FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county. In the fertiland productiveness of its lands ity and productiveness of its lands it ranks among the first in the Un-ion, and especially in the produc-tion of wheat. The area of this great county is 633 square miles. The great body of the people are of German, English and Scotch-Irish descent, the program mostly of the descent, the progeny mostly of the early settlers. The land is mostly of fine limestone quality, and the greater part of the county is a val-ley of rolling lands lying between Linganore Hills and the Catoctin Mountain. This splendid valley is drained by the Monocacy river, and is one of the best farmed and most highly improved and produc-tive areas of the Union. The great crops are wheat and corn.—Mary-land Manual issued by Board of Public Works.

in all Western Maryland-the beauty spot and the garden spot of the State-there is no town more attractive than Emmitsburg.

No people are more wide-awake, more knowable, more courteous to strangers than Emmitsburgians.

The location of Emmitsburg is ideal: the surrounding scenery is unmatchable; the climate is notedly healthful; its water-pure mountain spring water-cannot be surpassed. It is within easy access of Baltimore, Hagerstown, Frederick; eight miles from the National Battlefield at Gettysburg, near to the Mountain Resorts, and is surrounded by fertile farms and productive orchards.

Mount Saint Mary's College and Ecclesiastical Seminary-with an enviable reputation extending over 108 years-is located here; St. Joseph's College and Academy for young ladies-equally as noted during its 107 years of splendid acheivement-is also here.

There are excellent Schools-Public and Parochial-in Emmitsburg; two sound Banks, five Churches, a live Newspaper, modern Hotel accommodations, adequate Fire Department, progressive merchants, splendid physicians, good liveries, auto garages, many fraternal organizations, good railroad accommodations. COMMUNITY LOSES A GOOD CITIZEN.

Well Beloved Lawyer Succumbs To Ailment Borne Unflinchingly For Years.-Leaves a Host of Friends To Mourn Him.

Last Sunday night, Dec. 3rd, Eugene ment from which for years he had uncomplainingly suffered.

Mr. Rowe was born in Emmitsburg, place, and for a time was in business with his father. He was graduated from Pennsylvania College in 1863, the second honor man of his class, and at the outbreak of the Civil War enlisted and for a short time served in the Union Army. Subsequently he studied law in Frederick under the late Charles Levy, was admitted to the Bar and continued actively in the practice of his profession until his death. In 1883 Mr. Rowe married Miss Anna Margaret Eichelberger, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. James Eichelberger, of Emmitsburg, who died twenty-five years ago. Mr. Rowe was one of the oldest and best known members of the Frederick Bar. He was a personal friend of the late Chief Judge McSherry, the late Judge John C. Motter and the late Adolphus Fearhake. He was esteemed and held in high regard by the other members of the bar and had many warm friends at the County seat. He was remarkably active for his age his step being firm and elastic and his actions quick. Although a staunch Democrat he never held public office but usually took a keen interest in party affairs. He possessed a volume of interesting information dealing with the period of the Civil War especially with incidents relating to the Gettysburg battle.

Two sisters, Mrs. A. Stewart Hart-man, of Baltimore, and Miss Belle Rowe, of Emmitsburg, and two brothers, J. Henry Rowe and George P. Rowe, survive.

Funeral services were held in Elias Evangelical Lutheren Church, of which Mr. Rowe was a member, at 2 o'clock on Wednesday. Rev. Dr. Charles E. Reinewald, pastor of the Church, officiated, and had with him in the chancel, Rev. Leighton B. Hensley and the Rev. E. Lewis Higbee. Interment was made in the cemetery adjoining the Church. The pallbearers, cousins of the deceased, were: Luther Zimmerman, Eugene, Zimmerman, George Zimmerman, Elmer Zimmerman, J. Rowe Ohler and Edwin F. Ohler.

The Sermon.

"But thanks be unto God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jessu Christ."- I Cor. xv : 57. Preaching from the above text Rev.

Dr. Reinewald said in part: On this December day we are assembled by the divine decree, to pause in solemn silence, while we confess a sense of personal loss and genuine heart-felt sorrow. There comes the impressive admonition in this funeral hour: "Be still and know that I am God."' Our deceased brother joyously and fearlessly met his Master in the closing hours of last Lord's day. He welcomed his call, having set his house in order. Death entered his room and with soft and echoless tread bore him from the loved circle of earth to the beloved and waiting loved ones beyond. Anticipation is now realization. Jesus renders the souls' journey through the swelling stream of Jordan easy and His Divine presence calms the waves. Our brother was a familiar figure and factor in the life of our community. It has been a frequent and very true remark coming from many lips, that Mr. Eugene Rowe will be greatly missed. His passing, from us creates a painful void and vacancy. His personality was marked; his mind brilliant, well trained, gifted and resourceful. Both by native talent, and M patient toil and study, he was well equipped and qualified for the duties of legal counsellor and advocate. Unwearied devotion to the interests of his clientage was clearly manifest throughout a long and laborious career. When periods of physical pain made severe demands on brain and body, he yet bravely held his post and fought the battle. His college days have retreated into the past of half a century ago; but he carried the buoyancy and memory of those golden days with unusual zest and vividness down into the recent years. His generous services smoothed the pathway of many an anxious and em barrassed widow and orphan when legal difficulties needed solution, and when a champion to redress the wrong to protect and vindicate the right, was so welcome He had regard to the prophets' voice: "Seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow." He was fluent in speech, forceful in decision and faithful in the discharge of every trust. His voice rang spontaneously with love for little children whom he caressed and fondly cared for. Enshrined in the memory of childhood, and through all the periods of friends in maturer years, his name shall abide in honor. He was a Christian. For this reason man passes joyfully through the gates of death- M

IN DEATH OF EUGENE L. ROWE his soul singing like a harp. This chases away the frown of the last enemy, and begets a yearning to behold the Pilot Many an Emmitsburg Reader Will face to face. Our brother's attitude and unfaltering faith felt the warm grasp of a heavenly welcome, while ours is the gloom and gorge of a deep bereavement, in the valley.

Man may drink at many a fountain. L. Rowe, Esq, died in Lancaster, Pa., but thirst comes again-he may feed at the age of 72, succumbing to an ail- at many a bounteous table, but hunger returns; he may gaze at many a glorious sun-set, and feast his senses on February 6, 1845, and lived here all his and fall but restful victory and peace life. He was a son of the late George come only through the merit of the W. Rowe, a prominent merchant in this Cross of Jesus Christ. Thanks be unto God who giveth us the victory.

At the touch of time are passing away.

But the Christians victory reaches through all the countless ages, undimmed and undisturbed by any foe. Victory through Jesus Christ. What other triumph dare measure its meaning with this?

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral were: Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Hartman, Miss Annabelle Hartman, Misses Helen J. Rowe and S. Minnie Yeakle, of Baltimore, Miss Et-Eva Shulenberger, of Hagerstown, Mrs. Hesse McB. Annan, of Taneytown, Messers. Ralph Hartman and Charles R. Dix Eichelberger, of Baltimore, Dr. Joseph E. We have kept fully up to the front line in styles and notwithstanding the great advance in price of linen fabrics you will not notice any difference in values from other years here. So from the most inexpensive sheer cotton to highest grade Venise, Lace Trimmed or Finest Embroidery you pay no more than in other years. Our variety is so great that almost any kind of Embroidered or Bordered Handkerchief-be it Linen, Silk or Cotten, seen elsewhere in store or catalogue will likely be found in our stock, if not we will have something just as pretty and possibly cheaper.

Will be boxed in Christmas boxes for small extra charge.
