

THE BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY.

After having experimented considerably with the production of the sugar beet in Maryland, the final conclusion which has been drawn by the Maryland Agricultural College Experiment Station is as follows:

The sugar beet has been cultivated in Maryland since 1874. In 1879 and '80 great interest was manifested in the industry throughout the State, attempts being made to establish factories without success. At that time it was the general opinion among the farmers of the State that the soil was as well adapted to the growth of the sugar beet as any of the areas of Europe. In 1890 and '91, with the reviving interest in the industry, the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station collaborated with the Agricultural Department of Washington in the growth of the different varieties of beets and it was proved that beets of fairly good size and contents of sugar could be grown in Maryland. The average contents of sugar secured in these experiments was a little over 12 per cent., with a purity of a little less than 80 per cent. However, the yield per acre was low and many of the beets were too small for profitable handling.

As a cattle food the possibility of the successful culture of the sugar beet in Maryland is worth practical demonstration. The sugar beet is a much richer cattle food, ton for ton, than any other common root crop, and while the yield per acre is less, the nutritive material is quite as great. There are many areas in Maryland, where its soil, both in contour and composition, is favorable to the beet culture and where by reason of location the freight on fertilizers is low. It is probable that if the soil conditions alone were to be considered this State might compete successfully with other States in the United States. The climatic conditions are distinctly unfavorable to its growth the mean temperature for the months of June, July and August is too high to secure the best results and the mean hours of sunshine for those months are too short. The most favorable climatic conditions are secured in high northern latitudes, where the days are long in the summer, and the northern limit is determined only by the shortness of the season preventing maturity. The hot and dry days of Maryland summers cause them to mature too quickly and increase the danger which arises from a second growth after the autumnal rains. In the present state of the industry it has been established that Maryland cannot compete successfully with other states of the Union, in more favorable localities, in the manufacture of beet sugar.

Mr. Shank had a fine farm and was a member of the School Board.

HIGH PRICES OF BEEF.

The prices of beef in Baltimore have advanced again, much to the displeasure of worthy housekeepers. The cost of this substantial article of food has been rising steadily ever since the great Western corporations, located mostly in Chicago, the home of the beef market, began to rule the trade. At any of the retail dealers it will be found that meat which once sold for 5 cents a pound now costs 9 and 10 cents, a rise of nearly 100 per cent.

One of Baltimore's prominent beef butchers, who keeps a stall in Lexington Market, said Tuesday night:

"Swift, Armour, Nelson, Morris, the Kingan Provision Company, Schwartzschild & Salzberger and G. H. Hamlin & Co., all of Chicago, practically control the beef market of the world, and leave very little chance for the independent butcher. These people regulate the prices to suit themselves, and hold the market in whatever condition they please, knowing that no one can compete with them. As far as the independent butcher is concerned, he will be compelled to discontinue his business entirely and take up the position of a trader, getting his meat direct from the monopolists at their prices, and regulating his retail prices accordingly."

"I think if these people are allowed to have full swing, with no interference, for the next two or three years, they will gradually gain control of the abattoirs in our large cities, and instead of sending the hoof cattle which they are buying in the Valley of Virginia and Eastern States to Chicago to be killed, have it killed and sold right here."

The Chicago dealers explain that the high price of beef is due to a very heavy demand for cattle, and, therefore, close competition in buying from the herds. On account of this heavy demand the raisers of the cattle ask their own prices, and consequently the selling prices of beef must go up.—Baltimore Sun.

TO TEST WATERMELONS.

Buying watermelons and cantaloup is very much like buying lottery tickets—one never knows how they are going to turn out. The test of a cantaloup is said to be breaking a little piece from the stem end with the thumb nail; if the cantaloup smells spicy when it has been broken it is quite sure to be good. In Georgia, the home of the watermelon, they have two ways of testing them; one is to strike the melon a blow with the doubled fist, and according to the sound of the blow on the melon its condition is known; no one but a negro can be sure of this test. The other test is to drive a nail into that side of the melon that has laid on the ground. If the nail goes in easily the melon is ripe and just right to eat. Southerners say that people of the North spoil watermelons by too much chilling, and that this process of chilling makes them indigestible.—Herald.

WHOLE FAMILY WIPED OUT.

A terrible triple tragedy occurred three miles east of Canton, Ohio, Tuesday night, resulting in the death of Edward Eckinger, his wife and their 3-year-old daughter. Neighbors Wednesday discovered the dead bodies of the three lying upon the bed in the Eckinger home. Mrs. Eckinger evidently first shot her husband and daughter with a shotgun and then tried to commit suicide by cutting the veins in her wrist with a knife. The latter apparently proved too slow or else too painful, for the woman put a third charge in the gun and sent it through her heart.

Eckinger was 25 years of age and a farm laborer. Lately he had been drinking heavily, and frequent quarrels took place between him and his wife. The couple had agreed to separate, commencing Wednesday. Mrs. Eckinger was 23 years old.

SHOE MANUFACTURERS.

Shoe manufacturers, representing Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Rochester and Lynn, Mass., met in Philadelphia, Tuesday to consider the advisability of forming a national organization and of advancing price of shoes. The Cincinnati representatives are the leaders in the movement, and this is the third attempt to bring such a body into life, the other two attempts having been made in Baltimore and Washington. In all, ninety-five manufacturers were present Tuesday. Thomas James, of Cincinnati, presided, and made an address, in which he stated the necessity of such an organization if prices were to be sustained at a figure satisfactory to all. Committee on credentials and order of business were appointed, and the rest of the day was spent in a discussion of the subject in view.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

"No new cases, no deaths," was the official report from the hospital of the Soldiers' Home, at Hampton Tuesday afternoon. If Dr. White's canvas of Hampton shows that there are no suspicious cases it is more than probable that an effort will be made to raise the quarantine against that town, in which event Newport News will probably send about 100 members of the local guard over to help Hampton maintain its line against the Soldiers' Home and Phoebus. A special train left Hampton Tuesday for the mountains of Virginia. It will go straight through, stopping only for fuel and water.

Kerrigan to the said Edward J. Lefevre, and accepted by the said Edward J. Lefevre and accepted by the said James M. Kerrigan, the said sum of One Thousand Dollars still remains due and owing to the said Mary A. T. Kerrigan by the said Edward J. Lefevre, with the interest thereon.

That the said Edward J. Lefevre left no personal estate and left surviving him the following heirs at law, viz: Jacob A. Many people are of the opinion that the candidates will be the same as in 1896, but there may be a "dark horse" who will win the race. Popularity has much to do with candidates. This is also true with medicine. The most popular remedy to day is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and it has retained this for many years. Science never discovered the equal of this medicine for stomach, liver and kidney diseases. It builds up flesh tissue, imparts vigor and vitality to all organs, and makes life worth living. BATTLEFIELD MONUMENT. The first section of the Maryland State monument to be erected on Antietam battlefield arrived a few days ago at Sharpsburg and was received by M. E. Snavely, who has the contract to haul the monument from the station to the battlefield. The granite was shipped from Barre, Vt., and the copper portion of the monument, which comes from Chicago, is expected at any time. F. E. Gardner, of Newark, N. J., will oversee the erection of the monument. The foundation is completed.

IN HIS NEW OFFICE. The work of remodeling Mr. Vincent Sebald's house on the Public Square, in this place, is about completed. The house has been considerably enlarged and greatly improved. The two lower rooms in the Eastern part of the building are occupied by Mr. Sebald for a law office. The rooms are large and comfortable; well lighted and ventilated. Mr. Sebald is happy in his new office.

THEVES AT WOODSBORO. On Tuesday night of last week a thief or thieves gained entrance to the warehouse of Cutshall & Fogle, by prying open the front door, and took about $225 in change from the money drawer, which had been left therein. So far as has been ascertained, nothing was taken from the stock of goods in the store and the money drawer remained intact. It is also reported that about ten young chickens were stolen from Mr. Harry Anders one night last week.

HELD ON TO THE MONEY. The Hanover Herald says that Saturday a week a number of Littlestown sports attended the game of base ball at McSherrystown. During the game the boys made a few wagers on the outcome and placed the money, which amounted to $11, in the hands of a Gettysburg gentleman. They won the wager but in the meantime the stakeholder left for parts unknown with the spoils. The gentleman was seen in Gettysburg on Monday and promised to pay up in a few days.

MR. DAVID SEIBERT, of Clear Springs, Washington county, was attacked by a furious bull on his farm and narrowly escaped being gored to death. He was riding horseback in a field, cracking a pitchfork. The bull made a dash for him and struck the horse, knocking ex-Senator Seibert from the saddle. He fell with great force under the horse and was rendered unconscious. When he regained his senses the bull was still there and ready for a fight, but he managed, with his fork as a weapon, to keep the animal at bay until he got out of the field.

ACCIDENT TO MR. O'BOLD. Vincent O'Bold, of McSherrystown, met with a bad accident last Tuesday afternoon. He had gone to Mount Pleasant township to pay taxes, and on his way home about 4 o'clock, the king bolt of his buggy broke when near Brush Run. The horse started to run away with the front part of the vehicle, and Mr. O'Bold was thrown out and the back part of the buggy fell on him. Besides some bad bruises, both arms were paralyzed. Dr. George L. Rice was summoned and attended to his injuries.

INTENT TO KILL.

John T. Hawkins, of Clarksburg, Montgomery county, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Gibson, charged with assault and intent to kill his son, Oscar Hawkins.

During the past few days Mr. Hawkins had quarrels with his son Oscar in regard to work being done on the farm. In these quarrels, it is said, the son cursed his father and was warned against doing so again. On Saturday at 11:30 o'clock the young man stopped the horses with which he was plowing and intended taking them in to feed for dinner, but the father ordered him to plow around to where one of the other boys was already in the field. Oscar being a little slow in moving, the father commenced to berate him and the son retaliated by cursing him. His father picked up a gate-hinge and struck the young man on the side of the head above the ear, knocking him unconscious. The gate hinge was of iron, two and a half feet long, two inches wide and half an inch thick. The son is 21 years old and is a favorite with the people living in the neighborhood. Dr. J. E. Deets, of Clarksburg, was summoned to attend him and pronounced his condition serious.—Sun.

OPTIONS SECURED.

Mr. W. D. Elger has filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court for this county options on seven pieces of land in Mechanistown district. The owners of the land on which these options have been secured and the amounts of the forfeits posted are as follows: J. W. Creeger and wife, two pieces of land, $100; Samuel W. Lewis, $100; Thornton Smith, $100; Joseph W. Brown, $300; Cyrus B. Manahan, $50; Hannah Lewis and David Lewis, her husband, forfeit not named.

The options, Mr. Elger stated, are for a New York syndicate which has had representatives at work in the Blue Ridge mountains for some months prospecting for copper who have found indications that the ore exists in that neighborhood in quantities that would make mining it profitable.

The syndicate, Mr. Elger said, has capital amounting to $40,000,000, is prepared to take immediate advantage of the discoveries and expects to have mines in operation in eighteen months.

AFFRAY AT A PIC-NIC.

The Junior Order United American Mechanics' picnic, held in the Nicodemus woods at Appleton, near Boonsboro, Saturday, was the scene of an affray that may result in the death of one of the participants. The trouble is said to have been the result of an old grudge.

J. Falcon Reeder, aged about 18 years, son of the late Scott Reeder, was struck on the back of the head by a stone, and is in a dying condition. Young Reeder had been spending the day at the picnic in company with Miss Longanecker. While in the act of leaving the grove in their buggy they were met, it is said, by Silas Emery Metz, George Washington Churchey, Noah Churchey and another young man, whose name is said to be Coyle, who were on horses. A fracas ensued, in which Reeder was struck. S. E. Metz and G. W. Churchey were arrested and committed to jail to await the result of Reeder's injuries. Noah Churchey, for whose arrest a warrant was issued, left for West Virginia.—Sun.

MOUNTAINS SHAKEN.

A very perceptible tremor of the earthquake is reported to have been felt last Friday shortly after 10 o'clock in the vicinity of Pen-Mar. The movement was accompanied by a noise resembling thunder. At Pen-Mar park the disturbance was decidedly perceptible and dishes and tumblers in the dining hall were thrown together. The shake was also felt at the dancing pavilion and Pen-Mar Hotel and along the Ringgold road. A group of men sitting in front of a store at Waterloo felt the building rock and the glassware and shelf goods were jarred from their places. The tremor was also felt at Waynesboro.

LAWN PARTY.

The home of Mr. Willis Fisher was the scene of a delightful little Lawn Party given last Friday evening, August the fourth, and partaken in by the following appreciative company: Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Stansbury and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McCarran and family, Messrs. Thaddeus and Roy Maxell, Miss Maud Maxell, Mr. Thomas Troxell and sisters, Mr. Kremer Hoke, Messrs. N. and M. Martin, Misses Kate Martin and Venia Wilson of Upper Marlboro, Miss Castle of Frederick, Miss Cover of Bruceville and Miss Gelwicks of Emmitsburg.

The party was one of general good humor and merriment owing to the good will and hospitality of Mr. Fisher and family and the evening was pleasantly spent in vocal and instrumental music, games and conversation.

Refreshments were served in Mrs. Fisher's usual generous style from a well filled pantry and on a beautifully decorated table. They consisted of water ice, cakes in nameless variety, candies and fruit.

At a seasonable hour the party disbanded and in all probability the same crowd may never all meet again but the memory of that delightful evening will always remain.

CHARMINGLY ENTERTAINED.

"He That Any Good Would Win" Should be provided with good health, and everyone who would have good health should remember that pure, rich blood is the first requisite. Hood's Sarsaparilla, by giving good blood and good health, has helped many a man to success, besides giving strength and courage to thousands of women who, before taking it, could not even see any good in life to win.

Hood's Pills are gentle, yet effective.

ONLY ONE CONVENTION.

The Republican County Central Committee met in the grand jury room of court house in Frederick last Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Hammand Urner, chairman of the committee, who stated that the purpose of the meeting was to name the dates for the primaries and the county convention. The committee decided to hold the primaries on Saturday, August 26, and the county convention on Saturday, September 2, at 11 o'clock at the City Opera House.

The county convention will nominate the county ticket and also elect delegates to the State Convention which meets in Baltimore on September 6. In this way will be avoided the necessity of holding two county conventions.

Mr. Hammond Urner stated at the meeting that he would no longer serve as chairman of the committee.

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor of Wind Ridge, Greene Co., Pa., is one of these. He used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale by T. E. Zimmerman & Co., druggists.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Two horses belonging to Mr. Joseph Patchett, who resides near Preston, Md., were killed by lightning on Sunday night. On several occasions during this summer live stock have been killed in a similar manner in Caroline county. The oldest citizens say that nothing to compare with this season's fatalities from lightning ever took place in any one season before.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

A destructive fire visited the town of Federalburg, Caroline county, Saturday about midnight, destroying three large stores and one dwelling. There is some doubt as to how the fire originated, but the general impression prevails that lightning caused it. The fire was first discovered in the large store building at "The Point" which is occupied by Edward E. Nettle, the leading merchant in the town. A little later the announcement came that the store of Thomas H. Chambers was also on fire. The two buildings were 300 yards apart and the belief gained ground that the telephone wire which went into both buildings had set them on fire.

When Mr. Nettle got to his store and in the main room, where the phone was located, there was no fire in there, but it was confined to the grocery room in the rear. The smoke was so dense and suffocating that he was unable to save anything, and his large stock of general merchandise, valued at $7,000, was destroyed. He carried an insurance of $4,200. The store property belonged to Mr. E. R. Goslin and was valued at $2,000. There is an insurance on the building, but the amount is not known.

A dwelling belonging to the estate of the late William S. Goslin near the store building was burned, valued at $1,500. Mr. Chambers carried a stock of goods valued at $2,000, which was partially insured. The storehouse was valued at $1,500. A store building which at the time was occupied across the street from Chambers' store was burned, valued at $1,500. In the second story of this building were the rooms of Nantooke Lodge, No. 172, A. F. and A. M., who lost all their furniture and paraphernalia except a magic lantern recently purchased for the lodge. Two or three dwellings near the burned stores were greatly damaged, but by persistent work were saved from total destruction. The town has no fire engine.

DEATH OF HARRY ADELSBERGER.

Mr. Harry Adelsberger, aged 32 years, died at the Memorial Hospital, in Johns-town, Pa., at 12:30 o'clock on August 4th, of valvular heart trouble, with which he had been afflicted for some time.

Mr. Adelsberger was a carpenter by trade. His native home was Emmitsburg, but he had been working in Johnstown for the past eight years. On July the 12th the deceased was admitted to the hospital, and from that time on his condition continued to become worse until the end came. His sister, Miss Annie, of near this place, was with her brother for three days previous to his death, and was at his side when he passed away.

Mr. Adelsberger was a son of Mrs. Matilda Adelsberger, who died at her late residence, near town, on July 9th, last. But the news of his mother's death was kept from him for fear the shock of the news would hasten his end. The deceased leaves four brothers and three sisters.

Mr. Adelsberger's remains were brought to this place on Sunday last. The funeral services were held in St. Joseph's Catholic Church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The interment was made in the cemetery adjoining the church.

INTERESTING HARNEY NEWS.

HARNEY, Md., Aug. 7, 1899.—A few days ago Mr. Edward Shoemaker's plow team made a vicious runaway, which resulted in a complete wreck of harness and plow. The cause of the disaster was the blasting of stumps in a neighbor's field.

While threshing at Mr. W. A. Sniders', Mr. Martin E. Valentine succumbed to the heat. The attack was something like nervous prostration.

Vivian C. Null was the successful winner of the $14 prize cake which was raffled at the Catholic picnic near Taneytown. The successful number was 57. The cake is immense.

Mr. Morris Bishop is hopping around on one leg as the result of a failure to mount his wheel.

Mr. Ben Sterner and wife, of Hessland, Pa., are visiting Mr. T. J. Hess. Mr. Sterner is chief engineer in the Industrial School, of Scotland.

Mr. William Angell and family, of Morrison, Ill., are visiting relations here. Mr. Angell has been gone about eighteen years, during which time he has become one of the most successful merchants of Morrison.

The guests of Mr. Samuel Shoemaker are Mr. Calvin McKinney and daughter, of Freedom District.

WHAT NOT TO SAY.

Do not say, "I can't eat." Take Hood's Sarsaparilla and say, "I am hungry all the time, and food never hurts me."

Never say to your friends that you are as tired in the morning as at night. If they happen to be sharp they will tell you Hood's Sarsaparilla cures that tired feeling.

Do not say, "My face is full of pimples." You are quite likely to be told by some one, "There's no need of that, for Hood's Sarsaparilla cures pimples."

It is improper and unnecessary to say, "My health is poor and my blood is bad." Hood's Sarsaparilla will give you good blood, and good health will follow as a natural consequence.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR ASSEMBLY.

The ninth annual Christian Endeavor Assembly and Re-union was held at Mount Alto Park, Thursday, August 3d. About 3,000 people were in attendance. The programme for the day was rendered in three sessions.

Monday afternoon and evening Prof. and Mrs. Lowe, of Philadelphia, Pa., had charge of the music, and you only have to hear them once to know that it was in good hands. Several solos were sung by members of the Carlisle Y. M. C. A. Quartet. The address in the morning was by Rev. J. D. Hunter, D. D., of Norristown, Pa. In the afternoon Mrs. Lowe performed on the musical bells, and also in the evening, which was enjoyed by all.

At 2:30 in the afternoon Rev. Wm. Yates, D. D., of the Church of God, (Baptist), Philadelphia, addressed the audience. His subject was, "Our Marching Orders." In the course of his remarks, Rev. Mr. Yates said: "What would you think of a man after being married for ten years, would come home with a long face, and sit down and make his face even longer when his wife would say, 'what is the matter, John,' and he would say, 'I have just been thinking what good times I had before I married you. I use to go out every night, but I kind promised to stick to you and bear it till death should set me free.' You would not expect a man to say that. Yet, are there not many christians who say the same thing to God, instead of thanking Him for the great privilege of calling Him friend, your elder Brother. At the conclusion of Rev. Mr. Yates' address, Prof. and Mrs. Lowe sang a solo after which Rev. C. E. Eberman, of Scranton, Pa., and State President of the Christian Endeavor Union, delivered an address.

At 7:45 P. M., Rev. W. Yates gave another address on "Christian Citizenship," which was listened to by the audience with marked attention, and there was no one who heard him with attention, who did wish to be a better Christian Endeavorer.

The prayer by Rev. C. E. Eberman was very effective when he asked that vast audience of over 1,000 men and women to raise the right hand, asking God to take it and help them to be better Christian Endeavorers; to say it and mean it, that holding God's hand would promise to be better Christians in their homes, churches and communities.

Rev. C. E. Eberman has been to Christian Endeavor meetings from Pikes Peak to San Francisco, and at the Yellowstone Park, Wyoming. He said it gave him great pleasure to be at Mount Alto Park; that he got many glimpses of his Saviour. We think the day of inspiration is past, but it is not. Why, you could see the inspiration in his face when he called for volunteers for better men and women in the Christian life.

Music by the Quartette, and then the hymn, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," brought the re-union to a successful close.

Wm. GAMBLE, Emmitsburg.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering.—Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. BERKICK, Liberty, R. I. For sale by T. E. Zimmerman & Co., druggists.

MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT.

An assault was committed upon Isaiah Saxe, a Polish peddler, at Damaskus, Montgomery county, on the Woodfield road, Saturday morning. Robbery prompted the assault, and the unknown assailant of Saxe succeeded in carrying away a considerable sum of money, the savings for many months of the victim. According to the story, Saxe was seated on a log beside the road counting his money, when a shot was fired, which struck him in the left temple. Saxe fell to the ground, and lay there for some time, until discovered by Josiah Warfield, who was passing the place, and conveyed to Mr. Warfield's residence, a short distance away. Medical aid was summoned, and later in the day the assaulted peddler was removed to the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for treatment. It is said that his condition is critical and little hope is entertained of his recovery. Shortly after the shooting occurred the authorities were notified and began at once to work on the case. The nature of the wound in Saxe's head proved conclusively that the weapon used was a shotgun, and later developments showed it to have been of a twelve-bore description. Sheriff Thompson and Deputy Sheriff Selby worked on the case, but as yet have found no tangible clue to the identity of the murderer. The cowardly assault, so close upon the Rosenstein murders, has created considerable excitement in the county.

GRAND EXCURSION.

Emmitsburg Council, No. 53, Jr. O. U. A. M. will run an excursion to Baltimore over the Emmitsburg and Western Maryland Railroad on Tuesday, August 15, at the very low fare of $1.35 round trip from Emmitsburg, and $1.00 from all points on the Western Maryland Road from Highfield to Finksburg. This excursion will give visitors a long day in the city. Don't miss it. It will be the grandest excursion of the season.

DIED.

ADELSBERGER.—On August 4, 1899, at the Memorial Hospital, in Johnstown, Pa., Mr. Harry Adelsberger, formerly of this place, aged 32 years.

HAINES.—On August 8, 1899, at her home in Westminster, Mrs. Clara M. Haines, widow of the late Francis Haines, aged about 56 years. The deceased is a sister of Mrs. S. N. McNair, of this place, and was well-known in Emmitsburg.

OUR FRIEND THE TOAD.

Feeds voraciously on all kinds of Injurious Insects.

One of the Massachusetts stations has been studying the habits of the toad, and urges its protection in the interests of the farmer.

But the results of the investigation are interesting. In New England the toad usually comes from the water.

But the character of the toad's food is the point most important to the farmer. The bulletin says: "The toad as a rule feeds continuously throughout the night, consuming in twenty-four hours an amount of food which is bulk to about four times the stomach capacity."

While the naming of this fixed snail per land is interesting, it is not so interesting to us to hear that a young toad, having a promise of fifteen years of activity before him, would be worth in the neighborhood of $300, yet should the toad's case not be laughed out of court because the Washington scientist has a crude way of presenting others' work to the public.

The Muscovy Duck. The name is derived from the "musk" odor which exudes from the skin, but which entirely disappears in cooking.

The Muscovy is a distinct species from our other domestic ducks. It has not the curly feathers in the tail of the drake, which are prominent characteristics of the descendants of the wild Mallard.

The appearance of the Muscovy is very striking. The drake has on top of the head long feathers which can be elevated or depressed at will.

Even ducks cannot stand dampness in their quarters. Cornmeal can hardly be excelled for fattening.

Young ducks begin to lay earlier in the season than old ones.

Do not mix bone meal with soft feed; give them coarse grain.

Short-legged fowls usually make the best roosters.

Old hens almost invariably lay larger eggs than pullets.

In the second year a hen is more profitable than at any other time.

Early hatched chickens fetch the best prices and bring in money when most needed.

Overfed fowls do not lay well and in the larger breeds especially, are more liable to apoplexy.

For poultry a dry, gravelly spot is necessary to healthful conditions.

The Spanish white Leghorns and Minorcas all lay large, white eggs and are nonsetters.

In feeding all kinds of small grain at noon scatter it among litter and let the hens scratch it out.

Guineas are good layers, and their flesh is a combination of the turkey and the pheasant.

Household Talks

FINE TABLE LINEN.

Men as Fond of Its Attractive Appearance as Women.

Man likes daintiness about his dining table as well as his wife and the other women of his household do.

Fashion changes in table linen as in everything else, but only the immensely rich can afford to keep up with every little change.

Speaking of furnishings for the dining table brings to mind the fact that most housekeepers have trouble in removing the stains left on polished tables by hot dishes.

How to Tie a Bow.

Everyone, doubtless, can tie a bow knot, but there is a little trick about making the bows and ends lie horizontally.

Country House Decoration.

A good and at the same time inexpensive mode of treating woodwork in a country house is in transparent wood stains, which can be had in any color.

The curtains were of the same material, tied back with ribbons, and produced a simple effect that was greatly liked.

Chopped Meat Preservative.

If chopped meat be left to itself or while it will turn dark and grey, losing its freshness.

ONLY FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Obscure Positions of Men Who Are Famous To-Day.

It is not necessary to look back many years to find men whose names are household words to-day, and who have achieved both fame and fortune, occupying obscure positions and giving no indication of the brilliant future that was awaiting them.

Fifteen years ago Dr. Conan Doyle was industriously working up a medical practice, with all the attendant hard work and struggling at Southsea.

When Conan Doyle was dispensing physic at Southsea, Mr. S. R. Crockett could not even claim the doubtful position of "A Stickit Minister," for it was only in 1886 that he entered the Free Church of Scotland, in which he served an apprenticeship for seven years before he found that his vocation lay with the pen rather than in the pulpit.

At this time, too, only fifteen years ago, "Jan Maclaren" had won popularity as minister of Sefton Park Church, Liverpool, but for a dozen more years his pen was engaged in writing sermons before it turned to the pathos and beauty of "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush."

Hall Caine, who can now rely on making his weight in gold out of a single novel, was quite unknown fifteen years ago.

In 1884 Stanley Mayman, the gifted author of so many historical novels, was waiting for briefs in Dr. Johnson's Buildings, and did not even attempt to solace his waiting hours by "trying his hand at fiction, of which he is now such a master."

Rudyard Kipling, in the early thirties, was assistant editor of the Indian Pioneer on many less rupees a month than he now earns pounds a week.

Mr. Haggard had already written one book, "Cetywayo and His White Neighbors," and published it at a price of 450, and was on the verge of publishing "Dawn" at a net profit of £10 for a year's hard work.

Fifteen years ago Mme. Sarah Grand was rambling the world over with her soldier doctor husband, and only sagaciously mapping out a novel which the world now knows as "Ideals." Olive Schreiner was dreaming dreams in the solitude of the veldt, and the "Story of an African Farm" was gradually asserting its presence in her brain.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward was too busy with domestic cares to recognize the genius that was waking in her, and had been content to write only a simple child's story, and Mrs. A. Steel was an Indian in the "Dawn" with never a thought of pen or fame.

The same story may be told of scores of men now world famous in other fields of effort.

The present Viceroys of India was reading for his degree at Oxford in 1884, and was already looking forward to an apprenticeship to politics, which began in the following year as assistant private secretary to Lord Salisbury.

This sort of self-sufficiency is possible because people are capable of raising and making all the absolute necessities of life. This has been the self-sufficiency of the past.

But great navies are possible without merchant marine. Nations wholly self-sufficient may rule the seas and bring those not self-sufficient groveling to their knees.

As we know the world now, and judged by our standards, there are three imperial realms capable of sustaining self-sufficient peoples, America, Russia, and Australia.

Quick Work. To test the skill of their workmen, the Compagnie Francaise de Chemins de Fer de l'Est, at their works in Epernay, recently caused a locomotive to be "mounted" or built up, piece by piece, as soon as possible.
