

CARNEGIE INSTITUTION.

The vote of $373,000 as grants for scientific research and $40,000 for publication of the results of experiment is evidence of what the Carnegie Institution is accomplishing through its trustees.

In setting apart millions for this specific purpose Mr. Carnegie has done one of the noblest things ever performed by man.

It is not surprising that foreigners are enthusiastic in praise of the energy, enthusiastic and liberality displayed in America in the cause of education when public-spirited private citizens come forward and give great sums to be applied solely for the advance of knowledge.

A Costly Mistake.

Blunders are sometimes very expensive. Occasionally life itself is the price of a mistake, but you'll never be wrong if you take Dr. King's new Life Pills for Dyspepsia, Dizziness, Headache, Liver or Bowel troubles.

PENSIONIST GROWING LESS.

The Secretary of the Interior's estimate of the appropriations necessary to conduct the affairs of his department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, is made public.

The estimate for pensions is $136,800,000, or $1,700,000 less than the appropriation made for this year, which is due to an official calculation of deaths of pensioners.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh.

Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.

4,200 SKIN GRAFTS.

William S. Fredericks, Dunellen, N. J., was discharged Friday from Muhlenberg Hospital at Plainfield, making the last of the New Jersey Central Westfield wreck victims to leave the institution.

He has been undergoing treatment since the night of January 27, and his case has been a marvel of surgical work.

Frederick's body was scalded with dry steam and more than one-third of the cuticle was burned away. After he was removed from the wreck and taken to the hospital, Dr. Albert H. Pittis decided to try skin grafting. More than 2,400 grafts, each about half as long and twice as broad as an ordinary match, were placed on the scalded portions, the cuticle being furnished by 200 fellow Masons and others.

The operation has been entirely successful, and within a few weeks Fredericks will be enabled to be about, almost as well as ever.

The society will spend at first $50,000 in buildings and will increase the amount to $200,000 in a short time after the college has started.

Mules Drink Themselves to Death. A carload of mules that had been shipped from the West to the contractors engaged in constructing the Western Maryland link between Cherry Run and Cumberland, it is stated, arrived at Orleans in a half famished condition.

On being released from the car the animals plunged into the icy waters of the Potomac river, and after drinking a great quantity of water all of them were taken ill. Five of the mules died before a veterinary surgeon who was summoned from Williamsport, arrived, but the others were saved. It is alleged that the car containing the mules had been delayed in transportation for four days.

FIVE BURNED TO DEATH.

Freehold, N. J., Dec. 8.—Nearly a whole family perished in the flames that destroyed a dwelling at Clarksburg, 10 miles from here, early today.

Clayton Fowler, 42 years old, his wife, 36 years, and their four children, aged respectively, 16 years, 13 years, 2 years and 6 months, lived in the house, which was a two-story frame building. The fire started on the lower floor, and when the family awoke the whole lower part of the house was in flames.

The oldest child, a boy, jumped from the second-story window and escaped with slight bruises, but Mr. and Mrs. Fowler were either afraid to jump or were overcome by smoke before they could reach a window, and they and the three other children were burned to death.

Charles Jarman, a young man of Franklin City, Va., died suddenly on a gasoline boat on Chincoteague bay a few days ago. Mr. Jarman went to Chincoteague from Franklin City to see a dentist. He reached Chincoteague all right and started to return to Franklin City alone in the boat. Persons on shore noticed the boat run into the spar of a schooner anchored a hundred yards off shore. The boat then went in an erratic course for a few yards and veered off shore towards Chincoteague again. About a quarter of a mile off shore it began to run in a circle.

CUT HIS THROAT.

A Wife's Struggle With A Crazy Husband. Haunted by the fear that he would be arrested or suffer accident, William McFerron, a machinist, in Waynesboro, Pa., cut his throat Wednesday with a razor. He went into the kitchen where his wife was preparing a meal and ask her for his razor. She handed it to him under the impression he intended shaving himself. As soon as he grasped the razor he drew the blade across his throat, making a wound 4 inches long and a half inch deep. Blood spouted from his throat until he sunk to the floor unconscious. His wife dragged him to the back porch screaming for help. In wresting the razor from him she cut her hands badly. Three surgeons attended him and sowed up the wound, and while he was still lying Wednesday night the chances for recovery are small. He is 45 years old and has four children. He had long been melancholy.—Sun.

DEATH OF AN AGED LADY.

For The Chronicle

Miss Lea Elme, who died Saturday last, in her 80th year, was from her youth employed at Mount St. Mary's College, and many generations of students knew her well. She was released about twenty years ago, but never passed a well day since that without visiting her old home and chatting with some of its inmates. She kept her lamp trimmed and every morning the year round, came to early mass, and gave good example to all that saw this. She loved the dead members of the faculty who rest on the hill, and strewed flowers on their graves; but better than this, she prayed for their souls, and had the priest remember them as Saint Augustine did his mother, "at the altar of God." Requiem mass was celebrated in presence of her remains on Monday morning by her pastor, Father Lyons, of St. Anthony's Church. President O'Hara and Reverend Professors Bradley and Tierney being in the Sanctuary. A delegation of Sisters of St. Francis was also in the pews with the friends and acquaintances who came to her funeral.

A SOCIAL EVENING.

For The Chronicle

On Thursday evening, Dec. 3d, Miss Maude Maxell and Miss Anna Stansbury entertained a number of their many friends at the home of Miss Maxell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Maxell, of near town. The open frankness with which the guests were invited to share the pleasures and comforts by the cheerful fireside in the old homestead took away all formality. The kind and generous hospitality made all feel that here is a home in which "Welcome ever smiles and farewell goes out sighing." Though those few happy hours are now only a memory, yet long will they linger in the hearts and minds of those present.

WILD RUN OF AN ENGINE.

A freight train backing into a shifting engine in the Baltimore and Ohio yard Tuesday morning at Brunswick hurled the engine, Joshua Smith, from the cab, injuring his leg, and then the engine started on a wild run up the east track toward Weverton at a speed of about thirty miles an hour. The other members of the engine's crew jumped when the accident occurred, escaping injury. With one side of the cab stove in and the tender damaged, the engine, without a guiding hand at the throttle, dashed up the track as far as Knoxville and stopped of its own accord, owing to the steam getting low and the automatic air valves opening, shutting down the brakes. Word was sent ahead by telegraph to switch the engine from the main line at Weverton to the Hagerstown branch to avoid the danger of the runaway colliding with trains on the main line.

AN AFFLICTED FAMILY.

Case of Distress Brought to Attention of County Commissioners.

At the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Board of the Frederick County Commissioners Monday the destitute situation of the family of Charles Butler, colored, of district No. 8, was brought before the board. Butler has four children ill at this time with typhoid fever and within the past two days buried two others. Butler and his wife are not yet sick but the physician in attendance stated that if the family was not removed at once the fever would kill every one of them. The family was until Monday, when the commissioners gave them $15, without fire, clothes or food. Butler cut down a little apple tree in his front yard to make fire. The destitute condition of this family was not known in the neighborhood until Monday, and as soon as it was known the people sent in food and clothes. With the assistance already received the rest of the children may be saved.

PUT BULLET IN HIS BRAIN.

Charles Landerkin, Formerly of Frederick County, Suicided

Charles D. Landerkin, residing on the Belair road, near Baltimore, sent a bullet crashing into his brain early Saturday morning and died about 8 hours later. Landerkin who was formerly a resident of Frederick, was boarding with Mr. Charles D. Clark, and according to Mr. Clark's statement despondency and ill health were the cause of the deed. The body of the suicide was discovered in a barn owned by Mr. Edward Quick, of Belair road and Franklin avenue. The barn is situated about 15 yards from Mr. Clark's home, and the deed was committed there shortly after midnight. When found by Mr. Quick the man was still breathing, although unconscious. Mr. Quick went to his barn Saturday morning about 7.30 o'clock to procure some chicken-feed. When he opened the door he was horrified to see the body of a man, with face downward and the head resting in a pool of blood. A revolver was lying on a pile of hay a few feet away. Mr. Quick ran to Father Nagen-gast, at Anthonysville and the priest notified Dr. William D. Corse, of Gardenville, by telephone. Dr. Corse arrived a few minutes later, and after an examination pronounced the case hopeless. The blood was washed from the face and it was discovered that the bullet had entered the right temple above the right eye.

Dr. Corse stated that the bullet had plowed through the brain and had lodged somewhere near the left eye. A jury of inquest was summoned by Justice J. H. Schone, of Gardenville, and after viewing the remains gave a verdict of death due to suicide. Landerkin was 45 years of age and was born in Frederick. For the past four years he had been boarding with Mr. and Mrs. Clark.

Landerkin had been employed in a clerical capacity by the Daniel Miller Company. He had been a resident of Baltimore about 20 years and for several years lived in Walbrook. He told Mr. and Mrs. Clark that he had two brothers living in Martinsburg, W. Va., but never mentioned their names. He was a member of the Junior Order United American Mechanics.

DEATH OF BISHOP INGLE.

Rev. James Addison Ingle, Bishop of the Episcopal Church in Hankow, China, and son of Rev. Dr. Osborne Ingle, rector of All Saints' parish, in Frederick, died at Hankow Monday morning of a fever. The cablegram announcing the Bishop's death was received Monday morning at 10 o'clock, which briefly stated that he died from the effects of a fever contracted some days ago. The first intimation of his illness was contained in a cablegram received in Frederick last Friday. No particulars were contained in either of the messages.

Bishop Ingle was born in Frederick, Md., March 11, 1867, and was nearly 37 years old. He was the son of Rev. Dr. Osborne Ingle, who for nearly 40 years has been rector of All Saints' parish, in Frederick. His mother was Miss Mary Addison before her marriage.

Bishop Ingle was widely connected in Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia. His primary education was in the schools of Frederick, and he afterward attended the Episcopal High School at Alexandria, Va., and subsequently took the degree of master of arts at the University of Virginia. He then took a course at the Virginia Theological Seminary, and after a service of one year as deacon was ordained priest at St. Paul's Church, in Baltimore.

From early boyhood Bishop Ingle had a desire for the life of a foreign missionary, and in October, 1892, soon after his ordination, he sailed for China and went to work in the field at Hankow, about 700 miles inland from Shanghai. He has been there for the past 12 years, coming to this country twice during that time.

HOOS KILLED IN A FREIGHT WRECK.

A collision of freight trains occurred near Ellicott City Sunday night on the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, involving a loss of several thousand dollars. A heavily loaded train was standing on the track between the depot at Ellicott City and Oella Station, when a fast freight train, loaded mostly with live stock, dashed across the Oella dam curve and ran into the rear end of the resting train. Four cars loaded with hogs were thrown down the embankment and demolished, 500 hogs being killed in the smash-up and as many more being hopelessly injured. The animals that escaped from the cars wandered about the surrounding hills until captured by the railroad employes. The accident is said to have been due to the failure of the flagman of the resting train to signal the approaching train.
