er Superior Katharine Drexel was a society leader of Philadelphia, a daught er of Francis A. Drexel, the banker. Most of the Drexel family are Episcopalians, but Francis A.'s family were Catholics, and in founding the sisterhood Miss Drexel took up a life work and devoted both income and principal of her fortune, the latter said to be about $2,000,000. The sisterhood was established in 1889, and was recognized by the Catholic hierarchy in 1907. New schools for Negro and Indian children, being established. This year's number of schools is, however, considerably larger than usual. Mother Superior Drexel spends all of her time, as well as all of her money, visiting and directing these schools and homes.

Decision has been reached in many instances not to make the day one of prayer for cessation from war only, but for prayer for Christian civilization in all forms of its advance. The temperance and education people, the evangelicalists and missionary enthusiasts are urging that the day give some attention to their plans, and are reminding that no advance can be permanent that does not include all forms of effort.

Several leaders have sent to their congregations already requests that prayers in particular be offered for wisdom for the Government and people of the United States, with special reference to their conduct during war in Europe and their possible part in bringing it to an end; and for the leaders in European chancelleries who must, in the course of time, bring forward conditions of peace.

Man's Fear of Lightning

It is hopeless to try to quiet human fears of the thunderstorm by statistics showing that lightning kills far fewer persons than measles or motorcars Lichtenberg, the eighteenth century physicist, who was a satirist as well as a specialist on electricity, wrote in vain his article on "Fear of Lightning." At that moment there was dysentery in Gottingen, and six persons were said to have died-"more than twice as many in a few days as lightning has killed in our town in more than half a century, and yet the public seem remarkably easy on the subject." How different it would be, Lichtenberg reflected, "if the dysentery rose above the horizon in the form of a big black cloud, changing day into twilight, and whenever it selected a victim exploded with a violent thunderclap."-London Chronicle.

Steel Rail Inventor.

The first modern steel rails of the type which made high speed railway operation possible were designed by Plimmon Henry Dudley, who was born at Freedom, O., in 1843. He became a civil and metallurgical engineer, and after four years as chief engineer of the city of Akron, O., he turned his attention to railroading and transportation problems. His first invention, the dynagraph, was made in 1874. He perfected the track indicator in 1880 and three years later designed the first five inch steel rail used in America. In 1892 he introduced the first six inch 100 pound rails. Another of his inventions which made the famous 'fliers" of today possible was the stremmategraph, an instrument for obtaining and registering strains in rails under moving trains.

Bielovitoka Forest, Lithuania. In the great park Bielovitoka forest, in Lithuania, which is about 150 miles in circumference, the primeval forest still stands, and all the wild animals native to central European forests are found there except bears and wolves, which were exterminated some years ago. Except for the roads which pass through it, the forest is unchanged. It is visited by few people except the foresters.

ANUFACTURERS are of two kinds-the honest dishonest. The one makes the best goods, the other makes the worst. Each has his own particular scheme of life.

The honest manufacturer aims to make the best goods he can and to advertise them so that all the world will know of their merits. He courts investigation. He wants customers to hold him to a rigid accountability.

The dishonest manufacturer hopes to profit by decention. He produces an article that will be offered as "just as good" though he knows it is inferior. He seeks to make a larger profit than the honest manufacturer, and this larger profit is necessary because he has to find new customers day after day.

Most readers of newspapers and many publishers are not familiar with the laws governing subscriptions. Here are the decisions of the United States court on the subject. They will be interesting to publishers and many will undoubtedly be glad of the opportunity to print them for the benefit of delinquent subscribers:

"Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscriptions.

"If subscribers order a discontinuance of their publication the publisher may continue to send them until all dues are paid.

"If the subscriber refuses to take the periodical from the postoffice to which they are directed, he is responsible until he has settled his bill and ordered the paper discontinued.

"If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former address, the subscriber is held responsible.

"The courts have held that refusing to take periodicals from the postoffice, or removing and leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

"If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the subscriber is responsible until express notice with payment of all arrearage is sent to the pub-tember will yield four to six cuttings next season. Frequent cuttings thicken out the stalk and makes it stool out and grow off better.

Alfalfa ranks higher than Timothy in feeding value. In fact, it might be termed both corn and hay, as it is almost a complete food. Experiment stations place the feeding value of Alfalfa hay at $20 per ton, as against Timothy hay at $12 per ton. This, with the fact that Alfalfa will easily yield, on good land, 6 to 16 tons of splendid hay pear year, shows what a valuable crop it is. Lands in the Western States that are well set in Alfalfa sell readily at from $100 to $200 per acre. The acreage of Alfalfa is increasing very largely all over the Middle and Southern States; our farmers are fast beginning to realize what a valuable crop it is. Alfalfa will succeed and do well on any good loamy, well-drained soil, but the land must be well and thoroughly prepared for best results.

It should never be used for pasture; it is too valuable as a hay producer to risk injury from stock. A heavy application of lime is of decided benefit—2,000 to 5.000 pounds per acre. Alfalfa is usually sown broadcast at the rate of 20 to 30 pounds to the acre. Our Alfalfa seed, sol pounds to the acre. Our Alfalfa seed is the highest grade, strong germinating seed of the best and cleanest quality possible to procure.

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county. In the fertility and productiveness of its lands it ranks among the first in the Union, and especially in the produc-tion of wheat. The area of this great county is 633 square miles.
The great body of the people are of German, English and Scotch-Irish descent, the progeny mostly of the early settlers. The land is mostly of fine limestone quality, and the greater part of the county is a valley of rolling lands lying between the Linganore Hills and the Catoc-tin Mountain. This splendid valley is drained by the Monocacy river, and is one of the best farmed and most highly improved and productive areas of the Union. The great crops are wheat and corn.—Maryland Manual issued by Board of Public Works.

EMMITSBURG.

In all Western Maryland-the beauty spot and the garden spot of the State-there is no town more attractive than Emmitsburg.

No people are more wide-awake, more knowable, more courteous to strangers than Emmitsburgians.

The location of Emmitsburg is ideal; the surrounding scenery is unmatchable; the climate is notedly healthful; its water-pure mountain spring water-cannot be surpassed. It is within easy access of Baltimore, Hagerstown, Frederick; eight miles from the National Battlefield at Gettysburg, near to the Mountain Resorts, and is surrounded by fertile farms and productive orchards.

Mount Saint Mary's College and Ecclesiastical Seminary-with an enviable reputation extending over 106 years-is located here; St. Joseph's College and Academy for young ladies-equally as noted during its 105 years of splendid acheivement-is also here.

There are excellent Schools-Public and Parochial-in Emmitsburg; two sound Banks, five Churches, a live Newspaper, modern Hotel accommodations, adequate Fire Department, progressive merchants, splendid physicians, good liveries, auto garages, many fraternal organizations, good railroad accommodations. There are four or five mails a day, telegraph, express and telephone service connecting all points; electric light and power, oiled streets.

There is business to be had in Emmitsburg; there are Factory Sites availabe. If you contemplate changing your place of residence-come to Emmitsburg, Frederick County,

In this little verse Thomas Lomax Hunter offers a resolution which, if it were adopted by the citizens of any community, would make that community's reputation for progressiveness, public spirit and co-operative local interest spread far, very far, beyond its own borders.

Aloofness will not accomplish it, the selfish and always reacting principle of "everybody for himself" will not achieve it. Indifference, expressed by the oftheard expression "I've no time for such things," will not bring it about. But this will: Doing one's individual part in all public movements-it requires little effort when all take hold; going at things in a fraternal spirit; minimizing and obliterating personal differences—half of the "differences" arise from prejudice or are imaginary-; putting the ban on criticism; giving up attributing wrong motives to others; in a word adopting Jack Carroll's motto, "Let's get together,"

Grades of Lemons.

There are a good many interesting points about lemons. There are several qualities that combine to make a prime or fancy brand of lemons. A first class lemon must be free from yellow color and be very hard. Take a magnifying glass and you will see that the little black specks on the lemon that look like seeds are really parasites. They are called lemon lice, and a curious fact is that as soon as the lemon is cut from the tree these parasites die immediately.

The best fruit comes from a little place near Naples, Italy, called Maiori. The next in grade comes from Sorrento. Those from Messina and Palermo are about the same quality and rank next, and those from Catania are inferior. The Maiori lemons are very carefully cultivated. They are on the trees even while the snow is still on the ground, but are kept covered with matting to protect them, not only from the cold, but from the scorching rays of the sun. They are nearly white when picked, very graceful and regular in shape and are exceedingly smooth and hard.-Spatula.

But there are people who do not enjoy laughing, but who laugh in a forced and artificial manner, and generally at the most impossible moment. An affected laugh by either a man or a woman is a counterfeit of the true feelings. There is no necessity to laugh loudly, the heartiest laugh is the softest in tone. Remember, when laughter is natural

Brazil's Name.

Long before the Portuguese colonized the coast of Brazil adventurous Bristol merchants had equipped expeditions in a vain search for the supposed island of Brasylle. Who gave Brazil her pres ent name is unknown to fame-the ear ly Portuguese called it Terra da Vera Cruz-but whoever baptized the country took the name from the East Indies. For many years before the discovery of Brazil merchants had brought from the east for the use of dyers a wood which yielded a beautiful red color-brasill or brasilly. The West Indies have trees of the same sort, but Brazil contains them in more abundance than any other country. So that Brazil wood is not called so after the country. The country is named so because of its red dye trees .- London Chronicle.

Travels of Roots.

Roots travel amazing distances in search of their requirements. A timber merchant, excavating for a sewer in England, found an elm root one and a quarter inches in diameter and sixtythree feet long, running through a bed of sawdust from the tree to the nearest water.

The aggregate length of root thrown out by some plants is almost incredible. A cucumber will, within its short life of about half a year, throw out from ten to fifteen miles of roots.

Clover roots will go straight down to a depth of six to nine feet in search of moisture, and coltsfoot, one of the most powerful and persistent of weeds, sends its suckers down to an even

Too Much of a Breakfast.

Even Peacock's generous ideas of suitable provisions for a breakfast were surpassed by a London host who entertained J. L. Motley. Aug. 3, 1867, Motley writes to his daughter: "I went to the last breakfast of the season of the Philobiblon society, given by Mr. Turner, a collector of rare books. Beginning with coffee and tea, we ended with sherry, champagne and maraschino; fish, cutlets, rotis, salads, game, puddings and ice going on meanwhile in regular order. If you asked me what I did I can only say I opened my ears to the animated and intellectual conversation and my mouth, not to eat, but to gape and gasp and wonder at the prodigious consumption of victuals at that hour of the day. When I reflected that all those people would lunch at 2 and dine at 8 I bowed my head in humiliation, and the fork dropped from my nerveless grasp."-London Chronicie.

Looking Down From High Places.

Why do you feel giddy when you look down from the top of the house happens that two zones of sound are or even from the upstairs porch? Just separated by a zone of silence. In 1908 because it's so high, eh? That's true, an explosion of dynamite on the railbut it's only half the answer. You road then building up the Jungfrau know, of course, that your power to keep your balance on your feet depends largely on your vision or sight. When you walk in the dark you stumble and bump against things because you are not used to walking without seeing. It's the same when you are away up above the ground and cannot see familiar things in their familiar places. Your eyes play you tricks, you seem to lose your balance, and your head feels giddy and your steps are uncertain. If you practice long enough you can learn to walk without seeing, but until you have learned that lesson be careful when you climb to high places.-Wisconsin State Journal.

Scott Liked Work Pressure.

Scott, who was poet, novelist, lawyer, too, would have been greatest of all as journalist. Most people are fond of good puzzles, and many are not entirely happy until they have solved them, but the man who resolves not to go to bed until he has found a divisor without a remainder (other than 1 and itself) for 1,111,111,111,111,111 will be able to earn a good living afterward as a sleepless wonder, for nobody in the world vet knows whether that number has a divisor or not.

Songs of a Nation. Morris and His Furniture.

in "William Morris-His Work and Influence" is retold how the two friends, Burne-Jones and Morris, setting out to keep house together in the now historic rooms, 17 Red Lion square, found themselves confronted with the unendurable ugliness and vulgarity of mid-Victorian furniture. Says Mr. Clutton-Brock:

"Their rooms were to be furnished, and Morris could not find in any shop a single new table or chair that he could endure. This was not mere fastidiousness. To him vulgarity in furniture was, like vulgarity of manners, the expression of a wrong state of mind, and if his own furniture had been vulgar he would have felt as responsible for it as for his own manners. Therefore he designed furniture to please himself, making drawings that were carried out by a carpenter. Thus simply and naturally he began his business of 'poetic upholsterer.' * * From the first he was not The last step is to cut it close above only an artist, but one who tried to the first joint from the top, when it is make the world what he wished it to again tied up in small bundles contain- | be and, beginning with armchairs, ended with society.'

Theatrical Superstitions.

Paris, a city of theaters, is full of theatrical superstitions. Nearly every one associated with the theater has some sort of mascot. Thus, M. Fernand Samuel, manager of the Varietes always wears an old and battered straw hat as a luck bringer at every first night, Mme. Ristori used to walk in a cemetery on the day when she had to appear in a new part, and Mlle.

Breval collects old horseshoes. Mlle. Mary Garden always consults a clairvoyant before undertaking a new character, and Cora Laparcerie and Mme. Berthe Bady never dream of going on the stage without touching

M. Henri Bernstein believes that there is some curious fetish in the name Zambo. He puts it in all his plays with different orthography. There is always a character called Zambeau, Zambault, Zambeaux, Zambau.-London Express Sound Deflection.

Sound does not always travel through the air in a straight line. It often was heard in two different zones. The first extended through a radius of forty kilometers around the explosion The other began at a distance of 140 kilometers, the sound being unheard in the intervening 100 kilometers. Similar phenomena had been observed elsewhere, and physicists tried to explain them by the reflexion of the sound waves from certain atmospheric strata. Professor Fujiwhara, who has studied such matters during volcanic eruptions in Japan, asserts now that these phenomena depend upon the direction of the wind in the middle strata of the atmosphere.

He Would Find Out.

"Great heavens, what have I done? One night he played the part in a small English town. A stage hand was very much impressed with the play, and to him the scenes quickly became real, so that when Irving reached the climax, felled the old earl to the ground and spoke the line "Great heavens. what have I done?" he was startled to hear the stage hand say in a loud voice: "Strike a match and we'll have a look."-New York Globe, Chamberlain and His Monocles.

While the late Joseph Chamberlain was crossing Palace yard one day some years ago he was accosted by an American girl with the cool request, "Mr. Chamberlain, please do give me your eyeglass for my cabinet at home.' It was at once handed to her, guard and all, so promptly that the curio hunter apparently felt some remorse and stammered, "Most likely I'm inconveniencing you." "Not at all," replied Mr. Chamberlain as he produced from his pocket a morocco case and took from it a spare monocle, which he screwed in position, and then went on his way, smiling.-London Express.

Pocket Mirrors.

From the twelfth to the fifteenth century small mirrors, carried in the pocket or attached to the girdle, were regarded as indispensable adjuncts to ladies' toilets. The pocket mirror was a circular plaque of polished metal fixed in a shallow box and covered with a lid.

A PERSONALS.

It is the aim of THE CHRONICLE to publish as many personal and social items as possible, but it frequently happens that those who have guests visiting them, and those who entertain, fail to send a list of their friends, or an account of these events, to this office. Readers who live at a distance are always interested in what is going on "at home," and for that reason, if for no other, this column should be filled every week. It is of course understood that anonymous contributions will not be published. Names of utions will not be published. Names of ersons furnishing items will be withheld.

SACRIFICE SALE

Pianos and Organs

The Piano and Organ business formerly conducted by the late J. M. Birely will be closed out and the Palace of Music will be vacated by October first next.

There is now on hand a large stock of medium and high grade Pianos, such as Mr. Birely sold with success for some forty years past, and in order to dispose of same within the required time, they will be sold at a sacrifice. Prices will be made so low that you will be enabled to purchase a strictly first class high grade in trument for less than the price of the lowest grade.

We need no line of commendation as to the instruments, for their names and reputations held for so many years speak for themselves.

Our stock embraces the PACKARD, LEHR, RADLE, BRINKERHOFF, LINDERMAN, YORK and BEHR BROS. Each and every instrument being beautiful in finish, rich and even in tone and durable in construction. You will find these makes in hundreds of homes through Frederick City, Frederick, Carroll, Montgomery, Howard and Washington Counties, and in the upper portion of Virginia, as well as other localities, all giving entire satisfaction and fully measuring up to their merited high reputations.

We have also a line of new Organs and a few second handed Pianos and Organs to dispose of to prompt buyers.

The musical merchandise stock, including Violins, Guitars, Mandolins, Banjos, Accordions, etc., etc., will be included in the sale and you should embrace this exceptional opportunity to save money by purchasing now.

The New Fable of the Galumptious Girl Who Tried to Start Something and Did.

Once there was a kittenish Senorita condemned to dwell in a Piccolo Town out on a Spur Division of the Dinkusville Short Line.

It was one of those not-dead-butsleeping Settlements with a Sheetiron Cornice on every Store Building and the Hack in which Gen. Sherman once rode still meeting the Trains.

All the other Residents were sitting back on their Surplus trying to hatch out 7 per cent. Anyone suggesting a Public Improvement was led into Court House Square and publicly Be-

Cousin invited Madeleine to come and see her, out of mere Politeness, for she had the Country Lass sized up as a Myrtle Killjoy, whose Limit probably would be a Burton Holmes Lecture or a rollicking Afternoon at the Tea Shop.

Madeleine saw that she was down in Class B and would have to make an immediate Demonstration of Form to avoid being permanently Benched or sent back to the Bush League.

Consequently, as soon as she found herself in the Main Drawing Room among the Ruperts and Rosalinds, she began to break Furniture and do Head-Spins on the Bokharas. Thereupon she was elected a full Sister of the gladsome Binch known as the Young Married Set, compared with whom, Mr. Burman, doing a mile in 26 Seconds on the Beach at Ormond, is a second-rate Snail.

She sent Home for all of her Things and more Coin and applied for an advanced Degree in the Grand Lodge of the Knights and Ladies of Insomnia.

In one month she had entirely remodeled her Figure and landscaped her Hair into a new Design and carefully picked each broad Western "R" out of her Vocabulary and she could walk right up to a French Bill of Fare without the quiver of an Eye-Lash. Also she could hand out that Dear Boy line of Polite Guff to all of those rugged and self-made Bucks who get back to Earth every Day at 5 p. m. and begin calling feebly for Barbers and Masseurs and Manicures and Nerve Specialists and Barkeeps.

She learned that Rough House lost all Social Stigma if pulled off at 2 a. m. in a Private Resort with a Striped Awning in front and a Carpet leading down to the Landing

Her folks kept writing her to come back Home, because the Ladies of the Guild were about to have a Bazaar, but she stalled as long as she could and when she finally packed up the Wardrobe Trunks and the eight kinds of Massage Cream, she extracted a promise from Cousin and several other Desperate Characters that they Cecil County Dairyman Increases Annual Profit Per Cow $27.91 In Two Years.

G. E. WOLCOTT. Maryland Agricultural Experiment

In the spring of 1912, Mr. J. Harry Maxwell, of Cecil county, joined the Rising Sun Dairy Improvement Association, being one of the first to realize the great advantage that might be derived from knowing how much herd produced during the year; and how much feed was required to make the production.

A PROFIT MAKER.

The results which are given below prove that Mr. Maxwell was not mistaken in his opinion regarding the value of knowing the production of each cow in his herd.

At the end of the first year, it was found that the average production of a herd of 15 cows was 5,052 pounds of Small Dance. If it had been a full- milk, containing 214 pounds of butter. Smith, Turnkey. ed to $42.71. There was a profit of Instead of the customary 3 Carna- $41.85 above the cost of feed. For every dollar expended for feed the average cow made a return in milk amounting to $1.98.

The best cow in the herd, the first year, yielded 5,938 pounds of milk containing 268 pounds of butterfat, while three cows were sold as unprofitable, one making a yield of only 2,610 pounds of milk.

During the first year, Mr. Maxwell studied the records carefully, and made plans to feed the herd for its highest and most economical production the next year. He found that the production during the months of July and August was very low, owing to dry pastures and a lack of green feed; also that the effect of short feed at this time could not be overcome during the remainder of the lactation period. The second year green corn was provided as a supplement to dry pastures. As a result, the records show that during the second year the average cow produced 7,142 pounds of milk containing 300 pounds of butterfat; she consumed $47.91 worth of feed, and made a profit above the cost feed amounting to $69.76. The highest producing cow in the herd yielded 9,820 pounds of milk, containing 406 pounds of butterfat. Her feed cost $48.62; and the profit above the cost of feed was $115.72.

The following table gives a clear o of the increased production, that resulted when a careful system of feeding was followed:

Average Production Per Cow.

1				over
ŀ	Milk	Fat	Cost of	cost of
,	Year. lbs.	lbs.	feed.	feed.
	1st5,052	214	$42.71	$41.85
	2nd7,143	300	47.91	69.76
•	Gain .2,091	86	5.20	27.91

This increase was made largely through feeding. Three cows were eliminated as unprofitable during the first year. This, of course, had a material effect in making the average production higher; but the larger factor was the individual feeding.

By keeping records the low producers can be discarded; and the remainder of the herd can be fed according to their production. These two factors will increase the average production of any herd; and make the yield at a lower feed cost.

WHEAT AND VETCH SEEDED NOW WILL PROVIDE NEEDED ROUGHAGE IN SPRING.

NICKOLAS SCHMITZ,

Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

After such a dry season as we have had this year, we may naturally expect a shortage in the supply of hay and roughage early in the spring. Hence it is quite important that we plan our farming operations this fall so that we will be provided with plenty of good feed while waiting on the next hay crop. For this purpose there is probably nothing better than a mixture of winter oats and vetch or wheat and vetch. The vetch and wheat can be mixed and seeded with the wheat drill. A good mixture to sow is 20 to 25 lbs. of vetch and about 1 bushel of wheat or oats per acre. This will grow up early in the spring and can be used as a seiling crop or cut for hay when the grain is in the soft dough stage. It makes a good yield of an excellent quality of
