From the Mayflower, which is carrying the Russian mission, Mr. Witte and Baron Rosen, the czar's envoys, landed, and after a stay of five hours Mr. Witte, accompanied by Gregory Wilnenkin and two secret service officers, went to Boston on a special train. They arrived in Boston last night and started for Portsmouth today.

Baron Rosen returned to the Mayflower after Mr. Witte's departure. The Japanese envoys did not come ashore, but several of their secretaries landed to file cablegrams.

Went to Magnolia and Paid His Respects to Baroness Rosen. Boston, Aug. 8.-Mr. Witte, the sen for Russian plenipotentiary to the peace conference at Portsmouth, who left the cruiser Mayflower at Newport, was at his apartments at the Hotel Touraine, in this city.

Later Mr. Witte went to Magnolia in an automobile, accompanied by Mr. Wilenkin, the Russian financial agent, and spent an hour at the Russian embassy, located there temporarily. After paying his respects to Baroness Rosen, wife of the ambassador, he had a long conference with several members of the embassy. It appeared as if he transacted considerable official business, as the attaches of the embassy were extremely busy for some hours after his departure.

Later in the afternoon Mr. Witte returned from Magnolia and went to his notel. At 9.30 he, Mr. Wilenkin and trains are running through between two secret service officers were driven son. Young Hamilton left the home of the pier, but did not set it on New Orlenas and Houston, thus dis-

HOLLAND'S NEW CABINET

Professor G. A. Van Hamel is Made Premier and Minister of Justice. The Hague, Aug. 8.—A new cabinet was formed under the premiership of G. A. Van Hamel, professor of philosophy at the University of Amsterdam. Jonkheer R. de Marees Van Swinderen, minister at Washington, was appointed minister of foreign affairs. Premier Van Hamel also takes the portfolio of minister of justice.

Other members of the cabinet are: Minister of the interior, Deputy Rink; minister of finance, Herr Deceester; vice president of the council of the East Indies and minister of marine, Captain Cohen Stuart; minister of war, General Staal; minister of public works, trade and industry, Herr Krans; director of the technical university and minister of agriculture and labor, Herr VeVegens; minister of the colonies, Deputy Fock.

The cabinet, headed by Dr. A. Kuyper, appointed July 31, 1901, resigned July 3 last, owing to the result of the general elections, which sent a masecond chamber of the states general.

LITTLE FINGER ONLY WAS LEFT Brick-Making Clay Machine Grinda Up Live Man.

Phoenixville, Pa., Aug. 7 .- A peculiar noise from a slag-mixing machine at the Montello Brick Company's works, Perkiomen, led to an investigation, which revealed the fact that the machine was grinding to powder the bones of Howard Yocum, of Ralin's Station, aged 30, the man who a short time before was operating it.

How Yocum happened to fall into the slag-mixing pit is a mystery, as he was alone at the time. His body was literally ground to pieces, kneaded and mixed with the red clay of which the bricks were being made. Nothing but of doing the little ones at hand, one of the unfortunate man's little fingers could be found.

THE MAGICAL DURIAN.

It Brings the Highest Price of Any Oriental Fruit.

It was at the height of the durian season, when all animal kind in Malay, two legged and four legged, is animated by an insatiable lust for the fruit itself and quick to fill with sayage anger against whatever stands in the way of satisfying its appetite, for not the least remarkable quality of this remarkable fruit is the amatory effect it has upon those who consume it, says Caspar Whitney in Outing. All durian eating Malays, man and beast, are aflame with erotic fire. The jungle resounds with the fighting of lovelorn brutes and the towns awaken to courtship. The durian is about the size of a pineapple, with a similarly rough outside covering armed with half inch spikes which are tough and sharp. It grows on trees fully sixty feet in height whose trunks are bare of limbs except at the very top, and when the fruit ripens it drops to the ground. So as the season approaches natives erect small buts under the tree or near by, from which they watch for the falling

THE IDEAL HOME.

Man's Ideas Constantly Change as He Grows Older.

As the male member of the human species advances in years his ideas as to what constitutes an ideal dwelling change so absolutely that there is between the different places he would select almost no similarity.

At three years old his ideal is a tent formed from a table cover, a blanket, danger. a spread, a piece of carpet, or any other material that can be so arranged that it will form a little place into which to crawl.

At six the best possible dwelling is a hut built of barrel staves, boards and planks, and unknown to persecuting Taneytown road, in a high state of cultiadults, and especially to policemen,

At twenty the heart's desire is a room in a large hotel where the cost would be at least $3 a day and where there would be a dinner at 7 o'clock, with lots of pretty and rich women present, a big smoking room and plenty of stationery with a heavy gold monggram or crest stamped on it.

At twenty-five the best possible home is a neat, comfortable modern flat in some respectable neighborhood, not too far from the cars, theaters and shopping district, and with asphalted streets so there will not be too much noise.

At thirty-five the only proper dwelling is a town house, preferably situ-Once in the jungle as I sat smoking, ated near houses of men whose wealth is reckoned in the tens of millions of dollars and who really have considerable money, said house to have a gallery, and in addition to this house

Creatures That Seem Never to Die From Old Age. Wandering unconcernedly in the field of view of any high power microscope there may be seen an animal which has probably been living continuously ever since life first appeared on the earth and which has certainly never lost an ancestor by death. The creature is transparent and resembles a drop of slightly more viscid fluid in the thin film of water in which it is confined. Amoeba is the name by which it is "I sowed Canada peas." That may cality of the buyer. In the first place, known to science. The headlands at the southwest corner are becoming more and more prominent till now they are like the fingers of an outstretched hand of which the palm is rapidly shrinking. The whole creature is flowing rather than creeping toward a small chain of bacteria, which presently it devours. There is no mouth through which they pass. They are simply engulfed as small drops of water may be merged into a larger. In an hour or two they will have been the activities of their destroyer. Occasionally amid its ceaseless changes of form amoeba may be seen to be developing a "waist," which grows smaller and narrower until it snaps, and instead of one large animal we have two small ones, which, without even a momentary pause, continue the search for food till, in a few hours each is full sized and ready to divide

But what has become of the original amoeba? In the absence of anything which could be called his corpse we said that he is still living as the two new amoebae. Now, this splitting into two being the only mode of reproduction of the race, it follows that all the previous parent amoebae from which our present two are descended are still by natural foes, but it must be reany children and so will never be ancestors, and that so long as any one amoeba is living none of his direct ancestry is dead. The conclusion has forced itself upon biologists that death is no part of the life scheme of these humble creatures. They are not like us-machines, harvested with the scythe or with the preordained to run down in a more or old fashioned revolving hayrake. In the leper colony of Audijan, Turkestan, there are a number of women who have become professional beggars. The sad creatures on whom the frightful disease has made visible marks use large fans made of leaves to shield their faces when they present their palms for coppers. VARIETIES OF MULES.

The Classification Depends Upon the Work They Are to Do.

"The classification of Missouri's great product, the mule, is the hardest of all live stock," said a dealer to a Kansas City Star reporter. "To most people the animal is sim-

To most buyers he is good or bad, large or small, smooth or rough, will probably bring a certain price on the marmules known to the market are cotton mules, lumber mules, railroad mules, sugar mules, farm mules, levee mules, city mules and miners. Miners are classed as surface and pit mules. "Cotton mules are the commonest kind in regard to number. Their build makes little difference so long as they are smooth. Lumber mules are the largest, heavy boned, rugged grades, 15.3 to 16.2 hands or better. They are used in the big lumber camps for logging and must have the weight for good heavy pulling. Similar to the lumber mule is the railroader. He is used in grading, hauling and all the work that is known in the construction of railroads. Sugar mules belong to the fancy class. They must be smooth, built rangy, small head and neck, small bones. Farm mules vary in size, but are formed from the rejected ones of the foregoing classes.

"Levee mules, as the word implies, are used near steamboats and docks for the heavy work. They are generally single workers and must be of the rugged class. Their looks matter little so long as they are sound and fit for hard work. A city mule includes the small, light grade, such as you see on cannot declare him dead. A man is but a cluster on the great human grapevine. He begins to dry up the moment he is cut off from his fellows. There is something in the solidarity of the human race which cannot be accounted for in the sum total of all the individuals. Separation from the mass involves a mighty loss of power in the individual, just as there is a loss of cohesion and adhesion involved in the separation of the molecules and atoms of the diamond. The value of the gem is in the close contact, the compactness and the concentration of the particles which compose it. The moment they are separated its value is gone. So a strong, effective man gets a large part of his strength from the vital connection with his fellows.-Success Magazine.
