WOMEN'S PART IN POLITICS

THEIR AID IS SOUGHT

They Have Seats in All Three Party Councils

THE CAUSE OF SUFFRAGE GAINS

The Republicans, Democrats and Progressives Alike Recognize Them as a Factor and Seek Their Aid in The Campaign.

The cause of equal suffrage has gained to an amazing extent in the United States during the past year as witnessed by the fact that women are now getting seats in all the party councils. Especially have they gained strength and been recognized by Colonel Roosevelt, whose nomination was seconded by Miss Jane Adams, the first woman to take such a position. All of the parties have recognized the value of women as vote getters and the progressive party has appointed Miss Helen Boswell and Miss Mabel Boardman to an active part in its management in the campaign this fall.

From now on the three parties—Republican, Democratic, and Progressive—will compete in efforts to interest the women to get out and work hard for their respective candidates, and from now on the women in authority at the various headquarters will have much to say regarding the campaign.

Miss Boswell is to have charge of the bureau for women's work at the headquarters of the Republican National Committee, and Miss Boardman is to be Advisory Chairman of the Campaign Committee of the Woman's National Republican Association. Miss Boswell is President of the association. Others connected with the Advisory Bureau will be Miss Mary C. Frances, Miss Mary Woods, Miss Margaret Roberts, Miss Krebs of California, and Miss Florence King Sears of Seattle.

Miss Boardman is a sister-in-law of Senator Winthrop Murray Crane of Massachusetts, and is described as a woman of great ability and energy as a manager and organizer. She has long been identified with the International Red Cross Association, and she induced President Taft to become President of the American Red Cross Society, of which she was secretary. She is said to have great influence with the President. In 1905 Miss Boardman went to the Philippines as a member of the Taft party, when Mr. Taft was Secretary of War. She is a leader in the Washington Social set and has been actively connected with several important relief expeditions.

In recognition of her work at the time of the Messina earthquake the Italian Government decorated her with a production of gold of an ancient Roman civic crown.

Miss Boswell has been active in woman suffrage work. Recently she returned from a trip through the six States which have woman's suffrage—California, Washington, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, and Wyoming. She also has done considerable work in the States where the question of the adoption of a constitutional amendment giving the suffrage to women will be voted on this fall. These are Michigan, Kansas, Oregon and Wisconsin. The Woman's Advisory Committee of the Republican organization will start vigorously at once, and women everywhere will be asked to take an active part in the Taft campaign.

The women already have been organized to help along the Wilson campaign. The Woman's National Wilson and Marshall Organization has been hard at work for the past week. Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, the Chairman and founder of the organization, is at her desk there every day, and the corps of women workers are doing everything possible to convince voters all over the country that their interests will be best served by the election of the Democrat.

Massenet of Thais Fame Dies.

Julien Emile Frederic Massenet, the well-known musical composer, died at his residence in Paris on Tuesday morning at the age of 70. He had been suffering for a long time from cancer, but his death was sudden and unexpected.

Among M. Massenet's more noted works were "Le Cid," "Manon," and "Thais." He established his reputation in 1872 with "Don Cesar de Bazan." Among others of his notable works were a four-act opera, "Le Roi de Lahore," and "La Navarraise," and he also composed many oratorios and cantatas.

He was a grand officer of the Legion of Honor and a member of the French Institute.

THE RESULT OF THE STANLEY COMMITTEE'S INVESTIGATION

United States Steel Corporation an Enemy to Organized Labor.—Injurious to Business of Country.

The report of the majority of the committee of the House of Representatives directed more than a year ago to investigate the United States Steel Corporation was submitted to the House by Representative Stanley, of Kentucky, chairman of the committee.

The report was signed by the chairman and Representatives Bartlett, of Georgia; McGillicuddy, Maine; Beall, Texas, and Littleton, New York; Democrats. Representatives Gardner, Massachusetts; Danforth, New York; Young, Michigan; and Sterling, Illinois, Republicans, dissented from the report of the majority. Representative Sterling submitted his individual views in a minority report, and Representative Littleton, Democrat, dissenting from the recommendations of the majority for amendment of the Sherman antitrust law, and filed his views.

Representatives Gardner and Danforth will unite in another minority report, which Representative Young will sign and add to his own findings as to the facts surrounding the organization and operation of the Steel Corporation.

The report of the majority deals with the steel trust from its inception and describes the various steps by which J. P. Morgan and his associates built up the corporation. In addition to recommendations for legislation suggested as remedial, the Democratic members of the committee made general accusations against the men responsible for the organization.

J. P. Morgan and his associates are held up as being the beneficiaries of enormous profits realized from the overcapitalization of the subsidiary companies of the Steel Corporation, and later of the corporation itself.

Judge E. H. Gary and his dinners to steel manufacturers are credited with a scheme by which prices and territory were controlled by the steel trust after pooling agreements were discarded.

Former President Roosevelt is indicted for making the control of the steel trust absolute and is charged with being responsible for the gigantic stature which the trust has attained.

The United States Steel Corporation flayed as an enemy of organized labor, accused of lowering the sociological conditions of its employees and of contributing to American industry workmen and work methods un-American and foreign to the best interests of labor.

Principal stockholders of the Steel Corporation are accused of exerting a powerful and injurious influence on the business of the United States by means of control exercised through interlocking directorates of railway and industrial organizations.

The activity of the corporation in politics is laid bare and its influence described, and the "steel trust" as a tariff beneficiary and its part in the making of the Payne-Aldrich tariff act are touched upon by the Democrats.

Scores Injured in Fight With Police.

The Pittsburgh police battled for more than an hour on Saturday night with a mob of 10,000 at the open-air meeting of the Socialists. The police were forced to use their riot sticks with the result that many in the crowd sustained serious injury. Over 40 arrests were made.

Police Superintendent McQuaide feared trouble and detailed 50 mounted police and 50 patrolmen on foot to the scene.

Trouble began when the first speaker made disparaging remarks about the police, the city council and President Taft. He was hauled from the stand and taken to the wagon, hundreds battling with the police to set him free. A cordon of police surrounded the wagon as the mob tried to cut the horses loose.

The mounted men charged into the crowd repeatedly, and many were trampled. Superintendent McQuaide was summoned at Central Station, and he dispatched reserves from the Oakland station. After more than an hour of battling the crowd dispersed.

On Wednesday Senator Root's bill for the erection in Washington of a memorial building "to commemorate the services and sacrifices of the loyal women of the United States during the Civil War" was passed by the Senate, carrying with it an appropriation of $400,000.

The description of Schepps furnished by the New York police received by the Hot Springs authorities, is according to Chief Leonard, a most remarkable document, because it describes Schepps as being at least four inches taller than the man under arrest.

Chinese pirates attacked the island of Colowan at the mouth of the Canton River, near the Portuguese dependency of Macao. Portuguese troops were sent against the pirates.

As a mark of his sympathy for the victims of the mine disaster at Gertha, the Kaiser abandoned further participation in the Ruhr centenary celebration at Essen. The corpses of 99 miners had been taken from the wrecked colliery today and 6 men are still missing.

Veto of the wool bill was emphatically expressed by President Taft in a special message to Congress appealing to the legislators that they do not adjourn "without taking advantage of the plain opportunity substantially to reduce duties" by framing a protective bill along the lines recommended by the Tariff Board.

Three more aldermen were arrested in the city hall bribery scandal and three of the nine already accused of graft were rearrested on a new charge in Detroit. Aldermen Brozo, Walsh and Tossy, already accused of having accepted bribes, were rearrested and charged with conspiracy. Aldermen Hindle, Mason and Koenig were the new prisoners.

Two Italian laborers were instantly killed, three were fatally hurt and six others injured when an automatic drill struck an unexploded dynamite charge in the Aqueduct tunnel, 265 feet below the surface, at One Hundred and Sixth street and Central Park, New York. This was the second fatal accident of the kind at this point during the last three weeks.

A shakeup of the New York police force beginning at the top and extending all the way down the line is imminent as a result of the graft exposures following the assassination of Herman Rosenthal, according to insistent reports in political circles and about police headquarters.

Saturday.

Colonel Roosevelt had no hesitancy in admitting that many of the planks adopted by the Progressive party in its platform were of Democratic origin, and he also insisted that 10 years from now it would be found that the new party had solved the negro problem in the only way that will really benefit the black race.

Troop L, of the Third United States Cavalry, was sent from Fort Sam Houston to Sierra Blanca, and a squadron of cavalry was ordered from Fort Clark to Del Rio to protect American interests there. Troop L is equipped for field service.

Two hundred and ten residents of the little town of Puruandiro Michoacan, at least half of whom were boys, were slaughtered at the behest of the jefe politico, according to a story brought to Mexico City by a commission which called upon the Minister of the Interior, asking for guarantee of safety.

Dispatches from Uskup, European Turkey stated that 140 Bulgarians were massacred at Kotschana on August 2nd.

The Turkish seaport of Gallipoli, and the town of Tcharak-Kaleissi, at the narrowest part of the Dardanelles, have been destroyed by earthquake. Many of the inhabitants were killed or injured.

Miss Helen Gould had 600 negroes, from New York churches, as her guests at Tarrytown, N. Y.

Sam Schepps, who acted as paymaster to the gunmen who slew Herman Rosenthal, and who is wanted as a material witness, if not as an accessory to the crime, was arrested in Hot Springs as Samuel Franklin.

Sunday.

Seth Barton French, former partner of J. Pierpont Morgan, left an estate valued at $2,746,250. Mary Walker French, his widow, who has the distinction of being "the most court-presented American woman," will receive the income from $1,030,000. She also gets a cash bequest of $400,000.

The State Department received word that quiet prevailed in Santo Domingo and Haiti, where the customs collection dispute is being closely watched by this Government.

Startling disclosures indicating that the infernal machine which exploded in the High Point office of the Southern Express Company Saturday, was destined for a High Point girl, followed the rigid investigation of the mystery by United States District Attorney A. E. Holton and Police Chief Ridge.

The North German Lloyd steamship Frankfurt, bound for Canada from Bremen with 1,200 emigrants on board, collided with the German steamer Bar-men, from Rotterdam for Bremen, while off the Hook of Holland lights.

The Dowager Countess Mary Desibour, of Washington, died at Chuwana Villa, Narragansett, R. I.

Sam Schepps, in custody at Hot Springs, Ark., refused to accompany Burns detectives or New York policemen to New York, for fear of being killed. He offered Captain Howell, of Hot Springs, $500 to go with him to the metropolis.

Monday.

Miss Helen Hunt, a Seattle school teacher, fell to her death from a peak on Mount Rainier; her body struck in a gulch 500 feet below the fall breaking every bone.

John Young, who was mysteriously shot last Wednesday at Altoona, Pa., was discovered to have been struck by a bullet fired two miles away from a high power rifle.

Seven men were shocked to death in the little brick annex to Sing Sing prison soon after sunrise. Five passed into eternity protesting their innocence with their last breath.

Leon Gutierrez, a well-known anarchist, is dead, and policemen Perry and Bains wounded as the result of a riot in Los Angeles, Cal., when the police were stoned by a crowd of Mexicans.

Thirty-six soldiers and more than 20 passengers were slaughtered by Zapatistas in a canyon, one kilometre north of Ticuman, 110 miles southeast of Mexico City, when a passenger train southbound was attacked from ambush.

Senator La Follette charged the Post office Department with opening and tampering with his mail to find out facts about the investigation into the affairs of the department that is being made by the Senator.

The Allan Line steamer Corsican, which sailed from Montreal last Tuesday, with 200 passengers bound for Liverpool, struck an iceberg east of Belle Isle, near Newfoundland, but apparently sustained no serious damage.

Tuesday.

Princess Frederick Charles of Hesse, the youngest sister of the German Emperor, was robbed of costly jewelry while starting from the Victoria Station London for Germany last Saturday. The police endeavored to keep the theft secret, and it became known when descriptions of the property, which is priceless, was given out by Scotland Yard.

Holding up officials in the Courthouse at Columbus, Ga., a mob of about 40 men took T. Z. Cotton, alias T. Z. McElhenny, a 16-year-old negro, on trial, and lynched him just beyond the city limits.

By a ruling of Speaker Clark, who held that members voting present should not be counted in estimating the two-thirds vote necessary to pass a bill over a presidential veto, the Democrats of the House, with the aid of 19 Republican insurgents on the tariff, passed the Underwood-La Follette compromise Wool Bill over the veto of President Taft.

Edward Creager, aged 22 years, was instantly killed, and George Lantz and Charles Creager were injured in an automobile accident on a mountain road half a mile from Buena Vista. Creager's neck was broken and he was dead when picked up. His companions miraculously escaped death, Charles Creager sustaining two broken ribs.

ALDERMANIC COMMITTEE TO PROBE NEW YORK POLICE

All Parties Represented in Inquisition Which Will be Thorough and Merciless.—Mayor is Criticized.

The Aldermanic committee of nine, named to probe the wholesale police graft charges growing out of the murder three weeks ago of Gambler Herman Rosenthal, and inquire into the workings of the alleged "system," has considered the selection of counsel to supervise the inquisition.

Corporation Counsel Watson, whom Mayor Gaynor desired to conduct the investigation and to whom some of the Aldermen objected, informed the city fathers that the duties of his office made it imperative that he keep in touch with every Aldermanic inquiry of such a nature, but that he "would be glad to co-operate with any special counsel the investigators might wish to employ."

It has become known that the Citizens' Committee, self-appointed by Jacob H. Schiff and others to probe the graft charges against the Police Department, has decided to hold a mass meeting in Cooper Union and there raise funds for a thorough investigation of the Police Department, wholly apart from the inquiry now under way by the Board of Aldermen.

By his attack on the city judiciary, on whom he attempted to place the blame for the open gambling and vice of the "system," Commissioner Waldo brought down on his head more scathing denunciations from judges.

That the probe of the Police Department will be a searching and thorough one, possibly more merciless than the Lexow inquiry that made history, is assured. The nine men appointed on the committee include both Republicans and Democrats, Tammany and anti-Tammany men, foes as well as friends of Mayor Gaynor and Commissioner Waldo.

"I have no hesitancy in saying there has been more gambling going on since the administration of Mayor Gaynor than we have had in the last 25 years. The police, in my opinion, never intended to suppress gambling," declared Magistrate Frederick House.

Judge Edward Swann said:

"I am morally certain, beyond any reasonable doubt, that one police inspector, aided by three other inspectors, hold the dominant power in the graft 'system,' and that they are guilty of grafting. I am convinced that if these men were removed from the department the 'system' would get its death blow. I know that their graft is three-folded; that it comes from the gamblers, the disorderly houses and the liquor interests."

Hopkins Gets a Gratitude Gift.

Johns Hopkins Hospital has recently received a $220,000 gift for the restoration of an appetite. Mr. James Buchanan Brady, of New York, vice-president of the Standard Steel Car Company, who is known widely as "Diamond Jim" Brady, is the grateful man. Mr. Brady, after nearly six months' existence on dry toast, gave a dinner at Hotel Vanderbilt, to a number of friends and was able to do full justice to an elaborate menu.

About two months ago he was operated on by Dr. Plaggemeyer. The operation was very successful but Mr. Brady's recovery was so slow that it was not until last Thursday, the day of the dinner, that he was pronounced well. The gift is to be applied to the ward in Johns Hopkins Hospital in which kidney troubles are treated. While in the hospital Mr. Brady endeared himself to children in the neighborhood by gifts in treating them to dainties.

President Taft in a special message to Congress has urged the appropriation of $253,350 to strengthen the Indian Medical Corps and stamp out tuberculosis, trachoma and other contagious diseases. The death rate in the Indian country was 35 per thousand and millions of white people, Mr. Taft declared, were endangered by the disease among the nation's wards.

It became known New York that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., son of the richest man in the world, had interested himself in the police scandal of New York and had turned over to the District Attorney evidence gathered against certain police officials by his own representatives.

A letter signed by eminent jurists has been issued asking contributions to a proposed fund of $40,000 for the relief of the family of the late Associate Justice M. Harlan.

Martial law has been declared in Bluefields, Nicaragua, and no one is permitted to leave the city without a permit from the Government.

THE GAMBLER MURDER

TEN UNDER ARREST

Two of the Actual Slayers Are Still at Large

MAYOR GAYNOR'S ATTITUDE

What Progress Has Been Made By the Investigators in the Twenty-Six Days Since Rosenthal Was Slain by Hired Assassins.

In the twenty-six days that have elapsed since Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, was shot down in front of the Hotel Metropole, ten arrests have been made and only two of the men, who took part in the actual shooting, are at large. Lieut. Charles Becker, who is charged with having planned the murder of his former gambling partner, is the only man so far under indictment, but developments may be expected at any minute.

The others who occupy cells, one in Hot Springs, Ark., the rest in the Tombs or in the West Side Prison, are Louis Libby and William Shapiro, the owner and driver of the gray murder car; Jack Rose, the self-confessed collector for Lieut. Becker; "Bridgey" Webber, the gambler and proprietor of the poker rooms at Forty-second Street and Sixth Avenue where the gunmen gathered for the attack on Rosenthal; Harry Vallon, Webber's partner; Jacob Reich, or Jack Sullivan, as he prefers to be known, the intimate friend of Lieut. Becker; "Whitey" Lewis, and "Dago Frank" Cirosci, two of the gunmen, and Samuel Schepps, paymaster of the murderers.

It is against Sullivan, Schepps, "Whitey" Lewis, and "Dago Frank" Cirosci that it is expected a blanket indictment will be found, and included in this will be names of Lieut. Becker and Harry Horowitz, or "Gyp the Blood," and "Lefty Louie" Rosenzweig. When this shall have been found it is believed that the name of every man who can be accused of murder in the first degree in connection with the death of Rosenthal will be included in an indictment for this crime.

Two men only who are not in the hands of the police are included in this list. They are Horowitz and Rosenzweig, two of the actual slayers of Rosenthal, and to capture them it is known that District Attorney Whitman would come to almost any terms with certain of the others who could reveal their hiding place.

For above everything else, Mr. Whitman's mind is set on the conviction of Rosenthal's slayers. After that may come a searching inquiry into the graft charges with which the gambler's death has been so intimately connected.

In the development of investigation into Rosenthal's case, the fact stands out prominently that Mr. Whitman has accomplished most of the results so far obtained practically unaided by the police. It was he who made Becker's indictment and arrest possible, and the tools with which he accomplished this came to his hands with little assistance from the police.

Of the ten men now under arrest, the police sought and found just four. They are Libby and Shapiro, "Dago Frank," and "Whitey" Lewis, and of these four only the latter two are of first importance.

Jack Rose visited Police Headquarters twice to give himself up. "Bridgey" Webber was a frequent caller there before he was held as a material witness, and when he was arrested, after his release on bail, this time to be charged with murder, he was readily found and was in Police Headquarters several hours before it was decided finally to lock him up.

Harry Vallon found it necessary to introduce himself to the Lieutenant in charge at Headquarters, and then he was compelled to wait for many minutes.

The Pope is Writing His Memoirs.

A Rome dispatch says that the Pope is busily engaged in writing his memoirs, which will not be published until after his death.

Every evening before he goes to bed his Holiness writes for two or three hours. He has already covered several hundred pages. The memoirs begin with his early life, when Venetia was an Austrian province, and lead up through the struggle for a United Italy. They deal very largely with the development of civilization in the last half of the nineteenth century.

The Pope is very jealous that nobody shall peep at his memoirs before they are finished. He keeps the papers locked up in a leather case, of which the key is always on his person.

utes before a detective could be found to put him under arrest.

Jack Sullivan was identified in Corner Feinberg's Court by Giovanni Stanish, a witness whom Mr. Whitman had brought to court expressly for the purpose, and was arrested after Mr. Whitman had had him pointed out to a detective.

Lewis was found in the Catskills and Cirosci in a Harlem flat through the work of Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty's men, and credit for Schepp's arrest must go in part to Commissioner Dougherty, for as long ago as July 27 he notified the Chief of Police in Hot Springs, Ark., that the physical condition of Schepps was such that he probably would appear in Hot Springs.

But so far there has been discovered no real clue to the whereabouts of Horowitz and Rosenzweig, although scores of detectives have searched the Catskills, and more than once have announced that they were hot on the trail. The freedom from arrest of these men, two of Rosenthal's actual murderers, is known to have occasioned the suspicion in the minds of members of the District Attorney's staff that protection which was promised them, and on the assurance of which they shot down Rosenthal, is now shielding the slayers from capture.

No longer than a few days before the indictment of Becker, Mayor Gaynor had been stanch in his support of the accused Lieutenant. In a letter to Police Commissioner Waldo, in which he asked that Detectives Steinert, Foy and White of Becker's squad be sent to him at his office, he wrote:

"To be sure he (Rosenthal) was a miserable outlaw, against whom you and your predecessors have been continuously contending, but I would have the respect for the police raised so high that the accusations of such a character would not be extensively credited. * * * I cannot understand why Lieut. Becker should sit down to dinner with such a scoundrel. That he did so seems to be admitted."

That Becker should sit at dinner with Rosenthal seemed the one point in the policeman's connection with the gambler which impressed the Mayor, and a few days afterward, when Commissioner submitted to him the question of suspending Becker and putting him on trial, the Mayor in another scolding letter replied:

"Your letter of yesterday concerning Lieut. Becker is at hand. No, do not suspend him and put him on trial without evidence to justify his conviction and dismissal by you. Let his case be carefully investigated and all the facts ascertained. Do not bend a single bit to clamor, and especially clamor chiefly created by the hired press agents of the gamblers with whom you are at war and those corrupt newspapers which have been all along and now are at the service of such gamblers and against you. But they cannot hurt an honest man."

Such was Mayor Gaynor's attitude toward Becker and toward the Police Department up to the evening of July 29. On that night Becker was indicted, and since then the Mayor has not made any public utterances on the case.

Since then Mr. Smith has discovered several bank accounts in the name of Becker or his wife, amounting to some $25,000, and he also has unearthed accounts of $75,000 in the names of two inspectors of police. Also he has discovered two collectors for these same inspectors and has them under surveillance, so that when the time arrives they may be taken to Mr. Whitman's office.

cratic ticket. Among the women actively engaged there are Mrs. Archibald S. Alexander, Mrs. A. S. Burleson, Mrs. Josephus Daniels, Mrs. Joseph E. Davies, Mrs. J. B. Eustice, Mrs. Thomas P. Gore, and Mrs. Oswald G. Villard. Their slogan is "Win with Wilson" and "Cut the cost of living."

The Bull Moose Party has gone further than either of the other two parties in giving women the chance to do active campaign work. This party strongly urges the granting of woman's suffrage, and women have been elected to the National and State Committees. Miss Elinor Carpenter and Miss Frances A. Kellor are in charge of the Bull Moose Campaign Bureau, and they have a corps of assistants. Just what the status of the women is to be in the Bull Moose Party was set forth in a telegram which Col. Roosevelt sent to Jane Adams of Hull House, Chicago, who seconded the Colonel's nomination.

The following letter from Colonel Roosevelt is interesting.

Aug. 8, 1912.

Dear Miss Adams: I wished to see you in person to thank you for seconding me. I do it now instead.

I prized your action not only because of what you are and stand for, but because of what is symbolized for the movement. In this great National Convention, starting the new party, women have thereby been shown to have their place in full precisely as men have, and on an absolute equality. It is idle now to argue whether women can play their part in politics because in this convention we saw the accomplished fact, and, moreover, the women who have actively participated in this work of launching the new party represent all that we are most proud to associate with American womanhood. My earnest hope is to see the Progressive Party movement in all its State and local divisions recognize this fact precisely as it has been recognized at the National Convention. Our party stands for social and industrial justice, and we have a right to expect that women and men will work within the party for the cause with the same high sincerity of purpose and with like efficiency. I therefore sincerely hope that in the campaign now opened we shall see women active members of the various State and county committees. Four women are to be put on the National Committee, and I trust there will be a full representation of them on every State and County Committee. While I am now addressing you I desire that this shall be taken as the expression of my personal hope and desire by all members of such State and county Committees, and I believe that I express the feeling of the great majority of Progressives in making this request. I have Judge Hotchkiss's assurance that it will be done in the State of New York, and I very much hope that it will be done in the other States. With great esteem I am faithfully yours,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

A deadlock more determined than any in the recent history of the Government is threatened between the White House and the Capitol over the President's announcement that he will veto the Legislative Judicial and Executive Appropriation bill.

What Shall I do, Doctor?

What would you do—you who have no telephone? It isn't pleasant to think of sickness or accidents, but they do come, often when you're least prepared.

A Bell Telephone would be invaluable then—to get the doctor, QUICK, or to have the druggist rush over with a "first aid."

Former Emmitsburgian Dies.

Past Department Commander Joseph J. McCarty of the Department of Minnesota, died recently at Silver City, New Mexico. He was born at Emmitsburg, Md., on May 4, 1840. He enlisted as a private in Company H, 10th Kansas Cavalry, in August, 1862; was promoted to Sergeant and honorably discharged at the expiration of his term of service. He removed to St. Paul, Minnesota, and for many years was prominent in the life and development of that city. For a time he held the position as auditor of the Postoffice Department at Washington. He became a member of Post No. 21, St. Paul, Minnesota, in June, 1871. He was Commander of his Post for several terms, and Commander of the Department in 1896.

Frederick to Have Farmer's Picnic.

Members of the executive committee of the Frederick County Farmers' Association on Saturday evening met at the home of Mr. Oliver Wren, near that city, and perfected plans for holding of the picnic at Braddock Heights, on September 5.

The plan is to have an all day picnic, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning, and ending with a dance at night. It was decided to have four addresses at the picnic. One of these will be by Congressman Lewis, another by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, and the others by Assistant Secretary Willet M. Hays and Entomologist Webster. If possible, the address of Congressman Lewis will be made in the morning, and those of the three representatives of the agricultural department in the afternoon.

Mad at Paint

25c a gallon for paint is about $2.50 on the average job, and lots of men waited last year for that; but they didn't reckon; they got mad; wouldn't pay it.

There are times to get mad and refuse to pay; but when one's property needs protecting is no time to get mad and not paint.

Besides, it costs more to get mad and wait than to paint.

Getting mad doesn't do any good to your property; paint does it good by keeping-out water; no water no rot; no paint, some water and rot; and a little rot is more than enough to make a man liberal toward his painter and paint.

Paint cost not a cent. All the paint in the world, so long as it keeps-out water, costs not a cent.

PUBLIC SALE.

On Saturday, August 31, 1912, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

I will offer my farm at public sale on the premises, situated about 1 1/2 miles East of Emmitsburg, Frederick county, Md., near Taneytown road, adjoining lands of P. C. Eyler, Meade Fuss, Mrs. Horner and others, and contains 260 acres, more or less, of well improved red land. About 60 acres are in bottom land of highest quality, 35 acres in young growing timber, the balance good farm land. It is watered with running water and two wells, one with wind wheel, hard and soft water or the porch.

The buildings consist of a two-story brick and frame 8-room house with two porches, summer kitchen, new bank barn 56x90 feet, wagon shed, hog pen 50 feet long; carriage house blacksmith shop, ice house and cold storage, 2 chicken houses and other small necessary buildings. There are two orchards, one old and one young, and other small fruit trees. Two excellent gardens. Hunting and fishing grounds on place. This is one of the best stock farms in Frederick county, as the farm is ample in size to produce the stock and the grain to finish it for the market. Would make an ideal farm for the city man.

Terms and details of possession will be made known on day of sale.

Lecture on Personal Hygiene.

Dr. J. McC. Foreman has for some time been urged by different people to undertake a series of lectures to the children of the public schools on personal hygiene and the proper methods of living. In a recent interview on this subject Dr. Foreman said:

"Although I have not fully decided to undertake this series of lectures, there is most certainly a crying need for this sort of thing in all the public and private schools of the country. This fact has been recognized by many people and some States have instituted a course of this kind in their schools. The great mistake that is usually made in a matter of this kind, is the resorting to technicalities which convey no meaning to the average child; the plainest words should be used in common sense talks and only the essentials of proper methods of living should be dwelt on.

"I would especially dwell on the proper care of the teeth, for it is a fact that more diseases arise from a bad condition of the teeth and mouth, than from most any other cause among children."

In reply to the question as to whether the lectures would be limited to school children if he consented to give them, Dr. Foreman said:

"If I consent to give these lectures, I would not limit them to the children only but would allow the public admission also, for I consider it important that the parents, as well as the children, should be well informed on these subjects that are so vital to every individual. The care of the teeth is only one of the essentials which I might mention, for equal in importance are: proper ventilation, exercise, cleanliness and a useful knowledge of the more important functions of the body."

Canning Prospects Are Excellent.

The world-famous tomatoes from "Anne Rannel" county are beginning to arrive in Baltimore, and the corn crop will soon be on its way to Frederick. There are eight corn-canning factories in this county, three of which are in Frederick and one each in Walkersville, Adamstown, Buckeystown, Woodsboro and Barnesville. All these factories for corn canning and those in Baltimore for tomato canning will be in full swing next week. Owing to the excellent crops of each, the prospects for a large and successful season are bright. The corn-canning industry will give work for several weeks to over 1,000 employees at good wages. Thousands of acres of the best quality of sugar corn, some of which are directly owned by the companies, have been planted especially for factory use. The tomato canners will be busy until October canning Maryland's best tomatoes.

The Registration Days for the State are October 1 and 8.

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county. In the fertility and productiveness of its lands it ranks among the first in the Union, and especially in the production of wheat. The area of this great county is 633 square miles. The great body of the people are of German, English and Scotch-Irish descent, the progeny mostly of the early settlers. The land is mostly of fine limestone quality, and the greater part of the county is a valley of rolling lands lying between the Lingular Hills and the Catocin Mountain. This splendid valley is drained by the Monocacy river, and is one of the best farmed and most highly improved and productive areas of the Union. The great crops are wheat and corn.—Maryland Manual issued by Board of Public Works.

THE FARMER'S OPPORTUNITY.

The picnic at Braddock Heights on September fifth, under the auspices of the Farmers' Association of Frederick County, ought to be attended by every progressive farmer in this big and important county. The interchange of ideas, the comparison of tillage methods, the information to be gained from the speakers, specialists in their particular line, and the social features of the occasion—all this is helpful in bringing about the betterment of rural conditions and in cementing those ties of good will and friendship so essential as a cooperative force among those engaged in a common cause.

The primary object of farmers' associations is, of course, the increase in agricultural production. This embraces dairying, animal breeding and everything allied to farm industry, and the only way to crystallize interest in this the most vital to mankind of all pursuits is by cooperation through solid organization.

Maryland is an agricultural state and in it Frederick county stands foremost, being in fact, the second county in the entire country in point of productiveness. Of this every Frederick countian should be proud, and to ally himself with this important and most beneficial organization —The Frederick County Farmers' Association—should be the desire of every farmer in this section.

At Braddock, on the fifth of September, there may be heard lecturers from the Agricultural Department at Washington, soil and crop experts, dairy specialists, successful breeders and many others and the information there imparted will enable every farmer to better himself, his local community and, by combining his efforts with others, the entire county.

THE PIKE NEEDS ATTENTION.

The recently purchased road leading from Emmitsburg to Frederick—the Frederick and Emmitsburg Pike—may be said to be in two states: the State of Maryland and an awful state. The hard rains of this season have washed away the once smooth surface leaving only bed rock, and in innumerable places gullies, irregular limestone gutters and ragged clefts are rendering this heretofore well kept thoroughfare a source of great inconvenience and annoyance to all who travel over it.

Even if it is the intention of the State in the near future to make this road of uniform width and to put it in absolutely first class condition, it would seem to be only a matter of ordinary economy to give immediate attention to the many sections of it that are in such bad condition.

AN honest, equitable system of National taxation,—the tariff, in other words, as outlined by the Democratic party—is the one issue, and the only one needed, for Democratic success in November. On this issue alone Mr. Cleveland triumphed; on this issue Russell, Douglas and Foss won the governorship of Massachusetts, and every district but one in New York City was swept by this issue in the last Congressional election. Tariff reduction is the demand of the country today. It means honest opportunity for all and not the protection of the few, the chosen few, at the expense of the many.

MAYOR PRESTON, of Baltimore, so it is reported, expects to have a monument erected to him in about twenty years. This will at least give the people an opportunity to arrange for a suitable inscription. We are a little shy on monument specifications, but we humbly suggest a heroic bronze figure of His Honor, rampant, supported by the "Royal Family," couchant and the motto: "It Might Have Been."

NOTWITHSTANDING we believe in General Sherman's definition of war we are sufficiently "het up" over those Mexican atrocities to wish, in the interest of our Southern brothers, that Uncle Sam would go right into that greaser land, deplete the population by one half and then leave about ten thousand regulars there—just to show that there is no hard feeling.

MR. BEVERIDGE says, "This party (Third Party) comes from the grass roots" and is "against savage individualism." Whereupon the Big "Bull Moose," the most conspicuous example of savage individualism extant, fattens on the roots and prepares to butt everybody off the bridge who attempts to cross over to the White House.

THEY used to say of us that we were a nation with fifty religions and only one soup. Be that as it may, when it comes to other articles of diet, to pie, for instance, the United States can put up as many kinds of pastry indigestion as there are fleas on a poor man's dog.

If you want to know whether or not Emmitsburg is keeping up with the improvement procession try to engage the services of a builder, a carpenter or mechanic. You will find that you will have to take your turn, which is a good sign.

THERE is many a man grinding away in the sultry city who, when the family bills come in from the seaside resort, thinks that a certain popular song would be more appropriate if it were worded: "Everybody's doing ME."

THE Cigarette for the "Bull Moose" chappies is the latest campaign novelty. What will they give the suffragette supporters of the Colonel? Chewing tobacco?

THE regulars in old Fredericktown who jumped on the Colonel's raft, are repenting of their "Bull Moose" choice and flopping back to Taft.

THE Western Maryland Railway is rapidly falling into its old bad habit of wrecking a train or two every week.

How the Leading Papers Stand.

New York—The World, Times and Evening Post, for Wilson; the Tribune and the Sun, for Taft; the Evening Mail, for Roosevelt; the Press, anti-Wilson on the tariff, though claiming that neither Taft nor Roosevelt can be elected; the Herald compliments Wilson, but also has a good word for Taft, anti-Roosevelt; New York American, Wilson but anti-Bryan.

Brooklyn Eagle, Wilson. Philadelphia—Bulletin, for Taft; Record, Wilson; Ledger, Wilson; Inquirer, Taft; Press, Taft; and North American, Roosevelt.

Boston—Globe leans toward Wilson; Transcript, apparently for Taft; Herald, Taft; Journal, Roosevelt; and Post, Wilson.

Washington Post, Wilson. Springfield (Mass.) Republican, Wilson.

Cleveland Leader, Taft. Cincinnati Enquirer, Wilson. Kansas City Star, Roosevelt, but highly commends Wilson.

Louisville Courier-Journal, Wilson. Chicago—Tribune, Roosevelt; Record-Herald, leans to Wilson; News, Progressive, but neutral, and Inter Ocean, Taft.

Indianapolis—News, Wilson. St. Louis—Post-Dispatch, Wilson; Republic, Wilson, and Globe-Democrat, Taft.

Richmond Times-Dispatch, Wilson; Charleston News and Courier, Wilson; Columbus, (S. C.) State, Wilson; New Orleans Picayune, Wilson; New Orleans Times-Democrat, Wilson; Atlanta Constitution, Wilson; Macon Telegraph, Wilson; Charlotte Observer, Wilson; and Houston Post, Wilson.—Baltimore Sun.

Ninety Ton Egyptian Sphinx Found.

A year ago on the marshy plains of Memphis, on the road to Sakkarah, a member of the British School in Egypt found a curiously carved object sticking out of a sand embankment. The season was so far advanced that nothing could then be done, but this year the excavators went to work, and the object was found to be the tail of a sphinx, weighing ninety tons and carved from a single piece of alabaster.

The monster measures some 14 feet in height and 23 feet in length. Alabaster being a rock foreign to the neighborhood, this sphinx ranks as the largest that has been transported. The figure bears no inscription, but is considered by Prof Flinders Petrie, the Director of the British School in Egypt, to have been carved about 1300 B. C.

The Senate passed a joint resolution offered by Mr. Bacon authorizing the erection in Washington of a joint memorial to Major Archibald W. Butt and Francis Davis Millet, vice chairman of the Commission of Fine Arts. They perished with the Titanic.

A Good Name.

If your name is to live at all, it is so much more to have it live in people's hearts than only in their brains.—HOLMES.

Editorials From Maryland Exchanges.

Day of Reckoning Will Come.

Surely there must be a day of reckoning coming for the Anthracite Coal Trust, and it is astonishing that men so intelligent as President Baer and his colleagues do not seem to see that they are hastening this day by their exactions from the public in forcing up the price of coal at this time. The addition of a quarter of a dollar to the price of anthracite is not such a trifling matter that it will go unresented. Who would have thought a few years ago that the Standard Oil Company, the American Tobacco Company and other great corporations would ever be brought to terms and forced to dissolve or change their methods? Some day a way will be found by either state or federal authority to bring the anthracite combination to its knees, and for such drastic action it may thank the public sentiment aroused by the imposition of not far from $20,000,000 as an extra tax to make up for the increased wages, which cannot aggregate over $7,000,000 or $8,000,000 at the most, given to the miners under pressure.—Cambridge Democrat and News.

Cut Down the Use of Meat.

The continued advance in meats, whether due to a "beef trust," or to natural conditions, is a matter of serious fact everywhere. So burdensome has the cost of meat become, that the Mayors of several large cities have advised all citizens to cut down, to as small an amount as possible, the consumption of meats. Meat eating is largely a matter of acquired habit, or taste, as meat, especially in large quantity, is not essential, even to those who engage in heavy labor.

Perhaps the greater help toward reducing the demand for meats, and consequently the high prices, can be exercised by those who can still afford to pay fancy prices for the choice cuts. In the interest of the general situation, and especially if the market is under the control of a "trust," everybody should join in the crusade, and cut down meat consumption to the lowest point.

A little ingenuity, and perhaps additional cooking, on the part of the presiding genius of the kitchen, can devise meat substitutes, which will not only reduce the cost of living, but be better for the general health of the body.—Carroll Record.

Will Check Lynching.

Whatever the outcome of the arrests in connection with the brutal lynching that marred Christmas Day for Maryland, the investigation will act as a deterrent to any further application of lynch law in this state. Governor Goldsborough merits the highest esteem of every law-abiding citizen in his determination that the foul murder of the negro Johnson shall not go unpunished. Though shocked at the time, the public at large had for the most part forgotten the crime. Not so the Governor. Silently and persistently he had been hunting down the criminals, properly determined that the blot upon Maryland's fair name shall be removed in so far as the law is able to do it. Every good citizen will uphold him in this, and all further efforts to stamp out lawlessness in any form.—Catonsville Argus.

The people of this country make a whole lot of fuss about who shall be President, expecting him to carry out their ideas of government, and at the same time they send men to Congress who are not in sympathy with the President. We seem to forget the fact that, after all, the President is only an executive officer and only enforces the laws, and that he can do nothing unless the Congress says so. We have paid too little attention to the membership of our legislative body and if we expect reforms in anything it behooves us to send the proper men to Congress.—Westminster American Sentinel.

A new political party was born at Chicago this week. It was named Progressive. Theodore Roosevelt is the avowed father, and Necessity, whose other child is Invention, is the alleged mother. In this instance, contrary to the usual order, the maternity of the child, rather than the paternity, is the doubtful feature of the interesting event.—Cecil Star.

The natural deduction from the whole proceedings of the convention, is that Theodore Roosevelt, the phenomenal egotist, wise beyond all other men in his own conception, would make this a one-man government with himself as the originating source and distributing agency of all power and authority. He offers himself as a dictator—an autocrat.—Maryland Independent.

The third party stands for negro equality and suffrage in the Middle and Northern States, where they can aid the white Republicans by their votes, and equal representation in conventions is denied them, where Teddy says they have no party and only represent greed and office. In this the negro is a good negro where his vote counts, and a bad negro where his party fails.—Harford Democrat.

CURRENT COMMENT FROM LEADING JOURNALS.

Gov. Wilson and President Taft have been notified that they have been nominated by the two parties accustomed to competing for offices. They have suspected it because Theodore Roosevelt has seemed so perturbed lately.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Tariff For Revenue.

It is plainly the hope of the strict Republican organs to rouse the workmen against Gov. Wilson by the argument that the reduction of tariff rates to a revenue basis will check manufacturers and lessen the demand for labor. At the same time they are appealing to the capitalist class on the argument that cutting the tariff will diminish revenue, and the income tax will inevitably be resorted to to meet the deficit.

The two arguments do not "hitch" very well, but they are not supposed to be addressed to the same classes, and each class is expected to confine its attention to its own interests. So far as the workingman is concerned, there is not the slightest reason for apprehension. The duties needed for revenue will be quite large enough to prevent a sudden and disturbing reduction of wages. Judiciously adjusted, these duties will aid rather than check manufacture. Their reduction will give low cost for raw materials and for the vast variety of products which are partly manufactured, but serve as materials for other industries. In this particular department the manufacturers of the United States are in a backward inefficient condition, due to the interference of tariff duties with the whole process of production.

With arbitrary high cost of materials due to the tariff reduced the industries of the United States will have opened to them wider markets and will be placed on a more stable footing, to the direct and indirect advantage of the workingmen. Another matter of importance is the effect of foreign competition, under greater freedom of access to foreign markets, in "keying up" the energy and enterprise of our manufacturers. At present, with the home market secured, our manufacturers are unquestionably not doing all that they can for the development of their resources. If any one doubts it let him read the temperate, acute, and convincing statements of Congressman Redfield, himself a successful manufacturer. Put to their trumps by rational and just revision and reduction, easily possible within the limits of revenue requirement, they would win added prosperity and create added demand for labor.

As for the income tax, that is a pretty remote issue to influence this election.—New York Times.

Why?

The purse strings and heart strings of the world are vibrating with one momentous question: What makes the cost of living so high? Nobody knows, and, not knowing, no one can give the remedy. Political platforms face the problem, but do not solve it. Is the cost of living really higher than ever before? Do people have to expend more of their vital energy to secure the same or fewer material comforts? For if there is any real cost of living, it is what a man or woman expends of nervous force to get the fruits of the earth. In the end it isn't money, but life, that pays the cost of living. Just as scientific data, the following list of causes that have been suggested is interesting. The causes do not reduce your bills, but it is comforting to know there are any number of good, serviceable theories handy. Beginning with the solution by the Prohibition candidate, they are:

The cost of liquor to the nation. The levy exacted by business through the tariff.

The raising of prices by the trusts that are generated by the protective tariff or by concentration of capital and elimination of competition.

"The cost of high living," as James J. Hill put it. In other words, the luxury-loving extravagance of the moneyed classes.

The higher standards of living among people of moderate means. In concrete form, this means that a clerk has his shoes shined for 5 cents, instead of shining them himself. The stenographer goes to a picture show, instead of knitting in the evening.

The increased production of gold in the world.

Extravagance in governmental expenditures.

The vast sums of interest that must be paid upon watered stocks. These investments on paper imply no real investment of money, but constitute a paper lien of so many per cent. upon the total revenues of the country.

Middlemen's profits. This theory asserts that somewhere between production and consumption there is a 40 or 50 per cent. fee charged by the distributing agencies.

Inefficient farming, which fails to get the maximum crop from the land.

President Taft, his personal aid, Maj. Thomas L. Rhoads, and W. C. Heron, the President's brother-in-law, took part in a rescue of two women in distress in Rock Creek Park late Friday night.

in the United States this is combined with the exodus of farmers to the city and the gradual settlement of all open lands.

Over-production by machinery. A combination of any or all of these. But on the first of the month none of these seems to answer the question. Why?—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

The Moral Law of Democracy.

The noble truth at the heart of Woodrow Wilson's speech accepting the nomination for President is that democracy must in the end depend upon the moral law of "right and justice" for its success. He would apply this standard to the solution of all the complex problems the next administration will face. He promises that this will be the guide of his acts, and that each specific occasion will be judged by the same unvarying rule. Mr. Roosevelt has preached a personal interpretation of this belief in many a platitudinous form. He made it over into his own lingo in the shape of "the square deal." But when the doctrine was to be applied, the law of right and justice became the makeshift of compromise and expediency and the moral law for a democracy has nothing to do with broken pledges about the third term, or with hair-splitting for or against steel companies, or with campaign funds secured from "practical men" in the hope of future favor.

But that the sincere and steadfast application of the simple arguments of right and truth to all matters, great and small, is the foundation of better government in this land, cannot be denied. Any other process of judging each case separately, of compromising on the means if the end be justified of trying to police a vast and changing organism of 90,000,000 people is futile and a half measure. In concrete form the police system of curbing greed and dishonesty does not work. The issues are too large for such control and too far-reaching in their implications and possibilities to be properly regulated without the co-operation of the very ones who seek to escape regulation.

Mr. Roosevelt's faith makes much of a number of controlling commissions. But suppose all the trusts were put under one commission. By what means shall we keep the commission pure and honest? It would be the center of a tremendous maelstrom of intrigue, pressure, money influence and all that now impedes opportunity and equality. Shall we then appoint a supreme commission to watch over the other commissions? Who will guarantee the honesty of this body? In the end it would mean the diffuse pressure of public opinion trying to keep a few men straight. Against this would be the concentrated power of money and selfishness. The final arbitrament would be the moral law as it worked for right and justice in the souls of these few men. In brief government by commission wants to centre in a few the duty of being honest. They shall be the moral scapegoats of a nation.

Yet is not the simple fact just that each individual needs to make himself subservient to right and justice? If each man polices himself and regulates his acts by this high standard is it not the only way of securing social justice? Can honesty be delegated to a commission? The frank admission of the present statesmen is that the country is too large to be governed by one man or to be made pure by technical laws. What must come is a new faith and new ideals that are kin to the old faith of the fathers. If Woodrow Wilson can set the example of making the rule of right and justice into practical works, he will have justified the hopes of his admirers.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Gov. Wilson on Prohibition.

Gov. Wilson is entirely sound in his opinion that the liquor question should be kept out of State and National politics as far as possible, and the adoption of local option both serves that end and provides a good way to treat the matter. It is hard to find any reasonable objection to his statement:

"I am in favor of local option, I am a thorough believer in local self-government and believe that every self-governing community which constitutes a social unit should have the right to control the matter of the regulation or the withholding of licenses."

But while this is not open to any reasonable objection, there will be plenty of earnest and convinced voters who will utterly repudiate it, and will insist on complete State prohibition of the manufacture and sale of liquors.

Party leaders who believe with the Governor that this is not a proper issue in larger politics may decline to take sides on it, but, unless the leaders of both or, at present, of all three, National parties agree on this policy, the question will play a considerable part in determining the result. The attitude of Gov. Wilson is, however, sensible, manly, and characteristic, and it will command the approval of intelligent voters.—New York Times.

The ranch people of the upper Rio Grande border region of Texas, all the way from Eagle Pass to El Paso, more than 400 miles, are in a ferment of excitement over new raids made by Mexican soldiers.

STATE MISCELLANY

Bits of News About People and Events
Throughout The State.

Nineteen coal cars forming a train bound from Hagerstown to Port Covington were derailed on the main branch of the Western Maryland Railroad, just east of Mount Wilson Station, Sunday morning, and passenger traffic was suspended until arrangements could be made to transfer the passengers around the wreck or send them over the Green Spring Branch of the Northern Central Railroad. No one was injured and the engine remained on the tracks.

Frederick.—Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson, of Iowa; Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Willett M. Hays, and Professor F. M. Webster, United States Entomologist, will speak at the first annual picnic of the Farmers' Association of Frederick county to be held on September 5, at Braddock Heights. Congressman David J. Lewis, of the Sixth Maryland district, will also be one of the speakers.

Lieut. B. D. Foulis, the oldest aviator in point of service in the United States Army, broke all records, Friday afternoon at 5.30 o'clock, when he transmitted wireless signals from a flying aeroplane a distance of 15 miles back to College Park, Md. Lieutenant Foulis is a well-known aviator at Braddock Heights, where he has often spent the summer.

Hagerstown.—Harry A. Disert, aged 66 years, former superintendent of the public schools of Franklin county, and long connected with educational work, is dead at his home at Waynesboro, Pa., following an illness of several years from complications. Recently he had been under treatment at a hospital, but did not improve. Before becoming school superintendent Mr. Disert was editor of the Democratic News, published at Chambersburg. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and is survived by his widow and two children.

Dr. Henry Roland Walton, of Annapolis, practitioner of medicine for more than 50 years and who held the distinction of being the first physician in the State to administer an anesthetic, died at his home on Francis street, on Friday of last week.

Hagerstown.—A challenge has been issued by S. L. V. Young of this city, Socialist candidate for Congress in the Sixth district, to his opponents, Representative David J. Lewis (Dem.) and Charles D. Wagaman (Rep.) to engage in a joint debate on the issues of the campaign at any time suitable to either of them. No reply has so far been received from either Mr. Lewis or Mr. Wagaman. Mr. Young is a well-known real estate man of Hagerstown and one of the Socialist leaders of the State.

Cumberland.—Work has begun on the rehabilitation of the old National pike, one of the most famous highways in the country. Contracts were let for the building of three miles from Flintstone east. The contract was obtained by former Mayor George A. Kean of Cumberland. The work will be under the supervision of Andrew Ramsay of Allegany county, one of the new members of the Road Commission. Contracts carrying the work six miles further will be let next week. The plan adopted is the result of the trip through the Western States made by the Roads Commission in the spring, when it was decided that the grading of the old road was suited to modern conditions, and that the bed was still solid.

Annapolis.—With requiem high mass, the funeral of Dr. Henry Roland Walton, the venerable physician who died at his home in Annapolis on Thursday took place from St. Mary's Catholic Church at 10 o'clock and was largely attended by relatives and by many citizens of Annapolis on Monday. Following the service, of which Father James Barron, acting rector since the death of Father Klauder, was the celebrant, the body was conveyed to St. Mary's Cemetery, on the outskirts of the city, where interment was made. The pallbearers were: Messrs. William Hall, W. B. Duke and Clarence Duke, all of Baltimore; Dr. Walton H. Hopkins, Messrs. Harry J. Hopkins, T. Kent Green, Charles Himmelheber and Harry Sturdy.

Ellicott City.—Despondent because of ill health, Emily Tremery, 27 years old, a nurse at the Dr. Richard Gundry Home, a private sanatorium at Catonsville, attempted suicide shortly after 9 o'clock Monday morning by jumping into the Patapsco river near the dam on the outskirts of Ellicott City. That the young woman is alive is due solely to Frederick Warren, a letter-carrier at the Ellicott City postoffice, who plunged beneath the waters and, grabbing the drowning woman, swam with her to the shore, where he made successful efforts to resuscitate her. As the result of her attempt at self destruction Miss Tremery now lies in the sanatorium in a serious condition, and to the physicians she has disgustedly professed her intention to make a better job of the next attempt at suicide.

Hagerstown.—George Febrey, a horticulturist and gardener of St. James, this county, claims to have been successful in grafting a chestnut upon a pawpaw tree and that the tree is bearing fruit this season. He states that there are four specimens of the hybrid fruit on the tree that bear the appearance of both the chestnut and pawpaw and the combination is a peculiar one.

Bel Air.—Norman Purcell is in a serious condition at his home here as the result of a prank played upon him by two comrades who dragged him behind their buggy for a distance of three miles.

Cambridge.—Levi B. Philips, president of the National Bank of Cambridge and senior member of the Phillips Packing Company, has been selected as the third member of the Board of Police Commissioners of Cambridge. The other two are Mayor Clement G. Rogers and State's Attorney V. Calvin Price. The board was created by act of the last Legislature.

Frederick.—Brunswick citizens held an automobile parade Thursday in honor of the re-election of Dr. Arlington G. Horne, Mayor, and the success of the citizens' ticket. A band headed the procession and the victorious candidates were given an ovation along the route.

Hagerstown.—The Oak Hill Lumber Company has been incorporated here by Solomon George, Charles S. Lane and D. L. Dewey, of Hagerstown, W. H. Hyatt, of New York city, and S. S. Steele, of Elkins, W. Va. The company succeeds D. L. Dewey, wholesale lumber dealer, of this city. A yard has been secured.

Federalburg.—Jesse F. Legar, who has charge of flour mills in and near Federalburg for several years, will on Monday move with his family to Shepherdstown, W. Va., where he has leased a mill for three years.

Annapolis.—After qualifying in all mental and physical examinations, William L. Welch, a Senatorial appointee from Wisconsin, was admitted as a midshipman of the new fourth class of the Naval Academy.

Crisfield.—Mary Miles, Crisfield's heaviest woman, tips the scales at 460 pounds. She is but 24 years old and lives mostly upon Tanager sea foods.

Frederick.—The county commissioners decided on Monday to make several improvements to the court house. The old radiators are to be replaced by more modern ones and the tile flooring will be improved.

Cockeysville.—After remaining all night in a woods north of Cockeysville, Baltimore county, near Jessops Church, in a semi-conscious condition due to a motorcycle accident, John L. Frankensfield, State solicitor for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and son of Staffon Agent Frankensfield, at Cockeysville, was found Tuesday morning.

Frederick.—At the regular meeting of the Board of Managers of the Frederick City Hospital the New Scheidel Roentgen Ray machine was formally turned over to the hospital. This machine is one of the finest made, and the members of the board feel justly proud of so valuable an addition to their equipment. The machine was recently installed through the efforts of Dr. Thomas B. Johnson and the kindness of numerous friends, and it puts the hospital on an equal footing with any in the State.

Frederick.—Determining to have more power, officials of the Frederick Railroad Company made an arrangement whereby an old 250 kilowatt generator in the power house at Middletown, which has not been used for some years will be brought to this city and connected to an engine of the Frederick Gas and Electric Company. The generator will be set up on the Frederick Gas and Electric Company's property.

Catonsville.—Dr. Herbert S. Adams, a veterinarian of Catonsville, was kicked in the head Wednesday afternoon at his home on Bloomsbury avenue by a horse which he was attending. Dr. Adams had taken the animal to the yard and was washing it off when it kicked him, rendering him unconscious for several minutes. After medical attention the Doctor was removed to his home. The injuries are not thought to be serious.

Annapolis.—Of interest in naval and Annapolis society was the announcement made of the wedding of Miss Rosalie Baker Valk, daughter of Mrs. John E. Valk, of Murray Hill, Annapolis, to Ensign Robert Duncan Brown, U. S. N., which took place in Brooklyn N. Y., on Monday. Ensign and Mrs. Brown are now visiting Mrs. Brown's mother at Murray Hill. Ensign Brown graduated with the class of 1912 in June and is the fourth of that class to have married. He is a native of Tennessee and is on duty on the battleship Nebraska.

Westminster.—The jail of Carroll county is to be overhauled and the interior, including the Sheriff's residence which is under the same roof, entirely remodeled. Particular attention will be given to the introduction of the best possible sanitary conditions. Steel cages will be installed and every effort made to strengthen the building against the future escape of prisoners.

Hagerstown.—The matter of the petition of Prof. W. P. Wachtel, former principal of the public schools of Boonsboro, who was dismissed and appealed to the Board of School Commissioners failing to agree, has been appealed to the State Board of Education for final adjustment.

PERSONALS.

It is the aim of THE CHRONICLE to publish as many personal and social items as possible, but it frequently happens that those who have guests visiting them, and those who entertain, fail to send a list of their friends, or an account of these events, to this office. Readers who live at a distance are always interested in what is going on "at home," and for that reason, if for no other, this column should be filled every week. It is of course understood that anonymous contributions will not be published. Names of persons furnishing items will be withheld.

Master Charles Gillelan spent Wednesday in Taneytown.

Mr. P. J. Harting was at Pen-Mar on Thursday.

A REQUEST.

Subscribers for THE CHRONICLE having heretofore always courteously responded to every notice relative to the order of the Post Office Department, affecting subscription in arrears, it would hardly seem necessary to again remind them of this Government ruling were it not for the fact that, being only human, they are prone either to overlook the notice or to forget its purport after they have read it.

Subscribers will greatly aid THE CHRONICLE in its endeavor to fully comply with the mandatory order of the Department if they will promptly pay their overdue subscriptions.

It will be remembered that subscriptions for half-year will be received, and this suggestion is made to those to whom this plan would prove more convenient.

Miss Mary Troxell, is spending a week at the home of her uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Topper, near Fountaindale.

Mr. Frank Lefevre, of Dayton, Ohio, visited Mr. John Agnew.

Mr. Horner Hill, of Hanover, Pa., was in Emmitsburg the past week.

Mr. Richard Lambert, of Hagerstown was among the visitors this week.

Mr. John Curling, of Rouzerville, was a visitor to town this week.

The Misses Helen Sellers, Hazel Patterson, Louise Beam and Messrs. Robert Gillelan, Clarence Hoke and Ned Annan were at Pen Mar last evening.

Miss Ruth Patterson has returned from a visit to Hagerstown.

Mr. William Frizell returned from his extended bicycle trip last Sunday.

Mr. William Frizell was in Taneytown yesterday.

Mr. Robert Geisbert, of Frederick, was the guest of Mr. John Agnew.

Miss Mae Kerrigan is spending the week in Frederick, the guest of Mrs. W. F. Ziegler.

SPECIAL NOTICE!

Two Shows To-morrow Night, at 7 and 8:45. Special Feature Shows, 5,000 Feet Life Moving Pictures. 8-16*

It Might Have Been Rather Serious.

What might have developed into a dangerous blaze, was started on Wednesday morning by the sparks from an engine igniting a straw stack belonging to Mr. I. M. Fisher, at Motter's Station. Word was telephoned to Emmitsburg and the members of the Vigilant Hose Company were fully prepared to render assistance. This proved unnecessary, however, for the fire was soon under control. In the case of a high wind, the flames could have easily wiped out the most of Motter's Station.

Enjoyable Entertainment.

A very enjoyable time was had by a number of guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wagerman on West Main Street last evening. Music, singing, narrating humorous stories and various parlor games were indulged in until ten o'clock, when the room was cleared of its furniture and the floor filled for a dance. At a late hour all were called to the dining room where a sumptuous feast was served. After the refreshments dancing was again continued until twelve o'clock when the guests departed, all having spent a very delightful evening.

HENRY J. WADDLE.

Henry J. Waddle died at his home in Fairfield at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, Aug. 6th, aged 71 years and 9 days. He was a veteran of the Civil War having served for nine months as a private in Co. E, 125th Pennsylvania Volunteers, and later as Sergeant in Company D, 11th Maryland. He was twice married, first to Mary Jane Overholtzer on July 4, 1867. She died September 9, 1878. From this union one son survives, Harvey Waddle, of Hanover. On October 13, 1880, he married Miss Anna Elizabeth Connor, who survives with one son and one daughter, J. Blaine Waddle, of Fairfield, and Mrs. Clarence Musselman, of Hamiltonban township. He also leaves one brother, Harvey Waddle, of Chicago. Mr. Waddle soon after the war, engaged in the produce business near Emmitsburg, continuing in that business after his removal to Fairfield, until about 18 months ago when he sold out to his son, J. B. Waddle. Deceased was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. Funeral services were held at his late home on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. K. Fleck, his pastor, and Rev. Chas. Reinwald, of Emmitsburg, officiating; interment in Union cemetery. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. The pallbearers were six members of the local G. A. R. Post, John F. Low, Peter S. Harbaugh, I. Howard Moore, E. E. King, Joseph Creager and Samuel Walter.

Former Emmitsburgian Killed.

Crushed under an automobile in which they were "joy riding" over the mountain roads, Edward Creager is dead and his brother, Charles Creager, is suffering terribly from two broken ribs. The automobile, which belonged to F. S. Parkinson of Richmond, Va., is a batter wreck.

The automobile is said to have been taken from the garage of the Buena Vista Springs Hotel without the owner's knowledge, and after one of the riders is alleged to have obtained the garage key by climbing through an office window.

The accident happened shortly after midnight on Monday when the "borrowed" car, getting from under the control of the driver, jumped from the road near the hotel, crashed into a large oak tree and turned turtle, with Edward Creager underneath. The crash awakened visitors at the hotel and they with the help of Manager Harbaugh of the Buena Vista Springs Hotel, lifted the car from Creager and found him dead. His neck was broken.

Charles and Edward Creager were in the livery business in Emmitsburg several years ago with their father John E. Creager. They were succeeded by McCarren and Zurgable when they removed to Buena Vista where the accident occurred.

Roosevelt-Johnson Club.

There is talk among a number of prominent Republicans of Emmitsburg of organizing a Roosevelt and Johnson Club. It is claimed by these men that the Roosevelt sentiment is gaining in this section, and one of the leaders thinks that at least 60 members could be enrolled at the first meeting.

CHEMISTS TO CONVEENE IN NEW YORK AND WASHINGTON

Twenty-Four Foreign Countries Will Be Represented at Chemical Congress. - 3,000 to be Present.

Scientific management as adapted to a convention will characterize the Eighth International Congress of Applied Chemistry which is to meet in New York and Washington next month. Inasmuch as this congress has four official languages and will be participated in by 600 scientists from twenty-four countries, and 2,000 American scientists there is need for scientific arrangements.

For the first time the dictagraph will play a part in convention work. More properly speaking, it is a cousin of the dictagraph, in reality a sort of micrographophone, that will be used. Every speaker will stand under the apparatus, and his words will be recorded permanently on a phonograph cylinder. Thus will be avoided the customary subsequent controversies with the stenographer, which have been classed as an uneconomic waste of energy.

At the banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria on the night of Thursday, September 11, which will close the congress, each of the many small tables will be equipped with a partly concealed, trumpet-shaped instrument, which is an enlarged telephone receiver. The toastmaster and those who will respond to the toasts, instead of trying to talk loud enough to reach every part of the room, will talk into a microphone and their words will be reproduced at each table.

Still another feature will be the printing of a daily newspaper of the congress. This will be distributed each morning and will give, in the four official languages, the full actual proceedings of the day previous.

Among the more prominent, who will attend, are the following:

Sir William Ramsay, K. C. B., F. R. S., the great authority on radium; Sir Boverton Redwood, D. Sc., who has visited every mineral oil district in the world and is a leading authority on petroleum; Sir Robert A. Hadfield, D.

Met., F. R. S., who developed the manganese, nickel, and other methods of hardening steel; Dr. Samuel Eyde, of Norway, who developed the electrical process of extracting nitrogen from the air for the manufacture of fertilizers; Prof. M. L. Lindet, representing the French ministry of agriculture, the foremost proponent of establishing internationally uniform methods of analysis, and Prof. William H. Perkin, of the Victoria University of Manchester, who is the father of the aniline dye industry.

The inaugural session of the congress will be held in Washington on Wednesday, September 4, and will be presided over by President Taft. That afternoon the delegates at a garden party on the White House lawn.

Following the congress the delegates will go by special train on a tour of the manufacturing centers of the United States, visiting factories where applied chemistry is a feature, especially. The trip will extend as far as San Francisco.

William H. Nichols, Sc.D., LL.D., of New York, is president of the congress; Edward W. Morley, Sc.D., Ph.D., LL.D., is honorary president, and Bernhard C. Hesse, of New York, is secretary.

IF YOU SHOULD DIE TO-NIGHT?

WHICH ONE OF THESE LETTERS WOULD YOUR WIFE WRITE?

Dear Mother:

If I could come to you, feeling that my children would not be too much of a burden, I would gladly do so, because the home is too heavy a load for me to carry. It is impossible to meet the notes on the house and to give the babies a comfortable living.

As I see the little sum of money George left, growing small each day, the uncertainty of the future has assumed a serious aspect. The shock of George's sudden death was enough without all this unexpected worry of things which are all new to me,

Devotedly,

Charlotte.

Haller & Newman, General Agents,

Life Insurance Company,

Frederick, Maryland.

Gentlemen:

Please accept my thanks for the prompt remittance of check in payment of the Life Insurance policy my husband held in your company. It is hardly necessary for me to tell you how much possible privation and worry this money has saved me.

My husband's untimely death left me the care of two small children and I shudder as I think what might have become of us without his forethought and your promptness.

Very truly yours,
Sarah S. L.

As the father, upon YOUR forethought and labor rest the welfare, decent living and happiness of your wife and children. In case of your death, our Guaranteed Low Cost Policy means an income for your loved ones. A postal or a telephone message will bring our representative, who will gladly explain this attractive policy in full to you.

DO IT NOW. TO-MORROW MAY BE TOO LATE.
