JAPS LIKE OKUMA YOUNG MAN, BEWARE

Considered Representative Character of Oriental Great Men.

CONQUERS BY HIS DIGNITY.

Premier's Daring Intrepidity and Excellent Nerve and His Lofty Contempt of Death Have Won Praise Described by a Countryman.

Tokyo.-Should any Japanese be asked by a foreigner to point out a representative character of oriental great men Japan has at the present time he would be inclined to mention the old count Okuma, who is now leading the country during these memorable epochs of the world's war through the most perilous seas of international poli

His magnanimity toward his per sonal enemy who had actually attempt ed on his very life, his liberality in ma terial ways toward those who are indebted or apply to him for assistance. his unhesitating readiness to shoulder any amount of responsibility if by so doing there is the least prospect of pro moting the public weal of the nation the grateful treatment of old friends and early comrades irrespective of the heaven and earth difference probably created in the social position, the high standard of morality he observes in his private life, his sterling integrity and strict probity, never questioned during his long public career of fifty years, all these and others support the as sumption that he ought to be classed among true and cultivated gentlemen of the first class standing.

His invariable optimism in the depth of the gloomiest and melancholiest situation in which a mortal can find himself, his infinite resourcefulness in the face of any hardy and intricate problems presented him for solution, his daring intrepidity and excellent nerve and his lofty contempt of death that more than once confronted him, his resolute firmness to carry out amid showers of attacks and reproach, even at the expense of his personal safety and reputation, those plans which he believed to concord with the permanent interest of the nation, the calm serenity of his mind and the tranquil equanimity of his heart and his open hearted simplicity and friendliness with any one who is honored with his interview testify to the undeniable fact that he is equipped with every necessary quality that goes to make up a great hero of oriental pattern.

He is a man who conquers by his personal dignity and his overwhelming | yards per second, according to Professweep-it-allness, not by the ingenuity of his artificial skill or the elaborate device of fine machinations.

As an educationist also he is entitled to claim the first and foremost rank in view of the distinguished services he has tendered to the cause of education in Japan. The University of Waseda under his presidency and other various schools pertaining to it comprise more than 10,000 students, while the gradu ates might count more than ten time the number. The university, divided into four colleges (literature, law, technics and commerce), practically ab sorbs the greater portion of the students who do not enter the governmental institution. The Waseda mid dle school is inferior to no other simi lar institution, either private or public In the excellency of the educationa service as well as in the quality of the students produced. In the list of those successful applicants for the entrance examination of governmental higher schools the graduates from the Wased: middle school always occupy the most predominant proportion, a fact mos strongly appealing to the confidence of the Japanese public. Count Okuma is also a distinguished educationist in a different sense of the word. He is the great teacher of democracy. Having belonged to the minor Hizen clan by birth, his situation in the Japanese politics has always been somewhat isolated as com pared with those potentates who en loved the effective support and protec tion of the influential clan of Satsuma and Choshu that took an active part in bringing about the restoration of the imperial power through the dethronement of the Shogun. It is this very circumstance that made a demo crat of him.

WOMAN MAYOR GIVES UP.

Mrs. Aldrich Declines Office She Won

In California. Los Angeles.--Mrs. Ellen French Aldrich, the first woman in California to be elected "mayoress" of a city, announced on the eve of taking office in Sawtelle that she would not accept the

"I want a lowly position," Mrs. Aldtich said. "I want to mingle with the Deople and to get first hand from them their ideas of how the city of Sawtelle should be managed and what they want. The position of 'mayoress' is too high and too dignified to allow any one to do this. I prefer to serve Sawtelle as a simple trustee."

OF THE VASSAR GIRL!

Firm Advocate, She, of the Rule That the Wife Is the Boss Around Home.

Poughkeepsie.-The young men who keep on their dressers framed pictures of fair Vassar students and dream dreams of steam heated flats when they gaze at them will do well to note the fact that fifty of these students heartily applauded the assertion of a witness in the supreme court that his wife was boss around their house.

It was the spontaneous sort of applause that makes even a thoughtless man thoughtful, and it persisted despite the raps for order which Supreme Court Justice Young sounded, while he grinned behind a magisterial hand.

The young women, members of the political science class under Professor E. D. Fite, were in court learning something of judicial procedure when the witness on the stand, in answer to a question whether he had consulted his wife regarding a certain action,

"No, sir; I don't have to. My wife is boss in the house.'

Patter, patter, patter went white gloved hands in earnest applause of the witness' honest attitude, and the young women nodded approvingly at one another.

ALLOWS CONVICT TO FARM.

Oregon Governor Helps Man to Save Homestead.

Salem, Ore.—Governor James Withycombe granted ninety days' leave of absence to C. O. Bogart, serving a term in the penitentiary for assault with intent to kill, in order that he might plant his spring crop and save. if possible, his homestead in Malheur county from foreclosure proceedings. Several weeks ago Bogart informed the governor that unless he could be given an opportunity to plant his spring crop his wife and eight children would be without provisions next winter and also unable to meet interest on a mortgage on his homestead. He is serving a term for attempting to kill a man named Mathews, with whom he quarreled over a land right.

SCANDAL FASTEST TRAVELER.

Wisconsin Professor Finds Flattery

Second, Truth the Slowest. Madison, Wis.-Scandal travels 1,000 sor Benjamin Snow, head of the University of Wisconsin's physics department. Professor Snow bases his calculations upon observations made at the university.

Flattery has the second greatest speed, the professor finds, traveling from 400 to 500 yards in the same time. Truth, however, he declares, is slowest of all, moving only about two and a half yards per second. The computations, he said, were based on the speed of the sound of an alarm clock, which is zero.

BIG STURGEON ON TROT LINE.

"Musical Fisherman" Makes Good Catch In California Stream.

Redding, Cal.-A 400 pound fish was caught in the Sacramento river by Eugene Barion, the "musical fisherman." Barion is called the "musical fisher man" because his 200 foot trot line stretched across the Sacramento at Middle creek is equipped with a chime of twelve Swiss bells, one for each line dangling from the main line with spoon attached.

Barion's catch was a sturgeon, a big fish that measured seven feet without the head. When the sturgeon grabbed the hook every one of the twelve bells rang a clatter that awakened him from his afternoon nap in his cabin ashore.

The "musical fisherman" was unable to land his big catch alone. He had to call in the assistance of two neighbors. Barion's catch netted him $63.

ROMANCE OF INK AND TYPE.

Young Woman's Contributions to Pa per Result In Secret Wedding. Nutley, N. J.-Announcement was made recently of the marriage of Miss Eleanor Bartlett Dale, daughter of Henry B. Dale, who was once a member of the firm of H. B. Claffin & Co. and Charles E. McCarthy of Newark. Mr. McCarthy, who is on the editorial staff of the Newark Evening News, was introduced to Miss Dale, who was tree here, ravaged by time and the eleinterested in social work, when she began contributing to the paper last No-

Miss Dale, who lived at 14 Elm place was married to Mr. McCarthy in the rectory of St. Bridget's Catholic church, Newark, by the Rev. Samue B. Hodges on March 23. News of the geremony came as a surprise to Mis Dale's friends, who had understoo! that she was engreed to a young man from Nutley.

DRINKING HENS BEAT TEETOTAL SISTERS

Sprayed With Alcohol and Ether, They Waxed Fat and Laid More Eggs.

Philadelphia.—That roosters and hens that soak up ether highballs are better parents than teetotaler chickens was the assertion recently made to the American Philosophical society by Raymond Pearl, biologist at the Maine agricultural experiment station.

Mr. Pearl told of experiments upon seventy chickens, all of a crossbreed between Black Hamburgs and Plymouth Rocks. They were placed in tanks and sprayed with alcohol and ether for an hour each day.

The chickens didn't like either intoxicant when mixed in their water, but became lively in their appreciation and their antics after the spraying.

It was found that the drunken chickens grew much fatter than a number of brothers and sisters which were denied opportunity to dissipate. In a year the alcoholic hens averaged 184 eggs apiece, while their white ribbon sisters averaged only 181. The rum fighting roosters became lazy and quarrelsome, but otherwise appeared in excellent condition.

ALLOWS PITTSBURGH PARKS FOR "SPOONING"

Superintendent of Police Extends Invitation to Boys and Girls and Married Persons Too.

Pittsburgh.—"I want to extend an invitation to all of Pittsburgh's lovers and married persons as well, to use the city parks for 'spooning' if they so de sire, and, further, any policeman who attempts to interfere will be 'put on the books,' on the ground that he is not humane," announced Superintendent Belgian and Dutch commerce. of Police Matthews recently.

'spooning' goes in the parks," continin the spring of the year especially that love leads to marriage and happy homes, so why not let the boys and seventy-one hours. girls 'spoon?' "

RABBIT AN INCENDIARY.

Fur Ablaze, It Sets Fire to Neighboring Chicken House.

Columbus, O. - Thirty-six rabbits and chickens were lost and two structures were destroyed by fire of freak origin here. Those who sustained losses are Harry Knox and William Richards.

Knox was the owner of eighteen Belgian hares. In the shed on his premises where he kept the rabbits he had an oil stove for heating. The stove was upset and an explosion followed. In a few seconds the structure was a mass of flames.

Awakened by the explosion, Knox opened his windows in time to see one of his rabbits lean over the fence to the adjoining yard. The little animals' fur was a mass of flames. It ran into another shed on Richards' property, where eighteen prize chickens were kept, and set it on fire. Before the fire department arrived both sheds and their stock were consumed.

MAXIMUM MANICURE CHARGE.

One Judge Says Not One of Them Is Worth More Than $1.25.

Kansas City, Mo.-The best manicure in the world-one with all the trimmings that go to make the finger nails artistic in design and color-is not worth more than $1.25, according to Judge J. E. Guinotte of the probate

Judge Guinotte made his ruling in passing on a claim for $2.20 filed against the estate of Herman Peltzer. a wealthy real estate dealer, for "manicure, talcum and file."

"The best manicure in the world," Judge Guinotte said, "is not worth more than $1.25, even though the fingers are soaked in rosewater, the nails polished until they shine and sparkle like diamonds, the fingers dusted with talcum powder and the nails shaped like almonds by a pretty manicurist.' With these remarks the judge cut down the claim to $1.25, which he al-

SAVE HISTORIC TREE.

Old Elm Used by British and Indian Sharpshooters.

Maumee, O.-The famous Indian elm ments, is to be saved. Toledo tree experts are now nursing it.

The old tree stands directly opposite Fort Meigs, which was under siege by the British and Indians in 1812-13. From branches of the tree Indians had an excellent view of the fort. Stories handed down from the generation of that day say that many a bullet was fired from the tree by expert marks men among the Indians and the British.

CANAL PROPOSAL IS MADE.

Among Number of Plans Talked of In Regard to Future Relations Between Germany and Belgium Is a Channel From Rhine to Antwerp.

Berlin.-"After the war there must be a new Belgium."

This statement, made by the impe rial German chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, in a recent speech be fore the reichstag, directs the interest of those who are following the trend of the German press to a number of plans discussed of late by the editors in the fatherland with regard to the future relations between Germany and Bel

Herr Rosemeyer's idea, based on the ancient principle, "Navigare necesse est," is to create a new mouth of the Rhine by connecting that river with Antwerp, Belgium's great seaport, and Zeebrugge, the little town on Belgium's coast which now serves the German as a submarine base.

In a lengthy article which has been reprinted in many of the foremost pan German organs he points out that such a "Rhine-west canal" would be welcomed by Holland. For the canal under his plan is to lead through Holland via Sittard, through Dutch Limburg and would thus be of great service in expanding not only German but also

CENSORS CO-ED GOWNS.

Some University Girls Were Sent Back to Change Dance Attire.

Bloomington, Ind.-The India versity authorities have established a censorship of clothes worn by the "co eds.'

The censorship is in charge of Miss Ruby E. C. Mason, dean of women. who is attending all dances and inspecting the frocks and gowns. If the evening gowns of the girls do not conform to regulations as to length and style the wearers are sent back to their rooms for a change of attire. This has happened to several young women recently. The censorship is established because of the loyalty of the Indiana "co-eds" to the prevailing styles, especially in dancing frocks. The frocks have been cut so low from the chin and so high from the ground that they have been shocking to some, the university authorities say, all during the winter.

CATCHES STRANGE BEAST.

Looks Like a Fox and Climbs to Top of Trees.

Albert Lea, Minn. - A new and strange animal was discovered in Bancroft township by Emil Halvorson who was hunting. It appeared larger than a fox and when pursued jumped about the trunk of a tree and was soon in the topmost branches. Later in the day another of the species was captured. The animal resembles a fox, has light red fur about the neck and head, but the rest of the fur is light gray, with a jet black stripe down the back It is thought the animal is a hybrid or else has strayed here from its native haunts.

COWS DRANK BEER.

It Was Poured Into a Stream From a Brewery That Was Bankrupt.

Pottsville, Pa.-A suit for severa thousand dollars' damage against Sheriff P. J. Murphy, who emptied more than a thousand barrels of been belonging to the Schuylkill Helm Brew ing company into a stream, is pending

The brewery management is bank rupt, and the sheriff, who was in charge, was informed that the bee was spoiled. The trustees of the brew ery declare that the beer was sold an that the sheriff should have collected the money before it spoiled.

Cows that drank out of the stream that was temporarily flushed with th beer acted unaccountably frisky and mystified their owners until the facts became known.

EXCHANGES HER DOG FOR RAILROAD FARES

Woman Without Enough Money Trades Canine For Two Railway Tickets.

Wichita, Kan.-In the earlier days bartering was the method of exchange The Indians used wampum, beads and other trinkets to secure things that they desired. All the records of bartering were placed in the discard recently at the Union station, when a woman exchanged a collie dog for two tickets to Fort Worth, Tex.

Mrs. Martha Fenton, an elderly woman, accompanied by her daughter and a collie dog, entered the office of Z. E Brooks, city passenger agent, and in formed him that they wanted to go to Fort Worth, Tex. He told them what it would cost, and they were dismayed They informed him that it was urgent that they go, but that they did not have sufficient funds to defray their expenses. They were wilking, the wo man said, to trade the collie dog for the tickets. Mr. Brooks studied the matter for a moment, attempting to think of what use he could put a collie Nothing came to his mind, and he said that he would find a purchaser. Mr. Wright, who was at the office at the time, stated that he would take it. The tickets were purchased, and with a parting pat and sorrowful look they bid goodby to their dog as Mr. Wright led him away.

HER SUICIDE EFFORTS STUCK.

New Orleans Girl Didn't Count on a Tarred Ferryboat Deck.

New Orleans.-Miss Annie Hendren grieving over her mother's recent death tried to drown herself in the Missis sippi. She went aboard a ferryboal and dashed for the edge to take the plunge. But just there the tragedy became a comedy.

The deck had been freshly tarred and Miss Hendren's feet stuck. Sho struggled, knocked over a pail of tar. sat down abruptly and stuck some Counterfeiters' Activity Has Aroused Treasury Department.

MAY REDUCE BANKNOTES.

Assistant Chief W. H. Moran of Secret Service Says Increase of Spurious Money Is Due to Fact That Criminals Learned Photo-engraving.

Denver.-That very important and radical changes are to be made in the paper used and the printing of currency by the government is predicted by W. H. Moran, assistant chief of the United States secret service. The unusual activity of counterfeiters during the last several months has moved the treasury department to new efforts, and a system is being devised that it is believed will reduce counterfeiting to a minimum. "The silk threads in our certificates," says Mr. Moran, "are entirely misleading to the general public. The average person holds the idea that the government has a secret process of manufacturing the paper on which banknotes are printed, whereas it is merely a distinctive process. A note may not appear just right, but when it shows the silk threads the public takes it for granted that it is good."

The existence of more than 200 different varieties of banknotes is pointed out by Mr. Moran as a condition that makes the raising of these certificates an easy matter by counterfeiters. The public cannot be expected to carry all these forms of notes in mind, he says, and as a result one, two, five and ten dollar certificates are being raised to notes of higher denomination quite generally.

Mr. Moran expects to see a new paper adopted by the government soon that will make counterfeiting more difficult and at the same time enable the public more readily to protect itself. He also expects that the 200 or more different types of banknotes will be reduced to possibly one of each denomination, eliminating a big part of the chance of their being "raised." The increased activity of counterfeiters is attributed to improvements con-

The art has advanced, says Mr. Moran, to the point where duplication is a science that many crooks have mastered. A case cited is that of James S. Vertress, arrested for the wholesale distribution of ten and two. ty dollar gold certificates in Denver and vicinity in 1913. was cantured in Pennsylva nia through the efforts of Assistant Chief Moran. Vertress attended a photographers' school and took a course in engraving before establishing a counterfeiting plant in an isolated mountain district in Kentucky.

A general warning is sounded by the government officer against men who are impersonating federal officers.

Many crooks are going about the country, he says, representing themselves to be agents of the department of justice, the revenue or the secret service departments. They defraud boarding houses, hotels and the people generally and in that way not only rob many victims, but bring discredit upon the agents of the government.

"Every government agent has proper identification papers," says Mr. Moran, "and where there is a doubt these papers should be demanded."

SHE SANG AWAY PAIN.

Little Girl Chanted Popular Tunes While Burns Were Dressed. Kansas City-"It's a long way to Tipperary; it's a long way to go." The voice of Laura Johnson, seven years of age, floated from the operating room at the Emergency hospital and echoed through the building.

attracted by the unusual singing. One pushed open the door. On a white table lay the child. A nurse was bending over her. From the child's knees to her feet were burns. During the painful proceedings the singing did not stop for more than a minute. Only once did the girl stop, when the pain caused her to bite her lip to keep back the tears. Then she began to sing "The Rosary."

The child was burned when she pulled a kettle of boiling soup off the stove. The child's mother, Mrs. Albert Johnson, carried her daughter to the hospital for treatment.

To the Editor of the Chronicle: Dear Editor:

In the communication to the CHRON-ICLE of the 21st inst. over the signature of C. M. Rider, Clerk, there are some statements which should be answered The 4th paragraph of the bill refers to the sidewalk on the east side of Frederick street having no pavement at its South ern end and to the condition of the same at its northern end, whilst the 7th para-graph refers to the flagstone pavements graph refers to the Hagstone pavements on the west side of Gettysburg street in sront of the P. J. Snouffer property, Prof. Halm's, other pavements on said street farther north and to others in various parts of the town on Main street including one in front of the Foundry property of one of the town commisssioners. The 10th paragraph alleges that the conduct of the corporation has been illegal, very arbitrary and opprensive and movement in human affairs which has bad for its object the elevation of the plaintiffs sustained by Courts and that some of them are usually not passed upon. In the present case other reasons system which were net reasons to the present case other reasons arised which were net reasons and the present case other reasons arised which were net reasons arised which were net reasons arised which were net reasons and the present case of the reasons arised which were net reasons arised which were net reasons arised which were net reasons and the reasons are reasons arised which were net reasons and the reasons are reasons are reasons arised which were net reasons and the reasons are reasons and the reasons are reasons. existed which were not presented to the Court because some of those presented were deemed sufficient for the purpose If the said communication has any connection with or supposed bearing on the approaching corporation election, there are some other facts which deserve mention, as for instance, how does it happen that the register of voters sat on the third Monday instead of the third Tuesday of April, 1916, as provided by the town charter? Why was the notice of his sitting published only on the Friday preceding when the Charter provides for notice of the sitting "ten days before the same." Why does the item of $511.09 uncollected Taxes appear among the liabilities of the corporation in the Report for the year ending April,

The writer feels sure that any defect in the bill would have been readily de-tected and advantage taken of the same by appropriate legal proceeding by the able and distinguished counsel, who filed the answer of the corporation to the bill street in Emmitsburg' which opinion reads as follows: "Because we consider the attempted distraint and the advertisement of sale thereunder, unwarranted by law and void, the injunction here-tofore granted and issued must be made perpetual so far as these proceedings are concerned," with no finding by the Court that the plaintiff shall pay for the pavement but with the following at the end of the opinon. "It is thereupon, this lst day of April, 1915, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, and by the authority thereof adjudged, and and and degreed that the prolining ordered and decreed that the prelimin-ary injunction heretofore granted and issued in this case against the defendant,

Neither the costs of the payement, about $50.00, nor the counsel fees appear among the liabilities of the corporation. The writer would state further that neither of the two repaved sidewalks has been paid for by any one except the corpora-tion and that the Court did not order the plaintiff to pay for the concrete pavement on Gettysburg Street, al-though different reports have been circulated in the town. Does the corpora-tion Election to be held on May 1st, 1916 have any connection with these re-

FREDERICK COUNTY,

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county. In the fertility and productiveness of its lands it ranks among the first in the Union, and especially in the produc-tion of wheat. The area of this great county is 633 square miles. The great body of the people are of German, English and Scotch-Irish descent, the progeny mostly of the early settlers. The land is mostly of fine limestone quality, and the greater part of the county is a valley of rolling lands lying between the Linganore Hills and the Catoctin Mountain. This splendid valley is drained by the Monocacy river, and is one of the best farmed and most highly improved and productive areas of the Union. The great crops are wheat and corn.—Maryland Manual issued by Board of Public Works.

EMMITSBURG.

In all Western Maryland-the beauty spot and the garden spot of the State-there is no town more attractive than Emmitsburg.

No people are more wide-awake, more knowable, more courteous to strangers than Emmitsburgians.

The location of Emmitsburg is ideal; the surrounding scenery is unmatchable; the climate is notedly healthful; its water-pure mountain spring water-cannot be surpassed. It is within easy access of Baltimore, Hagerstown, Frederick; eight miles from the National Battlefield at Gettysburg, near to the Mountain Resorts, and is surrounded by fertile farms and productive orchards.

Mount Saint Mary's College and Ecclesiastical Seminary-with an enviable reputation extending over 106 years-is located here; St. Joseph's College and Academy for young ladies-equally as noted during its 105 years of splendid acheivement-is also here.

There are excellent Schools-Public and Parochial-in Emmitsburg; two sound Banks, five Churches, a live Newspaper, modern Hotel accommodations, adequate Fire Department, progressive merchants, splendid physicians, good liveries, auto garages, many fraternal organizations, good railroad accommodations. There are four or five mails a day, telegraph, express and telephone service connecting all points; electric light and power, oiled

There is business to be had in Emmitsburg; there are Factory Sites availabe. If you contemplate changing your place of residence-come to Emmitsburg, Frederick County,

PLE-DAVID J. LEWIS.

On Monday next the Democrats of Maryland will have an opportunity to nominate as their candidate for the United States Senate a man who, in every capacity in which he has served, has fought for the rights of the people-David J. Lewis, the present Congressman from this district.

Mr. Lewis, more than any other man in the public life of Maryland, is justly entitled to be referred to as "of the people, for the people." He has literally come up from the ground, out of the mines, and has lived with and for the masses, at all times fighting for that which is for the common weal and against everything that stands for the few as opposed to the many. In so doing he has emphasized true Jeffersonian democracy, the essence of which, as has aptly been said, is 'the denial of every form of special privilege."

of the State, "Mr. Lewis is a good Democrat all the way through. He has shown the people of Maryland and of the United is. Another of his excellent qualities which should appeal to the people whose interests he is asking to represent in the Senate is his known fearlessness and his aggressiveness to go after and get the things his constituents want and need and the country wants and needs. Mr. Lewis has still another excellent quality; when he makes a promise or gives pended upon to the last to redeem it."

Mr. Lewis is not seeking a political job. He is asking the people for a promotion—based on what he has accomplished for them-for a chance, in a more responsible position, to do even greater things for them.

cel Post. It was David J. Lewis who gave this boon to the country. That enlargement of our postal system whereby everybody has profited, is a colossal monument to him. It has made his name known the world over. Of such great moment is the Parcel Post that Mr. Lewis' opponentsrealizing how it has entrenched him in the hearts of the peopleseek, by various processes of detraction, to rob him of the honor. The attempt has been useless. There is no gain in splitting hairs or quibbling about the authorship of the Parcel Post. It may have originated in the mind of Adam; the idea may have been discussed for years and years in and out of Congress, but the man who succeeded in 'getting it over' for the people was David J. Lewis. "If it was not hatched in Lewis" nursed it to its present status."

If there is one element of the electorate that should stand solidly behind Mr. Lewis it is the farming element whose interests he has untiringly upheld. "I am proud," states Mr. Lewis, "to be regarded as the representative and an exponent of agricultural ideas and ideals. Farmers are producers, consumers and quasi-merchants, selling their products. Thus they represent in a real way the producing, consuming and commercial interests of society. Puss In Boots.

No collection of fairy tales is com plete without "Puss In Boots," and it is interesting to know that it has amused the children of a hundred gen erations. The various versions of the story differ materially, however. It is believed that the Zanzibar version is the original. There the man is un grateful to the clever cat and is pun ished by awaking to find his prosperit; a dream. In France, Italy and Indi the cat is a swindler and the Marquis of Carrabas is his accomplice. In Rus sia and Sicily "Puss In Boots" is a moral story and the cat helps the man from motives of gratitude. When Cruikshank illustrated "Puss In Boots" he rewrote it and introduced the moral motive of gratitude in the cat, but the American version does not point out any motive. Why should the cat help his master to title and riches? In our story he is a weak fellow who does nothing to help himself, and we fee that the cat is throwing his energies away on an idler.-St. Louis Globe Democrat.

We'll call him "daddy," because that's what his kiddies call him, and this is an intimate story of "daddy" and his two youngsters.

Frequently "mother" and the kiddles go to the picture show in the evening while "daddy" stays home alone. "I'm too tired to go along." is his

Athletic Mosquitoes

Singapore is on the Malay peninsula, that shoe tongue that hangs down from the southeast corner of India. A Singapore mosquito will lie slothfully around all day, not turning a hand, but the moment it sees you retire for the night and pull down the bed netting it leaps to its feet, trembling with eagerness. They will pass up thousands of Chinese and Malays a few blocks away, sleeping without cover of any kind, to come and work and plan the whole night through to get just one taste of white meat. Their persistence is wonderful. An ant in comparison to a Singapore mosquito is a happy-go-lucky creature, with no thought of the morrow. Here in the luxurious tropics mosquitoes grow to splendid proportions, perfectly formed and splendidly muscled, and in any catch-as-catch-can conflict can defend themselves against all comers, irrespective of nationality. In a clinch they have a way of balancing on their tails and leaping on to their opponent and tearing him with their hind feet. after the manner of the cornered Australian kangaroo. - Homer Croy in Leslie's.

Tiger Sharks.

When a Hawaiian sees a shark near the surface with eyes which shine red, as though they had red glass in them. he will not go in the water or even on the water or if he is on the water he will get to shore, for the red eyed fish is the tiger shark, and it does not hesitate to attack. They will not only attack a man in the water, but they will follow a fisherma in a canoe after he has taken a lot of fish aboard, and it issaid they will attack and overturn a canoe if they are very hungry.

Men who know fish do not want to have anything to do with the tiger shark.

A shark does not turn on its back to bite, as is the common opinion of those who have not lived near shark infested waters. It turns on its side and when in this position can travel almost as fast and handle itself almost as well as when it is in its natural position .-Honolulu Star.

Frozen Food In Siberia. The markets of Irkutsk, in Siberia, are an interesting sight, for the products offered for sale are in most cases frozen solid. Fish are piled up in stacks like so much cordwood, and meat likewise. All kinds of fowl are similarly frozen and piled up. Some animals brought into the market whole are propped up on their legs and have the appearance of being actually alive, and as one goes through the markets one seems to be surrounded by living pigs, sheep, oxen and fowls standing up. But, stranger yet, even the liquids are frozen solid and sold in blocks. Milk is frozen into a block in this way and with a string or a stick frozen into and projecting from it. This, it is said, is for the convenience of the purchaser, who is thus enabled to carry his milk by the

We owe to Sir Clements Markham the introduction of quinine yielding trees to British India and the consequent cheapening of the drug from a guinea to a halfpenny an ounce in Calcutta, but the medicinal properties of einchona bark had long been known. They were discovere after whom it was called Jesuits' bark. Concerning that, Sir Clements used to relate an odd coincidence. Oliver Cromwell died of tertian ague, and quinine might have saved him. In the very newspaper in which his death was announced, the Mercurius Politicus. there was an advertisement of Jesuits' bark for sale. But the name of Jesuit was abhorrent to the Puritans, and hence Cromwell's medical advisers would have nothing to do with it .-London Chronicle.

MILTON G. URNER, Attorney at Law.

I have known Mr. Weinberg, a candidate for the Republican nomination and have a high regard for his talent and ability. I shall be very glad to aid him in this fight, and he has my sincere good wishes for the achievement of his ambition.

CHARLES McC. MATHIAS, Attorney at Law.

I have most unqualifiedly endorsed the candidacy of my old school-mate and friend, Mr. Leo Weinberg, for Congress. He is not only deserving of this honor in every way, but if elected, will certainly make the district a most efficient and competent representative.

W. HARRY HALLER, Gen. Insurance Agent.

It looks good for Weinberg. We shall do all we can for the coming man of our County. We have loyally supported, as a County, every Republian for Congress for thirty-six years, and now if we do our part, we will be honored with this nomination. That's the way it looks to us. legany County has had a mortgage on this nomination for 26 years. Now is our time to lift this mortgage and with a solid front on May 1st, we can nominate Mr. Leo Weinberg. KUHN & JAMES,

Let every one talk, work, and vote for Weinberg and victory is assured.
WILLIAM C. RHODERICK,

Sheriff of Frederick County.

I have had every opportunity to observe the course of Mr. Leo Weinberg, ever since he has been admitted to the Bar, and I can truthfully testify as to his splendid attainments as a lawyer and good qualities as a man. I consider him worthy of the confidence of every voter in Frederick County, and I believe that he will secure their endorsement on May 1st. I shall do all I can for his nomination, and I would ask my friends to

New Auto Law in Effect July 1.

The new law of the last session of the Legislature regulating the operations of motor vehicles in this State becomes effective on June 1. Many changes were made in the old law, and the measure which was passed was agreed upon by representatives of the Automobile Club of Maryland, the State roads commission and the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles

The revised law is State wide in its chance to secure the Congressional effect. This means there will no long-Nomination, I trust that the voters er be a speed limit of six miles an hour in one village and twelve miles in an tther, but it means that if autoists can go 18 miles an hour in the outlying portions of one city in the State, they can travel at the same rate in the outlying I hope that the good people of portions of another city of the State. It also means that if they can go 25 miles an hour in the open country in one county, they can go at that speed The speed limits remain as they are in the present State law, and are applicble all over the State. The existing laws relating to the use of horns, lights and mufflers ane slightly amplified and made clearer.

INTERPRETATIVE DANCING.

saw a barefoot lady dip, And kneel, and rise, and poise and hover,

As if to pin a pillow slip Upon a line that stretched above her

'This must be comedy,'' I said— "Some esoteric, highbrow joshing-The nymph, who moves with classic tread. Is hanging out the family washing!'

The programme told me I was wrong. The dance was labeled "Slumber Song!"

I saw a maid, with flying feet, Whose clothes were singularly airy, Go running through a field of wheat With all the fleetness of a fairy.

When I had gazed a while askance At her abbreviated habit, I thought "The title of this dance Is girl in nightie, chasing rabbit."

My guess was wrong. The programme "A Russian Peasant's prayer for bread."

Six damsels, very sparsely clad In white diaphanous confections, Came tearing in, and ran like mad In many different directions.

'Aha," I cried, "I think I get The meaning of the scene before us, The title of it, I will bet, Is 'Mouse stampedes a Ziegfield chorus.' "

But my conjecture went astray. The dance was "Woodland Birds in May."

It is the aim of THE CHRONICLE to publish as many personal and social items as possible, but it frequently happens that those who have guests visiting them, and those who entertain, fail to send a list of their friends, or an account of these events, to this office. Readers who live at a distance are always interested in what is going on "at home," and for that reason, if for no other, this column should be filled every week. It is of course understood that anonymous contributions will not be published. Names of persons furnishing items will be withheld.

SHOPPING BY MAIL IS EASY

when you do your shopping at Baltimore's Best Store. A letter or post card stating your needs will bring you detailed descriptions and prices, as well as samples of materials, if you specify what you want.

The information you receive will be fresh and up to the minute. Styles change constantly, and this store keeps abreast of them, which is something that, of necessity, the house which issues a catalogue cannot do.

Your order, when received, will be filled by an experienced shopper -one who takes pride in giving her customers intelligent service. And, so far as is possible, the same young woman will fill all subsequent orders, so that the longer you deal here, the better you will be served.

We deliver purchases of any amount up to $5.00 free by Parcel Post within the limits of the first and second

ACROSS THE LINE

Another new macadamized road which would be of great benefit to Gettysburg and the southern portions of Adams County is proposed and being urged by residents of Carroll County. It would be built from Taneytown toward Littlestown and extend for six miles to the State line. The road from Littlestown toward Taneytown is macadamized. town toward Taneytown is macadamized for a distance of a mile or more and the construction of a connecting link would give Gettysburg good roads all the way to the Maryland line.

The action looking toward this new road was taken recently when residents of the district immediately affected circulated a petition to be presented to the proper authorities asking that this the proper authorities asking that this highway be piked. MONDAY PRIMARY ELECTION

This is the day when all voters who are interested in good government should not fail to go to the polls and vote. Under the direct primary election the people, and not the bosses, nominate the candidates to be voted for at the general election.

The character of the men, who will be the candidates at the general election, depends upon how the people themselves take advantage of the opportunity to vote at the primary election Monday. Go to the polls and help nominate the man who' stands for the Nation's best interests. If you believe in a Prohibition amendment to the National Constitution, go to the polls and vote for the man pledged to vote for such amendment. If you do not register your sentiments Monday, you may by that neglect help nominate a man who is not favorable to such an amendment and thereby delay the final overthrow of the liquor traffic.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT

"If nominated and elected to Congress I will vote for National Prohibition, or any bill looking toward the abolition of the saloon."

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION"

To Be Shown at Walter's Theatre. Gettysburg, Commencing Monday.

"The Birth of a Nation," D. W. Griffith's sensational motion picture, which has been running for weeks at Fords Theatre, Baltimore, and which CITIZENS' NATIONAL BANK when shown in Frederick about a month ago drew hundreds from this locality, will again be shown in this locality. This remarkable picture is the attraction offered by the management of Walter's theatre, Gettysburg, Pa., on Monday and Tuesday next, May 1st and 2nd. Every one who possibly can should make arrangement to see this film, the 5,000 scenes of which it required 18,000 people, 3,000 horses and an expenditure of thousands and thousands of dollars. Elsewhere in this issue of the CHRONICLE will be found a large advertisement mentioning a few features of the film that has been an immediate success wherever shown.

> Want William Barnes Released From Jail.

A petition is being circulated asking for the release of William Barnes from the penitentiary, for various reasons, among them the fact that he has aged parents and a wife and young child who need his support and that his health is suffering from confinement.

Barnes was tried for killing Pa-J. D. BAKER......President trolman William Daywalt, of Waynesboro, February 2, 1914, and was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter by a jury. He was sentenced to not less than ten or more than 12 years in the penitentiary. Mr. Daywalt was a for mer resident of Emmitsburg.

He was shot down in a field while en deavoring to arrest Abraham and William Barnes. Abraham Barnes was afterward fatally shot by a state con stable and his brother was tried for killing Daywalt. While many signatures have been obtained on the petition there is much opposition to the proposed release of Barnes after serving so short a portion of his sentence

Women Workers in U. S.

Government statistics show that there are more than 8,000,000 women workers in the United States. There are 263,316 stenographers and typewriters, 14,061 women linotype operators, 2, 530,846 domestics, 1,820,980 factory and mill girls, 76,508 trained nurses, 111, 117 midwives, 2,000,000 women farm laborers, 100,000 women bakers, 8,219 telegraph operators, 88,262 "hello" girls. Eighty per cent. of our teachers are women, also two-thirds of our cotton mill workers, one-third of our hat, suit and overall makers, one-fifth of our tailors, one-third of our shoemakers. Women have been found working before the flaming doors of blast furnaces in Pennsylvania.

"Fly Complaint."

"Summer complaint" is what they used to call the intestinal infections that EMMITSBURG, MARYLAND carry off so many thousands of babies each summer; but now doctors often call it "fly complaint" for they are frequently caused by common house flies,

The Panama Canal Zone was once so unwholesome a place that white men could not live there for any length of time. The government exterminated flies and mosquitoes and now the Zone is as free of diseases as any place. Screen your house early. Keep out all the flies you can, swat every fly that sneaks in, and destroy all refuse heaps that might be breeding places for flies. One doctor's bill saved will pay for screening a house, and may save a life,
