FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county.

AS TO FASHION.

Dame Fashion has recovered from her last delirium and her decrees for spring and summer have been issued.

"After all, what is fashion?" exclaimed a close observer a score of years ago.

"From the artistic point of view it is usually a form of ugliness so intolerable that we have to alter it every six months.

be worn without a certain amount of absolute misery to the wearer. . . . In fact, the beauty of dress depends on the beauty of the human figure, and whatever limits, constrains, and mutilates is essentially ugly.

FOR A GOOD CAUSE.

Next Friday and Saturday there will be an oyster and chicken supper for the benefit of the Vigilant Hose Company.

This simple statement should be sufficient to whet the interest as well as the appetite of every one in Emmitsburg.

A call for patronage from even a paid fire company should elicit a hearty response.

Those who attend—and we predict that the hall will be filled early and late—will be cordially welcomed; they will be regaled with a bountiful repast at a nominal cost.

FREDERICK AND THE KEY CELEBRATION.

In the Frederick News "Off-hand" suggests a Frederick float for the trades display parade in Baltimore during the Star Spangled Banner celebration.

"Here is a chance to advertise the city," says the writer. "Since Frederick claims Key as her son and the remains of the distinguished patriot lie buried here.

Why does not Frederick adopt a gold key as her insignia for this occasion? Let it take the form of a medal with Francis Scott Key's profile on the obverse.

Pennants with the same device could be used for decorating purposes on buildings and automobiles and could be carried in parades with splendid effect.

THAT the deliberate terms of a treaty made in good faith between two nations whose integrity and whose honesty of purpose is patent to the world is above any plank in a party platform.

The United States is therefore in honor bound to collect the same tolls it imposes on vessels of foreign nations.

"HOME RULE" is a fine slogan. It sounds so reasonable and appealing, but as applied to Baltimore is it all that the politicians would have the people believe?

more is it all that the politicians would have the people believe? Coming down to "brass tacks," does Baltimore really want home rule—that is the city minus the politicians—really want home rule?

GAS CITY, KANSAS, has abolished the office of marshal or police, there being nothing for him to do in a town of 1200 inhabitants.

"OH will you be my valentine," bold Villa to Huerta said, "Si, si, signor, he made reply, 'I'll court you till you're dead.'"

WHEN Diligence and Good Luck start to run a lengthy race, you can bet your bottom dollar Diligence will get first place.

TO FURTHER WANDERLUST.

In order to further the "wanderlust" among all students in Germany over 16 years of age and to provide sleeping accommodations for the young excursionists at a minimum expense numerous Studenten und Schueler Herbergen are being established.

The word "herberge" signifies a "place of shelter" and is here understood to mean a domicile, house, or other quarters where traveling students can find lodging for the night.

PORCELAIN HOUSES NEXT.

A well-known pottery manufacturer has a plan for building houses of porcelain, which is very unique.

The houses will consist of steel framework, in which are fitted large porcelain tiles that no other designer has been able to manufacture.

HOW MANY FOR YOU?

"Every morning when we get up," a Boy Scout remarked the other day in reply to a question, "we put a knot in our neckties to remind us that one must do a good turn during the day.

MINING IN PANAMA.

Consul General Alban G. Snyder notes the organization of a company in England which has purchased the old Spanish mine Barrera, near Bocas del Toro, Panama.

Unless the Navy Department interferes with Colonel Goethals' plans, the U. S. Cruiser Denver will enter the canal at Balboa on March 15.

THIS WEEK'S PUZZLE.

Editorials From Maryland Exchanges.

The Farm Kitchen.

The importance to the farmers of having an economical farm house has been emphasized by the farm architect of the Department of Agriculture.

Getting Up Steam.

All the financial and commercial reports agree that the second month of the year begins with a most unusual change for the better not only in prospects, but also in actual conditions.

Murdered By The Saloon.

The shooting down of a brave and respected officer at Waynesboro, Pa., last Tuesday night by two drunken ruffians, has sent a thrill of horror all through that section.

The Wilson Plan's Success.

For the first time in the history of the country we have a plan which eliminates trusts and monopolies without injury to legitimate business.

Nation-Wide Prosperity.

Perhaps the best evidence of the prosperity of the country, from a national view-point, is the trade balance for or against us each year.

Coins are known to circulate on an average about twenty-seven years, so it often happens that the first dollar one ever earned comes back again.

Wheelbarrows of Shantung.

The wheelbarrow is the most common medium of transportation in Shantung. The load is balanced about the wheel so that the workman does not have to carry a portion of the load.

When Broadway Sleeps.

From 9 to 10 o'clock each night is Broadway's siesta hour. That is when Broadway is most deserted.

Burmans and Tigers.

Sir H. Thirkell White in his book, "A Civil Servant in Burma," tells the following true tiger stories to illustrate the bravery of the Burman.

A Mistake.

In England they call a "derby" a "bowler," and they say sweet where we say dessert.

Always.

Somebody is always fooling the public and making money at it. There is always something for Wall Street to worry about.

Fido Was Undecided.

"Oh, Mr. Smith," cried the young lady as she greeted her caller, "so you have been making friends with Fido! And do you think he likes you?"

Mr. Stone's Luck.

When the agent paid Mrs. Stone the amount of insurance her husband had carried, according to Everybody's Magazine, he asked the good lady to take out a policy on her own life.

Three Things.

Three things too much and three too little are pernicious to man—to speak much and know little, to spend much and have little, to presume much and be worth little.—Cervantes.

Sermon on Marriage.

Husband—Ah, me! Marriage is a lottery. She—And I heartily wish some one else had my ticket!—Illustrated Bits.

The trouble with most of us is not so much that we have a hard row to hoe, but that we dislike hoeing.

Influenza in Every Land.

Legion are the names that the dread ed "flu" has been called by those that have fallen under its magic spell.

Germans define it as "scharfrankheit" (sheep's disease). "Malattia tedesca" (German sickness) is the epithet in use in Italy.

Very apt is the Swedish definition—"snuffsjuka" and "snuff fever."

Contentment.

The blind Mme. du Deffand rejoiced that her affliction was not rheumatism, Spurgeon's recipe for a contented heart was never to take pills.

Climate and Sleep.

Climate has something to do with the amount of sleep required by a man. In India, for instance, sleep overtakes people at the most unexpected moments.

Wanted to Be Thought Timid.

Anatole France has one quaint characteristic. He likes to be regarded as a man of exceptional timidity.

Sleep Curiosities.

One of the curious facts brought to light by the scientists who are fond of trying to solve the mystery of sleep is that when one is fast asleep some part of his brain or several parts of it may at the same time be awake.

How He Escaped.

Paul Deroulde was one of the few Frenchmen held by the Prussians as prisoners of war to escape from custody.

Father's Definition.

"Pa," said the small seeker after knowledge, "what is a kiss?" "A kiss, my son," said the father, who hadn't lived fifty years in vain.

A Stinger.

Mrs. Nagger—Perhaps you recall, it was on a railway train that we first met, and—Mr. Nagger—Yes, but it's too late now for me to sue the company for damages.

A Love Story.

"It is Cupid who pierces hearts with his arrow." "Yes, but it takes a pretty girl to draw the beau."

BORN in poverty, far removed from the busy marts of men, springing from the lowliest and least educated class, nursed in a mere hunter's shack, Abraham Lincoln experienced in his early youth all those humiliations and was surrounded by all the obstacles that would appear to defeat the realization of the ordinary ambitions of life. More than any other figure in the history of our country does his life give proof of that equality of opportunity which is the inheritance of all American citizens. He was educated because he was a student of men; he was eloquent because he spoke from the soul; he was a statesman because he brought to the public service of his country sound judgment, linked with a heart full of sympathy for the weak and the oppressed.

PERSONALS.

It is the aim of THE CHRONICLE to publish as many personal and social items as possible, at it frequently happens that those who have guests visiting them, and those who entertain, fail to send a list of their friends, or an account of these events, to this office. Readers who live at a distance are always interested in what is going on "at home," and for that reason, if for no other, this column should be filled every week. It is of course understood that anonymous contributions will not be published. Names of persons furnishing items will be withheld.

Letters To The Editor.

(The Editor would have it understood that he is not responsible for the views expressed in communications addressed to him and published in THE CHRONICLE. No attention will be paid to anonymous communications.) Editor Weekly Chronicle: In your editorial last week you stated facts, if not in practice heretofore by parents, they should heed the admonition for it is timely for the welfare of their children, if not for the conscientious duty they owe them and the community. Will anything depress a parent more than a wayward son or daughter? They have it in their power to train them up properly, the neglect of which causes so many failures in life. He "might have been" could be left unsaid if the parents had exercised authority at the proper time. As a twig is bent, etc., any indifference toward the training will beget loose morals and ill manners, which will manifest themselves later, often bringing shame to parents. Are they prepared for this? Are they not disgraced with the child? Where do the unruly boys and girls come from? It is not the children who are left carve their future under no restraint at home; who roam the streets by day and have no specified hour to go home at night. Home training, perhaps, the parents did not have. This is no excuse in this day. The inmates of reformatories give this as the first step downward. The polite boys and girls have one recommendation the impolite have not. All other things being equal. The polite one has the better opportunities in life. The seeds of such training must be sown at home; the example at home has weight, children cheerfully following it. The promise to those who honor parents, does not stop there. We are to have respect for all, this includes the teacher, the aged, the middle-aged and our companions. The respectful boy or girl make most rapid progress in school; marks for good behavior stand in their favor on their report; they are more studious, as they naturally get closer to the teachers heart and receive attention to forward them;—and they are worthy of it. The gruff and unmannerly person is avoided, whilst the affable and courteous is sought after. The educated mind and cultivated manners are a passport to any possessor of them. Do not all parents wish their children well? Then begin this training at home and prepare your children for enlarged education, such as the curriculum of the schools afford including civil government. This branch the school board deems of great importance, as it fits the scholars for citizenship. When these go hand in hand the tendency is toward that perfection the teacher desires the scholars to attain. They are encouraged in their work within the primary of higher grades. The parent who does not give such aid to the teacher is remiss in his duty, a proper apprehension of this subject, and using the opportunities at the proper time—home training, good manners, the lessons studied,—thus helping the teacher to accomplish the great end in view, fitting the boys and girls for life's work. We hear of the "old school" gentlemen. There were such, more from home training than from schools. Schools were few and less prepared for instruction. Remember that the mothers of those days placed great stress on good manners, deeming it a great privilege to zealously watch their children—and see the boys were gentlemen and the girls accomplished ladies. They had their reward. If the home training today was equal to the school advantages it would be like the stream babbling its song to the gale, and our age would be more accomplished than the past. But if neglect continues, you parents should not blame the schools or teachers, but yourselves for any defects, which you could prevent. Tears are reaped as a reward for indifference or wilful neglect, when it is too late. Mr. Editor, the community should commend you for your article, you might have said more, but the parents should take warning and join hands with your advice. ALPHA. nov, 7-4m

THE WEEK AT THE COUNTY SEAT Chronicle of Happenings at Frederick City and in the Courts.

Miss Laura Scholl brought suit against A. Kemp Keefer and Jacob Rohrbach, executors of the estate of the late Mrs. Margaret E. S. Hood, of Frederick for $6,000 for services rendered. The bill claims that the plaintiff was the companion and attendant of Mrs. Hood for many years and that she was not paid for her services. Mrs. Hood left an estate of nearly $300,000 to be divided among churches and benevolent institutions and relatives and friends. Eighty-three students of the Agricultural Department of the Boy's High School will be turned into practical farmers with the opening of spring weather. Under the supervision of H. R. Welsh, principal of the department they will cultivate the four acres of ground adjoining the school building. Three hundred fruit trees will also be planted. Before an audience that filled the United Brethren church to the doors and overflowed into the aisles, Dr. S. D. Gorden, famous as an evangelist and Y. M. C. A., worker, delivered a stirring sermon, taking for his theme the work of John, the Evangelist. Carrying with it the distinction of being the best in the order, the degree team of Mountain City Lodge, No. 29 Knights of Pythias, this city, has been selected by the supreme officers, to confer the rank of Page, at the Golden Jubilee of Knights of Pythias in Washington, Feb. 19, 20 and 21 when the rank will likely be conferred on Champ Clark, Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Right Hon. Robert Laird Borden, Premier and President of the Privy Council of Canada. The Johns Hopkin's Glee Club a band of about twenty university men with good voices and clever songs, filled College Hall with music for nearly two hours on Saturday night. A reception was given them by some of the students of Hood College, following the concert. The Appeal to the County Commissioners by the citizens of Brunswick will probably be followed by another appeal to the Legislature at Annapolis. New Catalogue of Wood & Sons. T. W. Wood & Son's have just issued their catalogue of high grade seeds. This firm whose warehouses are at Richmond, Va., is one of the largest and best known in the South. Since agricultural conditions are improving wonderfully throughout the country and particularly in the South farmers are urged to send for a copy of this publication, which has many instructive pages. This catalogue has long been considered an authority in information, both in regards to farm and garden seeds. Are You Going to Stand —in front of your shop and "cry" your wares to the passer-by? Varsity Worsts Alumni.

The Alumni basketball team of Mt. St. Mary's fell an easy prey to the Varsity five on Monday afternoon when the latter scored 68 points to 24 for the former. In the first period the visitors played a strong defensive game and the half ended 20-13 in favor of the local quintet. In the second half the Alumni team weakened and as a result the varsity trossers caged 22 baskets from the floor. Joe Engel of baseball fame was the star for the Alumni while Costello, Phillips and Donovan played well for the varsity.
