

MOUNT SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE

Terrace Talk

Mr. Peter Stewart, prefect of discipline, has had little occasion of late to impose the terrace as a corrective or stimulus, the general conduct of the students being dutiful and decorous.

Just 25 days before the Seniors will be called to deliver the goods in the form of baccalaureate speeches for Commencement Day. Each man had his subject assigned to him a fortnight ago. Very Rev. Monsignor John J. Tierney and Dr. Ernest Legarde will examine the papers. There are evidences of grave concern and much research among the undergraduates.

"Tis an ill wind that blows no one some good." The biggest snowstorm of the season brought a full, big holiday to the Mountain on Friday, when Monsignor Bernard Bradley provided a number of sleighs for the students and sent them off on an outing to Thurmont. The news of the holiday came like a deus ex machina at the end of the first period of Latin. The collegians had the solid morning for their portion, and the preps, the afternoon. The arrangement proved satisfactory, however, and the excursion was an enjoyable one.

Reports for the month of February were published on Wednesday and elicited favorable comments from the president and moderator of studies, Dr. Bradley, who read them in the study-hall.

Mount St. Mary's basketball team defeated Gallaudet College, of Washington, 48 to 26. The Mountaineers scored at the start and held the lead throughout. The first period ended with the Mount St. Mary's team on the long end of the score, 20 to 13. In the second period Coach Day made many substitutions.

The game marked the thirteenth victory for the Mountaineers.

Mount St. Mary's basketball team suffered its first defeat of the season on the home court, when they lost, 32 to 30, to the strong Mount Washington Lyceum team, of Pittsburgh. The visitors came here with a record 34 victories to their credit, and they certainly upheld their reputation by playing a splendid game. Captain Costello, of the Mountain team, was unable to play with the team on account of a bad ankle and his services were missed by the local quint. The lineup: Mt. St. Mary's. Pittsburgh Lyceum. Donovan.....l.f.....Eckelie Phillips.....r.f.....Markery May.....c.....Lysaugh Leary.....i.g.....Burke Lally.....r.g.....Snyder Baskets from floor—Donovan (4), Lally (3), Phillips (1), May (1), Eckelie (4), Markery (3), Lysaugh (1), Snyder (4).

Goals from foul—Leary (9), Markery (7), Phillips (2). Substitutions: For Mt. St. Mary's—Sutton for Lally, Rogers for Phillips. For Pittsburgh—Wayman for Burke, Referee—Kaufman. Scorer—Keating. Timers—Cogan and Wayman; 20-minute periods.

By defeating the Preps, 27 to 13, on Wednesday night, the Seniors clinched the pennant in the inter-class league.

THE WEEK AT THE COUNTY SEAT
Chronicle of Happenings at Frederick City and in the Courts.

Judge Russel E. Lighter, of the Orphans Court, is confined to his home with a badly sprained ankle. He will probably be unable to use the injured foot for several weeks.

Representative Frank Plumley, of Vermont, ranking Republican member of the War Claims Committee, has opened warfare on the Frederick $200,000 war claims bill and is seeking to prevent committee action on it this year. Congressman David J. Lewis, of Maryland, who is in favor of paying this city the claim made him a strong reply.

The Board of County Commissioners considered the "Economy Bills," for this county. They were presented to them by the Frederick delegation in the House.

That William J. Grove, of the Democrat State Central Committee of this county, had been notified of the committee meetings, and attended each one except the last, is the statement of Chairman Dr. Charles H. Conley in contradiction to Mr. Grove's statement to the Governor.

The local Y. M. C. A. basketball team played Mt. St. Mary's College strong aggregation on Wednesday at Emmitsburg. The trip to Emmitsburg was made in automobiles.

Deputy Sheriff Jones took three prisoners convicted during the February term of court to the House of Correction and one to Maryland Penitentiary on Tuesday.

In spite of the fact that Gov. P. L. Goldsborough may sign the bill abolishing the Board of Charities and Corrections of this county at any minute, the County Commissioners, after a struggle of nearly three hours, named the new members of the Board of Charities to take the place of the present hold-over board.

Because Frederick would have no power to pass traffic regulations for motor vehicles, and would be subservient to the laws of the State, under the proposed traffic bill of Senator Hammond, of Howard county. City Attorney E. J. Smith has communicated with the State Senator, asking that he use his influence to exempt at least Frederick, Hagerstown and Cumberland from this law.

The Good Roads Commission of Maryland plans to rebuild the Emmitsburg pike from near Ceresville to Emmitsburg, a distance of 22 miles. This work depends upon the action of the Legislature in regard to the $600,000 appropriation which the commission is asking.

The second monthly indoor athletic meet of the boys' gymnasium classes was held at the Y. M. C. A.

Gov. P. L. Goldsborough, Senator J. Smith, Senator Blair Lee, State Senator Mathias, Congressman David J. Lewis, the Fred. County Delegation in the House and the County Commissioners have been invited to be the guests of the Frederick County Farmers' Association at their first annual banquet to be held to-morrow in Company A's new armory.

Driving all over Frederick with a team on Friday, Mayor Frailey personally inspected the work of cleaning up the city streets.

Curing the evils of the Frederick county road improvement system by the appointment of a road engineer is not a new and untried idea, as the same plan was adopted in Caroline years ago, and the Caroline county people say they would not go back to old supervisors. The Frederick County Economy Bill has this same provision.

In keeping with the movement throughout the United States, the Centennial Memorial United Brethren Church held a "Go To Church Day" on Sunday. A large crowd attended.

Telling of his travels through Italy, Greece and Egypt, Prof. Ernst Derendinger, instructor, in German at Hood College, delivered an interesting and instructive lecture in College Hall on Friday for the benefit of the Mary Gerhard fund.

Rev. R. M. Tsu, rector of the Church of Our Savior, Shanghai, China, made an impressive address in All Saints Episcopal Church, Friday.

Troilite. Troilite, which is a very common constituent of meteorites, is generally considered to be the simple sulphide of iron, though the exact chemical composition is in doubt. This is usually in the form of nodules, plates or rods, and, decomposing readily during flight, leaves the remaining mass with unique markings.

THE MOUNTAIN CHURCHYARD.

Halfway up the mountainside it lies,
A silv'ry robe of moonlight o'er it spread,
The yew-trees stand as sentinels to guard
The tranquil haven of the silent dead.

No sign of surging life profanes the scene,
No sound disturbs the silence so sublime
Save, rising from below, is heard the peal
Of restive bells that speed the flight of time.

The evergreen, the laurel and the yew
Bedeck God's acre with impartial grace.
The sunbeams seek to 'light on ev'ry grave
And spread a golden glory o'er the place.

The beauty and the sadness of it all
Awake a train of moralizing thought:
This death is but the bitter fruit of sin,
By man's perverseness on mankind all brought.

The dead in dreamless slumber here repose,
The great beside the lowly here abide;
Their common mother Earth enclasps them all,
Alike the saint, the sinner, side by side.

This unknown grave, devoid of storied shaft,
May hold the blessed ashes of a saint;
One who throughout the span of mortal life
Preserved his radiant soul from guilty taint.

That monument that stands not far below,
In beauty and in text a sculpture rare,
May mark the abode of some unshriven soul
Who lived amiss and died in black despair.

The years roll on, the rapid flight of time
Brings others here to join the silent dead,
The years roll on, and newer graves appear,
Where the tired mortal rests his weary head.

And, so, when in the lapse of passing years
Our time shall come to join those buried there,
God grant our graves may not be forgotten
But friends in passing pause to say a prayer.

Sweet be their sleep and undisturbed their rest,
Let trifling hands from here keep far away,
Till the trump of doom shall call the sleepers forth
To greet the rising sun's eternal day.

—JOHN C. KELLY, '16.

An Old Idea.
Macaulay was not the first man to frame the famous image of the man of a new civilization standing amid the ruins of that which we know today. Long before he wrote of his traveler from New Zealand meditating upon London bridge Mrs. Barbauld had used the same image, with the difference that she applied it to Blackfriars bridge. An earlier reviewer had used it in an article published in 1767. We are told by an English commentator, and Horace Walpole says in one of his letters, "At last some curious traveler from Lima will visit England and give a description of the ruins of St. Paul's."

Burglars Get $10,000 Loot in Reading.
Burglars got about $10,000 in loot from the Center avenue home of John Barbey, a millionaire brewer, in Reading, Pa. Included in the plunder was a lot of valuable silverware, statuary, cut glass, costly linens, etc. Included in the stolen jewelry were diamond rings, earrings, necklaces, bracelets and watches.

Car Crushes Girl.
Katie Young, fourteen years old, slipped on the steps coming out of Sunday school and rolled in front of a Philadelphia-Allentown trolley car at Centre Valley, Pa. The motorman was blinded by the storm and she was crushed to death.

Legislators Condemn Dances.
The modern dances were denounced by a legislative committee in Boston at a hearing on a bill, introduced by Representative L. R. Sullivan, of Dorchester, prohibiting specifically the tango, lame duck, Argentine, chicken flip, bunny hug and the grizzly slide.

Big Money For Snow Shovelers.
The electric companies of Norristown, Pa., are paying 35 cents an hour to workmen to shovel through eight and twelve-foot snow drifts that cars may be run. There are miles of deep snow on the Lehigh Valley Transit lines between Norristown and Allentown.

Lameness

Sloan's Liniment is a speedy, reliable remedy for lameness in horses and farm stock. Here's proof.

Lameness Gone
"I had a horse sprain his shoulder by pulling, and he was so lame he could not carry foot at all. I got a bottle of your Liniment and put it on four times, and in three days he showed no lameness at all, and made a thirty mile trip besides."—Walter B. Alorford, La Salle, Col.

For Splint and Thrush
"I have used Sloan's Liniment on a fine mare for splint and cured her. This makes the third horse I've cured. Have recommended it to my neighbors for thrush and they say it is fine. I find it the best Liniment I ever used. I keep on hand your Sure Colic Cure for myself and neighbors, and I can certainly recommend it for Colic."—S. E. Smith, McDonough, Ga.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is a quick, safe remedy for poultry roup, canker and bumble-foot. Try it.

For Roup and Canker
"Sloan's Liniment is the speediest and surest remedy for poultry roup and canker in all its forms, especially for canker in the windpipe."—E. P. Spaulding, Jaffrey, N. H.

IT may be a mistake of the publisher in thinking he has been done a favor, but as a rule whenever a newspaper loses one subscriber on account of pique there are usually two or three others gained for the very reason that the one feels aggrieved.

The broad-minded and intelligent subscriber will recognize the fact that it is only the negative quality in life that never crosses the feelings of anybody.—Jennings (La.) Herald.

The Order of Fools.

On Nov. 12, 1381, the Order of Fools was instituted by Adolphus, count of Cleves. Members were not by any means idiots, however, for the word had a different meaning then. They were the prototype of our modern fraternal orders, doing a similarly benevolent work. Their insignia consisted of a mantle, upon the left shoulder of which was embroidered a jester, or fool, in cap and bells, yellow hose and silver vest. So these cheery, useful jokers had a bright, happy outlook upon life and met together to dispense the earnest of their healthful existence at stated intervals, the chief day of which was Nov. 12.

Advantage of Being Dull.

There is a quality in certain people which is above all advice, exposure or correction. Only let a man or woman have dullness sufficient and they need bow to no extant authority. A dullard recognizes no betters; a dullard can't see that he is in the wrong; a dullard has no scruples of conscience, no doubts of pleasing or succeeding or doing right, no qualms for other people's feelings, no respect but for the fool himself. How can you make a fool perceive that he is a fool? Such a person can no more see his own folly than he can see his own ears. And the great quality of dullness is to be unalterably contented with itself.—Thackeray.

America.

Amerigo Vespucci's letters about the new world were made the basis of a book (about 1507) called "Cosmography," by a certain Waldseemuller, who suggested that, as Amerigo was the discoverer of this "fourth part of the world," it should be called after him. The name took and, first applied to South America, was given later to the entire western continent. James Bryce remarks: "The series of incidents by which the name of a Florentine adventurer was given, first to a continent he probably did not discover and then to another which he never saw, is as curious as anything in geographical history."

Her Limitations.

"These pianos look too cheap," said the young woman, her brows contracting slightly. "Show me some of the best you've got."

"Yes, ma'am," said the salesman. "May I ask how high you care to go?" "Me? Oh, I only go to G, but I want one with all the octaves just the same."

—Chicago Tribune.

Light Under Water.

The depth to which the sun's rays penetrate water has been discovered by photography. Five hundred and thirty feet below the surface darkness was much the same as that on the earth on a clear but moonless night.
