TAFT OPPOSES J. S. SHERMAN

HE PRACTISED DECEIT

President Sides With Roosevelt In New York

SAYS HE WAS MISREPRESENTED

Salvation of The Party In The Empire State The Most Urgent Problem.—Insurgents Are Jubilant Over Regulars.

President Taft practically repudiated Vice-President James S. Sherman Monday for the part the latter took in bringing about the defeat of Theodore Roosevelt in the recent meeting of the Republican State Committee of New York.

In a letter sent from Beverly to Lloyd C. Griscom, leader of the Insurgent forces in the State warfare, the President charges the Vice-President with having practised deceit and acted unfairly in the negotiations which preceded that historic meeting.

The President takes a firm stand with the progressive element in the organization; announces that there is no break between himself and Mr. Roosevelt on the State issues and gives the Sherman-Woodruff-Barnes combination a swat which the Insurgents declare will prove fatal to the Regular leaders. Mr. Taft declares that he was misrepresented in every particular by the Old Guard leaders, who justified their course in rejecting Mr. Roosevelt for the State convention by making it appear that such a course bore the approval of the President.

It was the President's first statement regarding either his relations with the recent President or his attitude towards the two factions which are engaged in a death struggle throughout the State. The Insurgents are jubilant and declare that the President's utterances mean the complete elimination of the Regulars, unless they make an unconditional surrender.

Mr. Griscom supplemented Mr. Taft's letter with a statement of his own, calling on all progressive Republicans in the State to unite in the fight against the Old Guard. That the contest will be carried into the primaries and that there would be no quarter given was stated emphatically by Mr. Griscom.

Emphasis was given in the three statements—those of Mr. Taft, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Griscom—that all references to the relations between the President and former President were to New York State alone.

While those relations may be strained on such subjects as the enforcement of "my policies" and the Presidential nomination of 1912, it was made clear that the President and Mr. Roosevelt agree that the most urgent problem now to be solved is the salvation of their party in the Empire State. Their interests are identical, in that they both demand Republican victory in New York this fall. Further than that both are silent.

GUAM TO BE DESERTED BY UNITED STATES FOR 30 DAYS

Everybody On The Island Gets A Vacation And They Are All Going To Take It Somewhere Else.

Guam, the Navy Department's Elba, lying midway between Honolulu and the Philippines, is to be deserted for 30 days beginning September 10, and for that period the only thing American about it will be the flag flying from the Governor's palace and barracks. The cause of the desertion is that everybody on the island has been granted a vacation and is going away. They will take with them their only man-o'-war, the United States station ship Supply, which goes to Olongapo for her annual overhauling, while Captain Dorn, Governor of Guam, and the marines under him will go to various places in the Orient on a 30-day jaunt.

Forest fires have destroyed ten railroad bridges in Western Montana.

Still Fights Benzoate of Soda.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, head of the chemistry bureau of the Department of Agriculture, who placed a ban on benzoate of soda as a food preservative, has read all the reports of the experiments by the Remsen Referee Board which reversed him and has not changed his mind in regard to the harmfulness of the preservatives.

He made this statement in continuing his testimony in the case of the food manufacturers against the State of Indiana.

It is said that Stuyvesant Fish may again head the Illinois Central Railroad.

ROOSEVELT EN ROUTE

Talks To Farmers and Hits Sherman a Lick

NONE LEFT IN DOUBT AS TO STAND

Gives The Rustics Some "Good American Doctrine."—Conduct Should Influence Our Judgment.

Col. Roosevelt's tour started out with fly colors on Tuesday. His first important speech was made at Utica and he took occasion to score Vice-President Sherman. Sherman is opposed to Senator Davenport. This gentleman was among those who greeted Roosevelt and the Colonel said:

"I am glad to see you on the platform, Senator Davenport. The only kind of politics I care for is the kind of politics in which decency is combined with efficiency. I hold that the only way in which a politician can really serve his party is by helping that party efficiently to serve the people. Because the Senator and the men who have acted with him have stood for this principle I am glad to be on the platform with him."

The speech delivered at Utica was addressed to the farmers and was filled with wise advice to them as farmers and citizens of this country.

He said to them among other things: "I will never go with the type of farmer who says: 'I am down on lawyers and bankers, I am against the business man.' I will go with him when he says: 'I am against a bad type of lawyer or bad type of banker.' In other words I will go with him when he pronounces judgment on a man not in accordance with his occupation, but in accordance with his conduct. That is good American doctrine."

RETURNING FROM CONGO SAYS MONKEYS TALK

Prof. R. L. Garner Has Chimpanzee With Twenty Word Vocabulary.—Been In Wilds Seven Years.

Prof. Richard L. Garner, who in the fall of 1903 left the United States to study the language and habits of monkeys in Africa, returned Sunday from Havre, bringing Susie, a partly educated chimpanzee.

That monkeys have a language of at least 20 words is believed by Professor Garner, who also believes that he has tabulated from 12 to 14. That they can distinguish colors and shades of colors he has proved to his satisfaction. This seems to apply only to the chimpanzees, for he has found the gorillas far less tractable, not to be trusted and not easily taught.

PIRATES SEIZED BY THE AUTHORITIES ON THE BAY

United States Marshall Padgett Ordered From Baltimore To Take Charge of Five Prisoners.

United States Marshall Padgett Monday evening received instructions to go to the mouth of the Patuxent River, where the Atlantic fleet is now lying, and take in charge five prisoners accused of piracy and two men who are to be held as witnesses.

The five men under arrest are William Albert, Charles Mitchell, E. W. Silza, Charles Turner, and George White. They were arrested by the American consul at a Portuguese port on the charge of taking possession of the American schooner Pedro Varilla, which was then in Portuguese waters.

SUNDAY RACE RIOT IN NATIONAL CAPITAL

Whites and Blacks Fought With Stones, Bats and Fists for Possession of Baseball Diamond.

Five hundred whites and blacks fought with stones, bats and bare fists on the baseball diamond Sunday afternoon at Seventeenth and C streets, Washington, in a racial dispute for possession of the grounds, and Harry Smithson, 22 years old, was taken from the scene unconscious. Many others were injured and the police arrested four.

A riot call at the Fifth Precinct Station brought out a squad of policemen in a fast patrol wagon and the officers arrived on the grounds in the heat of the battle.

MURDER NEAR CUMBERLAND.

Joseph Yost, of Westernport, charged with killing James Hotchkiss, a miner, of Westernport, by stabbing him to the heart in a drunken row on the main street of the town Saturday night, was placed in jail in Cumberland, Sunday with Thomas Cook and his son Dorris, both the latter having on Saturday night been implicated in the murder.

Gustav Moynier, president of the international committee of the Red Cross, died in Geneva, Switzerland.

BLAIR'S SUCCESS SEEMS CERTAIN

PUBLIC SENTIMENT CENTERS ON HIM AS LEADER

Voters Gradually Waken Up to His Eminent Fitness For the Position He Seeks

HON. DAVID J. LEWIS LOOKED ON AS DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE

Telegram From Taft Makes Plain That He Is Taking No Part In the Primary.—Warner and Blair Doing Up The District in Most Approved Political Fashion.—Little News of Hagner's Campaign.—Mr. H. Dorsey Etchison Visits Emmitsburg.

The near approach of the 30th. Primary Election Day, while it has added a little more zest to the contest has not made any material changes in the outlook for either of the parties candidates. The Democratic campaign has been listless. Hon. David J. Lewis seems to have the nomination already in his pocket, although his opponent, Dorsey Etchison, Esq., of Frederick, is satisfied with his chances.

On the Republican side the contest remains about the same as between Messrs. Gist Blair and B. H. Warner, Jr. To the people who are interested in the fitness of the candidate for such an important post as representative in Congress Mr. Blair is looked on with particular favor. He has impressed himself on the people as a dignified gentleman, whose prestige demands a hearing whenever and wherever he speaks. As advocate of the people before the national government his voice and his efforts are bound to be effective. The traditions of the Blair family and the high standard of those who have handed them down are maintained in that family's present representative. He is familiar as a country gentleman with the needs, the pleasures and the vicissitudes of rural life; as a practitioner of law before the court of the District of Columbia his legal fitness is guaranteed; as a man of distinguished lineage his association is sought and enjoyed, when found, by those who stand high on the Nation's role of honor.

The Sixth district has a chance it has seldom had to select for its representative a man who is entirely fitted for the position. That the voters are aware of this fact is not doubted and the election on the 30th is only awaited as a stamp of public approval, made in accordance with the law.

Mr. Hagner has a following that must be looked to but the real contest is between the other two.

B. H. Warner, Jr., if doing nothing else is making the campaign interesting. His assurance is not to be denied, but the base of this assurance is not so apparent.

Mr. Warner has felt a little concern about the report that President Taft was taking an active part in the campaign in this district. Notwithstanding the denial made by Mr. Blair that he was the "Administration Candidate" Mr. Warner feels better satisfied that hands are entirely off since he received an answer to his telegram addressed to Mr. Taft. It read as follows:

"Replying to your telegram of August 19, the President directs me to state that he has taken no part in primary fights in Maryland or elsewhere."

The voters all over the district are becoming acquainted with the contestants for they are both "doing" it in most approved political fashion. Both gentlemen were in Hagerstown together on Tuesday. Mr. Warner then went

FOUR KILLED IN WRECK ON WESTERN MARYLAND

Freights Collide at Bridge Near Edgemont.—Disobedience of Orders Direct Cause of Smash Up.

In a head on collision of two freight trains on the Western Maryland Railroad on Monday at Raven Rock bridge near Edgemont, four men were killed. Two were members of the crews and two were supposed to have been stealing a ride. The wreck was due, it is said, to disregard of orders. The east-bound freight was ordered to pass the other train at a Smithsburg switch, instead of which it attempted to push on to the next one with the above result.

The dead are Fireman Gigous, Hagerstown; Brakeman Fouke, Hagerstown; Roy Messner, Thurmont, and an unknown man supposed to be Koontz from Littlestown. Four others were injured.

After the inquest Charles B. Eichelberger and Lewis S. Hopewood, engineer and conductor, respectively, of the east-bound train, were held responsible for the wreck. They are held on the charge of manslaughter.

Mrs. James S. Sherman, wife of the Vice President, who suffered a breakdown in the spring, returned to Utica, N. Y., from Big Moose completely restored to health.

IMPROVEMENTS IN BEST TARIFF

Business Not to be Upset by Wholesale Revision But Changes Ought to be Made Separately.

President Taft in a letter for future publication will declare for further revision of the tariff.

While he is still convinced the Payne-Aldrich law is the best tariff the country has had up to this time, he has at last reached the conclusion that there is room for decided improvement.

Mr. Taft does not propose that business shall be upset by another wholesale revision, but he will recommend to Congress that individual schedules in the tariff system be taken up separately and be disposed of on a scientific basis. The new revision is to be based upon the findings of the Tariff Commission as to the cost of production at home and abroad. Only a fair profit is to be allowed the American producer.

"Extortionate and unreasonable" profits, the President declares, are to be tolerated no longer.

The President has stated these facts and has outlined his position in detail in the letter he has sent to Representative McKinley, of Illinois, for publication in the Republican Congressional campaign text book. The letter was mailed from Beverly Monday. The time of making it public has been left entirely to the judgment of the committee.

Former Governor Yates, of Illinois, stated at Toledo, Ohio, that Speaker Cannon is sure of re-election and that his majority will be as high as 10,000.

KOREA TO LOSE IDENTITY JAPAN ABSORBS EMPIRE

Adds Twelve Million People to Population of Japan and Territory as Large as England.

This week the "Hermit Kingdom" and the Empire of Korea will become historical terms, twelve millions of people will be added to the population of Japan and territory as large as England will become part of the Japanese Emperor's dominions. The treaty of Portsmouth, which settled the war between Japan and Russia, provides that Japan shall have the "guidance, protection and control" of Korea, and the last stage of this agreement is now becoming an actuality after three years of experimenting to discover a practical method for conserving the national entity of the Korean Peninsula.

SANITARY MONEY NOW CIRCULATED IN FAR WEST

Spokane National Bank Has Issued Antiseptic Germ-Proof Notes.—First Of Its Kind in Country.

To the old National Bank of Spokane, Wash., belongs the distinction of circulating the first antiseptic germ-proof national bank notes. The United States Treasury is still experimenting with devices intended to laundry dirty bank notes into bright, crisp ones, but the Spokane bank has the first sanitary money on record.

Fifty thousand dollars in bills just put out by the bank were signed with an ink which consisted largely of carbolic acid. The result is the bills are saturated with an agency which means death to the most vigorous germ.

DEMOCRATS FOR GAYNOR FOR GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK

Leaders Unanimously In Favor of Wounded Mayor as Leader.—Victory on First Ballot Looked For.

Democratic leaders in New York are unanimously of the opinion that Mayor Gaynor will be nominated for Governor by acclamation in the convention in Rochester on September 29.

The demand for the Mayor's nomination overshadow all other considerations, it is stated. It is the prediction of the leaders that the Mayor's name will be the only one considered and that the demand upon Mr. Gaynor will be so insistent that he will not be able to refuse, no matter what may be his personal preference.

Appeal Dismissed in Tucker Will Case.

Last Friday the Orphans' Court passed upon the petition of Mrs. Lennie S. Brengle concerning the will of the late C. A. Tucker, dismissing it. The case may be taken to the Court of Appeals. Mr. Tucker left a will written on a physicians prescription blank but not signed by the requisite number of witnesses. Mrs. Brengle was the beneficiary according to this instrument.

The British cruiser Bedford ran ashore on the rocks off Quelport Island, Korea, and 18 lives were lost.

MARYLAND AND KANSAS

FORMER A MAN'S STATE

Sun Editorial, Kansan's Reply and Some Figures

THIS A FAR BETTER CORN STATE

As to Wheat if Kansas Had Our Soil and Knew How to Use It She Would Double Her Yield.—Oysters Versus Field Corn.

Sometime ago the Baltimore Sun published as an editorial an article reflecting on Kansas as a place of residence. This article was brought to the attention of a Mr. Coburn who replied to the Sun through the columns of the Kansas City Star. The Sun editorial was as follows:

"Naturally enough Kansas is getting the worst of the hot wave. Kansas seems doomed to get the worst of all national calamities and visitations, whether political, pathological or meteorological. In winter the Kansans are tortured by a pestilence of chills; in summer their unhappy state is swept by burning siroccos. The grasshoppers of the '80s, disdaining the barley and hops of Missouri, settled upon the alfalfa of Kansas, and when, at last, they passed on the state was as bare of flora as the scalp of Duns Scotus. Populism had its headquarters in Kansas; Socialism and the New Thought have flourishing branch offices there; it is the center of the liver pill and near-beer traffics. All the demagogues and firebrands of American history, from John Brown to 'Uncle Joe' Cannon, have dug their heels into Kansas soil and poured their rhetorical henbans into Kansas ears. Magazine muckrakers retire to Kansas to die. The state is one vast chamber of horrors.

"Let us be thankful, brethren, that we do not live in Kansas. While the mercury here in Maryland was bubbling at 94 it was hissing at 104 in Topeka. On the open steps it rose to 106, 108, 110, perhaps even higher. The anaemic creeks which pass for rivers out there were turned into puffs of steam and blown away by the hot winds. Horned cattle toppled over in the fields and were broiled were they fell. The earthlings of the hinterland, their epidermis aflame, deserted their Chautauquas and took refuge in their cyclone cellars. Let us be glad that we were not there. Let us be thankful that Kansas is 1,000 miles away."

And here's Mr. Coburn's answer: "Kansas has 105 counties. In 1909 six of these, Marshall, Nemaha, Reno, Sumner, Washington and Sedgwick, raised 22,532,939 bushels of corn, while Uncle Sam credits the whole State of Maryland with 21,980,000 bushels in the same year. In 1900 the five counties of Barton, McPherson, Pawnee, Reno and Stafford raised 11,934,936 bushels of wheat, while Secretary Wilson reports all Maryland with 11,165,000 bushels. In the same year the single Kansas county of Sumner yielded more than twice as

MADRIZ IS OVERTHROWN NICARAGUA'S WAR ENDS

State Department at Washington Quiet on Subject But Well Pleased With the Turn of Affairs.

The revolutionists have entered Managua, Nicaragua, and President Madriz and his advisers have fled. The city fell on Monday.

The State Department at Washington is non-committal but it is well known, however, that they are pleased at the reported downfall of the Madriz power and that they look with favor upon Gen. Juan Estrada, whose treatment of Americans and the protection afforded to American interests along the eastern coast, where he has been recognized as the head of responsible government, has been the subject of repeated praise. The department is expected to recognize Estrada only after satisfactory assurances of an early election which shall be fair and open to all candidates.

Names of Dead For Directory.

A directory publishing firm asked the Altoona registrar for a copy of all adults who have died in Altoona within the past two years, intending to print the names in the new directory. The request was sent to the State Health Commissioner, who refused it, saying that it was not desirable to throw open the record for commercial purposes.

The Parker-Crown Mount McKinley expedition failed to climb Mount McKinley, and members declare that they have conclusive proof that Dr. Cook never reached the summit and that the peak which he reported as the summit is fully 10 miles from the real summit.

SULLIVAN CATCHES BALL DROPPED 542 FEET

After Many Attempts Succeeds In Holding Ball Thrown From Washington Monument.

Catcher Billy Sullivan, of the Chicago Americans, duplicated the feat of Catcher Charles Street, of the Washington American League team last year in catching a baseball thrown from a window at the top of the Washington Monument, a perpendicular drop of 542 feet.

The ball was tossed from the top of the monument by Pitcher Ed Walsh, of the Chicago team. It was only after 23 attempts that Sullivan finally caught the ball, although he succeeded several times in gauging the sphere as to get it in his mit. The speed of the falling ball was so terrific, however, that he was unable to hold it. It is estimated that the ball was traveling at the rate of 161 feet a second when caught.

Several members of the Chicago team, including Collins and Doc White, Trainer Quirk, of the Washington team and a few Government officials witnessed the feat.

While the feat has been attempted many times in past years, only Street heretofore was able to accomplish it. His feat was performed during the summer of 1908, on the thirteenth attempt.

Sullivan subsequently caught two more balls thrown from the monument window. After observing Sullivan's first attempts and ultimate success Dr. White suggested that the balls should be thrown farther afield. He ascended the monument and, standing well back within the window, hurled ball after ball as far out as he could. Sullivan caught the first one, and to show that it was no accident he also caught the fifth. Of 10 balls thrown by White the catcher could get under only one other, but he was unable to hold that one.

ARE YOU GOING TO VOTE AT THE CONGRESSIONAL PRIMARIES?

There can be little doubt that the great majority of American citizens in every community prefer honesty and efficiency in public affairs to dishonesty and inefficiency. When there is misgovernment, when there is any kind of public abuse, it usually comes not from any act upon the part of the people. It is generally the direct result of indifference and supineness. And this indifference and supineness are manifested more flagrantly by neglect of party primaries than in any other way. A gentleman who is too much occupied with his private affairs or who is too inert or indifferent to walk a square or two out of his way to vote at his party primary has no right to complain of misgovernment or public abuses. Good men cannot be elected to office unless good men are nominated. And good men cannot ordinarily be nominated unless disinterested and patriotic citizens will take the trouble to vote for them. —Baltimore Sun.

For High School In Frederick.

Negotiations are in progress between the County School Commissioners and the directors of the Woman's College for a site in Frederick on West Fourth street extended upon which to erect a new boys' high school, to cost about $75,000. The site desired is a lot on the Groff Park property, now owned by the Woman's College.

The new school is the outcome of a citizens' movement started some months ago. An investigation revealed that school facilities for boys in Frederick were not up to the standard, and an act was got up and passed by the last Legislature authorizing the County Commissioners, at the direction of the School Commissioners, to issue bonds for not more than $75,000 for a new school building. The School Commissioners authorized the loan, and Monday the County Commissioners advertised for bids on the bonds.

FOREST FIRES IN WEST THE WORK OF INCENDIARIES

Department at Washington Blames Firebugs for The Conflagration That Is Destroying Timber.

Incendiarism is now believed to be responsible in large measure for the spread of the devastating forest fires in Oregon and the northwest in which millions of feet of valuable timber have gone up in smoke and millions more are threatened.

Acting forester Albert F. Potter tonight received advices from Supervisor Buck, at Medford, Oregon, saying that the continued spread of the fires in southern Oregon had revealed clearly the work of incendiaries. Mr. Potter would not discuss, even inferentially, what may be the purpose of the firebugs, pending an official report. Forest rangers now are engaged in rounding up definite evidence.

POLITICAL GOSSIP FROM EXCHANGES.

The Ellicott City Times confesses that there are many good men in the Republican party. These it says, "are ready to join hands with the Democrats to stop the encroachment upon popular sovereignty and individual rights. The best way to hold the Republican rulers, the trust barons and the idle rich, made so by the pernicious doctrine, not the doctrine of Lincoln, Grant and Garfield, but of McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft is to have each of National Legislative bodies, the house of Representatives and the Senate of different political complexions, one to check the other. There is no hope for a Democratic majority in the Senate for many years to come, its members are 'bought in' and so long as they can levy tribute upon the industries of the country to raise more money they can stay in."

"It is different with the House of Representatives. It is the people's court, and now in the balance, as it only takes a gain of 22 members in this fall's election to give it a Democratic majority. All honor to those brave Republicans now called insurgents, who refuse longer to be the slaves of the lash of the money powers."

The Westminster Democratic Advocate also lifts up its voice in a wall against conditions due to Republican policies. It says:

"Nothing is clearer in American politics to-day, than that the people of the country are tired of the Protective Tariff System of the Republican party, a large part of the party itself being in open revolt."

"The people of the strong Republican states of Kansas and Iowa, have shown this most emphatically, in recent action in these states."

"Mr. Taft at his summering place at Beverly, is evidently much perplexed and dazed about it, and is asking, 'Who struck Billy Patterson?' while Mr. Cannon is on a vacation, playing, as he says, the pranks of a boy again, leapfrog, summersaults, etc."

"It would indeed have been a good thing for the country, we think, if he had continued from his boyhood in these innocent amusements. Instead of lording it over the House of Representatives, as Speaker, and through his Czarist methods promoting legislation that directly filled the coffers of the special favorites, at the expense of the great public."

"But Mr. Cannon, as a political factor is no more, and the honest people of the country should sing canticles of joy and thanksgiving that such a saint has gone to his rest."

NEW YORK ALARMED BY MANIAC IN CENTRAL PARK

Four Persons Shot Near Central Park by Unknown Man in Hiding Who Uses Silent Weapon.

Presumably a maniac, some one in hiding near the Sixth avenue entrance to Central Park, New York city, has been shooting at pedestrians with a silent gun and has wounded four persons but none seriously. His weapon is of the noiseless variety and those who have heard the bullets whistling in the street say the sound is preceded a fraction of an instant by an almost inaudible whirr, as the swift turning of a well-oiled crank.

For a distance of nearly 50 feet the south wall of the park to the east of the Sixth avenue entrance is chipped and indented by bullets.

PENNSY ENGINE WON IN TEST

Pulled Train of 120 Loaded Steel Cars 16 2-3 Miles an Hour.

A test of the relative hauling ability of locomotives of corresponding design of the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads was completed Wednesday, when Pennsylvania engine No. 1221, of the H. 8-B type, hauled 120 loaded steel freight cars from Altoona to Harrisburg over the middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad.

The G-6 engine on the New York Central, which competed in the test, was able to haul only 105 cars. In the test the 120 cars constituted a train 4,400 feet long, the total weight being 14132 tons.

The running time for the 125 miles averaged 16 1/2 miles an hour. The single engine took all the grades.

HOKE SMITH WINS IN GEORGIA

Democratic Primaries Show Former Governor's Strength Grows.

"Cannonism" played an important part in Georgia politics during the past several months, and at the Democratic primaries Tuesday brought about the defeat of Leonidas F. Livingston and William M. Howard, in point of service the oldest members of the Georgia delegation in the National House of Representatives.

Former Gov. Hoke Smith won the nomination for governor over the incumbent, Joseph M. Brown. Smith's popular majority in the state was approximately 4,000. Two years ago Brown, whom Governor Smith had removed as chairman of the State Railroad Commission, defeated Smith for re-election by a popular majority of more than 10,000. Smith's majority in the convention will be about 35 votes.

GETTYSBURG

Mrs. Ernest B. Ohler underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Harrisburg hospital last week. She is improving nicely.

On last Tuesday one of the most spectacular sham battles of modern times was fought on the famous battlefield and surrounding territory by Pennsylvania's militiamen.

Nearly eight thousand men were engaged and so well that it was most realistic.

Governor Stuart, who had arrived in camp the Friday previous, with his staff, took a position on the tower on Big Round Top, and witnessed the maneuvers.

On Wednesday the Governor's review was held, which proved to be a spectacular and inspiring military pageant.

The review was scheduled to take place, but shortly after the noon hour automobiles, carriages and all sorts of conveyances were to be seen wending their way to the eminences overlooking the review ground, and by the time appointed thousands of spectators were on the ground. Although the weather was threatening, very little rain fell, and it proved an ideal day for marching.

All the troops were drawn up in line on the west side of the parade ground, when the Governor started at the extreme right of the line and rode along. As he neared each organization the band would play "Hail to the Chief," to be taken up by the next, and so on down the line.

After inspecting the entire division the Governor and staff took up a position in front of division headquarters and the imposing march began. For nearly two hours the steady line kept up, all branches of the service being represented. The band accompanying organizations would fall out to the left and play until the command would pass when the succeeding one would take its place.

Thursday evening the troops began to leave and continued going until Saturday when the great camp ended.

Governor Stuart intended staying until Friday, but was called to Harrisburg on urgent business on Thursday afternoon.

The Fourteenth Regiment Band, stationed at the edge of town, was conceded to be the best in camp. Their concerts were well attended. On Tuesday evening members of the organization gave a vaudeville performance and on Wednesday evening a minstrel show. The Regular August Court, which convened Monday, was of short duration. Of the large number of cases all were not pressed or continued save one that of Com. vs. Thaddeus Warren, which was stopped suddenly by a mistake in impaneling a jury, and therefore continued.

A number of young folks of town are enjoying a two weeks' outing at Dick's Dam.

Chester Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Currens, of Greenmount, died Sunday of cholera infantum, aged 7 months and 28 days.

Funeral was held Monday afternoon conducted by Rev. C. F. Sanders, and interment made at Mt. Joy Cemetery.

The Catholic team received their first defeat of the season last Tuesday evening by the St. James nine. The largest crowd of the season was present and the game was exciting from start to finish. The score was 2-1.

The Methodist defeated the Reformed team in a well played game by the score of 5-1.

The Presbyterians defeated the College Lutherans by the score of 2-1.

The Methodist and the United Brethren played a tie game 1-1.

ACROSS THE LINE

Fairfield.—John H. Kugler, says the Gettysburg Times, has invented a new type of turbine steam engine. The peculiar feature of the engine is its taking steam from the center, which the inventor claims will give more power than any other turbine steam engine in use.

This point has been demonstrated by a recent test of the engine which exceeded the expectations of the inventor himself. The test was made in the presence of a number of people among whom were several steam engineers who were astonished at the successful working of so peculiar type of engine.

Although the model is very small, its weight complete being 100 pounds, it gave almost 2 horse power. An engine of this type of 100 horse power could be set on a floor space 3x6 feet.

The inventor intends to make further improvements on the engine. One of the most important will be a device for reversing the engine by its own steam as there is said to be no turbine steam engine in use today that can be reversed by its own steam.

An order of sale was granted by the court to Emanuel G. Cluck, administrator of Michael Kugler, late of this place, to sell the real estate of decedent and bond in $3500 was approved.

THE REPUBLICANS SHOULD CHOOSE BLAIR.

The unqualified endorsement given Gist Blair by his own county is sufficient evidence of Montgomery's unswerving faith in this stalwart son of one of the most trusted advisers in President Lincoln's cabinet. The support given him by the prominent Republican leaders in the Sixth district; the daily indication of increasing confidence in him as shown by the number of adherents he is gaining; the straightforward attitude of the man, and the clean-cut, true ringing platform upon which he stands,—all these things single out Gist Blair as the best and as the logical candidate on the Republican ticket for nomination next Tuesday. The Republicans and the people generally have had the fullest opportunity to know what Blair stands for. He announced himself, as no other candidate on the Republican side has done, in most emphatic terms, and among other things it is well to bear in mind that, if elected, Blair will be the congressman of the voters of the Sixth district "twelve months out of each year." He will have "but one single interest and that interest shall be the Sixth Maryland District." He will have at heart the "national benefit and general uplift" of his constituents. It will be his aim to be the trusted servant of the people, their "mouthpiece in the halls of Congress," their "business agent" whenever he can serve them. Blair wants to "help exploit our district's resources, help secure better markets for the things we make and grow and help you make and grow more of those products which will bring greater wealth to our people."

"I have no higher ambition than to work for your welfare," says Blair. "The little needs of my district, if I am elected, shall receive my attention as readily as the big needs of the Republic, if not a little more so. I know of nothing that adds a dollar of wealth to Western Maryland, too small to merit my attention.

And I entertain no idea of statesmanship so exalted that they forbid such services on the part of a Congressman."

Are these not the things that the Republicans of the Sixth district desire above everything else? If they are they will stand by Blair on Tuesday.

POORLY PAID PARSONS.

Nearly all the denominations have been complaining that the attendance at the theological seminaries has been falling off. If the supply of new ministers be reduced and the number of those already in the pulpit be depleted by resignations, the time will soon come when the churches will have to raise salaries or go without pastors. —Philadelphia Record.

There is every indication that the scarcity of theological students and the increase in the resignation of clergymen will inevitably create just such a condition as that of which the Record speaks. But whose fault will it be? Solely that of the congregations. The average clergyman does not place the ministry on a commercial basis. He does not "preach for money," nor does he render only such service as he is paid for. If, indeed, he pursued the latter course very few churches would receive anything but the most meagre attention. Nevertheless the minute salary is mentioned, the moment an increase is spoken of or regularity in payment broached, instantly the report comes "preachers shouldn't be mercenary."

That the average minister of the gospel receives poorer remuneration (and has a harder time to collect it) than the representative of any other profession or calling is a fact as incontrovertible as it is lamentable.

A congregation, the greater part of which is composed of business men, or at least men acquainted with business methods, will demand more actual work—hard brain work and more personal service—from its minister, and pay less for it, than any individual member of it would dare to demand from any person in his employ. And the same congregations will, as a rule, countenance business methods in connection with the payment of its clergyman's salary and the management of its affairs generally that, as individuals they would neither tolerate for a moment in their respective firms, nor in others towards them.

This is not right. It is not reasonable. There is nothing Christian about it, and those who aid in maintaining the practice of getting as much as they possibly can from the minister and in return giving him as little as they can possibly give are lacking, to put it mildly, in the proper conception of their Christian duty.

A FAIR CHANCE.

Every candidate who comes before the people asking for their support at the primaries naturally desires to and is entitled to have his platform presented to the voters of his district. Throughout the present campaign the independent papers of the Sixth district, though advocating this or that candidate for reasons which have appealed to them as being for the public good, have nevertheless given publicity to the views and to the position of each candidate of both parties, and there is not one aspirant for Congressional honors who can say with any degree of justice, that in this respect he has not had a fair chance.

THE PEOPLE'S OPPORTUNITY.

Mr. Bryan may have stood sponsor for many theories and policies which, at that period when they were announced, seemed either too extreme or too impracticable to be accepted. But nevertheless the country has learned by this time that some of the Nebraskan's policies (which, by the way, have since been adopted by the very party that decried them) should have been put into practice years ago. One policy in particular advocated by Mr. Bryan and which is not only sound but becoming more popular every day is the one which is embodied in that well-known expression, "Let the people rule." Mr. Roosevelt is himself at this moment spreading it broadcast, and state after state is rapidly paving the way for the free exercise of that principle. We notice it particularly in the efforts made to secure popular primaries; to take the nominating power out of the hands of the few, the political "bosses"; out of packed conventions, and to place that privilege where it belongs, namely in the hands of the people—that body which alone has the right to say by whom it shall be governed or represented.

This district is now on the eve of a primary, on the outcome of which a great deal depends. It means that the voters of the banner district of Maryland have an opportunity to voice their convictions as never before. It means that the people and not conventions have it in their power to name the man whom they want to represent them in Congress.

For years they have craved this privilege and now that it is theirs to exercise will they assert their manhood? or will they get into line at the crack of the whip and allow themselves to be counted as so many units to be added up and utilized by others?

Tell Her So.

Amid the cares of married life,
In spite of toil and business strife,
If you value your sweet wife,
Tell her so!

Prove to her you don't forget
The bond to which the seal is set,
She's of life's sweets the sweetest yet
Tell her so!

When days are dark and deeply blue,
She has her troubles, same as you,
Show her that your love is true—
Tell her so!

There was a time you thought it bliss
To get the favor of one kiss;
A dozen now won't come amiss—
Tell her so!

Your love for her is no mistake—
You feel it, dreaming or awake—
Don't conceal it. For her sake,
Tell her so!

Don't act, if she has passed her prime,
As though to please her were a crime;
If e'er you loved her, now's the time—
Tell her so!

She'll return, for each caress,
An hundredfold of tenderness!
Hearts like hers were made to bless!
Tell her so!

You are hers and hers alone,
Well you know she's all your own;
Don't wait to "carve it on a stone"—
Tell her so!

Never let her heart grow cold—
Richer beauties will unfold;
She is worth her weight in gold!
Tell her so!

—Author Unknown.

"What makes Pithering take such mincing steps?" asks the man with the excess of side whiskers. "He trips along with such short paces that he looks positively funny."

POLITICAL PARTIES--THEIR ORIGIN AND DEVELOPMENT

Series of Articles by George P. Rowe, Esq., Prepared Especially for The Chronicle

The Famous Campaign of 1840 With Democratic Platform—Polk and Dallas, the Mexican War and Election of Zachary Taylor.—Pierce and Buchanan.—The Dred Scott Case.—Split Between Northern and Southern Democrats.

The Democratic Convention of 1840 held also at Baltimore was the basis of all Democratic platforms up to 1860. The leading planks in it were:

First—Resolved, that the Federal government is one of limited powers, derived solely from the Constitution and its grants of power should be strictly construed * * * and that it would be dangerous to exercise doubtful constitutional powers.

Second—That the Constitution does not confer authority upon the general government, the power to commence and carry on a general system of internal improvements.

Third—That the Constitution does not directly or indirectly grant the power to assume the debts of the several states contracted for local improvements, or other state purposes, nor would such assumption be wise or expedient.

Fourth—That justice and sound policy forbid the Federal government to foster one branch of industry to the detriment of another portion of our country; that every citizen and every section of the country has the right to insist and demand upon an equality of rights and privileges and to complete and ample protection of persons and property from domestic violence or foreign aggression.

Fifth—That it is the duty of every branch of the government to enforce and practice the most rigid economy in the conduct of public affairs, and that no more revenue ought to be raised than required to defray the necessary expenses of the government.

Sixth—That Congress has no power to charter a United States bank, and believe such an institution hostile to the best interests of the country, dangerous to our Republican institutions and the liberties of the people, and calculated to place the business of the country within the control of a concentrated money power and above the law and the will of the people.

Seventh—That Congress has no power, under the Constitution, to interfere with or control the domestic affairs of the several states; and that the states are the sole and proper judges of their own affairs; that all efforts by Abolitionists, or others, made to induce Congress to interfere with questions of slavery, or to take incipient steps in relation thereto, are calculated to lead to the most alarming and dangerous consequences, and that all such efforts have an inevitable tendency to diminish the happiness of the people and endanger the stability and permanence of the Union and ought not to be countenanced by any friend to our political institutions.

Eighth—The separation of the government moneys from banking institutions is indispensable for the safety of the funds and the rights of the people.

Ninth—That the liberal policies embodied by Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence, and sanctioned in the Constitution, which makes ours the land of liberty and the asylum of the oppressed of every nation, have ever been cardinal principles in the Democratic faith; and every attempt to abridge the present privileges of becoming citizens and the owners of the soil among us, ought to be resisted with the same spirit which swept the Alien and Sedition laws from our statute books.

1836 to 1840—The Panic of 37—Van Buren's Administration.

The principal portion of Van Buren's administration was marked by the great panic of 1837, with three years of hard times, caused by the inflated issue of paper money and its sudden depreciation.

1840 to 1844.

Gen. Harrison was succeeded by John Tyler, his vice president, who vetoed the bills to re-establish a United States bank and favored the annexation of Texas, which had gained her independence from Mexico.

Democratic Platform of 44—Polk and Dallas.

The previously quoted nine resolutions of the platform of 1840 were adopted, several new ones added, sustained the bank vetoes and declared in favor of the annexation of Texas.

Campaign of 1848—Candidates, Zachary Taylor and Lewis Cass—1844 to 1848.

The Mexican War made Gen. Zachary Taylor a National figure and the Whig candidate for the White House in the campaign of '48. The platform of '40 and '44 was reaffirmed by the Democrats and several new planks added covering new questions, number 19 of the resolution declaring its opposition to all monopolies exclusively for the benefit of the few, at the expense of the many; for the sovereignty of the people and their capacity for self-government. Zachary Taylor and Millard Fillmore were elected both in the Electoral College and by the popular vote.

Platform of 1852—Pierce.

The Democrats reiterated the principles laid down in the Virginia and Kentucky resolutions of 1798, of which Thomas Jefferson was the author. These resolutions had declared that our Constitution was a compact and was not founded on principles of unlimited submission to the general government and was the foundation of the doctrine of nullification and secession. The platform of '54 defended the Mexican War as just and necessary. Though many able and leading statesmen like Tom Corwin of Ohio, opposed the war as an unrighteous one, it was approved by the masses and Pierce was elected by 200,000 plurality. The Fugitive Slave Law had now become a mighty and momentous question, one that would not down like Banquo's ghost.

1856—President Pierce was succeeded by James Buchanan, whose temporizing policy created severe public criticism. He took the position that while the states had no right to secede, the nation had no power to prevent them doing so. Fort Sumter had been fired on, the country was aroused, it required a cool head and brave heart to pilot the ships of state in the storm. When war came he supported the administration of President Lincoln and lent his influence to a vigorous prosecution of the war, declaring that the north would support the administration almost to a man and that it ought to be sustained at all hazards.

It was during his term, the Dred Scott case was decided. Was it not the irony of fate, that one of the most famous and far-reaching cases in its results, ever brought before the highest tribunal in the land, came before the court in the name of a black man, whose condition in life was so low that he was pronounced by that same court to be a human chattel? Born a slave in Missouri, owned by Dr. Emerson, an army surgeon, in 1834 he was taken by him to Rock Island, Ill., and in 1836 to Wisconsin Territory. He married a slave of his master and had two children. Slavery was illegal in both places, in Illinois by the Constitution, in Wisconsin by the Missouri Compromise. In '38 he was taken back to St. Louis, Mo. Frank P. Blair, an eminent lawyer of St. Louis and a Free Soil man, acted as his advocate in order to test the right of slavery to reclaim persons once free. The Circuit Court held his residence on free soil made him free, and no power could re-enslave him. Appeal was taken to the Supreme Court of Missouri, which reversed the case. Next suit was brought in the United States District Court and appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States, December term, 1856-57. The public excitement was so great that the Union was menaced. Justice Taney wrote the opinion, which was withheld two days so as not to embroil outgoing President Pierce. The decision sustained the Missouri Supreme Court and held that Dred Scott could not sue; that he was not a citizen of the United States, but personal property. This was the law until the 14th amendment, passed by Congress. The Republican party now took the name by which the Democratic party was originally known, and held its first national convention in 1856, nominating John C. Fremont.

The Great Split in 1860 Between the Northern and Southern Democrats On Slavery Question—Douglas and Breckenridge, the Triple Candidates—1856.

The great and irrepressible conflict was now on, not only between the Democrats and Republicans, but between the northern and southern wings of the party. Mighty issues were now involved, which four years later were to embroil the land in the most destructive civil war of modern times; to array father against son, brother against brother; to continue until our beloved land became a vast charnel house and the civilized world stood aghast with horror and pity at the awful sacrifice of blood and treasure.

The southern Democrats met in convention at Charleston, S. C., April 23, 1860, but failed to agree upon a candidate and adjourned without a nomination. The northern Democrats met in Baltimore on the 18th of June and nominated Stephen A. Douglas, of Illinois, and Herschel V. Johnson, of Georgia. Ten days later the southern Democrats met at the same place and nominated John C. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, for President and Joseph Lane, of far-off Oregon, for Vice President.

The slavery question was the paramount issue and the rock that split the party on the right of the admission of the Territories, whether slave or free. As the platforms of the two parties had such a momentous bearing on future events and were productive of such grave and far-reaching consequences it may be well to set forth their cardinal planks.

WELSH A MUSICAL PEOPLEEvery Village and Town Has Its Choir and Districts Their United Choral Unions.—Good Example.Every church and chapel in every village and town of Wales has its choir, often numbering sixty, seventy, or one hundred voices, and every choir has its musical prodigies, leaders of parts mayhap who have never had a lesson in their lives, or some uncouth colliers or pit-girls, with voices which, had they been trained and developed, might have made of them Edward Lloyds or Antoinette Sterlings. District after district has its "united choral union," which will take up the study of some work of the great masters and deliver it at an annual concert or Christmas festival, not in the pale, flickering, dis-passionate style which is so characteristic of some English choirs, but with rugged fire and intensity.I have had the good fortune to hear the greatest oratories rendered under the most brilliant conditions that talent and culture could produce in this the most talented and cultured of all met-ropoles, but I have never heard the majestic roll of the "Hallelujah Chorus" or the matchless melodies of the "Elijah" rendered with such soul and verve and eloquence as by an obscure "united choir," led by a workingman, in a mining village among the hills of Glamorganshire.—Westminster Review.FIX UP THE PLACE.If there is any one time during the summer when the farmer has some leisure to attend to the things that speak for looks more than for direct results in the way of gain it is now, when harvest is over and the corn no longer needs working. It is pre-eminently the time to attend to repairs and those things which render his abode more pleasant in his eyes and those of passers-by. It is not the time for planting, but on the contrary it is considered the best time for checking the growth of weeds, briars and bushes, which spring up so rapidly in fence corners and other waste places and do so much to render a country home unsightly. There is no way in which a farmer can add more to the value of his place in proportion to the time and money expended than by repairing his fences and gates and cleaning out his fence rows. It means pleasure for himself and his family, pleasure for the neighbors and better value for his acres and better credit at the bank.

All the residents of a town are partners, more you will do. Every merchant who treats his customers honestly and fairly ness that can be secured by united ef-opening which will be appreciated by those who need to quickly prepare themselves for self-support and nursing duty. An illustrated number of the School Bulletin, which is sent free to interested persons, gives all the details.Collections in Arkansas.We picked up a Winchester rifle the other day and started down the street, intending to deliver the weapon to its owner, from whom we had borrowed it the day before, but it did such effective work in the way of collections that we have made up our mind to keep it as long as we can. The first man we met on the street was J. W. Miller, who coughed up $1.50 for a years subscription to The Democrat before we even thought of pointing the gun at him.

The very next man we met was a farmer whom we had always considered a star subscriber. He had not missed a paper or paid a cent in seven years.
But when he saw that gun he waltzed up with a ten-dollar bill. When we got home we found a load of hay, fifteen bushels of corn, and a barrel of turnips, which had been brought in by delinquents. If money will buy that gun, we are going to keep it to make collections with.—Arkansas City Democrat.A HIGH OPINION.Writing from Philadelphia a subscriber has the following nice things to say about her "weekly friend, THE CHRON-ICLE." "It has so much news, in

PERSONALS.

It is the aim of THE CHRONICLE to publish as many personal and social items as possible, but it frequently happens that those who have guests visiting them, and those who entertain, fail to send a list of their friends, or an account of these events, to this office. Readers who live at a distance are always interested in what is going on "at home," and for that reason, if for no other, this column should be filled every week. It is of course understood that anonymous contributions will not be published. Names of persons furnishing items will be withheld.

MUCH APPRECIATED.

The prompt and courteous response by the subscribers of the CHRONICLE to the request that has been appearing in this column is very much appreciated by this office.

It is quite natural for subscribers to overlook the date on which their subscription expires, especially if their attention is not directed to the matter.

Therefore THE CHRONICLE begs to remind those who are still in arrears that an early adjustment of their subscription will enable the publication to conform to the mandatory ruling of the postal authorities.

This is not a dun—not a demand, but a request made necessary by the Government authorities and one which THE CHRONICLE feels assured will meet with a prompt and appreciative response.

"Things are shaping up splendidly all through the district," said Mr. Blair. "I will carry Montgomery, Allegany, and Garrett counties beyond a doubt, and will receive a good vote in Washington county, and I think quite a good vote here in Frederick county also. I understand that the organization here is committed to the support of Mr. Warner, and I have no quarrel with anybody on that account, but I have received assurances of support from many Frederick county voters. Why, I have received a regular ovation since my arrival here this evening. This is a time when the voters will decide who shall be the nominee, and I go directly to the voters with my appeal."

ALL FOR SWEET CHARITY'S SAKE

Big Society Show at Clairvaux.—Home Talent and Talent From New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore Will Appear on Next Tuesday Night.—Proceeds to Be Spent In And Around Emmitsburg.

The little theatre at Clairvaux should be crowded to the very doors on Tuesday night, August 30th, when the guests at that delightful villa, assisted by Emmitsburg talent and members of the Paint and Powder Club of Baltimore, don their catchy costumes specially made for this occasion, and sing and dance—all for "sweet Charity's sake."

There will be opera, vaudeville, a society side show, freak show and all kinds of attractions to delight those who attend, and when the performance is over refreshments will be served by those who have taken part in the affair. Fifty cents is the price of admission, including refreshments, and the proceeds of the evening will be devoted entirely to charity work in and around Emmitsburg.

Almost every year it happens that some family in the neighborhood is in distress. Protracted illness, death or accident or misfortune—any one of these may bring privation with it, and instead of making it necessary to appeal to individuals for aid, as heretofore, it is proposed to create a common fund on which to draw for the purpose. This is the object of the "big show" on Tuesday, and this is why it should appeal to everyone. A committee of ladies from each church is to have entire charge of the proceeds and they alone will disburse it, doing full and sympathetic justice to each case that is presented.

The guests at Clairvaux and those who have so willingly associated themselves with them in the effort to make the evening of Tuesday a notable one, have freely given their time and their talent and have gone to no small expense in the undertaking and the appreciative and sympathetic thanks of the whole district should be theirs and the house packed and the "gate receipts" very large in return for what they are doing for the community.

But just another word about the "show." All who attend will be fully repaid for going. In the language of the day they will "get their money's worth." The songs of sweet singers will delight them; the charm and grace of the pretty danseuse will captivate them. The choruses and tableaux will enchant them, the "freaks" and fun-making specialists will cause continued laughter and amusement, and delicious refreshments will add the last touch of satisfaction—all for fifty cents.

The programme will be a splendid one, so varied, in fact, that at this time it is only possible to speak of it in general terms. The prologue will be spoken by Miss Louise Sebald; there will be gems from the opera, "The Fairies' Bridal," a Spanish and Grecian dance will be on the card; specialty acts, vaudeville, character sketches, taking skits, solos and choruses are among the numbers, and freaks of all kinds will exhibit in the big society side show.

Professional decorators are at work on the scenery and drapings, proscenium boxes have been arranged, comfortable seats provided, and in this little theatre, accommodating two hundred, will appear in addition to home talent, Miss Marie Gloninger, of Pittsburgh; Miss Lansinger, of Baltimore; Miss Olivia Hardy, of Philadelphia; the Misses Martha and Emily Spalding, Washington, D. C.; Mr. J. Victor Goliart, of Washington; Mr. Sidney, O'Donohue, of New York; Mr. Frank Foley, of Baltimore; talent from New York city, Wilmington, Del., and from the Paint and Powder Club, of Baltimore.

BULLETIN NO. 6. CAUSES HIGH COST OF LIVING.

When the trusts secured control of production and manufactures they abolished competition as the price-maker in this country and added the rates of the tariff to former competitive prices. The Dingley tariff act was passed in 1897, and the trusts came in vogue shortly after. I give now some examples of the tariff rates and the rise in wholesale prices since 1897:

Cashmere dress goods, wool.....70 to 155 per cent. 83 per cent.
Flannels, wool.....86 to 143 per cent. 50 " "

Print cloths, cotton.....103 per cent. 66 " "

Other tariff rates are:

Knit fabrics.....127 per cent.
Women and Children's dress goods.....170 per cent. (Cotton.)

Manufactures wholly or part wool.....126 per cent.

Cloths, woolen or worsted.....139 per cent.

Blankets, valued 40 cents lb.....192 per cent.

Wool carpets.....108 per cent.

The American purchaser since the trusts must add these percentages to the prices at which he might buy these articles in the world's markets if he does not choose to buy them from American monopolists. The American Woolen Trust and the Dry Goods Associations take advantage of these rates by adding an equal percentage to their prices in the United States; but sell their surplus to foreign purchasers at prices only as profitable as competition allows.

They do not need such tariff rates to protect the wages of their workmen. The value of cotton manufactures in 1905 was $442,451,218; and wages paid $94,377,695, or just 21 per cent. The value of wool manufactures was $380,934,003, and wages paid $70,797,524, or just 18 per cent. If we consider their profits of over 50 per cent (Bulletin 5) it must be apparent that the Dingley and Aldrich tariffs are not used for the Protection of labor but for Extortion from the consumers of America.

TRUSTEES SALE.

By virtue of a decree passed by the Circuit Court for Frederick county, sitting as a Court of Equity,

ELECTRIFY THURMONT LINE

Extension to Emmitsburg and Gettysburg to Be Later Improvement.

Directors of the Frederick Railroad Company at a meeting Monday afternoon decided to electrify the Thurmont division, running from Frederick to Thurmont, and formerly called the Washington, Frederick and Gettysburg road, at a cost of about $75,000. The company will also build and equip a new powerhouse sufficient to operate both roads at a cost of about $200,000.

Since the building of the Thurmont road it has been operated by steam. The present plan is to operate it by electricity for passenger service and to continue steam for freight hauling. It is understood that the plan to continue the road from Thurmont to Emmitsburg and on to Gettysburg will be taken up later. The work of connecting the two roads with a loop around Frederick is in progress. Tracks have been laid on Fifth street, and the loop will extend around the fair grounds and intersect the Frederick and Middletown road on East Patrick street at the fair grounds. Coming up East Patrick street to the Square corner, the loop will run up Market street to Fifth street, where it will intersect the Thurmont road. The improvement will be completed before the fair. The arrangement will give Frederick a good street car service, and will greatly facilitate the present railway service. By means of the loop passengers from any point on the roads can be brought to the heart of the city without changing cars.

At the meeting also plans for the erection jointly by the Frederick Railroad Company and the Hagerstown Railway Company of a big electric plant for the generation of current for the operation of both trolley systems were practically agreed upon, though the location of the plant was not finally determined. It will be located either on the Antietam Creek, a few miles from Hagerstown and along the Western Maryland Railway, or on the Monocacy River, a few miles from Frederick and along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. A corporation, the stock of which will be held by the two railroad companies jointly, will be formed for the erection and operation of this plant.

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE.

Letters To The Editor.

[The Editor would have it understood that he is not responsible for the views expressed in communications addressed to him and published in THE CHRONICLE.]

Nominate Mr. Gist Blair.

Since the withdrawal of Mr. Pearre from the Congressional fight, who was endorsed by the writer, I am conscientious in my declaration that Mr. Gist Blair should be the choice of the Republicans. His moral tone and competency for that place make him acceptable to me. We want a man to whom we can ascribe honor to his word and work; we want a representative who is strong in his position, respected by his fellow representatives. As thinking voters, we must exercise judgment in our choice. Without saying a derogatory word against any candidate, there is always a choice were they all made in the same mould. Again, when narrowminded men, who would attempt to lead, endorse a man, then our judgment must inquire into whys and wherefores of these would-be leaders and stamp with defeat at our primary, and put before the voters a man selected by the people for his worth and unflinching devotion to right and uncompromising with wrong. Such is the man who desires the support, of the voters of Republicans of Frederick County and the Sixth District. Some of us know more about the men by inquiry and association, and we who know are derelict to our duty if we do not commend and recommend the best man. Therefore the aspirations of Mr. Blair should be endorsed by the voters.

POPE DISLIKES FASHION

Clergy To Write Against Feminine Taste In Clothes.

A dispatch from Rome received by a news agency states that Pope Pius X has requested all bishops to issue public pastoral letters disapproving the prevailing feminine fashion.

Several Italian bishops, says the dispatch, have already done so at Milan, Turin, and Venice. At these places the priests are denouncing in the churches the "scandalous attire" in which women have been appearing in public.

LEFT LARGE SUM TO CHARITY

Will of Mrs. Long, of Woodsboro, Sets Aside Money For Church Funds.

By the will of Sarah E. Long, late of Woodsboro, several funds of the Reformed Church are enriched. The sum of $6,000 is bequeathed to the Board of Home Missions to be known as the "Josephus and Sarah E. Long Memorial Fund"; $2,000 goes to the Board of Foreign Missions under a similar name and $1,200 is bequeathed to the consistory of St. John's Reformed Church, Woodsboro, the interest to be used for the minister's salary. After mentioning various other bequests the will sets aside the remaining estate to the "George W. and Agness Hoffman Orphanage" of the Synod of the Potomac, Reformed Church of the United States, located in Mount Joy township, Adams county, Penn., to erect a cottage or cottages, to be known as 'The Josephus and Sarah E. Long Cottage or Cottages.'

Interesting Suit at Thurmont.

A rather unique law suit was held before Magistrate B. M. Jones, of Thurmont, the complainant being Mr. W. P. Nunemaker, who brought suit against Mr. Park W. T. Loy, as manager of the baseball team to recover $2.70 which he claimed to be his share of the money collected for the baseball games played by the Thurmont team. The testimony brought out by Mr. Nunemaker showed that he was to get 10 per cent. of the amounts collected. The magistrate decided that Mr. Loy should pay which with cost, will amount to over $5. A large crowd of persons from Thurmont gathered around the office to hear the outcome of the suit.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY REPUBLICANS

Indorse Gist Blair for Congressional Nomination

At a meeting of Republican leaders held in Rockville on Saturday, August 20, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"We the representatives of the Republican party in the county of Montgomery and the state of Maryland, representing our loyalty to the Republican party and its platform and desiring to promote the achievement of its high aims irrespective of the claims or personal ambition of any candidate, do hereby, in an advisory capacity, express to the voters of the county our views as to the best available candidate to represent the Republican party in the Sixth Congressional District, to be voted for at the primaries to be held August 30 at the usual voting places.

"Resolved, that Hon. Gist Blair of Silver Spring, Montgomery county, is the best available candidate of the party to represent our county and the congressional district, and has every legal and moral right to represent us.

"Mr. Blair is a lawyer of recognized ability and is in the prime of life. He is the son of the late Montgomery Blair, of Silver Spring, Lincoln's Postmaster General.

"He is the owner of and tax payer of large real estate interests at Silver Spring, where he resides and pays his personal tax as a resident.

"He is one of the Montgomery county people, a patron and supporter of its local enterprises and a generous contributor to the legitimate expenses of the party organization.

"He has ably represented the Republican party in active executive services and is justly entitled to recognition for the more important post of representing us in Congress.

"The great Republican party has never needed representatives in Congress more than now, and to name any man who could not be elected would be equivalent to making the personal ambition of the individual paramount to the best interests of the party.

"Believing that Mr. Blair may be elected, if nominated, we pledge him our hearty support at the primaries on August 30 and urgently recommend all good Republicans to do the same.

INDIAN LAND SCANDAL MARYLAND AND KANSAS.

Just What the Investigation Is Revealing

SENATOR GORE'S ALLEGATIONS

Answers of Those Implicated, Accused or Otherwise Associated with the Indian Land Deal.

The Indian Land Scandal, now being investigated, is a very complex affair. Senator Gore on the floor of the Senate on June 24, last, made these charges which are now being investigated:

"That J. F. McMurray, of McAlister, Okla., and his associates had obtained 10,000 individual contracts with Chickasaw and Choctaw Indians for the sale of 450,000 acres of coal and asphalt lands, estimated to be worth from $30,000,000 to $160,000,000.

"That the profit to McMurray and his associates was to be 10 per cent. or a sum ranging from $3,000,000 to $16,000,000.

"That a New York syndicate already was prepared to take over the lands at $30,000,000.

"That when opposition to approving the contracts arose in Congress Senator Gore was approached and told that $25,000, or perhaps $50,000, would be available to him and that a like sum would be available to a member of the House of Representatives if all opposition was removed.

"That if the contracts had been approved the Indians would have been deprived of 10 per cent. of the profits guaranteed them by the Government, and the money would have gone to pay 'attorneys' fees' for which no material service had been rendered. Senator Gore also charged that 'an ex-Senator from Nebraska and an ex-Senator from Kansas were interested in the contracts.'

At the hearing of the committee in Muskogee, testimony was presented which the New York World summarizes in two sections: first, Senator Gore's charges:

"1. That Jacob L. Hamon (former Republican National Committeeman) offered him a bribe of, first, $25,000, then $50,000, to withdraw his opposition to the McMurray Indian contracts, by which Indians were to dispose of lands of great value and interested persons were to profit about $3,000,000 in fees.

"2. That Hamon told him that Senator Curtis, of Kansas, and Representative McGuire, of Oklahoma, were interested in the contracts.

"3. That Hamon declared that Vice-President Sherman was also interested in the deal."

Then, substantially, the answers of the accused are as follows:

"Vice-President Sherman—The story that comes to me about the charges made by Senator Gore at Muskogee today is absolutely without the slightest shadow of foundation.

"Senator Curtis—I am not and have not been interested in them (the Indian contracts), directly or indirectly.

"J. F. McMurray—Bribery never entered my mind, no one has ever spoken to me, nor have I ever approached any one dishonestly.

"Representative McGuire—No man who is honest will say that I have now or ever had any interest in any Indian contracts with McMurray or anybody else.

"Jacob Hamon—Categorical denial of Gore's statements."

In addition D. C. McCurtain, a delegate for the Choctaws to Washington and a son of Green McCurtain, principal chief for the Choctaw nation, testified, according to the news dispatches, that he also, in 1906, received an offer of $25,000 to withdraw his opposition to the old tribal McMurray contracts which were subsequently disapproved by President Roosevelt.

No Firearms in Mexico.

A message from the Mexican secretary of war was received at El Paso, Tex., to allow no firearms of any kind taken across the border into Mexico. A number of hunters and tourists who had planned to take their arms into Mexico were forced to send them back to the American side when the Mexican customs inspectors refused to pass them. No explanation is given for the sudden order, although it is thought that the government wishes to prevent any danger of revolutionary trouble in the republic during the centennial celebration next month.

much oats as Maryland, while Thomas county, in extreme Western Kansas, in the so-called semi-arid section, raised more than seventeen times as much barley as the whole State of Maryland. More potatoes are produced in almost any year in six or seven of the Kansas river counties than Maryland raises, and in 1909 the five counties of Jewell, Butler, Smith, Wabaunsee and Dickinson raised more hay by about sixty thousand tons than all Maryland did.

"In 1896 one county (Jewell) in Kansas, from 249,087 acres, raised 10,710,741 bushels of corn, while Maryland was congratulating herself on 19,936,128 bushel from 623,004 acres.

"In 1901 Sumner county, Kansas, from 309,641 acres, harvested 6,812,102 bushels of wheat, while the whole State of Maryland, from 774,136 acres, had 13,215,139 bushels.

"In 1901 Kansas raised 99,079,304 bushels of wheat, while Maryland's crops for the eight years, 1902-1909 inclusive, amounted to about 3 million bushels less in the aggregate.

"In 1899 Kansas raised 237,621,222 bushels of corn, while Maryland's crops for the ten years ending with 1909 amounted to 26,534,710 bushels less.

"Statistics show that Maryland doesn't raise enough to feed her own people, and if it wasn't for Kansas and her surplus foodstuffs large numbers of the inhabitants of Maryland might be going hungry. The only 'burning siroccos' Kansas has heard of had their inception in the superheated brain of the editorial writer of the Baltimore Sun."

THE CHRONICLE wishes to submit a few figures to the list. On 123,000 acres of 'bottom land' of Maryland there has been harvested in the last fifty years fully 400,000,000 bushels of oysters. Kansas bottoms can't touch this even with a stalk of their corn. In 1904 Maryland produced 2,911,000 pounds of shad, 12,765,282 pounds of crabs and 3,923 pounds of terrapin. Gentle reader place side by side in your imagination a bushel of yellow field corn, (horse feed) and a bushel of Chesapeake oysters, (man feed) and which would you covet?

In 1905 three counties in Maryland raised more tobacco than all the 105 of Kansas, which proves that this is a man's State—boys smoke corn silk we use tobacco.

But speaking of corn. Maryland's average yield of corn per acre is 36.9 bushels. The Kansas average is 27.4.

Maryland's area is about 6,310,000 acres; in 1902 Kansas had planted in corn 6,990,764 acres.

In 1902 Kansas had planted in wheat 6,254,747 acres. From this land was harvested 54,323,838 bushels. If we have not made a mistake in our calculations Maryland soil, if there were that many acres of it planted in wheat would yield 101,953,376 bushels or almost twice the amount raised in Kansas.

The average area of a county in Kansas is 781 square miles; of Maryland 425 square miles. Who that can be found in Maryland would want to be lost in Kansas?

In regard to the last paragraph of Mr. Coburn's reply. Each person in Maryland were the land portioned out equally would have not quite six acres to support him. In Kansas each person would have considerably over 35 acres.

TROLLEYS THROUGHOUT COUNTY

Vision of Transportation Facilities As Seen By Frederick Evening Press.

Every turnpike in the county should have a trolley at its side, and cross lines should be constructed so that the whole eastern slope of the Blue Ridge, from Gettysburg to Washington, should be gridironed with trolleys. That this will be done in time is certain, but no delay should be allowed and the work already begun should be completed as soon as possible, and other lines should be begun at once.

This system of connecting all sections of a district or county by trolleys is no longer an experiment. It has been tried in hundreds of places and has always been successful. In all examined cases the investments made have paid, and paid largely, not only on the original investments of actual money spent in constructing the lines and equipping them, but indirectly still more largely by the increase in trade and business in the communities interested in their construction and their operation.

The construction of trolley lines is not particularly expensive, and usually the revenues begin to come in without much delay. There is no waiting for years for returns. Those already in existence are good investments, and if the system were continued to Gettysburg, by way of Emmitsburg, the amount of trade brought here would more than double the wholesale and retail trade of merchants.

Three former executive officers of the Illinois Central Railroad Company were arrested on warrants in connection with the alleged frauds by means of which the railroad was defrauded, it is said, of $1,500,000. The men arrested were Frank B. Harriman, formerly general manager of the road; Charles L. Ewing, formerly manager of lines north of the Ohio River, and John M. Taylor, formerly general storekeeper of the road.

CLOSE GAMES GOOD UMPIRING

Monday's Game 14 to 10; Wednesday's 7 to 4.—Kerrigan, Sebald and Rosensteel Stars of Local Players.

St. Euphemia's Club took the first of the series of games which are being played between Thurmont and Emmitsburg on Monday when they defeated Thurmont to the score of 14 to 10. A bad inning on either side accounts for the large tally. The contest was very exciting throughout and a large crowd was present on the grounds. Stanley Swope did the twirling for the S. E. C. and acquitted himself in a highly creditable manner. After playing a little loosely and with the score 8 to 0, in favor of Thurmont, before the fourth was over, the locals braced up and from then on never let up on the merry-go-round, overcoming the big lead of their rivals and finally capturing the game. Creeger was on the mound for Thurmont. He pitched a steady game at first, but having weakened somewhat Reed was put in that position in the sixth. He was easy meat and after two innings was willing to let Stoner try the position. Three brilliant double plays characterized the fielding of the locals, viz: G. Sebald to Kerrigan; G. Sebald to R. Sebald to R. Topper, and Kerrigan to Topper. The score is as follows:

The second of the series and the last (Thurmont having gotten cold feet on their own proposition of three games) was played in Thurmont on Wednesday. It was a pitchers' battle between Abbott for St. Euphemia's and Morgan for Thurmont. In the field and at the bat the visitors excelled and easily out-classed their opponents, and took the game 7 to 4. Besides a wild throw and a passed ball they had only two errors and these were on bad bouncers. It was a fast game throughout and a feature that proved the pleasantest to the large number of spectators was the absence of any disputes, whatever, the respective umpires acquitting themselves to the satisfaction of both sides. It was mutually agreed by the managers of the two teams that three games would be played, the third to be pulled off on the grounds of the team making the greater number of runs in the two contests. Now that Emmitsburg has not only the greater number of runs but also both games, Mr. Park T. W. Loy, manager of the Thurmont aggregation, declines to play the third game, which, according to the agreement would have to be played here, and which would in all probability result in three straight for the S. E. C. Mr. Loy's contention is that Emmitsburg got outside players. Mr. Edgar Dukehart, manager of the S. E. C. wants to know on what Thurmont street live Morgan (Union Bridge), Stoner (Graceham) and Reed (Catocin).

SOME USEFUL RECIPES.

For a Bridge Party.

Take a liberal assortment of women, preferably an odd number, and sprinkle at intervals around an overheated room. Add one hat for each, and if the room is not large enough to hold them, let them project over the edge. Make a stuffing of sandwiches, chocolate cake, olives and tea and line each woman with it. Season liberally with spice prepared from the latest gossip and add a few peppery tempers. Some people garnish with cards, but these may be omitted without injury to the dish.

To Increase the Number of Fish in a Pond.

To one pond add three small fish. Stir thoroughly and set out in a basin to air. Select four plump, well fed fishermen, peel and place them on top of the pond. Let the whole bake in a hot sun four hours, occasionally basting the fishermen with Selected Likker. When thoroughly brown, remove the fishermen, carefully draining off their stories into separate receptacles. Allow the sediment to settle, and a careful comparison of the results will clearly prove that the pond contains sixty unusually large fish.

For Domestic Happiness.

To one suburban villa add a furnace three sizes too small and two leaky pipes. Carefully loosen the wall paper around the edges and stir in two battalions of cockroaches and a colony of rats. Season with a tobacco tempered cook and garnish with an indeterminate train service and an adjacent phonograph. The effectiveness of this dish can be greatly enhanced by adding the head of the household, immersed in hot water to the neck, as part of the decorations.

For a Flower Garden.

Take twenty square yards of sand and pebbles, stir in sufficient clay to make a compact watertight mass, ram down hard and score the surface with a rake. Add carefully ten packets of seeds of the most magnificent flower known that will grow anywhere and under any conditions, throwing up a continuous succession of enormous flower trusses from March to November, each petal five inches across and of the richest and most glowing tints. This is the commonest of all flowers and will be found on any page of any florist's catalogue. Set the whole out to rise, keeping it moist and warm. After allowing the mass to rise four months, sprinkle red spiders and green aphides plentifully over the top and soak well with tears. The net result may be preserved in a small bottle of alcohol for future reference.

For a Splendid Investment.

Take one hole in the ground and carefully fill with selected copper ore or any other kind. Add a prospectus and mix thoroughly. Stand the whole out in the rain until as much water has been absorbed as the proposition will stand and sweeten with Ananias's Infallible Dope. Cook quickly in hot air, the hotter the better, and when done serve instantly. In choosing the cook for this dish be sure to select one who is a swift and tireless runner.

A Prayer.

O Thou full of compassion, I commit and commend myself unto Thee, in whom I am, and live, and know. Be Thou the Goal of my pilgrimage and my Rest by the way. Let my soul take refuge from the crowding turmoil of worldly thoughts beneath the shadow of Thy wings; let my heart, this sea of restless waves, find peace in Thee, O God. Thou bounteous Giver of all good gifts, give to him who is weary refreshing food; gather our distracted thoughts and powers into harmony again, and set the prisoner free. See, he stands at Thy door and knocks; be it opened to him that he may enter with a free step, and be quickened by Thee. For Thou art the Wellspring of Life, the Light of Eternal Brightness, wherein the just live who love Thee. Be it unto me according to Thy word. Amen.—St. Augustine.

Forest fires in Montana are spreading and 10 additional companies of troops are needed to meet the situation according to a joint telegram received by the Interior Department, and Forest Service from their field agents. Though the old fires are practically under control, new ones are constantly breaking out.
