Another holiday passed and safely out of the way! My! and what a week-end it was. . . . three glorious days of sunshine and fun. Plenty of time for just relaxing and making one's self useless. Is there any feeling more grand than that we experience by just plain laziness, induced by the advent of a holiday week-end? What a blessing to be able to lay down our tools, our books and all other implements of the world's varied crafts and professions and say, "This is one rest I'm going to enjoy!"

Thus went the week-end for most of a hard-working America. But for a small portion of the population . . . as it must be . . . there was starkly lurking fitfully aside highways, swimming pools, recreation spots and even in the home. A few must pay the price for the many. Tragic deaths occurred simultaneously in as many states as there are in the Union. Everywhere slaughter on a wholesale basis. Sadness climaxes what started out to be a respite from the day's toil. We earn our pleasure and deserve it forthright . . . but so many times the price we must pay is too high.

But of such stuff life is built. We must take the bitter with the better as a back-fence philosopher, recently remarked. Today you and I enjoy the highest standard of living ever attained by any people anywhere in the world at any time in the history of the world. I would not attempt judgment on the equity we have involved in this wonderful way of life. Would you dare decide that you are buying the benefits for a reasonable price? Are you being taxed inexorably by mental strain, economic pressure, shortened life span in order to sustain civilization at its superpace?

Who can decide . . . who evaluate whether we pay too high a price for what we have? Should we trouble ourselves with the involved complexities produced by our present mode of living? Or should we simply take more holidays like the grand and glorious Fourth of July just now passed, and forget the passing parade . . . if only for a week-end?

Yes, that's what Abigail would recommend for all of civilization. More holidays, more fun, more relaxation! We've enough of the pressure of modern living all the rest of the year. If life is worth living, it's certainly worth a little relaxation on occasion. Should we become too intent on pursuit of the dollar, we lose sight of the more important goal of life, namely . . . LIVING.

O'Donoghue Buys Local 5 and 10c Store

Emmitsburg's 5 and 10c store and its doors this week under the ownership of Mr. John A. O'Donoghue. The entire stock and equipment was purchased by Mr. O'Donoghue from Leroy Wireman, former owner.

Mr. O'Donoghue promises to give Emmitsburg an up-to-date store and plans to enlarge his inventory so as to have available to his many patrons a large selection of articles allied with this line of merchandise.

The new Novelty 5 and 10 offers many special bargains at greatly reduced prices, a few of which are listed in an advertisement elsewhere in the Chronicle.

JAP BEETLES HIT COUNTY IN SWARMS

Protective Spraying Being Done By Agent Shoemaker

Frederick County's summer Japanese beetle infestation is under way in earnest, it was reported this week as the pests began to appear in large numbers.

The reports came as the county Beetle-Borer Committee began roadside spraying operations with two Government-loaned rigs. The spraying started at the southern end of the county. It is hoped to make at least one complete tour of the entire county. Operations are conducted largely along county roads and the residual effect lasts at least several weeks, on the average, killing large numbers of the insects.

It is expected to be a month or more before any airplane spraying of corn begins. The beetle does not attack corn until it is in silk and little corn will reach that stage until late July. Some different sprays may be used than in other years in some fields, particularly where corn is to be fed to dairy cattle. Advices have been received not to use DDT spray in such cases.

County Agent Henry R. Shoemaker said a number of requests are being made for traps in which to catch beetles. Several thousand are available at leasing stations.

Some of the 500 pounds of spore dust which has been received for use against the beetles will be placed in the ground on the farms. Places where testing traps caught the largest number of beetles last year will get most of the dust. One of these heavily-infested sections is the Creagerstown district. Results from spore dust placed this summer should be evident this fall in hitting the beetle grubs, it is thought.

Geo. L. Wilhide Is Appointed Business Chairman

George L. Wilhide, Emmitsburg, has accepted for a two-year term the position of local district chairman for a large group of Emmitsburg's independent business and professional men who are members of the National Federation of Independent Business, Inc., a non-profit organization, which, during the past six years, has built the largest individual membership of any business organization in the nation.

Mr. Wilhide serves in this capacity without remuneration, in the interests of the independent business and professional men of the federation, tabulating the ballots of the members in the Emmitsburg area; and forwarding them each month to Congressman J. Glenn Beal, Sixth District, in order that the latter may be comprised of the opinions of the members on national bills and issues pending in the committees of the Congress before Beal casts his vote.

The Emmitsburg group of members is similar to the groups formed in the principal towns and cities in Representative Beal's district which are likewise forwarding their opinions to him monthly. Such procedure represents nation-wide expressions by independent business groups to their respective congressmen; and forms an excellent and valuable working counsel for our lawmakers in every congressional district in the United States.

What's Your Name?

By JULES CHRISTIAN

TURNER

Continuing with family names in Emmitsburg derived from some occupation followed as a trade, we begin today with the artisans in stone. This art of arranging stone and brick into useful structures, is one of the most magnificent of ancient and modern times. The glory of ancient civilizations such as that of Egypt, Babylon, Greece, and Rome, was characterized in part by the magnificent structures fashioned out of stone. A thousand years before King Solomon built his glorious temple, the Egyptians had erected giant pyramids fashioned out of stone some pieces of which measured as much as 30 feet in length. Some of these wonders of the ancient world still stand as monuments to the first artisans in stone.

STAMBAUGH

For this reason the art of masonry has been one of the chief arts of mankind. So captivating has it been to the imagination that man often has transferred the art to the area of character building and sought therefrom to fashion character patterned after the art of masonry. Therefore, it is only natural that many families should select their names from this worthy craft.

Taking some examples, John the worker in stone became John Stoner. He might be a worker in precious stones. If his ancestry reaches back to Germany through the Pennsylvania Dutch, he might be called John Strine. John the stone-grader became John Stonesifer. John the builder of walls became John Waller. John the builder of stone or brick structures became John Mason. A brief glance at American history will reveal how prominent the name of Mason has been. Perhaps the most familiar of these names in the vicinity of Emmitsburg is the esteemed and popular family of Stambaugh, the German name for the artisan in stone called mason. Originally the name was spelled Stambau.

American Legion Names Edgar Ashbaugh Commander of Local Post

At the regular meeting of the Francis X. Elder Post No. 121, American Legion, Tuesday night in the Legion Home, Edward Ashbaugh was elected post commander. He succeeds Curtis Topper. Other officers elected for the ensuing year were Jack Rosensteel, first vice commander; Richard Yeomans, second vice commander; Raymond Baumgardner, chaplain; Allen Bouey, finance officer; Roger Zurgable, executive committee, and sergeant-at-arms, Russell Wantz.

The new commander entered the armed forces in 1944 and trained at Camp Meade, Sheppard Field, Texas; Geiger Field, Washington, and Ft. Wright, Washington.

More than thirty persons have mailed their cards to the Post Home expressing their desire to have their names on file of the walking blood bank. However, many of the potential blood donors should realize that neither the blood type nor the R. H. factor need be recorded on the cards. It was pointed out that the Legion requests the other pertinent data, but these two factors may be omitted, unless of course, the donor knows them. After your card is filed, information not given requiring the blood type and R. H. factor will be determined by technicians from the Gettysburg Hospital.

Two new veterans joined the Legion Tuesday night. They were John A. O'Donoghue and Paul Eyley.

This year the National Convention of the American Legion will be held in Baltimore, Aug. 17 to 20. Members from the local Post planning to attend are Albert Saffer, Curtis Topper, Frances Sanders and Eugene Rodgers.

In conjunction with the Emmitsburg Memorial Post No. 6658, VFW, the Legion will participate in the parade of the Frederick County Volunteer Firemen's Assn. which will be held next Friday in Emmitsburg. It is expected that more than 18 will be in the line of march.

The annual crab feast will be held Friday, July 22, it was announced. Each year the Legion holds this mammoth affair for members, auxiliary and guest members. Chairman of the affair is Francis Sanders.

A craft of equal importance to that of masonry is the artisan who works in wood to fashion the useful things of life ranging all the way from magnificent temples to humble toothpicks. Numerous people have chosen their family name from this craft. Thus John who fashioned the wood into lumber became John Sawyer or John Sears. John who fashioned lumber into barrels became John Cooper. John who turned the wood into ornamental shapes became John Turner or John Tasker. John who fashioned the lumber into hampers, became John Knapper, sometimes shortened into Knapp. John who fashioned the wood into laths became John Latter and sometimes John Turner. John who fashioned the wood into bows became John Bowman, often spelled Bowyer or Boyer or Boyes or even Bowers. John who fashioned strings for the bows became John Stringer. And John who made arrows for the bow became John Tipper or John Fowler.

ZIMMERMAN

John who built houses out of lumber became John Carpenter. John the roof-man who, in the olden days, fashioned the roof out of thatch or reeds, became John Thatcher sometimes called Thackery. If he fashioned the roof out of reeds he became John Reader or John Decker.

For Emmitsburg the most conspicuous of these wood crafts is probably the carpenter, the builder of much needed homes for the community. In Germany the equivalent of the American carpenter is Zimmerman, the builder of houses. Among the Zimmermans coming to America in colonial times, it is reported, were two brothers. One chose to call himself Zimmerman. The other translated his name into the American equivalent and called himself Carpenter. Thus Mr. Zimmerman and Mr. Carpenter in that instance were brothers.

MORE PARKING METERS TO BE INSTALLED

Written Complaints Handled By Board At Regular Meeting

The Mayor and Commissioners of Emmitsburg met in regular session Tuesday night in Firemen's Hall with all members of the board present.

Several written complaints from citizens of the Town were discussed and acted upon. One complaint was made against the Hanover Shoe factory which revolved around the smoke and soot caused by the factory's incinerating system. Another was presented by the Emmitsburg Manufacturing Co. concerning the condition of the alley beside the plant. It stated that due to erosion and weeds the way was inaccessible and that it was public property and should be kept up. The complaint was taken under advisement.

The third complaint registered was about dogs barking all hours of the day and night. This matter was referred to the police department.

Attention was called to the parents of children roller skating after 6 p. m. This is contrary to the Town Ordinance prohibiting such skating, and in the future the law will be enforced.

The Town Officials ordered the sewer cover in front of the Neck property repaired and also the bridge railing over the run adjacent the same property.

Mayor Rodgers announced that the new shipment of parking meter heads had arrived and that they would be placed into action immediately at the extremes of East and West Main Sts. Revenue from the meters to date showed a total of $327.27.

A report on the paving of Federal Hill disclosed that the work is progressing nicely and that the project is about one-half completed. Work on the sewer pipes for N. Seton Ave. will be started in the near future.

Police Chief H. C. Woodring's monthly report showed a total of 16 arrests. Five of these apprehensions were for disorderly conduct, one peace warrant and 10 overtime parking violations.

Laura Rosensteel Heads Auxiliary

The July meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Francis X. Elder Post was held in their new office of the Post Home Tuesday night. Nineteen members were present for the election of officers for the ensuing year. Elected to the presidency of the Auxiliary was Mrs. Laura Rosensteel. Mrs. Carmen Topper was elected as secretary; Mrs. Agnes Yeomans, treasurer, Mrs. Anne Topper, first vice president, and Mrs. Pauline Rosensteel, second vice president.

In the committee reports, it was announced that Miss Ruth Gillelan, Mrs. Ethel Baumgardner and Mrs. Margaret Brown attended the Brunswick meeting, while Mrs. Nettie Ashbaugh, Mrs. Esther Gillelan, Mrs. Ada Myers and Mrs. Laura Rosensteel attended the Frederick meeting.

It was reported that the next drawing for the award will be for $150. Mrs. Jane Gingell's name was selected Tuesday night, but since she was not present the prize has been increased by fifty cents.

The Auxiliary voted to send $3 to the St. Joseph's High School donation fund.

Mrs. Madaline Harner was named to be in charge of the refreshments at the August meeting.

From the report read, the sale of poppies by the Auxiliary netted them $150.

On the 17 of July, the Auxiliary is cordially invited to attend the dedication of colors at Taneytown.

Annual Affair Will Be Of Week's Duration

The Vigilant Hose Company of Emmitsburg announced this week that plans have practically been completed for the staging of what is anticipated as the biggest and most successful convention and carnival ever to be held in Emmitsburg.

The carnival is being held in conjunction with the fifteenth annual convention of the Frederick County Volunteer Firemen's Association.

MT. AIRY APPROVES REFERENDUM FOR SUNDAY MOVIES

Residents Approve Move By 3 to 1; Church Opposed

By a margin of 3 1/2 to 1 the residents of Mt. Airy approved Sunday movies in a special election last week. The final count was 293 for and 83 against.

The margin of difference was greater than anticipated although some residents had predicted that the proposal would be approved.

Becoming effective at once the referendum authorized movies at the Mt. Airy Theater next Sunday. L. E. Jones, proprietor of the theater, announced this week that the first Sunday show will start at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon with the particularly appropriate show, "One Sunday Afternoon."

While the result was more one-sided than expected by many voters, the turn-out of voters was up to expectations. The polling place was crowded most of the time between 2 and 6 p. m. as 376 eligible voters cast ballots.

Many of the voters had registered on two special dates earlier this month. More than 225 new names had been added to the registration lists in preparation for the vote on the Sunday movies.

In a municipal election, the turnout is usually about a third of that recorded at Mt. Airy. About 500 were eligible to vote.

Some organized opposition to the proposal developed in recent weeks after the official board of Calvary Methodist Church went on record as opposing Sunday movies in Mt. Airy and asked members of the congregation to register and vote against the proposal. The church parsonage adjoins the theater.

Mr. Jones had appealed to the voters for favorable action on the issue because his regular patrons attended Sunday movies in Frederick, Damascus, Westminster and Sykesville. He said his theater was deprived of much week-end revenue.

Young Lutherans Meet July 12

The July meeting of the Young Adult Lutheran group will be held in the Parish House Tuesday, July 12 at eight o'clock. Dr. James H. Allison will preside.

Short devotions will be conducted and an interesting program of discussion and social activities are being planned. Light refreshments will be served.

Every young adult member of the congregation is invited. Membership in the organization is restricted to those above the age of 21 and under 40. There are several exceptions to this membership rule. All married people are eligible, all married couples whose combined ages do not total above 80 are included, and all young people under 21 who are earning their own living are eligible for membership in this group.

Twin boys were born recently to an economics professor. Could that be construed as an optimistic trend for the future?

Six Great Nights

Convention Chairman Herbert W. Roger and Assistant Chairman Ralph S. Sperry, announced that the six great nights of fun, games, rides, etc., will commence Monday night at Community Field. Bingo lovers will have the time of their lives with the game being played every night during the entire week, with hundreds of prizes to select from.

The week-long carnival will terminate Saturday night. Delegations from every town and city in Frederick County are expected to attend the affair.

Workmen have been busy all week long readying the field for the occasion and without a doubt the grounds represent the best facilities in the county for holding such affairs.

The firemen stated that arrangements are practically complete for the mammoth parade which will get under way Friday evening at 7:00 p. m. All participating parties are asked to form at the Emmitsburg High School grounds at 6:30 p. m. to insure starting promptly at 7 o'clock.

Mammoth Parade

Parade Chairman John J. Hollinger has named the following units as comprising the parade to date: Maryland State Police, VFW Color Guard, Civic Band of Hagerstown, 729th Maintenance Corps, Maryland National Guard of Camp Ritchie, and the following fire company units—Ryneal Drill Team and Band from Martinsburg, W. Va., Arcadia, Cash-town, Clear Springs, Taneytown, (Band or Bugle Corps), Hampstead (Ladies' Auxiliary), Gettysburg, Barlow, Fountain Dale, Pikesville, A. T. Hook and Ladder Company, Waynesboro, New Midway, Brunswick, and at least 10 other firemen's organizations are expected to be in the line of march.

A record turnout is expected at this event as it is the resumption of a former custom of the local fire company which was furloughed by the last war.

Visitors to Emmitsburg will find the Town adequately decorated for the occasion and a gay atmosphere prevails as bunting, flags and streamers are to be seen practically everywhere.

The convention will open officially Thursday night with the registration of delegates at seven o'clock. Following the registration, there will be a reception of the delegates. Convention will be called to order promptly at eight o'clock, also at which time the County Ladies' Auxiliary will hold their annual meeting here. Following the prayer by the Firemen's Association chaplain, Rev. Leslie Sovocool, Mayor Thornton W. Rodgers will officially welcome the visitors. A response to the Mayor's welcome will be made by Bartgis Storm, past president of the Frederick County Volunteer Firemen. Current business will then be enacted and an election of new officers for the coming year will be held. The site for next year's convention will then be chosen and the date for the next quarterly meeting will be set. Memorial services for the organization's deceased members will be held. Following adjournment, refreshments will be served the delegates.

On Friday night's program, the parade is carded for 7 p. m. Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p. m., a baseball game will be played between the teams.

Good advice: Do today's work well and forget about what tomorrow may bring.

HEALTH COLUMN

SAFE SWIMMING

Most people regard swimming as the ideal summer sport. It is good exercise and is refreshing, and brings relief from summer heat.

So it is easy to forget that swimming can be hazardous. We may not realize the dangers of swimming until we hear of a drowning or have the unpleasant experience of a "narrow escape" in the water ourselves.

By far the greater percentage of swimming fatalities are the result of carelessness. In almost all cases they could have been avoided if a few precautions had been observed.

This may seem unnecessary advice, but anyone who likes the water, whether it be lakes, pools, rivers or the ocean, should learn how to swim. Knowing how to swim makes the water more fun, as well as less hazardous.

But even good and experienced swimmers should never go swimming alone. Accidents can happen to the best swimmers and someone else should be along—preferably a person who also swims well—to help out if anything should go wrong.

Most of us were warned as small children not to go into the water too soon after eating. Rushing into the water before the food has time to digest invites stomach cramps which usually make their victim helpless. People should stay out of the water for at least two hours after eating.

Moderation is important in swimming as it is in everything else. No one, not even an expert, should swim to the point of complete exhaustion, or stay in the water after he becomes chilled. Panic, resulting in helplessness, can overtake any swimmer who becomes fatigued or chilled, although most swimmers know that when they become tired or cramped they should float on their backs until they become rested or until help comes.

It is foolish to swim in dirty water, or in unknown waters that might be polluted and unsafe for swimming. Remember that with your nose and mouth submerged in water that might be polluted, it is easy to take in germs that may cause serious illness.

If you enjoy diving, learn to dive properly and make certain the area of water in which you plunge is right for diving. It is wise, also, to check with your doctor if you intend to dive, since people with sinus or ear trouble can be seriously injured in diving.

Roadster Races At Park Sunday

Champion of the Eastern Racing Assn. last year, Bob Whitbeck of Canojorie, N. Y., will return for the "hot rod" races on Sunday afternoon, July 10, on the Williams Grove Speedway.

The New York hot shot of the "hot rods" will join a large field of roadster racers which include the following pilots from Pennsylvania:

Nat McKeene, Pittsburgh; Red Deiter, Hogins; Sam Brubaker, Lebanon; Vince Conrad, Allentown; George Donovan, Jacobus; Charles Feltenberger, and Rene Lloyd, both of Reading, and Bob Eby, Cleona.

Whitbeck will chauffeur a Ford roadster, a red and white job, which is one of the best appearing cars in "hot rod" racing.

Fans will see plenty of action at Whitbeck and the daredevils from the Keystone State join Carl Anderson of Arlington, Va., to vie for honors in Sunday's race.

An action-packed program of speed and thrills will consist of qualifying trials, four eight-lap races, two 10-lap semi-final events and a 12-lap consolation race, from which only the fastest cars and most capable drivers assembled will be permitted to compete in the big 30-lap feature race.

HOMEMAKERS' CORNER

Delightful variety in sweetenings plus flavors from the flower world—yours to enjoy, if you make use of fine Maryland honey, says extension nutrition specialist Margaret McPheeters.

Most kinds of honey on the market are blends, rather similar in flavor. But the experimentally-produced person may buy and try differently flavored honeys produced from nectars of selected blossoms, which range from dark, rich flavors to pale, mild honey.

Many are the ways of using honey in summer time. Try it for sweetening cool fruit drinks, iced tea or coffee. Honey fruit cup makes a delicious and unusual dessert first course. If the fruits in the cup are mild and sweet, mix lemon juice with the honey, add to the fruit, and chill. If the fruit includes tart members, such as grapefruit, add honey alone. Use honey in a fruit salad with oranges, berries and coconut. Or add it to salad dressing. Dribble it over baked apples during baking for another taste treat.

Tumblers and other glassware get extra heavy use in summer when the family enjoys cool drinks and chilled desserts. Make them last longer by following these simple hints.

Instead of pouring hot water over the glass in washing or rinsing, lay the glass gently in the water. This prevents too rapid expansion, caused by the heat. For the same reason, glass should not be taken directly from refrigerator to hot dishwasher, and jars of food, hot from the canner, should not stand in a breeze to cool. In making iced tea or coffee in glass, pour the hot beverage slowly onto the ice rather than against the glass. Safer yet, make the beverage in a china or pottery pitcher and then pour into glasses. Incidentally, don't drop ice cubes too carelessly into glasses—they are heavier than you might think.

Many Deaths Reported From Poisonous Paint

"Maryland now has a law (Chapter 517 of the Acts of 1949) which requires all toys, playthings and children's furniture decorated with anything that might be injurious to children to be labeled 'poison,'" Mr. J. Davis Donovan, chief of this Department's Division of Legal Administration, reminds the parents of young children. "The new law, which became effective June 1, covers all such articles made, sold or offered for sale in the State and provides penalties up to $5,000 or imprisonment for violations.

"The records of the State Department of Health do not disclose any cases of poisoning resulting from children eating materials used in decorating new toys and furniture. However, in Baltimore City since 1931 there have been 213 cases and 77 deaths of children under ten years of age from lead poisoning. It may be assumed that for the same period of time the cases and deaths from this cause in the counties would about equal these figures.

"More than half of the known cases have been children two years old, and 85 per cent have been children from one to three years of age. Of the cases investigated almost every one was the result of the child's chewing painted surfaces or eating paint from repainted interior walls and woodwork.

"Parents should prevent children from chewing any painted surface or from eating any paint which has flaked off. Exterior paints and varnishes usually contain lead and should, therefore, never be used on interior walls, woodwork, furniture or toys. On such surfaces only lead free paints and those free from other poisonous ingredients should be used. If a child becomes ill after chewing on painted surfaces or eating flaked off paint it is imperative that the family physician be consulted immediately.

"Although the State Department of Health is making every reasonable effort to enforce this law, the constant vigilance of parents and others responsible for the well being of young children is necessary to make it truly effective. Increased awareness of this threat to Maryland's boys and girls can prevent needless suffering and loss of life."

The price of wheat is to be supported at $2.35 for 1949, according to an announcement from the headquarters of the Production and Marketing Administration in Maryland, for No. 1 wheat stored in terminal elevators in Baltimore or Philadelphia. This price will be discounted by one cent for No. 2, 3 cents for No. 3, six cents for light garlic. Wheat grading No. 4 or 5 will be accepted for loan if it grades below No. 3 on test weight only. This price compares to support figures of $2.40 in 1948.

The loan program will be put into operation in about the same manner as in recent years. Joseph H. Blandford, chairman of the Maryland PMA State Committee, explains that farmers can get the support through either loans or purchase agreements.

Under the loan program, the government advances the amount of the support price to the farmer. If he decides to keep the wheat or sell it elsewhere at a higher price, he can repay the loan. If the loan is not repaid before April 30, 1950 the government becomes owner of the wheat.

Under the purchase agreement program, the government agrees to purchase the wheat from the farmer at the support price. The farmer assumes the risk of storing the wheat and must have wheat of acceptable quality when he turns it over to the government.

Farmers wanting more information should get in touch with their local Triple-A offices.

Inspection Period Shortened

Maryland farmers wanting to have on-the-farm wheat or barley storage inspected for price support purposes no longer have to wait the 30-day period after the grain goes into the bin. In a special announcement, Mr. Blandford has revealed that this requirement has been lifted.

"We are dropping the 30-day waiting period," he reports, "as a means of speeding action of the loan program for the benefit of Maryland farmers. This is particularly important this year when storage facilities are scarce and relatively little of the grain can go into commercial storage under the loan program."

Roads Commission Votes for Huge Bond Issue

The State Roads Commission today announced it had voted issuance of $22,500,000 in highway construction bonds to help finance the accelerated road-building program on which it embarked last year and which will continue in 1952.

The bonds will be advertised for sale next Monday, with bids to be opened at the State Roads Commission offices at 2 p. m., Monday.

The commission's action, taken by resolution at a special meeting late yesterday, constitutes that group's first move to use a portion of the $100,000,000 bond authorization granted it by the General Assembly of 1947.

The new bonds will be in a way connected with the Chesapeake Bay Bridge project or with the revenue bonds issued to finance that structure.

Under terms of the legislative act authorizing the hundred-million-dollar issue, at least 50 per cent of the money derived from sale of the bonds must be spent on highways carrying a load of 3,000 or more vehicles per day.

The resolution authorizing the new issue carried a stipulation that no more highway bonds will be offered during the current calendar year, except for $2,500,000 to be sold between November 1 and December 31 for the specific purpose of building the Patuxent River Bridge, which the commission was ordered to construct by an act of the 1949 General Assembly.

The net amount available to the commission for highway construction projects from the new issue will be between $17,000,000 and $18,000,000, the remainder being used toward refunding $5,253,000 still outstanding from a $9,000,000 issue of 1941. This latter issue, it was explained, comprises the only highway bond obligation of the State Roads Commission currently outstanding.

Mr. and Mrs. John Law and daughter, Suzanne, have returned home from Danbury, Conn., after spending several weeks with relatives.

High Gasoline Tax Disadvantage To Maryland Business

The states as a whole are expected to collect $100,000,000 in gasoline tax revenue from touring motorists during the 1949 summer vacation season, according to J. P. Lanigan, executive secretary of the Maryland Petroleum Industries Committee.

His estimate was based on a recently published prediction that motoring tourists throughout the country will travel more than 50 billion passenger miles on summer vacation trips this year.

Mr. Lanigan pointed out that all this travel "can mean a gasoline revenue bonanza to the states as well as a business boom to local merchants, restaurant and hotel keepers and resort establishments."

"However," he added, "the states that will really cash in on gasoline tax revenue from tourists are the states that have reasonable gasoline tax rates. Tourists—especially through travelers—will keep their gasoline purchases to a minimum in states with gasoline tax rates that are obviously aimed at 'soaking the motoring public.'"

In this respect, he said, "Maryland is at a distinct disadvantage in its efforts to attract tourist trade. Our state gasoline tax rate of 5 cents a gallon is heavier than that which motorists from most states north of Maryland are accustomed to paying, so it is bound to cause resentment. Thus, our very high gasoline tax rate not only burdens the residents of Maryland, but even casts a shadow over the business and revenue outlook for the 1949 vacation season."

Mr. Lanigan pointed out that besides the state tax there is a Federal levy of 1 1/2 cents on each gallon of gasoline, making the total gasoline tax in Maryland come to 6 1/2 cents a gallon. The additional Federal gasoline tax, he said, is expected to add $25,000,000 to the gasoline tax bill of vacationing American motorists this summer.

Fascinatin' Fashions

By Judy Seaton

FLORAL FUN: Helpful hints are a hobby with Shirley Drake, radio actress who often appears Sunday afternoons on Mutual's "House of Mystery." Shirley collects fashion tips as other girls collect figurines. "Be gay with your accessories!" Shirley advises. "Make them new and novel by using beautiful and inexpensive artificial flowers from the ten cent store." With a few yards of ribbon and some artificial flowers, Shirley adds colorful summer seasoning to her basic blouses and suits.

Shirley Drake models her newest accessory idea — a colorful flower monogram.

For instance: take ordinary household wire, shape it into your initials, wind with sprigs of flowers, and pin them to your lapel — an identifying bit of ingenuity. Why not do the same with your nickname?

Two more pretty tricks: break up a bunch of various-size posies, fasten them to a hatpin, and sprinkle them over your lapel or use them as fancy hatpins for your simple bonnets. You can attach a colorful bunch of splashy flowers to the end of a scarf, or fasten them to a length of wide grosgrain ribbon to wear as an ascot for suits or blouses. Do the same to the ribbon streamers on your spring bonnet.

A half yard of grosgrain ribbon makes an old-fashioned choker . . . or with a little more you can have a bright belt, either one entwined with gay spring flowers. What about a big bright red cabbage rose or poppy, stuffed into a hipside pocket, tucked into a plunging neckline or fastened to your belt? During warm summer months, or even on weekends, when you plan to braid your hair, why not take some long-stemmed dime-store posies and braid them in for flower flattery to frame your face?

Shirley's favorite furbelow is a simple summer straw cloche, with the tiniest of flowers scattered haphazardly over the crown and held in place with dark veiling firmly attached on both sides of the hat. With her ingenuity, Shirley proves that fashion can be fascinating fun!

Colonel Frailey Is Honored By Fraternity

The members of the Washington Club of the National Fraternity of Alpha Chi Rho gave a testimonial dinner in honor of Colonel Thomas J. Frailey, of Emmitsburg, as he recently terminated 30 years as secretary of the Washington Alumni Group.

The principal speakers at the festivities, held at the Highlands Apartment Hotel, Connecticut Ave., Washington, D. C., on Tuesday, included Hon. Hugh D. Scott, member of Congress, chairman, the Republican National Committee and former president of Alpha Chi Rho, Dr. William McClellan, former president of the Potomac Electric Power Company and dean of the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, William O. Burtner of Washington and Lee University, and Rev. James Henderson of the Washington Cathedral.

At the conclusion of the dinner Colonel Frailey was presented with an English leather briefcase, and Mrs. Frailey received orchids. Major George R. Waggoner of the University of Illinois was elected to succeed Col. Frailey as secretary. Carl B. Seeds of Pennsylvania State College presided. Fourteen chapters of Alpha Chi Rho were represented at the dinner.

Colonel Frailey, a veteran of both World War I and II, after graduation from Emmitsburg High School, entered Mt. Saint Mary's College, where he received A. B. and M. A. degrees and subsequently graduated from Dickinson School of Law, Carlisle, Pa., with the degree of LL.B. He is a member of the bar of the District of Columbia and Maryland and has been admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court.

MARYLAND FEED & GRAIN MARKETS

The wheat market in Baltimore weakened during the week ending July 8. Corn and soybeans strengthened. Supply of soybeans is scarce. Barley and oats were steady on the Baltimore market during the past week.

The price for Maryland wheat under loan in Baltimore City is now $2.27 per bushel instead of $2.16 for wheat delivered by wagon, truck or bay boat. Wheat arriving in Baltimore by rail in transit is $2.37 per bushel instead of $2.35.

Storage space in Baltimore and Philadelphia is badly crowded this year. Total space may not meet demand. Farmers wishing to retain title to the wheat and assure to themselves at least the support price may, therefore, be forced to provide farm storage for loans or to secure a purchase agreement. Farmers should be careful to combine or thresh wheat as dry as possible since wheat to be eligible for loan must not run above 14 per cent moisture. Loans and purchase agreements will be available from now through Jan. 31, 1950 and will mature on April 30, 1950.

Farmers storing grain on the farm for a loan may secure inspection as soon after storage as they think the grain will make the moisture requirements.

National Summary

Grain markets strengthened materially during the first week in July with greatest gains in wheat and soybeans. Less favorable prospects for spring wheat, an upward adjustment of two cents per bushel in the loan rate and a more active milling demand were the principal strengthening influences in the wheat market. Gains of seven to 10 cents per bushel compared with a week ago were reported at the leading terminals despite heavy receipts. Corn advanced one to two cents per bushel. Rather small offerings of oats together with a good demand brought about an advance of four to six cents per bushel. Barley was firm and about five cents higher than a week ago. Grain sorghums advanced 10 to 12 cents a hundred. Trading in soybeans was apparently restricted by the small current offerings. No. 2 yellow soybeans were quoted at $2.49½. Bids on track at Illinois, country points were $2.38 per bushel.

Maryland Feed Market Summary

The feed market in Baltimore was steady to firmer during the week ended July 8. Sixteen per cent dairy feed increased about three per cent—$2 per ton more than a week ago. 20 per cent broiler mash declined about $2.10 per ton on the Baltimore market during the past week—a decrease of about two per cent.

The broiler-feed ratio for Maryland producers showed a very slight improvement during the week ended July 7. Broiler prices averaged 23.8 cents per pound (22.4 cents last week) while 20 per cent broiler mash on Lower Eastern Shore averaged about $94.30 per ton ($90.96 per ton last week). On this basis one pound of live weight of broilers would buy five pounds of feed.

National Summary

Feedstuff prices averaged lower during the first week in July, with moderate advances in oilseed meals more than offset by declines in grain byproduct feeds, particularly heavy wheat millfeeds. The relative cheapness of ground feed grains caused increased substitution of these grains for millfeeds and was largely responsible for the decline of $2-$3 per ton in bran and of $5-$7 per ton in prices of middlings and shorts. Scarcity of offerings of oilseed meals for immediate shipment was principally responsible for the continued strength in high protein feeds. The index of feedstuff prices dropped about three points, to 220.9. Feed grains were down only slightly, with the index at 188.4 compared with 288.8 a year ago.

Feeding ratios for dairymen were about the same in June as in May. Feed costs declined about the same proportionately as butterfat prices. Feeding ratios, however, were still about 9 per cent more favorable than a year ago and 14 per cent more favorable than prewar. The butterfat feed ratio for the country as a whole was 22.9 at the middle of June compared with 23.0 in May, 21.1 in June 1948, and 20 the 5-year prewar average. Higher egg prices, together with the lower feed costs, brought about a more favorable feeding ratio for poultrymen in June. The ratio continues well above a year ago and nine per cent above prewar. For the country as a whole the egg feed ratio was 14.7 in June compared with 14.2 in May, 10.9 in June a year ago, and 13.5 the prewar June average.

Rewiring Cheaper Than Original

A spider-web of cords for various electrical fixtures running from one electric outlet may be the danger signal that should remind the householder to add additional circuits. Rewiring may even be necessary in some cases, according to experts who point out that rewiring is cheaper than repairing or rebuilding a house after a fire.

He emphasizes that overloaded circuits cause many fires. Wires which are run under a rug may also cause a short circuit fire but, if left exposed, they present another hazard as people trip and fall over them. The answer, they say, is to have at least one outlet on each wall. When this is done, the outlets should be on more than one circuit, thus permitting some lights to remain on even though a fuse blows.

A wife has been fined $25 for whipping her husband on the street. She should have known home was the only place for that.

New Milk Price System Looked For

A new plan for the pricing of milk in the Philadelphia Milk Marketing Area has been recommended by the Philadelphia Class I Milk Price Committee in a report released this week by W. F. Sadler, Market Administrator for Federal Order No. 61 which regulates the marketing of milk. The committee, composed of economists from Pennsylvania and adjoining states has been working for more than a year making an independent study of the factors bearing on the Class I (fluid) milk price in the Philadelphia area.

Since the Federal Order first became effective in April 1942, the minimum price to be paid producers for milk delivered to handlers in the area has been determined by the Secretary of Agriculture following a public hearing and the approval of any proposed amendments to the order by producers. Under the plan recommended by the Committee the producer price of milk would be determined by a combination of public hearings and a formula which combines indexes of the following five statistical series:

- 1—Wholesale prices of all commodities in the United States.
- 2—Prices paid by Pennsylvania farmers for mixed dairy feed.
- 3—Prices received by Pennsylvania farmers for products other than milk and milk products.
- 4—Prices paid by midwest condenseries for 3.5 per cent milk.
- 5—Average daily Class I milk sales, both in and out of the Philadelphia Marketing Area.

The plan recommended calls for public hearings held twice a year to review the current and prospective situation and initiate any adjustments which appear necessary in the annual level of prices. From this annual level the spring quarter price would be 40 cents less and the fall quarter would be 40 cents more.

Playground Now Open To Kiddies

The playground committee of the Emmitsburg Lions Club wishes to advise parents that the playground, which has been undergoing a good cleaning up for the past two weeks, is now open for the children of the Town.

The playground is open Monday through Friday, and during specified hours, Miss Mary Fiery is there to supervise the playing of games and other amusements.

Miss Fiery is on duty from nine to 11 each morning and from three to five each afternoon. Swings and see-saws have been repaired, sand boxes have been filled to help occupy the kiddies' time.

The committee expresses its sincere thanks to both the VFW and the Emmitsburg Woman's Club for their timely donation for the playground equipment.

TANEYTOWN WINS

Taneytown trounced the local nine in the Penn-Maryland League game Sunday on the Taneytown diamond to the tune of 17 to 6. At least two of the regular local nine were missing from the lineup, which greatly cramped the style of the other teamsters. Kelly started the hurling, allowing 4 hits, which netted 7 runs for the Taneytown men in the first inning. Unger, pitcher for the foe, reciprocated by allowing five hits in the second which, coupled with three errors by his fellowmen, netted us an even 7 runs, tying the score. Clean singles by Hollinger, Smith, Chrimer, Frock, and a triple by Paidakovich, did the trick of tying the score.

Joy replaced Kelly, who definitely couldn't hold the opponents and finally Warthen took over the mound, in the seventh inning and holding them till the end of the game.

forcing the directors and older men to don uniforms and fill the open positions . . . In last Sunday's game with Taneytown, we were beaten to a frazzle because we had no substitutes to fill the shoes of absent regular players and had to have Norman Flax play first base . . . Flax is a good sportsman and has been interested in the local ball club for years, but when a man hasn't been playing ball for years or thereabouts, he certainly isn't prepared to have a suit thrust at him and sent out to hold down first . . . Surprisingly enough, he didn't do badly at all—He made no errors and connected with a couple of the hurlers' best pitches only to be caught out at first . . . Which only goes to show what a real sport Flax is . . . His spirit is willing to help the ball team out, though the flesh isn't as co-operative, eh Fluxie? Compare his enthusiasm with that of the younger fellows who won't come to any of the games and sit on the bench and wait till Sunday's game . . . If they can't play all the time, they just don't play at all . . . That's their notion . . . Not a very pretty one, is it? Not for fellows who call themselves "sports" . . . There are big league players who are home run kings who spend plenty of time warming the bench till they're called on.
