COURTESY IN CHILDREN.

BY GRACE D. GOODWIN. People of other countries criticise with great severity, and with justice as well we are forced to admit, the behavior of American children. They are said to be the worst-mannered children of civilization, and we are pointed to the obedient German boy or the gentle Japanese girl by way of contrast. As a matter of fact, we all know scores of little gentlemen and ladies, the products of refined homes and careful training. These are the children who are not permitted to make themselves terrible in public, and who are therefore overlooked in the generalization. Upon such children as these the reputation of America is to rest, if we are not to be known as a nation of boors. This is the oak of the future, and it seems a far call from that to the acorn of the present, which consists in requesting your boy often to lift his hat as soon as he ceases to wear an elastic band under his chin, and to avoid using the coarse tones and coarser talk of the child-

MAKING HASTE TO BE RICH.

President T. II. Lewis, of the Western Maryland College, at Westminster, preached the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class on "Making Haste to Be Rich." He said : "It is not a sin be rich, nor is there any Biblical warrant for that type of socialism which classes the rich with criminals and attempts to array society against them. It may be a sin not to be rich if men are poor because of idleness or dissipation. A man may be both rich and innocent, but if he is forced to choose between these and chooses riches his choice is his undoing, because whatever yalue riches have they have no mor-

"Mr. Carnegie said: "Whenever I see a rich young man succeed at anything I feel like taking off my hat to him, for if it is hard to make a fortune it is harder yet to make a man. If a man chooses riches and succeeds, he must also choose care and much sorrow, for these are part of wealth's rewards, whereas to choose innocence and to fail is only to lose what money can buy and gain everything else.

"Making money in these days not concern ourselves with who made it or how it is made. And so it has come to pass that the main business of men is speculation. All trades, all professions are on the street, buying what they don't want and selling what they haven't got. When a youth sees a man walk make $20,000 in 20 seconds, you may preach to him about work, but he is going to try the 20 second plan first. If Advertised as Cheap Elsewhere ALWAYS CHEAPER

This always stands good and just as sure as you see it advertised by others you'll find it cheaper here. For proof of what we say we ask you not to be misled by large type circulars, for no matter how large the bargains others advertise you can come here and get the same goods for less money. As you all know, we are manufacturers and, therefore, can save you a middle man's profit. For this reason we ask you, before you start out to do your shopping, to look earefully through our advertisement, as Davis & Co., are as good as their word and when they say:
"If advertized as cheap elsewhere, its cheaper here," why it must be so. Come and investigate.

Grown people are, hang in its natural position and is sewith the rarest exception, awakened by the irritating fumes. If a man were tired and if his nose were naturally insensitive to unpleasant odors, and especially if he were under the influence of drink, it might be possible to make him unconscious while asleep. But not even every doctor could do it. The operation would require the highest skill, and the most skillful administrator would succeed only once in a hundred

If we take the case of spilling the chloroform in a room and thus impregnating all the air of the room, the thing is out of the question. Yet not only do novelists assert that this can be done, but many people have been actually charged in real life with doing it-for the purpose of blackmailing them, for injuring them or perhaps to throw off suspicion from the pretended victim who has committed the robbery himself. If the room measures, say, 12 feet square and is 9 feet high, it would probably take a gallon of chloroform spilled on the floor to make a man un conscious. All the chinks and crannies would have to be stopped up first, moreover, and the operator himself would have to be poison proof or he cured there by the lever whose lower also would succumb.

As a matter of fact, the only way to as shown in the upper figure. render a person unconscious by the use of chloroform is in the way practiced pushed to one side until its lower end point of the course, when to ease off by surgeons in the operating room. The Redconts.

An incident at the siege of Rouen, in 1591, shows that red was looked upon as the English color, for in mentioning the death of one of the Earl of Essex's captains it is remarked that the Frenchman who shot him got near enough to do so by putting on the red coat of a dead English soldier. In 1643 the king's life guards, as also the queen's and Prince Rupert's, wore red coats.

Bull Balting. Although bull baiting was a cruel pastime, it was also a fulfilling of the law, for formerly no butcher was allowed to offer for sale the flesh of any bull that had not been balted. The goading of the animal in a fury was supposed to have some influence on the flesh. In a similar belief the flesh of a hunted hare was thought to be superior in flavor to that of one that had been plenty of time to finish the stroke out. | shot, and a present of "a hunted hare" was considered to be a special compli ment. BALTIMORE, MD. THE PAPER OF THE PEOPLE, FOR THE PEOPLE AND

WITH THE PEOPLE. HONEST IN MOTIVE FEARLESS IN EXPRESSION SOUND IN PRINCIPLE.

A newspaper is an educator; there are all kinds of educators, but the man who spends money judiciously and liberally is better able to impart his knowledge than the man who has little or nothing to stend.

The Sun is the highest type of a newspaper.

The Sun's Special. Correspondents throughout the United States, as well as in Europe, South Africa, China, and, in fact, all over the world, make it an np-to-pate newspaper.

The Market Reports and commercial features put the farmer, the merchant and the broker in close touch with the markets at Baltimore, Norfolk, Charleston, New York. Chicago, Philadelphia and other places which are prominent centers. from now on the news of the world promises to be more interesting than ever before and na-tional and political questions will arise, making probably the most eventful period in the coun-This, together with the corps of editors and reporters at Baltimore, Washington and New York, make THE Sun invaluable to its readers.
