The manoeuvre camp still claims the attention of Gettysburg, although fewer tourists have been here during the month of July than during the same month for years, a report having gotten out that the place was crowded with visitors and accommodations could not be secured.

Governor Stuart, of Pennsylvania, visited the camp last Wednesday, accompanied by Adjutant-General Thomas J. Stewart. A salute was fired by Battery B, of Pittsburgh.

Shortly after midnight Wednesday a cook tent was found to be on fire at division headquarters. The fire call was Wilson. sounded, which brought out regulars and militiamen in short order.

Thursday was occupied by general manoeuvres, hikes, etc., the men being kept on the move all day.

Friday was spent in practice for the big sham battle of Saturday, all branches of the service being at work. Saturday was the big day, the sham battle showing some well planned Religious services were held Sunday.

The day was quietly spent in camp by the majority of the soldiers, a few going over the battlefield. The Pennsylvania and New Jersey troops broke camp Monday and departed, leaving only the regulars in camp Monday night.

Tuesday the troops from the District of Columbia and West Virginia arrived, which will, with the exception of a squad of New Jersey Cavalry which will arrive Saturday, complete the list scheduled for camp here.

A LAW ABIDING COMMUNITY.

Apparently insignificant things often in a very quiet way exert the greatest influence. If an idle report-founded or unfoundedaffects a reputation; an exaggeration or a "they say" or an "! have heard," frequently helps to lower or raise the character of a town or a community in the opinion of outsiders. And this is just wherein the most harm is done. Residents of a certain locality know all the ins and outs, the whys and wherefores, the causes and effects of everything bringing about infraction of local law. They may know, for instance, that the majority of offences committed within their town limits are chargeable to tramps, to trouble-makers or idlers from other places who would not dare to commit those offences in their own towns. But the non-resident has no time or inclination to inquire into particulars. He simply hears that in this or that town there is always trouble, always somebody before the burgess, always something amiss, and whenever that place is mentioned he instinctively adds his comment, based upon these hearsays, and once again the unfavorable report spreads perhaps in a new direction—and further lowered.

PERSONALS.

It is the aim of THE CHRONICLE to publish smany personal and social items as possible. as many personal and social items as possible, but it frequently happens that those who have guests visiting them, and those who entertain, fail to send a list of their friends, or an account of these events, to this office. Readers who live at a distance are always interested in what is going on "at home," and for that reason, if for no other, this column should be filled every week. It is of course understood that anonymous contributions will not be published. Names of persons furnishing items will be withheld.

JOHN WANAMAKER'S PLAN.

"I never in my life." says John Wanamaker, used such a thing as a poster, a dodger, or a handbill. My plan for twenty-five years has been to buy so much space in a newspaper and fill it up with what I wanted. I would not give an advertisement in a newspaper of four hundred circulation for five thousand posters and dodgers. If I wanted to sell cheap jewelry or run a lottery scheme I might use posters, but I wouldn't insult a decent reading pubic with handbills."

BULLETIN NO. 1. CAUSES HIGH COST OF LIVING. How the Payne-Aldrich Tariff Taxes Maryland to Enrich Rhode Island.

The privilege given the New England manufacturers by the above tariff to tax the consumers of Maryland and other States nearly double the fair prices of their products (since the War) is simply cheating the other States out of their share of the country's wealth. Here is Wealth per person in Maryland ..... $1108. Exceeds Maryland. By 40 per cent. Wealth per person in Massachusetts. 1554 Wealth per person in Rhode Island., 1656 By 50 per cent.

The resources of Maryland and Massachusetts are alike in railway and port facilities; the oyster industry of our state at least matches the fisheries of Massachusetts. We have, besides, our coal, clay and agricultural resources. The resources of Rhode Island appear to be a small number of farms, numerous cotton and woolen factories, and Senator Aldrich. Its excessive per capita wealth does not mean that its working people are richer than the working people of other States, for the factory operatives were paid only $416 in wages per year. Both the consumers of Maryland and the workers of New England appear to be gold-bricked by this stand-pat tariff. (Authority, Govt. Statistical Abstract 1908.) DAVID J. LEWIS,

Candidate for Congress. Adv. 1t.

Mrs. Boggs-Mr. Meekman is a splendid example of what a man ought to be. Mr. Boggs-Not at all. He's a splendid example of what a wife, two sisters, a grownup daughter and a mother-in-law think a man ought to be.

The Letter I.

The name of "I" is in Hebrew jod or jot, a hand, and the earliest characters representative of the sound closely resemble a hand with but three fingers. Little by little one finger after another dropped off until only the little finger was left, and the letter became the smallest in the alphabet, a jot or tittle, that is, the "I" and its dot being synonymous of the most insignificant things that could be described.

Enthusiasm.

The organist sent a little boy to inquire of the minister what the first hymn would be. "Tell her," said the minister, "I would like 'Carol, Brothers, Carol.

The little boy thought he said "Howl, Brothers, Howl," and told the organist that the minister's selection was "Yell, Brothers, Yell."-New York Times.
