Miss Mary E. Brown, ex '19, Lancaster, Pa., in view of future war work, has taken up a brief business course this winter at the Lancaster Business College.

High Mass was celebrated by Very Rev. J. O. Hayden, C. M., Tuesday, January 29, at eight o'clock in honor of the feast of the Holy Agony. The students enjoyed a holiday as the feast coincided with that of St. Francis de Sales.

Despite the "dinkey" being out of commission and notwithstanding the heavy snows, the feast of St. Francis de Sales was celebrated at St. Joseph's with enthusiasm. In honor of the occasion a host of beautiful white lilies were presented to the chapel altar by the devotees of St. Francis.

The girls extend prayerful sympathy to the Misses Carmen and Amalia Gonzalez on the recent bereavement of their father, Mr. Alberto Gonzalez. The Misses Gonzalez accompanied by their brother, Mr. Marcos Gonzalez, left for their home in Costa Rica, Tuesday of this week.

The Times Picayune, a New Orleans paper, publishing the picture of Miss Ruth L. Pattison, '17, says "Miss Pattison, daughter of Mrs. Alfred T. Pattison, one of the would be debutantes of this winter instead of spending her time in frivolity is devoting her, pretty self and clever brains to canteen and relief work."

Thursday, January twenty-fourth, the girls en masse, attended the "The Birds' Christmas Carol" enacted by the children of St. Euphemia's School in St. Euphemia's Hall. Sleighs and hay wagons were the novel mode of conveyance. Miss Kathryn Gloninger, '18, added a charming collegiate touch to the afternoon's and evening's entertainment by her clear rendition of the Prelude and her stirring interpretation of Robert W. Service's "The Fool."

Tuesday night of this week, the Class of '22, produced a clever little sketch entitled "Maids, Modes, and Manners." The program follows: Chorus, The Class of '22 by the Class; Vocal Solo, My Little Grey Home in the West, Edith Gibney; Piano Solo, La Pluie D'or, Ruth Conley; Reading, Tommy's Girl, Gertrude Moran; Mandolin, The Bostonian, Agnes Cogan, Dorothy Adelsperger, Ruth Conley. Maides, Modes, Manners; Dramatis Personae: Memory, Helen Brennan; Madame Grundy, Edith Gibney; Helen of Troy, Clara Smith Grove; Tennyson's Princess, Elizabeth Mitchell; Marguerite, Marie Louise Barreto; Mephistopheles, Adelheit Fesenmeier; Gertrude, Gertrude Moran; Joan Shakespeare, Elsie Calmes; Watteau Shepherdness, Agnes Cogan; Josephine, Anna Sheahan; Priscilla, Dorothy Adelsperger; Dolly Madison, Ruth Conley; The Dummy, Margaret Gable; The Powers of Memory, Angela Becker, Ruth Conroy; Madame Foreboding, Dorothy Sheeler.

passed. The commissioners must provide $35,000 additional for schools next year. This includes provisions for the $21,000 asked by the school officials, and $13,000 for teachers' bonuses. It was reported that $1,000 has been paid for an Emmitsburg school, making a total of $35,000 extra.

Fire of unknown origin early Monday destroyed the new school house at Burkittsville, entailing a loss of about $7,000 and perhaps more.

Cord on Hat Denotes Service of Wearer.

Just as the sleeve chevrons and bars, stars and eagles on the shoulder proclaim ranking officers, the hat cord denotes the branch of service each private has entered.

Light blue signifies Infantry; scarlet, Artillery; yellow, Cavalry; buff, Quartermasters Corps; scarlet and white, Engineers' Corps; orange and white, Signal Corps; scarlet and black, Ordnance; black and white, field clerk; maroon, Medical Corps; black and gold, officers; silver and black, adjutant general's clerk; green, instructor Home Guards; green and white, Home Guards. These cords are worn only on service hats.

Cadet aviators wear as hat bands inch and a half white ribbons and on coat collars insignia representing the aviation branch of the Signal Corps, propeller blades.

Only 6,080 Saloons in Chicago Now.

During 1917 a total of 920 saloons in Chicago went out of business, involving a loss of revenue to the city of $920,000.

This was disclosed at a meeting of the finance committee of the Council, which had the annual budget under consideration. At the beginning of 1917 there were 7000 saloons in Chicago.

When You Have A Cold.

It is when you have a severe cold that you appreciate the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Frank Crocker, Pana, Ill., writes: "Our five year old son Paul caught a severe cold last winter that settled on his lungs and he had terrible coughing spells. We were greatly worried about him as the medicine we gave him did not help him in the least. A neighbor spoke so highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that I got a bottle of it. The first dose benefited him so much that I continued giving it to him until he was cured."

The Senior class plans to present a play on February 22. This will be followed by the annual Purcell Lyceum show on or about March 17.

Lebanon Valley College was obliged to cancel their basket ball game with the Varsity owing to the fact that four of their players have entered the army.

In compliance with the annual custom an Inter-Class Basket Ball League has been formed. Several games have been played and there has been much interest displayed in the league. The Sophomores are leading.

Manager Carroll is progressing well with his base ball schedule and has already listed some strong teams. Coach Thompson has announced that he will call out the baseball candidates in a short time for indoor work.

The College has been invited to be represented in the annual Field Carnival, to be held by the University of Pennsylvania next April. A similar request has been received from Johns Hopkins University relative to their Indoor Meet next month.

For the second time this year the basketball team had to postpone its game with Gettysburg College because the heavy snow rendered transportation to that place practically impossible. It was hoped at first that the trip might be made with sleighs but the last storm

Inter-Class League.

The league was opened by a fast game in which the Juniors won from the Seniors, score 30 to 13. The game was well played and the losers put up a better fight than the score would indicate. Culhane, Daniels and Cogan played best for the Juniors while Sadler was the highest scorer for his team.

In one of the most exciting games seen on the local court in years, the Sophomores won from the Freshmen by one point. The game was close throughout and it was only a sensational shot by Roche in the last minute of play that gave victory to his team. Roche and Cain were a big help to their team while Keeley and Gallagher played well for the lower class men. Summary:

INTERESTING LETTER FROM ONE OF THE BOYS "OVER THERE."

Regent Palace Hotel, Piccadilly Circus, London, W. I.

Dear ——— What a lonesome time it was for me this Christmas: being so far away from home on this big day is far from enjoyable and I earnestly hope it will be the last one away from home. I spent the day as usual going to Mass early and receiving Holy Communion. Had intended going to Mass at midnight but the nearest Church was miles away and it was a bad time to go out in case of an air raid. On the way home from Church was stopped by a kind old American woman, who saw me in church, and wished a merry Christmas. It was a whole hearted wish too. The rest of the day I spent at the Hospital working and enjoying the entertainments given to the wounded soldiers. There was a piano in each ward: I played in a number of the wards and accompanied some singers. Then tea was served very formally by the nurse in charge of each ward. The rooms were decorated very nicely, many having beautiful trees which were decorated by the patients. I received the box in good condition and enjoyed the contents. ——— said while eating the cake, if he closed his eyes he could almost imagine himself back in America. We have no idea when we shall be moved: the general rule is to give about four days' notice. Hotel life has grown very tiresome there being no fire in the bedrooms and only a small reading room which at any hour it used as a sleeping quarter by many of the older people so we have decided to get a small bachelor's flat. The one we have chosen has two bedrooms, sitting room and bath and costs about eleven pounds ($55) a month. Last Tuesday we were out looking at one and were caught in an air raid. We took refuge in a coal cellar made of concrete and were there for ———. Finally being cold and hungry, we attempted to get down town to a restaurant. There was a lull in the firing for forty minutes and just as we got off the bus, a bomb dropped about 200 feet away forcing us to take cover in another cellar, where we stayed for an hour. We finally got supper about 11 P. M. From where we were we could hear and see the shells bursting and hear the shrapnel dropping in the street. In all we have had five air raids since being here. Have not had a letter from ——— yet and cannot understand why she has not written: It has seemed ages since I saw her. If she knew how I missed her she would write every week. I sent you all a small gift for Christmas, mailing them about December 9th so look them up at the post office. Had two letters from ——— and ——— written in October. They have sent me a Christmas box but as yet it has not arrived. I received a big box of chocolates from ———: it was a surprise and welcome. What is his address? Received a letter from ——— with considerable news in it. Have met no more that I know but have heard that ——— was sent to France. Have enjoyed the best of health and gotten so stout have been forced to get a new suit. I wore the new underclothes for the first time last week and they are most comfortable. We have had some fairly cold weather but for the most part it has been mild. Experienced one of the famous London fogs last week for forty-eight hours. It was impossible to see across the street and it irritates the eyes and throat very much. Was to dinner last week with ——— the chaplain at the hospital. He entertained me royally. Another Doctor from the hospital by the name of ——— had his right arm broken in an auto collision. When you write give me some of our old family names and residences in Ireland, as well as ——— folks. If I can get a week or ten days furlough I am going to spend it over in Ireland. Will be sending some money home in January by the American Express Co. Will send it direct to you. About two weeks ago took a chance on a lottery the prize being £1000 ($5,000) the winning number was four below the one I held. That was fairly close. When you write tell me if there was duty due on the table linen. If not, and you want more I can send you more, for I think it is rather cheap here. With love to all and with best wishes for a Happy New Year. I am ———, P. S. Received your birthday letter on Christmas Eve. Tried to cable before Christmas but they would not take the order.

SPORT NOTES

BY "MIKE" THOMPSON.

The International baseball league has not as yet decided on a president to succeed Edward Barrow. True Mr. Barrow has not resigned as yet but it is a foregone conclusion that he will at the next meeting February 12. Although he was not asked to resign, the league moguls cut his salary from $7,500 a year to $2,500, a rather polite insinuation that Sir Edward was no longer needed to head the minor organization. From all accounts Mr. Barrow made a capable leader, but the position of president of any baseball league is far from being a bed of roses. Ban Johnson of the American league seems to be the only president that seems to hold the upper hand and hold the job for any length of time. Just at present John Tener, the head of the National league, after two years experience is having his troubles and rumors are already flying that he will have a successor soon.

Nap Lajoie, without a doubt one of the greatest ball players that ever trotted on a field is very much in demand for the coming season by the managers of the different major league teams. Lajoie as leader of the Toronto International league last year made a wonderful record in capturing the pennant. He not only won first honors for his team but he led the league in batting as well. Unless the International league goes to smash, which at time looks likely, it is doubtful if the Toronto people will let the big fellow get away from the Canadian city where he is very popular and also a big drawing card. Even in the event of the International circuit going out of business it would seem unwise for Lajoie to return to the big show as a player. He is now over 40 years of age, and, while he would be a valuable asset to any big league club, he could hardly be expected to star. Lajoie has had all the honors of a big league player and if he decides to try the big game again he deserves a birth as a manager. He showed his worth in that capacity with Cleveland while his work at Toronto last year places him among the top-notchers.

Twenty five years ago, items about ball players and the game in general that were jotted down as idle gossip, to be forgotten the next day make more interesting reading today than accounts of modern pitching, duels or slugging matches, says Fred Lieb in the New York Sun. Many of the stars of those days and the prediction as to their future will prove of interest to our readers who followed up the National game for years, but due to the course of events have forgotten about the past-masters. Here is what the various sport writers had to say a quarter of a century ago about the then young ball tossers and game. Make your comparison of today.

Baltimore critics say that Third Baseman Muggsy McGraw has made good and will cover the position regularly. Connie Mack is catching regularly for the Pittsburgh team now. This tall chap has a good whip, but does not seem to be much of a general behind the plate. Manager Buckenberger is working hard to make a thinking ball player of him.

Baltimore is trying out a new right fielder named Keeler. He played once with Brooklyn. He looks too light for fast company.

Outfielder Billy Sunday says he will open a pool and billiard room when he is through with baseball.

Ban Johnson, sporting editor of the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, writes that the collapse of the Brotherhood means that never again will there be an attempt to establish a second major league. Johnson is right.

Pitcher Hank O'Day of the Washington team complains that he is getting a raw deal by the umpires. What Hank thinks of the umpires would not be fit to print.

Members of the Cincinnati team are kicking because the new rule which prohibits them from drinking at the park while in uniform.

Bid McPhee, Cincinnati's second baseman, still plays without a glove.

Baseball is growing. Nearly 10,000 were at the Polo Grounds when Amos Rusie shut out Boston. Extra ticket windows were opened.

Tener, the big pitcher of the Chicago team, has quit baseball. Foolish move, when he could have picked up from $1,500 to $2,000 of easy money for several years to come.

Chris von der Ahe says that his catchers have discovered Ed. Delahanty's weakness.

Chicago has offered $4,000 for Al Selbach, the star outfielder of the Washington team. This is a very big and tempting offer, but Washington decided to keep him.

Charles Nichols of the Boston team is a wonderful pitcher, but few fans think he is worth $2,500 a season. This is the salary he held up Boston for.

First baseman Charley Comiskey is said to be a sucker for a high curve ball. What a difference a few years make in the lives of men.

As it is well known athletics in general are being carried on to a large extent in all our cantonments with wonderful results in getting the boys in shape and keeping them in good condition, besides the recreation they derive. Many athletic directors of the different institutions have taken up the work as instructors at these camps, and it is rumored that some of these men will probably soon be commissioned captains in the national army. It is believed, that this will meet with favorable action on the part of the authorities. The plan applies only to the thoroughly trained directors who are capable of directing all branches of athletic activities. This of course would not apply to boxers or men that are only familiar with one particular branch of sport. There are not many that are fully qualified to undertake the work of directing all our great games, men of that caliber are indeed rare. So it would seem that men possessed with these qualifications and the responsibilities they would have to assume might entitle them to army rank.

It looks just now that we are going to see more activity in college competition this coming Spring than we did during the football season. Many of the larger institutions that held back in the Fall are now shaping plans and arranging schedules for the Spring campaign. Princeton has her baseball and track managers at work and it is said that Yale will also take up the same work. With these two institutions, always strong in all branches of college sports, paving the way, there is every reason to feel that the other seats of learning will get in line. If there was any drawback to the football season, and there are some whose thoughts ran that way, it was no doubt due to the fact that larger places only placed informal teams on fields eliminating all arrangements for a rival game.

Local Farmers to Get Nitrate. Notice has been given to P. A. Hauer, Agriculture Agent for Frederick County, that the U. S. Department of Agriculture will sell at cost a supply of nitrate of soda to farmers in Frederick County.

The nitrate was purchased through the War Industries Board under the authority of the Food Control Act as a part of the program for stimulating agricultural production. It will be unloaded at Atlantic ports and the price will be $75.50 a ton, free on board at port of arrival. Farmers are to pay in addition freight from port of arrival and the State fertilizer tag fee.

Applications for a part of the 100,000 tons of nitrate bought by the government will be received only from actual farmers or owners or holders of farms for use on their land, and may be made through County Agent, P. A. Hauer, or through the member of a local committee consisting of David Zentz, of near Thurmont.

No money will be required with the application but upon notice from the County Agent farmers who have signed applications must deposit with a local bank, association, or individual, designated by the Secretary of Agriculture to act as the farmers' agent for that purpose, money to cover the cost of the fertilizer except the freight charge. After the money is transmitted to Washington the nitrate will be shipped to the farmers. If applications for nitrate exceed the supply of about 100,000 tons the government will allot the supply on a pro rata basis among those who applied. Applications must be received by February 4.

FREDERICK COUNTY.

Frederick is next to the largest of the counties of Maryland. In population and wealth it ranks next to Baltimore county.

EMMITSBURG.

In all Western Maryland—the beauty spot and the garden spot of the State—there is no town more attractive than Emmitsburg.

No people are more wide-awake, more knowable, more courteous to strangers than Emmitsburgians.

The location of Emmitsburg is ideal; the surrounding scenery is unmatched; the climate is notably healthful; its water—pure mountain spring water—cannot be surpassed.

Mount Saint Mary's College and Ecclesiastical Seminary—with an enviable reputation extending over 108 years—is located here; St. Joseph's College and Academy for young ladies—equally as noted during its 107 years of splendid achievement—is also here.

There are excellent Schools—Public and Parochial—in Emmitsburg; two sound Banks, five Churches, a live Newspaper, modern Hotel accommodations, adequate Fire Department, progressive merchants, splendid physicians, good liveries, auto garages, many fraternal organizations, good railroad accommodations.

There is business to be had in Emmitsburg; there are Factory Sites available. If you contemplate changing your place of residence—come to Emmitsburg, Frederick County, Md.

THE BENEFIT OF THE DOUBT.

As a general rule none is so critical as he who has the least knowledge about the person or the thing criticized. Absence of facts, not being cognizant of the end to be accomplished, not knowing the real reason or motive that actuates—none of these seems to abash the chronic censor.

Just at this time it might not be amiss to call to the attention of those who are quick on the trigger the advice of a former president to his son. James A. Garfield was the adviser and the admonition was to his son, Dr. Harry Garfield, now Fuel Administrator.

No doubt that incident has recurred to Dr. Garfield many times lately, for he, like others under the Administration, has been receiving a baptism of very unfair criticism. But after all, men who indulge in this sort of thing are not exactly the men whom one would choose as likely to make a success of the failures they ascribe to others.

PERSONAL PIQUE.

"At every trifle scorn to take offence That always shows great pride or little sense."

A man who easily takes umbrage, flies into fits of pique has not the courage to fight shoulder to shoulder, because his chronic disposition is a luxury, largely restricted to people of puny, commonplace minds.

An umbra is an overlapping of shadows, but these are easily pierced by a shaft of strong light. An umbra may be brushed aside in the prudent thought of a calm moment.

Trifling matters hinder activity, just as dead leaves clog a mountain stream. Utopia, when discovered will be utterly devoid both of giving and taking umbrage. There will be men with big hearts and large vision and big thoughts who will reck little of the moths that dance in the sunbeams.

THE OTHER SIDE.

For ages and ages the poets have sung, of the wonder and beauty of snow; but about that same stuff a good plumber could write, a whole heap that the poets don't know.

No, Piscatella, never try to settle a dispute while filling an aquarium—the only thing really settled will be the fish.

RATHER a discerning gent, who observed: "If news-print goes up, why does writing paper remain stationary?"

"WHERE there's a will there's a way"—for the lawyers to get the best part of your estate.

WHAT a sense of humor that man had who wrote, "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

"U. S. Sending Sweets to France."—And aren't they pretty?

"WHAT They Are Wearing."—Whoa Bill! Don't go too far!

LET'S have a snowless day!

War Demands More Work in Chemistry

From the annual report of the Secretary of the Interior: "In this department we have during the past year had a glimpse of the expanding romance of chemical study. We have found adventure in the search for the hidden secrets of petroleum, natural gas, and coal tar, of coal smoke, and the refuse from a hundred furnaces and smokestacks.

A Hawaiian grand opera—the first ever produced—written by Charmian London, wife of the late Jack London, and Raine Bennett, is to make its appearance during 1918, Bennett declared in Oakland, Cal.

IS DEADLY FOE OF HUMANITY

One Thing That Is More Powerful Than All the Armies of the World Combined.

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world. I have destroyed more men than all the wars of the world. I am more deadly than bullets and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of siege guns.

DIETARY RULES FOR THE AGED

Total Amount of Food Consumed Must Be Diminished and Vegetables Should Be Used Freely.

Owing to the diversity in extent and character of the senile changes in different individuals, it is impossible to arrange for aged persons a general dietary based upon calories, proteins, etc., but it is possible to make some broad generalizations, and this is what Dr. I. L. Nascher did at a meeting of the Medical Association of the Greater City of New York.

Fifteen on the Fifteenth.

Were I brought to believe that a birthday celebration is ever an affair of unmixed loveliness, I should perhaps be brought to say it concerning one for fifteen on the fifteenth.

Exequatur in Diplomatic Use.

Exequatur is a Latin word, third person singular, present tense, subjunctive mood of the verb exequi, to execute or perform. It means "he may act," and is the technical term applied to the permit which a government grants a foreign consul to act within its borders.

A False Idea.

"Some people say that motives do not matter so long as we get results," says a local minister. "It is this mistaken notion that furnishes most of the business to our divorce courts."

Suspected It.

"The people in the flat opposite bought their piano at auction." "I suspected as much; it's going, going, going all the time."

Next comes William Boyd Allison, of Iowa, whose combined services in the two bodies totals 43 years and 5 months.

CORN WILL WIN
DEMOCRACY'S WAR
America's Greatest Cereal Crop
Is Now Moving to Market.
MAINSTAY IN NATION'S CRISIS.

Surplus Wheat of the United States
Has Been Sent to Famine Threatened Europe.
America's great corn crop, exceeding 3,000,000,000 bushels, will save the world's food situation, officials of the United States food administration believe.
Corn is the nation's best food cereal,
housewives are beginning to realize.
It contains all the elements needed to keep the body in a state of health and when used according to the scores of tried recipes, especially when combined with an added portion of oil or fat, will sustain life indefinitely. Indian warriors in colonial days lived on parched corn alone for many days at a time, and at Valley Forge parched corn was at times the sole ration of the Continental soldiers.

Owing to transportation difficulties caused by the war the corn crop moved more slowly to market this year than ever before. Now, however, the cereal is reaching the millers and consumers.
In the meantime the nation's surplus wheat has been sent to Europe.
Today there are approximately 30 bushels of corn for every American.
This quantity is greater by five bushels than in former years.
Corn has become the nation's mainstay in the crisis of war.

Just as this cereal saved the first American colonists from famine on many occasions, just as it served as a staple food during the War of the Revolution and during the Civil War, King Corn has again come to the front in the nation's battle with autocracy.

Corn meal is finding greatly increased use in the making of ordinary white bread. Hundreds of housewives and many of the larger bakers are mixing 20 per cent. corn meal with wheat flour to make leavened bread. This kind of a mixture is worked and baked in the same recipes and with the same methods that apply to straight wheat bread.

Corn bread—using corn meal entirely—is gaining a greater popularity than ever before. Housewives are coming to realize that every pound of wheat saved in America means a pound of wheat released for shipment to the nations with which America is associated in the war.

There are a score of corn products that today possess unusual importance for Americans. Corn syrup for sweet-ening corn cakes and buckwheat cakes and for use in the kitchen instead of granulated sugar is one of the leading products made from corn.

Corn oil, excellent for frying and for every other purpose filled by salad oils, is appearing on the market in large quantities. It comes from the germ of the corn.

MADE-IN-GERMANY LIES CIRCULATED IN CANADA

Canada is also having trouble with Made-in-Germany lies calculated to hinder Canadian food conservation according to an official statement received from the Canadian food controller by the United States food administration.

The stories bothering Canada are of the same general character as those the United States food administrator recently denounced in this country, such as the ridiculous salt and blueing famine fakes and the report that the government would seize housewives' stocks of home canned goods.

The Canadian food controller estimates that when the people listen to and pass on such stories, each one has the power of destruction that lies in a battalion of soldiers.

"Stories without even a vestige of foundation have been scattered broadcast," said the Canadian statement.
"Nor have they come to life casually.
They have started simultaneously in different parts of the country and in each instance have been calculated to arouse public indignation.

"They are insidious, subtle, persistent. Bit by bit they dissipate public trust, the great essential in the work of food control.

"It lies with every individual to forbear from criticism; to refrain from passing on the vagrant and harmful story, and thus the more effectively to co-operate in work which is going to mean more than the majority of people yet realize."

THE UNITED STATES FOOD ADMINISTRATION SAYS:

There is no royal road to food conservation. We can only accomplish this by the voluntary action of our whole people, each element in proportion to its means.
It is a matter of equality of burden; a matter of minute saving and substitution at every point in the 20,000,000 kitchens, on the 20-000,000 dinner tables, and in the 2,000,000 manufacturing, wholesale and retail establishments of the country.

This Is Our Winter
of Test
SERVING food is a local problem for each community. Prices and definite rules for every one cannot be formulated. It is a duty for each one to eat only so much as is necessary to maintain the human body
healthy and strong. This winter of 1918 is the period when it is to be tested here in America whether our people are capable of voluntary individual sacrifice to save the world. That is the purpose of the organization of the United States Food Administration—by voluntary effort to provide the food that the world needs.
U. S. FOOD ADMINISTRATION

NEED BIG HERDS
Europe's Meat Supply Must Come
From America.
Warring Nations Have Depleted Live Stock at Enormous Rate, Even Killing Dairy Cattle For Food.

American stock breeders are being asked to conserve their flocks and herds in order to meet Europe's tremendous demands for meats during the war and probably for many years afterward.

The United States food administration reports that American stock raisers have shown a disposition to co-operate with the government in increasing the nation's supply of live stock.

Germany today is probably better supplied with live stock than any other European nation. When the German armies made their big advance into France and then retreated virtually all the cattle in the invaded territory—approximately 1,800,000 head—were driven behind the German lines.

But in England—where 2,400,000 acres of pasture lands have been turned into grain fields—the cattle herds are decreasing rapidly. One of the reasons apparently is the declining maximum price scale adopted by the English as follows: For September, $17.76 per 100 pounds; October, $17.28;
November and December, $16.08; January, $14.40. The effect of these prices was to drive beef animals on the market as soon as possible.

In France the number of cattle as well as the quality have shown an enormous decline during the war.
Where France had 14,807,000 head of cattle in 1913, she now has only 12-341,900, a decrease of 16.6 per cent.
And France is today producing only one gallon of milk compared to two and one-half gallons before the war.

Denmark and Holland have been forced to sacrifice dairy herds for beef
because of the lack of necessary feed.

Close study of the European meat situation has convinced the Food Administration that the future problem of America lies largely in the production of meat producing animals and dairy products rather than in the production of cereals for export when the war will have ceased.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT HELPS PAY FOR BREAD

There has been much misunderstanding about the bread program in England. It is true that the English man buys a loaf of bread for less than an American can, but it is poorer bread, and the British government is paying $200,000,000 a year toward the cost of it.

All the grain grown in Great Britain is taken over by the government at an arbitrary price and the imported wheat purchased on the markets at the prevailing market price. This is turned over to the mills by the government at a price that allows the adulterated war bread loaf of four pounds to sell at 18 cents, the two pound loaf at 9 cents and the one pound loaf at 5 cents.

In France, under conditions somewhat similar, but with a larger extraction, the four pound loaf sells for 16 cents.

MAKING MEATLESS DAYS PERMANENT.

In the meatless menu there is a fertile field for developing new and nourishing dishes, according to E. H. Niles, writing in the Hotel Gazette, who believes that the present shortage of meat and fats will not end with the coming of peace, but may grow more acute and continue for five or six years, thus making it worth while to develop menus of grain, vegetables and fish on a more or less permanent basis. Meat can be replaced by cereals and other protein foods, or may be served in very small portions as a flavor for other food. In making up meatless menus this author finds our American Creole and southern cuisine
a broad field for investigation.

United States Senator William Hughes, senior Senator from New Jersey died in Mercer Hospital, in Trenton N. J., after a long illness.
Steamboats and barges valued at millions of dollars are either lost or imperilled along the Ohio River today by ice floes that have blocked the river from Cairo to Columbus. Scores of vessels are in the path of a huge ice gorge which began moving down the river early today.
Great Britain and Canada have agreed that the United States may draft their nationals in this country into the Army, Secretary Lansing announced to the Senate today.
Two hundred and fifty thousand workmen are striking in Berlin and 50,000 more are expected to go out before night. The entire war industry is at a standstill, according to dispatches in the Berlin Vorwaerts. The movement is spreading to provincial towns. Danzig and Hamburg are now affected.

The Duke of Chevreuse was killed in Paris while making a test flight in an airplane.
Thursday.
After more than 42 years of service, Col. Frank N. Jones, Seventh United States Infantry, was placed on the retired list of the Army on account of age. Colonel Jones is a native of Mississippi and a graduate of West Point in the class of 1879. Recently he has been stationed at Camp Greene, North Carolina.
America's fighting forces suffered more casualties today through a German raid. Two American soldiers were wounded, one seriously and one was taken prisoner by the enemy in a sortie against a small American salient, early this morning.
An additional credit of $65,000,000 to Great Britain for January and of $210,000,000 for February was announced by the Treasury today. This brings the British total to date for 1918 to $460,000,000 and the grand war total to all the Allies to $4,525,000,000.

LETTERS FROM CAMP HANCOCK
Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga.
Dear.....
Camp life is a new experience for me, but so far I have enjoyed it. The out of door existence is especially novel and you should see me now. I have gained twenty-seven pounds, which speaks well for Uncle Sam's treatment of his boys. Yesterday I was made Corporal—the first rung of the ladder—but every thing must have its beginning, you know. I have charge of a tent of nine men and a squad of seven. The job was not a gift either; it required a stiff examination. But it was worth it, because I got a raise of six dollars and no longer have to do "kitchen work." The latter is very important, as I have long ago decided that I am better out of the kitchen, both for myself and for others.
Last night Captain X. gave a talk to the "non-coms." I would like to tell you some things he said but army secrets are not like those of school girls. All the boys want to go to France and get into the mix-up over there—yours truly is with them in that. There are some French Officers in Camp. They look great in their light blue uniforms, blue hats with red cords, but for me khaki every time. Just got a box from home containing everything from cigarettes to sardines and believe me it received a hearty welcome. I'm not slapping army food but boxes are a real treat down here in the sunny south.
The fellows are waiting to sign the pay roll—that sounds good to me. This A. M. we had our first snow fall—you should have heard the boys cheer, but it is getting cold for guard work, especially when guarding at night. Sweaters, scarfs, etc., feel mighty good, so tell the girls to keep on knitting.
Must get to studying now. It surely seems queer to be memorizing rules, etc., but it's no joke; it's like going to school all over again except school was play to this. It's real life though I like it more each day. Tonight a crowd of us are going to the Knights of Columbus Hall where there are all kinds of amusements and we sure do take advantage of them. Last week S..... and I went into Augusta to treat ourselves to dinner. We had to go in a Ford, but we got there just the same. The southern people are very hospitable to the Sammies and try to make us feel "at home," but regardless of that I am looking forward to a furlough. Write often because you know it is said that the "Camp boys" watch the mailman with eager eyes and are disappointed when their name is not on the list. You may call it "doing your bit" if you wish, but be sure you do it.
.....X.

"Uncle Bill's" Own Column

Dr. W. N. E. P. Tansy

Dear Uncle Bill:
What is the most deadly weapon yet invented?
CLAUDINA.
And you, a woman, ask this question? The tongue, of course.
Be an optimist! If your biscuits are like bullets give them to the government for ammunition. "Food will win the war."
Dear Uncle Bill:
What's a good motto for a grave digger? I hold that job and I'd like to have something appropriate on my bill heads.
BRITTLE.
How would "Life is not worth living" suit you? It would be particularly attractive under a cut of a smiling skull and bones.
Dear Uncle Bill:
They say a man can't succeed unless he pushes himself forward. Would you try it if you were I?
SUCCESS.
Yes, I would. But while doing it I'd remember the old negro maxim: "De forwardest pig make de furst rasher."
Dear Uncle Bill:
I can't make people believe I'm an Elk, notwithstanding I wear an Elk charm. What would you do?
HAROLD.
I don't believe it either, Harold. Wearing the charm doesn't prove anything. You may smell of gasoline, but that don't make you an automobile, does it? What would I do? I'd try to forget it.
Dear Uncle Bill:
In taking medicine is it wise to follow all the directions on the bottle?
MEDICINE.
Not necessarily. The really important one to follow is: "Keep the bottle tightly corked."
Dear Uncle Bill:
Please give me an example of "true consideration." I have been asked to make a speech at the Casket Trimmers Convention and I want to cite some instance in which true consideration was manifest.
JACK.
Rather a coincidence that just at the time your request came in I was reading about a grocer who had sold 50 pounds of lard to an old lady. Said he, "Charles, make that order two pounds short. It's for a delicate widow, and she will have to carry that can up three flights of stairs. I don't want to overtax her strength." How's that?
Dear Uncle Bill:
What is the meaning of "He's as changeable as a chameleon?"
READER.
You belie your name. If you had ooked this up in any book of reference you would have gotten a full explanation. However, read the following story and you'll have a clearer idea of the vagaries of the little animal you inquire about: A man, visiting the home of a friend, became interested in a pet chameleon. Meeting his friend a few months afterwards he inquired about the little animal. "It is dead," said the owner. "Dead? Why how did that happen?" inquired the friend. "Well," said the owner, "it was very accommodating and seemed to take pleasure in exhibiting its accomplishments. I would put it upon a piece of red cloth and it would turn red; then I would put it upon a green cloth and it would turn green, and so on; but one day a visitor insisted that I put it on a piece of Scotch plaid and the poor little thing killed itself trying to match the colors."

The year of 1917 established new high production records for corn, oats, rye, white and sweet potatoes, tobacco, beans and onions.
Government estimates of the production of petroleum in the United States in 1917 place it at nearly 14 per cent greater than any previous year.
To accomplish the defeat of the Germans the United States must send from five to seven million American soldiers to France, says former President Taft.

Less Men in Hospitals in U. S.
A recent comparison of health reports from troops in the United States and Expeditionary Forces shows the admission rate to hospitals to be greater among the men in France.
Admissions to hospitals in one week in the Expeditionary Forces, figured on a basis of 1,000 men, were 45.2; in the United States the rate was 33.7 per 1,000 men. In the overseas forces the non-effective rate (the total number of men excused from duty for any injury or ailment, whether or not ordered to hospital) was 54.1 per 1,000 men; in the troops in the United States it was 46.4.

Dear Uncle Bill:
What is the meaning of "He's as changeable as a chameleon?"
READER.
You belie your name. If you had ooked this up in any book of reference you would have gotten a full explanation. However, read the following story and you'll have a clearer idea of the vagaries of the little animal you inquire about: A man, visiting the home of a friend, became interested in a pet chameleon. Meeting his friend a few months afterwards he inquired about the little animal. "It is dead," said the owner. "Dead? Why how did that happen?" inquired the friend. "Well," said the owner, "it was very accommodating and seemed to take pleasure in exhibiting its accomplishments. I would put it upon a piece of red cloth and it would turn red; then I would put it upon a green cloth and it would turn green, and so on; but one day a visitor insisted that I put it on a piece of Scotch plaid and the poor little thing killed itself trying to match the colors."

A VALUABLE TEAM

Fertilizers, like a strong, vigorous, well-bred team of horses, are most profitable to the farmer when conditions are nearest perfect for their work; when they are suited to their task, and when they are properly handled.

Study the picture closely. Is the importance of organic matter, proper tillage, sufficient drainage, the use of lime, the proper handling of the seed, or the control of disease and insect pests exaggerated? The stronger the running gear, the bigger the load of wheat the wagon will carry.

The better attention paid to the preparation of the soil, the handling of the seed, and the control of diseases, the bigger the yield of two-dollar-a-bushel wheat commercial fertilizers will produce, if they are applied in sufficient quantity and are of suitable analysis.

When you take up the lines the next time and drive what you consider the best team of horses in your county, remember that you keep that team because it is profitable. Remember, also, that it would not be profitable if it got beyond your control. Still further, remember the fact that the larger amount of work you can get the team to do, the more profitable it is to you. At the same time, think of the close analogy that fertilizers for your wheat crop, corn, potatoes and other crops bear to your team of horses. The better you feed the crops, the larger the yield. Recall, furthermore, the fact that your good team could not do its valuable work if any of the important parts of the wagon were broken. Fertilizers, in the same way, will attain their highest results and be most profitable when you have done everything within your power to make conditions most perfect for crop production.

High priced crops are worth help. Make conditions best for the fertilizer "team" and it will return largest profits to you this year. Top-dress your winter wheat with fertilizer.

TRENCH WARFARE DEMANDS BURLAP

To Save Burlap, Fertilizers and Other Commodities Must Be Shipped in Large-Sized Bags.

Jute for burlap comes from India—that is it used to. Just now this all important fiber either stays in India, or on its way to our shores gets no further than the European battlefront. Because of the resulting shortage fertilizers have to be shipped in large bags, ten to the ton, instead of 12, 16, and even 20 to the ton, as was formerly the common practice. To men unaccustomed to handling these heavier packages this means inconvenience and even actual hardship.

Using the larger bags economizes burlap—in fact saves 15 million yards for more urgent needs. What farmer would not be glad to share this inconvenience if he but realized that one of the big reasons for the burlap shortage is that our soldier boys are using it in the trenches? Every soldier on going to the firing line takes with him one or more burlap bags. During the day, as the embankments are worn down by continuous shell fire, these bags are filled with earth or sand and then at nightfall are thrown up to repair the parapet. Here it is not a question of convenience—it is a question of necessity. The boys in the trenches must have first call on the burlap supplies.

The larger bags even have certain advantages. When emptied they may be used to carry crops from the field to the bin or crib; a 200-pound bag holds two bushels of potatoes. Very few men ever carry two sacks of potatoes in a single trip, even though each sack contains but one bushel. On the other hand most men can easily carry two bushels when they are in the same bag, and hence do this part of their work more rapidly. So it happens that the large bag becomes a very real labor saver, and this at a time when all farmers must cut corners to make most productive a labor supply all too short.

There are other advantages for the larger bag. It is much more useful as wrapping material than are the smaller sizes. It can be cut up for packing purposes, and used in other ways. Once a farmer becomes accustomed to this size he never returns to the smaller sizes. Whole states in the south have for years used nothing but the 200-pound size.

REDUCING SOFT CORN LOSSES.

The 1917 corn crop is very poor in quality. Much of it is soft, so soft that it falls to keep in storage. A recent crop report from the United States Department of Agriculture indicates an average condition of 75.2 for the 1917 corn crop over against an 84 per cent average for the last ten years; this valuing mature corn at 100.

Early frosts and cold, late growing seasons are responsible for much of the soft corn loss in the corn belt. We cannot control the weather but by proper cultural methods, we can hasten maturity of the corn by from one to two weeks, thus ripening the crop before the arrival of disastrous frosts. Cutting short the growing season of the crop seven to fourteen days will in the majority of cases, make nine ears out of ten marketable instead of two ears out of three as during the past season.

Proper Varieties Essential.

One great cause for the large amount of soft corn produced is the planting of varieties which are not adapted to climatic conditions under which they are grown. In our fervor for bigger crops, we have often gone South for large yielding varieties which require longer growing seasons than prevail in most sections of the corn belt. Most of these varieties are large-eared and weigh heavily because they contain a larger percentage of moisture than our northern grown varieties, and thus mislead the farmer but not the grain dealer, for much of the grading is done on a basis of moisture content.

Balanced Plantfood Insures Crops.

Perhaps the biggest reason for the large amount of soft corn produced in 1917 and in other years, is the lack of sufficient available plantfood in the soil to give the crop a quick start to enable it to take advantage of every growing day and to properly fill the ears and hasten maturity. All other conditions being equal, the use of sufficient amounts of a well-balanced, available plantfood will shorten the growing season of a corn crop from ten to fourteen days. This ten to fourteen days often means a difference between a crop of marketable ears and a crop which is hardly worth harvesting.

MAKING MANURE MORE VALUABLE

Manure Re-enforced With Fertilizer Gives Largest Yields.

With the prospect of a decided shortage of plant food supplies, stable manure takes on increased importance in crop production. It has not yet reached the point where it is worth from $6 to $10 per ton, as some would have us believe, but it is certainly worth enough to justify better care and attention than it has been getting.

So much has been written about the saving of manure, but so much yet remains to be done by the farmer that we are led to believe the recommendations have been too complicated to follow, or else that the gain has not been worth the price. There are, however, three things which may easily be done by any farmer, to increase the crop producing value of stable manure on his farm from 50 to 100 per cent, and these without any material increase either in labor or capital.

The Canadian field reports find a ton of fresh manure a little more valuable than a ton of rotted manure (made from two tons of fresh manure). Therefore, we get twice as much value from manure when we haul it direct to the field, instead of throwing it into a barnyard to rot.

The Pennsylvania agricultural experiment station found that manure spread at the rate of six tons per acre returns $3.29 per ton in crop increase, while when spread at the rate of ten tons per acre it returns only $2.29 per ton.

Re-Enforce With Fertilizer.

Manure is weak in the element phosphorus, and benefits immensely from the addition of phosphoric acid. By adding about one-half a sack of acid phosphate to each ton of manure, the Ohio experiment station increased the crop producing value of a ton of manure at least 50 per cent.

The plant food in ordinary manure is only about three-fifths as effective as the plant food of commercial fertilizer. For this reason manure should always be supplemented with available fertilizer so that crops may be given a quick start in the early spring.

By handling manure as it should be handled—supplementing with available fertilizer and re-enforcing it with acid phosphate—we will be able to make our present supply of fertilizer and manure more effective in the production of food crops.

ASSIST GOVERNMENT BY ORDERING ALL YOUR FARM SUPPLIES NOW.

The great need of the railroads just now is cars, and more cars—that it may care for normal traffic and assure the extra burden of troop and munition movements. But it cannot get more cars over night, or tomorrow, or the next day. Thus it must try to make its cars carry more—make one car do the work which two cars did before the war. This is where you can help.

When a dealer gets an order for farm supplies, machinery, feed or coal, he holds it until he gets more to go with it—if he has time. If you get your orders in early this year, you will make the dealer happy, facilitate transportation, aid the government, and help yourself by insuring delivery before the time when goods are needed.

IMPROVING THE 1918 WHEAT CROP

Top Dress With Manure and Fertilizer and Increase the Yield.

The bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture reports an increase of four per cent in the acreage of fall-sown wheat, as compared with that sown in the fall of 1916. This would be highly encouraging, were it not for the fact that much of this is in poor condition, is in fact ten per cent under the average condition of the last ten years. Unless the coming spring is remarkably favorable for the development of winter wheat, the 1918 crop will be even smaller than that of 1917.

We have but one more chance for increasing our 1918 bread-grain crop, and this is by top-dressing either with fertilizer or with manure. In the latter case the work may be done at once, the manure being spread thinly and evenly, preferably with the manure spreader. Manure so used protects the wheat from winter injury, and at the same time stimulates growth in the cold weather of early spring. Every day gained at this season is just so much crop insurance.

When fertilizer is used it must be applied just as growth starts in the early spring. It is then that available plant food is most needed, and when it is most efficient in causing the plant to "fill out" and increase the number of seed-bearing stems. Fertilizer used at this time may change crop failure to crop success, and is certain to give results when the wheat was sown late, or when it was sown with an insufficient supply of plant food.

FOOD PRODUCTION ENDANGERED BY FREIGHT EMBARGOES.

During the last weeks of December, 1917, absolute embargoes were placed on rail shipments of phosphate rock from Florida. This fact was widely reported in the daily press, yet few people realized its true significance. If the embargo continues it will force the closing of many fertilizer factories all over the United States, and will render impossible maximum production of food crops so badly needed in these times of war. An embargo of this kind, necessary though it be, vitally affects the mainspring of our national welfare.

The first big effect of such an embargo is to cause the closing of all departments of many fertilizer plants. However, the big effect of this embargo on rock phosphate movement is on the farm itself, where fertilizer is needed for the work of food production. Labor is short, greater production can only be secured through higher acre yields produced by using what labor we have on land so fertilized as to make it productive. In this light, then, a continued embargo on rock phosphate, however necessary it may be from the transportation viewpoint, is a great national calamity. It affects both our agricultural production and the ability of our country to win the war speedily and certainly.

What can you do to help? Many things!

Order spring supplies now—fertilizers and farm machinery; feeds and seeds; lime, and other needed materials.

Unload as soon as the car arrives, taking from the car whenever possible.

Do your part now, and trust that the other man will also do his. This is the spirit of true co-operation, and is the only solution of difficulties caused by freight congestion.
