THE STORE
WITH A SMILE

No, the store itself does not smile, but everybody in it does.

We have here a Store Family of nearly 1400 contented, happy people. Contented, because they are receiving a fair compensation for their service — a compensation which they themselves regulate in proportion to their own effort and efficiency.

Happy, because they are fairly treated, and because their only concern is to see that every customer is given courteous, honest, helpful service.

It is a store which you will like to visit — not the cold, awe-inspiring business machine which many department stores are, but a human store — a store with a personality — an organization of nearly 1400 souls with but the single purpose of serving you well — and smilingly.

I'M SORRY; I WAS WRONG

There may be virtue in the man
Who's always sure he's right,
Who'll never hear another's plan
And seeks no further light;
But I like more the chap who sings
A somewhat different song;
Who says, when he has messed up things,
"I'm sorry; I was wrong."
It's hard for any one to say
That failure's due to him —
That he has lost the fight or way
Because his lights burned dim.
It takes a man aside to throw
The vanity that's strong,
Confessing, "Twas my fault, I know;
I'm sorry; I was wrong."
And so, I figure, those who use
This honest, manly phrase,
Hate it too much their way to lose
On many future days.
They'll keep the path and make the fight,
Because they do not long
To have to say — when they're not right —
"I'm sorry; I was wrong."

Deutschland Makes Dash for Home.

Yesterday the submarine Deutschland which has been causing so many speculations as to its departure from the harbor of Baltimore and its arrival in German waters, was reported still within the three mile limit. It left Baltimore Wednesday evening at 5:33, very quietly and without the slightest commotion, and headed for Newport News, Va. Last night by midnight it is thought that the submarine should be some 150 or 200 miles out in the Atlantic, the distance to be determined by the method of running.

ALL ARE MADE FROM SAWDUST

Science Discovers a Way to Make Silk Hosiery, Matting Rugs, Twine, Milk Bottles, Furniture and Baking Powder.

The Albany Argus contains this bit of very interesting information: Silk from sawdust is among the latest of promises that science offers us. It is even asserted that $5,000,000 of silk stockings have been manufactured in the last year and it is a safe bet that no masculine student of hosiery below the short skirt, however assiduous his observations, can tell the difference from the worm product. The seat of this wonder working is the forest-products laboratory of the Federal department of agriculture at Madison, Wis., whose product is not only silk but also woven furniture, matting rugs, twine, milk bottles, paper from the southern pine and even sugar and baking powder. Quoting from a report sent out by the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, the Manufacturers' Record says:

Likewise it is claimed that the strongest paper ever made is produced in a simple manner from the waste of Southern pine and it is claimed that if the new process should be used generally it would increase the paper production in the South 20,000 tons daily, as the Atlantic Journal says.

An item concerning a neighbor or a dear friend is much more important to a reader than a far away battle—Another reason why you should subscribe for THE CHRONICLE.

Old Railroad Project Revised.

The long standing project of building a railroad from Hyattsville, Md., to Gettysburg, Pa. was revived last week when application was made to the Public Service Commission by the Washington, Westminster and Gettysburg Railroad Company to sell $630,000 in bonds, $144,000 preferred and $100,000 common stock. The commission fixed August 16 as the date for the hearing of the petition.

The company also filed with the commission a petition for the extension of the life of its charter. This petition was granted.

The proposed road will extend through Prince Georges, Howard and Carroll counties, Md. At Westminster it will pursue a line almost direct north, connecting with the Frederick Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, by which a route will be opened to York and thence to Philadelphia and New York, as well as to Harrisburg and Western points.

K. of C. Reunion at Pen Mar.

The Knights of Columbus will hold their second summer reunion at Pen Mar Park, Thursday, August 17. William S. Aumen is chairman of the reunion committee, and J. Carroll Watts secretary. A prominent layman will deliver the principal address.

The world's product of lead pencils amounts to 2,000,000,000 per year half of which are made from American grown cedar.

WHAT'S YOUR PER ACRE YIELD?

Local and Nearby Farmers are Asked to Send Their Crop Report to This Office.

This is the time of year when farmers are figuring up their wheat yield. Everybody is interested in knowing the per acre yield of local farms. People look forward with pleasure to comparisons. This being the case farmers in this locality are asked to send facts and figures to this office. Here are two records from Worcester county:

Mr. E. M. Jones, of near Spence, had a remarkable wheat yield from a field of ten acres. He believes that this is a record yield for Worcester County and invites comparison from other wheat growers. He threshed 380 bushels from the ten acres, an average of thirty-eight bushels per acre. Five years ago this land yielded only six bushels to the acre, but under Mr. Jones' capable treatment it has been brought to its present high state of productivity. Mr. Jones' total wheat crop was 1229 bushels.

Alex Bradford, of Quenponco, also had excellent results from a piece of potato patch wheat which was sowed about the middle of November. He secured a yield of 207 bushels from a trifle more than seven acres, which had been somewhat damaged by poultry.

"IN A BAD WAY."

Many an Emmitsburg Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.

If your back gives out; Becomes lame, weak or aching; If urinary troubles set in, Perhaps your kidneys are "in a bad way."

Don't delay—use Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is good evidence of their worth. C. A. Booth, machinist, Wenner & Second Sts., Brunswick, Md., says: "My kidneys troubled me. I suffered constantly from backache and it was hard for me to straighten up after stooping. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and I felt miserable in every way. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me of all these symptoms of kidney trouble."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Booth had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. Advertisement.

$5,200 Racing Purse for Frederick Fair

The racing card for the Frederick Fair to be held on October 17, 18, 19 and 20 has been announced. Five thousand and two hundred dollars have been provided in purses for drivers of the successful entries. Some fast events are promised for the lovers of horse flesh this fall. The purse provided by the Frederick Fair officials compares favorably with that offered by the other organizations in the Pen Mar Racing Circuit and is a great deal larger than most of them.

The total amount of purses to be awarded by all the Racing Associations in the Pen Mar Circuit is $42,000. There are eight fairs in the circuit. O. C. Warehime, of Frederick, is president.

In Los Angeles, every house, hotel and apartment building must bear a tag with the owner's name.

CHARLES E. HUGHES NOTIFIED OF NOMINATION

In His Acceptance Speech, The Nominee Assails the Policy of President Wilson in Regard to Mexican Preparedness, Etc.

Charles E. Hughes, Republican candidate for President, was formally notified of his nomination by Senator Warren G. Harding, of Ohio, in Carnegie Hall, New York, Monday night. In notifying Mr. Hughes of his nomination, Senator Harding said in part: "Notwithstanding your holding aloof from all conference and participation, that unflinching understanding which directs popular sentiment to highest victory called you to the service of the party and the nation. Your record of public service, your well known and courageous views on public questions when in executive position, your abiding devotion to Republicanism, your possession of a confidence which has united all believers in Republican policies under our party banner, your unalterable and abiding Americanism, your high personal character and well-known capacity—all these have fixed you in the American mind as the best exponent of the Republican principles and the wisest leader to restore American prestige and efficient government."

"We bring you now the commission to that leadership. We bring it in full confidence that the people will gladly acclaim the Republican restoration under your trusted leadership. We bring it in the highest appreciation of that peace of right and justice which your unwavering Americanism will hold secure rather than endanger. We bring it in the strong belief that American material good fortune, under Republican industrial preparedness, will be the glad rex of our own peace and the world's peace and be held permanent under Republican protection. We bring it in firm conviction that you, sir, will hold that platform promises constitute a sacred party covenant, and the expressed will of the people at the polls must find response in capable and efficient administration."

"Aye, sir, we bring it believing you will add to our self respect, confidence and good fortune at home and to that respect and good opinion abroad which meets our higher American aspirations."

In his reply, in which he announced his acceptance of the nomination, Mr. Hughes assailed President Wilson's administration generally and declared that new policies were needed, but stated only in general terms the policies he proposed to follow if elected.

Mr. Hughes criticized the Administration for the course it had pursued with reference to Mexico, maintenance of American rights during the European war, preparedness and other great questions of the day. He declared for a new policy of "firmness and consistency" toward Mexico, for "the unflinching maintenance of all American rights on land and sea," and for "adequate national defense; adequate protection on both our western and eastern coasts."

"We denounce all plots and conspiracies in the interest of any foreign nation," Mr. Hughes said. "Utterly intolerable is the use of our soil for alien intrigues. Every American must unreservedly condemn them and support every effort for their suppression."

The nominee assailed the administration for its "direction of diplomatic intercourse" from the beginning, declaring that where there should have been conspicuous strength and expertness there had been weakness and inexperience. He cited San Domingo as an instance where appointments had gone to "deserving Democrats" and to the failure to continue Ambassador Herrick at his post in Paris after the war had started as "a lamentable sacrifice for international reputation."

THE CHRONICLE will be independent in politics, progressive in spirit and a champion of what it conceives to be right.

Communications intended for publication in this paper, letters of a business nature in relation to the Chronicle, and all orders for Job Printing to be done at this office should be addressed to THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE.

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county.

EMMITSBURG.

In all Western Maryland—the beauty spot and the garden spot of the State—there is no town more attractive than Emmitsburg.

Mount Saint Mary's College and Ecclesiastical Seminary—with an enviable reputation extending over 106 years—is located here; St. Joseph's College and Academy for young ladies—equally as noted during its 105 years of splendid achievement—is also here.

MONEY AND THE CHURCH.

To inject commercialism into the church; to constantly associate dollars and cents with things spiritual is to link sacredness and sordidness.

There are several classes of church contributors. One class is practical, regular and liberal—giving out of the fullness of the heart, realizing that not only is there a business side to church affairs, but also that giving is worship.

There are those who though they have little, give week in and week out, ungrudgingly and up to the very limit of their means.

The Church needs money just as much as any business or household does. And it needs it in just as liberal quantities and just as regularly.

The church to be a live, virile, successful institution (we speak in colloquial terms in this connection) must know what its income is to be; there must be regularity, system and responsibility in connection with contributions from its supporters.

MR. HUGHES' ATTITUDE.

After a long silence Mr. Hughes has spoken. The formal notification is made and the country is aware that, in the opinion of Mr. Hughes, the President and all that he has done since his election is wrong.

This view was to have been expected. An arraignment of everything Democratic was to have been anticipated. But, especially from a man of Mr. Hughes' splendid mental attainments, something besides mere criticism ("criticism is not construction") was to have been looked for.

As Disraeli once said, "It is much easier to be critical than to be correct." Also it is much easier to condemn, to tear down, than to prove specifically and incontrovertibly wherein a policy or an act is wrong, and then offer not only a remedy that is obvious, that is practical and feasible, but prove that the agency through which the condemnation is made is capable of accomplishing what it advocates.

THE CHAUTAUQUA.

Under the auspices of the Vigilant Hose Company there will be a Chautauqua week in Emmitsburg. For four days, beginning on Friday, September 1st, the excellent attractions, behind which stand the Radcliffe Company, of Washington, will afford uplift, edification and refined amusement for the large audiences that will undoubtedly attend.

The programme has been chosen with great care. It is well-balanced, comprehensive. The aim of the promoters has been to appeal, in a high toned manner, to the taste and predilection of the many; therefore, young and old, the grave, the gay, the musically inclined, the farmer, the merchant, the clergyman and the professional man will find something of value, something decidedly pleasurable in all of the performances.

Apart from this "there is a reason." The Vigilant Hose Company will materially profit if the patronage is liberal. Attendance at each performance will accomplish a two-fold purpose—the patron will receive full value for his or her presence, and will at the same time be promoting the interests of a local organization to which every citizen of Emmitsburg should be loyal and on which, for the fire-protection to his property, every citizen is dependent.

THE GRANGE.

Enough information has been published about the local Grange and the importance of granges in general to impress upon Emmitsburg people the advantages to be gained by a "this-community" organization. Every trade and craft and calling has its union, and through this mode of cooperation the greatest amount of good is achieved.

MR. HUGHES believes in "Preparedness" and will endeavor to give it to us if he is elected. No matter what the President used to think about Preparedness, he believes in it now and is in the very act of giving it to us.

GIOVANNI LIBRETTO died in New York, the other day and left $10,000 for his funeral. There were six bands of music in the parade. But think of it—Giovanni Libretto and no opera!

"FLOOD Postpones Laymen's Meeting."—Wet territory, with a vengeance. And, by the way, Junaluska sounds like something cool with a straw in it—now don't it?

"VALUE of a Smile."—Depends largely upon the condition of one's pocket-book and the number in the "party."

MR. HUGHES believes in "Undiluted Americanism." So does every patriotic American.—Nothing new here.

"GERMANS Pressed on Both Fronts"—Another indication that our Teuton brethren are two-faced.

The Greatest Thing. "What is the greatest thing in the world?" It was asked the scholar, and he gravely answered that learning is, for it comprehends all and promotes all.

For the Book Borrowers. What one of us in school years did not write in his arithmetic, geography or speaker:

Steal not this book for fear of shame. For in it is the owner's name. And when you die the Lord will say, "Where is that book you stole away?"

Rough Wooing. Courtship and marriage customs among the Greenlanders were in early times simple and unceremonious. We are told that when a loverly youth made up his mind as to the girl he wanted to adorn and be useful in his hut of ice and snow he went to her house, seized her by the hair or wherever he could secure a good grip on her and dragged her to his own domain, where she was expected to stay without any further marriage ceremony.

Bits of Swedish History. Gustave III. of Sweden was assassinated at a masked ball; hence the opera "Un Ballo In Maschera," although Verdi was obliged to change the name of the ruler and the scene of tragedy from those in Schibe's libretto which served for his opera.

A queen dowager of Sweden died of apoplexy while witnessing a play entitled "Life Is But Smoke." She was a Frenchwoman named Clary. Bernadotte married her when she was seventeen years old and he was twice her age. Joseph Bonaparte had married her younger sister.

All Bands Alike to Her. A little girl was greatly interested in watching the men in her father's orchard putting bands of tar round the fruit trees to prevent ground insects from crawling up and asked a great many questions. Some weeks later, when out with her mother, she noticed a gentleman with a mourning band round his left sleeve.

Mohammed. Mohammed was born about the year 570 A. D., at Mecca, the son of Abd Allah, of the family Hashim, and Amina, of the family of the powerful tribe of the Koreish. The number of the followers of Mohammed is estimated to be 176,834,372.

All Weather Good. Sunshine is delicious, rain is refreshing, wind braces up, snow is exhilarating. There is really no such thing as bad weather—only different kinds of good weather.—Ruskin.

Of Course. "How do you suppose Solomon ever managed a thousand wives?" "If I knew that I'd be as wise as Solomon."—Exchange.

Naming a Famous Dish. If you are a gourmet you like lobster. The man who made lobster a la Newburg famous refused to have his name go with it.

Whim of a Great Actor. Salvini, the great Italian tragedian, made it a condition that none of his sons should act in Italy so long as he remained on the stage.

Flowers and Leaves. Flowers are produced by the sacrifice of stem and leaves, which subordinate their own functions to the making of seed to carry on the species.

Stupendous Surnames. The bearers of some of the surnames which appear in medieval documents must have been glad of an excuse to change them.

A Queer Creature. Queer that while the male seal is a bull and the female a cow their young is not called a calf, but a pup.

A Glimpse of Heaven. Paterfamilias—Well, Mr. Smith, I'm pleased to see you at our humble board for the first time. Now, is there any particular cut you fancy?

The Beginning and End. Fond Mother—It was at this point in the entrancing landscape that my daughter received a declaration and accepted. Friend—And tell us the rest of the romance. Fond Mother—Un fortunately that is all there was.—Meg gender for Blatter.

The Assent Sarcastic. He (at the end of a fishing story)—My word, it was a monster! 'Pon my word, I never saw such a fish in my life! She—I don't believe you ever did!—London Mail.

Pertinent. "I asked Arthur how old he thought I was, and he guessed right the very first time."

Telling the Time. Ingenious Teacher—If the clock were to strike fourteen, what time would it be? Intelligent Pupil—Time to send the clock to be repaired.—London Telegraph.

The only competitor worthy a wise man is with himself.—Mrs. Jameson

Tactless Salesman. The motorcar salesman's lack of judgment cost him a sale. He was trying to sell a professional man a machine, but he handed out the wrong kind of talk and "queered" the deal.

National Political Conventions. In Democratic national conventions every state votes as a unit, the will of the majority determining the choice of the state delegation.

One Way to Crack Nuts. No tree in Chile is more popular with the hardy youngsters than the Palma chilena, or Chilean palm, which produces large bushes of a species of nuts with a soft outer covering of green.

Famous Curfew Tower. Chertsey, Surrey, can vie with Banbury in curfew memories, though it is only in recent years that the old custom of tolling at sundown has been revived there.

Get Up on Your Toes. Have you ever seen a champion runner get set at his mark. Every muscle is tense. He's away at the crack of the starter's gun.

As They Do in Denmark. In Denmark the bread is home baked. The women spin woolen yarn which the village weaver makes into cloth or which they knit into stockings.

Rather Cynical. "It is well enough to strive to attain perfection, but remember one thing, my boy."

Doing It Up Brown. "Mrs. Blank is in deep mourning. Isn't she?"

He that is overcautious will accomplish little.—Schiller.

A WEEKLY BUDGET OF COUNTY NEWS

Mr. E. Lee LeCompte, state game warden, has made the following appointments for game wardens in Frederick county: Robert McAfee, Franklin J. Smith, E. R. Crowl. Mr. LeCompte says that he proposes as far as he can see that the game of the state shall be protected.

Captain F. J. Brandt of the Maryland National Guard has been ordered to open a recruiting station in Frederick for enlistments in the militia. The new men secured will be sent to Eagle Pass, Texas, where the troops are now doing guard duty. The recruiting station in Frederick is one of a number in Maryland, which have been ordered by the War Department in an effort to recruit the Maryland Guard up to its full war strength. To fill the ranks, 2,000 more men are need.

With 627 members and a gain of $1,500 in the receipts for the year ending Tuesday over the previous year the Frederick Y. M. C. A., C. Kelly Harris, secretary, is rounding out one of the most successful years of its existence. Not since its organization in Frederick has the work of the institution been on as sound a basis.

Frederick county has prospects for a fine yield of corn this season. On some farms it is apparent that the crop will be a bumper one, although on others the outlook is not so good because of the very heavy rains this year. But on the whole the production in Frederick county will be a splendid one. Since corn is the great revenue maker on the farm, this outlook should be a source of satisfaction generally.

The farewell services in honor of Miss Marion P. Firor, who has accepted a call as missionary in China was held Sunday in Frederick in the Evangelical Reformed church, conducted by Rev. Henri L. G. Kieffer. Miss Firor is the fifth member of the church to accept a call as a missionary in a heathen land and will report at Yochow, in the province of Hunan, China.

Changing hands twice in one week the property of Brooke I. Jamison, of Walkersville, has been purchased by Doctor R. Wachter, of Utica, who gets possession on October 1, at which time he will move to the place and make his future home there. There is about one acre of ground and a fine residence on the Jamison property. It is located on the Main street in Walkersville and is considered very desirable. Mr. Jamison and family will remove to Frederick in the early fall.

James W. Smith one of the largest land owners in Frederick county and twice a member of the Maryland Legislature, died Tuesday at his home near Woodsboro, of cancer of the stomach, aged 67 years, six months and seven days. He had been in ill health about a year.

Mr. Smith was a Republican in politics. He was elected to the Maryland House of Delegates in 1902 and 1904. He was also a large land owner possessing four or five fertile farms in the vicinity of Woodsboro.

Licking Stamps Carry Germs.

Examinations of 50 postage stamps made by Drs. Robert A. Kelly and Philip D. McMaster both of Philadelphia showed bacteria in every instance except two, according to a report of their study which appears in the Medical Record. The stamps were purchased at the central postoffice, branch offices, department stores, drug stores and some small stores.

All the growths found were negative with respect to tubercle bacilli, colon and diphtherial forms.

"The majority of the stamps," the investigators said, "showed one or more organisms, but in no single instance were they found to be pathogenic in type. This does not exclude the fact that under favorable conditions certain pathogenic types, which would resist drying to a certain extent, might be carried on a postage stamp. On the other hand, the work proves the stamp to be a carrier of organisms, and these could readily be transferred from one individual to another."

These conclusions were reached:

"Aside from hygienic reasons it is dangerous to lick postage stamps on the ground that the stamps are bacteria laden, and under favorable conditions might easily convey pathogenic types, especially colon, diphtheria and tubercle bacillus.

"We would therefore advocate a movement to have installed in all places dispensing postage stamps a moistening device of some type. This movement could be started with beneficial results in postoffices.

I am willing, no matter what my personal fortunes may be, to play for the verdict of mankind. Personally, it will be a matter of indifference to me what the verdict on the 7th of November is, provided I feel any degree of confidence that when a later jury sits, I shall get their judgment in my favor. Not in my favor personally—what difference does that make?—but in my favor as an honest and conscientious spokesman of a great nation.

"Since then other members of my family have used this valuable medicine for colic and bowel troubles with good satisfaction and I gladly endorse it as a remedy of exceptional merit." Obtainable everywhere.

"About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhoea which lasted over a week," writes W. C. Jones, Buford, N. D. "I became so weak that I could not stand upright. Liver Trouble.

"I am bothered with liver trouble about twice a year," writes Joe Dingman, Webster City, Iowa. "I have pains in my side and back and an awful soreness in my stomach. RAILROAD WAGES

Shall they be determined by Industrial Warfare or Federal Inquiry?

To the American Public:

Do you believe in arbitration or industrial warfare?

The train employes on all the railroads are voting whether they will give their leaders authority to tie up the commerce of the country to enforce their demands for a 100 million dollar wage increase.

The railroads are in the public service—your service. This army of employes is in the public service—your service.

You pay for rail transportation 3 billion dollars a year, and 44 cents out of every dollar from you goes to the employes.

On all the Eastern Railroads in 1915, seventy-five per cent of the train employes earned these wages (lowest, highest, and average of all) as shown by the payrolls—

	Passenger		Freight		Yard
	Range	Average	Range	Average	Range	Average
Engineers . . . . .	$1641	$1931	$1585	$1783	$1303	$1543
	3224		2992		2178
Conductors . . . . .	1553	1831	1552	1642	1145	1315
	3004		2901		1991
Firemen . . . . .	951	1128	933	1109	752	935
	1704		1762		1633
Brakemen . . . . .	957	1141	862	973	834	1085
	1707		1521		1635

	Passenger	Freight	Yard
Engineers . . . . .	$1796	$1546	$1384
Conductors . . . . .	1724	1404	1238
Firemen . . . . .	1033	903	844
Brakemen . . . . .	1018	858	990

A 100 million dollar wage increase for men in freight and yard service (less than one-fifth of all employes) is equal to a 5 per cent advance in all freight rates.

The managers of the railroads, as trustees for the public, have no right to place this burden on the cost of transportation to you without a clear mandate from a public tribunal speaking for you.

The railroads have proposed the settlement of this controversy either under the existing national arbitration law, or by reference to the Interstate Commerce Commission. This offer has been refused by the employes' representatives.

Shall a nation-wide strike or an investigation under the Government determine this issue?

JENKINS HOME GIFT TO WOMEN

To Carry Out Idea of Miss Eliza Jenkins in Regard to House.—Cardinal Regards it as a Life Monument.

What is destined to be a living monument to the memory of the late Miss Eliza Jenkins, and one of the greatest works in the long life of Cardinal Gibbons, according to his statement to friends, is a prospective home for elderly women of refinement and culture, who, through no fault of their own are thrown on the World for support. The project had long been in the mind of Miss Jenkins and in talks with Cardinal Gibbons and other friends, she frequently pointed to her own position in life and what it would have meant to her to have had her fortune swept away and have been forced to go to an institution, with the accompany dreary discipline and restraint.

Following the family rule of the Jenkins family, Miss Jenkins left no will, but her brothers, Joseph W. and George C. Jenkins, made the arrangements that they knew she desired and the old Jenkins home at 616 Park avenue, Baltimore, will be the site of the home, which will be carried on along lines unlike any other home in Baltimore, if not the United States.

The house is to be remodeled and provision made for 30 occupants. They will be entirely free to come and go when they please, will have their own rooms, servants to respond to reasonable wants, and even a certain allowance of money, to purchase the little things so dear to the hearts of women used to wealth. In a word each woman will feel that it is her own home and not an institution.

It is but another of the great gifts to the church by the Jenkins family. Recently another Jenkins house on Park avenue, No 5179, Baltimore, was turned over to the St. Vincent de Paul Society. This house is also to be remodeled and will become an institution for special schooling for children.

SUMMER SCHOOL FOR RURAL MINISTERS

Impressions of School Work by Dr. T. B. Dixon, of Frederick, Maryland.

About half of our school work is over and we take a moment to gather up the impressions that have been made.

First of all is the impression of the oneness of our job. We are from all sorts of churches, but we are all facing the same problems and the school makes us realize this as we possibly never have before. Here we have felt no difference because of creed, but have been a unit in the work before us.

A next impression is of the great value of the College of Agriculture to the people of the State. There seems to be somebody at the college who knows anything that the farmer can possibly want or need to know and we are wondering why more farmers do not send in their problems for solution.

Still another impression is of the great importance of the Country Parish in the sum total of the work and success of the Church at large. There are more churches in the country than in the city. The bone and sinew of the city church is borne and raised in the country church, the vast majority of the recruits for the ranks of the ministry come from the Country Church.

We are also impressed with the great opportunity and real responsibility of the Country Church to be the leader in all forms of community betterment. The church and the school are usually the only social centers in a country neighborhood. They must set the pace for advancement or none will be attained, and by setting it unitedly they can much more easily and completely attain their own specific ends.

The particularly strong impression of the Ministerial School at the Agricultural College is the vital connection between physical and social conditions in the country and the success of the Church in the country. Better farms, better houses, better schools, better roads are as important to the work of the church as better Sunday Schools and better sermons. In all these the minister ought to be the leader or at least the inspirer. At our school we are learning what we ought to be to the community and how to be it.

The School is pre eminently a school of methods, it has given us inspiration, it has given us principles, but best of all it has given us practical programs that can be carried out in our actual work, and which we believe will be used to the great betterment of the Country Church.

There Used to be Duty on Ads.
According to the American Press advertisements in newspapers as we know them today were not general till the beginning of the eighteenth century. In fact, prior to that time it was dangerous to attempt such a thing.
For instance, there was a penalty of $250 for advertising a reward with "no questions to be asked" for the return of the things stolen, half of which was paid by the advertiser and half by the printer. In addition to this, there was a duty on advertisements according to the number of lines, which amounted to anything from a few pennies to several shillings per ad. This duty was not fairly abolished in Great Britain until the year 1853.

Pope's Peace Efforts Vain.
The failure of the Pope's appeals to the warring nations for peace was admitted by the Pontiff in addressing a delegation of the youth of Rome Sunday. The delegation prayed for peace in accordance with the Pope's appeal to the children of the whole world to appeal to God on the last Sunday of the second year of the struggle to end the war.
"We, the Father of all the Faithful," he said, "have suffered, have exhorted and prayed for two years, but our exhortations to the combatants to lay down their arms and seek a settlement through the channels of justice and reason having been in vain, we decided to have recourse to invocations to Divine help by the all-powerful means of your innocence, hoping that the prodigy of the Son of Hagar might be renewed."
