

MANY WORKMEN INJURED.

By an explosion of gas at the Knickerbocker colliery, operated by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, near Shenandoah, Pa., Saturday, three persons were fatally and six others seriously injured.

The fatally injured are: Michael Chicoy, Charles Mojak and George Carroll.

Chicoy and Carroll were working in a breast on the second lift of the East Back mountain vein. They had just prepared and fired a shot when a terrible explosion occurred. Just what caused the explosion is not known, but is believed to have been the result of a heavy fall of coal occasioned by the blast, which compressed the gas into one of the safety lamps. Chicoy and Carroll received terrible burns and many bruises. The other men were eating their lunch in an adjoining chamber and were badly burned.

The B. and O. R. R. Company have about completed the foundations for their large roundhouse and other buildings in South Cumberland. The steel coal tipples is also nearly completed. Seven miles of extra tracks are to be laid at once, which will it is hoped, relieve the blockade of the principal streets of Cumberland by freight trains and engines, which has been a great nuisance for many years. Cumberland looks more like business than at any time since the citizens of Cumberland voted $150,000 to encourage the work. Already large numbers of dwellings and business-houses are being erected in the immediate vicinity, and if the machinists of the second and third divisions of the Main Stem and also of the Pittsburg division are concentrated there, as promised, it will not be many years before the population of South Cumberland will exceed that of the Queen City proper.

MINING TOWN BURNED.

The mining village No. 8 Stockton, near Hazleton, Pa., was practically wiped out by fire last Saturday night. Shortly after midnight flames were discovered in the house of Mrs. Michael McFlory. There was a high wind blowing at the time, and before the fire was under control twelve dwellings had been destroyed. The properties were owned by the Stockton Coal Company and occupied by these families: Thomas Burgess, Patrick Somers, Samuel McVey, John Taylor, John Mulhern, Thomas Miller, G. W. Miller, Jacob Bowman, Adam Kluck, Patrick Conagam and Mrs. McFlory. The loss is $18,000.

SNOW 22 INCHES DEEP.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. Oct. 21.—Yesterday afternoon and last night snow fell briskly in northern and western New York, and a twenty to twenty-five mile gale prevailed at many points. At Holmesville, in Oswego county, the storm raged from 10 o'clock Saturday night to 5 o'clock Sunday morning. There are twenty-two inches of snow on the level between Holmesville and Orwell, and sleighs and teams broke through the drifts with difficulty, the snow being up to the horses bodies. Watertown, Theresa, Gloversville, Nunda, Portageville, Oswego and other places report from two to ten inches of snow. At Pulaski, in Oswego county, seventeen inches fell, and a heavy thunder accompanied the storm.

ERIE, PA., Oct. 21.—Snow commenced falling at an early hour Sunday morning and continued steadily all day. At 9 p. m. the earth was covered to the depth of ten inches.—Sun.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Friends of the other candidates for the republican nomination are considerably worked up over a report that ex-Speaker Reed controlled a majority of the Republican National Committee. The report probably started from the fact that Mr. Reed was in New York in consultation with Chairman Carter and several other members of the committee. The control of the National Committee is thought by politicians to be a big thing, because it enables a candidate to dictate the time and place for holding the nominating convention. But it is well remembered that no longer ago than the last campaign, Mr. Harrison was nominated, although a large majority of the National Committee were opposed to his nomination. Tell a politician that and he will say that it was the office holders who nominated Mr. Harrison the second time, and he will add in significant tones, "he wasn't elected, either."

The executive branch of the administration left Washington in a body to-night, bound for the Atlantic Exposition. Mrs. Cleveland did not go. The party will not return to Washington until the last of the week.

If length of experience counts for anything Representative Grow, of Pennsylvania, ought to be high authority when it comes to predicting what Congress will do. He is now in Washington, and when asked what Congress would do at the coming session, he candidly said that he would not attempt to predict and that the situation was so mixed he didn't think any man could tell what would or would not be done, although he didn't see how the imperative need of increasing the revenue in order to keep Uncle Sam out of the Poor House was going to be overlooked or ignored.

Much surprise has been expressed in a quiet way by Naval officials since it was learned, through the newspapers, that the state authorities of Illinois had sold the brick battleship Illinois, which was such a conspicuous feature of the National Government's Exhibit at the World's Fair, and that the money—a mere pittance,—had been turned into the Illinois Treasury. The counterfeit battle-ship in question was at the close of the exposition turned over to the state of Illinois, to be used by the State Naval Militia as a drill ship. It has been customary in all previous cases in which the National Government has furnished property to be used by the Naval Militia of any State to consider the property as a sort of loan in trust, to be returned to the National Government when no longer needed or used by the Militia. An investigation is being made and if the result warrants such action a demand may be made upon Illinois to explain the transaction and to give up the money received.

Gen. Thomas Ewing, once a democratic Congressman from Ohio, and now a New York lawyer, doesn't take a very rosy view of the political outlook, of which he says: "It about needs a foreign war to get this country on a healthy basis, politically and financially. If we could engage in conflict, say with some great European power, perhaps the usurers would stop sending out the country's gold for a while. The democratic party is controlled by gold worshippers between whom and the republicans there isn't the least difference of sentiment on the most vital question of the day. Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Sherman stand for the same ideas in finance. What is there to enthuse voters in the battle of next year? Both the old parties will declare for gold only, and if there were some metal still more valuable and scarce they would advocate that. The republicans with better discipline and the prestige of many recent victories will go ahead and elect their candidate, whose position will be just what the shysters ask. So matters will progress, the gold combine continually squeezing the Treasury and the people continuing to get poorer, until some day they will conclude that radical remedies are necessary, and before we know it, perhaps, the country will be in the throes of revolution." Gen. Ewing is a life-long democrat, although closely related to the Shermans of Ohio, and as early as 1849 he was Private Secretary to President Taylor.

There is a difference of opinion as to Senator Sherman's object, if he had any particular one in view, in publishing at this time "John Sherman's Recollections of Forty Years in the House, Senate and Cabinet." The first impression was that the Senator was preparing to have another go at the Presidential nomination of his party, but a little consideration brought out the opinion that Mr. Sherman's manner of treating, in his book, such prominent members of his party as Grant, Garfield, Arthur, Conkling and Blaine, among the dead, and Ex-President Harrison among the living, indicated that he had abandoned all hopes in that direction. All of these men have friends in the republican party, and Senator Sherman's criticisms, veiled though they are, in some instances, would not have been made public if he had any further favors to ask of his party. Most people think the old gentleman has merely been indulging in that very human propensity of trying to "get even," which has always been dear to man, notwithstanding the trouble it nearly always makes.

SEVERITY OF THE DROUGHT.

Reports received at the Weather Bureau indicate that the present drought is one of the severest, most prolonged and general known in the United States since the bureau's organization. There are a few places which show an exception to the general condition, but in no large section of the country, unless, perhaps, in the Northwest and far West, does there appear to have been a soaking rain for the past two months or more. Where there has been exceptional precipitation, it has been confined to small areas. In some parts of the country the drought began in the latter part of July; but in most of the sections it did not become markedly pronounced until in August.

USE IT IN TIME.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

A STUBBORN WOMAN.

We read that when Jove had the ordering of mundane affairs, he promised to send rain on any day that would be agreed upon by the whole world. It was reported at last that they were all ready for rain at a certain date, except one old woman who wanted to make soap on that particular day. Women are often accused of being capricious and whimsical; but there is one point on which they will all agree—the desirability of being well, and looking well. Every woman, be she young or old, always wants to look her best; and in order to do this, it is necessary to attain that state of health which will impart a sparkle to her eye, a bloom to her cheek, and grace and symmetry to her entire form. Dr. Parke's Favorite Prescription is a panacea for all chronic "weaknesses" and derangements of function peculiar to the sex, and is beyond all comparison the great healer of women.

PEGGY STEWART DAY.

Peggy Stewart Day, commemorating the burning in colonial days of the historic tea laden ship of that name in Annapolis harbor, was celebrated with a banquet Saturday night at the Hotel Rennett, Baltimore, by the Maryland Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Col. William Ridgely Griffith presided. The officers of the Fifth Regiment Veteran Corps were special guests of the evening. Speeches were made by Colonel Gaither, Captain Allmand, Captain Ward, Dr. Stockett, Captain Neilson Poe, John Warfield, Colonel F. P. Stevens, Edmund Law Rogers, Capt. G. W. Davison, Col. Charles T. Holloway, Capt. A. P. Shutt and Ruxton M. Ridgely.—Sun.

CHAS. H. HACKLEY, a wealthy lumberman, of Muskegon, Mich., has given to the Muskegon board of education $30,000 to be used in building a normal training school for the boys and girls and $5,000 per year for providing instructors. At his death Mr. Hackley will endow the institution with $100,000.

AN order has been issued from the War Department, at Washington, transferring Lieut.-Col. S. M. Whiteside from the fifth cavalry at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., to the third cavalry at San Antonio, Texas, and Lieut.-Col. Guy V. Henry, from the third to the fifth cavalry. This transfer closes a matter that has been much talked about in Western army circles.

The amount of the operations A. K. Ward, the alleged absconding treasurer and manager of the Memphis Barrel and Heading Company, it is said, will likely amount to $300,000.

THE official statistics of the Pennsylvania mining regions show a decrease in the production of both anthracite and bituminous coal for 1894. The number of employes has increased.

FRITZ KRAMER, aged sixty years, and his wife, aged fifty years, were found murdered in their home at Hancock, Mich. Their throats had been cut by parties who killed them for their money.

FIRE in the main hoisting slope of the Oregon Improvement Company's mine, at Franklin, Wash., caused the death of John H. Glover, S. W. Smalley, John Adams and James Stafford.

GETTYSBURG, PA. New Coats & Capes.

The latest (established) idea of skilled garment workers are found in our cloak room. The swell sleeves, (mandolin, melon and leg o' mutton) the ripple and coat back, the natty lengths, tailor-made throughout, made from the newest fabrics, Boucle, Wide-wales Chevots, Mohair-knotted, Astrakans, also plain cloths, others may claim as good but they don't show one-tenth as many and not the distinctive something and besides we save you from 50 cts. to $3 on a garment, so that make, cut, style, fit and price are right.

Now about the price saving. As every garment we sell is made especially for us, we know whereof we speak when we say that contracts for the cloths were made before we got through with selling last winter's coats and at the lowest prices ever known for woollens. Contracts for the labor (a very important factor) were made, and the garments made as soon as styles were fixed in July, before the rush of the busy season when labor demands and receives the advantage and off-times, we are told, prices that at other times are exorbitant. This foresightedness, or rather keeping ourselves in touch with the foremost manufacturers in these lines enable us, not to make a greater profit, but to place the goods into your hands, (our business principle,) at a much less price than others who have not availed themselves of these early advantages.

We hold the key-note in cloth capes, rough and smooth effect cloths, trimmed and plain. We court the searchlight of ladies' judgment posted on values and styles on our cloak stock. To give you an idea of what we can and will do for you, we compare our last year's prices with this year in both Jackets and Capes.

Table with 2 columns: LAST YEAR'S $18 WORTH, FOR $14.50. Rows list various items and their prices, such as '15', '12', '13.50', '10', '12', '9', '10', '7.50', '8', '6', '7', '5', '5', '3.90'.

A suspicious disease has attacked the cattle of Wm. Watson, who lives near Centerville, Md. Two have already died, two more are apparently fatally ill and fourteen others are affected. The symptoms resemble those of Texas fever. Mr. Watson has summoned the State veterinarian to investigate the cases and expects him Friday. As yet no other cases have been reported. Should the disease spread it would be a serious blow to farmers, many of whom have lost hogs from cholera.

A Storm at Sea. Increases the discomfort of the voyage. But even when the weather is not tempestuous he is liable to sea sickness. They who traverse the "gigantic wastes" should be provided with Doan's Stomach Bitters, which quiet the disordered stomachs with gratifying speed and certainty. To the harmful influence of a tropic, malarious or too rigorous or damp climate, as well as to the baneful effects of a wholesome diet and bad water, it is a reliable, restorative, commercial traveler by sea or land, mariner, miner, western pioneer, and all who have to encounter vicissitudes of climate and temperature, concur in pronouncing it the best safeguard. It prevents rheumatism and pulmonary attacks in consequence of damp and cold, and it is an efficient defense against all forms of malaria. It can be depended upon in dyspepsia, liver and kidney trouble.

These officers, with the presidents of societies, and the superintendents of junior societies, constitute the executive committee. The tenth semi-annual convention of the union will be held in New Windsor at some date in May, 1896.

Death in Carroll County of the largest Man in the State. John Stuller, one of the most remarkable men as regards proportions that Carroll county ever produced, died at his residence last Thursday, near Pleasant Valley. He weighed 448 pounds, his height was 6 feet 1 1/2 inches, his waist measurement was 7 feet 3 inches and he measured around the chest 4 feet 8 inches. He leaves three sons and one daughter, who do not inherit their father's large proportions. Mr. Stuller was a farmer. He was a well-known resident, and when he drove in his buggy his large frame would not admit of any one occupying a seat in the same vehicle. He had been sick for many weeks and gradually wasted away until death released him from his suffering. He was undoubtedly the largest man in the State. He was in the fifty-ninth year of his age.

A Woman Burned to Death. Mrs. Zorabough, aged about thirty years, wife of Henry Zorabough, a farmer residing at New Salem, Pa., met a horrible fate last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Zorabough was engaged in boiling apple-butter. Her clothing came in contact with the fire under the kettle and ignited. When discovered, she was enveloped in the flames. Before the flames could be extinguished, the clothes were burned from her body and she was burned to a crisp. She lingered until Thursday morning, suffering agonizing pain till death came. The deceased leaves a husband and a large family of small children.

A Bad Accident. While a son of the Rev. Mr. Manning was driving a six-horse team to Frederick Tuesday, the wagon loaded with wheat, the brake got out of order on a steep hill on the Middletown road, near Bradlock, the wagon going over an incline. Two of the horses had their legs broken and had to be killed, the wagon was demolished and much of the wheat lost. About the same time a four-horse team, drawing a wagon-load of wheat, and driven by John Joy, of near Belleville, experienced a similar accident, on the Charlestown road, near the mountain. The brake block fell out, running the wagon down on the horses, and compelling them to run. Two of them fractured their legs and had to be shot. The wagon was broken to pieces. In both instances the drivers escaped injury.

Anniversary. The hospitable residence of Major and Mrs. O. A. Horner was besieged on last Tuesday night, the 22d inst., by numerous callers from friends who came to tender congratulations to the happy couple, who had reached the seventeenth mile stone on their journey through married life. As the evening passed pleasantly away, all joined in singing old familiar songs, closing at midnight with refreshments, and the best wishes of the callers for many more years as happy as those that have passed.

Mr. CORNELIUS E. ZIMMERMAN, a well-known and highly esteemed citizen of near Charlestown, Tuscarora district, died Thursday evening, 17th inst., after a brief illness of typhoid fever aged 51 years 6 months and 6 days. His funeral occurred from his residence on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, and was attended by a very large assemblage of relatives, friends, and the community in general. The services were held in Zion Reformed church, Charlestown, of which he was a faithful member, and had frequently served as an officer. Rev. S. M. Hench officiated.

A Woman Burned to Death. Mrs. Zorabough, aged about thirty years, wife of Henry Zorabough, a farmer residing at New Salem, Pa., met a horrible fate last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Zorabough was engaged in boiling apple-butter. Her clothing came in contact with the fire under the kettle and ignited. When discovered, she was enveloped in the flames. Before the flames could be extinguished, the clothes were burned from her body and she was burned to a crisp. She lingered until Thursday morning, suffering agonizing pain till death came. The deceased leaves a husband and a large family of small children.

Accident. While on their way to the house of Mr. Oliver Boyer, near Broad Run, Frederick county, Mrs. Oliver Z. Coblenz and her niece, Miss Ella Holter, of Middletown, had a thrilling accident and a narrow escape from death. While ascending a hill near Broad Run they endeavored to pass a wheel drill which Mr. Joseph C. Huffer was moving down the road, when their horses backed their buggy over a culvert and down into a ravine twenty feet below. The three-months-old babe of Mrs. Coblenz was thrown out into a pile of rocks, and was picked up by Mr. Huffer unharmed. The ladies were pinned beneath the buggy for a moment. Miss Holter escaped injury, but Mrs. Coblenz had her left arm broken in two places, and was bruised and cut about the face and head.

The Wisdom of the Past. "Twas said by ancient sages That love of life increased with years So much, that in our latter stages, When pains grow sharp and sickness rages, The greatest love of life appears."

But to retain the vigor of youth, the enjoyment of life, the blessings of a healthy appetite, and a good digestion, take Dr. Piercy's Medical Discovery and live to a hale and hearty old age. For dyspepsia, indigestion, "liver complaint" and kindred ailments, the "Discovery" is a most positive remedy. By druggists.

Flag Raising. Emmitsburg Council, No. 53, J. R. O. U. A. M., of this place, presented Washington School, No. 3, more familiarly known as "Mud College," in Emmitsburg District, with a flag on last Friday afternoon. The attendance was quite large and the exercises connected with the raising of the flag were of an interesting nature.

The exercises began by Miss Marie Freeze rendering Grant's Grand March. This was followed with prayer by Rev. Oerter. The Hymn—"God Bless our Native Land," was rendered by the school; Reading—"Learn to Love the Flag," by Miss Leona Bollinger; Recitation—by five little girls; Singing—"Maryland, My Maryland," Reading—"Barbara Frietchie."

The next thing on the programme was the presentation of the flag to the school. This was done in an admirable manner by the Rev. G. A. Whitmore, of Thurmont, who delivered one of the most interesting, instructive and patriotic addresses that has been listened to at a flag raising for a long time, and during his entire address the audience appeared spell-bound. At the conclusion of Mr. Whitmore's address, the flag was accepted on the part of the school by Rev. H. Mann, in a few appropriate remarks.

After the acceptance of the flag, the dialogue, "Tree of Liberty and Flower of Liberty," was then rendered, by Newton Sharer, flag-bearer; Tree of Liberty personated by Belva Freeze, Nettie Wastler, Nellie Bollinger, Ruth Zentz, Nina Fisher, Elmer Coffman and Charles Zentz; Flower of Liberty, was personated by Leona Bollinger, Mary Currens, Belva Black, Emma Coffman, Annie Martin and Annie Dorsey. Solo—"Flag of the Free," by Miss Marie Freeze; Address, Rev. Oerter; Singing—"Marching Through Georgia," Reading—"Freedom, Truth and Liberty," by Miss Emma Coffman; Reading—"Then Hail Dear Columbia," by Miss Belva Black; Recitation—"Little Red School House," by Miss Belva Freeze; Recitation, by three little boys; Reading—"Hail to the Flag of Stripes and Stars," by Miss Mary Currens; Address by Hon. Theo. McAllister, of Adams county, Pa.; Reading—"Our Flag," by Rosa Six; Recitation—"Hail to the Flag," by six little girls; Singing—"Columbia, Gem of the Ocean," Reading—"Glorify the Red, White and Blue," by Miss Belva Black; Recitation by Miss Mary Currens. After this recitation the flag raising took place, and during the hoisting of the flag, the school sang, "America," thus ending a very enjoyable entertainment.

The teacher of the school, Miss Nora G. Freeze, is deserving of much credit for the excellent manner in which her pupils rendered the programme, which was quite a lengthy affair, and showing that Miss Freeze was fully equal to the task she had undertaken.

The pole from which the flag floats, was presented to the school by Mr. R. F. Zentz, who is a member of Emmitsburg Council, No. 53.

Emmitsburg was well represented at the flag raising, as was also Thurmont, Graceham, Loy's, Rocky Ridge and other neighboring towns.

Peculiar Case. An 11-year-old daughter of Thomas Kuhn, of Manchester district, Carroll county, died recently from the effects of the poison of laurel or sumac leaves.

The child was attending school at the Cross Roads Schoolhouse, and on Friday last, with other pupils, went into the woods to chew the leaves of a plant known in the neighborhood as "mountain tea," of which she was very fond. It is supposed she mistook the poisonous leaves for the plant she was seeking and chewed quite a quantity of them. Before the dinner hour she felt sick, and by the middle of the afternoon was seriously so.

She was taken to her home and remedies employed without effect. Dr. J. H. Preston, of Manchester, was then summoned, but her system had become impregnated with the poison, and no relief could be afforded. She died after several suffering.

Whisker in the Gutter. Easton, Md., was thrown into great excitement last Thursday afternoon when Wm. H. Hassinger, who had just purchased what is known as the "Corner Drug Store," took several barrels of whiskey and gin from the store and knocked the heads in, and allowed the liquor to run down the gutters in streams. Mr. Hassinger took possession of the store Thursday and by this action showed that he proposed to run a temperance drug store. A great crowd gathered around the store when the incident occurred. Mr. Hassinger was known, and when the stuff was emptied great cheering was done. The temperance people of the town are delighted, and declare it one of the greatest things that has happened in the town for many years. Mr. Hassinger is from Dorchester county, a prominent Prohibitionist of that place.—American.

Accident. While on their way to the house of Mr. Oliver Boyer, near Broad Run, Frederick county, Mrs. Oliver Z. Coblenz and her niece, Miss Ella Holter, of Middletown, had a thrilling accident and a narrow escape from death. While ascending a hill near Broad Run they endeavored to pass a wheel drill which Mr. Joseph C. Huffer was moving down the road, when their horses backed their buggy over a culvert and down into a ravine twenty feet below. The three-months-old babe of Mrs. Coblenz was thrown out into a pile of rocks, and was picked up by Mr. Huffer unharmed. The ladies were pinned beneath the buggy for a moment. Miss Holter escaped injury, but Mrs. Coblenz had her left arm broken in two places, and was bruised and cut about the face and head.

Three Men Entombed. Mr. Wm. Haines, Samuel Butts and Mr. Hutzell, while digging under an over-hanging mass of earth at Shiden's marble quarry, near Rohrer'sville, Monday afternoon, were entombed in the mass by the earth, caving in on them. Mr. Haines received severe cuts and injuries. Mr. Hutzell had his leg injured. Mr. Butts was entirely covered with earth, had three ribs broken and was injured internally, it is thought fatally. He bled profusely from the openings in his mouth. He was removed to the house of his brother, John Butts, near Rohrer'sville.

A Night Adventure. Mr. Ambrose Gray went to what he thought was his own house last Friday night, in the west end of Hagerstown, but got into the house of his neighbor, Mr. William Carr. He was obliged to kick in a panel of the door to gain admittance. The noise disturbed Mr. Carr, who got out of bed, and six shots were exchanged between the neighbors. Mr. Carr thought a burglar was in the house and Mr. Gray thought he was surprised a burglar in his own house. Mr. Gray was shot in the finger and Mr. Carr was hit in the stomach. Neither of the wounds are considered serious. The houses are exactly alike side by side, and this is how Mr. Gray made his mistake.—Sun.

OUR LETTER FROM FREDERICK. Democratic Meeting—Wedding.—The Century Cycle Club. Visited Frederick Sunday Last.—Republican Meeting.—Potomac Synod in Session.

FREDERICK, Oct. 23.—The past week has been one of great political activity in our city. On Friday evening, October 18, the democrats held a large and enthusiastic meeting at the City Hall.

Candidates John E. Hurst and Chas. C. Crothers, for Governor and Attorney General, respectively, were present and made speeches. Candidate Hurst is small in stature, with grayish hair and moustache. He is a poor public speaker, though his successful business career proves him to be a man of common sense and business capacity.

Candidate Crothers is a tall, bald young man, unmarried. He said he was embarrassed by the presence of so many beautiful ladies in the galleries, especially as they had a direct view of his bald head and might infer that he was older than he really is.

Senator Faulkner, of West Virginia, and ex-Congressman John J. Hemphill, of South Carolina, also made speeches. Senator Faulkner is quite eloquent and his remarks were listened to with attention, but the wit and humor of John J. Hemphill pleased the crowd most of all. His political jokes and opposite campaign stories "brought down the house" repeatedly.

Prof. Smith was present with his cornet and enlivened the interludes between speeches with popular airs.

The meeting adjourned at 11 o'clock; very few persons having left the hall before that hour.

The wedding of Mr. Frank V. Stamb, a young merchant of this city, and Miss Fannie Murphy, also of this city, took place on Thursday last week. Miss Murphy has been regarded by many persons as the most beautiful woman in Frederick, for a year or two past.

The marriage ceremony was performed at the Novitiate, the Rev. Father Gaffney officiating.

For several weeks no soaking rain has fallen and the effects of the drouth are quite serious. Many streams are reported dry. The water in the reservoir is very low and the autumn winds blow the dust from the public roads in every direction. Ministers in the churches are praying for rain.

The Century Cycle Club, of Baltimore, made its annual century ride on Sunday from Baltimore to Frederick. A century ride is one of a hundred miles.

The cyclists began arriving in Frederick about 12 o'clock, coming in twos, in threes, fives and in tens. It was 1 o'clock or later when the last wheelman arrived.

The cyclists were, without exception, covered with dust, and until swept, dusted and scrubbed presented a sorry spectacle. Their resting place was at the City Hotel, where over 200 sat down to dinner. The street in front of the hotel, on both sides, and hotel yard were lined with bicycles of all kinds and descriptions. Little and big, old and new, sound and broken; wheels, wheels, everywhere. There were three or four ladies who made the run, some of whom wore bloomer costumes. At 2 o'clock the return journey commenced, the cyclists going out as they had come in, by twos, by fours, by sixes and by sevens. The last had taken their departure by half past three.

The usual Sunday promenaders stopped at the "square corner" to witness the novel sight of so large a number of fitting, fleeing, flying cyclists. The spectacle reminded one of birds of passage in their flight.

On Monday night the republicans had a monster meeting at the City Hall. The candidates for Governor, Attorney General and Comptroller were present and made their bow of introduction to the people of Frederick county. A vast audience greeted each candidate with applause. Colored voters and their wives were much in evidence, all of one side of the gallery being occupied exclusively by people of that race, besides many scattered throughout the hall.

Mr. Wellington made a speech confining himself to alleged frauds in the registration at Baltimore.

Dr. Hafner called the meeting to order, and Elmer Smith, secretary of the Republican Central Committee, read from a list, the names of those chosen president and vice-presidents of the meeting.

Hon. Milton G. Urner presided and made a short address, dwelling upon alleged fraudulent registration, extension of the term of the County Commissioners to six years, and reassessment.

Hon. Lloyd Lowndes, candidate for Governor, is tall and dignified in his bearing. His hair, dark naturally, is beginning to turn gray. He makes no effort at oratory, but speaks in plain, well rounded sentences.

Harry M. Clabaugh, candidate for Attorney General, is a young man, as is also Robert P. Graham, candidate for Comptroller, both of whom made speeches.

Mr. Clabaugh appealed to the independent voters to aid in putting down bossism; and Mr. Graham, while admitting that he is a young man, declared that, if elected, the office of comptroller would be faithfully and efficiently administered.

Prof. E. L. Edmonds, of Baltimore, was on hand and sang several campaign songs, in the choruses of which the audience joined with enthusiasm. The meeting adjourned at a late hour.

Mr. Charles D. Doll, who retired from the position of manager of the City Hotel on Wednesday, gave a farewell dinner to his friends and patrons on that day, at which the menu was elaborate.

Many persons, not regular boarders at the hotel, bearing of the extensive preparations for this farewell dinner, went there and partook of the sumptuous repast as guests for the occasion.

Mr. Utemble, the owner of the hotel is now manager thereof, and promises to maintain the reputation of the house as a first-class hotelery. Mr. Doll will conduct a fine restaurant on Patrick street near the old Central Hotel, in the Eldridge building which is being fitted up for the purpose.

The Potomac Synod of the Reformed church is in session in this city, the meetings being held in Dr. Zachary's church. The synod will continue in session about a week. The first meeting was held last night and was very interesting.

FAIRFIELD ITEMS. An Interesting Letter Containing all the Happenings in and around Fairfield.

FAIRFIELD, Oct. 22.—The Jr. O. U. A. M. of Gettysburg, will have a dollar excursion to Baltimore on Oct. 31. The excursion train will leave Fairfield at 6 o'clock a. m. This will be the last excursion of the season.

Your correspondent being away from home is the reason no items appeared in last week's issue of the CHRONICLE.

A large number of our citizens attended the Hagerstown Fair last week. It is said that 35,000 people were on the grounds on Thursday.

Corn is turning out about 100 bushels to the acre in this county, and sells for 30 cents per bushel at our station.

Last week Messrs. Walter and Lower brought 480 head of cattle from Virginia. On last Thursday they sold 135 head of feeders. What C. H. Walter does not know about cattle is not worth knowing.

Mr. John Irwin, of Liberty township, is having his house painted. Mr. Henry Keener is doing the work.

James Dixon Post, 83. G. A. R., of Fairfield, will hold their first monthly bean soup on the first Saturday night of November. All are cordially invited to help to eat the army bean.

Mr. Harvey Musselman, of this place, one of our school teachers, who was thrown out of his buggy sometime ago, is about again and is able to take charge of his school.

Mrs. F. Shulley and daughter, Miss Lottie, are visiting at Glenwood Mills, and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Butt.

Mr. George and family are the guests of Mr. John Carson, at Fountain Dale.

Mr. John Slate, of this place, one of our weather prognosticators, says we will have rain this week. Guess work does well here and when it hits.

Mr. Jacob Hare and son, Simon, of this place, have put a new roof on the west Fairfield School House.

Mr. Harry Musselman, who is attending College at Gettysburg, came home last Saturday.

A great many cattle are being fed for the market. Outlook for spring sales. Do not be surprised if prices are lower next spring than when the cattle were purchased this fall. Corn is cheap. Nothing ventured, nothing made.

Mr. C. A. Spangler, of Fairfield, is having his house painted. Mr. Keener and Mr. Elmer Mondorf are doing the work.

Dr. Scott has put a neat wire fence in front of his house.

Mr. Emert Hartzel, of Fairfield, has his new work shop about completed. He has put a new engine in the shop. He will soon have everything just right. He is one of our enterprising mechanics.

Quite a number of Gettysburg boys were at this place last week to gather chestnuts. They are very plentiful in the mountain.

Mr. A. R. Longanecker, of the Gettysburg College, was in Fairfield last Sunday. He opened the Junior Endeavor meeting in the afternoon.
