Must Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

Oyster season opens officially this month. It's a funny thing. Used to be oyster season was mighty profitable enterprise here in Maryland, but now it means little or nothing to us.

The squirrel season officially opens on the fifteenth of this month, so Johnny get your guns oiled and buy plenty of ammunition 'cause mister, you're up agin a tough hombre when you're trying to shoot one of those wirey little creatures.

Incidentally, did you know that all the little squirrels of eligible size and age are attending school these days? Well, it's a truth. They're learning how to outwit hunters and their dogs.

Whoops, I forgot to tell you the other day about the sliding board the VFW donated to St. Joe's High School recently.

For those of you who haven't had a good laugh in a long time, may I recommend that you go to see the Donkey baseball game tomorrow night on the local athletic field?

Every holiday takes its grim toll, but this past Labor Day holiday broke the record. Five hundred persons lost their lives over the United States.

And yet it's the unhappy, horrible truth. Why, oh why, can't people be more cautious? Caution pays such big dividends . . . Please, folks, for your own sake and well being, TAKE YOUR TIME when you're on a trip, especially over a holiday when there are so many more fellow travelers on the road . . . You may be a little later arriving at your destination, but at least you'll arrive in ONE PIECE!

CONVICT NABBED HERE BY POLICE CHIEF WOODRING

Escapee From Penal Farm Eluded State Police

Ervin N. Francis, Negro, an escapee of the State Reformatory at Roxbury, Md., was apprehended Tuesday afternoon in Emmitsburg by Chief of Police H. C. Woodring.

The desperado eluded a state police dragnet and managed to enter town.

Acting on information supplied by William Chase, Chief Woodring began an immediate search for the convict. Francis was said to have tried to take trucks belonging to James Smith and Merl Keilholtz, but was unable to start them.

S. H. Alexander, identification officer at the reformatory rushed here and he and Chief Woodring began the manhunt.

Francis was finally located at the home of John Trent, Mountain Rd., where he was playing with the Trent children.

Upon seeing the officers approaching, he attempted flight and as Chief Woodring fired into the air he dropped to the ground and was seized by the lawmen.

Information showed that Francis was serving 36 months at the penal institution to which he was sentenced in Baltimore for robbery.

The escapee was returned to the reformatory in the custody of Mr. Alexander.

Edgar Ashbaugh Installed As Legion Commander

At the regular meeting of the Francis X. Elder Post, American Legion, the installation of officers was held in the Post Home on N. Seton Ave.

Officers installed were: Commander, Edgar Ashbaugh; first vice president, Jack Rosensteel; second vice commander, Richard Yoemans; chaplain, Raymond Baumgardner; finance officer, Allen Bouey and sergeant-at-arms, Russell Wantz.

The Post announced its plans for next year when it decided to place an American Legion Junior baseball team in league competition. If Jack Rosensteel, now manager of the team, is able to recruit enough boys between 12 and 16 years of age next year, the unit expressed its desire of continuing the sport which was late getting started this year.

Playing independent ball all season, the local juniors showed great promise by winning four of their seven games. Some of these wins came at the expense of other experienced junior teams entered in the American Legion League.

Plans are being formulated to buy or have made bicycle racks for the students attending St. Joseph's and Emmitsburg high schools. Many of the present-day students ride a bicycle to school and the Legion felt a rack would of this nature would save both space and neatness on the school ground. Harold Hoke was named chairman of the committee.

Another appeal has been made by the Legion to blood donors to place their names on file at the "Walking Blood Bank." It was stated that anyone, Legionnaire or any other citizen, may have his name placed on file by simply contacting Robert Wormley, chairman of the committee, or fill in the cards which were issued some time ago. An estimated 300 names had been requested, but to date only 125 blood donors have responded to the call.

Lineups Released For Saturday's Donkey Baseball Game

Baseball fans are in for the treat of their lives Saturday night. The Emmitsburg Baseball Assn. is sponsoring a Donkey baseball game on the Community Field, the game starting at 8:30 o'clock.

Two teams will vie for honors. One squad will be managed by "Bob" Gillelan and will be known as the "Fat Men's" team, and another outfit known as Hollinger's "Thin Men" will take part in the contest.

The donkeys are well-trained in the art of playing baseball and to add to the zest, an electric stick is applied to them occasionally which produces grand results—for the spectators. After several innings of play, the diamond will then be turned over to the local baseball team which will try to beat the Blue Ridge Summit aggregation from the Penn-Maryland League.

Manager Hollinger released the following lineup for Saturday's contest: Charles Bollinger, Emory Lickman, Dr. W. R. Cadle, Charles Harner, Leonard Zimmerman, Frank Weant, Edward Lingg, Carroll Frock, Charles Sharrer, John White, Dr. D. L. Beegle, Donald Harner, Dr. O. H. Stinson, "Slim" Deatheridge, and Robert Daugherty.

The heavy side of the roster shows these exponents of baseball on donkeys as released by their manager, "Bob" Gillelan: George Eyster, Greta Keilholtz, Thomas Gngell, George Gingell, George Rosensteel, Harry McNair, James Arnold, Guy Baker, Leslie Fox, John Roddy Jr., Howard Carty, Herbert Roger, David Martin, "Fete" Keilholtz, Roy Bollinger, John Garner, Norman Flax, W. J. Rowe, Ward Kerrigan and Allen Bouey.

Contestants are asked to be on the field at 8:00 p. m. for practice and to bring their spurs and cushions. Three doctors will be present to handle the casualties.

SCHOOLS OPEN TO RECORD ENROLLMENTS

Changes Appear in Every Faculty; Three New Principals

Emmitsburg's two high schools and two elementary schools opened their doors Wednesday morning to record enrollments.

St. Joseph's High School reported a total of 125 students enrolled.

New Principal Named A new principal has been named for St. Joseph's High School and St. Euphemia's Parochial School. Sister Regis will take the place of Sister Mary Catherine. Sister Mary Catherine has returned to Seton High, Baltimore. Sister Alice, a former teacher in the parochial school will teach commercial subjects in the high school, taking the place of Mrs. Eileen Rodgers Seaker.

Emmitsburg High School began its new year under the principalship of Prof. Arvin P. Jones and turned in an enrollment of 349, high and elementary.

New changes in the faculty at the school are Mrs. Jean Claire Mount, Mrs. Jasper, Mrs. Charlton and Mr. Englar.

The school has undergone extensive improvements during the summer months.

St. Anthony's Lists 126 Rev. Stanley Scarf, pastor of St. Anthony's School, announced a new principal has been installed at the school this year.

Sister Agnes heads the faculty and is to be supported by the following instructors: Sister Frances Agnes, Sister Mary Frances, Sister Lawrence and Sister Pauline. Enrollment figures at the Shrine School list 126 students.

Fr. Scarf stated that Monday, Sept. 12, the Mass of the Holy Ghost will be offered for the school children and the blessing of God asked upon the work of the school for the year. All pupils are asked to attend the Mass.

DITZLER-SANDERS

Miss Joan C. Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clarence Sanders, Emmitsburg, became the bride of Harold L. Ditzler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Ditzler, Biglerville Saturday at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Rev. Fr. Charles Stouter officiating.

The bride wore an autumn brown street length dress with brown accessories and a pink rosebud corsage. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Marianne L. Sanders, who wore a dark brown street-length dress with tan accessories and a yellow rosebud corsage.

The best man was Donald Ross, friend of the bridegroom. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride with about 150 guests attending.

The traditional wedding marches were played by the church organist, Mrs. Euphemia Rotering, and the soloist was Mrs. Marie Rosensteel.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School, class of 1947, and is employed at St. Joseph's College. The bridegroom was graduated from Biglerville High School and is now enlisted in the army, being stationed at Camp Kilmer, N. J.

After a wedding trip to New Jersey the couple will return to the bride's home.

LEGION JUNIORS WIN AGAIN

The American Legion junior baseball team trimmed the Williamsport Legionnaires Sunday afternoon, 7-2, in a game played on the Community Field.

The win was the second straight for the juniors, having defeated Taneytown earlier in the season. "Pinhead" Mick received credit for the victory over the visitors.

Town Solons Consider Bi-Weekly System

Emmitsburg's dream of a garbage collection system is fast shaping itself into reality. The Mayor and Commissioners are ardently studying a plan for the collection of the trash and expect to put into operation a system in the near future.

Investiture Of Auxiliary Officers Held Tuesday

The Women's Auxiliary of the Francis X. Elder American Legion Post met in regular session Tuesday night in the Post Home on N. Seton Ave., President Laura Rosensteel presiding.

The annual installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. Grace Caultrier, district vice president, of Westminster. Those inducted into office for the ensuing year were: President, Mrs. Laura Rosensteel; first vice president, Ann Topper; second vice president, rauine Rosensteel; secretary, Mrs. William Topper; corresponding secretary, Madeline Harner; treasurer, Mrs. Agnes Yoeman; historian, Ann Shorb; chaplain, Helen McNair; sergeant-at-arms, Nettie Ashbaugh.

Approximately 28 members were present at the investiture and these out-of-town guests: Mrs. Grace Warn, district vice president, and Mrs. Haines and Mrs. Stoneifer of the Carroll unit.

Mrs. Caultrier gave a summary of the recent convention and announced that Mrs. Hershberger was the new vice president for the year.

A lovely desk was presented to the organization by Edgar Wastler and a thank you card will be sent him expressing the appreciation for his work in repairing the home.

The unit will sponsor a rummage sale to be held at the Firemen's Hall Saturday, beginning at one o'clock.

The piggy bank was passed and Miss Ruth Gillelan's name was drawn. A gift was presented Mrs. Caultrier after the installation of officers.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $172.50. A card of thanks was received from Mrs. Catherine Shorb.

The following were named on the refreshment committee for the next meeting: Chairman, Dolores Timmerman; Faine Rodgers and Rose Mary Hemler.

Squirrel Season Opens Thursday

An estimated 1,500 hunters have secured 1949 hunting licenses in Frederick County, prior to the opening of squirrel season Sept. 15, a check of licensing stations revealed this week.

When nimrods take to the wooded areas next week they will find the bushy-tailed animal more plentiful than last year, reports indicated. One source advanced a logical reason for the increase in squirrels. There are more hickory nuts this year, along with an abundance of other feed.

With the opening of the squirrel season next week, there were no reports of hunting-minded citizens jumping the gun and getting caught in the act by game wardens. Washington County reported one who was fined $42.90 and had his gun confiscated when two dead squirrels were found in his possession by a game warden there.

LIONS MEET MONDAY

The regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club Monday night at the Lutheran Parish Hall will have a special feature.

In conjunction with Lions International "100 per cent night," President Robert Daugherty urges every member to attend Monday's meeting. The local club has established quite an honorable mark in attendance in the past and Mr. Daugherty expressed his desire to have an even greater attendance this coming year, especially Monday night.

There is one hitch to the plan, however, it is to be specifically understood that as long as the treasury can support the setup, the collection will be maintained. If for some reason or other the meters do not provide the necessary financial return, the plan will be abandoned.

Under the proposed plan, the hauling probably will be let out on contract and collections made bi-weekly.

The Town Fathers stated they are studying the N. Seton Ave. drainage problem and they contemplate action on the matter shortly.

A warning was issued those new residents moving into the corporation that they are responsible for registering themselves with the town clerk for the collection of the personal property tax. Those not responding to this warning will be made pay any taxes in arrears plus interest.

The parking meter which was wrecked several months ago in front of Myers' Liquor Store was ordered replaced and the addition of two more meters on the Square and in front of Newcomer's Bakery will be made soon.

In response to many requests from local and out-of-town citizens and organizations about information on Emmitsburg, the Solons are contemplating having pamphlets concerning the history, schools, industries, etc. printed. The problem of locating a historian to compile the data concerning the town is holding up the venture at the present time.

The board will send out letters to several property holders in the Federal Hill District soon, advising them of the condition of their lots. Weeds have grown waist-high and this is a violation of a town ordinance.

The public's attention is called to the fact that Daylight Savings Time will terminate Sunday, Sept. 25.

Chief of Police W. C. Woodring's monthly report showed a total of 14 overtime parking violations. Seven warrants for arrests are pending and will be served this week.

Three Sentenced For Drunkenness

Three out-of-town men were arrested Monday for drunkenness and disorderly conduct on the streets of Emmitsburg.

Apprehended by Chief of Police H. C. Woodring were Patty Arnold, Idaville, Pa.; Robert Keech, Philadelphia, Pa., and Richard Gormly, Gettysburg, Pa.

Arnold was arrested in the alley near the Arthur Hardman property; Keech was seized near the Merle Keilholtz barn, and Gormly was taken by the officer on W. Main St.

The trio was lodged in the local jail and was later taken to the Frederick jail. They were returned Wednesday morning to appear at a hearing before Magistrate Jacob E. Baker, who sentenced them to the county jail for 15 days.

ATTENDS GIFT SHOW

Prof. Bernard J. Eckenrode, owner of the Book Nook, returned recently from New York City where he attended the Fall and Winter Gift Show.

Mr. Eckenrode stated this week the show displayed one of the finest arrays of gifts and novelties in vogue for the coming season, many of which may be seen at the Book Nook.

What's Your Name?

By JULES CHRISTIAN

In compliance with last week's promise, the column today will deal with the request from Pittsburgh, concerning the name of Harney. Requests of this sort, indicating how widely the Chronicle is read, are always welcomed and will be answered if the information is available. This request is in line with the roll call of the merchants now being followed. For one of our chief merchants in town is C. A. Harner. He has recreation for sale at his popular establishment.

CHARLES A. HARNER

While recreation is not rated as a material commodity, it nevertheless is on of the essential services in any up-to-date community. Providing some diversion from the regular grind of life helps people to be happier and to live longer. Those who play together learn to get along together in peace. Competition in the game causes one to forget his troubles and teaches him to face fairly, the competition in the business of living. The victories in the game are exhilarating and teach one to accept the victories of life with modesty. And the defeats in the game teach one to accept in good grace the defeats that must come from time to time in life.

Could the people of the world play together, their problems and differences would begin to vanish. Could quarreling neighbors learn to play together their differences would vanish. For playing together in friendly competition is the modern version of the old Indian pipe of peace.

Therefore, a recreation center in any community, with recreation for sale, is a vital service to the people. Charles A. Harner, former merchant, and now recreational merchant, is offering a real service to Emmitsburg and vicinity.

In as much as Harner and Harney have the same origin and meaning, they will be considered together. Harney, the name of the nearby hamlet, got its name from a person who was a general in the U. S. Army.

Harner and Harney are both names derived from the eagle. This mammoth bird, king of the air, associated with adventure, the emblem of America's great power, has always been a popular source of family names. Of all the birds, beasts and fish, after which man has surnamed himself, the eagle heads the list. The number of family names derived therefrom is almost endless.

That man should do this, is natural. A creature of the earth, he looks upward. He has a spark of divinity in his soul, and an aspiration in his heart that soars upward into the exalted heights of the spirit typified by the flight of the eagle, the king of birds and monarch of the heavens. Thus speaks the poet:

"I am an eagle born to fly Up the stellar highways of the sky Along the Milky Way, where blaze New dawn, new planets, new worlds. I am man-born, God-led, sky-bent, Almost Omnipotent." (Continued on Page 6)

Writer Says British Socialized Medicine Is Successful

Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of two articles sponsoring socialized medicine by Mr. Bucher. Mr. Bucher's statements and ideas are his own and do not necessarily constitute the policy of this paper.

By C. W. BUCHER
Here's a reply to the campaign against British socialized medicine:

The scene is Memphis, Tenn. The occasion is the conference of the American Cancer Society. The characters are Dr. Edward H. Skinner of Kansas City, Mo., a leader of the National Physicians' Committee, violently opposed to health insurance, and two highly regarded visiting British specialists, Sir Stanford Cade and Dr. Brien W. Windeyer, Dr. Skinner, anxious to make the most of the visiting Britons, invited them to be interviewed on the British program over the radio. The Britons politely accepted. Here's a report of the proceedings as written by Conwell Carlson for the Kansas City Star:

"What is the effect on the income and social status of English doctors?"

"Fine," said Sir Stanford.

"Fine?" Dr. Skinner said as if his ears heard wrong.

"Fine," repeated Sir Stanford, and he leaned forward, "More patients, more income."

This is not what Sir Stanford predicted of the health scheme he had opposed so vigorously during Dr. Skinner's 1947 visit to England.

"Exactly," said Sir Stanford. "It hasn't worked out as I feared. I must tell you frankly the doctors of England are being disillusioned in a pleasant way."

"We still have our essential freedoms. We have more work, more pay. And the people, I am sure, are getting better medical care."

"But the cost, Sir Stanford, the cost," said the Kansas citizen.

Sir Stanford shrugged.

"The cost," he said. "What did the atomic bomb cost? What did the last war cost? Destruction cost billions, so why not billions for everybody's health, say the people."

"What are the results in terms of effectiveness of service to the patient? In office consultation and in hospitals?" Dr. Skinner asked.

"Good," said Dr. Windeyer. "The poor see that they no longer have to depend on charity for medical care."

"Is a patient allowed to transfer from one doctor to another?"

"The patient has this choice, and the doctor, too, has the right not to continue to treat a patient if he feels results are not what they should be," Dr. Windeyer replied.

"Isn't there a lack of enterprise and initiative on the part of the doctors? If they have a stipulated income from each patient, paid by the government, why should they seek to give improved service?"

"Dr. Skinner," said Sir Stanford in response to these questions, "we are finding that the standard of care the doctor gives is as good as under the private enterprise method. A man is inherently honest and seeker of better ways toward health, or he isn't. That applies to different doctors in either type or service."

"We assume that the people trust competent doctors, under a national medical service or otherwise, and are finding that the doctors more than the politician is the determining factor in the actual control of socialized medicine. So I say to you and other doctors of America—when a national health service is wanted, go into it as leaders and planners of a comprehensive enterprise desired by the majority of the people."

HEALTH COLUMN

SCHOOL LUNCH

The school child's lunch, whether eaten at school or at home, should include about one-third of the day's food requirement, Dr. R. H. Riley, director of health, emphasized in calling attention to this statement on Maryland's school lunch program just released by the chief nutritionist of the State Department of Health. Since one-fourth of the week's meals are eaten at noon on school days, it is highly important for both the home and the school to recognize the essentials of a good lunch.

"Out of 309,512 children attending Maryland's public schools during the academic year 1948-49, a total of 94,634 boys and girls participated in the National School Lunch program," the nutritionist announced. "This number represents about one-third of the school age population in this State."

"The program now in effect is a joint effort of Federal, State, and local agencies. The U. S. Department of Agriculture apportions funds, which Congress appropriates annually, to each state according to the number of its school children and its per capita income. The law requires that the states match the Federal funds dollar for dollar until 1951."

"In Maryland the State Department of Education administers the program, with the Board of Education as the sponsor. Children usually pay 25c for a Type A lunch, which includes 2 oz. protein foods such as meat, poultry, fish, egg, cheese, peanut butter or dried beans; one-half pint of milk; 6 ozs. fruit or vegetable; 2 teaspoons of butter or oleomargarine; and two slices of enriched or whole grain bread. The school is reimbursed 6 cents for each pupil who receives the Type A lunch. Schools which serve the Type C lunch (milk only) receive a 1-cent reimbursement for each one-half pint of milk served under this type."

"A school lunch offers a basis for teaching good eating habits to today's boys and girls. Parents' closer knowledge of what the school is serving, combined with teachers' knowledge of what the child eats at home as well as of his food needs, should enable this generation to advance far in the practice of good nutrition. Directly and indirectly the school lunch program can contribute to the present and future health of the children who will be our adult citizens within a few years."

Car Damages Property In Thurmont

Property damage estimated at $700 was done Sunday afternoon about 1:45 o'clock at the intersection of Routes 77 and 15 in Thurmont when a car driven by a 72-year-old Washington, D. C., woman was in a collision with a truck operated by a 68-year-old man.

A retaining wall was damaged, a front porch was virtually demolished, and an office was damaged as the passenger car jumped the curb after the collision. No one was injured in the accident.

Charged with having failed to obey a traffic device and going through a red light was Miss Clara Dent Simpson, Washington, D. C., who posted $16.45 collateral for a hearing Sept. 17 before Magistrate William J. Stoner in Thurmont. Harry L. Masser, Thurmont carpenter, whose truck collided with the Simpson car, was charged with reckless driving and summoned to appear at the hearing next week.

There are 11,696,979.27 acres of land in the U. S. National parks.

The new exterior beauty of the 1950 Studebaker passenger cars is shown in this view of the Champion convertible. Richly appointed interiors keep pace with an advanced design which gives the cars sweeping new lines. Studebaker-designed coil spring front suspension provides peak riding and handling ease.

BATTING AVERAGES

Below are the unofficial batting averages of eleven players of the Emmitsburg baseball club. The record shows three pounding the ball at more than a .300 clip, Sites, Paidakovich, and Hollinger.

	Ab.	H.	Avg.
Sites	39	15	.384
Paidakovich	74	25	.333
Hollinger	89	27	.303
Frock	123	36	.292
Chrimer	33	9	.272
Smith	77	20	.259
Sanders	93	23	.248
Warthen	76	18	.236
Hoke	76	18	.236
Deardorff	60	13	.217
D. Saylor	90	16	.177

Estimate Downward

The population of Washington, D. C., as of July 1, 1948, was 863,000, the Census Bureau has estimated in its latest population report. This figure represents a considerable drop from the bureau's provisional estimate of 898,000 announced last year.

Emmitsburgian Faced With $1,500 Damage Suit

Arthur F. Hardman, of near Emmitsburg, has entered suit in Circuit Court for $1,500 damages against Francis S. K. Matthews of Emmitsburg, for the loss of five of his cattle which died from "arsenic of lead" placed by the defendant in a hole on a field he leased from Hardman.

In the suit entered through Edward D. Storm, attorney, Hardman said that he was the owner of a herd of cattle pastured in the field in question. During August, he said, Matthews requested permission to dump some waste materials in a hole on the field. Hardman said he gave the defendant permission to dump cardboard boxes and other inflammable trash in the hole with the understanding that the defendant would burn the materials.

He claims the defendant negligently deposited some arsenic of lead in the hole and this poisonous material was left out so it was available to pasturing cattle. Five of his cows partook of the poison, got sick and died, he claims. He said he spent large sums of money for veterinary fees and medicines in an effort to save the lives of the cattle and after their death was forced to dispose of their carcasses at a great loss.

Kaas, Jr., Rita, Robert, Marjorie, Ruth, Rosalie, David and Virginia Kaas, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Long and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Hemler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Williamson and Mrs. Robert Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. John Kaas, Billie Kaas. A basket lunch was served.

Guests were from Motters, St. Anthony's, Emmitsburg, Altoona, Pa., Thurmont, Washington, Bonneauville, Lancaster, Pa., Waynesboro, New Market, Littlestown, McSherrystown, Edgewood, Md., Taneytown and Rocky Ridge.

An orchestra composed of Richard Hemler, Robert Patterson, Mrs. James Orndorff and John Bernard Wetzel furnished the music for the occasion.

Mr. Ralph Dubel of Woodinville, Washington, is visiting his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Kaas, Sr.

Mr. Harry Dubel has returned to Philadelphia, after spending some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Dubel and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dubel.

Mrs. Lillie Staub, Frederick, Mrs. Steiner Whitmore, Thurmont and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bachman of Roanoke, Ill., visited on Sunday at the home of Mrs. Minnie Renner and Mr. and Mrs. John Kaas.

The Guardian Hose Company of Thurmont and the Vigilant Hose Company of Emmitsburg recently gave a demonstration to our local citizens and showed that their new fire protection pond will provide adequate protection.

The pond is located along the Detour road and the firemen laid a line of about 3000 feet of hose and pumped to the extreme northern end of the town with excellent results. They then relayed the water from one truck to another and found that method as very effective. The firemen thus proved that any section was accessible in case of fire.

MARYLAND HOME FRONT

The championship winner in Maryland's Greener Pasture Contest is to be announced Sept. 15 at special ceremonies in the State House, Annapolis. Gov. Preston Lane Jr. is to be on hand to present appropriate certificates to community, county, and area winners as well as to the grand champion.

Joseph H. Blandford, chairman of the Maryland PMA state committee, explains that the state champion is being picked from the winners in the four areas of the Free State. "Maryland may well be proud of the entries in this year's contests," he states. "The winners may be especially proud of their achievements. Winning in such a contest is proof that the farmer has done a capable job of planning and managing his pasture program."

The State House ceremony is set for 2 p. m. on Thursday, Sept. 15. All winners have been invited to attend and to bring in their friends. It is expected that the details concerning some of the outstanding pastures will be announced for the benefit of all.

Stanley Stabler, Extension Agronomist who had charge of the area judging, reports that many lessons may be learned from the experience of the winners in the various regions of Maryland. "These farms are good demonstrations of what can be done with the pasture lands of the State. I hope we can all benefit in the years to come."

Farm Prosperity Affects All

"Secretary of Agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, has summarized the reasons why we are so interested in price support programs and the conduct of the conservation practices for which we make payments," states Mr. Blandford. "He has shown how the good of the nation is tied to farm prosperity."

The statement of Mr. Brannan on why farm prosperity means more jobs was called to the attention of Maryland farmers by Mr. Blandford. He said that farm spending this year will pay salaries for nearly nine and one-half million jobs. Proof offered by the Secretary included:

Farm income this year runs about 28 billion dollars, farmers can be expected to spend about 3.7 billion dollars for farm buildings, equipment, cars, trucks, and so on. This would provide jobs for one and one-quarter million workers.

About one and one-half billion dollars will be spent for the operation of farm machines and motor vehicles. This adds up to half a million jobs.

Close to two and one billion dollars will go to rent to non-farmer landlords and for payments on mortgages. Another 800,000 jobs.

About five and two-third billion dollars will be spent for feed, livestock, and services of middleman. This is roughly equivalent to 1.9 million jobs.

Almost three and one-quarter billion dollars will be spent for clothing and household goods—the equivalent of more than a million jobs.

More than four billion dollars will be spent for transportation, medical care, recreation, education, etc.—the equivalent of one and one-third million jobs.

Several of the fall practices available to Maryland farmers under the Agricultural Conservation Program are subject to the prior approval of the county committee. Chairman of the Maryland PMA state committee, Joseph H. Blandford, has reminded farmers of this fact and urged them to get in touch with their county office if interested in the seeding of cover crops, establishment of permanent pastures, application of lime and phosphate, construction of terraces, and strip crops, drainage and some others.

He explains that certain specifications must be met. Assistance is provided only when the conservation practices come up to definite standards, according to the chairman.

Mr. Blandford explains that the county committee, in deciding where available funds are to be used, and the farmer who accepts the assistance are both under obligation to "give value received" for the funds used for conservation. For this reason standards approved by qualified technicians are used as guides for the practices indicated.

Prior approval is one of the ways the local committee has of determining the kind of conservation work the farmer intends to carry out. Then the committee is responsible for seeing that the conservation carried out meets the approved standards before the practice is certified for assistance.

Great York Fair Opens 1949 Season Starting Tuesday

YORK FAIR WEEK . . . there's a thrill in those three words . . . a thrill you can't equal with a million phrases. It means 5 days, of excitement . . . 5 days of education.

This year's York Interstate Fair is destined to be the greatest in history. All exhibitors' space is completely sold out. Hour by hour, day by day there will be events to interest you. Stock judging contests, agriculture exhibits, thrilling horse racing, free vaudeville, gay midway, gorgeous revue nightly on the mammoth new all-weather covered stage.

Super Entertainment

This year's grandstand attractions are exceptionally outstanding. They include featured Broadway acts and the cream of stage and circus specialties.

The usual custom of a top name for Wednesday afternoon and night is followed this year in the personal appearance of an old-time favorite, Tony Martin. And returning again by popular demand on Thursday and Friday afternoons and nights will be Phil Spitalny with his Hour of Charm All-Girl Orchestra featuring Evelyn and her magic violin.

Fast Racing

The program of horse racing on the fastest half-mile track in the country include some of the best steppers in harness competition for attractive purses on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Among the horses entered in the meet will be those of the Joseph H. Eyer Stables, Thurmont. There will be thrilling running races daily. The paved mile-long midway will be occupied by Endy Bros. greater shows.

Saturday will be "Thrill Day." A double-barrelled auto thrill show with B. Ward Beam's World Champion Daredevils presenting 28 breath-taking, man-killing events, will take place Saturday.

The Fair opens Tuesday and concludes Saturday night.

Blind School Celebrates 96th Year

On Monday, Sept. 12, the Maryland School for the Blind, in Overlea, will open for its ninety-sixth year. Of the 160 pupils enrolled, 28 will attend the school for the first time. A few of these numbers are young children, those premature babies whose cause of blindness was listed as retrolental fibroplasia, which has been the cause of so much blindness in premature babies. However, if the research being done by Drs. William and Ella Owens of Johns Hopkins Hospital proves to do all the doctors hope, this will be another type of blindness which will be on the wane in stead of the increase.

Any child who has 20/200, or less vision, provided he is educable, is accepted at the Maryland School for the Blind. We believe the all-round education given is of inestimable value, for here the pupils not only receive excellent academic training, but have an opportunity to learn wood working, leather craft, ceramics, lathe work, canning, piano tuning, cooking, sewing, switchboard operating, and, of course, music. The athletic program is one which tries to consider the need of the individual, as well as the development of team play. Such a program as outlined above can only be given in the residential school where the classes are small and the teachers trained in work for the blind.

The word Admiral comes from the Arabic "Amir-al," meaning "commander of."

Ken Maynard and Tarzan, His Famous Horse, To Show At Forest Park, Hanover

Ken Maynard, in person, and his horse, Tarzan, will appear at the Forest Park Free Fair, Hanover, Pa., all this week, making personal appearances day and night in the large tent. This famous Republic motion picture star will arrive in his specially-built trailer. In addition, he will have his special show of Western singers, dancers and comedians, featuring Sally Montana. The whole show will be combined into one unit and several performances will be held nightly, with a small admission. In addition there will be the Johnson Vaudeville Show, Old Time Movies, the Unborn Show, and plenty of other attractions.

The Champion Horseshoe Pitcher will appear Saturday and Sunday, and he will take on all comers. There will be a dance Saturday night with music by Mark Leese and his orchestra from York. There will be a grand display of fireworks Saturday night, which was postponed from Labor Day, due to rain.

Forest Park will continue to operate through September and part of October.

MARYLAND FEED & GRAIN MARKETS

Maryland Grain Market

Grain markets in Baltimore, following the national pattern, strengthened during the week ended Sept. 2. Wheat advanced sharply during the latter part of the week gaining about five cents per bushel on the Baltimore market. Wheat markets in Central and Western Maryland, however, showed weakness with quotations 2 to 4c less than last week. Corn gained about 3 to 4c per bushel on the Baltimore market. Corn prices on other Maryland markets were steady to lower. Barley advanced sharply with gains of about 7c per bushel on the Baltimore market.

National Grain Market

The grain market continued on an upward trend during the week ended Sept. 1, according to reports from the Department of Agriculture. Market receipts dropped off with harvesting of small grains nearly completed and with supplies in excess of storage space apparently moved to market. A relatively small proportion of the arrivals were offered for sale since much of the movement consisted of deliveries to the CCC. Demand for millers, processors and feeders was active and prices of most grains advanced. Wheat prices averaged 5c to 6c a bushel higher than a week ago but rye held about unchanged. Corn gained from 2c to 3c per bushel up from a week ago. Barley was independently firm and prices advanced as much as 10c a bushel on good malting types. Grain sorghums advanced along with corn. Soybeans lost some of the previous week's gains reflecting nearness of new crop supplies. No. 1 old soybeans were nominally quoted at $3-$3.05 at Chicago.

Maryland Feed Market

The Baltimore feed market, following the national trend, made sharp declines during the week ended Sept. 2. Meat scrap showed most pronounced weakness with declines over 12%—$18.65 per ton less than last week's average. Brewers dried grains declined over 4% on the Baltimore market. Distillers' dried grains and 16% dairy feed decreased over 3%. Feeds showing declines of 2 to 3% on the Baltimore market are: standard middlings, 32% dairy feed and cottonseed oil meal. The broiler-feed ratio was less favorable for Maryland producers for the week ended Sept. 1. Broiler prices averaged 30.3 cents per pound while 20% broiler mash averaged $97.38 on lower Eastern Shore. One pound of live weight of broilers would buy 6.2 pounds of feed.

National Feed Market

Feedstuff markets turned sharply downward during the week ended Aug. 30 influenced principally by declines in oilseed meals, reports to the Dept. of Agriculture indicate. The index of wholesale feedstuff prices dropped about 13 points, to 224.9, the lowest level since last July. Feed grains, on the other hand, turned firmer and the index advanced nearly eight points to 180.6. These changes narrowed the spread between the feed grain and feedstuff indexes to about 44 points compared with 66 points a week ago. Practically all feeds were in more plentiful supply. Production of grain byproduct feeds held at a fairly high level while the output of oilseed meals increased as new crop flaxseed and cottonseed became available for crushing. Despite the relatively high feedstuff prices in August, feeding ratios became more favorable for both dairymen and poultrymen. As a result of declining grain prices, feed costs declined while butterfat and egg prices advanced. The butterfat-feed ratio for the country as a whole was 23.6 at the middle of August compared with 22.1 in July and 21.5 the prewar average. The egg-feed ratio was 16.1 in August as against 14.7 in July and 15.4 the August 1935-39 average.

Draft Expiration Likely

Unless an unforeseen emergency develops, the peacetime draft of manpower for the armed forces is expected to expire June 25, 1950. There have been no draft calls by the armed forces since last January because there have been sufficient voluntary enlistments.

Moist burlap sacks hanging in the egg holding room will raise the humidity to the proper point.

Hardship Cases Gradually Relieved By CARE Gifts

In August, 1944, Greek guerrilla fighters attacked the German military camp at Vrastamites, in Northern Greece. The Germans burned down every house in the village and dynamited the church in retaliation. All able-bodied men who could be caught were shot, and the rest fled for their lives to the mountains. Among those who fled was Nicholas Sventzouri, the village cobbler, who had already lost his business and his health because of war conditions. Living in caves and brushwood shelters made his condition much worse, and when the war ended, Nicholas was already far gone with tuberculosis.

With the aid of his neighbors and his young son, Nicholas built a hut of tree branches and straw on the fire-blackened ruins of his old home. Here he lingered, unable to work and support his family, until his death in November, 1947. That left his son, Panagiotis, then aged 14, as head of a family of five.

Panagiotis earns a little money by working as a farm laborer, but he dreams of the day when he can go to Athens and study to be an engineer. He is an unusually bright boy, far ahead in his studies, despite the incredible sufferings which he (like most other Greek children) has undergone during and since the war. His mother had a baby nearly nine months after her husband died, and is too tied down with the other young children to do any outside work. Neighbors have contributed scraps of clothing and some food to the family support.

When a Greek relief official recently called Panagiotis to his office in a nearby city to discuss his needs, the boy came eagerly, in a borrowed suit and overcoat. His brown eyes gleamed when he heard that there was a chance for official aid for his family. "So we have not been forgotten!" he exclaimed. "Then, perhaps, some day I can go to school in Athens."

CARE offers a quick, sure and efficient way to ease the hardship of this and other helpless families overseas. A $10 CARE food package contains 24 pounds of the kinds of foods most needed abroad and most difficult for the average family to obtain. Also available is a $5.50 Thrift food package. Orders or contributions in lesser amounts may be sent to CARE, 20 Broad St., New York 5, N. Y., or any other CARE office in this country.

Hanover Shoe Farms Get Champ Trotter

The Hanover Shoe Farms this week announced purchase of one of the world's fastest trotting horses, Nibble Hanover. The stallion has a record of 1:58 1/4 for the mile. Purchase price was said to be $100,000. The Shoe Farms plan to use Nibble Hanover as a stud in the future.

Defrosting whenever necessary will help a refrigerator operate more efficiently. Time to defrost is when the frost is one-quarter inch thick.

HOMEMAKERS' CORNER

Do you envy the movie stars and their trim figures? Take comfort in remembering that those well-tended curves are the result of fatiguing hours spent in setting-up exercises and long practice at saying "No thanks" to second helpings. And here are you—with the best gymnasium in the world all around you.

Yes, there's no exercise like housework for slimming waistlines and reducing bulges. The trick is to use perfect posture as you go about your tasks. Practice smooth movement, in climbing stairs, sitting, kneeling, bending. Just for fun, set a chair in front of a mirror, and sit and rise, sit and rise, until you can scordinate the motions. Remember, head high, shoulders straight, ribs held up from your waist, walk straight.

Just bear in mind one posture rule—UP. Stand and sit as tall as possible, without strain. Keep shoulders down and easy, for stiffness through the shoulders leads to tension, awkward movements and fatigue. Relax—be graceful—be slim.

For a dessert on the fancy side, dip cantaloupe balls in honey, then in shredded coconut on finely chopped nut meats. Combine with other fruits or serve the balls by themselves in sherbet glasses. Tangey and more simple are cantaloupe balls served in ginger ale.

Is your child's closet arranged so that he may hang up his own clothes? Your husband could easily convert a regular clothes closet with a strip with low hooks at about the youngster's eye level, a low rod for garments on hangers, a low shelf or rack for shoes, a towel bar or hooks on the closet door to be used for night clothes in the day and day clothes at night, a low shelf for hat or folded garments, and a laundry bag for soiled clothes.

The annual payroll of the Norfolk naval shipyard at Portsmouth exceeded $125,000,000 at the height of activity in World War II.

OBSERVE BIRTHDAY
Mrs. William A. Frailey was the guest of honor at a dinner given by her mother, Mrs. Carl C. Hetzel, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club in Cumberland Tuesday of last week.

Other guests included her sister, Mrs. F. Bruce Fable and son, Eric, Mrs. Leona White, Marjorie and Carl Crist.

Mrs. Frailey spent last week in Cumberland.

Good News

The Agriculture Dept. forecasts more meat for the United States at lower prices beginning this fall and continuing next year.

Bumper feed and larger pig crops are reasons for a greater production of meat, the department said.

One ton of waste paper equals the product of 12 trees.

There are 35,886 meat markets in the United States.

FINALLY!

It took 41 years for a post card to be delivered between two county towns 14 miles apart.

The card was mailed Feb. 13, 1908, by Fannie Cassel, then a student at the Millersville, Pa., Normal School, to Annie Blensinger of Mt. Joy, near Lancaster. Miss Blensinger received the card recently. Postoffice officials admit they are stumped as to where the card has been these 41 years.

Rocky Ridge News

Mrs. Fred Miller and daughter, Marian of Glendale Springs, N. C., and Mrs. James Kelly and son, Larry Neil, of Dunkirk, Ind., are spending several weeks with their sisters, Mrs. Kermit Anders, Mrs. L. R. Thompson and Mrs. Charles Mumma of Rocky Ridge.

Dinner guests of Mrs. Kathryn Valentine last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Krom and sons, Kenneth and Ronnie, and Mrs. Charles Mumma and son, Bobby. Members of Mt. Tabor Sunday School enjoyed an evening at Forest Park, Hanover, Pa., recently. The trip was made in cars and a straw ride was enjoyed by the younger group.

What's Your Name?

Most names beginning with Arn are derived from the eagle. The Germans added an H and made it Harn. They always add an H to a name or word if possible. This letter so popular in the German, is on the way out in England, where numerous people have lost the ability to pronounce it, just as so many southern people are destroying the letter R, by losing the ability to pronounce it. So the German, adding the H, made the name Harno or Aharno or Ehrno and Erhno, as a prefix to denote the eagle. Thus was formed the name of Harner and Harney, after the king of birds.

Baseball Playoffs Continue In Two Leagues

The Hanover Moose team, winners of the title, and McSherrystown, who finished in a deadlock with Littlestown for second place, will meet in the finals of the Penn-Maryland League's post-season Shaughnessy playoffs Sunday.

Hanover registered its second straight victory in the best-in-three semi-final Sunday in Littlestown, whipping them 4-0, while McSherrystown was making it two straight over Taneytown with a 3-0 victory.

Hanover and McSherrystown will open their best-in-three final series on the Moose diamond in Hanover Sunday afternoon. Adams County Playoff Fairfield and Arendtsville turned in victories last Saturday afternoon as the Adams County League opened its best-in-three semi-finals. Fairfield blanked the title-winning Hanover Moose Club, 4-0, and Arendtsville nosed out New Oxford, 6-5, in ten innings. Tomorrow afternoon, Fairfield goes to Hanover and Arendtsville plays New Oxford in the second game of its series.

Yarn Shop To Operate

Emmitsburg's newest business establishment will open its doors to the public in the near future. Mrs. Walter Pepler recently announced that she and her daughter, Doris, would open an establishment, to be known as Ruth's Yarn Shop at 401 West Main Street, in Emmitsburg. Mrs. Pepler stated that she would handle the products of the Botany Mills. Mrs. Pepler will specialize in the crocheting end of the business while Miss Pepler will attend to the knitting details.

Cmdr. Rightnour Dedicates Sliding Board At School

Cmdr. Wales Rightnour of Emmitsburg Memorial Post, VFW, Thursday formally dedicated the new sliding board to St. Euphemia's School.

The board was donated to the school some time ago by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the Emmitsburg Post.

In closing his dedication speech to the student body, Cmdr. Rightnour said: "We should try to be good citizens of tomorrow and not obey the red flag of Communism; the parents and students should pray that there would not be another war that would certainly destroy all."

Miss Agnes Haley directed singing at the dedication; Joseph Scott led the students in a pledge to the flag; William Greco expressed thanks to the veterans for their gift. A large "V" was formed by the student body before the dedicating group.

The Entre Nous Sewing Club met last Thursday evening at the home of Miss Grace Rowe.

Fish Contest Winners Announced

Bob Eiker, with an 18¼-inch small mouth bass weighing two pounds and 14 ounces copped first prize in the "fish-that-didn't-get-away" contest sponsored by Hoke's Hardware. Bob snagged the prize catch in Tom's Creek on a minnow, and received a true temper fly rod and reel.

Second prize went to Aaron Adams for his 17¼ inch, three-pound bass. Mr. Adams received as his prize, bait, rod and reel.

Coming in third in the contest was Bernard Cool who caught a 16½-inch, two-pound three-ounce bass. Fourth prize was awarded to Francis Cool for a 16¼ inch, two-pound six-ounce fish. Finishing fifth was Jake Hartsock, with a 16¼-ounce and one pound 14-ounce; sixth, Bud Wastler, 16-inch bass weighing two pounds.

Richard Stonesifer entered the contest first and was awarded a flashlight.

Wins Children's Contest

In the children's contest for those under 14 years of age, Charles Cool won first prize with a 13¼-inch bass weighing one pound four ounces. He was awarded an Ocean City reel.

Second prize, a pocket knife, was won by Richard Stonesifer for the 13-inch, one pound three-ounce bass he caught.

Bowling Teams Taking Formation

Emmitsburg's most popular winter sport will get under way soon.

It was announced by Mr. C. A. Harner of Emmitsburg Recreation Center that the bowling alleys have completely undergone re-varnishing, sanding and waxing in preparation for the coming season.

Mr. Harner urges all teams who plan to enter competition this year to elect captains and present their roster to him this week. He stated that the following week, captains of the various teams will meet in a session to discuss plans and arranging schedules for the coming season. The date for the meeting will be announced later.

Team Enters Blue Ridge League

Two teams, a men's and women's, have secured berths in the Blue Ridge League which bowls every Friday night. Captain of the women's team is Mrs. Thomas Gingell, while Clarence Valentine will lead the men's quintet.

Other teams in the Blue Ridge League beside Emmitsburg are Taneytown, Thurmont and Waynesboro.

Prominent in the chancies of stories of the old Navy was the reference to "bully boys." Bully boys were, in the strictest sense of the word, beef-eating sailors.

Reservoir Acquires New Name

After a full week's deliberation, officials of the Emmitsburg Water Company, announced today the winners in its contest for securing a name for the new reservoir. Submitted by William Sterbinsky and Dorothy McGlaughlin, was the title of "Rainbow Lake." Both contestants will be awarded $10 prizes by the corporation.

President Samuel C. Hays stated this week that checks will be sent to the winners of the contest and expressed his company's appreciation of the interest taken in the affair by the public.

Hundreds of possible titles were submitted by the citizens of Emmitsburg and several were received from out of state.

War Memorial Aim of Lewistown Organizations

The citizens of Lewistown District have been working towards the erection of an Honor Roll to show their gratitude to the young men and women who served in World War I and II from their district.

Plans are being formulated for a simple, though beautiful and lasting Honor Roll. Permission has been granted for the Memorial to be placed on the school lawn. On the mason work will be placed a bronze plaque containing the names of all who served from the district.

To Hold Festival

A district festival will be held in the Mountsindale woods Friday evening, Sept. 16, to defray the expenses of the project.

Music will be furnished by the Yellow Springs Concert Band. In addition, there will be free movies, old-fashioned cake walks, games of skill and "grab bag." Country ham sandwiches, ice cream, etc. will be on sale and the committee urges every family in the district to co-operate in every way possible for this worthy cause.

Heading the committee are Luther Powell and Randolph Stull, co-chairmen; Charles Edward Green, secretary; Mrs. R. Paul Buhrman, publicity chairman, and Randolph Stull and C. Green, co-treasurers. The various organizations participating are Home-makers Club, Mrs. R. Paul Buhrman and Mrs. Albert Powell; Methodist Church, Mrs. George Green and Alton Powell; Lewistown Grange, John D. Leatherman and C. E. Green; Citizens' Assn., Randolph Stull and Glenn Putman Sr.; Mountsindale, Luther Powell and Marion Rice; Reformed Church, Mrs. Clarence Warner and Miss Erma Stull; Lutheran Church, Mrs. Jacob R. Ransburg, Mrs. Willard Gaver and Sylvia Eyer.

Poultry Pointers

ROTATION OF POULTRY

One wonders some times why chickens or turkeys do not thrive or why a number of them die at an early age. There may be many reasons for this, such as lack of clean water, faulty nutrition, poisonous weeds, or under-nourishment. But do not overlook the fact that our feathered pets are just as susceptible to disease as human beings.

Your turkeys or chickens are often placed in yards where older birds with contagious diseases were recently kept. This is not a good practice, for while the older birds may have developed an immunity to these diseases, they may transmit them to the young ones through the residue of their droppings.

Vaccination protects birds only against the kind of sickness for which they have been vaccinated.

Sunshine destroys about all known dangerous germs above ground, but can not penetrate effectively below the surface.

Turkeys can not be raised successfully together with chickens, but if this is attempted they ought to be placed at least half a mile apart, and the caretaker of the chickens should not feed the turkeys.

It is for all farmers a matter of course to rotate their field crops, but how many rotate their poultry crop? The same pasture should not be reused at least for one to two years. The fowl while scratching the same earth and eating bugs and worms may become infected. Rodents and wild birds are carriers of disease, but wild birds can not contact confined poultry. A chicken or turkey flock does better confined than when allowed to run around. One can easily disinfect a poultry house, and one can observe and control birds better the confined way.

You can save feed by pasturing turkeys if you have enough land available so that you can move your birds every 10 to 14 days to fresh ground, making sure that the birds can not go back to their previous location.

Very small chicken flocks do economically better by allowing them to run around, but do not expect eggs from them just at the time when egg prices are up!

Doris Flax Has Painful Eye Injury

A painful injury to her left eye was sustained Tuesday evening when Miss Doris Flax, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Norman Flax of E. Main St., was struck with a green burr bush thrown by a playmate.

The young girl was rushed to the offices of Drs. W. R. Cadle and Walter Mountain where many of the pins were removed from the eye and eyelid.

The accident occurred as she played on the Catholic playground.

Miss Thelma Cool and Miss Doris Muench spent a day recently in Baltimore.
