OLD HOME WEEK FINANCES

SKILFUL MANAGEMENT

Treasurer's Report Shows Handsome Balance

MONEY GOES TO THE FIREMEN

Executive Committee Is Dissolved.—Emmitsburg Monster Celebration Ends as It Began a Great Unqualified Success.

The final meeting of the Executive Committee of the Old Home Week celebration was held on Monday evening at Firemen's Hall, all of the members being present.

Action was taken on several routine matters, a few bills remaining unpaid were ordered to be settled, there was a vote of thanks to all who aided the committee in any way in making the Old Home Week celebration a success, and after hearing the very satisfactory report of the treasurer, this official body was dissolved.

It is a source of great satisfaction and gratification to the committee to make known the fact that after all expenses were paid there remained in the treasury a sum considerably over one hundred dollars. This balance was unanimously voted to the Vigilant Hose Company to be applied on the purchase of the field recently acquired by that excellent organization.

When it is remembered that no expense was spared to make the celebration a glorious one: the best bands available were procured, visitors were fittingly entertained, the comfort of all was considered, thousands of people were handled in a most remarkably satisfactory way, the streets were elaborately decorated, ten arches sixteen feet high were erected and festooned two hundred poles bearing pennants were planted on each side of the streets a costly game of baseball between two well-known professional teams was pulled off free of charge to the spectators, extensive advertising was done and a thousand other little things were accomplished that demand money—when these things are all considered the achievement of the Executive Committee becomes most remarkable.

Emmitsburg, as has frequently been the case in other things, has made the beginning and in so doing has set a standard hard to meet. Her experience has been of much value to sister communities. In the history of the smaller towns of Western Maryland her name is writ large and from her last endeavor much lustre has been added to these letters. As a community she is to be and is complimented, her citizens are to be praised and her enterprise to be emulated, but above all are to be commended these gentlemen who made up the Executive Committee of Old Home Week: C. R. Hoke, chairman; A. A. Horner, treasurer; E. C. Moser, secretary; J. Brooke Boyle, Harry Hopp, Vincent Sebold, Charles B. Ashbaugh, Michael Hoke, J. S. Annan, J. W. Breichner, Rev. A. M. Gluck, L. M. Zimmerman E. E. Zimmerman and Sterling Galt.

BLAME FIXED FOR SALTON SEA FLOODS OF 1905

New Liverpool Salt Company Held Responsible by United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Responsibility for the Salton Sea floods of 1905 and 1906 was finally fixed by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. The ruling affirms the decision of the District Court in the case of the California Development Company against the New Liverpool Salt Company, holding that the intakes constructed by the development company were improperly built.

The Southern Pacific Company, which did the work with the approval of President Roosevelt, has presented a bill for $2,000,000 to the Government.

Centenary of Tennyson's Birth.

To-day is the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Alfred Lord Tennyson, the unquestioned supreme poet of the Victorian age. Tennyson's father was a preacher, his mother a preacher's daughter. His life was not like that of other geniuses, for he was neither erratic nor did he transcend the ordinary rules of morality. He died in 1902. Next to Shakespeare and Milton, no English poet is more certain of enduring renown.

Revolutionists to the number of 120 have been condemned and shot by the Spanish government. About $3000 were killed or wounded by machine guns during the riots at Barcelona and elsewhere.

THE WRIGHTS WIN OUT

Aviator Takes Passenger 10 Miles Cross Country

SPEED EXCEEDS THAT REQUIRED

From Fort Meyer to Alexandria and Back at 42 Miles An Hour.—Brothers Win $30,000 Reward.

All the requirements being complied with the Wright Brothers, Orville and Wilbur, will receive from the United States Government $30,000 for their aeroplane. This is the successful outcome of tests begun over a year ago at Fort Meyer in which one man lost his life and Orville Wright was badly injured.

The crucial test was made last Friday. Orville Wright with Lieutenant Foulois of the Army Signal Corps, rode from Fort Myer across country over Alexandria and returned in the biplane invented and operated by the Wrights. The official report shows that the aeroplane sailed at the rate of 42.583 miles an hour on the average thus exceeding the required 40 mile rate demanded by the government. That is from the beginning of his flight, that is from Fort Meyer to Alexandria he made about 38 miles an hour, but on the last leg the machine picked up speed and went at the rate of 47.4 miles.

After the start was made the machine climbed up in the air made a few turns and shot toward Alexandria keeping on an average about 200 feet above the ground. At Shuter Hill, just outside of Alexandria, the turn was made. The ship shot at high speed over the imaginary line, swung around at a height of 350 feet and started on its return.

Army officers who have witnessed the trials at Washington are deeply impressed by the success of the aeroplane. Wilbur Wright, who has been so successful in his flights in France, will fulfill the government contract by instructing officers in the manipulation of the aeroplane purchased by the government. Orville, who made the tests will leave shortly for Germany to complete arrangements for the company that has been organized to build Wright aeroplanes.

SUGAR TRUST WOULD PAY OTHER COMPANY $750,000

Bondholders of Pennsylvania Refining Company Kick on Compromise.—Courts May Decide the Matter.

In the suit for $30,000,000 damages instituted by the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company against the American Sugar Refining Company, known as the Sugar Trust, alleging that the latter company prevented the former from operating its refinery, the trust offered to settle for $750,000. George N. Earle, receiver for the Pennsylvania company, has asked the courts to rule on the advisability of accepting the offer.

Mr. Earle's application has been vigorously opposed by the bondholders of the Pennsylvania Refining Company, who maintain that if the case would go to trial a much larger sum would be recovered for the Pennsylvania company. They also asked that a master be appointed so that a complete report could be made of the proposed adjustment.

Mr. Earle showed that in addition to the $750,000 in cash which has been offered by the American Sugar Refining Company securities aggregating $8,500,000 would be turned over.

SOUTH CAROLINA DRY UNTIL AFTER ELECTION

Local Option Is To Be Voted On In Twenty-One Counties of Ben Tillman's Dispensary State.

On Tuesday South Carolina became "dry." The State is half and half, 21 counties being prohibition and 21 "wet." The drouth is to be only temporary lasting until the local option election on August 17 which will be held only in the wet counties.

Attorney-General Lyon has delivered an opinion to the effect that the results of the election "would not be known" until officially declared by the State Board of Canvassers, which means that county places will be closed for at least a month. Governor Ansel has concurred in this opinion. In the elections each county votes as a unit.

No Confession from Aged Recluse.

The old resident of the Corner, south of Mercersburg, who was to disclose the mystery of the disappearance of a girl named Straley some 40 years ago, died without making any allusion to the incident. David Gutschalk, aged nearly 90, was reported to have confessed to the murder of the girl and the full particulars were published in several newspapers. If he knew anything of the girl the secret died with him.

Snow fell in Omaha on Friday.

GOV. WARFIELD'S LISBON SPEECH

WHOLE DEMOCRATIC ORGANIZATION ARRAIGNED

How The Cards Were Stacked Against Former Governor In Senatorial Primary In 1907

FRANK BROWN AND SMITH'S $20,000 CONTRIBUTION ALLUDED TO

"Officeholders Combine To Keep Their Offices And Hoodwink The People, Deprive Them Of Their Rights And Keep Saying 'For The Party's Sake.'"—State Wide Primary Demanded.—Resolutions Offered And Signed By One Hundred And Fifty.

With former Governor Warfield's stirring words on cleanliness in politics delivered here during Old Home Week, fresh in their memory the people of this community are in a position to appreciate what this same gentleman had to say at Lisbon, Howard county, on last Saturday.

"The organization does not represent the great Democratic party, but only a clique of men who are exploiting it and using it for their own personal benefit," is one of the striking sentences in the Lisbon speech.

What the Democrats in this district think of the machine was apparent two years ago when Mr. Warfield received 172 votes in the Senatorial primary to Mr. Smith's 74. Mr. Smith being backed by the organization.

"Ask ex-Governor Frank Brown," continued Mr. Warfield, "what he got for turning the city committee over to my opponent in that fight and seeing to it that every city official, and every city employe, and every member of that committee was instructed to go to the polls and vote against Warfield. He will tell you that it amounted to $20,000, and he will also tell you that in every letter sent out with money for campaign use it was stated that it was to be used in the interest of Smith."

"When I entered the primary the organization said it would play fair. That is the way it played fair. It cost, I am told, $65,000 to accomplish my defeat, and yet 30,000 votes cast for me were placed to my credit, and only the Lord knows how many more that were never placed to my credit. I was told by a member of the Baltimore City Committee that I carried every ward in Baltimore, and he knew it."

At the first announcement that Mr. Warfield was to speak on this occasion at Lisbon, Mr. Gorman, son of the late A. P. Gorman, said something about Mr. Warfield that were not complimentary. In reply to these statements the speaker said:

"Now, Senator Gorman, from this county, who has injected himself into this matter, has said that the election in this county was absolutely fair. I take direct issue with him. It was fair in this district. Yes, but in his own district I am informed that the man who carried the organization's money for the debauching of voters, bought up votes, and after he had voted the poor, driven cattle at the regular election polling place he told them their contract was not finished until they had voted against Warfield.

"It was the same in the First and Sixth districts of this county. Why could they not have let my own neighbors alone? It was bad faith. It was using the organization of the Democratic party in all its nefarious ways to defeat another candidate who was a Democrat."

"Now what is this organization, which is vested with all these rights and which is empowered by this law to dictate to you how you shall vote or preclude you from the right of voting in the manner which will give you an opportunity to cast a direct vote—one not subject to the machinations of a

LEPER JOHN EARLY LIVING WITH WIFE IN BROOKLYN

Given His Liberty by Specialists Who Pronounce Him Clean.—Will Join the Salvation Army.

John R. Early, the former soldier, familiarly known as "Leper Early," who was detained at Washington for more than a year by the health authorities, is now living with his wife and children in a flat in Brooklyn.

Since his arrival in New York in charge of Dr. L. Duncan Bulkeley, the cancer specialist, who asserted that Early had really been poisoned in a pulp mill in the South, Early has remained under observation at the New York Skin and Cancer Hospital.

Dr. Bulkeley said that he was allowed to come and go at will. As all doubt as to his ailment has been dispelled, according to Dr. Buckley, Early was permitted to take the apartment in Brooklyn.

He is preparing to take up Salvation Army work again, with which he was identified before he was isolated in Washington.

JOHNSON IS FOR WEST

Wants "Beyond Mississippi" Country to Be Heard

MORE ESPECIALLY IN CONGRESS

Balance of Power Held Out There and Yet They Do Not Get Their Just Share of Representation.

Governor Johnson said a few caustic things about the East at Seattle on Tuesday. In part he said:

"It is time that the West threw off the shackles of the East. I would preach no sectional divisions and no sectional strifes, but Minnesota and Washington, and the States between them, with those to the south of us, should rise in their might and claim for themselves that fair share of influence in the halls of Congress and in the administration of national affairs to which they are entitled by every law of common sense, as well as of political economy."

"We, as an integral part of the American people, should cast our influence and our votes not only to advance the material interests of our own particular section, but we should be broad enough and big enough to labor for the common good of our common country."

"Fifty years of national folly in the enactment of navigation laws and high protective tariffs have crippled American shipping until more than 90 per cent. of our Atlantic commerce is carried in foreign bottoms. Notwithstanding this half century of maritime shame, the United States flag floats to-day over a merchant marine of about 4,000,000 registered steam tonnage, which carries to the markets of the world nearly 200,000,000 tons of American products. One-half of this vessel tonnage, however, is on the Great Lakes, while the Pacific Coast, the Great Lakes and the Mississippi combined boast nearly 70 per cent. of the total. And the freight which it carries consists of the products of that great army of Western yeomen who demand no fostering hand of government and ask only for that justice and freedom to which they are entitled by natural right under the guaranty of our constitution and our flag."

FIELD FOR AIRSHIP TESTS FOUND IN MARYLAND

Wright Brothers Will Instruct Army Officers Near State College, College Park, Maryland.

Wilbur Wright will return to Washington early next week to instruct Lieutenants Lahee and Foulois of the Signal Corps in the manipulation of the Wright aeroplane purchased by the Signal Corps. The instruction flights are to take place at College Park, Md., according to the present plans.

Practice flights with the aeroplane will be in order after the two officers have been trained. A number of experiments with the heavier-than-air machine are also planned, and a scheme for the establishment of a large experimental plant for aeronautics near Washington is under consideration by the Signal Corps officers. It is probable that those specifications more stringent than those carried to a successful close by Orville Wright will be issued this fall after the various contests between different types of machines here and abroad have taken place.

No attempt will be made to exclude the public from these tests.

AVIATORS TO COMPETE AT RHEIMS FRANCE

Wright Brothers Not to Enter Contest.—Seven Nations To Be Represented There on August 22.

Aviators from France, America, Austria, England and Italy will take part in a contest at Rheims, France, which will open on August 22. The Wright brothers will not enter. Among the prizes is $20,000 to be awarded to the pilot of the aeroplane which covers the greatest distance without renewal of fuel or touching the ground.

The task of preparing for this imposing aerial meet is naturally stupendous. A stout barricade has been built around to prevent spectators from invading the aerodrome proper. Numerous aeroplane and balloon sheds have been constructed.

Blair Lee Wins Nomination.

State Senator Blair Lee defeated Harry T. Newcomb for the State Senate nomination in Montgomery county, by a majority of 1,462, in the election held last Saturday. Mr. Lee even carried Newcomb's home district.

At least five lives were lost in St. Paul by the explosion of a gasoline tank in a machine shop.

A general clearing out of undesirable officials of the Marine Corps has been proposed.

TARIFF FIGHT WON BY TAFT

A REVISION DOWNWARD

A Letter From President To Congress Effective

WAS DISPOSITION TO OPPOSE

Duties Lowered On $5,000,000 Worth Of Goods And Raised On $850,000 Worth.—If Bill Should Fail Another Session Would be called.

President Taft has won his fight for tariff revision downward. The "stand pat" forces of the Senate and the House have gone down to defeat. The unholy alliance between Speaker Cannon and ex-Representative Littauer has come to naught. The corporations of the country are to be made to subject their affairs to the clear light of publicity. Justice is to be done to the Filipinos. The people will receive some benefit from a genuine tariff revision, and the Republican party, under its new leader, William Howard Taft has demonstrated a capacity to withstand the influence of evil and present a solid front in opposition to the powerful pressure exerted by lobbies of the protected interests. These are the results of the agreement on the tariff bill which has finally been reached by the conferees and which remains only to be confirmed, as it unquestionably will be, by the Republican majorities in the two houses of Congress.

It required a letter from the President to the conferees, in which, in simple but straightforward terms he declared that if the rate on rough lumber was placed above $1.25 a thousand feet and the rates on women's gloves were increased above the Dingley law he would "reject" the bill, to bring the conferees to their senses and induce them to provide for that measure of revision downward which Mr. Taft deemed essential. When the time came to write the letter, the President did not hesitate to take the step, however, and the result is one of which all Republicans may well feel proud. The number of reductions contained in the completed bill is far greater than is generally supposed or than the public has had an opportunity to discover. Chairman Payne has presented the results in an effective manner. He shows that the duties have been lowered on $5,000,000 worth of goods used by the people, while they have been increased on only $850,000 worth. To arrive at this comparison he takes the year 1905 as a basis of comparison which is entirely consistent with the position he has taken all along that the figures of 1907 do not present a fair basis of comparison for the reason that that was a decidedly exceptional year. Mr. Payne shows, moreover, that the increases fall on $579,000 worth of luxuries, which constitutes two thirds of all the increases. In further exemplification of his contention that the bill constitutes genuine revision of the tariff, Mr. Payne points out that in a number of instances the duties were so high

POPE MANUFACTURING CO. RECEIVERSHIP ENDED

Affairs of Company In Order and Receivers' Bonds Cancelled by Vice Chancellor Howell.

The final order of distribution in the matter of the Pope Manufacturing Company receivership was signed by Vice Chancellor Howell on Monday. This order dismisses the receivership and directs the cancellation of the receivers' bonds. It also directs the payment of a cash dividend of 41.277 per cent. to all holders of the 195 first preferred stock which did not go into the re-organization scheme.

The Pope Manufacturing Company before its failure conducted a large factory in Hagerstown, which was sold when the receiver was appointed.

Washington Lutheran Pastor Dead.

Rev. John George Butler, for 60 years a Lutheran minister in Washington, dropped dead at his home in that city on Monday morning. Besides his wife Dr. Butler is survived by two daughters, Miss Ella C. Butler and Mrs. H. H. Polkinhorn and two sons, Rev. Dr. C. H. Butler and Dr. F. K. Butler.

Dr. Butler served as chaplain of the House of Representatives through the Forty-first, Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses, and in 1889 was made chaplain of the Senate, which position he held until 1893. Dr. Butler was a native of Cumberland, Md., having been born there in 1826.

Paderewski is now an officer in the French Legion of Honor.

CHARMIAN GOLD MINE

Report Says $600 Worth In Ton of Selected Ore

MINE IN ACTIVE OPERATION

Virgin Copper Company Think They Have Struck Something Worth While.— Shaft May Go Down 400 Feet.

Gold, silver, and copper, averaging $25 to the ton and, in some select samples, giving as high as $600 in gold per ton, are being dug out of the Blue Ridge Mountains at the Virgin mine up in the hills near Charman, says the Washington Herald.

The fact that many of the high boulders on the mountains are streaked with copper, has led to attempts to extract the metal. The stone, however, has proved itself so hard that it has turned the steel drills when efforts were made to penetrate it. It was this toughness of the flinty-like substance that forced the Western Maryland to abandon a cut just south of the Mason and Dixon Line at Blue Ridge Summit and make a detour through Pennsylvania.

The Virgin mine borders on the Franklin County line and is equidistant from Charman and Gladhill stations, on the Gettysburg branch of the Western Maryland, which runs through the property.

The mine is in active operation. At present the work is being pushed on a six foot by eight foot slope on an angle of forty-seven degrees. The mine is now over 200 feet in depth. It is equipped with a powerhouse, a head frame, a hoisting engine, skip cars, and air compressors. Compressed air power is used for all purposes.

Prospective operators began on the property in July, 1907, by exploration with a diamond drill, and to this end four holes have been bored, ranking in depth from 165 to 800 feet. The showing and values of cores taken from the depths were the bases upon which the present work was commenced. These cores showed that the deposit of ores owed its origin to a well defined fissure vein crossing the property northeast to southwest, with a southwest dip. The general analysis of the ores shows nearly an equal proportion of copper, gold, and silver.

It is the intention to drive the present slope to a depth of 400 feet, and then begin drifting and stopping on the vein so as to get out a large tonnage for treatment.

The character of the ore being native copper, in which the gold and silver values are contained the treatment at the mine will be a comparatively simple operation as compared with the usual expensive smelting process.

The Virgin Copper Company is a York corporation, of which J. H. Dechert, of York, is president, and H. S. Wiest, of the same place, is treasurer. It is a stock corporation with a capitalization of $500,000. The mine is managed and run by C. E. Wills, of Fairfield.

WHEAT BELOW DOLLAR MARK

December Contracts Tumble to 99 1/8 Cents.

For the first time in several months wheat was quoted under the dollar level in the Chicago market Wednesday. There was a swift break in the September price, which was at $1.09 a week ago from $1.02 1/2 to $1.00 1/2, and at the same time the December contracts took a tumble to 99 1/8. Selling of wheat was on such a large scale that shorts, who put out lines 5c. and 10c. higher, were able to cover at big profits without causing any recovery in the market. The cause of the extreme bearishness is the passing of the black rust scare in North Dakota.

World's Industrial Center.

About the busiest industrial region on earth is the lowland of England from Lancashire and the Mersey River on the west to Newcastle-on-Tyne in the northeast. Here are scores of cities and towns, the home of the textile industries, the potteries, the great shops busy with iron and steel and other raw materials, manufacturing goods of a high value for a market as wide as the earth. Over all this lowland hangs a black pall of soft coal smoke, the landscapes studded with the tall spouting chimneys. For all this endless activity in manufacture is wholly due to the location of these lowlands of fabulously rich deposits of coal. Coal for a century and a half has been a magical bank account in Great Britain, bringing into existence these great artisan populations, making demands on every continent for the metals and timber and textile fibres for the busy mills, and then calling on the farms and ranges of America, the Argentine and other new lands, for the bread and meat to feed these industrial millions. Of all this textile territory Manchester is the central market and clearing house. In the Manchester Exchange 177 towns are represented, eleven of them having each a population of 100,000 or over.— World Today.

Dressed as a cowboy, Edward S. O'Reilly, managing editor of the San Antonio Light-Gazette, will ride horseback from Texas to Washington and deliver to President Taft an invitation to visit that State in the fall.

Coin Collectors and New Penny.

Complaint has been made to the Treasury Department that the initials of the designer of the new Lincoln cent are unduly prominent, and that, therefore, the coin should be immediately called in. The complaint comes principally from coin collectors. If the coin is recalled its value will be greatly enhanced. It will be remembered that when the first Saint Gaudens $20 gold pieces were recalled the premium paid by coin collectors ranged between $10 and $20.

The court may enforce any order by attachment for contempt in said cases; neither party shall have any right of removal; exception may be taken to any ruling of the court at the hearing of said cases and an appeal shall be allowed to the Court of Appeals as in other cases; all such appeals shall be taken within five days from the date of the decision complained of and shall be heard and decided by the Court of Appeals upon the original papers, and otherwise, as the Court of Appeals may by rule prescribe, as soon as may be practicable.

Bank Building Nearing Completion. The new home of the Middletown Savings Bank at Middletown, this county, is about completed. Increased patronage made necessary the building of the handsome new structure.

BUILT OF HISTORIC WOOD

Warehouse Timbers Were Once Used As B. & O. Stringers.

The timbers in the warehouse of G. S. Mercier, of Point of Rocks, are valuable relics of the days when horses furnished the motive power for the B. & O. Railroad. The joists of this building are made from the "stringers" which were used on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad before the day of the locomotive. These "stringers" were oak timbers, about six inches square, laid longitudinally on the track just as the "T" rails are now laid. Upon these timbers iron "straps" about two inches wide and a half inch thick were spiked, and upon these straps the wheels ran. To fit upon these thin straps the flanges of the wheels must have been very slight. Now and then the end of a strap would get loose, and the wheels would get under it and the iron would penetrate the floor and sometimes passengers were severely wounded by them. They were known as the "snake heads."

To several of the stringers now used as joists in Mr. Mercier's warehouse the straps are still attached, and it is doubtful whether anywhere in the world there is another specimen intact of this kind of "rail" used in the infancy of railroad construction.

The warehouse was built about 60 years or more ago at the time the primitive rails were supplanted by cross-ties and iron rails. For a year or two, beginning in 1832, Point of Rocks was the Western terminal of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, pending the litigation and the settlement by the Legislature of the right of way between the river and the mountain at this place. Large quantities of goods and produce were brought here, and the old warehouse in which they were stored is still standing and in good repair. It is now used as a hotel.

POEMS FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

These verses are published by request of the school department. Teachers and pupils are asked to become familiar with the poems published from time to time under this head.

THE CHILDREN'S HOUR.

Between the dark and the daylight,
When the night is beginning to lower,
Comes a pause in the day's occupations,
That is known as the Children's Hour.

I hear in the chamber above me
The patter of little feet,
The sound of a door that is opened,
And voices soft and sweet.

From my study I see in the lamplight,
Descending the broad hall stair,
Grave Alice, and laughing Allegra,
And Edith with golden hair.

A whisper, and then a silence:
Yet I know by their merry eyes
They are plotting and planning together
To take me by surprise.

A sudden rush from the stairway,
A sudden raid from the hall!
By three doors left unguarded
They enter my castle wall.

They climb up into my turret
O'er the arms and back of my chair;
If I try to escape, they surround me;
Them seem to be everywhere.

They almost devour me with kisses,
Their arms about me entwine,
Till I think of the Bishop of Bingen
In his Mouse-Tower on the Rhine:

Do you think, O blue-eyed banditti,
Because you have scaled the wall,
Such an old mustache as I am
Is not a match for you all!

I have you fast in my fortress,
And will not let you depart,
But put you down into the dungeon
In the round-tower of my heart.

And there will I keep you forever,
Yes, forever and a day,
Till the walls shall crumble to ruin,
And moulder in dust away.

OLDEST BANK CLOSED FOREVER

Frederick Institution Merged With Central National.

On Saturday night the First National Bank of Frederick ceased to exist and is now merged with the Central National Bank. The First National was the oldest national bank in Frederick. It was incorporated in 1865, with a capital stock of $100,000 which was never increased.

The consolidation of the two banks caused considerable stir in business and financial interests at the time the Central Bank secured a controlling interest in the stock of the First National. As soon as extensive improvements have been completed the Central will move into the building on the corner of Market and Church streets, now occupied by the First National. The change will give to Frederick another handsome new bank building, the fourth in the last two years.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 6, 1909.

THE CHRONICLE will be independent in politics, progressive in spirit and a champion of what it conceives to be right.

DO YOUR PART IN POLITICS.

This from the New Orleans Picayune: "The control of public affairs is largely given up to a class who make a business of politics and seem to hold a perpetual lien on the public offices."

But just here a question arises that, owing to existing conditions within the corporation, is hard to answer. Where shall the people deposit debris such as accumulates around the household?

GARFIELD FOR GOVERNOR?

Dispatches have it that James R. Garfield is to be a candidate for governor of Ohio, and that Mr. Taft is the prime mover in the scheme.

HOW TO KEEP YOUNG.

That years bring infirmity is generally accepted as true, but as there are many instances—and within the observation of almost every one—where just the opposite is the case it is natural to seek for some reason why the average person is content to grow old before the allotted time.

"THERE are mighty few people who are willing to leave the punishment of a sinner to the Lord," says the Atchison Globe. But a mighty big number who are willing to give the Lord advice about most anything on any occasion.

EVEN the Louisa Star,

about them; sit erect in your chair; when you stand, lift yourself to your full height; when you speak, let your voice possess volume and energy; when you think, think freshly, and away from routine.

It is indeed refreshing and encouraging to read of what some people, old in years but young in body and spirit, have accomplished by resisting gravitation.

WANTED—A DUMPING GROUND.

If there is one thing more than any other that mars the approach to Emmitsburg from Gettysburg it is the very unsightly rubbish pile at the bridge near Flat Run.

Ever since the new prohibitory law went into effect, we have been assured that Kansas has been as dry as the Mojave desert.

"The completion of the tariff revision marks the last step in the recovery from the panic of the Winter of 1907-8," says a New York paper.

WE knew that Blair Lee would land the nomination in Montgomery, and we again congratulate the people of that county on their good sense and good judgment.

A MEMORY test: Ask the average Democrat in Frederick county about the Disfranchising Amendment and then try to recollect what he tells you.

Magnificent Structure in Mexico Now Condemned. It is sad news that the earthquake shocks in Mexico have rendered the great cathedral, as one account says, "practically a mass of ruins."

The cathedral is located on the North side of the city's chief square, is of the form of the cross, 426 feet long, 200 feet wide, and 175 feet high at the central dome.

SOME STATISTICS OF WEDLOCK

Figures and Facts About Divorces and Their Causes.

The Census Bureau draws many interesting deductions from the complete statistics of marriage and divorce for the twenty-year period from 1887 to 1906 inclusive.

The statistics tell an interesting story of the homes that have been wrecked by intemperance.

The attempt was made to ascertain the number of cases in which intemperance, although not a direct cause for divorce, was an indirect or contributory cause.

The average duration of marriages terminated by divorce is about ten years. The exact average as computed on the returns of the present investigation was 9.9 years.

There has been considerable of the blindness that takes up and continues the senseless cry in the repetition of the anathemas hurled at the "end-seat hog" as the illustration and embodiment of all selfishness.

Taft and Aldrich

(Springfield Republican)

The country is accepting the conference tariff bill as a Taft victory, and this is evidently in accordance with substantial truth.

Much of the Rhode Island senator's handiwork still remains in the bill. This is especially true of the administrative provisions.

But even though this may be the case, the bill has lost the broad stamp which Aldrich put upon it, and the yielding attitude taken under executive pressure at the last moment was too grudgingly assumed by him to pass at its face value.

For a man who in the presidential chair manifested so many unique characteristics and such marked individuality, Theodore Roosevelt as an editorial writer is a disappointment.

We have watched with no little interest his contributions to The Outlook since he became the associate of Lyman Abbott, and with possible two exceptions, these offerings of his pen have been the platitudinous products one might expect from a high school boy.

Paul's Instructions to the Thessalonians. I Thess. v: 12-24.
 Golden Text.—See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good. I Thess. v: 15.

Verses 12-15.—What is the dominant note to-day between officials of the church and the pastor, is it official and business, or is it spiritual, that of felt tender love and warm esteem?
 Do ministers as a class "labor" as hard, and suffer as their Master did, and thus compel the tender love and esteem of the church?
 Does the average minister or not, actually "labor" as hard as the average mechanic, farmer, business or professional man, and practise as much self denial as these?
 What is generally the real character of those who will not support the church because they do not like the minister?
 What is the only way by which to have "peace" among brethren in a church or in a community?
 Verse 14.—If you know anything against a fellow Christian what is the right thing to do, (1) say nothing about it; (2) talk about it to others; (3) correct him in the presence of others, or (4) see him alone and in love tell him what you have to say?
 Jesus went about lovingly helping people, in their bodies, their souls, and circumstances; if you and I are not doing that, have we a right to conclude that we are not followers of Jesus?
 Is it your duty, as a Christian, to take pains to "comfort" everybody with whom you come in contact, and if you are so doing, what is the effect upon your own life?
 * Verse 15.—If my neighbor sets his dog on my sheep, pulls down my fences in the night, shoots my chicken when one gets into his yard, is constantly slandering me and my family, and will not pay me a long standing just debt, what would Jesus do if he were I? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)
 Verse 16.—It is easy, Paul, for you to say, "Rejoice evermore," but is it practical for ordinary mortals, and if so, how?
 Verse 17.—If a man is really in love, with God and his fellows, does he not necessarily pray all the time, either consciously or unconsciously?
 Is it necessary, or helpful, to have set times for conscious prayer?
 Verse 18.—Are we to be thankful alike for pain and pleasure, for loss and gain, for enemies and friends, if we are "in Christ Jesus?"
 Is it not an actual fact, based on the truest philosophy, that every sort of experience which comes to a true man, is in the highest possible sense, for his good?
 In the light of eternal existence, are there any such things as accident, calamity, misfortune, or even regrettable circumstances, in the life of a man of God?
 Verse 19.—Can any man retain the peace of God, who is not absolutely obedient to the leadings of God's Holy Spirit?
 Verse 20.—Prophecying here means preaching, is there any sign in these days that it is being despised?
 Why should a love for the preaching of the gospel be cultivated?
 Verse 21.—Why should we not as Christians encourage the most absolute free thought, the most critical research, and welcome the teaching of true science?
 Can the real truth ever be a hurt to a true man, and is not such a man as glad to change his opinion, when he finds he is wrong, as to change a worn-out garment for a new one?
 Verse 22.—If we desire the right only, and are obedient to God's spirit, need we ever fear even the "appearance of evil?"
 Verses 23-24.—Does God mean his children to live "blameless" lives, and is the twenty-fourth verse not a promise that God will give the power to so do?

Field And Garden

Farmers Can Save Many Dollars by Frequent Use of Brush.

The time is at hand when the up-to-date farmer, the farmer who wants to make money and at the same time save money, should be giving some care to the wooden things on his farm. I am perhaps rather a crank on the care of farm buildings, says a writer in the Indiana Farmer, but I have been a farmer all my life and have learned the value of keeping them up in shape. I figure that I have made many dollars, or rather saved many, because of the care given my buildings, implements, etc. How have I done it? With the paint pail. Paint ought to be one of the farmer's best friends.

Take the wagon for instance. Are its sides cracked, warped and filled with checks? Are its spokes and hubs in the same condition? Is the tongue showing weather-beaten and seamy? Notice carefully and you will be surprised to see how much of this is so. And what does it mean? It means, that the life of the average farm wagon is not much more than six years, while it should be 16 or 20. For the first 10 years of its life your wagon should hardly show a check or a crack. You say, how can this be done? Get out your paint pail and paint your wagon twice a year. This may sound like an enormity to those who never paint their wagons—to them it sounds like a lot of work and expense. But it isn't. During the year 1908 I painted three wagons on my farm myself. The entire time spent in painting them twice was not more than 3 or 10 hours, and only required two gallons of $1.75 paint.

What did I save by so doing? Those three wagons, (one a low-down, handy wagon, for use only on the farm) have been in use on the farm now for five years, and have received two coats of paint each year, and to-day are as good as when new. I figure that I have saved from $75 to $100 on my wagons by the use of $12 or $15 worth of paint and a few hours' time. The average farmer can in this way save at least $50 each year caring for his farm furniture. Take the mower. Ordinarily, or in many cases, it is exposed to rain and wind, sleet and snow. One hour and 15 cents' worth of paint will suffice to protect this mower for half a season. Usually the beam of the plow is checked and cracked, if wooden, or if steel, the paint is weather-beaten. A single coat a season, five minutes' work and three cents' worth of paint, will save it. Rake, hoe and shovel handle can be painted in only a few minutes and their lives doubled.

If a first-class paint is bought it may be thinned one-half with linseed oil for the first coat. This makes the paint thin enough for the wood to absorb a part of it. The second coat should not be applied until at least four days after, by which time the first coat will have become hardened. But it is the buildings on the farm on which one can save most. It is a curious fact I have observed that many farmers give almost no thought to the painting of their houses, out-sheds and barns. The farmer who has not built anything since the big advance in the price of lumber naturally does not take this into consideration. There are thousands of barns throughout the country, now well on the road to ruin, that could be given 16 years addition to their usefulness if paint were used upon them this Summer. I want to show just how many an old barn may be saved for several years.

Suppose that you take a dozen evenings, or two or three days, and first repair the buildings as well as possible. See that the boards are on solidly, and repair the worst cracks and holes. Go to some reliable painter and buy some of the best prepared paint and some raw linseed oil, which you can get for 50 cents a gallon. Don't get cheap paint. For the first coat take one gallon of oil and mix with one gallon of paint and apply this liberally all over the barn. This first coat will be so thin it will soak into the wood and into the cracks, acting as the best preservative in the world. Allow this first coat to dry and harden four days. For the second coat use two gallons of paint to one of oil, and by the time this is on, the result will be a surprise. Except on very close inspection, (when of course one will be able to see the filled checks and cracks) your buildings will look as good as new. And from now on further checking and cracking of the wood ceases, provided painting is kept up when it is needed.

Moon and Its Effect on Potatoes.

The moon has nothing to do with the growth of potatoes. This statement sounds about as self-evident as a commencement oration, yet, according to a recent investigation by the department of agriculture, 75 per cent. of our farmers have been planting potatoes and other crops according to the almanac. It is a very general belief that potatoes planted in the dark of the moon produce the best crop, while the full moon variety are likely to "run to tops." It seems a bit absurd to suppose that a respectable old moon like ours could find nothing better to do than to stay up nights ruining the potato crop. So Uncle Sam, who has an unquenchable curiosity in such matters, began poking into the moon myth and discovered that it deserved respect only because of its age. His agricultural department workers found that they could raise just as poor potatoes in the dark of the moon as in the light.

Household Hints.

Dangers of Hot Weather and How Best to Avoid Them.

Frederick M. Lawrence, M. D., has written an article for Hampton's Magazine, in which he enumerates the dangers of hot weather, and how they are best avoided. In the first place, he says the greatest number of deaths from heat could be avoided by a little precaution, as could also most of those deaths from diseases peculiar to the summer months. He gives a set of simple rules intended to add both to the health and comfort of those who must remain where it is hot, and the practice of most of which are within the reach of all. We submit a half dozen of the most practicable:

1. Make your work as light as possible.
2. Wear only the lightest clothing, and as few garments as the law allows.
3. Take a cold bath every morning and a tepid one every afternoon.
4. Eat sparingly, principally fresh vegetables, shunning all fats and starchy foods, avoiding the deadly fruit-salad, and taking no fruit which has not been either washed or peeled immediately before it is served.
5. Drink no spirituous liquors.
6. Sleep, if it is possible, at midday; always stay abed eight hours every night and always sleep under a mosquito netting.

Of course, if your room is properly screened, the mosquito netting isn't essential, but he points out that malarial diseases, which come with hot weather, are the work of the mosquito. And he adds that the house fly is more dangerous than the mosquito.

Cholera morbus is held in too light esteem, the doctor says, for the facts about it indicate clearly that it has killed more Americans than ever fell before Asiatic cholera. The precaution to take against this disease is to cook the fruit if there is any doubt as to its condition, and, in all instances, to peel and wash fruit.

The danger of sunstroke is comparatively small, there being no danger while one continues to sweat. When perspiration stops, get out of the sun, drink water and fan yourself.

Heat prostrations are more common, and more fatal in results. They are best avoided by keeping the general health good; by keeping in condition, which is reasonably easy, but not as common as it should be.

There is also a danger of colds in hot weather, most easily contracted by cooling too quickly after perspiration which has produced copious perspiration. Such exercise should be followed by a brief rest, a shower and a rub, when only beneficial results will follow.

A happy life is something all men desire, and happiness is nearest possibly to the healthy person. Hence it seems to us that most people have too little concern about bodily comfort and care in hot weather and cold. To learn of these things, and put the knowledge to use, is of far greater importance than flying machines, spooks, or the leader of the New York Four Hundred. Nearly everyone has time to take care of himself; nearly everyone has the facilities, which are mostly air, water and wholesome food properly applied. If these were properly appreciated, there would be less business for the doctors, and a higher average of length of life and efficiency.

On Wash Days.

One who is a thorough housewife, says the Commoner, is very much inclined to envy her sister housewife who has a "clothes yard." with a grass carpeting, and where the sunshine and wind can circulate freely among the folds of the wet "wash." Where the convenience of the "wash lady," whether she be the "home queen," or hired laundress, is consulted, the clothes can all be hung on the line from the steps of the wash house by suspending the line on a pair of pulleys. Where the yard is somewhat limited in space, the line should be hung on pulleys, or on hooks, wherever it is attached to supports. Line is cheap, and so are clothes pins, and regular hooks for hanging the line are also cheap. One of the "dryers" that occupy but a little space is a convenience; and may be had for about ten dollars, can be taken indoors and folds like an umbrella. A very good imitation can be made at home.

We are now doing business in our new building, of which the superintendent of its construction, Mr. John Evans, of Scranton, Pa., says:

"When I make the following statement I am saying a great deal, but, in my judgment, I have a perfect right to state this is not only a fireproof building, but the vaults are burglarproof in the full sense of the word."

We have a special room for the use of ladies transacting business.

We also have three rooms—one large and two smaller rooms—for the use of persons who wish to meet others and transact business, or where they can take their securities and detach coupons, etc. All of these rooms are easy of access and ready for use at any time, and we will be glad to have them used by the people.

In our splendid vaults we have a large number of safe deposit boxes, in which persons can arrange to place their securities or valuable papers.

We will be pleased to open accounts with individuals, firms or corporations, whether large or small accounts, giving to our smaller accounts the same attention as the larger ones.

We will be glad to show persons through our building at any time during business hours.

COMPREHENSIVE NATIONAL HIGHWAY BILL PREPARED

Washington To Be Center of Vast System to Reach All Over States.—Maryland Crossed Three Times.

A bill will be brought before Congress next winter to authorize a preliminary survey to determine the approximate cost of a series of national highways. They are as follows:

Washington National Highway—Washington to Portland, Maine; Roosevelt Highway—Washington to Niagara Falls; Lincoln Highway—Washington to Seattle; Jefferson Highway—Washington to San Francisco; Grant Highway—Washington to San Diego, Cal.; Monroe Highway—Washington to Austin, Tex.; Lee Highway—Washington to Florida. Seven great national roads are proposed by the bill, all or them to radiate from Washington and three of the seven to pass across Maryland.

and to give you the benefit of whatever experience I have had in public matters and the knowledge of administrative affairs of your State which I gathered during the term of years that I served you as Governor and in other important positions.

"Therefore, my friends, I have come here to counsel with you and to make some suggestions in regard to public questions of moment and concern to you and all the people of the State."

"This being the initial meeting to set in motion the political machinery for the nomination of candidates by the Democratic party for State and county offices, it is proper at this time to make declarations as to our views upon questions that affect party management and public measures."

"Before offering my proposed resolutions, I want to state that my action is not prompted by a desire to punish any politician or to advance my own political fortunes. There is no office that I am seeking, and I have no political ambition."

"Here are the resolutions. I want you to consider them. After the meeting I will ask you to vote on them. If you desire to go on in the old way and have your candidates dictated by a few bosses in the county, have the manhood to step up here and sign your name and vote against my resolutions. If you desire a change in the present order so that the people can say who will represent them, then sign that all men may know where you stand and what you stand for."

The ex-Governor then read the following resolutions:

"Believing in the democratic theory that the people should think for themselves and elect representatives to give expression to their thoughts and voice their sentiments, and realizing that it is our duty, therefore, to tell our representatives what they should do and what they should not do, we, the citizens of the Fourth election district of Howard county, have assembled in this primary meeting to give utterance to our views on important public matters; therefore, be it

"Resolved, and we hereby declare, That the laws passed by the Legislature providing for Senatorial and primary elections are not satisfactory to us, because they do not guarantee to the people the right to select their candidates for office by a direct vote, irrespective of the views of party committees, and we do, therefore, instruct our representatives in the next Legislature to use all honorable means to have said laws so amended that the selection of candidates by direct vote shall be mandatory and not optional."

"And we do recommend further that the new law shall provide that the candidates for United States Senator and for State offices shall be selected by a plurality of all the votes cast in the State."

"And we hereby declare further that the extravagance of the last three Legislatures in the matter of legislative expenses was an unwarranted squandering of the people's money; and we do now instruct our representatives to see that the strictest economy be exercised in such expenditures; that the number of employees be limited to the actual needs, and that they be provided for in a special law in which their duties, pay and time of service shall be definitely set forth and in which the giving of gratuities to individuals and the granting of additional compensation to employees shall be prohibited."

Some 150 of the audience signed these resolutions.

It is natural to suppose that these words of Mr. Warfield would call forth some statement from those so frankly attacked and it did. United States Senator Smith said Mr. Warfield's statements were false concerning the senatorial primary election in 1907. Ex-Governor Brown gave his version of the $20,000 spoken of in the Lisbon speech. According to Mr. Brown Smith promised him $20,000 or more when it would be needed but it was never needed. The promise, it seems, however, was enough to cause Brown to get out of the senatorial fight and help the ticket.

Governor Crothers had no comment to make on the speech. State Senator Gorman also kept still.

OUR INTERNAL REVENUES REDUCED OVER $5,000,000

Effect of Prohibition on Sale of Whisky In This Country.—Tobacco Sales Are Largely Increased.

Uncle Sam's pocketbook suffered a big shrinkage because of the prohibition wave during the fiscal year ended June 30 last, during which period there was a decrease of $5,290,773 in whisky tax receipts, as shown by the preliminary report of the Internal Revenue Bureau, just issued by Acting Commissioner Robert Williams, Jr.

Whisky tax collections last year were $134,868,034, as against $140,158,807 for the preceding year. The receipts on beer and other fermented liquors amounted to $57,456,411, a decrease of $2,351,205, compared with 1908.

The nation's tobacco bill, however, showed an increase. The Government tax on all sorts of tobacco aggregated $51,887,178, an increase of $2,024,423 over the previous year.

as to be prohibitive, that, therefore, there were no importations and in calculating the reductions now and taking the importations of any year under the Dingley law as a basis it is impossible to show how much the people will be benefited because the reductions made will greatly increase the importation of those goods which are necessities, so that figures made a year hence, for instance, would show a still larger percentage of decrease on goods used by the people. The reductions in the metals schedule should benefit every citizen of the country for everyone uses metal in some form, from a penknife to a plow. The rate on iron ore is decreased from 40 cents to 15 cents a ton; on pig iron from $4 to $2.50 a ton, on scrap iron, which is used to work over into metal articles which do not require the highest grades of wrought iron, from $4 to $1 a ton, etc.

There has been considerable disposition to oppose the adoption of the tariff report by certain members of the two houses who feel that the industries of their section do not receive sufficient protection, but the indications are that this will abate and the bill will be adopted without any prolonged struggle.

There is so much good in the measure that large majorities of the Republicans in both houses will be strongly disposed to promote its enactment and as for the disgruntled "stand patters" the President has made it very clear to them that if the bill should fail he would convene Congress in special session next October and the very commodities which they are most anxious to protect, such as iron ore, hides, lumber, etc., would be subjected to a merciless fire which could not but result in placing them all on the free list. In the Senate there will doubtless be some Republican votes against the bill.

Ayiator Herring Fails to Appear.

The contract of the government with A. M. Herring for an aeroplane has been annulled, because of the failure of Mr. Herring to deliver his machine by August 1. A great many extensions of time had been granted to him.

This Government has entered into a patent pact with Germany which relieves American manufactures of many harsh requirements.

From indications it seems possible that this speech is but the beginning of a campaign to clean up the Democratic party. The Baltimore American says editorially:

Is it the beginning of a purposeful campaign or only an explosive relief of pent-up feelings? Is the ex-Governor enlisted in a war to the finish against the rottenness in the organic system of the Democratic party which he refers to, or is he only openly nursing a personal grievance? Will there be a follow-up to the Lisbon speech, or, having said his say, will he retire from the tumult and the shouting and allow the bosses and the bosslets whom he has arraigned to treat his effort at reforming them out of the party with ridicule? The foregoing queries naturally arise in the minds of those who search for the significance of the Lisbon address. It is pertinent to add that if Mr. Warfield is determined upon results, he must go to the fray against the machine system of his party with his war harness on and the breath of battle in his nostrils.

The Baltimore Star wants more light. It says: Ex-Governor Warfield has let in just a glimmer of light—a mere two-candle-power ray—on the financial phases of the senatorial primary. Perhaps a little more probing, a little further telling of what he knows, will bring out some other interesting details. "Truth," says the proverb, "lies at the bottom of the well." The well into which ex-Governor Warfield has undertaken to probe is deep, dark and most likely full of gas fumes. Getting at the whole truth will be a strenuous job, but it is worth while.
