enough, it is not leaving them alone to elect Mr. Taft President, to hold a restless nation at a standstill for four years and exasperate the very forces which may now, if properly guided and wisely moderated, remove every obstacle to free enterprise and unlimited business expansion.

"There are more possibilities of panic ensuing upon abounding prosperity under the present system than there could be under any other, and every dictate of prudence, every instinct of statesmanship ought to point to those early reforms which can be accomplished by good temper by common counse and in moderate form. We cannot stand still, least of all when the opportunity of unbounded prosperity beckons us on.

"To retain our present embarrassments would be to miss our chance.

"The thing that has created the trusts, that has created the monopoly is unregulated, unfair competition. If we can only bring it about that newcomers shall have a free field, then we can take care of the gentlemen in the trusts, because then the most intelligent competitor will get the market and the little man can grow big in stead of making himself big by the legislation of Congress and by special favors from the government. He can do that by having Federal law thread all this system of ours with statutes which shall make it criminal to do what those gentlemen did to build up their monopolies, and which will see to it that the men who did commit the offense have time to think it over in some building from which they will not for some time come out.

"I am not afraid that the penitentiares will be crowded, but as soon as the law takes hold of this thing and men are behind the law who want to injure nobody in particular, but to administer Josiah R. Feaga and wife to John J. henk and wife, real estate in county, oney in the estate of Charles E. Derr, be another face upon affairs in America."

"The safest prophecy regarding the politics of our bailiwick, however, is the re-election of Hon. David J. Lewis to Congress. He is the most brilliant example of a single-termer that any state can exhibit and his brief service in Washington is a record of usefulness,

During times of peace France has an army of 601,000 men but in times of war

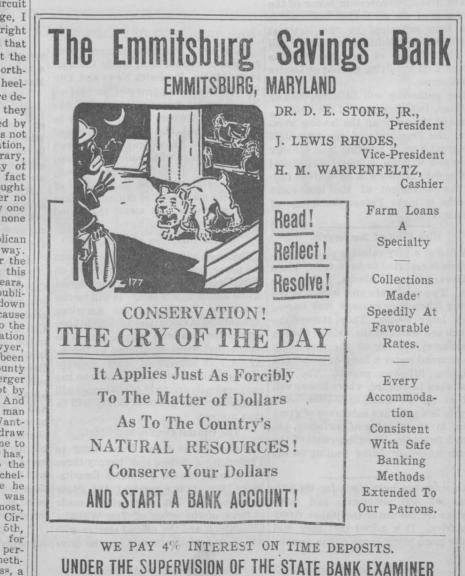

(Continued from page 1.) don't care how mentally equipped he may be, he is not fit to fill the office. And the basic principle upon which this thought rests, is that the Judge's Chamber should be the last place to even mention a thing political. It has no business there. The people's forum is not either a seeking or resting place for the office seeker. The salary is sufficient, the sum of thirty-six hundred dollars per annum, three hundred dollars a month, to demand of the incumbent of the office all his time, and in the interest of the people solely. If the people of this Judicial Circuit will vote for Worthington for judge, I believe that they will vote for the right man, this time, in the light of all that the public generally knows about the general political situation. Mr. Worthington was not nominated by ward heelers-office holders whose jobs are dependent upon the services that they render as partisans, but nominated by the people. Mr. Worthington was not nominated by a political organization, or at its behest, but on the contrary, received a most flattering majority of his fellow citizens, because of the fact that the people in his party thought him fit and worthy. He is under no obligation for his nomination to any one but the people-he will be under none if he is elected.

Rumor has it that the Republican candidate was not nominated that way The most competent candidate for the place, who has practiced law in this community for nearly thirty-five years, almost as long as the present Republi-can candidate is old, was turned down for a favorite of somebody, because perhaps, he might not want to do the things that a political organization would ask him to do. A good lawyer, of long practice, whose father had been a leader for a generation in this county in his profession, Mr. Eichelbergen would not do, because he would not by training be a political judge. And turned down for whom? For a man whom the organization wanted. Want-ed, and for what? Mr. Reader draw your own conclusions. If you come to the same conclusion that the writer has, there can be but one answer to the question—and that is, that Mr. Eichelquestion—and that is, that Mr. Eichel-berger was turned down because he could not be handled after he was elected. With this thought uppermost, every good citizen in this Judicial Cir-cuit ought to vote on November 5th, next, for Glenn H. Worthington for the principal reason that he won't permit himself to be handled either, wheth-er the attempt is made by a boss, a bank, or by a political organization.

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county. In the fertility and productiveness of its lands it ranks among the first in the Union, and especially in the production of wheat. The area of this great county is 633 square miles. The great body of the people are of German, English and Scoth-Irish descent, the progeny mostly of the early settlers. The land is mostly of fine limestone quality, and the greater part of the county is a valley of rolling lands lying between the Linganore Hills and the Catoctin Mountain. This splendid valley is drained by the Monocacy river. and is one of the best farmed and most highly improved and productive areas of the Union. The great crops are wheat and corn.-Maryland Manual issued by Board of Public Works.

Lincoln, in one of his terse and sententious maxims, used to say. "You might fool all the people a part of the time, you might fool some of the people a part of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time." The people, all of the people, those who are the builders of American industrial success, are beginning to find out that the protestations of the Republican party in urging that a high tariff was meant to uplift the American laborer and add to his creature comforts, are after all but a delusion and a snare. It is well known that while the Payne-Aldrich Tariff Bill was becoming a law, the laborers that were to be benefited by the crushing schedule of rates were not American laborers, but the cheapest competitors in the field of labor, Syrians, Poles and gets a considerable vote in any Roumanians. #### The Baseball Champions.

The struggle and vicissitudes of the deciding battles between the crack teams of the National League and the American League of professional ball players is over and once more politics again will claim our attention, but it will provide a pleasing topic of conversation for many a day. Baseball, indeed, is an American institution when, as we are told, 252,000 persons paid nearly $500,000 (in admission alone) to Is the contention valid that in case see the two contending teams, the Red York, fight determinedly, ably, and fairly for the mastery (by courtesy) of the whole world. This vast number does not, however, include the untold thousands at the tickers or at bulletin boards or anywhere they could learn the score quickly. We hear that even the venerable justices of our highest court tribunal passed the score bulle tions from hand to hand while on the bench attending to their solemn duties. America knows how to play ball When the championship series runs its full course and the struggling teams congratulate not only the winners, but to applaud the losers. Never, perhaps, in the history of our great national has the struggle been so keenly and bitterly-but nevertheless so clean wage, and the Red Sox deserve margin Praise is due the Giants for the game fight they made by sprucing up and winning two games, the series.
