LEST YOU FORGET

And now, just a last minute reminder that many of you haven't bought your tickets for the March of Dimes dance yet this Monday night. Don't forget all I told you last week about the swell, elegant orchestra they're gonna have, and the refreshments (both liquid and otherwise) that they're gonna sell and the cozy atmosphere that will prevail at the White House Inn. Get your party together and have yourself a time, bearing in mind that the affair is being held for a mighty noble cause. The Chronicle staff is going en masse—May we see you there?

WHAT'S THE HOLDUP?

Come, come, Mr. Mayor and Commissioners—Whatya's say we get going on those parking meters? Times awastin' and all that nice parking space is being used for free. Our town treasury won't get any fatter that way. And while I'm addressing ye town fathers, would like to know what ever happened to the street signs we were supposed to have years ago. But more on this next week.

ATTENTION! STATE ROADS COMMISSION

Each time I drive from here to Frederick I get more thoroughly disgusted with the conditions of the roads . . . Why, will someone please tell me, doesn't the State Roads Commission do something about them? That IS their job, isn't it? Certainly, with the highway in the condition it's in there is real danger of all sorts of freak accidents . . . I feel especially sorry for those transients who make that trip every day to and from Frederick. We have several persons living here who commute daily to Frederick to their jobs and believe me they've complained plenty to me about the bad condition of the road. All of us know that even when the highway is in GOOD shape it's still very hazardous driving, seeing as how it's got more darned curves than a hairpin and you can't see ahead far enough to pass a car between here and Thurmont . . . If the State Roads Commission doesn't soon do something about the situation I guess a petition will have to be drawn up and signed by Frederick Countians and a little pressure brought to bear.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

And while I'm in this very frank mood, I deem it fitting to put a certain utility company on the pan . . . If a little more courtesy and fair treatment isn't extended citizens of Emmitsburg, perhaps a word to the Public Utilities Commission will do the trick . . . Thank heavens! there IS such a Commission to keep certain officials from becoming too INDEPENDENT and too "big for their britches. Plenty of people here are plenty burned up and getting anxious to do something about it . . . So let a word to the wise be sufficient—IF the company concerned IS wise . . . which frankly, I'm beginning to doubt.

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE, GIRLS, TO SNAG A HUSBAND

If there are any of you young ladies who don't know what career in life to choose, I'll tell you the answer to your problem . . . Be a nurse . . . There's a drastic shortage of them and it's a noble and highly respected profession. You can be a civilian nurse in the Army or Navy nurse. Salary. Not bad at all, believe me . . . And the good-looking internes and less doctors you come in contact with make your chances of a good marriage simply terrific . . . If I had my life to live over I wouldn't be the old spinster that I am now—Not if I had a chance to be a nurse—as you have. Why not give the matter some thought, girls.

SEWING CLUB MEETS

The Entre Nous Sewing Club met last week at the home of Mrs. James Hays. The birthday of Mrs. Joshua Wingerd was celebrated.

LOCAL DIMES FUND GOAL CAN STILL BE ACCOMPLISHED

Only Three More Days Left In Drive To Achieve Goal

The 1949 March of Dimes campaign ends in another three days. Mr. Lumen Norris, who heads the local drive, today reports that the goal for 1949 may still be reached if the citizens of Emmitsburg put their shoulders to the wheel during the few days left for fundraising purposes.

"When January 31 has passed," Mr. Norris said, "we will know just how well equipped we will be for the hot polio months of summer time. Let us not forget that this 18-day drive must produce results sufficient to provide care for all those who may be stricken during the next twelve months period."

The local March of Dimes chairman appealed to all holders of coin cards to return them with their voluntary contributions at the earliest possible moment. Coin collectors, he added, will remain in stores and public buildings until the end of the final day of the March of Dimes drive.

"A heavy responsibility rests on the shoulders of everyone in our community," Mr. Norris said. "That responsibility is to see to it now, that every possible aid can be given to all our boys and girls next summer, should infantile paralysis strike at our homes. We hope we may escape this year. But hope alone is a fool's weapon. We know greater contributions to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis are needed in its fight to help where polio has stricken, to help those who were afflicted in prior years and to carry on the important research work which eventually will erase infantile paralysis from the list of dangers facing our children."

PUBLIC INVITED TO BASEBALL MEETING

An open meeting of the Emmitsburg Baseball Assn. will be held this Sunday at two p. m. in the Firemen's Hall. Election of a board of directors will be held and other business transacted. Plans for the coming baseball season which will open in the Spring are in formation and opinions of baseball minded persons are sought.

Last year there was a great deal of dissension over various incidents that occurred during the season, and directors and players were the victims of much criticism from various sources. This year, in order to keep this unpleasantness down to a minimum you are urged to attend the meeting Sunday and elect the directors YOU want and discuss the methods and means of running the Club that YOU want. This way you can get what you want and won't have any cause for complaining.

Baseball is the sport that is greatly endeared to the hearts of Emmitsburgians, players and fans alike, so for the sake of keeping the old horsehide sport alive here, won't you please, fans, directors, players, batboys—anyone who is even remotely interested in the game be present at this meeting.

STATE FISHING LAWS REMAIN STATUS QUO

Non-Resident Fees, However, Will Cost Out-of-Staters More

After several hours of hearings, the State Game and Inland Fish Commission last Friday decided against changing the bass, trout and raccoon laws.

The Commission, however, voted to raise fees for out-of-state anglers.

Rejected by the group was a proposal to have the coon-hunting season lengthened, which now opens Nov. 1 and closes Jan. 31. Reconsideration will be held again in April, along with the view to allow a coon-dog training period.

Other rejected proposals were to move the black bass season from June 30 to Nov. 30 in non-tidal waters, and reduce the creel limit on black bass and freshwater trout from ten to seven.

At present the open season on black bass is from June 30 to Nov. 30, in eight Eastern Shore counties as well as Lake Rowland, Lock Raven, and Pretty Boy reservoirs, and from July 1 to Nov. 30 in the rest of the State.

The Commission gave Director Ernest A. Vaughn power to draw up legislative bills boosting out-of-state fees to offset increased hunting and fishing license fees authorized in adjoining states.

The proposed bills would increase the price of licenses for non-residents of Maryland from $5.50 to $10.50; the three-day tourist fishing license from $1.75 to $3.50, and the residents of Virginia, W. Virginia, and District of Columbia would have to pay from $1.75 to $3.50. The last-mentioned license applies to fishing in non-tidal areas of the Potomac River.

THURMONT MOTHER HONORED AT MILITARY FETE

Mrs. Charles Clarke Presented Award By Army Colonel

A Maryland mother of 24 children, 12 of whom are still living, was honored by the United States Army Tuesday evening at a ceremony sponsored by the Mothers of World War II Veterans at the War Memorial Building, Baltimore.

Mrs. Charles H. Clarke, of Thurmont, was presented an Army citation for "faithful public service" covering the period of the war years and since. The citation, sponsored by the Second Army and issued by Lieutenant-General L. T. Gerow, commanding, was presented to Mrs. Clarke by Colonel Arthur L. Shreve, executive of the Maryland-Delaware Military District.

Colonel Shreve, in presenting one of the highest citations available to a civilian citizen, asserted that it was through such voluntary service that the military and civilian population was gaining unity towards securing and guaranteeing a lasting peace.

Among the various public-spirited services for which Mrs. Clarke was cited, were her donations of 25 pints, a possible state record, of blood to the blood banks at Fort Howard Veterans' Hospital and through the Red Cross; several hours each week devoted to entertaining veteran patients at Fort Howard; entertaining soldiers away from home at her residence at Thurmont, and a wartime practice she made of serving free lunches to troops in convoy past her home.

Mrs. Clarke has performed all these services in addition to ably taking care of her family and household.

Opposition Is Likely To Force Measure To Referendum

Opposition to the proposed introduction of pari-mutuel betting on harness races at the Frederick Fair Grounds was formally expressed Monday at the meeting of the Frederick County Ministerial Assn., held in the YMCA.

A resolution was unanimously adopted placing the association on record as opposing the plan of the Frederick County Agricultural Society to seek legislation permitting pari-mutuel betting. Copies were sent to State Senator Edward D. Storm, the members of the county delegation in the House and the Agricultural Society.

The action is similar to that which was taken recently by the Frederick City Ministerial Assn. A number of ministers spoke in favor of the resolution.

All ministers who were present affixed their names to the resolution. They were Revs. Paul W. Kinsel, W. DeWitt Dickey, Warren Breisch, E. F. Hoffmeier, M. T. Tabler, E. D. Bright, John S. Bowlus, John N. North, J. E. Stephen, H. C. Kottler, E. O. Welker, M. G. Zumbrun, Leonard Carmack, Charles S. Owen, Thomas Morgan, W. V. Garrett, Samuel S. Johnston, R. H. Miller, Raymond C. Myers, George H. Bennett, Merle F. Sollinger, Raymond E. Wilhelm.

The Glade Valley Community Assn. Monday night went on record as "opposing strenuously" the proposed introduction of pari-mutuel betting on harness races at the Frederick Fair Grounds.

The action was taken at the monthly meeting of the association held in Walkersville High School. The resolution was directed to State Senator Edward D. Storm with the request that it be read to the entire legislative delegation from Frederick County.

The resolution passed unanimously, made the following points:

"That the association considers it 'dangerous to introduce any form of gambling in the county.'"

That "the race track following consists of the type of characters we do not desire to come to Frederick County."

Indications arose last Friday that any legislative bill which would seek to legalize pari-mutuel harness racing at the Frederick Fair grounds would emerge with a referendum attached to bring it to a vote of the whole county.

The measure may even be introduced in this form, it was reported. At least one county legislator was reported ready to add the referendum provision, in the event it was not in the original bill.

A referendum would render any act inoperative until it was approved or disapproved by the voters.

Legislators contacted last Friday were mum on the bill, saying it has not yet been presented. Some letters have been received thus far in protest against the proposed measure, which was approved, as an enabling act only, by the life members of the Frederick County Agricultural Society.

It was stipulated in a resolution passed by the life members that before any action was taken under an enabling act, if approved, the whole question would come back to the life members.

Revenues from pari-mutuel racing receipts are keeping the Frederick Fair and other agricultural exhibits in existence in Maryland, it was pointed out Wednesday by those who are asking that pari-mutuel harness race meets be legalized in Frederick County.

But for the $12,000 given the Frederick County Agricultural Society last year by the State Fair Board, the Society would have operated at an approximate $13,000 deficit, it was explained.

The funds available to the State Fair Board for distribution to agricultural fairs, it was further explained, are derived from pari-mutuel operations in other counties of the State.

Funds from the same sources are used to promote cattle field

Defeat Frederick Moose In March of Dimes Benefit Contest

Mt. St. Mary's Collegians won a 64-50 decision over Moose Antlers in a benefit March of Dimes athletic committee basketball game which officials said would gross a net of over $300 for the county's anti-polio campaign, in Frederick, Tuesday night.

Services of players, officials and use of the Army were entirely free, making the Town vs. Gown game a 100 per cent contribution to the $8,000 quota expected from Frederick County by the National March of Dimes committee.

Iron-man "Pete" Clark, co-captain of the Collegians set the pace for his team, taking honors with 20 points. The half time score favored the Mountaineers, 40-18.

Introduced during the evening was March of Dimes chairman, Alton Y. Bennett, who received the athletic committee's report on the game's financial outcome and extended thanks to Coaches John Law, Charley Havens (Western Maryland College; Mt. ## MINISTERIAL ASSN. OPPOSES RACE BETTING days throughout the State, it was pointed out. In recent years, the State Fair Board has been distributing $5 a head to owners of animals exhibited at field day exhibitions.

Indicating that there is growing opposition in farm organizations to the proposal to make Frederick County eligible for pari-mutuel racing, those interested pointed out that farm exhibitions have been materially aided by State revenue from racing.
If the farm people have scruples against gambling through pari-mutuel machines, they are not consistent in accepting a share of the revenue from the mutuel machines, it is held.

It was also pointed out that many people are under the impression pari-mutuel racing would be held in conjunction with the annual Frederick Fair. This is not true, it was explained, as it was previously announced that no betting meet would be held at the same time as the fair.
A harness race meet here once a year with pari-mutuel betting would enable the Fair Society to obtain funds to vastly expand the annual agricultural exhibits without resorting to revenue from gambling games on the midways, it was also pointed out. There has been no hesitancy in the past to "over-look" open gambling on the midways, it was suggested.

School Consolidation Bill

State Senator Edward D. Storm said several other counties have expressed interest in the bill he introduced which would provide for approval by the citizens of an election district before any school in that district could be consolidated.

It has been suggested, he said by a representative of another county that a county-wide referendum at election time take place on consolidation proposals.

He is preparing for introduction a bill which he discussed some months ago to give more "home rule" to incorporated places. Another bill relating to County Commissioners of the various counties, may also be introduced. Several other counties have expressed interest in this bill, it is reported.

BOWLING CONTEST AGAIN THIS SUNDAY

Lovers of bowling turned out last Sunday at the Emmitsburg Recreation Center to see the mixed doubles contest. Six doubles vied for top honors.

In last week's affair, Bowlers John Roddy Jr. and "Bud" Valentine took first honors in the mixed double contest, with Russell Hall and Ira McClain coming in second.

EMMITSBURG MEN FILE ANSWER IN LINGG CASE

Two Emmitsburg men, in an answer filed in Equity Court on Wednesday, denied there is any equity lien for a guardianship fund on property which they were devised by the will of Mrs. Rose E. Lingg, of Emmitsburg.

The answer was to a bill of complaint filed some time ago by William A. Lingg and Clarence V. Lingg, of Baltimore, claiming they are entitled to recover about $4,600 from the real estate because their guardian, Mrs. Lingg's husband, now deceased, allegedly used funds distributed to them when they were minors to pay off a part of his personal indebtedness.

Mrs. Lingg left her property to Howard V. Tull, who she named as executor, and John H. McGraw, both of this place, who filed the answer. Each devised received a parcel of real estate.

After making a general answer to the bill of complaint, the defendants also said the complainants were paid the money due and owing them, if any, by Ignatius Lingg, husband of Mrs. Rose Lingg, during his lifetime. They declare the complainants are guilty of laches and not entitled to recover in an equity suit. They move for dismissal of the suit.

The executive committee appointed was composed of Norman Shriver, Raymond Baumgardner and George Martin.

It was requested at the meeting that all members pay their 1949 dues immediately.

MARYLAND HOME FRONT

Maryland farmers needing terraces to conserve soil and water on their farms may obtain financial assistance in the construction of these terraces under the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program, according to Joseph H. Blandford, Chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing Administration State Committee.

He reports that to qualify for assistance, the terrace must meet specifications set up under the Agricultural Conservation Program Assistance may be in the form of a purchase order or cash payment to take care of part of the cost. Generally, this assistance will average about half of the "out-of-pocket" cost of the terrace.

Terrace constructed under the program must conserve soil and water—this means that outlets must be sodded or otherwise protected. Terraces that concentrate run-off and aggravate gully erosion may be destructive and no financial assistance will be allowed. Farmers are urged by Mr. Blandford to check their terrace plans with the county committee if they expect to request the assistance.

Sweet potato growers are invited to send their recommendations on a Price Support Program to Joseph H. Blandford, Chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing Administration State Committee, by Wednesday, February 2. Mr. Blandford reports that he is to attend a meeting in Washington on February 3 the purpose of which is to discuss the 1949 Price Support Program for the sweet potato crop.

"We recall that last year some of our Maryland growers had certain criticisms of the program and the way it affected them," he states. "We would like to have detailed suggestions and recommendations from growers so that we can adequately represent them at Washington."

Last year's program provided for support in the form of direct purchases at $1.85 per bushel for U. S. Extra No. 1 potatoes of either Nancy Hall or Porto Rican varieties for the period Sept. 1 to Nov. 15. Support of U. S. No. 1 potatoes of these varieties was $1.60 for the same period. Golden were supported at a price ten cents under these figures. The program also provided that the sweet potatoes be packed in new bushel baskets and loaded f.o.b. car or truck at shipping point.

Other provisions in the program did not include the support of prices of U. S. No. 2 sweets; purchases made after Nov. 15 were limited to potatoes that had been stored at least 15 days and which required immediate use because of spoilage.

No report—no payment. That is the reminder which Joseph H. Blandford today repeated for the benefit of Maryland farmers. He explained that Feb. 12 is the deadline for reporting performance of 1948 conservation practices. He also urged them to sign up for the 1949 program when they visit their local Agricultural Conservation Program office.

Maryland Feed And Grain Markets

GRAIN MARKETS

Summary for Maryland
Grain markets in Baltimore, following the national trend, continued on a downward trend during the week ended January 21. Wheat and soybeans prices remained steady. Prices of yellow corn were steady to somewhat lower. Barley and oats weakened during the past week.

National Summary

Grain markets remained weak during the third week in January, and prices of most grains continued on a downward trend. Winter wheat prices declined 2 to 3 cents per bushel compared with a week ago, while spring wheat was down from 5 to 6 cents per bushel with a slow marketing demand, and less buying by CCC. Corn held about unchanged with large purchases by the CCC as supporting influences. Oats fell a little, relative to other feed grains. Barley was sharply low at Minneapolis, but held firm at Kansas City and on the West Coast. Demand for oil feed was active, but prices of axseed held up to support prices of $6.00 per bushel at Minneapolis. Soybeans declined only about 2 cents per bushel at Chicago, following the drop in price of last week.

FEED MARKET

Summary for Maryland
The Baltimore feed market, following the national trend, declined materially during the week ended January 21. Baltimore feed prices on the whole averaged 2% lower than last week, as compared with an apparent decline of 2.5% on the national market. Feeds making the most substantial declines were gluten feed, $3.50 per ton less than a week ago—a decrease of almost 5%, and distillers' dried grains, $3.34 per ton less than last week—a decrease of almost 4%. On the Baltimore market both 16% dairy feed $2.32 per ton less than price a week ago) and 32% dairy feed ($3.04 per ton less than last week) declined more than 3% during the week ended January 21. On the Baltimore market feeds showing declines of 2% or more were cracked corn, 50% meat scrap and soybean oil meal.

The broiler-feed ration for the Maryland producers was less favorable for the week, January 14 through January 20. Broiler prices averaged 30.6 cents per pound (31.6 cents last week). The price of 20% broiler mash in Salisbury on January 19 averaged $93.44 per ton ($93.88 per ton last week). On this basis one pound live weight of broilers would buy 6.5 pounds of feed (6.7 pounds last week).

National Summary

Feedstuff markets declined materially during the week ended January 18. The weakness in the feed market reflected principally lower prices and plentiful supply of feed grains, particularly corn, which is now relatively cheaper than wheat millfeeds and oilseed meals. Wheat mill feeds dropped $1.00 or more per ton while cottonseed meal averaged about $3.50 below a week earlier and soybean meal was down about $1.00 per ton. Most other feeds ranged from unchanged to slightly lower.

Current demand for feedstuffs was less active than in recent weeks and offerings of most feeds were adequate for trade needs. Continued mild weather in eastern portions of the country tended to lessen demand in that area. A continued heavy use of grain and feedstuffs, however, is indicated by the larger numbers of animals on feed and a record production of chicks by commercial hatcheries this season. The fall pig crop was about 8% larger than last season and the number of cattle on feed for market on January 1, was the largest on record and 19 percent larger than a year ago. The estimated number on January 1, this year, was 4,548,000 head compared with 3,821,000 head a year earlier and the 1943-47 average of 4,278,000 head. The number of chicks produced by commercial hatcheries during December was the largest on record for that month and 63% more than during December a year ago. A much larger January hatch than a year ago is also in prospect since hatcheries had 73 percent more eggs in their incubators January 1, 1949 than on January 1, 1948.

PARASITES WINTER MENACE TO FLOCK

Internal and external parasites remain a serious problem even during the winter months when many poultry-producers might expect these poultry-house pests to be less bothersome.

Heavy infections of worms, if not controlled, create serious damage or loss. Keeping worm infections down is necessary if the layers are going to remain in high production through the winter months.

Many poultrymen practice an individual-bird treatment at the time they put the birds into the house in the fall. Later they give the birds a medicated worm treatment that is administered by mixing the medicine in mash. After giving such commercial treatments to the flock, a flockowner should clean the poultry house thoroughly to remove as much of the danger of reinfection as possible. A good disinfecting to eliminate bacteria is desirable whenever cleaning is done, but it should be borne in mind that few disinfectants are effective against worm eggs.

External parasites, such as lice, mites, and ticks, infest the skin and feathers of laying hens and when there are enough of them to cause great irritation, the birds lose their appetites and suffer from lack of rest. This may cause a drop in egg production and loss of weight.

Flock treatments may be accomplished by cleaning the roost poles and applying a nicotine or benzene hexachloride solution directly to the birds' roosts. This treatment kills lice by releasing fumes which penetrates the roosting birds' feathers. The warmth of the bird's body volatilizes the liquid.

Another way to get rid of lice is through the use of a louse powder, which is sprinkled onto the birds individually.

Keeping egg production in high gear is a difficult job under any circumstances. It becomes more difficult if parasites are robbing your profits.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mr. J. Edward Seltzer, Emmitsburg, and John Shorb, Thurmont Route 2, were admitted to the Annie M. Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, this week.

Discharged from the same hospital was Mr. Marlin Stonesifer of this place.

EARLY GARDEN PREPARATION PAYS OFF

Getting anxious for the first taste of fresh home-grown garden produce? Looking forward to having tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, lettuce, and onions from your own garden. If so, it is time to go to work and get the hotbed or coldframe in action. Many of these garden crops may be harvested much earlier in the season if the plants are started in advance of the outdoor gardening season.

Marylanders who do not have a hotbed or coldframe can get complete information on construction and use by asking their county agent for Farmers' Bulletin 1743 or by writing the bulletin room at the University of Maryland. Those who have the equipment can profit by the suggestions offered by Edward K. Bender, vegetable specialist for the Extension Service.

He states that plants such as lettuce, cabbage, cauliflower, and broccoli may be started at relatively low temperatures. Crops such as tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, muskmelons, summer squash, celery, and cucumbers need a higher temperature. In most of the state the first group of plants may be started after Feb. 15 while the second group should not be started until around April 1. Onion seed may be planted by the middle of January.

The soil used in either hotbed or coldframe should be good rich loam with plenty of humus in it. This should be supplemented with lime and a 5-10-5 fertilizer.

SHORT STORY Money For Love By LOUIS CUNNINGHAM

"GIRL reporters are the bunk," growled Harriman, the crime expert, in the news-room of the Comet.

"What do you think of it, Alicia?" asked Dale, discovering his lovely neighbor and quickly telling her what it was all about.

"I'm a thousand dollars!" he sighed. "Just imagine, Alicia, what one could do with that. Why..."

Later, when he had her alone in the secluded corner of their favorite restaurant, he took a deep breath.

"I love you, Dale," said Alicia, solemnly. "I will marry you."

"Then she twinkled. 'Let's do it right away.'"

Dale and Alicia were married that week and their radiant young faces in the newsroom advertised their happiness.

"It seems a hopeless task, Alicia," lamented Dale. "Everybody's giving up. This Princess Mariana is the best little hider imaginable."

"She pulled his ear teasingly. 'Don't worry. Things will look different in the morning.'"

Alicia was a prophetic. Dale awoke to find a strange girl sitting at the foot of the bed.

"What... what... Alicia?" "I told you things would be different in the morning. But it is still Alicia... minus the hair dye..."

Mariana Alicia Delano of Bartholdi... Mrs. Dale Harmsworth. My mother was an American. So I don't mind if you tell me now, Dale, to be sure and get the money from dad before you mention that I'm your wife. We need it for our honeymoon."

PNEUMOTHORAX SURGERY CURING TUBERCULOSIS

Complete bed rest under medical supervision in a good sanatorium, the best treatment for pulmonary tuberculosis, is sometimes supplemented with surgery to give the patient's injured lung extra rest and relaxation to aid its healing.

Pneumothorax is one of the simplest and most widely used types of surgery in treating tuberculosis. This is a temporary collapse of the lung, in which air is injected into the chest cavity, on the outside of the diseased lung, and the air pressure around the lung causes it to collapse.

Another form of temporary collapse of the lung is known as pneumoperitoneum. In this operation, air is injected into the abdominal space to push up the diaphragm under the diseased lung. This makes the lung smaller, compressing the diseased area.

A third type of simple operation to provide additional rest for the lung is one which temporarily paralyzes the diaphragm by crushing the phrenic nerve. The phrenic nerve originates in the neck and continues down the length of the chest to the diaphragm.

MOUNT RECEIVES SPECIAL PAINTING

The art collection of historic Mt. St. Mary's College has been enhanced by the addition of a remarkable painting the gift of Rt. Rev. Edward P. McAdams, rector of St. Joseph's Church, Washington, D. C.

The painting entitled, "Landing of the Pilgrims in Maryland," was executed in 1927 by A. Ludovico of New York City. The historical accuracy of the details of the painting is corroborated by both the National Museum and the Smithsonian Institute.

The painting depicts the landing from the Ark and the Dove at St. Clement's Island. Fr. White is celebrating a Mass of Thanksgiving for the successful voyage, surrounded by the Algonquin Indians who have come from the huts and homes of their communal centers along the Potomac River. Gorgoeus Judas trees, which blossom around the end of March, when the Dove appeared, add color to the picture.

The Rt. Rev. Mgrs. John L. Sheridan, president of Mt. St. Mary's College, in accepting the gift alluded to the propriety of such a painting in the halls of the most historic Catholic college not only in Maryland but in the United States.

'CELLIST ENTERTAINS LIONS CLUB MONDAY NIGHT

The Emmitsburg Lions Club held its regular bi-monthly meeting Monday evening in the Lutheran Parish House. The president, Herbert Roger, presided at the meeting and Frank Fitzgerald acted as recording secretary in the absence of Secretary Dr. John Dillon. A delicious ham dinner was served the more than 50 members and guests attending.

The members were pleasantly entertained by an up-and-coming young 'cello artist, Roy Drake, of Asbury Park, N. J., and at present a student at Mt. St. Mary's College. Prof. William Sterbinsky furnished the piano accompaniment.

Three new members, Dr. James Allison, Carter Linger and Ralph McDonnell were inducted in the Melvin Jones Class and made the total new members toll for January seven.

Edgar L. Annan, attendance chairman, explained the new rule governing members' attendance, and said that anyone absent three consecutive times will be expelled.

There will be no Feb. 14 meeting. John Hollinger and Ned Annan will be in charge of music at the next meeting and will render vocal solos as follows: "Water Boy," by Mr. Annan, and "All I Want For Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth," by Mr. Hollinger.

Emmitsburg Lion's Club have tentative plans in mind to sponsor a series of activities to aid the local VFW carry on the upkeep of the public ambulance which it maintains. If possible a resuscitator will be purchased. Citizens of Emmitsburg and vicinity should not forget the expenses involved in this maintenance and whenever possible should offer some contribution.

Mrs. Kate Reuter, daughter, Agnes and son, Chris, visited friends in town last Wednesday.

Miss Ruth Gillelan attended the annual tea of the executive board of the Annie M. Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa., held Monday afternoon at 2:30.

Mrs. Harry Zentz, chairman of the Health Clinic, which is held bi-monthly in the Town Hall at Thurmont, urges the people of this locality to take advantage of the benefits it offers, for the sake of the health of their children as well as the protection it offers expectant mothers. This clinic offers pre-natal care for women who may visit the clinic for regular, routine examinations. It protects young children until school age.

Present at the clinic is a county health nurse, as well as a physician, who will be glad to give you any advice and service they consider necessary for the physical welfare of mother and child.

This service is rendered to the people of the northern section of Frederick County by the County Health Department to keep our children well and to help teach mothers rules to guard the health of their children.

The clinics are held every first and third Wednesday of the month at 1:00 p. m. Next clinic day will be Wednesday, February 2.

If you are not in need of this service yourself, perhaps you may know someone who might wish to avail themselves of this service but is unaware that this clinic exists.

CORONER'S INQUEST FINDS GIRL GUILTY OF NEGLIGENCE

Findings Indicate Car On Wrong Side Of Road In Fatal Accident

A coroner's jury found last Friday afternoon that Miss Catherine Keilholtz, 24, Taneytown Rd. 2, who faces an involuntary manslaughter charge in the death of a New York motorist, was on the left side of the highway, attempting to pass another vehicle near the crest of a hill when the fatal collision occurred.

Newman A. Vosbury, 40 Fayetteville, N. Y., died in the Warner Hospital about two hours after the accident which occurred on the Emmitsburg Rd. about six miles south of Gettysburg, Pa., early in the afternoon of Dec. 30. Five other persons, including Miss Keilholtz, were injured in the end-on crash.

Three witnesses testified at the inquest conducted in the court house, Gettysburg, by Dr. C. G. Crist county coroner, and Miss Keilholtz made a voluntary statement. Witnesses were questioned by Dr. Crist, District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter and Attorneys Edgar K. Merkle and Eugene V. Bullett who represented Keilholtz' interests.

Mrs. Vosbury, widow of the victim of the crash, is at her home near Syracuse, N. Y., and did not attend the inquest upon advice of her physician. The first witness was Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, Warner Hospital surgeon. He said Vosbury was admitted to the hospital in "profound shock" and died of a "rushed chest within two hours without regaining consciousness.

Corp. Jack Bartlett, who made the Penna. State Police investigation, described the accident scene and showed state police photos of the scene and the wrecked cars. He said he found the cars with their fronts locked together at the east edge of the highway. The Keilholtz car was headed south and the New York machine north.

The officer quoted Mrs. Vosbury as having told him her husband had been driving about 40 miles an hour as they topped the crest of a hill and saw the Keilholtz car approaching on their side of the road. She said Mr. Vosbury braked and swerved off the right side of the road. The other car turned the same way and the machines collided.

Corp. Bartlett talked with Miss Keilholtz after the crash and was told by her that she was trying to pass a large truck when she saw the New York car coming. "She said she knew she couldn't get back on her side of the road so she swerved left in an effort to avoid the other car but they collided," the officer said.

The officer said the collision occurred about 210 feet south of the beginning of a solid white line and added that Miss Keilholtz was to the left side of that line when she crashed 150 feet below the crest of the hill.

Verle C. Schumacher, 24, Leechburg, Pa., a student at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, Pa., who was a passenger in the Keilholtz car, testified from a chair by counsel table with his right leg resting on pillows. He walks with crutches as the result of a fractured kneecap received in the fatal crash.

Miss Keilholtz, who said this was her first accident since being licensed nearly two years ago, testified she never drives over 40 miles an hour and is "afraid to pass." She said she had pulled to the left twice to make sure the road ahead was clear before she attempted to pass what she said last Friday she believes a house trailer pulled by a car. She said she sounded her horn and was nearly past the trailer or truck when she saw the Vosbury car coming. She said the trailer vehicle's speed had increased while she attempted the pass but Corp. Bartlett said she had not mentioned this circumstance previously to him.

The witness said that because she was afraid she could not complete the pass and could not get in back of the trailer in time, she braked and swerved left in the hope of evading the other car in that manner.

LOOKING AT RELIGION

By DON MOORE

Homemakers' Corner

Are you preparing to whip your spring wardrobe into shape? Miss Helen Shelby, extension clothing specialist of the U. of Md., says "Home sewing is what you make it. Good tools are as essential for a neatly-made dress as a good oven for a perfect cake.

"With the recent awakening to the values of home sewing, there has been an increase in gadgets for the use of the home sewer. Before putting faith and money in a supply of the latest inventions, it may be well to see that you have good quality in the essential tools."

According to Miss Shelby, these essentials are: a sewing machine in good stitching condition an ironing board and iron for pressing as you sew; shears for cutting and scissors for hand work; sharp-pointed pins; needles suited to the job; a thimble that really fits the middle finger; a tape measure numbered from opposite ends; a yardstick or 18-inch ruler; a razor blade for ripping; thread to match the color of the fabric, and dressmakers' chalk in assorted colors.

And nice to have in addition to the essentials are: a pin cushion with an elastic band to fit the wrist; pinking shears; a zipper foot; a hem gauge with slide; a transparent ruler, a pressing mit and sponge, and dressmakers' tracing paper, tracing wheel, and colored chalk pencils.

A definite place to keep all small tools and equipment add to the ease and pleasure of sewing. Attractive ones may be purchased or you may use a strong cardboard or tin box on hand.

Regardless of the amount of home sewing to be done, have the right tools with which to work and let those tools work for you. Plan the work to be done and be accurate in every step of it. Then it will be possible to say, "I make my own clothes and love it!"
