URGES ORTHOGRAPHY STUDY.

Assistant Education Commissioner Says Three Months of Real Work attired. Are All That Is Needed to Make Any Person of Ordinary Intelligence a Fairly Good Speller.

Albany, N. Y. - "Can we learn to spell?" the state department of education asks, and an essay on the subject by Charles F. Wheelock, assistant commissioner of education, is issued by the department showing that spellis to have a big spelling bee Sept. 12 | bile and they would go for a ride. on the state fair grounds at Syracuse.

"In almost every community there is found a considerable number of persons who are poor spellers and who are thoroughly convinced it is impossible for them ever to learn to spell,' Mr. Wheelock says.

"The fact is that, while there may be now and then a person who cannot spell because of some mental defect, in the great majority of such cases persons holding the belief that they can never learn to spell are mistaken regarding their own powers. As in ev ery other field of endeavor, the one who starts out feeling to a certainty that he is going to fail is in a fair way to have his expectations realized.

"It seems to the writer that it is time for some one to come to the defense of the poor old English language which, while it is not perfect by any means, is still not so perfectly awful and terrifying as many writers would have us believe. It is possible to paint a fearful picture by simply referring to the words supersede, exceed, etc.

"How is it possible ever to master the spelling of a language where such things are printed? When, however, stant his right foot was caught in a we become aware of the fact that it is switch frog. He struggled to free him | necessary to learn as individuals only four of these seed words, namely, supersede, exceed, proceed, succeed, and himself by signaling the engineer, who that all the others end in cede, the whole group is mastered without serious difficulty.

"Another group that is often referred to as being beyond the capacity of the ordinary intellect is that containing ie or ei, but the backbone of the difficulty in this group is easily broken by the old rhyme (or rime if you prefer):

Write I before E except after C. Or when sounded as A, As in neighbor and weigh.

"The boy or girl who will thoroughly master this rime and who will then Grandson Negotiates the Sale of a them $5,000 for the outfit. learn as an individual the words that seem to have neither rime nor reasoneither, seize, counterfeit, forfeit, surfeit, sleight, weir, leisure, height, heifer-will have no further trouble with the combination ie or ei. Certainly it does not require massive intellect or extraordinary effort to master this group, which is so often used as an insuperable difficulty of English spell-

"A large proportion of the errors of the ordinary high school pupil is made up of failure to drop the final e, of failure to double the final consonant in derivatives, and of failure to note that the adjective termination is ful not full, all of which are matters that require for their mastery no special gift of intellect, but are easily within the reach of the ordinary fourteen-year-old

"The reason for the spelling of refer referring, reference, once thoroughly understood, will make it impossible to misspell these words thereafter. It requires only ordinary intelligence to ap preciate the difference between hoping and hopping. The student who has been fortunate enough to have been well taught in Latin will find real de light in accounting for the difference between such words as emigrant and immigrant, in explaining why there are only one s and two c's in desiccate, in the reason for the double letters in bi ennial, centennial, Mediterranean, in nocent, innocuous and in accounting for special features of hundreds of other words. It is possible for a spelling lesson treated in this way to become almost as interesting as a story by Sherlock Holmes. The detective in stinct finds here abundant opportunity for exercise.

"Of course it must be understood that after all the classification of words and the disposal of difficulties by groups there will still remain till and until. separate, syzygy, phthisis, catarrh hemorrhage and many other like disagreeable complaints, which fortunately are for the most part infrequent and are to be dealt with only when neces rors would include all that one would need to consider, and certainly it is not beyond the capacity of the fourteenyear-old pupil to master 200 or 300 hard words. rollcall on the deciding third ballot has been completed at the Republican gathering. Mr. Parker was not nominated until 3 p. m.

As soon as the Republican convention opened at 11 a. m., Saturday, the members of the committee which had conferred with a Progressive party committee, regarding a candidate to agree on, announced through Senator Reed Smoot that the Republicans had decided on Hughes as the man. The reply of the Progressives regarding the Hughes suggestion was that they would submit it to their convention.

Shortly afterward came a communi cation from Colonel Roosevelt at Oys ter Bay suggesting Senator Henry Ca bot Lodge of Massachusetts as second choice to himself in the Progressive convention, Mr. Smoot reported. The Progressives tabled Colonel Roose velt's suggestion-which meant they would consider none but the ex-presi

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county. In the fertility and productiveness of its lands it ranks among the first in the Union, and especially in the produc-tion of wheat. The area of this great county is 633 square miles. The great body of the people are of German, English and Scotch-Irish descent, the progeny mostly of the early settlers. The land is mostly of fine limestone quality, and the greater part of the county is a valley of rolling lands lying between the Linganore Hills and the Catoc-tin Mountain. This splendid valley is drained by the Monocacy river, and is one of the best farmed and most highly improved and productive areas of the Union. The great crops are wheat and corn. - Mary-land Manual issued by Board of Public Works.

EMMITSBURG.

In all Western Maryland-the beauty spot and the garden spot of the State-there is no town more attractive than Emmitsburg.

No people are more wide-awake, more knowable, more courteous to strangers than Emmitsburgians.

The location of Emmitsburg is ideal: the surrounding scenery is unmatchable; the climate is notedly healthful; its water-pure mountain spring water-cannot be surpassed. It is within easy access of Baltimore, Hagerstown, Frederick; eight miles from the National Battlefield at Gettysburg, near to the Mountain Resorts, and is surrounded by fertile farms and productive or-

Mount Saint Mary's College and Ecclesiastical Seminary-with an enviable reputation extending over 106 years-is located here; St. Joseph's College and Academy for young ladies-equally as noted during its 105 years of splendid acheivement-is also here.

There are excellent Schools-Public and Parochial-in Emmitsburg; two sound Banks, five Churches, a live Newspaper, modern Hotel accommodations, adequate Fire Department, progressive merchants, splendid physicians, good liveries, auto garages, many fraternal organizations, good railroad accommodations. There are four or five mails a day, telegraph, express and telephone service connecting all points; electric light and power, oiled

GOOD WORK.

This season more than any other it seems, the residents of Emmitsburg are taking a keen interest in the "Clean Up" crusade. Premises, back and front, are receiving marked attention; gutters are being cleaned, and even in the alleys a decided change for the better is noticeable. This speaks well for community pride. Apart from appearance—and the surface aspect of a town certainly counts for much—there is common sense in the idea. Cleanliness means health. Alleys free from weeds mean fewer places for mosquitoes and other insects. Clean stables and clean stable lots prevent fly breeding. Vacant lots where no refuse is, become breathing spaces—channels through which pure air may flow. be judged a public nuisance were And all this work is for the comhe to parade the streets with a mon weal. Much good can come from conthe country for our party waits, Capital. And we always keep a trolling the flood waters; if the little ecstatic fluid in ours—just flood waters were controlled there would not be such large appropriations to prevent destruction by rivers. It is also a self evident fact that protection of the shore is a necessary incident to permanent improvement of a river in navigation.

We spend countless millions of dollars to remove sand and dirt from the channels of rivers that "Some good pocketbooks are a sufficient depth may be obtainvery long and narrow"-That ed to float boats loaded with

Legend of the Grand Canyon. The Grand Canyon of the Colorado was first reported to the civilized world by the early Spanish explorers in 1540. The Indian legend of the Grand canyon is picturesque. There was a great chief who mouned the death of his wife and would not be comforted. To him came Ta-V woats, one of the Indian gods, and told him that his wife was in a happier land to which would take him that he might see for himself if upon his return he would cease to mourn. The chief promised Then Ta-Vwoats made a trail throu: tiful land. This trai. was the can on gorge of the Colorado. Through it Ta Vwoats led the chief, and when they had returned the god exacted from the chief a promise that he would tell no one of its joys lest, through discontent with the circumstances of this world. others should desire to go there. Then Ta-Vwoats rolled a river into the gorge, a mad, raging stream, that should engulf any that might attempt to enter

are guarded by massive chains stretched across the channel. No vessel can crash into the gates at any of the locks because of these fenders, placed seventy feet from each gate and near the surface of the water. If the chains are struck by a boat they gradually yield to the force, paying out to a certain distance, which depends upon the violence of the impact

The mechanisms which regulate the chain fenders are installed on either wall. A system of hydraulic cylinders is used for raising and lowering the chains. The action of the fender when struck by a boat is modified in part by the friction produced in the machinery, but mainly by the resistance produced by water flowing through valves .-Popular Science Monthly.

Making "Central's" Job Easy. It is much more important than most people think to give the name of the telephone exchange before the number instead of vice versa and to be extremely particular in sounding the consonants clearly in any conversation. Also it is necessary to distinguish carefully between 5 and 9 and to say "oh" for 0, instead of "naught," which is often mistaken for 4 and sometimes curiously enough, for 8. All these are useful memoranda which deserve to be kept in mind as steadily as that duty of courtesy to the telephone girl which is, we fear, too often forgotten.-Lon don Globe.

Styles In Indian Names.

Although among the Indians there are not so many Deerslayers as there were in the days of James Fenimore Cooper, yet many of the names still possess strong individuality. This is shown by examining the names that were prominent in a recent sale of Indian lands in the Standing Rock reser vation, in the Dakotas.

Here, for instance, was found Barney Two Bears, an amiable neighbor to Miss Katie Good Crow. Melda Crowghost and Mary Yellow Fat have adjoining tracts, and there are also Mrs. Crazy Walking and Jack Elk Ghost in the same section.

It is not to be wondered at that Mary Lean Dog looks enviously from her door when Agatha Big Shield goes by with her aristocratic name, nor could any one blame Jennie Dog Man and Mary Shave Head if they fell all over themselves to assume on short notice the heroic name borne by Morris Thundershield, heir apparent to Long Step Thundershield.—New York Times.

Lines on the Palms of Hands. It cannot be said that the lines on the palms of our hands are of any great service to us. Indeed, it is doubt ful if they are of any value in them selves, outside of the possible aid they may be in helping us to determine the character of the surface of things which we grasp or touch. It is possible that they aid in some slight degree in this way. There is little doubt, however, that they are a result of the work the hands are constantly called upon to do rather than contrived for any particular service. The habitual tendency of the fingers in grasping and holding things throws the skin of the palms into creases which through fre quent repetition make the lines of the palms permanent in several instances. The peculiarity of these lines or creases in various individuals as to de tails and length and variations is the chief basis of the so called science of palmistry.-Exchange.

THE STORE THAT GETS THE NEW STYLES FIRST

When you come to Baltimore to shop—as you probably do at intervals during the yearyou will naturally feel safest in the store whose stocks are always fresh.

It is a matter of pride with us--and a matter of principle as wellnot to allow oldstyle or shopworn merchandise to accumulate.

Periodically, we hold special sales in which this merchandise is disposed of at ridiculously low prices. We would rather give it away than permit it to remain in stock.

As a result, whatever is shown to you as new at Hochschild, Kohn & Co's is new.

The woman who does not keep in close touch with the styles can buy here with perfect safety-and our people will be glad to give helpful advice and assistance to anyone who is in doubt as to what to choose.

SHORT WHEAT CROP IN 1916.

There is a Sufficiency For America's Use, But European War Will Create a Large Demand for Grain From

The Cumberland Times calls attention, "To what may prove a serious matter, the comparative failure of the American wheat crop." The government forecast, which indicates a production less by 300,000,000 bushels than that of 1915, does not mean that we will be forced to Germany's extremity, but it almost in-evitably points to rising prices later in

So far as this country is concerned says the Times, it always raises wheat enough for its own consumption, but the trouble is that since the European war began Great Britian, France and Italy have looked largely to cause of the big proportion of ablebodied farm workers required for the armies. Russia's surplus has not been available for the past two years, and Rumania for the Central Powers. This leaves the United States, Canada and the Argentine Republic as the countries which must make up the deficiency of the allied nations. REFUSE ON PUBLIC ROADS

Hiram Rager Calls Attention to the Thoughtlessness of Some Automobilists in Regard to Private Property.

Hiram Rager is right! At least that swhat the people think in Freedom rownship. Rager is a road supervisor n-12. Frederick, least that the there is a road supervisor out in that locality and he has a proper sense of what automobilists owe their in respect of the treatment of public highways. The people in Mr. Rager's district have a very friendly feeling toward automobilists, but they do not think that they are called upon to remove empty beer bottles, box lids and paper bags from their own property simply because auto users partake of luncheon along these public roads.

Residents in Freedom Township have been very much annoyed by the thought-lessness of motorists. These latter are very fond of stopping at a public hyvery fond of stopping at a public hydrant, for instance, and making use of private property adjacent thereto-treating it as a sort of public picnic ground. This entails upon the property owners the necessity of each day gathering up the refuse distributed with a liberal hand by those who pass along the road in "flivers" and other land going boats.

Mr. Rager takes pride in that part of Mr. Rager takes pride in that part of the road supervised by him and he has stated that in the near future he will provide proper receptacles for discarded lunch containers. Mr. Rager hopes that even this allusion to the subject will be productive of a change for the better on the part of the road-traveling public and that hereafter the highways will not be strewn with litter.

This supervisor - always on the job— is thoroughly in sympathy with the new law that prohibits the placing of advertising signs along the roads. He is authorized to remove them and it is his purpose, as heretofore, to aid the State authorities in having the law obeyed.

TO HAVE NEW SILVER COINS AFTER THE FIRST OF JULY

This is the First Time Since 1891 a Change Will be Effected in These Dimes, quarters and half dollars of new design will be minted after July 1, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo announced last week. For the first time since 1891 a change will be effected in these pieces.

The face of the new half dollars bears a full length of liberty, with a background of the American flag flying to to the breeze. The Goddess is striding toward the dawn of a new day, carrying laurel and oak branches symbolic of civil and military glory. The reverse side shows an eagle perched high upon a mountain crag, wings unfolded. Growing from a rift in the rock is a sapling of mountain pine, symbolic of

The design of the twenty five cent piece is intended to typify the awakening of the country to its own protection. Liberty, a full length figure, is shown stepping toward the country's gateway, bearing upraised a shield from which the covering is being drawn. The right hand bears an olive branch of peace. Above the head is the word "Liberty" and below the feet "1916." The reverse bears a figure of an eagle in full flight, wings extended and the inscriptions "United States of America and E Pluribus Unum."

Both the half dollar and the quarter bear the phrase "In God We Trust." ty, with a winged cap, is shown on the foreside and on the reverse is a design symbolical of unity, "where in lies the nation's strength."

EXPRESS COMPANIES' PROFITS

Interstate Commerce Commission's Report Shows a Great Improvement in Business of These Carriers.

Those who have been under the impression that since the Parcel Post came into existence the Express Companies have been losing money will no doubt read with interest the summarized report below. This report, made public by the Interstate Commission, shows that the Express Companies are continuing to make great increase in business. The eight concerns doing the Inter state business operate over 295,000 miles of lines and each was found to have added to gross business and added heavily, in proportion, to the net business The American Express alone during the past year changed a $418,000 deficit into a $2,600,000 balance.

The figures following show the in crease of 1916 over the previous year: Charges, $16,895,138; express privil eges, $8,186,169; operations other than transportation, $990,378; total operating revenues, $9,699,347; operating expenses, $2,350,326; net operating revenue, $7,349,022; uncollectable revenue from transportation, $7,508; express taxes, $53,871; operating income, $6,-

Governor Harrington Monday named State Senator Harvey L Cooper, of Caroline county, to be a general on his staff. Mr. Cooper was named as one of the colonels when the staff was announced about a week ago. He will be the general ordinance officer. T. Rowland Thomas, president of the National Bank of Baltimore, was made colonel in Mr. Cooper's place.

BOBWHITE (Golinus virginianus

Length, ten inches. Known everywhere by the clear whistle that suggests its name.

Range: Resident in the United States east of the plains; introduced in many places in the West.

Habits and economic status: The bobwhite is loved by every dweller in the country and is better known to more hunters in the United States than any other game bird. It is no less appreciated on the table than in the field, and in many states has unquestionably been hunted too closely. Fortunately it seems to be practicable to propagate the bird in captivity, and much is to be hoped for in this direction. Half the food of this quail consists of weed seeds, almost a fourth of grain, and about a tenth of wild fruits. Although thus eating grain, the bird gets most of it from stubble. Fifteen per cent of the bobwhite's food is composed of insects, including several of the most serious pests of agriculture. It feeds freely upon Colorado potato beetles and chinch bugs; it devours also cucumber beetles, wireworms, billbugs, clover-leaf weevils, cotton-boll weevils, army worms, bollworms, cutworms, and Rocky mountain locusts. Take it all in all, bobwhite is very useful to the farmer, and while it may not be neces sary to remove it from the list of game birds every farmer should see that his own farm is not depleted by eager sportsmen.
