Hello Folks!!

I'm back again... After an absence of a few years. They thrust a dusty, rusty typewriter at me and say "O. K. Abbie, ole girl, hop to it." Imagine me hopping to anything. But I accepted the challenge, and hobbled over to my desk and here I sit. . . . Fingers are stiff and won't work, my brain cells moldy and covered with cobwebs and they tell me to remember the deadline . . . deadlines . . . All my life I've had to meet deadlines. . . . Oh well.

As you've already learned, via the "grapevine," the poor old Chronicle has undergone another complete change . . . For the better this time, though I promise you. It's simply teeming with young blood, and seeing as how its new editors are just old enough to have mature ideas and lots of experience behind them, and yet just young enough to keep up with the modern trend and current modes, I should say they should be able to publish a paper of wonder and rare vintage. . . . How I envy them their age status. . . . Me, though, I was in my thirties once, though you may find it hard to believe. Why, it makes me feel positively antiquated when I start to reminisce and recall the day those young upstarts who are my bosses now, came into the Chronicle office and went to work as apprentices. . . . Absolute greenhorns who had never heard of such things as type lice and printer's devils. Yes, and I can remember when they had their first "squirt" on the linotype. (For those not in the know, a "squirt" is a gush of hot lead that shoots over you and burns you like all mischief if you are not quick enough in jumping out of the way.) . . . Yes, they were rookies all right, but under the careful supervision of their beloved editor, the late John D. Elder, they learned everything from the ground up, never dreaming that one day they would be the owners of the Chronicle. Mr. Elder and Mr. Stull, the new editors and publishers, are both former Frederick County residents, both having spent the major part of their lives in Emmitsburg and vicinity and know what is expected of a good live weekly newspaper. Couple this with the experience that both have had on the large papers in Pittsburgh, with which they have been affiliated for the past 12 years, and I have no doubt they are perfectly suited to, and well-equipped to not only carry out the traditions of the Chronicle (before it was shunted about from owner to owner) but also to give it a nice NEW LOOK.

And now that I have sung the praises of my new employers, at the point of a gun, I might add, (and they call this a free country) I am now at liberty to write as I darned well please. Something New's Been Added

There have been a lot of changes wrought here in the 'burg in the past six years. Most of 'em for the better. . . . Course there's one or two that we'd be better off without but as a whole I would say Emmitsburg is doing all right by herself. . . . Let's take stock of a few of the newer additions to our fair city. . . . First of all there's the nice new Vets' Club situated right

MARYLAND VETS MAY GET STATE BONUS

State Convention Of Legionnaires Held
Recently in Atlantic City

Maryland American Legionnaires who attended the American Legion convention in Atlantic City last week were arguing quite heatedly with opponents over the question of whether veterans of World War II should be allotted a state bonus or not.

Introduction of the bonus, the maximum of which would be $500 was proposed and passed by a verbal vote after two solid hours of discussion. Then it was returned to the resolutions committee for readjustment of certain clauses which would fix the requirements for eligibility. According to the suggested bonus, eligible veterans would receive $10 for each month of domestic service and $15 for each month of foreign service between September 16, 1940 and September 2, 1945. When the measure was test-voted upon, 21 were against tabling the bill while 77 were in favor of tabling it. The opposition, led by Charles Reed, World War II veteran from Bel Air, Md., contended that the fact the state had to levy sales taxes on so many things should in itself prove that it is in no financial condition to pay such a bonus to veterans. John R. Rowe, of Frostburg, countered that the levying of those same sales taxes are what would make giving the bonus possible. The state, according to Mr. Rowe, expects to collect more revenue this year than last year and looks forward to having a surplus of $25,730,000 at the close of the fiscal year July 1 next. What the outcome of the convention's proposal of the bonus will be remains to be seen.

LOCAL RACE HORSE OWNER COPS AT WHEELING

Count On, 3-year-old gelding, owned by Mrs. Bertha Flax, won the feature race at Wheeling Downs, W. Va., in the Labor Day Handicap. In the six-and-a-half furlong race Count On was the first to cross the finish line fully six lengths ahead of the runner-up.

Gay Venture, another 8-year-old gelding owned by Mrs. Flax came in first the following day on the same track. Gay Venture negotiated the mile and a furlong claiming event in 2:02 on a heavy track leading by 10 lengths.

Martin-Fitzgerald Nuptials Held In Thurmont

A pretty wedding was solemnized recently at 11 o'clock in Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church, Thurmont, when Miss D. Dalene Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Martin, became the bride of Gerald Powell Fitzgerald, son of Mrs. Naomi P. Fitzgerald and the late Allen Fitzgerald. The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Roger K. Wooden, pastor of the young couple, before an altar arranged with canary yellow marigolds and lighted tapers. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin, fashioned with train. Her fingertip veil fell from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a shower of white rosebuds.

Miss Lila Lee Martin was her sister's only attendant. She was

TWO ADAMS COUNTY MEN ARE ACCUSED

Pair Is Reported to Admit
Beating Tavern Operator

Maryland and Pennsylvania State Police early Sunday arrested two Adams County, Pa., men charged with armed holdups of a tavern and filling station near Melrose, Carroll County. They were moved to Carroll County on Monday and charged with assault on Chester M. Gieman, 69, proprietor, who is in University Hospital, Baltimore, with a gunshot wound and other injuries said to have been inflicted by the men.

They were identified as Wayne Keller, 22, and Charles Laughman, 24, Hanover, Route 3.

Police said both have admitted the robberies and were willing to waive extradition when arraigned at Gettysburg Monday. Both are in the Adams County jail.

Geiman was beaten about the head with a pistol butt and shot last Monday night when he resisted two hold-up men. A week earlier, two men held up a woman attendant and took about $150 from the same place of business, which is located near the Mason-Dixon Line on the Hanover road.

THIEVES BREAK INTO GELWICKS' GARAGE

Police Arrest Two Suspects
Who Later Are Released

Maryland State Police are searching for two culprits who broke into the garage of Allen Gelwicks about 1:30 Wednesday morning and stole some cash out of the register. The thieves gained entrance by smashing two window panes and releasing the lock on the window.

When questioned, Mr. Gelwicks had not yet had a chance to examine his stockroom to see what was missing. However, all the petty cash had been taken from the register. Police in charge of the case are optimistic about apprehending the guilty parties, because they have the footprints made by the thieves when they stepped into some wet cement in the garage. Two persons were arrested on suspicion but later were freed.

Discovery of the robbery was made by Mr. Gelwicks himself when he opened the garage for business later that morning.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fleagle of Westminster were guests of honor here at a dinner held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Topper, Sunday evening.

The occasion was the thirtieth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fleagle. Other dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Upton Austin and sons, Melvin and Billy and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Austin, all of Taneytown.

EGGS TO BE SMALLER

Hen eggs in general will be smaller for the next several months, according to local dealers. This is moulting season and the older chickens are not laying, while the younger ones lay pullet eggs which are decidedly smaller. Along with the smaller size is a reduction in the quantity of eggs available, said one dealer.

O-o-o-ps--No One Injured!

Down and out while schooling for the steeplechases to be run at the Bel Air racemeeting. Both horse and rider were uninjured. The Harford County, Maryland, course opened September 15 and will present an eight-race daily program through September 25.

FUN AND THRILLS GALORE AT BEL AIR;

MARYLAND TRACK FEATURES STEEPLE CHASE

Steeple chase followers and hunt enthusiasts will be afforded frequent opportunities to cheer the hedge hoppers on during the Bel Air, Maryland race meeting. The Harford County course will operate from September 15 through September 25.

With some 60 jumpers registered, Racing Secretary 'Ty' Shea expects to card a jumping race each afternoon.

At least seven races will be programmed daily for the flat runners. Chief contender for honors in the latter division is the speedy filly, Miss Prime. Fifteen thousand or more thoroughbreds face the starter at least once each season. Of these, no more than a dozen win as many as 10 purses in any one year. With 10 victories in her 1948 record to date, Miss Prime has an excellent chance to be "The Winningest Thoroughbred of the Year." The filly is trained by Mrs. George Saportas, an outstanding equestrienne.

Post time for the opening event each day at Bel Air will be 2:00 p. m. The track is located on U. S. Highway 1, north of Baltimore.

SENATOR EDWARD STORM GUEST SPEAKER AT PTA

The Parent-Teachers Assn. of the Emmitsburg High School held its meeting Wednesday night in the high school auditorium with approximately 700 members present. The meeting opened with a prayer by Rev. Phillip Bower, after which the retiring president, Weldon Shank, introduced the following newly elected officers: president, Dr. D. L. Beagle; vice president, George Wilhide; secretary, Mrs. Harold Hoke; treasurer, Mrs. Glenn Springer.

Following the installation of officers, Sen. Edward D. Storm was introduced. Mr. Storm gave an interesting address on the facts and figures of the amount of money spent in the Frederick County Schools during the past nine years. "Emmitsburg came in for its rightful share," stated Sen. Storm.

When asked about the recent scare Emmitsburg had over the prospect of losing its high school, Mr. Storm assured his listeners that the consolidation which the County Board had in mind did not necessarily mean the consolidation of Emmitsburg's High School with that of Thurmont, but that the County Commissioners really had in mind was the consolidation of the small rural schools who had one or two teachers, with the larger schools.

In his interesting address, interspersed with humor and witticisms, Sen. Storm stated that he was going to introduce a bill at the next Legislative meeting that "consolidation of our high school with another school could only be done if the people of Emmitsburg themselves desired it."

He also recommended that Emmitsburg keep a member on the County School Board at all times. Mr. George Martin is Emmitsburg's representative on the board at present.

At the conclusion of Sen. Storm's address, Prof. Arvin P. Jones, the new principal, made a few appropriate remarks and introduced members of the faculty. Meeting then adjourned to meet at some later date.

C., sister of the bride, wore a taupe dress with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums and gardenias. John Eck, Bonneauville, uncle of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Following the wedding ceremony a dinner was served to the wedding party and guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weikert after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. Upon their return the couple will reside in Fairfield.

GEO. W. SUMMERS FATALLY INJURED BY CAR

Struck by Myersville Man;
Driver Cleared After Inquiry

Hit by a car Sunday night, George W. S. Summers, 67, well-known retired farmer and carpenter, near Thurmont, was fatally injured while walking along Route 40 near his home just west of the Catocctin Country Club.

He died of a fractured skull en route to Frederick Memorial Hospital in the State Police ambulance. He sustained multiple injuries but the Frederick County Medical examiner attributed death to the fractured skull.

The operator of the car was Merhl Hartscock, Myersville, Route 1, who was released after investigation.

Witnesses See Accident

They said Mr. Summers was walking along the highway toward his home and several persons, who reported having seen the accident, were being interviewed.

State's Attorney Edwin F. Nickirk also said that from reports which he had received, there will be no charges entered in the case. State Police indicated their investigation is closed.

They said it appears Summers was about two feet on the main highway walking with his back to traffic when he was struck. He was wearing dark clothing which made it more difficult for automobile operators to see him. He was knocked about five or six feet to the side of the road.

One witness who had ample time to observe Hartscock's driving immediately before the accident reported no evidence of recklessness or undue speed, it was said. Another witness was interrogated who saw Summers hurled to the side of the road as the car struck him. Hartscock had been released following the accident pending the investigation.

Sgt. W. W. Corbin and Trooper Arthur Rudy made the investigation.

The victim was the son of the late Philip and Margaret Zimmerman Summers and was a member of Mt. Zion Lutheran Church, near Feagaville.

FREDERICK FAIR GROUP SEES LACK OF HORSES

Officials of the Frederick Fair who visited York Fair this week in search of harness horse entries for the four-day meet in Frederick, starting October 5, were disappointed to find a great decline in the number of horses stabled on the York fairgrounds as compared to last year. The potential entry list there is less than half of that of a year ago. They are skeptical about filling the programs here although they promised to renew their efforts to get entries.

They were well pleased with the operation of the starting gate in use at the York Fair. The gate gets the harness events away without the frequent scorings which irritate many fans. Some effort is being made to get the local society to employ a starting gate at the Frederick Fair this year.

Creepers! Seems Cattle Rustlers Not All Dead Yet

When a pure-bred Jersey cow, valued at $500, was missing from the farm of Mrs. Marie Funk near Rocky Ridge Tuesday morning things began to happen.

Mrs. Funk and State Police made a thorough search of the farm and neighborhood without locating the animal.

The police broadcast a description of the missing animal and State Trooper Richard Stallings located a Jersey cow at a sales barn in Westminster that bore a tattoo mark resembling that of the Funk's missing cow.

Mrs. Funk hastened to Westminster to identify the animal but when she got there she was disappointed to find that it was not hers.

Back In Field

When she returned home, however, there was her missing cow back in the field. How it got there, no one can say.

As the new editors and publishers of the Chronicle, you have our solemn pledge that not for many, many years will there be a new monitor at the head of your favorite hometown weekly. Not unless God above wills something unforeseen to happen shall the Chronicle ever have to take the ignominious "shoving around" that it has taken since the days when it was edited by the late John D. Elder.

We feel that the resuscitation of the Chronicle to its prewar status is of great importance. . . . It will take time. . . . patience, and energy to nurse it back to health, but we have an abundance of all these plus an inherent love for the Chronicle which dates back years and years to the time when your editors were cubs on this paper. We're not going to make lots of campaign promises—only one—that is to do everything within our power to make your local paper an outstanding live weekly. In addition to this, we have decided that we will send several complimentary issues of the paper to local residents. . . . Read them. . . . Enjoy them. . . . With our best wishes and the hope that you'll like them so well you'll become a regular subscriber.

WELCOME BACK, PROF. JONES

The appointment of Mr. Arvin F. Jones as principal of our local high school will be warmly welcomed by the people of this community. Mr. Jones has always been held in the highest esteem by the people who knew him best when he served in the same capacity here some years ago.

Unlike most pedagogues, he has had a wide experience with the public in his position with one of the best-known insurance companies in the country.

This personal contact with people in other cities should have a broadening effect and considering his past record as principal here and in Brunswick, Emmitsburg should be grateful for his re-appointment and acceptance as principal.

The Chronicle wishes to extend to him the greatest of success.

TANEY TOWN MAN ELECTED DISTRICT VICE COMMANDER

Legionnaires attending the five-day annual convention of the Maryland American Legion in Atlantic City last week elected John D. Carmen, World War I veteran, who hails from Joppa, as their new state commander. When James C. Vancherie of Havre de Grace bowed out of the nominations, Carmen's only competition was Milton J. Dance. On the first ballot 641 votes were cast for Carmen with 320 being cast for Dance.

4,500 FREDERICK COUNTIANS NOT REGISTERED

Election officials estimate that there are at least 4,500 persons in Frederick County eligible to vote in November who are not now registered.

The total is probably much greater than that, they said in announcing dates for pre-election registration days.

By law, the registration officials are to sit at 60 precinct polling places on Sept. 28 and Oct. 5 to register new and transferred voters. Oct. 12 is revision day, when names of transferred voters can be put on the books but no new names added. Oct. 5 is the last date on which new voters can register.

At the same time, the Supervisors of Election announced that registration officials will sit only the minimum number of hours required by law on Sept. 28 and Oct. 5. They will receive registrants from 10 a. m. until 7 p. m. on those dates.

Eligible to register are all persons who become 21 years of age on or before Nov. 2 provided they have lived in the State for a period of one year and in the county for six months. Persons who have moved into the State are required to declare their intentions to become citizens of Maryland a year before being eligible to register.

Those who were registered to vote in the May primary will be eligible voters registered. Many of them that their names have been stricken from the registration books.

Indications were Monday that neither of the major party organizations in Frederick County has done much to date toward getting eligible voters registered. Many of the men and women who became of age in military service or

KEILHOLTZ-BAKER IN RECENT WEDDING

Miss Frances Marie Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Baker of near here, became the bride of Ralph Lee Keilholtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest "Harrison" Keilholtz, Rocky Ridge, in a ceremony performed recently in St. Joseph's Catholic Church. Rev. Francis Stauble, C.W., pastor of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown, fashioning a tight bodice, sweetheart neckline, long sleeves which fell in points over the hand. Tiny satin buttons on the sleeves and at the back of the neck formed the trimming on the gown. The skirt was full with a sweeping train. Her fingertip veil fell from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and baby chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Hazel Keilholtz, was maid of honor and wore a gown of yellow taffeta, styled with a fitted bodice, with inserts of yellow lace which formed a sweetheart neckline. A peplum of yellow lace, with accentuated hips, fell in a long point in the back of the gown. She wore a halo of yellow fluted net as a head-dress and carried a bouquet of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and baby gladioli.

Guy A. Baker, Jr., brother of the bride was best man. The ushers were Louis Orndorff, brother-in-law of the bride and Kenneth Mumm of Rocky Ridge.

LOCALS NOSED OUT IN PLAYOFF

Emmitsburg lost all hope of getting into the Adams County playoffs when they suffered a sharp defeat at the hands of the Hanover men in Sunday's battle. The final score was 8 to 2. Several errors marred the local play-termining factor in the defeat ers performance and was the de-which meant so much to Emmtsburg and its chances of getting a pennant at the close of the season. As a result of the local nine's loss, Emmitsburg ranked fifth place in the league's final standing. Baseball fans are feeling glum about the whole thing, because they were so confident that getting into the playoffs was a cinch for the boys. Excitement and hope ran high because Emmitsburg had been slashing through to victory in the greater percentage of recent tilts with other leading clubs.

The number of hits in Sunday's ball game by the locals totalled only five, with Paidakovich, third baseman, accounting for two of these. Roth, local slagger, held his own, but allowed more hits by far than did Moore, the Hanover fin-ger.

Though league games, as far as Emmitsburg is concerned, are over there still will be two or three exhibition games here within the next two weeks. Most notable of these is the game between Thurmont and the local squad this Sunday here on the local diamond. This is to be a benefit game with net proceeds to go to one of the Thurmont players, Strine, who sustained a broken nose in a game with the locals some time ago. Receipts of the game Sunday are to be donated to Mr. Strine to help defray hospitalization and medical expenses incurred by the unfortunate accident. Local fans are urged to turn out in heavy numbers for Sunday's game for it is indeed being played for a

PAVEMENT FROM COLLEGE NEAR COMPLETION

Work on the cement pavement which is being constructed by St. Joseph's College is nearing completion.

The pavement, which runs from the college to the Texaco Filling Station owned by Mr. Leslie Fox, runs on a parallel with the Frederick road. Purpose of laying the cement walk was to do away with the hazards both to pedestrians and automobile drivers.

Before construction of the street the students of the college were forced to walk on the public highway when they came to and from Emmitsburg, endangering both themselves and passing motorists.

A TIMELY WARNING

ELECTRIC COMPANY GETS 40 MILLIONTH CUSTOMER

The 40-millionth customer of the electric industry came on the power line during September, it was announced by the Edison Electric Institute in commenting on the "extraordinary post-war growth of customers in the electric industry."

During the working-day hour in which the 40-millionth became a customer, approximately 1200 other new customers were connected to power lines throughout the country.

About 86 per cent of the total of forty million customers are residential and rural customers. Commercial customers, including such business enterprises as the smaller stores, shops, filling stations, theaters, and hotels make up about 13 per cent of the total.

The Institute also announced that 97 per cent of all the family dwellings occupied in the United States at the end of 1947 had electricity available, and 94 per cent are actually taking service.

George S. Humphrey, PE Operating vice president, announced in connection with release of national electric customer figures, that PE served 102,236 residential, 13,896 commercial, 207 industrial, and 213 other customers during the month of July 1948. This total of 116,552 PE customers is 7596 more than were served in July of last year.

MAYOR AND COMMISSIONERS DISCUSS PAVING FEDERAL STREET AT MEETING

At the regular meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners Tuesday night in the town office the main subject of discussion was the plan of paving Federal Hill.

Residents of that section of town have long been besieging the Town Counsel with complaints about the rough, hilly thoroughfare there.

Tentative plans are to level the entire section from the Flat Run Rd. just off N. Seton Ave. extending to DePaul St. by the John Wantz property.

Suggestions were made that the Town Commissioners obtain some bulldozers and excavate the road to see just how much had to be done.

Another feature of interest to the town's people which was discussed at Tuesday's meeting of the Board was the laying of a sewer line paralleling N. Seton Ave. The line would begin at the Legion Hall and running parallel to N. Seton Ave., eventually will wind around and circle the whole town.

However, as in the case of the other contemplated project, the bids received for the job are such that this job will also have to be done in sections.

SERIOUS SHORTAGE OF COMMERCIAL STORAGE SPACE FOR '48 CORN CROP

Serious shortage of commercial storage space for 1948 corn crop is just ahead. The heavy wheat crop filled storage to capacity. The out-movement of wheat will not be sufficient to create storage for corn.

High production costs have made the 1948 crop the most expensive corn American farmers have ever produced.

Best price protection is to prepare adequate farm storage now to care for your crop. Farmers depending on corn for cash to meet current expenses can secure this through a Government loan on farm-stored corn provided grain is protected from rodents, insects, weather and theft.

Specifications on construction of corn cribs can be secured from your county agent.

Determined Pigeon. A YORKSHIREMAN kept homing pigeons and boasted that one of them could find its way home from anywhere. A friend bet him 20 pounds that the bird could not fly back from London. The bet was taken and the pigeon was sent to King's Cross station to be let loose; but the man making the bet artfully arranged for the bird's wings to be clipped before it was liberated. At the end of a week it had not returned. "You wait," said the owner, confidently, "he'll be back all right." At the end of two weeks the friend claimed that he had won the bet. "He'll come home from anywhere," insisted the owner. After three weeks the friend went round to claim the 20 pounds. "That'll get nowt—thee's lost," said the Yorkshireman. "He coom last neet, but by gum, his feet were sore!"

QUAKER PSYCHOLOGY. A gentle Quaker, hearing a strange noise in his house one night, got up and discovered a burglar busily at work. So he went and got his gun, then came back, and stood quietly in the doorway. "Friend," he said, "I would do thee no harm for the world, but thee standst where I am about to shoot."

Rainy Weather. A drunk staggered home and made his way subconsciously through the house, winding up in the stall shower of his bathroom. As he groped about, he turned on the water, deluging himself plenty and making a racket which brought the Little Woman to the scene. Taking in the details, she called him all kinds of names winding up with a none too flattering estimate of his past, present and future. "That's right, honey," admitted the shuddering sot. "I'm everything you said—and worse. But let me in, won't you?—it's raining something awful out here."

Monologue. A girl was out with a soldier. "So you really think I'm the most adorable girl you ever knew?" she cooed. "Uh-huh." "Do you think I'm the most attractive girl you have ever seen?" "Uh-huh." "Oh, I'm so glad! And do you adore my figure?" "Uh-huh." "You do say the most marvelous things, darling! Please do go on."

THROWING AT CAR BRINGS FINE TO MAN. Richard S. Keckler, W. Main St., pleaded guilty to a charge of hurling missiles at passing automobiles, before Justice of the Peace Jacob Baker and was fined $50 and 75c costs. State Trooper J. Stonesifer was the arresting officer.

SEVERAL PAY FINES TO LOCAL MAGISTRATE

The following motorists forfeited collateral last night on the following charges:

Esther O. Huntington, Baltimore, charged with failing to stop at a boulevard stop sign, $6.45.

Harold E. Canary, Seymore, Conn., charged with parking in a restricted zone, $6.45.

James Snow, Washington, D. C., charged with passing on a hill, $6.45.

Kermit Youkins, Middletown, Md., charged with driving a motor vehicle owned by Everett Moser, also of Middletown, at a speed greater than fifty miles per hour, fine and costs, $11.45.

Joseph Shallcross, Washington, D. C., charged with operating a motor vehicle without a license, $11.45.

Neil C. Reid, Capitol Heights, Md., charged with exceeding 25 miles an hour, $6.45.

Helen Lovejoy, Arlington, Va., failing to keep to right center of the highway, $6.45.

Thomas Dillon, this place, charged with passing on a curve, $6.45.

Ray Frailey, Rocky Ridge. Failure to keep to the right center of the highway, $5.75, and having no operators' license in his possession, $1.75.

George McDonnel, this place, and Myrtle Berkheiser, Zora, charged with hurling missiles from an automobile, were found guilty and fined $26.45, each of which was suspended.

State Trooper J. Stonesifer was the arresting officer in each case.

BASEBALL DUGOUT IS NEARING COMPLETION

According to official reports the new dugout being built for the local baseball club on the Community Field is nearing completion.

Constructed of cement blocks the dugout will house inside toilets for use of both the baseball fans as well as the players themselves. Several showers have also been built for the players which will enable them to clean up immediately after the games instead of waiting until they return to their individual homes.

The Baseball Association reports that most of the time spent and materials employed in building the stone dugout has been donated through the generosity of local persons interested in baseball and bigger and better teams for our town.

Without a doubt Emmitsburg has not only the most beautiful and decorative field, but also the best equipped ball park of any other town represented in either of the two leagues in which they play.

It's a pleasure to attend the games here on the home diamond because, in addition to the beauty of the place, people can very nearly always be assured that they can always get a seat due to the ample seating capacity.

SHORT STORY
Ebb-Tide Of Fear
 By FERN AUBLE

EDDIE RICHTER closed the hospital door gently. He stood outside for a moment, his eyes narrowed thoughtfully. Inside, his wife lay quietly, a gentle smile curving her lips as she held Eddie's promise to her heart.

Don't you worry your pretty little head about anything, Mary," he had told her, his eyes earnest and loving. "Everything's going to be all right. I've got the promise of a fine new job and we won't have to worry about bills or expenses or anything from now on."

Eddie Richter, one-time money rider. Even yet, jockeys throughout the racing world talked of him with more than a little awe. He was a sort of shining star toward which silk-clad figures, up for the first time in a classic of sleek horseflesh, groped for inspiration. For Eddie Richter had been an inspired rider.

That is, until the day he was up on Gallowing Wind, the great chestnut mare that had startled the entire racing world with her amazing bursts of speed.

On the day in question, he looked at the track nervously. It had drizzled all night and the course was a sea of mud. The horses were brought to the barrier, and Eddie leaned over Gallowing Wind's neck and spoke to her reassuringly. She tossed her head and reared. The horses broke raggedly and Gallowing Wind, on the outside, ran last.

At the three-quarter post, Eddie leaned over and said coaxingly, "Come on, girl, now's the time. You can do it. Why, the rest of these bangtails can't touch you for speed. Come on, now, let's show 'em."

Gallowing Wind lengthened her stride in response to the appeal in Eddie's voice. She moved up, making her bid. And then, with victory within grasp, Gallowing Wind stumbled and went down, with Eddie under her.

When they got him out, the Doc shook his head as he went over Eddie's body with knowing fingers. "I don't know," he said doubtfully, "he's pretty much bunged up. We can tell more after we get him to the hospital and have X-rays taken."

HE LAY there four months, his broken body an intolerable agony. The pain wouldn't have been so bad, if he could have gotten the picture out of his mind of lying under Gallowing Wind, the thunder of flying hoofs coming toward him. Something had gone out of Eddie then and been replaced by fear.

When he came out of the hospital, he and Mary faced the fact that their savings were gone. Things got steadily worse. Eddie didn't know anything but horses and horse racing and he couldn't endure the sight of a horse.

Finally, matters came to a climax when Mary had to be rushed to the hospital for an emergency operation. She came through all right, but behind the love in her eyes there was worry too.

As he stood outside the door, Eddie came to his decision. He left the hospital and turned toward the track and to George Graybar. Graybar, fabulously wealthy sportsman, owner of the Graybar stables from which had come Shooting Comet, Whirlwind, Highpockets and a host of other famous horses—and Gallowing Wind.

Something in Eddie's face brought a welcoming smile from Graybar. "Well, it's about time, Eddie," he boomed. "I wondered how long it would be before you'd be around to see me."

"They walked out to the stables, to the smell of clean hay and the nickering of the horses in their stalls. When they came to the last stall, there was Gallowing Wind. The great horse stretched out her neck and nuzzled softly. Eddie swallowed the lump in his throat as he turned to Graybar who was watching them. "She remembers me!" Eddie's eyes were shining. "When can I ride her, sir?" There was a great excitement in his eyes. Eddie had come home. Professor and Mrs. Arvin P. Jones moved last Saturday from Brunswick, to the tenant house on the farm of Samuel C. Hays.

Kelly, W. Main St., who several years ago purchased a building lot on N. Seton Ave. between the properties of Clarence Wachter and Paul Humerick, is having the foundation dug for a four-room bungalow, which he expects to construct immediately.

198 REGISTERED

Although there was not even an average of youths registered in the first day for men born in 1929, Wednesday, Frederick Selective Service offices were swamped with waiting lines of registrants as sufficient volunteer clerks failed to put in appearance Wednesday. Eighteen-year-olds due to register, did not appear to be as numerous as other age groups. A total of 198 men, including some officers, were signed up.

VETS TO RECEIVE GOVT. CHECK IN NOVEMBER

Most veterans attending school in Maryland under the GI Bill will receive their first subsistence checks for the fall term early in November, Samuel J. Weston, officer in charge of the Frederick VA Office announced Wednesday. These checks will represent subsistence allowances for the period from the day the veteran enters school through October 31, he explained. The next checks will be delivered on or about December 1 to cover November allowances, and payments will be made monthly thereafter during the remainder of the school year.

In some instances, veterans will receive checks during October to cover September subsistence. This will be true where registration is completed and their papers are received by VA not later than September 20. However, the total of such payments is expected to be small.

Way I understand it, there's to be a same room, lounge rooms, ping-pong tables and gosh knows what else... Congrats to the local vets for giving the town an outlet for clean, wholesome fun and entertainment...

Another improvement to the home front here is — uh oh, I've just been informed that Abigail isn't the only column to appear in this week's issue of the Chronicle... Seems they want me to leave some space for news, and ads and things... And just when I was beginning to warm up too... Well we'll continue this next week... O. K. by you readers?

Yours,
ABIGAIL
