

PENNSYLVANIA SENATORSHIP.

There is more than one reason to believe that Mr. Quay himself is ready to quit the field, says the Philadelphia Press (republican), but that he is held by those who have for years hung upon him; who have nothing else to hang upon; who could not themselves agree upon a candidate to be supported with Mr. Quay out of the contest, and who would be certain to go to pieces at once. These people want to possess and control the Quay machine, of which they have been such a considerable part, and they are holding Mr. Quay in a hopeless and helpless position. Their necessities are such that they prefer the Legislature should adjourn rather than electing a Senator rather than have any one but Mr. Quay chosen. They are keeping together a number of deluded people who are not permitted to understand the real depths of the situation.

The present interest of this combination, which has done nothing but discredit the party, is prompted by certain members who, through one allurement or another, have been voting for Mr. Quay. Having turned their backs on their constituents, with nothing more to hope from in their districts, they are in the deplorable condition of believing that their only hope for themselves is in keeping the machine together. Many of them are wrong in this, because it is not altogether too late for them to get in accord with their constituents and help in the election of a republican Senator who would honor and distinguish the State. There is no black flag save the black flag of the machine.

IN ITS ADVANCE and chronic catarrh from a cold in the head is known as Nasal Catarrh and is the recognized source of other diseases. Having stood the test of continued successful use, Ely's Cream Balm is recognized as a specific for membranous disease in the nasal passages, and you make a great mistake in not resorting to this treatment in your own case. To test it a trial size for 10 cents or the large for 50 cents is mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York. Druggists keep it.

THE BIG PULP MILL.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., April 2.—The new pulp mill to be erected by the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company in Greenbrier county, is to be the largest in the world, and its plant will cost one and a half million dollars. The directors of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad held a meeting recently in New York and decided to build 110 miles of branch railroad for the accommodation of the big plant, the terminus of which will be at Caldwell, a station on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. It is not the intention to abandon the mill at Luke, Md., but the new one will be much the larger of the two and will be devoted to the manufacture of fine book paper. Already a force of 100 men are engaged in cutting wood in order to have a full supply of material ready when the plant is completed. It is a part of the plan to build a town where the mill is located and a large amount of desirable property will be at once laid off in town lots.

ASK EAR ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE. A powder to be shaken into your shoes. It cures Corns, Bunions, Swollen and Sore Feet. At all druggists and shoe stores. See Sample mailed FREE. Address, Allen S. Dimsted, Lowell, N. Y.

THERE is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

BOSTON'S WHITE HOUSE.

Massachusetts is one of the States that may have a White House for its Governor. This is somewhat of an innovation, says the Brooklyn Eagle, and it is less imperative that a State should have an executive mansion—the idea of a mansion being executive!—than that the nation should have one, because it is safe to say that in any one of our States the Governor does not, because he cannot, live at a greater distance than a day's ride from his capital, whereas our President may have to travel 3,000 miles from his town in order to reach the White House, and it is, therefore, hardly possible for him to go home to sleep. Even if the Governor of Massachusetts lived among the Berkshire Hills on the remotest confines of his territory, he could on a pinch get into Boston in three hours. But the proposition in this instance is wise for a different reason; it proposes to clear away some of the commonplace houses that cluster about the State capitol and secure a proper space around it before the Governor's mansion is put up. Thus the erection of this house is made a part of a scheme for a wider improvement than is contemplated merely in the building of the house. If it is decided to carry these improvements into effect it may and should encourage other States and cities to undertake a similar change in public properties that need it.

THE SEARCH IS ENDED.

Search in the ruins of the burned Windsor Hotel, New York City, ended Monday. Inspectors of the building department were ordered back to their regular posts and the laborers were discharged. The contractor in charge of the work said that every bit of the debris had been turned over and that all parts of the ruins had been ransacked for bones and property. He says he thinks there is no human remnant left in the ruins. The total of the known dead now numbers forty-five and several persons are still missing. Miss Helen Gould was on Monday presented, with a fire badge, which will permit her to go inside the fire lines anywhere in the city. The badge was given in recognition of her service to the victims of the fire disaster, her home being on an opposite corner. Memorial services were held in the Church of the Heavenly Rest for the dead of the Windsor Hotel fire. The church was filled with friends and relatives of persons who perished in the fire, and was decorated with flowers. Rev. D. Parker Morgan, rector of the church, officiated, with the full surpliced choir of the church. Although none of the bodies was brought to the church, the services being intended for all the dead of the fire, the regular office of the dead was spoken and sung. Bodies of the unidentified dead will be buried in Sleepy Hollow Cemetery, Tarrytown.

CHICAGO DEMOCRATIC.

Local elections were held Tuesday in Illinois, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri, Colorado and Texas. In Chicago Carter H. Harrison was re-elected mayor by 39,610 plurality over his republican opponent. A republican was elected mayor of Lincoln, Neb., the home of Hon. William J. Bryan. Henry W. Johnson, democrat, was elected mayor of Denver, Col. Municipal elections in Texas showed the usual vote for democratic candidates. Late returns from the election in Michigan on Monday indicate that the democrats gained in the cities, while the republicans held their own throughout the country districts.

MUST DECIDE AT ONCE.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The Cuban Assembly must speedily decide whether it will accept the proposition of the United States government to pay $3,000,000 to the Cuban troops. It was said today that the entire matter is in the hands of Secretary Alger. If the master rolls of the Cuban army are not promptly surrendered by the Assembly, General Brooke will order the $3,000,000 returned to the United States. Probably the government will also cease giving rations to the Cuban soldiers in view of the refusal of their officers, as represented by the Cuban Assembly, to accept the terms offered this government.

THE NAMING OF A BATTLESHIP.

A dispatch from Washington says that a long petition has been received at the Navy Department from citizens and officials of Pennsylvania requesting that one of the protected cruisers authorized by the last naval appropriation bill be named the "Gettysburg," in remembrance of the great battle. Secretary Long will take the matter under consideration.

There is already a strong demand, with the probability of its being granted, that one of the three battleships authorized in this bill be named the "Pennsylvania."

The Navy Department has been besieged again and again to recognize the claims of the Keystone State for distinction along this line, but for one reason or another other States West and South have been favored. It is understood, however, that Pennsylvania will finally be given recognition and that one of the magnificent 13,500 ton sea-going battleships will be named after her.

PRESIDENT HARPER, of the University of Chicago, makes this month's contribution to the discussion of the educational question which The Cosmopolitan magazine has been conducting during the past two years.

The Cosmopolitan's title "Modern College Education—Does it Educate in the Broadest and Most Liberal Sense of the Term?" is not used as President Harper's theme. He confines himself rather to the consideration of the relations which universities bear to our republic and to the people. President Harper is one of the men who seem to desire to take broad and liberal views of the subject of education.

WONDERFUL ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

James Murphy, aged thirty-nine years, employed at Ocean mine No. 1 as a miner, sat down in the middle of the railroad track in the old Cumberland yard Sunday night and was run over by a yard engine. His skull was fractured and his body badly bruised, but he will recover. He was almost flattened out by the ash pan scraping over him. He also cleared the tender, the engine passing some feet beyond him. His escape from death is regarded as wonderful.

HIS COAT ON FIRE.

Mr. Cyrus Grossnickle, near Taylorsville, Carroll county, lost fifteen dollars in money, several checks and some valuable papers in a singular manner on Saturday. He was burning the dead grass from a meadow, and, taking off his coat, threw it on a bundle of straw. The straw took fire, and before Mr. Grossnickle's attention was called to it his coat was nearly destroyed by the flames. His pocketbook, which was in one of his pockets, and contained the money and papers, was charred. The money was in $5 notes, a small corner of each of which is still intact.

SUICIDE BY LAUDANUM.

Julia Keller, the 17-year-old daughter of Jacob Keller, of Borden mines, Frostburg, drank an ounce of laudanum and died from the effects of the drug at 8 o'clock. She had been melancholy for some time past. She went to the home of her sister, Mrs. Edward Kight, on Orman street, where she took the laudanum. Mrs. Kight asked her what she intended to do with it. She replied that she would show her what she would do with it, and drank the laudanum. The girl's father arrived at the home of his daughter a few minutes after Julia had taken the laudanum and sent for a physician, who was unable to save the life of the girl.

FUTURE OF THE BICYCLE.

It is agreed by all bicycle manufacturers that the 1899 models represent the perfect wheel. Improvement seems to be impossible. Precisely the same thing is true of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It represents the limits of science in overcoming disease, and it is impossible to make a better medicine for the stomach, liver, kidneys and blood. A few doses of the Bitters will start weak, nervous and bloodless people on the road to strength. A regular course of treatment will bring back the pink to the cheeks and sparkle to the eye. Sleep will come naturally, and it will be refreshing and healthful. Dyspepsia, indigestion and constipation will be completely banished, and the blessings of true health bestowed. Never take a substitute for this perfect remedy.

DEATH OF LITTLE RALPH.

Ralph, the ten months old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Lings, died at the home of his parents in Chicago, Ill., on Saturday, March 25, 1899, at 11:50 p. m. His body was taken to La Salle, Ill., on Monday, March 27, from the home of his parents, 310 E. 40th Street. The funeral took place on Tuesday from the residence of Mrs. Lings' mother, Mrs. Catherine Molloy, corner of 7th and Cross Streets, at St. Patrick's Church, thence to St. Vincent's Cemetery, where the interment was made. Mr. Lings is a son of Mr. Henry Lings, of near this place.

CHILD CALDED.

Saturday evening James Wrightson, aged four years, son of Mr. Frank G. Wrightson, of Easton, Md., fell into a boiler of boiling hot water in the kitchen of Mr. Wrightson's residence and was very seriously scalded. It was feared at first the injuries might prove fatal, but, while not out of danger, the case is progressing favorably. It is noteworthy that the brave little fellow has endured his sufferings without a whimper, and even maintains a remarkable degree of cheerfulness.

NEW REFORMED CHURCH.

At the annual congregational meeting of the Reformed Church, of Frederick, on Monday, the board of directors were authorized to donate $10,000 to Grace Reformed Church, of Frederick city, when the congregation succeeds in raising $5,000, to be used in that city. The Grace Reformed Church, with Rev. E. L. McLean, pastor was organized about a year ago, as it was found the congregation was growing too large for the old church. The new congregation has been conducting services in the Sunday school building of the Reformed Church, but will now proceed to collect funds to build an edifice of their own.

MISS TAPMAN'S VERDICT.

At Salisbury, Md., on Monday morning a few minutes after court was called Mr. Joshua W. Miles, counsel for the defense in the breach-of-promise suit of Mrs. Emma Tapman against the firm of J. Lewis submitted his case to the jury without argument. Mr. James E. Ellegood, counsel for Miss Tapman, was very reluctant to submit without an argument, but did so. The jury retired at 9 o'clock and returned their verdict at 2:30 o'clock for the plaintiff, allowing her $1,500. It was fully expected that the fair plaintiff would get at least $3,000. Miss Tapman was not present in court. A large crowd assembled to hear argument from the learned counsel was disappointed in this particular.

BROKE HIS NECK.

Mr. William Roberts, aged seventy-two years, was found dead Sunday morning in the yard adjoining the residence of Mrs. A. E. R. Ward, a relative, with whom he had been living, at Cherry Hill, Cecil county. His neck was broken, his jaw crushed and his shoulder blade broken. He had evidently been dead for several hours when found. It is the supposition that he fell from the porch roof to the ground, as he retired with the rest of the family on Saturday night. It is thought he arose during the night, and, going to the window, fell out. He had been in poor health for more than a year. Coroner Dean was summoned, but declined to hold an inquest, as the death was considered purely accidental.

IT IS NOW HOTEL SPANGLER.

Dr. C. O. Spangler, who recently purchased the Western Maryland Hotel, in this place, has taken charge of this well known hotel, and will endeavor to conduct it in such a manner as to make it second to none. The Doctor has greatly improved the hotel in the past few months, and we understand, contemplates further improvements. The entire building has been remodeled and furnished with new furniture. This hotel, which was known for so many years as the Western Maryland Hotel, will hereafter be known as Hotel Spangler.

T. K. WORTHINGTON WEDS.

Miss Helen Higbee was married Monday afternoon at Lancaster, Pa., to Mr. Thomas K. Worthington, of Baltimore city, formerly president of the Maryland Title Insurance and Trust Company.

The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. George F. Mull, the Rev. George F. Mull officiating. The bride is a daughter of the late Dr. E. E. Higbee, for years superintendent of Public Instruction in Pennsylvania.

ENDING COPPER ORE.

Col. H. C. Demming, the well-known mineralogist, of Harrisonburg, is at work with a force of men on the Blue Ridge Mountains locating copper ore and stibnite in the interest of Boston and Philadelphia capitalists. The finding the past week of copper ores on the summit and on the sides of the mountains, in Franklin and Adams counties, has caused a stir, and a number of prospecting parties are reported out. It is stated that Colonel Demming was in Baltimore over Saturday night in consultation with capitalists, and the inspecting party expected to go over the mountain this week.

BROKE TWO RIBS.

Mr. Harry Hildebride, a young man of Mt. Pleasant district, aged about twenty-eight years and employed on the farm of Mr. Wm. N. Todd, was kicked in the breast by a young horse the other day, breaking two ribs. Mr. Hildebride was engaged in hitching the horse to a wagon and in passing behind the animal was kicked a terrible blow, both feet striking him squarely in the breast, knocking him a distance of nearly eighteen feet.

The young man arose and finished hitching the horse to the wagon. He then started with the team to Frederick, but was overcome from the effects of the accident near the residence of Mr. Wm. Worman and had to be taken home. Dr. Stone, of Mt. Pleasant, was summoned and after an examination found that two ribs had been broken. Mr. Hildebride is slowly recovering from the kick which might have resulted much more seriously.

CHILD CARRIED OFF.

A report was brought to Salisbury Wednesday from Melson's, a village about seven miles from Salisbury, stating that a child at that place had been carried off by strangers. It was stated that a lady and gentleman drove up to Melson's schoolhouse and called for Harley Brittingham. The boy went to the door and entered into conversation. Soon loud talking was heard, and the lady was put in the carriage, while the boy was taken to the carriage, while the lady took the boy's hat and entered the carriage. They drove off to Delmar, they said, while the boy screamed and kicked, seeking to free himself from his captors. The woman claimed the boy as her child, and it is learned the couple drove to Bridgeville, Del. The guardians of the child are Emory and Annie Brittingham and reside on a farm near Melson's Church. The boy was twelve or thirteen years of age, but small for his years.

PROBABLY FATALLY BURNED.

At the farm of James F. Robinson, six miles north of Elkton, an accident occurred at about noon on Sunday, when James Owens, aged seventeen years, son of the late Adam Owens, was so badly burned that it is feared he will die. While the young man was standing in the dining-room of Mr. Robinson's house he was seized with a fit, and fell into the fireplace, in which a fire was burning. Nobody was in the house at the time but Mrs. Robinson, who was in one of the upper rooms. She heard the fall and hastened to the room, and found the young man lying among the burning embers. His left arm as far as the elbow was burned to a crisp. On the back of his head a hole was burned to the skull, and he was in a frightful condition. Just at this juncture Mr. Robinson retraced home, and, assisted by his wife, succeeded in quenching the burning clothing of Robinson. A physician was immediately sent for, who did all possible for the suffering man. His condition is critical.

HENRY LORENTZ DEAD.

Henry Lorentz, a retired banker, died last Friday morning at his home, in Frederick city, aged eighty-eight years of general debility. He was born in Middletown, Frederick county, in April, 1812, and moved to Frederick in 1841. He was an uncompromising democrat, and when the emancipation proclamation was issued freeing the slaves he said he would never again cast a vote, and to the day of his death he remained true to his vow and refrained from voting. He never joined any secret or beneficial societies. He leaves a widow, seven sons and two daughters, who are: Charles H. Lorentz, Baltimore; Albert C. Lorentz, San Francisco; Edwin C. Lorentz, Philadelphia; John K. Lorentz, Washington; Arthur C. Frank R. and Robert L. Lorentz, Frederick; Mrs. G. Clinton Winebrenner, Walkersville, and Mrs. Joseph Ed. B. Wers.

DEATH OF DR. JAMES W. MILLER.

GRACEHAM, April 4.—On Friday morning, March 31, at the home of his daughter Jessie, in Philadelphia, Pa., after several years of declining health, occurred the death of Dr. James W. Miller, a former citizen and practitioner of Graceham, Md., where his remains were brought and interred in the family lot in the Moravian Cemetery, on Monday morning last, having reached the age of 73 years. His wife died in 1896. Three daughters, Mrs. Edward Carson and Mrs. John Pittinger, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. Franklin A. Colliflower, of Graceham, and a son, Mr. Charles Miller, of Clarence, Missouri, survive him.

Two brothers, Messrs. John and Jos. Miller, and several sisters also survive him.

IN THE LAW'S GRIP.

On last Friday night whilst Stephen and Frank Woodyard, colored, were under the influence of liquor, they handled our town constable, Mr. Mack Hartdagan, in a very rough way. They knocked him down, kicked and treated him in a shameful manner. Mr. Hartdagan had a revolver and shot one cartridge at his assailants, but the ball failed to take effect. Mr. Hartdagan's head was cut open and he was otherwise badly bruised. Deputy Sheriff Samuel L. Rowe arrested Stephen Woodyard and placed him in the "Iron Coop," where he remained during the night and cooled off. On Saturday morning he was taken before Justice of the Peace, Mr. Henry Stokes, who committed him to the Frederick county jail to await the action of the grand jury, which meets in August. Frank Woodyard made good his escape.

A FAMILY IN PERIL.

A two-and-a-half-story stone dwelling house owned by Mrs. Susan Startzman and tenanted by her son, Daniel Startzman, near the Western Maryland Railroad, two miles west of Hagerstown, was burned early Saturday morning, along with nearly all the furniture, entailing a loss of about $2,000; insured for $1,100. The occupants were awakened by the crew of a west-bound freight train of the Western Maryland Railroad who discovered the fire, at which time the roof was ablaze.

Mrs. Startzman, her son, Daniel, his wife and children and Frederick Rowe, a farm hand, all escaped in their night clothes. The firemen had much difficulty in awakening the elder Mrs. Startzman, who, after being roused, refused to believe that the house was on fire and stuck to her room. After some persuasion she was hustled out of bed. She went to a bureau and took a big bag full of money from it and was then rushed through the smoke filled halls to the yard.

Whistle blasts from the locomotive brought a crowd of neighbors who saved some of the furniture, turned the cattle and horses out of the barn and managed to save this building by drenching the roof with bucketsful of water. William Schlotterbeck narrowly escaped being killed by falling walls. The house was built in colonial times and was one of Washington county's old landmarks. It has been in the possession of the Startzman family for over a century. Mrs. Startzman will rebuild at once.

FREDERICK PEACH OUTLOOK.

Prof. W. G. Johnson, State entomologist, who has been in Frederick county for several days inspecting peach orchards, says that from present indications the crop will be a commercial failure this year. Among the orchards examined were those of Judge John C. Motter, Col. D. C. Winebrenner, D. H. and Samuel Hargett, and Harry B. Witters. On Mr. Witters' place he found but three live buds.

On Mr. Winebrenner's Indian Spring farm live buds in very limited numbers were found upon Health Cing and Early Rivers. He said he was very much pleased with the manner in which the nurserymen of Frederick were complying with the law by having their places inspected every six months and fumigating every year at the last General Assembly for the purpose of putting a stop to the wide spreading distribution of dangerous insects and diseases. Prospects for other fruits in the county are very encouraging, and a good apple crop is expected. The severe winter did much damage to the shrubbery, rose bushes and other plants.

THE WHIPPING POST.

David S. Martin and David McMinn, who were both convicted in the Circuit Court for Garrett county for wife-beating, and upon whom Judge Edward Stake imposed a sentence of twenty lashes and confinement in the House of Correction, suffered the whipping penalty last Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the presence of two witnesses. The whipping was administered in the corridor of the second story of the jail, where the prisoners were taken separately and securely fastened with handcuffs an straps to a cell door. The whipping was administered by William P. Lee, sheriff of Garrett county. Due to his kindness and the further fact that the State of Maryland does not require it, neither of the prisoners were compelled to receive the whipping upon their bare backs.

Martin received his whipping first. He was clad in an undershirt of thin material, a white laundered shirt and trousers. It was not until four or five lashes had been struck that he seemed to suffer from the punishment. Then he cried out that it hurt and each lash thereafter brought forth a like cry.

Immediately after Martin was whipped, McMinn was brought up from his cell on the second floor and received his punishment. As soon as the first blow was struck he began to sob and cry out with pain. His clothing was also of a thin character and he suffered much more than Martin. They both fully realized the gravity of the crime they had committed and seemed to be greatly humiliated, promising to do better in the future. The sheriff did not display any violence, beyond that necessary to execute his duties.

The whip was a common wagon or teamster's whip and five feet in length. Both of the men were also convicted of assault and battery. Martin will have to serve a term of three years in the House of Correction and McMinn one year.

MISS SHULENBERGER'S PUPILS RECITAL.

It is a matter of pleasure to our music loving people to think that we have in our town so efficient a teacher as Miss Eva Shulenberger. Miss Shulenberger has not only talent and industry, but has had great advantages in her recent training at the Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore, under the famous Prof. Emmanuel Wad. All this, and a most pleasing and amiable disposition, has made her accomplish much with her many pupils, as was shown Monday night at her father's home, when she gave her first annual recital for the pupils. Each scholar showed excellent drill, and many showed musical taste; reflecting credit on themselves and on their teacher. A large number of friends and parents were present. The following is the program: Duet, Engelmann, Misses Elizabeth Annan and Mary Maxell; "Gertrude's Dream," Beethoven, Miss Elizabeth Horner; "Little Cradle Song," Diabli, Miss Emma Ollor; Selection from II Trovatore; "Call Me Back," A. Fisher, Mrs. Dora Rider; "Song to the Evening Star," Wagner, Miss Annabel Hartman; Organ Solo, Mozart, Miss Nellie Eyster; "Traillerele," Schumann, Miss Elizabeth Annan; Waltz, O. A. Horner; Vocal Solo, Miss Rachael Shulenberger; "Reverie," Bernhard Wolf, Miss Mary Maxell; "The Rough Riders," Engelmann, Misses Annabel Hartman and Elizabeth Annan.

MIDDLETOWN ELECTION.

The corporation election in Middletown, this county, on Monday for a burgess and five commissioners was made very lively by an attempt to inject politics into the contest by the placing in the field of a full republican ticket against the citizens' non-partisan ticket, nominated at the public meeting last week. An unusually large vote was polled, and the whole citizens' ticket was elected, except C. Lemuel Shiffer, democrat, for commissioner, who was defeated by one vote by John D. Miller, on the republican ticket. The citizens' candidate for burgess, Mr. Russell E. Lighter, democrat, was elected by forty one majority.

Middletown is overwhelmingly republican, but the municipal election has been kept out of partisan politics for many years, and the best results have followed. Generally there have been two democrats and three republicans nominated for commissioners, with a republican for burgess. This year the citizens' meeting nominated two democrats for commissioners and a young democrat for burgess. This caused some of the republicans to place a full party ticket in the field.

The candidates on the citizens' ticket were Russell E. Lighter, democrat, for burgess; commissioners, Samuel L. H. Lighter, Henry M. Kefauver and Josiah Doub, republicans, and Dr. J. E. Beatty and C. Lemuel Shiffer, democrats.

BUDDING OF APPLE TREES.

The Proper Way to Manipulate the Young Shoot

Buds should always be taken from bearing apple trees in order to make sure of their being true to name.

At the same time several inches of the immature point of the shoot should be cut off and the same from the base.

The buds of the stock and the leaves should all be removed, but not a half inch or less of the footstalks, which is left to hold the bud in place.

When everything is ready select a smooth place in the stock and make a cut just through the bark about an inch long, at the top or end of this make a cross cut, so that the two cuts will resemble the letter T.

When the bark is loosened in both sides a bud should be cut from the prepared sticks, allowing the knife to enter half an inch below the bud and come out about an inch above it, taking a very thin slice of wood with the bud.

This should be pushed down in the place prepared for it on the stock, making it fit as snugly as possible.

The bud should then be fixed in place, wrapping moderately tight in order to exclude the air and moisture.

The material used for tying may be allowed to remain on about three weeks. If at that time the bud is still living nothing need be done with it except removing of the tying material.

The culture of hardy lilies ought to be more general among our farm homes, than it is.

SELECTING THE HAT.

CONTOUR OF THE FACE AND HEAD MUST BE STUDIED.

Where Large Hats Must be Avoided-The Style That is Effective With the Clear-Cut Profile-Creations Suitable for Round and Long Faces.

In order to have a hat which is becoming and which will accentuate the soft facial lines it is absolutely necessary for a woman to study the contour of her face and head.

Such study does not arise from vanity. It is a duty to the public as well as to one's self to dress as becomingly as possible.

A woman with a thin, long face should reconcile herself to the fact that she cannot surmount her coilure with everything in the millinery line simply because it is in the fashion.

She should go to a good milliner, select herself before the mirror and study every line of her face with the aid of a liner tries off such of the fashionable shapes.

It is supposed, of course, that the hair is dressed becomingly in a fashion tending to broaden the features.

A hat should then be selected to accentuate this effect. The hair which is at the extreme of the prevailing mode are admirably adapted to the purpose.

Of urban shape, with wide, crumpled brim about the face, they serve to broaden the face wonderfully. It is a mistake for a woman with this style of face to wear a very large hat.

Under it her features are too insignificant.

If the features are small and pliant, a dashing hat with striking trimmings may be perched jauntily upon the head.

A girl who wears a hat with a clear-cut profile should adopt the picture hats, laden with plumes and half-shading the face. No other style will so effectively emphasize this classic style of beauty.

A face which has a tendency to roundness is usually suited to the matter of hats. One of the very late spring fashions is an elaborately trimmed English walking hat. A hat of this style lengthens the face.

A very round face should adopt the plainest coilure. A large hat with plumes, set squarely on the head, will be found very becoming. It is a great mistake not to wear a hat sufficiently large in the brim. There is nothing which so effectually mars all attempts at style and becomingness.

A sailor hat is a very good model for the round face, and the peaked Alpine hats are decided successes. The girl with the average face has rather the best of the situation. However, she, too, must be careful to study effect. Beauty is either made or marred by a hat.

When the correct shape has been found the color should be chosen to harmonize with the hair, eyes and complexion of the wearer. Every detail should be studied carefully and judged from an artistic point of view. In that way only can any woman hope to have a millinery which is thoroughly becoming.

Evening Head-dress. Bows, wigs, twists of velvet and dragon flies are used for head-dresses for evenings. Some models of these are shown here. The bow on the left side of the illustration is a Louis XV.

Measures Not Men. "Measures not men," remarked Asbury Peppers.

AGNES WAS AIDING PAPA.

At the Same Time She Was Aiding Her Own Dear George.

A suspicious note behind the portieres attracted the attention of the impetuous young lover. He fancied he had heard it once before, but the coddlesome young girl who was snuggled closely in his arms made him almost oblivious of what was going on around him.

But now he was sure, and it was only the work of an instant to deposit his lovely burden on the sofa and rush to the other end of the room. His worse fears were realized, for he saw the curtains apart, he caught sight of a man's coat tails disappearing into another room.

"What does this mean, Agnes?" he demanded, facing the girl, who stood pale and trembling.

"I can't tell you an untruth, George," she answered bravely. "It was papa."

"You knew he was there and you didn't tell me?" again he demanded.

"Yes, George," she said firmly, but without any anger in her voice. "I knew it. We arranged it all beforehand."

"Do you mean to say you went through all those performances of sitting on my lap, snuggling up in my arms and kissing and hugging me when you knew your father was watching us?"

"It is all quite true, George," she confessed. "I had to do it, for one papa had my rehearsal, some of the positions with my brother, so that I could do them nicely-put some soul into them, as he expressed it."

"Blackmail!" cried the young man. "I was foolish enough to think you really cared for me. Just because my father is a rich man you think you can bleed us by threatening to bring a breach of promise suit. But I tell you your father's evidence of what he has seen and heard wouldn't be worth a cent against our family influence."

"I guess you're right," she concluded. "I'll tell the girl with a laugh, rendered bitter by his insulting tone."

"Papa!" hissed the young man, as she threw her arms around his neck and kissed him on the cheek. "There is not going to be any reach of promise suit. You know papa is in the kinetoscope business. He wanted to get up a new series of pictures, and I promised to help him out on condition that he would give his consent when you went and asked him if you could marry me."

He Got Some-thing. Believing it to be the duty of every postmaster in the United States to sleep in the post office, and thus be on hand to guard its interests at all hours, we moved our bed from "The Kicker" office several months ago.

While the office closes at 9 o'clock in the evening, any of the boys who come banging at the door from that hour to daylight can arouse us and get their mail.

One day, last night, about the hour of midnight, we were aroused by some one fixing six bullets into the door. We got out of bed and asked who it was and what he wanted, and a strange voice replied that if we didn't hand him out a hat full of letters he would shoot three bullets into the bed.

He added that he also wanted a drink and a hair-cut, and that we'd better be lively about it. We were wvly. We do not run a saloon and a barber shop in connection with the post office. We got down our guns and opened the door and that three bullets through the stranger's whiskers and three more through his hat, and the way he went galloping down the street would have made a cowboy jealous.

Our esteemed contemporary heard of the incident and used it as a foundation of the article headed, "Our Postmaster Would Be a Murderer." But we are not kicking about it. His weekly circulation is down to 168 copies, and nine-tenths of his readers are cross-eyed or drunk half the time.

Measures Not Men. "Measures not men," remarked Asbury Peppers.

"What on earth are you talking about?" asked a curious boarder.

"The ladies' tailor."
