, where the horses were stabled.

The doors at the front of the stable, which were closed, were quickly opened by persons who had rushed to the building to assist in saving the animals. When the doors came apart smoke poured out in such volumes as to almost blind the would-be-rescuers. They had attempted more than they could carry out. It was impossible to go through that fire and smoke. The draught from the open doors fanned the flames which soon burst through the entire front of the building.

The second-floor entrance and exit for horses was by graduated platforms, and when these became closed by the fire and smoke the horses had no means of escape.

It was only a question of time before all of them would be roasted. Made frantic by the heat and smoke the desperate animals plunged, kicked, screamed, and then groaned piteously as they finally fell, overcome by the flames. Every person who heard those awful signs of terrible suffering shuddered and turned away.

There were 129 horses in the stable when the fire was discovered. Of these 125 were already stabled for the night on the second floor. All of the 125 were burned. Four horses had just reached the building and stablemen were engaged in unloading them from vehicles on the ground floor when the alarm was sounded. These four were gotten out of the rear of the stable unharmed.

Mr. Barney Manion, the proprietor of the stable, owned twenty-five of the animals and he lost the entire lot. The others belonged to private individuals and were boarded at the stables. Some of the animals were valued at high figures by their owners. Estimating their losses, the total loss on stock is not far from $200,000. Many of the animals were insured.—Sun.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Mr. B. L. Burr, of Rockville Conn., has arranged to place a costly memorial monument on the ten-acre lot owned by the Sixteenth Connecticut Regiment, near Antietam battle-field. Mr. Burr was wounded in the battle of Antietam, and lay on the field forty hours.

The Shemariam Presbyterian Church near Middlebrook, Augusta county, Va., was destroyed by fire on last Sunday morning. Loss about $2,500. The church building was not insured. The furniture in the edifice was saved.

During the performance of "In Old Kentucky" at the Lyceum Theatre in Rochester, N.Y., a horse jumped over the footlights, landing in the orchestra, with both feet in the bass drum. No one was hurt.

The Louisiana Legislature, which will meet next month, will have three vacancies in the United States Senate to fill. It is said to be the first time this has occurred in this country.

The plant of the Philadelphia Distilling Company, at Edgington, Pa., was destroyed by fire Saturday. Loss $75,000. The company only commenced operations Friday.

Gov. Flower, of New York, refused an application of the Governor of Maryland, for the extradition of Charles A. Hawes, charged with treason.

A Six-Legged Cow.

Nicholas T. Hatchins, an ex-sheriff of Howard county, who is now engaged in the hotel business in Baltimore, is the owner of a strange freak of nature. It is a six legged cow. The animal is pure white. Two and a-half years ago the cow was born, and the two additional legs were then noticed, growing from the right shoulder. They are now two and one-half feet long. In every other way the animal is well formed, and is perfectly healthy. From the shoulder top the two legs put forth. One is a foreleg, which is the smaller, and the other is a hindleg. Both have well developed hoofs. On the left side of the cow is an unnatural growth, supposed to be the other part of the body of a twin animal. The ribs of the cow on the left side are perfect, and can be traced along the body, while on the opposite side they appear to be missing.

Intemperance Among Women.

There is much said about the growing habit of intemperance among women; perhaps more than the facts would warrant. If this habit exists it is owing to the fact that women are often forced to perform domestic and social duties under great physical suffering, and by partaking of liquors for temporary relief or a little protraction of strength, the habit becomes a necessity. If all ladies who suffer with the complaints peculiar to their sex, would take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, they would find nature's restorative, and the evil results of pernicious drugs and liquors would be avoided. For all cases of nervous and general debility, sleeplessness, spasms, periodical pains, suppressions and irregularities, it is the only medicine so certain in curative action that it can be guaranteed to benefit or cure or money returned.

Ahead of the Commonweal.

Honore J. Jaxon, who was offered the position of adjutant general with Coxe's Commonweal, but who declined it, passed through Hagerstown Monday, en route to Washington. His mission appears to be twofold—to present some Indian grievances to congressmen, and to write up despatches to a Chicago paper. He did not think the Commonweal would cause any trouble at the capital. Mr. Jaxon has long straight hair; wears a buttonless, pocketless, but belted French half-bred style of overcoat; carried a blanket in soldier style, and an axe. He says he has lived since his start from Massillon, a half hour behind the Commonweal, on fifty-five cents' worth of oatmeal.

The Puzzle Solved.

Perhaps no local disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most noxious and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cure of chronic catarrh by any of the many modes of treatment until the introduction of Elv's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising. No druggist is without it.

H. C. Grove, who has resided in York, Pa., for a long time, mysteriously disappeared from his home a few days ago, and no reason can be assigned for his sudden departure. He attended the funeral of his father, which took place on Monday at Littlestown, Pa., and after returning to York, he took the train for Harrisburg. From that city he wrote his wife that he would never again return, and nothing has been heard from him since.

All of the big World's Fair buildings at Chicago were sold at private sale Saturday by the South Park commissioners. L. C. Garrett, of St. Louis, Mo., bought the lot for $75,000. The purchase includes the Manufacturers' Building, Machinery Hall and the Buildings of Administration, Electricity, Mines, Agriculture, Fisheries and Transportation.

The Davidson Theatre, the first play house in Milwaukee, Wis., was destroyed by fire Monday. While the fire was at its height the roof collapsed, carrying about twenty firemen down into the blazing auditorium. Eight were killed and eight others badly injured. The loss on the theatre is nearly $400,000, and the Lilliputians Company, lost their scenery and costumes, estimated to be worth $70,000.

It is said that Coxe's army will encamp on the base-ball grounds in the Narrows, at Cumberland, Md., on April 13, and that they will be allowed the use of the grand stand. The police force will be strengthened and the sheriff of Allegany county will in all probability swear in a number of deputies.

Fate of a Coal Miner.

John Kiers, Jr., the miner who was entombed in the Bowery mine, near Frostburg, last Saturday afternoon by an immense fall of roof coal, will never be brought from the mine alive. Mr. Harvey, the mine boss, and all of the miners have given up all hope of rescuing him alive. About seventy-five men have been working double turn since the accident occurred, but it is thought that it will be impossible to reach the entombed miner until Thursday. The force now at work cannot be increased, as they would be in each other's way, but a new cut will be made from the surface at an angle of about 25°, and lots of willing hands will immediately start to work.

Tomato Culture in Kent.

With several seasons of successful tomato culture to their credit, the farmers of Kent county propose to go this year into the culture of tomatoes to a greater extent than ever before. Packers have increased the capacity of their plants, several new canneries have been added to those already in the county and the acreage has been increased, not only to meet the local demands, but those also of Baltimore packers. It is estimated that 1,987 acres will be planted with tomatoes in Kent this year, and that the yield will be 13,909 tons, at $7 a ton, making the money value $97,363, if all expectations and calculations are realized.

Fell Down Stairs.

Mrs. Mary L. Null, of Liberty, met with an accident on Monday morning, the 2nd instant, that might have resulted fatally. While descending a flight of steps she made a misstep and fell from the top to the bottom of the same. She was found in a semi-conscious condition. Dr. J. T. Simm was hastily summoned, but no bones were found to be broken by the fall. Her left shoulder was badly bruised, and she being a heavy woman received a bad shaking up. It was a lucky escape from even more serious injury than she received.—Banner.

Nigh Unto Death
Pains in the Breast—Dizziness—Muscular Rheumatism Sound as a Dollar After Taking Five Bottles of Hood's.

"C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Dear Sirs:—It is with pleasure that I state that Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. For I think it is a duty that I owe to my fellow man. In the spring of 1889 I was taken with severe pains in my breast so that I could hardly straighten myself up. I could not sleep at night and shortly after I was taken with night sweats. Lumps the size of a walnut came out on one of my limbs and also over my eye. I had no appetite and when I did eat I became deathly sick. When I would walk up the steps it would seem as though I was going up in the air about three feet and I would nearly fall over. Then large lumps the size of a hen's egg formed upon both sides of my neck. I opened them and closely followed the doctor's directions, but I grew worse and the hair commenced to fall off my head. I felt as if I did not care to live. With all my other pains I was suffering with rheumatism. Finally, I heard so much talk about Hood's Sarsaparilla I decided to take it. I took five bottles and I feel as sound as a dollar, and from that time until now I have not had a sick day. I have not felt the slightest effects of rheumatism. I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier and it will always have a place in my mother's house. Other members of our household are taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and also realizing much good from it.' Louis A. Wroe, 27 Prospect Street, Hagerstown, Md."

John Milkman Broke Jail.

John Milkman, who was confined in Centerville jail charged with stealing a bicycle, made his escape on Wednesday evening of last week, by picking a hole through the thick brick wall with a piece of iron lamp bracket, which he had broken. He then tore his blanket into strips and made a rope, by means of which he descended to the ground. The cell in which he was confined—on the second floor—is the same from which a prisoner escaped a few months ago. The former escape was made in precisely the same manner. The hole was in the same place, beside the window and between two of the horizontal bars of the grating, which are imbedded deeply in the brickwork. Sheriff Bryan is after Milkman.

cester county, one day last week. It is about five feet in length, and was found stranded on the beach by one of the crew of the Life Saving Station, who will attempt to keep it alive till summer when he will take it to Ocean City and exhibit it to the visitors at that resort.

Why Do You Live?
"I live for those who love me,
For those who know me true,
For the heavens that beat above me,
And the good that I can do."
But O, that fate would give me,
And hundreds say so too, Some safe and potent agency That would my health renew.
Of course, because then you would be more useful to your fellowmen. Well, that wished for agency is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. There is nothing that can compare with the "Discovery" as a curative agent for stomach, constipation, impure blood, biliousness, liver and kidney troubles.
Pierce guarantees a cure.

train between Frederick and Washington Junction, and was familiar to all travellers on the Main Stem. He leaves a wife and two children.

Economy and Strength.
Valuable vegetable remedies are used in the preparation of Hood's Sarsaparilla in such a peculiar manner as to retain the full medicinal value of every ingredient. Thus Hood's Sarsaparilla combines economy and strength and is the only remedy of which "100 Doses One Dollar" is true. Be sure to get Hood's.

Hood's Pills do not purge, pain or gripe, but act promptly, easily and efficiently.
Tried to Thaw Dynamite.
On Thursday last week, while thawing dynamite around the cement mill blacksmithshop, at Hancock, Md., the explosive ignited during the absence of the workmen and the building was burnt down. One can of blasting powder, 11,000 feet of fuse, 150 dynamite caps, 75 pounds of dynamite and a large quantity of oil went up in smoke.
There was no explosion. Contractor J.
H. Kern's loss is about $150. There was a flare when the explosives ignited, but no noise. Great excitement prevailed at the time.

Big Snow Storm.
The biggest snow storm of the winter fell here on Tuesday. Early in the morning it began raining and a few hours later turned into snow, which continued falling the entire day and night, and part of Wednesday, being over a foot in depth. On Wednesday morning, the roads laid in white, presented an unusual pretty appearance.
The limbs on many trees, especially fruit trees, gave way under the heavy weight of the snow. The snow storm of Tuesday is said to be the largest fallen this late in April, in the memory of the oldest citizens.

Conductor Finds $250.
Some days ago as Conductor Charles Emig, of the W. M. R. R., was passing through one of the cars on his train, near Gettysburg, he discovered a pocket book lying on the floor under a seat, which, upon examination he contained $250 in bank notes. Upon inquiring as to who occupied the seat he discovered that it was Mr. J. E. Levenor, of New Oxford.
Upon arriving at Gettysburg Conductor Emig wired Mr. E. and received a reply that the pocket book belonged to him. Mr. Emig met Mr. E. on his return trip at New Oxford and delivered the pocket book to its rightful owner, who very promptly handed the honest conductor a five dollar bill as a reward for his trouble.—Compter.

Intended as a Compliment.
Two weeks ago we had occasion to comment on an article in the Frederick Citizen of a recent date, in which it was stated that many of the farmers of this community, owing to the low price of wheat, have turned their attention to other things that promise better returns for money invested. Concerning the statement we said that we knew of no such a movement on the part of the farmers here. Last week's issue of the Citizen says we took the wrong meaning from the article, and that it was intended as a compliment to the wisdom and good sense of our farmers.

We accept the article in good faith and possibly we did look at the meaning in the wrong light, but at the same time, it evidently applied to the present condition of things, and conveyed the idea that the farmers were turning their attention to something more profitable at this time, and we would be glad to learn that such was the case.
But it is not. Many of our farmers have a dairy, raise stock, and many other things in connection with the regular farm work, all of which have been carried on for a number of years, and not being the result of the present financial difficulties. That farming of late years, in this section of the country, without other side issues, has not been a very profitable business, is too well-known to need discussion, and we hope that a brighter and better day will soon dawn on the farmer, and that industries of all kinds will assume their former aspect.

An Editor's Statement Regarding Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mr. J. J. Robinson, editor of the Longacres "Star," writing to C. I.
Hood & Co., proprietors of Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass., congratulating them on the cure of William F. Robertson, of Ocean, Md., of catarrh, when the patient was in such a condition that he often had bleeding at the nose several times a day, states that he knows the young man who was afflicted. He also writes regarding the sale of Hood's Sarsaparilla in Maryland as follows:
"I have watched with interest the increasing popularity of Hood's Sarsaparilla here for some time, and I believe it to be a remedy that stands on its merits. One purchaser recommends it to another until the whole town nearly is taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. The peculiar virtues of Hood's Sarsaparilla cause it to be in great demand as a spring medicine. It quickly and thoroughly builds up the system and prepares it to resist the dangers which are threatened by a change of temperature and by such diseases as the grip, pneumonia, malaria and typhoid fever, which are most liable to make their attacks at this season."

Organizing A Social Club.

The Rev. Father Van Rensselaer, founder of the St. Francis Xavier Club of New York city, is organizing a club at Frederick that gives promise of becoming a social power in the community. A board of governors has been elected, composed of the following prominent citizens: Hon. Frederick J.
Nelson, Dr. Edward C. McSherry, Wm.
T. Besant, Wm. M. Crimmins, Charles L. Diffendall, George I. Wilson, James E. Doll, Joseph McDevitt, Vincent Yingling, and Frank T. Staub. The club already has a membership of fifty-five, and is preparing to occupy quarters in the building of the St. John's Literary Institute. The first floor will be devoted to reading and reception rooms, and the second and third floors for billiard and pool room, and gymnasium.

McDade's Hard Luck.

Charles McDade, the nineteen-year-old son of Lloyed McDade, of Burkittsville, who fell from the Hagerstown accommodation train at Knoxville, Md., last week and had his right foot cut off, has been remarkably unfortunate.
When ten years old he shot a pistol ball through his left hand. A few years later a stone thrown into a chestnut tree by a companion fractured McDade's skull in descending. The same winter while coasting down the mountain he had his left leg broken by a collision with a sled. While coasting in burkittsville, McDade was thrown from his sled by a comrade stopping it with his foot and his skull was again fractured.
In the railroad accident he saved his life by clinging to the depot platform.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

in the gutter.

Camping Ground for Tramps.

On Tuesday afternoon, Gen. H. Kyd Douglas, counsel for the county commissioners of Washington county, appeared before that board and advised that preparations be made for the invasion of Coxey's Army of the Commonwealth in Washington county, and advised measures for the protection of farmers and citizens. The General thinks that Maryland will be the camping ground for the nation's tramps, who are gathering in the State from all points. Under the act of the Maryland Legislature, granting power to the commissioners to build a work house in connection with the jail in which tramps and vagrants are to be confined, he advised the commissioners to build a work house at once, where Coxey's men can be put to sawing wood and breaking stones.

best wishes of his friends for a successful career.

Mad Dogs.

A great deal of uneasiness has been caused in different parts of Carroll and other counties by the appearance of dogs that are supposed to be mad. In Carroll county, Mr. Harry Buchman, of near Houchville, was bitten in the hand while defending his younger brother from the attacks of a dog belonging to Mr. Peter Buchman and believed to have been rabid. A mad dog in the neighborhood of Sandyville bit two horses, some hogs and a number of dogs. The community has stood sheep-killing dogs with steady nerve; it remains to be seen how long they will tolerate rabid creatures who run amuck among human beings and destroy animals.—Star.

On Tuesday, Vincent Sebald, Esq., attorney for Hugh F. Roddy, morigaged, sold the personal property belonging to Emmanuel L. Eckenrode, and notwithstanding the rain and snow storm that prevailed, the sale was a Illustrated Lecture.

The second illustrated lecture on "A Night with the Lick Telescope," was recently given by Prof. James A.
Mitchell, in the Music Hall, at Mt. St.
Mary's College. The Mountaineer says: "This subject, which in itself is most technical and abstruse, the lecturer clothed in popular and picturesque, yet elegant language. He touched upon the various systems that have been devised to explain the motions of the heavenly bodies, showed the merits and the faults of each, and demonstrated wherein the Copernican system is the true one. Photographs of noted telescopes were shown on the screen, and analogies, comparisons, and examples elicited to facilitate a clear and vivid comprehension of the subject.
An interesting feature of the lecture were the recent photographs of the moon, which the professor had obtained especially for the purpose from the famous Lick Observatory. Excellent views of the "mountains in the moon" were shown with their deep craters and lofty peaks. What struck us most forcibly was the relative aspect of a range of these mountains as seen by an observer on the surface of the moon itself. Their various heights, positions, etc., had been carefully worked out from the calculations of the shadows of the range as observed through a telescope on the earth, and the whole had been ingeniously put together like a juvenile edifice constructed from a box of blocks, or the several parts of the fifteen puzzle. In a moment we were transported two hundred and forty thousand miles away, standing on the surface of that nocturnal liminary which we have seen so often but of which we knew so little until the professor enlightened us. We discovered, to our surprise, that this seeming ball of fire was very much like our own earth after all, and that "the man in the moon" was in all likelihood not the only individual up there.

The various physical characteristics of the moon, its heat, light, etc., were also dwelt upon by the professor. Views were given besides of the surface of the sun, most of the planets, the different nebulae, many of the comets, asteroids, and fixed stars, and the spectra of the sun, moon and planets.
The recent discovery which has created such a furor in the astronomical world—the fifth satellite of Jupiter —was shown, and its various features and functions explained. It was discovered on September 9, 1892, and is only about one hundred miles in diameter; that is, a silver dollar placed at a distance of two hundred and forty miles would appear as large in diameter as this new satellite. From recent observations made by Professor Barnard, of Lick Observatory, he determined its distance, period and other essential features. The mean velocity of the satellite in its orbit is 16.4 miles per second. This is over twenty-five times the orbital velocity of our own moon and fifteen hundred times faster than the Chicago limited express. It is by far the most rapidly moving satellite known to us at present.

In concluding the lecture, the pro
