Together the two men lifted her 40,000 prisoners and the wounded left in the hospitals, comes somewhat nearer the latest Japanese estimate that the total Russian losses were 155,000. At this rate Kuropatkin cannot have more than 100,000 effective fighting men with him.

The army of General Linevitch seems to have made the best retreat, but this no doubt was due to the stubborn fight made by General Rennenkampff on his extreme left, and the equally fierce resistance of General Kaulbars on the right, the latter general losing 28,000 men. Neither the army of Kaulbars nor of Rennenkampff has yet been accounted for by the dispatches. After his defeat around the western tombs, Kaulbars, finding his retreat directly northward cut off, made a detour to the eastward, where he was still fighting at last accounts. Rennenkampff must also still be in the hills to the eastward, as it took the Associated Press courier three days to reach Tie Pass.

The Mammoth Reclining Figure at Rangun, Burma.

To the eastern traveler the statue of Buddha is a familiar sight. From Colombo, in Ceylon, to Kobe, in Japan, he is everywhere greeted by the same calm, impassive and mysterious face of the eastern preceptor of perfection. But in no city in the orient do the form and face of Buddha constitute so frequent or so essential a part of the city's decoration as in Rangun, Burma, starting place of Mr. Kipling's

SONG SOOTHES HYSTERICAL GIRL East St. Louis, Ill., March 13-Thrown into violent hysteria by an encounter on the street Saturday night with a footpad who robbed her of $10, Mamie Powers, aged 18 years, lies at her home unable to recognize those about her, and is quieted only while songs are sung to her. The attending physician thinks that the soothing influence of the music will eventually restore her to health.

Miss Powers rushed home after her encounter with the robber and fell fainting. When revived she raved unintelligibly, and since has had but a lucid moment. That was Sunday afternoon, when she suddenly cried:

"Send for Will McGraw. I want him to sing." The young man was summoned, and, accompanying himself on a mandolin, began singing.

Instantly Miss Powers became calm. The moment the music ceased she grew hysterical. McGraw sang himself out and was relieved by another musical visitor, and the music was continued until midnight Schistler shot and killed Mr. and sleep. Today she was again hys- home today.
