Morgenthau Says Condition in Turkish Empire Is Pathetic.

SIGHTS WOULD BRING TEARS.

Former Ambassador Declares if Americans Could Only See Distress as He Had Seen It the Need of Aid Would Be Fully Realized-Says Only Way to Express Sympathy is to Contribute.

New York.-Former United States Ambassador Henry Morgenthau in a recent interview gave as one of the main reasons for his resignation as ambassador to Turkey his great desire to make known to the people of the United States some of the conditions in the Turkish empire, especially as they affect the long suffering Armenians. He wants to assist in the raising of funds for Armenian relief, to explain the real conditions in Turkey and to make known in a tactful way to the Turkish authorities the thoughts of the American public on the conditions in that land.

Referring to the tragic sufferings of the Armenians and of the need of immediate help to save thousands of men, women and children from dreadful death by starvation, Mr. Morgenthau made the following statement:

"In my childhood I cried over 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' and wept at the way the negroes were sold into slavery. Later on I read 'Evangeline,' and my heart went out to the poor woman and her lover, but all of these things are nothing compared to what went on in Turkey under my own eyes. I do not want to give too many harrowing pic tures, but I will say that I have been requested to state that most of the stories that have reached the United States are founded on facts.

"The Armenians were living just as quietly and peacefully as possible, in friendship and close contact with their Turkish associates, when suddenly they were picked out to be deported. It was then that my heart bled for them. I had been given the privilege of dispensing charity without stint and with full authority on behalf of the English, Russian, French and Italian nations—even the Servians had sent me money, and Russia and Italy permitted me to help the poor Montenegrins in my charge. Suddenly, without available funds, I was confronted with the terrific problem of the destitute Armenians. Can you conceive how I felt? It was then that I sent an appeal to the secretary of state for help, and the response came promptly.

"If the people of the United States could only see the distress as I have seen it! If they could see the gaunt lit. tle figures of children, the little orphans brought to Constantinople by friendly Turkish officers, the need of prompt aid would be fully realized. If I dared repeat the tales I have heard, sworn to and signed, they would make men and women weep, and every one would see the need of sympathy and "There is no use of accusing anybody or finding fault with any one. What this great country should do to show its appreciation of the wonderful blessings that have been showered upon us is for each one of us to make up his mind to do his share.

"We are the only people to whom they can appeal for help today, the only people who dare express their sympathy by actual giving. The people of other nations are afraid and unable to do it."

Mr. Morgenthau is a member of the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief, of which Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop Greer of the Episcopal church, Dr. James L. Barton of the American board of foreign missions, Dr. Arthur J. Brown of the Presbyterian foreign mission board, Dr. Frank Mason North of the Methodist foreign mission board and other prominent ministers and laymen, Protestant. Catholic and Jew, are members. The committee has sent $600,000 to the Armenians and native Christians in Turkey, Persia and Syria since Turkey entered the war, and it is stated that $5,000,000 will be required to save and rehabilitate these peoples.

Court, and the Judge Benefits. Portland, Ore.-Maude, a White Leghorn hen, was in District Judge Bell's court as Exhibit A in a suit over her ownership and that of two other Biddies and a cockerel. Suddenly there smote the air a shrill "cut-a-cut." It up, "Bailiff, kindly remove the exhibit," ordered the judge. The bailiff approached Maude's coop. "Your honor," he shouted, "look!" and held up a snowy white egg. "Maude has laid it."

Both litigants agreed that the judge should receive the egg, and he did.

LITTLE TOWN IN OHIO PLAINLY ON THE MAP

Clyde Has Several Claims to Distinction In Connection With Country's Wars.

Sandusky, O .- The village of Clyde, fourteen miles southwest of this city, was the home not only of the highest ranking officer killed during the civil war, but also of the first American killed in the Spanish-American war. It has the distinction also of being the nucleus of what is now the Women's Relief corps. General J. B. McPherson, killed at Atlanta in the civil war. and George B. Mack, the first American killed in the Spanish-American war, are both buried there. According to Joel Elliot of Clyde. Mrs. Hattie McPherson, aunt of General McPherson, organized the first Ladies' Aid society after the civil war began, and it was from the Ladies' Aid society of the sixties that the Women's Relief corps of the present day grew.

Elliot says further that army records at Washington will show that in proportion to population, more men enlisted at Clyde for both the civil and Spanish-American wars than from any other place of its size in the United

NEW WAY OF GETTING A SUIT

Prisoner Worried Owner Until He Gave It to Him.

San Jose.-A new way of getting a suit of clothes was introduced here when William Shore, a prisoner, confessed to Police Captain Campbell that he had "mooched" the suit he wore.

"I saw the suit on a man on the street and liked it," he said. "So went up to him and asked for it. He got mad and wouldn't give it to me, so I followed him around day and night for two days, asking for it at every turn. Finally he got disgusted with me and gave me the clothes."

Shore told Police Chief Fuller, who threatened to put him to work pitching hay, that he "wouldn't pitch enough hay in a week to keep a canary bird alive for one day."

REFUSED TO QUIT JAIL.

Muncie (Ind.) Resident Said It Was the Best Job He Ever Had. Muncie, Ind.—Albert O'Harra, sheriff, had a hard time to make Frank Mc-Laughlin quit the county jail. A friend paid McLaughlin's fine, but he steadfastly refused to leave the jail until his sentence had been served, the sentence being for eleven days.

"I never had a better job than this," said McLaughlin. "All I had to do was a little scrubbing out in the morning, and I had a good, warm place in which to sleep and a good place in which to eat and had plenty of things to eat in the bargain. Believe me, Sheriff O'Harra is the best landlord I've ever known.'

"I'M SO FOND OF MUSIC!"

That Explains What Maid Does With an Advance of Wages.

Chicago.-For a few days a young north shore matron believed she had solved the servant girl problem. Her first girl found the country life too the war, another remarkable thing slow and returned home "back of the to her credit and showing her patriotyards."

This experience afforded an inspiration, and she imported a girl from her former home at Galesburg. Kindly treatment was to be the keynote of success, so when she discovered the new maid lacked underwear she armed her with a dollar and shopping instructions. In thirty minutes the girl was back, but minus the underwear. In its place she had purchased a mouth organ costing 49 cents, which she exhibited proudly to her mistress with the re-

NEW USE FOR OLD GLORY.

In a Brooklyn Court It "Protects the Bench."

New York.-After an adjournment of the Brooklyn court of special sessions recently the bench and clerk's desk were bedecked with an American flag. "What's the idea?" Chief Probation Officer John J. Rooney was asked.

"That's the duster," Rooney explained. "When the janitor sweeps he covwas Maude cackling, and she kept it ers the bench and clerk's desk with the old flag."

Indignant, the questioner sought out Chief Clerk Joseph L. Kerrigan and demanded an explanation of the apparent desecration of Old Glory. "Well, isn't the flag protecting the bench?" was Kerrigan's ready response.

About twenty-one years ago Short left his home at Excelsior Springs, Mo., and started out for himself. He went to San Francisco, where he went on the seas as a sailor. He never wrote his mother, but a word to a cousin in Nebraska gave the information that he was a sailor on a certain boat. This boat was reported sunk, and there was no report of Short's name in the list of William is the son of John Shequin, who soon will be 108 years old. Shequin, Sr., has been ailing a little lately, but under the care of his wife and William he is able to be up and about again.

Father and Mother Shequin celebrated their diamend wedding anniversary three years ago. Mr. Shequin, Sr., was born in Franklin, Vt., and was seven years old when the war of 1812 ended. He couldn't enlist in the civil war because he was too old. His wife was Louise Bigford of Standbridge, Canada. She is nearly ninety-eight years old. The Shequins moved here from Freeborn county. Minn., in 1873.

William, being only sixty, is expected to recover from the measles.

"First I put on one suit," he said, 'and then I thought how much better it looked on me than it did on Boyce, so I took the others."

With the disappearance of his suits and Devine, Boyce came before the grand jury and an indictment was returned against the farm laborer. Boyce paid $18 to find and return Devine to the city to face the larceny charge. Devine went to Madison, Ind., after taking the suits.

Judge Collins sentenced Devine to the penal farm for ninety days.

WEDS CONVICT: NOW WORKS TO FREE HIN

Bride Hopes to Gain Pardon For Her Husband, a "Lifer"-First Occurrence In Oklahoma.

McAlester, Okla. - "Love laughs at prison bars" is an old saying that was given practical demonstration at the Oklahoma state penitentiary. Etta Martin, a pretty young Spanish girl from St. Louis, became the bride of John Cieloha, Bohemian, who is serving a life sentence for murder.

It is the first sentence on record where a life term convict was permitted to marry and the third case of marriage in which an Oklahoma prisoner appeared as principal.

The first case was that of a trusty, who married before marriage license clerk or officiating minister knew of his record. In the other case the ceremony took place in the warden's office, but the bridegroom held a parole in one hand.

The young bride of John Cieloha expects to bring about the release of her husband through pardon or parole.

"If he hadn't escaped from the penitentiary he would have stood a much better chance," suggested a newspaper man in talking with the newlyweds shortly after their marriage.

"But if he hadn't escaped I wouldn't have found him," was the quick reply of the young wife.

The persistence with which she pursued her demand for marriage with a convict leads one to believe that she'll keep her word as to freeing him.

Cieloha was charged with being accessory to the murder of David Conway, an aged bridge keeper on the Midland Valley railroad, near Muskogee, seven years ago. Conway was found beaten to death, presumably by Gain Further Distinction as Result of a Hot Battle-Thaw Likely to Go on Legion of Honor-Corporal Rockwell Also In Conflict, and His Exploit Attracts Attention.

Paris.-In one of the sharpest aerial battles yet fought the American squadron gained further distinction.

Lieutenant Thaw and Corporal Kiffin Rockwell flew out at 5 o'clock in the morning recently and saw a Fokker and an Aviatik close by. Lieutenant Thaw dived for the Fokker, and Corporal Rockwell followed. The Aviatik dived for Lieutenant Thaw, but, catching sight of Corporal Rockwell's machine, turned and hurried to safety.

Lieutenant Thaw when fifteen yards from the Fokker fired. The German machine fell at almost the first shot.

At 8:30 on the same morning the whole American squadron went out over the German lines, its work being mainly preventive, to stop Germans from flying over to make observations. of the French lines. The squadron soon found itself in the midst of a group of German aeroplanes and a general battle followed. Eight distinct duels were registered during the next two hours. A bullet hit Corporal Rockwell's wind shield and exploded, fragments hitting him around the nose and mouth but not seriously injuring him. As a result of Corporal Rockwell's exploit he has again been mentioned in dispatches.

Lieutenant Thaw's machine received several bullets. One of these hit him on the elbow, breaking the small bone. Nevertheless he made a perfect landing, wondering whether he was within the German lines until he was relieved by seeing two French soldiers come running up. FREDERICK COUNTY.

frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county. In the fertil ity and productiveness of its lands it ranks among the first in the Union, and especially in the produc-tion of wheat. The area of this great county is 633 square miles. The great body of the people are of German, English and Scotch-Irish German, English and Scotch-Irish descent, the progeny mostly of the early settlers. The land is mostly early settlers. of fine limestone quality, and the greater part of the county is a valley of rolling lands lying between the Linganore Hills and the Catoctin Mountain. This splendid valley is drained by the Monocacy river, and is one of the best farmed and most highly improved and productive areas of the Union. The great crops are wheat and corn.-Mary-land Manual issued by Board of Public Works.

EMMITSBURG.

In all Western Maryland-the beauty spot and the garden spot of the State-there is no town more attractive than Emmitsburg.

No people are more wide-awake, more knowable, more courteous to strangers than Emmitsburgians.

The location of Emmitsburg is ideal; the surrounding scenery is unmatchable; the climate is notedly healthful; its water-pure mountain spring water-cannot be surpassed. It is within easy access of Baltimore, Hagerstown, Frederick; eight miles from the National Battlefield at Gettysburg. near to the Mountain Resorts, and is surrounded by fertile farms and productive or-it was in New York. Fortyfive actor gents who were taking their 64th nightly nautical lesson (steering schooners over the bar) were discussing Baltimore and theatrical "frosts." A messenger boy, (72 years old and an ex-member of the late Tony Pastor's Co.,) entered and, noting the touch of sadness upon the faces of those thespians ("high brow" for that Henry Irving stuff) piped up in a thready voice: "Was there business galore In old Baltimore,

THE GASOLINE SITUATION.

The price of gasoline is an economic question of great importance to every section of the country; it is used extensively both on land and water; it is used for power on the farm, for driving machinery in our shops, for pumping water in our homes, for delivering our supplies, and for the propulsion of countless vehicles whose manufacture has become a most important industry.

Waltzing Ostriches. One of the oddest sights of the sandy stretches of plain in southern Africa is a party of waltzing ostriches. A writer on the subject thus describes their queer antics:

"When there are a number of them they will start off and after running a few hundred yards will stop and, with raised wings, will whirl rapidly round till they are stupefied or perhaps break a leg. The males gose also before fighting. They kneel on their ankles, opening their wings and balancing themselves alternately forward and backward or to one side or the other, while the neck is stretched on a level with the back, and the head strikes the sides, now on the right, now on the left, while the feathers are bristling. The bird appears at this time so absorbed in its occupation as to forget all that is going on around him and can be approached and caught. The much like an effort to speak with the mouth shut tight."-Philadelphia Inquirer.

Mourning Friday.

It was not always called Good Friday. Years ago in Germany it was frequently referred to as Mourning Friday. Our early ancestors in England did not call it Good Friday, either, but Long Friday. Such is the term in an ancient ecclesiastical law about 1,000 years old. The Danes used the same name, Long, instead of Good Friday.

The reason for using the word "long" was doubtless found in the seeming endless and severe fast practiced that day. At one time the Spaniards emphasized the solemnity of Good Friday by closing all the churches Nowhere else that I have happened to be on a Good Friday was the day so solemnly observed as in Rome. The pernal combustion engines in the past city seemed to be in mourning, making all the more inspiring the matchless services and singing in St. Peter's cathedral on Easter.-Philadelphia Led-

Was it envy that caused the elderly spinster to criticise so severely the home and furniture of her newly married friend?

Whatever it was, the young wife was getting tired of it. "Well, anyway," she said presently as she pointed to a pretty little china clock, "if you don't like my furniture you must surely like that?"

"Yes; it is rather nice," said the visitor grudgingly. "Who gave it to you?" "Oh, it wasn't a present!" explained the bride. "I won it in a raffle."

"A raffle!" The spinster drew her angular figure rigidly up. "I never lend my face to such things!"

"Perhaps that's just as well," retort ed the younger woman as she gazed meaningly at the other's sour features, "because if you did I'm afraid nobody would buy the tickets!"-London Globe.

He declined.

Some fifteen years later, Louis D. Brandeis lectured at the Massachusetts Technical Institute on the "Relation of Law to Business." Before he delivered aug 23-1yr that series of lectures, his conscience compelled him to study the subjectwhich, as all lecturers know, is quite unnecessary and unusual.

His discoveries in this research work produced a course of exceptional lectures that significantly influenced the youths of Massachusetts Tech. The influence on Brandeis himself set him right-about-face. Fifty years ago, the uses and abuses of law in the United States could be summed up in the words: Dignity, Eloquence, Lugs, "My Learned Opponent," Precedents, Caloric, Forms, Pride, Balderdash, and Professional Ethics! Also, we assume, "Judicial Temperaments"

Then the lawyer was a professional man, a scholar, with a hereditary right to all political offices. Or, he was Marks - "a lawyer, and a good one!"

Now the lawyer is a Businessman. (Ambulance Chasers and Pensioners excepted) Lawyers as lawyers no longer superimpose their will on us-no longer frighten us with their death-rattle. Their Latin phrases no longer confuse or impress us.

We give them the O. O. twice when they would substitute law for justice! We question their right to both feet in the Public Trough. We question their prerogative to propagate in Business America unless they render a Constructive Service.

Found wanting, they get the merry tra-la-la trom a disrespectful constituency. The firm of Sen. Sly, Beacon-Hill, Hellenblazes & Boodler has had its day in court.

Along in 1892, Brandeis in search of truth detected these public pulses; detected and anticipated them; anticipated and approved them.

All his career from that point changed Since find him bent on rendering service to the people!

"Brandeis began to concern himself with conditions which wage-earners and common folk face."

Since then Brandeis has fought against the Insurance Companies, against the Subway Grafters in Boston; against the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R., against Ballinger and the Alaskan Coal-Land Grab for the constitutionality of the Minimum Wage; for fair and sensible arbitration between employer and employed.

For the past four years, whenever a problem of Constructive Legislation confounded President Wilson, Mr. Brandeis, unofficial member of the Cabinet, was called in to advise and con-

Monument to Cost $100,000.

The House on Monday passed the Linthicium bill, granting a site and empowering Gen. Lawrason Riggs, of Baltimore, surviving executor of Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnson, to erect a $100,-000 monument to President Buchanan in the city of Washington. Mrs. Johnson was a niece of the late President.

The memorial will be placed in the southeast corner of Meridian Park. It will consist of a heroic figure of President Buchanan mounted on a pedestal, in front of which will be a fountain. Hans Schuler, of Baltimore, is the sculptor of the monument.

Mrs. Johnson left the money in trust, the proceeds of which were to be used to erect a monument to President Buchanan at his native home in Pennsylvania General Riggs found after erecting the memorial in Pennsylvania that he had sufficient funds to place another monument in Washington to the memory of Buchanan.

Cavalry Field Roads Contract.

A contract has been let to M. and T. E. Farrell to construct two miles of macadamized avenues on the Cavalry Field, Gettysburg.

As soon as Congress authorizes the building of the Emmitsburg road from the Peach Orchard to West Confederate Avenue and the Taneytown road from end of the present avenue to the avenue back of Round Top, they should be built at once and if the preliminaries are pushed it would be possible to have these links completed this year. This would be most desirable specially for the Emmitsburg road.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Held In Auditorium, Friday Evening June 2.-Pleasing Programme Rendered.

On Friday night the High School auditorium was the scene of the closing of one of the most successful years of that institution.

The auditorium was tastefully decorated in the school colors, blue and white and the class colors, orange and black. Potted plants and flowers, especially the rose, the class flower, were much in evidence.

The graduates this year were: Miss Estelle Houck and Mr. Harry Dubel. The music for the evening was furnished by Misses Pauline Annan, May Rowe, Virginia Eyster, Estelle Codori and Ruth Shuff. The audience showed their appreciation by repeated enchores. The five musical numbers by the Choral Society, and the choruses by the School were beautifully sung and received their much deserved share of the applause.

The graduates are especially to be congratulated on the delivery of their orations. "American Ideals" by Mr. Harry Dubel showed the value of having some definite ambition in life and the folly of a life without an ideal.

The Valedictory, by Miss Estelle Houck was replete with expressions of sincere appreciation of the kindness and the solicitude of the principal, Miss Mary J. Shuff, and the sadness felt at Saturday, Catechetical instruction 2 parting with schoolmates at the close of many happy days spent within those walls.

The address, "The purpose of the Public Schools" by Rev. E. L. Higbee, cases. Apply to and the "Presentation" address by Miss Mary J. Shuff, Principal, contained much sound advice. The parting quotation, "Linger, O Gentle Time," was a fitting climax to such a successful even-

RUSSET-BACKED THRUSH (Hylocichla ustulata)

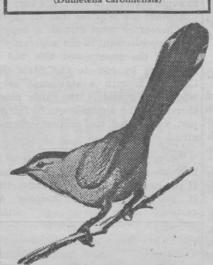

Length, seven and one-fourth inches. Among thrushes having the top of head and tail nearly the same color as the back, this one is distinguished by its tawny eye-ring and cheeks. The Pacific coast subspecies is russet brown above, while the other subspecies is the olive-backed thrush. The remarks below apply to the species as a whole.

Range: Breeds in the forested parts of Alaska and Canada and south to California, Colorado, Michigan, New York, West Virginia (mountains), and Maine; winters from Mexico to South

Habits and economic status: This is one of a small group of thrushes the members of which are by many ranked first among American songbirds. The several members resemble one another in size, plumage, and habits. While this thrush is very fond of fruit, its partiality for the neighborhood streams keeps it from frequenting orchards far from water. It is most troublesome during the cherry season, when the young are in the nest. From this it might be inferred that the young are fed on fruit, but such is not the case. The adults eat fruit, but the nestlings, as usual, are fed mostly upon insects. Beetles constitute the largest item of animal food, and ants come next. Many caterpillars also are eaten. The great bulk of vegetable food consists of fruit, of which two-fifths is of cultivated varieties. Where these birds live in or near gardens or orchards, they may do considerable damage, but they are too valuable as insect destroyers to be killed if the fruit can be protected in any other way.

CATBIRD

Length, about nine inches. The slaty gray plumage and black cap and tail are distinctive.

Range: Breeds throughout the United States west to New Mexico, Utah, Oregon, and Washington, and in southern Canada; winters from the gulf states to Panama.

Habits and economic status: In many localities the catbird is one of commonest birds. Tangled growths are its favorite nesting places and retreats, but berry patches and ornamental shrubbery are not disdained. Hence the bird is a familian dooryard visitor. The bird has a fine song, unfortunately marred by occasional cat calls. With habits similar to those of the mocking bird and a song almost as varied, the cathird has never secured a similar place in pop ular favor. Half of its food consists of fruit, and the cultivated crops most often injured are cherries, strawber ries, raspberries, and blackberries. Beetles, ants, crickets, and grasshoppers are the most important element of its animal food. The bird is known to attack a few pests, as cutworms, leaf beetles, clover-root curculio, and the periodical cicada, but the good it does in this way probably does not pay for the fruit it steals. The extent to which it should be protected may perhaps be left to the individual cultivator; that is, it should be made lawful to destroy cathirds that are doing manifest damage to crops.

The next Sunday she asked the children what the previous lesson was about. An intelligent-appearing little girl raised her hand and answered: The Israelites were led into the land of Canaan by a caterpillar."-Washington Post.
