You Can't Find Something When It Isn't There!

I'll tell you one thing—if more fish aren't stocked in Monocacy and other nearby tributaries I for one am going to stop buying a fishing license. It becomes pretty darned monotonous week after week spending hour after hour trying to catch something that isn't there, especially when it costs you a buck and a half to do it. I'm well aware of the fact that a fisherman doesn't ALWAYS catch a string of the slippery beauties, but when you sit on the hard terrain for six or seven solid hours every Sunday, with a line in your hand without even a sunfish acknowledging your presence, you begin to feel pretty much like a fool, and not a little peeved. True, I'm not the best angler in the fisherman's world, but I know enough about it that I'm being taken for some kind of a ride by the Maryland Fish Commission, when in six hours, at the best time of the day, I don't get one single solitary nibble. As a matter of fact, I wound up more than once at the end of a long, monotonous, fruitless day with the same bedraggled looking bait on my line utterly IN-TACT. Who does the Maryland Fish Commission think it's kidding?

At first, after I'd tried numerous of my favorite streams with no luck and no nibbles. I began to think it was just MY bad luck, but after talking to a dozen or more other disgruntled fishermen, I find that the feeling of being cheated is quite unanimous. I wager that come next year, unless something is done to rectify the situation there'll be a lot less fishing licenses issued. There are lots of other pleasurable sports I can indulge in sports that I can enjoy for free. . . . We fishermen are fed up with paying for NOTHING. Who do they think we are—SUCKERS? ('Scuse the pun).

Attention, Mr. Mayor and Commissioners

Just want you to know that I'm in absolute agreement with the editorial which appeared in this paper two weeks ago concerning a recommendation that you give yourselves a raise. Heavens to Betsy, it should have been done long ago! You see, I can recall many years ago when our late beloved editor was serving in the capacity of commissioner, as well as mayor, and I know for a fact that he spent quite a tidy sum of his own money to say nothing of his time and talents, in helping govern our little town. . . . The $75 "salary" paid him by the corporation wasn't a drop in the well-known bucket.

People aren't just a breeze! when they say that the offices of the burges and commissioners are strictly HONORARY ones. . . . Brother you can say that again! Persons who run for those offices know that when they run. . . . BUT, when it comes to having to dig down into your own pockets for money to run said offices, gentlemen, I say that's asking TOO much.

So the little increase you voted yourselves last week is okay with me, but why so little? . . . If Congress can do it, I see no earthly reason why you shouldn't. Congress was getting a VERY substantial salary, in my estimation, at the time they voted themselves another increase. I don't think THEY needed it but YOU, I believe, DID.

Oh yes, there'll be some adverse criticism. But then, I imagine you've gotten quite used to that in your official capacities. . . . You just can't please everyone. . . . Frankly, I wouldn't want your jobs if you multiplied the present salary PLUS the potential raise by a hundred. . . . All the worrying, the complaints, the heckling that goes with your job intimidates me to the point of actual awe.

Crowd of 400 Sees McGlaughlin Pitch 5-Hitter

Coach John Law's baseball charges kicked off the 1950 baseball season Sunday in fine fashion. Showing the results of hard training in base running and bunting, the team displayed expert skill in these departments. Practically every bunt was neatly executed. Several runs were gained as a result of the excellent base running.

A turnout of more than 400 saw Emmitsburg lace Hanover at Community Field to the tune of 6 to 1 and are eagerly awaiting this Sunday to watch the locals of the Pen-Mar League engage McSherrystown, the latter also winning the first game last Sunday over Taneytown, 9-1.

The television set which the Emmitsburg Baseball Assn. chanced off was won by Bernard Boyle, local merchant. Mr. Boyle announced this week that as a gesture of appreciation at winning the set, he would donate $5 every week for home games to be awarded as a prize to some lucky spectator. Fans were pleasantly surprised at the smooth functioning of the local squad, under the expert tutelage of John Law, head football coach at Mt. St. Mary's College, and are already showing signs of pennant fever at this early stage.

Other prizes, donated by local merchants, were awarded to the following at Sunday's contest: Mrs. E. L. Myers, Gettysburg; John McGraw, Howard F. Carty, J. C. Wivell, Hagerstown, Caroline McDowell, Herbert Gingell, Kayo Keilholz, Mrs. Charles Glacken, and Charles McGlaughlin.

Business Agent Norman Flax of the local organization, revealed that over $100 was netted on the television set. Mr. Flax also stated that those individuals responsible for destroying property of the ball club at the ball park are warned that legal action will be taken if the condition continues. For some time now, certain individuals have been dumping trash, beer bottles and cans, broken glass, and all sorts of junk into the dugouts. Officials stated this week that no trespass signs will be erected and that a policeman will make the rounds nightly and those offenders caught will be arrested.

New members of the Boosters Club this week are J. W. Rowe, Tract Inn, Wormley's Radio Service, Roger Liquor Store, Richard Harner, Myers Liquor Store, Palm Lunch, B. H. Boyle, Charles Bollinger, Charles A. Harner, Ralph M. McDonnell, Chronicle Press, Harvey Warner, Arch Eyley, Miller's Service Station, and East End Garage.

Hartle Candidate For Congress

MAJOR GENERAL HARTLE

Maj. Gen. Russell Peter Hartle, U. S. Army, Hagerstown, retired, this week announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for Congress from the Sixth District of Maryland.

The 60-year-old veteran of both World Wars, who also saw service under Gen. Pershing on the Mexican Border and participated in the battle of Shanghai, China, in 1932, said he has forwarded his certificate of candidacy and oath of loyalty to the Secretary of State.

Gen. Hartle has been living retired in Hagerstown for the past several years and will try for the seat now occupied by J. Glenn Beall of Frostburg, Allegany County.

Hartle's candidacy is said to have the support of Democratic leaders in all five counties making up the district. He is also popular with veteran groups and holds active membership in the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The General spent 36 years in the army and became widely known as "Scrappie" Hartle. He won a Second Lieutenantcy on graduating with honors from St. John's College, Annapolis, in 1910 and following the Mexican incident he rendered additional services under Gen. Pershing during World War I. It was while on a tour of foreign duty in 1932 that he participated in the battle of Shanghai. Later he attended and graduated from army and navy staff schools, winning promotion after promotion.

Preceding Pearl Harbor, he was promoted to Maj. Gen. and placed in command of the 34th National Guard Division, the first troops to leave the United States after Pearl Harbor. Later he commanded all the troops in Northern Ireland and organized the famous Fighting Rangers. Then he served as Gen. Eisenhower's immediate deputy in London while in command of all the troops in the British Isles, including the V Corps, after which he served in the Mediterranean Theater.

Hartle said he was being prompted in seeking the office of Congressman by the desire to further serve his country. He said he feels that his long experience in public life, his wide-spread travels and his familiarity with world conditions should stand him in good stead.

The General is a native of Washington County and a son of the late Barry M. Hartle, a Democratic stalwart of the county and district for many years. In addition to his membership in veteran organizations, Mr. Hartle is an Episcopalian, an honorary 33rd degree Mason, and is vice president of the alumni association of St. John's College. He holds several government decorations, including the coveted Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit.

What's Your Name?

By JULES CHRISTIAN

H. P. FREEMAN, M. D. In the roll call of physicians in Emmitsburg, we can now include our Dr. H. P. Freeman, who while being in practice here since 1920, has been in Baltimore for 13 years as an ophthalmologist, has now resumed practice here.

His future efforts here will be devoted to preventive medicine and eye, ear, nose, and throat practice. He also has volunteered to Dr. Easterday, county health officer, to help any way in his power to maintain the health of the county.

Dr. Freeman was born in the deep south on a cotton plantation near Natchez, Miss., his father, John Wesley Freeman, was a cotton grower, an officer in the Confederate Army (in Hood's Army of Tennessee). Naturally, they were slave owners as far back as the family history is known.

His mother, Charlotte S. Reid Freeman was a teacher of music and languages. The doctor thinks it a strange coincidence she attended Hanna Moore Academy in Reisterstown and well remembers her telling them about the "shell roads" in Maryland, never dreaming he would ever be in the state.

He inherited his name "Horatio Putnam" from his great uncle Col. Putnam Darden. He discovered this early in his childhood, when he complained to his mother as to why she would impose such a name on an innocent boy. He lays claim to some "Old Virginia" blood, from his maternal grandfather, who was a grower on the Eastern Shore of Virginia.

After finishing his early education in high and private schools, he spent a few years leading a sort of Jack London career, which included hunting coyotes in Texas, Colorado, and Wyoming; dispatching trains in Salt Lake City, travelling salesman out of St. Louis and being a newspaper sports reporter in Louisville and Chicago. He finally enrolled in the Loyola University, Chicago, where he graduated as a Doctor of Medicine in 1913.

After serving an internship in St. Ann's Hospital, Chicago, he practiced in Chicago until enrollment in the U. S. Army in 1917, as a medical officer. After returning from Europe early in 1919, he served a residency of four months in the Municipal Contagious Hospital in Philadelphia, the doctor feels that the amount and value of clinical experience received in this period exceeded any similar time of his medical career. It included the study of hundreds of cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever, also a range of diseases from chicken pox to leprosy.

His hospital affiliations in Chicago were Jefferson Park, Garfield Park, and Robert Burns, associate staff.

His medical society affiliations were AMA, Cook County, Illinois and Maryland Societies.

His fraternal affiliations were Shrine, Irem Temple, Caldwell Consistory, Elks, Modern Woodmen, Macabees, and Phi Delta Kappa, medical fraternity.

His sporting associations were Isaac Walton League (vice president Maryland and District of Columbia), Sportsman Luncheon Club of Baltimore, and the Maryland State Game and Fish Assn.

MEANING OF NAME

This name comes from the Anglo-Saxon source. It means the same as Franklin, which comes from the Teutonic source. Freeman was used to designate the man who had attained the rights of citizenship. As a freeholder he owned private property and enjoyed the right to vote. This placed him in an exclusive and highly-privileged position such as comparatively few enjoyed. It placed him in the category of the nobility.

In this day when communism challenges the world, it ought to be remembered that citizenship, freedom and private property, are a product of modern democracy. In the olden days such privileges were unknown except among the few. The vast majority of people had to live as vassals under the feudal lord. The free man therefore was the man who had risen to the top either by birth or by personal achievement.

Message To Our Citizens

On Monday, May 15, the U. S. Savings Bonds Independence Drive opens throughout the nation, continuing through the Fourth of July. Its symbol is the Liberty Bell, encircled by the campaign theme: Save for Your Independence—Buy U. S. Savings Bonds.

This year-round Savings Bonds program, of which this annual campaign is an important part, fosters the spirit of self-reliance and the urge for self-betterment that, along with individual enterprise, inventiveness, productivity and thrift have carried us steadily forward since the first settlers braved the wilderness to build a free America.

Through regular savings we build up reserves against misfortune and provide income for our later years, thus lessening the burden upon others. We accumulate funds for worthwhile purchases and investments. The buying power we store up (individual savings in E Bonds alone exceed $34,000,000,000 in cash value today) helps to stabilize business and employment through the years.

As your mayor, I urge all who are able to help the volunteer Savings Bonds Committee of this town reach every possible Bond buyer during the campaign. The more we exceed our Independence Drive quota and the more we spread the habit of regular saving, through the Payroll Savings Plan or purchase of Bonds at banks and post offices, the more we shall have done for ourselves, our community and our nation.

In honor of the Liberty Bell, hallowed symbol of the American principles by which we live and grow and prosper, I call upon our citizens to signal the opening of this Independence Drive by the ringing of bells throughout the town at noon and the displaying of our nation's flag on Monday, May 15.

EX-EMMITSBURGIAN KILLED IN SUNDAY CRASH

Five Cars Involved In Wreck North of Emmitsburg

Joseph Edward Shorb, 30-year-old Thurmont resident, was fatally injured last Sunday night at 9:30 o'clock when two cars collided approximately five miles north of Emmitsburg on the Emmitsburg-Gettysburg Rd.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said that death was caused by internal injuries, suffered when his chest smashed against the steering wheel of his car, breaking off the wheel. Dr. Crist said an inquest will be held.

Cpl. Jack Bartlett, of the Gettysburg station of the Pennsylvania State Police, said his investigation disclosed that Shorb was driving toward Gettysburg at the time of the crash, that his car skidded for a considerable distance along the highway on its own side of the road and then turned to the left, crossing the center of the highway, and colliding with a car driven south by Alba S. Kennell, 68, of Waynesboro, Pa.

Three Others In Hospital

Three persons were hospitalized as a result of the crash and four cars were damaged in two separate accidents that resulted from the smash-up.

Miss Evelyn B. Speelman, 17, Littlestown Rt. 2, Pa., who was a passenger in Shorb's cabriolet, and whose head smashed through the windshield when the cars collided, suffered multiple lacerations of the face and leg bruises. Sixty-four stitches were required to close the cuts in her face.

Kennell suffered face cuts, bruises, fractures of ribs, and a fracture of the left hip. His wife, Mrs. Martha E. Kennell, 54, of Waynesboro, had three fractured ribs, leg bruises, and cuts. All were admitted as patients at the Warner Hospital.

Drivers of the two other cars involved in their own accident in connection with the fatal collision were William T. Evans, 29, Arlington, Va., and Douglas Hendershot, 19, a Batavia, N. Y., soldier.

Evans and Hendershot were headed south behind the car driven by Kennell. When Kennell slammed on his brakes, Evans also applied his brakes to halt. The soldier's car, unable to stop in time, crashed into the rear of the Evans vehicle, forcing it between the cars of Kennell and Shorb, which had rebounded apart sufficiently far to permit the Evans sedan to pass between the two without striking either.

Traffic was slowed for some time until the wrecked cars could be removed. The Kennell car was headed south, after the crash, on its side of the road. The Shorb car was turned almost completely around and partly blocked the east lane of the highway. State police, aided by volunteers, maintained one-way traffic until the wrecks were towed to Spriggs' Garage.

Damage totaled $2,090, with the police report listing this damage: Shorb car, $900; Kennell, $1,000; Evans, $150, and Hendershot, $40.

Native of Emmitsburg

A native of Emmitsburg and a plumber, Shorb was a World War II veteran and a son of Albert J. Shorb, Thurmont. His mother, who was Mary Ridenour, died some time ago. Surviving besides his father are a son, George Edward Shorb, Thurmont; two brothers, Bernard W. Shorb, Thurmont, and James J. Shorb, Baltimore, and a sister, Mrs. Frances McGraw, Emmitsburg.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The Rev. Stanley Scarff was the celebrant. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

Poor Chimney Wastes Fuel In Furnace

Faulty chimneys usually are the cause of wasteful fuel combustion in home heating plants, says Guy A. Voorhees, technical secretary of the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association.

Writing in American Builder magazine, Voorhees says that a flue area adequate for rapid removal of smoke and flue gas is "of first consideration." He explains that the quantity of smoke and gases to be removed depends on the kind of fuel and the quantity necessary to maintain the house at a comfortable temperature.

He says that in areas where coal might be burned by hand-firing methods, either now or later, chimney flues should be larger than theoretically necessary in order to offset the effect of soot accumulation. Soot deposited on flue walls hinders smoke passage.

"Soot accumulations in undersized chimney flues present definite fire hazards," Voorhees writes. "Chimney fires originate at the bottom of chimneys when soot ignites. Burning rapidly and intensely, such a fire will practically spout the burning chunks of soot out of the chimney and on to the surrounding roof area."

A warning of the danger of flue fires also is given by the National Fire Protection Association, which recommends the use of asphalt shingles or other roofing that will not be kindled into flame by chimney sparks or fire brands. The NFPA lists flammable roofing as a major fire hazard.

Voorhees says that the height of the flue is another important factor in chimney design. With some types of heating plants, the chimney must provide "strong enough suction to draw air into the combustion space and up through the bed of ash and fuel," he points out.

He recommends in American Builder that a heating contractor be called in as a consultant on chimney construction when a home is being built. "Chimney rebuilding is expensive," he says. "It is certainly many more times costly than it would have been to design and supervise proper construction of the chimney in the first place."

SHORT STORY

The Threesome

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

"THAT MAN," Janice thought as she brought her roadster to a halt, "has possibilities. It can't be that he lives here."

He stood just inside the picket fence—six feet of tall leaness. Fair hair. Blue eyes. Bespeaking the easy arrogance of youth. He wore a blue cotton shirt and blue denim jeans.

"You're not Janice Burdon?" he said. And then at her expression: "Heavens, you are! Why couldn't Aunt Bertha have warned me?"

"Is Aunt Bertha your aunt, too?" "My real aunt. You only call her auntie because she's a close friend of your mother."

That makes us not cousins," he added with frank relief.

Janice rescued her suitcase from the rumble seat. "This is like one of those things you read about," he grinned, taking it from her. He studied her with honest approval. "And I thought my vacation was going to be one of those dull, uninteresting things."

Minutes later Janice faced her Aunt Bertha in the bed chamber over the front parlor.

"Oh, Auntie, why didn't you tell me he was going to be here? I didn't bring a thing. Not a thing, except my shorts, two cotton dresses and a bathing suit."

"Who?" Aunt Bertha asked innocently. "Phil? Land sakes, don't worry about him. He dropped in unexpectedly yesterday and announced he was here for two weeks. He's a dear boy. You'll like him."

The next day Janice accompanied Phil up to the north pasture and watched him prune apple trees. "I thought this was your vacation," she said after awhile.

"It is," he told her. "I like working on my vacations—out doors." He pointed away over the fields. "Some day I'd like to see all those fields set out to apple trees."

Two days ago she wouldn't have believed him. She was city born and city bred. To her a farm had always symbolized hard work and a poor living, bugs and snakes and hot days in the sun, long lonely evenings. Even the thought of a farm had made her shudder.

She wondered about Phil. He claimed to be a law firm member on vacation. It occurred to her that for a lawyer he was mighty skillful handling pruning clippers. And his knowledge of farming was profound.

THE SECOND DAY of their vacation they knocked off early and went for a swim. The third day they played tennis. The fourth Aunt Bertha packed them a lunch and they drove to Mount Carter, climbed to its summit and watched a glorious sunset while nibbling delicious sandwiches.

On the second Saturday following her arrival she was with Phil. They had climbed Mount Carter again, had sat for long, silent moments watching the afterglow of a blood-red sunset.

Unexpectedly Phil said: "Well it's gone. And our vacation has gone. Tonight winds up the two weeks."

"There's always an end to nice things," she told him evasively.

"There doesn't have to be. Ever. Listen," he went on eagerly. "I gave you the wrong impression about myself. I'm not a successful lawyer. I never should have tried to be a lawyer. Thank heavens I realized the mistake before it was too late."

"You mean you're not leaving? You're staying here?"

He nodded. "I'm going to try and raise apples. Auntie and I are going to be partners. This fall I'll sell what we have and next spring set out new trees. He picked up her hand. "Honey, let's make it a threesome. I know it's a lot to ask," he added wistfully. "A city girl like you. It'll be dull. But eventually—"

"I could chip in my roadster," Janice cried excitedly. "It's all I have, but it ought to bring $500. How many apple trees can you buy with $500, darling?"

"Enough," said Phil, reading her eyes, "to keep from being lonesome—I guess."

Are You A Flirt?

"Most women," says Alice-Leone Moats, "are born flirts. A village maiden of fourteen may well have the skill of a Cleopatra." Alice, who obviously has her share of natural qualifications, outlines the "six stages in a flirtation" in the May issue of Cosmopolitan magazine. She tells why "women flirts are often admired, although men flirts are invariably condemned by society." While admitting that flirting is an art, she laments that it "has fallen into the same class as the art of lacemaking—ornamental, charming, an aesthetic delight, a joy to the connoisseur, but almost a rocco affliction in this machine age." One look at Alice, we suspect, could make old-fashioned men out of mechanical wizards.

School Classes

View Polar Bear Rugs

Mrs. Scott's seventh grade Core Class of the Emmitsburg High School went on a trip Wednesday to the home of Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan, E. Main St., where they were shown two beautiful polar bear rugs which came from Alaska and a number of other beautiful things from Japan, China, and India. Especially interesting was a hand carved ivory tusks from India; an exquisite three dimensional picture made of tiny bits of lacy cork to form the scene, as well as trick boxes from Japan. Not to go without mention were also many beautiful antiques from our own America which were quite interesting. The little excursion was concluded with delicious cookies and punch served by our hostess. 'Tis truly a visit we'll long remember, the students said.

Now is the time to renew soil-improvement and erosion-control practices that have been delayed because of war production and world food shortages.

POULTRY POINTERS

As the warm weather season will begin soon, it is advisable to prepare your plans for handling eggs. During the cool season it is of lesser importance, because the germ development of fertile eggs does not start below 68 degree F. Unless you sell eggs for hatching, there is no reason at all (from the flock owners standpoint, however, not from the roosters) to allow males to run with layers, because infertile eggs keep much better.

Chickens lay just as many eggs without the rooster. Right after your hatching season is over, separate the males from the layers. Most eggs are of good quality when first laid. If they are to retain their quality and reach the consumer in good condition they must be properly cared for. No marketing process can improve the quality of an egg, the main objective is to retain as nearly as possible the original quality.

Eggs should be gathered at least twice a day, using an open container such as a wire basket, and temperature should be reduced to around 50-55 degrees F. as quickly as possible. This type of container allows the animal heat to leave the egg rapidly. Closed containers such as buckets and closed baskets prevent rapid cooling in summer. As soon as eggs have cooled, pack them in cases or cartons with the large end up. This aids greatly in retaining quality and protects the air cell, which is in the large end of the egg. Packing as soon as possible reduces danger of breakage. After being packed, keep eggs away from sunshine and place in a cool, moderately moist place to maintain quality and prevent evaporation. The most desirable temperature is 50 degrees F. with relative humidity of 85-90. Humidity may be improved by dampening the floor and placing open containers with water throughout the room. A cellar is ideal for holding eggs, but care must be taken to keep the room clean and free from odors, as eggs easily absorb odors, for instance, from onions or apples. In such case they are not marketable.

Refrigeration is the best means of storage, however, when stored at too cool temperatures and moved they will deteriorate faster than when not refrigerated. An easy home-made storage unit can be made at small cost and used successfully for holding eggs. A wooden frame with wire shelves to hold wire baskets and cases enclosed by heavy burlap cloth saturated with water. The cloth is hung from a pan of water which is on top of the unit. An electric fan may be suspended from the top shelf to drive the humid air through the egg baskets or cases. Evaporation of moisture in the burlap cover will reduce temperature and improve humidity.

County Students Will March In Washington Parade
State and county schools in greater numbers than ever before are preparing to journey to Washington, D. C., for the AAA's 14th Annual School Safety Patrol Parade Saturday, it was announced this week by Kenneth E. Burkhard, manager of the Frederick branch of the Automobile Club of Maryland. More than 3,300 youngsters, safety patrolmen and women in 112 Maryland schools will make the trip under the auspices of the Automobile Club of Maryland. At least 10 Maryland school bands and drum and bugle corps will accompany the marchers as they swing down Constitution Ave. and pass in review before high dignitaries of the Government, prominent military and naval figures. The Maryland delegation will be but part of a total of more than 23,000 patrol youngsters gathered from some 17 states and the District of Columbia, stated Mr. Burkhard. The delegation from Frederick County will be the largest ever to participate in this parade. It will require 13 buses to transport the 510 children from the county. State police will escort the county units to Washington and will accompany them in the parade. Two city policemen will also accompany the unit and parade. Minnesota and the Dakotas produce 72 per cent of the flax crop of the United States.

Veteran Horsemen To Fly Stable To Baltimore For Harness Races

Laurel Raceway added another President Dick Hutchinson Jr., announced that Guy Crippen of West Allis, Wis., would be the first man to fly a stable of harness horses to a Maryland track when the colorful veteran trainer-driver vans his stable to the pioneer trotting oval by air following the present meet at Santa Anita, Calif.

Crippen, annually one of the most successful drivers in the sport, is lured to the 20-night meet opening June 17 at Laurel Raceway by the $185,000 purses, especially the six $10,000 and the two $5,000 purses offered at the plant midway between Baltimore and Washington.

Crippen, whose crack stable of five horses includes Lord Steward, a hot Hambletonian candidate, announced that a four-motored air transport plane would speed his trotters and pacers across the country, and land at the new Baltimore municipal airport, located a few miles from the Laurel Raceway track, just before the Laurel meet starts. It is a rarity, veteran horsemen said, for harness horses to be vanned by air.

The Crippen-driven and trained Lord Steward, owned by Ralph H. Kroening of Milwaukee, gained more serious consideration for this year's $85,000 Hambletonian at Goshen, N. Y., when he became the first of the 1950 candidates to hit the winner's circle the second day at Santa Anita, going the mile in 2:09. Lord Steward repeated a few days later, winning this time in the brilliant time of 2:05 4-5. Formerly quoted in the winter book at 20-1, Lord Steward will have his odds cut down to around 6-1.

Crippen has entered his flashy mare, Highland Ellen, winner of the Pasadena Pace, in the second renewal of the Laurel Cup $10,000 pace, which was won by Rena Grattan last year. In addition to the Laurel Cup, Laurel Raceway will feature five other $10,000 purses. These top purses are attracting not only Crippen, but many of the world's top-flight drivers to the track.

Chief Cause Of Home Accidents

Falls were the biggest single reason for accidents in homes in this country last year, National Safety Council records show. They killed 24,200. This was a two per cent reduction in comparison in 1948. Burns killed 7,800, drownings 6,800, and firearms 2,200.

Eating More

Food consumption in 1949 was 11 per cent above the 1935-39 average. It is expected to equal or surpass that figure this year.

The fleet of Columbus was worth only $3,000.

Suit the Bread to the Filling

SANDWICH TIME is almost any time at all. But they're never more popular than in spring and summer when you'll rely on them for auto trips, picnics, beach parties and outdoor teas. Shown above is an appetizing set-up from Good Housekeeping magazine which presents a complete 32-page "Sandwich Manual" in its May issue. From dainty mouthfuls for the ladies to hefty triple-deckers for the he-men, there's an ideal sandwich for every occasion. Suit the bread to the fillings as shown in the picture—nutbread for cream cheese, enriched white for chicken, wheat or rye for ham or beef. Make your mixed fillings in generous portions, but don't forget the Bakers of America reminder that "bread is two-thirds of the sandwich." So the right bread is just as important as the filling.

HOMEMAKERS' CORNER

Bean Bonanza

Beans are the choice for budget meals, since the present large supply on the market is seeing at prices even below last year's.

For an unusual, appetizing and thrifty bean dish, "savory bean patties" are suggested. Here's a recipe that will serve four.

Two cups cooked ry beans; two-thirds cup bread cubes; one beaten egg; 1/2 teaspoon sage or savory seasoning; salt and pepper to taste; milk; fine dry crumbs. Mash beans and mix well with bread cubes and egg. Add the seasonings and moisten with milk. Shape the mixture into patties and roll in crumbs. Brown in a little hot fat, turning once for crusty sides. Cook slowly about 20 minutes.

Bean patties are good with tomato sauce, catsup or chili sauce, and team up well with a crisp

Inequality Here

City people and consumers generally have little reason to rejoice over falling farm prices. Retail food prices went down only four per cent during the past year, even though the farmer received 11 per cent less for his crops and livestock.

The Princeton Seminary Choir will present a Vesper Service in Brodbeck Hall at Hood College, Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. The 26 members of the choir are all college graduates who are now regularly enrolled as students at Princeton Seminary, preparing to devote their time to the Christian ministry either at home or abroad.

The entire service will be conducted by members of the choir. The musical portion which constitutes an integral part of the worship service is sung entirely from memory and for the most part without accompaniment. The repertoire ranges from early plain song through the Sixteenth Century Latin Classic to contemporary works.

MARYLAND FEED & GRAIN MARKETS

Baltimore grain markets were firm during the early part of last week but eased somewhat during the latter part of the week. Demand was moderate. Corn and oats seemed to be tightening on the Baltimore market. Wheat lost about 2c per bushel during the past week. Yellow shelled corn gained about 4c per bushel while yellow corn advanced sharply about seven cents per bushel. Western oats strengthened along with corn gaining about three cents per bushel. Barley remained about steady. Soybeans advanced sharply influenced by the supply situation, with gains of nine cents per bushel in No. 2 yellow, and fourteen cents in No. 2 black. The firm market in grains and the price advances during recent weeks appear to be the result of the decreasing supplies available for open market trading. Relatively large supplies are held in storage under the government support price program.

National Grain Market
Grain markets were firm during last week. Dryness in the southwest and delayed spring seeding continued to be strengthening influences in the wheat market. Active demand for moderate offerings was a supporting factor for feed grain. Rye advanced along with the gain in Canadian markets, while grain sorghums declined under pressure of offerings of CCC supplies. Soybeans continued independently firm advancing about 20 cents per bushel. Because CCC failed to buy soybeans for Japan when the order was placed during the winter, at a time when they could have been purchased for $2.25 a bushel, State Dept. is tentatively considering a deal to trade cotton to Communist China for soybeans. Senators from soybean-growing states are protesting. Germany will buy $600,000 of soybean oil from us, with ECA funds. CCC negotiated sales of only 2,518,000 bushels of wheat and flour to countries in the International Wheat Agreement. We have compared with 98% for Australia and 85% for Canada. ECA moved about 62% of our share, allotting $3,179,000 to Iceland and $3,000,000 to Ireland to buy corn from the U. S. shovels the Chicago market up.

Maryland Feed Market
The Baltimore feed market was very firm last week. Supplies were ample for trade needs. Demand, good. Millfeeds and oil seed meals, with the exception of linseed meal which was about steady, were very strong. Millfeeds advanced 3 1/2-4% on the ton higher, and middlings, $2.60 Baltimore market; bran, $2.71 per ton higher. Soybean meal made a sharp advance of $5.4 per ton—an increase of over 6% on the Baltimore market. Cottonseed meal advanced over 2% —$2.20 per ton higher. Advances of more than 3% were noted in paratory works.

Dr. E. G. Homrighausen, professor of Christian Education at Princeton Seminary, will give a brief address. Dr. Homrighausen is a member of the board of trustees of Hood College. Recently he spent eight months in Geneva, organizing the Department of Evangelism for the World Council of Churches. He then made a tour of churches and mission stations around the world and is now chairman of the United Evangelistic Advance. He is a well known lecturer and preacher and the author of "Choose Ye This Day," "Christianity in America—A Crisis" and several other works.
Dr. David Hugh Jones, F.A.G.O., director of music since 1934, is a member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, and a composer of sacred music which has been sung by leading choral organizations. He is associate professor of music at Princeton Seminary and a charter member of the faculty of the Westminster Choir College.

Since 1937, the Princeton Seminary Choir has sung in at least three churches every Sunday of the academic year. In recent years it has made extensive summer tours through Cuba, Mexico, and Canada, as well as many other states of the Union. Altogether this group has appeared over 1,400 times, singing in more than 800 different churches and schools. Plans are now being made for a tour of Alaska this summer.

Prevent Ladder Slipping

When a person standing near the top of a ladder reaches out to either side, the ladder tends to slip. This safety precaution is suggested by American Builder magazine:

Drive finishing nails in the ladder as shown in the sketch. Cut off the nails 1/8 inch from the face of the wood and file the ends to sharp points. When the ladder is placed against a wall, the nails will dig in enough to keep the ladder from slipping but not enough to mar the wall surface objectionably.

Boy Scout NEWS

By HENRY H. CHARLTON
Scoutmaster, Troop No. 284

Big doings for Troop 284. On Saturday, May 20, a hike will be the order of the day. This hike will be unusual, in that it will be a rehearsal for the Troop Camporee to be held on May 27, 28. This troop camporee is a full practice for the Francis Scott Key District Camporee to be held at Lewistown on June 2, 3, 4.

Our troop will enter the camporee as underdogs, but with co-operation of each and every person, we can and will win all honors given at this annual Scouting event.

In the recent promotion plan, Mike Boyle was elected Patrol Leader of the Flying Eagle Patrol. He replaces Allen Stoner, who is the Senior Patrol Leader of the troop. Weldon Shank, Jr., has replaced Mike as troop scribe while Floyd B. Miller is taking over as assistant scribe.

The Troop has decided to make patrol cooking equipment before the May 27 event, so we will be spared the expense of purchasing this expensive paraphernalia.

Work has started on the Tippy-canoes and as soon as the wood is received, Emmitsburg will be watching its first navy being constructed.

Don't forget paper collection means camp perfection.

Fire Marshall Cooperation Campaign

Fire Marshall Claude A. this week asked residents Maryland for their active participation in the Spring Clean-Up Prevention Campaign. He warned that fire hazards often intensified by winter neglect make spring an especially dangerous season.

are common fire hazards are accumulations of debris and other unnecessary combustible material, flammable liquid, dirty stoves, and lamps, chimneys, flammable roofs, and defective heating plants and defective electrical appliances.

This annual campaign ends May 15 and is sponsored locally by the Vigilant Hose Co. of Emmitsburg.

Inspections Pay Dividends The 13 states which at present have periodic motor vehicle inspection programs have an average annual street and highway death rate that is more than 12 per cent below the national average for the rest of the country, the Assn. of Casualty and Surety Companies has revealed.

INFLUENZA

From Biblical days, war has been accompanied by pestilence and disease. An example of this in modern times was the worldwide influenza, or "flu," epidemic during the first World War, when there were over 20 million cases of influenza in the United States alone, and the disease took many more lives than were lost on the battlefield.

Until comparatively recent years, little was known about influenza, although a "flu" epidemic was recorded as early as 1510. The World War epidemic, however, was followed by intensive and accelerated research on this disease, which has gradually increased our knowledge of its cause, treatment, and prevention.

Today we know that influenza is caused by a filtrable virus, a germ so small that it cannot be seen under an ordinary microscope, and that it is a highly infectious disease, easily spread from person to person. We know, too, that death is usually due to the severe complications that frequently follow influenza, such as pneumonia, rather than to the disease itself.

Influenza may attack various part of the body, but it usually infects the upper respiratory tract—chiefly the nose and throat. The early symptoms of influenza, which resemble those of a cold, are general muscular pains in the back and legs, a sudden fever, redness of the eyes, and a sore throat. The acute stage of the disease may last from a few days to two weeks, but the majority of patients, with good care, recover from the acute infection itself in a few days. A feeling of tiredness and a lack of energy may persist for several weeks.

Whenever symptoms of influenza are suspected, the sick person should be put to bed and the doctor called immediately. The doctor will prescribe the best treatment for the individual patient, but he will insist that the person with influenza remain in bed until fully recovered.

Pneumonia will sometimes develop in spite of all precautions, but this happens most frequently with patients who get up and about before complete recovery from their influenza.

Vaccines giving temporary protection against some types of influenza have been developed in recent years. Although an injection with vaccine does not provide complete immunity, and is effective only for about six months to a year, doctors may advise it when there is an outbreak of influenza or when an epidemic is anticipated.

Influenza strikes all age groups but is most common among children and old people, particularly during an epidemic. There has been no other epidemic as serious as the one in 1918, but because influenza is highly infectious and easily spread, we must continually guard against it. A properly balanced diet and plenty of rest, especially during these months, will help build natural resistance to the influenza germs. But if

Independence Savings Bonds Drive Starts In County On Monday, May 15

The U. S. Treasury Dept.'s Independence Savings Bond Drive will be officially launched in Maryland and throughout the nation on Monday, May 15 at noon, with the unveiling of a replica of the historic Liberty Bell which hangs in Independence Hall, Philadelphia. These bells, 52 in number, weighing more than a ton each, will visit some 2,000 cities throughout the country and in the territories between now and July 4th when the drive ends.

The bell will be on display in each county in the State for one or more days. The Davidson Transfer and Storage Co. of Baltimore has donated the services of one of their drivers for the entire Maryland tour.

Plans for the campaign opening in Maryland, as announced by Richard H. Dixon Jr., State Director, Savings Bonds Division for Maryland, include the ringing of bells throughout the state, just previous to the unveiling ceremonies, which will take place in the Memorial Plaza in Baltimore. Responsibility for the ringing of the bells and for the display of flags, Mr. Dixon said, has been voluntarily assumed by members of American Legion Posts throughout Maryland.

The actual ceremonies, as he simple, but impressive. A band playing patriotic marches, will escort the Liberty Bell to the Plaza. Mayor D'Alesandro of Baltimore will unveil the bell and speak for a few minutes on the patriotic duty and the personal advantage of investing in the "E" Bonds for every Maryland citizen. Two young women, direct descendants of two of Maryland's signers of the Declaration of Independence, Charles Carroll of Carrollton and William Penn, costumed in the fashion of 1776, will be introduced and will lend decorative effect to the colorful occasion. Officials of the campaign and representatives of the copper industry in Maryland will also be introduced, as the bells are gifts to the nation from six leading American companies of this industry, the Anaconda Copper Mining Co., Kennecott Copper Corp., Phelps-Dodge Corp., American Smelting and Refining, American Metal Co., Ltd., and Miami Copper Co.

At the close of the drive, the Liberty Bell will be presented to the State of Maryland and will be permanently on display at a site designated by the Governor. The bells were made at a French bell foundry, under the supervision of Dr. Arthur L. Bigelow of Princeton University, and are excellent replicas of the originals. However, whereas the original with its historic crack can no longer ring out with its on-vibrant voice, the new bells will have the famous crack painted on and can ring so that present-day Americans will be able to hear how the great bell sounded on that first Fourth of July.

Goal for this drive in Maryland has been set at $7,830,000 and the goal for Frederick County is $171,000. Joseph P. Healy is state chairman, and the chairman for Frederick County is W. Clinton McSherry of Frederick. The official slogan is "Save For Your Independence—Buy U. S. Savings Bonds."

Wisdom of Cleaning Heating Systems Now Will Afford Greater Safety Next Winter

Spring is a time for fire prevention as well as planting for the home owner.

When your heating plant shuts down because of warmer weather you should inspect your furnace. If there is too much soot in the furnace and smoke pipes, it should be cleaned out.

Accumulations of soot absorb moisture during humid summer months. The moisture speeds up rusting and corrosion, especially of smoke pipes. Rusty smoke pipes may mean a bad fire when the furnace is lighted again in the fall, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Many of you keep portable oil heaters handy for those frosty spring evenings when it's not cold enough for the furnace, but cool enough to require some heat. The heaters should be kept clean. Soot accumulations often cause flash fires which spray burning oil over the room.

Oil heaters should be filled outdoors and not carried when lighted. They should never be kept burning in a closed room.

Spring time is also a good time for inspection of wiring. It's also a good time to replace broken light bulbs and put metal guards over bulbs that are exposed, especially those near combustible material.

Fire extinguishers should be examined, and recharged according to directions on the labels.

Here's a new twist in extracting onion juice. Cut a slice from the bottom of the onion, invert over a lemon squeezer and twist. Less work, fewer tears this way.

Cattle are especially fond of yellow poplar, white ash and black locust shoots.

From 1900 to 1909 it took about 1600 pounds of milk to buy a ton of superphosphate, while in the past 10 years it took only 700 pounds.

BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET It Takes All Kinds—Chiselers And Those Generous of Heart

By BILLY ROSE

Here are two stories, both true. The first is as mean as a thumb in the eye; the second, as heartening as a sunrise.

The mean one is about a Philadelphia industrialist who, on one of his frequent business trips to New York, made the acquaintance of a young lady whose good looks were only surpassed by her amiability. Despite the fact that he was married, the tycoon began to see a lot of the girl, and it wasn't long before he had set her up in a Madison avenue apartment and was forking over $300 a week to cover expenses.

After a couple of cozy and clandestine years, the girl said to him one night, "If something ever happens to you, Daddy, I'll be left without a penny. Don't you think you ought to do something about securing my future?"

Billy Rose

"You're absolutely right," said the industrialist. "Give me a few days to work it out."

The next time he called on the girl, he handed her half a million dollars worth of 3 per cent railroad bonds.

"These will yield you an income of 15 thousand a year," he said. "Every three months as the coupons come due, clip them and I'll cash them in for you, and you can use the money for expenses."

"You'll notice I haven't put your name on the bonds. Well, that's because the transfer of so large a sum would come to the attention of the board of directors and cause a lot of talk. However, if anything happens to me, you can write your name in and sell the whole lot at any brokerage house."

The girl thanked him, and the pair continued seeing each other until the tycoon keeled over in his Philadelphia office a couple of years later with an attack of coronary thrombosis. When his lady friend read the obituary in the papers, she wrote her name on the bonds and took them to the brokerage house.

The broker examined the certificates. "You're a little late, Miss," he said. "This railroad went out of existence almost 30 years ago."

The girl picked up the worthless paper and walked out. "The dirty double-crosser," she muttered. "All he gave me was the same three hundred a week."

AND NOW let me take the thumb out of your eye and show you the sunrise.

Some years ago, an Iowa garage-man went bankrupt and decided to make a fresh start in another state. He scraped together a little cash, loaded his wife and kids into a beat-up Chevrolet and headed for California. Unfortunately, the jalopy broke down outside of Tucson and the cost of getting it fixed cleaned him out.

To get a little eating money, he set out to canvass the garages in town for a job but quickly found the supply of local labor was greater than the demand—Tucson, because of its climate, was filled with tuberculosis victims, a good many of whom were mechanics.

At the last garage on his list, he repeated his hard-luck story and got the standard turndown, but as he started to walk out he was stopped by one of the mechanics.

"If you need a job as bad as you say," he said, "you can fix mine. I'm pretty sure I can give it with the boss."

"Don't you need the job yourself?" said the man from Iowa.

"I've saved enough to last me for six months," said the mechanic, "and the doctor who's treating me for TB says that's all I figure to live."

ANGLING ANGLES by old Hi

In early spring the thoughts of most anglers across the country center on trout fishing. Nearby lowland or mountain streams and ponds may contain brook, brown, rainbow, cutthroat, steelhead or Dolly Varden trout, and in any case these will give you tops in sport.

At the outset, with the water usually high, swift, cold and discolored, you'll find the trout staying close to the bottom. This means that most of them will be taken on live baits, although in some instances streamer and bucktail flies worked close to the bottom will be effective.

Trout are fond of various insects, worms and grubs, crawfish, grasshoppers, tiny minnows, bees, and similar natural foods. For the most part, two of the smaller, more lively garden worms are better to use than one large nightcrawler, unless only a part of the latter is strung on the snelled hook. If trying a small minnow, pass the hook through its mouth, out one gill-cover and impale it in the skin at the base of the tail or back of the dorsal fin—so the minnow is slightly curved and will twirl enticingly in the current.

For this live bait fishing, and for use in fly casting when desired, you can use the new all-purpose combination four-piece tonkin bamboo rod with the reversible hand grip with inner ferrules. One tip section is for live bait fishing and the other for fly casting. Thus in one rod you can enjoy the widest sport at no extra cost.

With this rod you can make the following combinations: two fly rods, eight and one-half feet in length and six and one-half feet in length; one bait rod eight and one-half feet long; light casting rod six and one-half feet in length; and two casting or trolling rods; one five and one-half feet in length and one three feet in length.

There is also a new sportsman's rod in six sections, designed so it can be carried in a pack basket on camping trips, or in a large game pocket when hiking through the woods. This is a very useful rod for the mountain stream angler. When assembled it is eight and one-quarter feet long, and weighs about six and one-half ounces. It is constructed from flame finish tonkin bamboo, the toughest and longest lasting cane.

With these rods you would want an upright model automatic fly reel for quick and easy retrieve of line. Besides streamer and bucktail flies, light nickel spinners or fly spinners should also be tried.

You'll find many useful tips on catching trout in Old Hi's 148-page booklet "Fishing For The Millions," and you may have a free copy by sending a penny postcard request to me in care of this newspaper. At the same time, if you're interested in deep sea and ocean shore line angling, ask for your free copy of "Salt Water Sports Fishing."

Stock Car Races Carded At Park

Tommy Coates of Trenton, N. J., 1949 champion of the American Stock Car Racing Association, turned in the first official entry for Sunday's stock car auto races on the Williams Grove Speedway.

The stock car auto racing program, the first of the 1950 season on the half-mile oval, will be run under sanction of ASCRA, assuring fans that the best drivers in the East will participate.

Roy Richwine, owner, stated that entries are expected from such well-known stock car speed pilots as Wally Campbell and Pepper Cunningham, two other Trenton drivers.

Coates, who originally hails from Dallas, Tex., will come to the Grove direct from three wins on Southern tracks earlier this season. The former Texan, who heads ASCRA as president this year, was the winner of the 30-lap feature race in the only stock car race presented on the Williams Grove Speedway last year.

Last year's stock car races provided a program marked with spins and crashes. It was necessary to restart three of the races last year due to accidents. A heat race was restarted after a car flipped, but landed back on its wheels; the consolation was restarted when the leader spun, causing a pile-up of cars; and the feature itself was restarted after a three-car crash.

Despite the numerous crashes, all drivers escaped injury, and were back in competition before one of the most exciting races ever witnessed at Williams Grove was completed.

Since stock car drivers are anxious to make a good showing on Richwine's speedway in order to gain additional dates during the season, fans may expect another action-packed program in their inaugural on the "Ascot of the East."

Do You Know Your Rights Under Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Program?

Field Representative The Social Security Office has always been interested in working closely with employers, civic clubs, both men's and women's, and other governmental and welfare agencies on a Social Security informational program.

Much still remains to be done toward this end. Some workers and families of deceased workers and families of deceased World War II veterans (even though the veteran never worked under Social Security) continue to lose benefits because they don't know their rights under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, one of the programs contained in the Social Security Act. Consequently, a continuous informational program on this provision of the Act is needed to inform people of their rights.

You have many civic clubs and other community resources in your town and county. Social Security is just another of your community resources. How can you use it? Here are a few suggestions:

1—At the request of an employer, president or program chairman of a civic club or agency, a representative of my office will be happy to attend scheduled meeting to explain briefly Old-Age and Survivors Insurance and to answer questions on the program. This service is available to all other services.

2—My office can supply employer, individual agency with pamphlets on Social Security program. These are also free. You can do it to write.

3—Also available at our posters on Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, suitable for display in boards. These are specially recommended for employers and employees. You can request, too, out cost.

The accompanying sketch shows in dotted lines the approximate location of the five and one-quarter mile section to be added this year to the Baltimore National Pike. Nine bids for this job were opened by the State Roads Commission last week, the lowest bid being $1,448,980, submitted by the Williams Construction Co. of Middle River. A five and one-half mile section of this dual highway (a portion of which is indicated by shaded lines at the extreme right) from Pine Orchard to West Friendship is now under construction by the T. E. Ritter Corp. with a cost authorization of $2,142,691.

Ground Broken For New Catholic Hospice

Ground was broken on the new $2,500,000 home for the aged by Archbishop Francis P. Keough this week. The ceremonies, held at Towson, formally opened the second annual Maryland Catholic appeal for funds. The drive continues to May 17. Two major projects which it will finance are the home for the aged, to be known as Stella Maria Hospice, and a village to house the merged Catholic orphanages in the Archdiocese of Baltimore.

Archbishop Keough stated that the home would cost $2,500,000. It will be non-sectarian, receiving non-Catholics and Catholics alike. The prelate called the home "a monument of love in a world, where hatred and strife reign over large areas."

Appeal officials said there will be no campaign quotas, nor paid workers, no pledges, no workers' luncheons and no rented headquarters. All contributions will be in cash. Headquarters will be in the archbishop's residence in Baltimore. Archbishop Keough, referring to the absence of quotas, said that "charity has no quota."

Canvassers from St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg, began their operations here this week.

President Roosevelt's Board said—
President Truman's Board said—
Still the leaders of the Railroad Firemen's Union say—

"STRIKE!"

This ridiculous strike is an affront to every citizen of the nation. It's not for more money. It's not because of hours. It's only for soft feather-bedding spots for additional unnecessary firemen to go along in diesel locomotives just for the ride. A leading liberal newspaper calls the demands of the union leaders "horse-feathers!"

The reckless leaders of the firemen's union want to force down the throats of the railroads and the public a ridiculous "make-work" proposal which has been twice ruled out by Presidential Fact Finding Boards duly appointed under the provisions of the Railway Labor Act.

This demand of union leaders for additional and unnecessary firemen to ride in diesel locomotives was rejected—after months of hearings—by a Board appointed by President Roosevelt in 1943.

It was again rejected in 1949 by a Board appointed by President Truman.

Recent meetings with the National Mediation Board have brought no change in the attitude of the union dictators.

Union Leaders Defy Intent of Law
The union leaders helped write the Railway Labor Act. Yet in an attempt to jam through this scheme of pure "feather-bedding" by leading the members of their union out on strike and threatening paralysis to large areas of the nation, they are defying the spirit and intent of the very law which they helped to create.

This strike is not for higher wages. It is a strike to force the railroads to employ many more thousands of firemen who are not needed! It would be indefensible waste. The railroads have refused to place this additional and unnecessary burden on the public.

But more important than any other consideration, is the action of these few irresponsible union leaders in seeking to force a crippling strike upon the

This strike is one of the silliest strikes in history!

What are these reckless union leaders trying to do? They seek to cause thousands of their members to strike, and throw hundreds of thousands of other employees on and off the railroads out of employment, with loss of pay to them and their families, plus a severe blow to industry and the citizens of the nation.

What's the strike all about? If the union has its way—what happens? The present members of the union won't get one cent more pay. They will merely have been assessed for a costly and indefensible drive in an attempt to provide more dues-paying members for the union by creating "feather-bedding" jobs for additional and unnecessary firemen.

This is certainly one of the silliest strikes in history!

nation for their own selfish purposes.

There is no other possible answer to such a demand but "No!"

The railroads in making such a reply believe they have the whole-hearted support of the people in whose interest they are willing to fight this out, despite the loss and inconvenience that all will suffer.

It is time to put an end to such un-American demands.

This is a result of your untiring efforts, your aggressive spirit, etc. Yes, in all fairness, both to you and to all future aspirants for the town offices, I okay your raise. As it stands, you can't get anyone to even run for the office. . . . That was evidenced in the recent election. Maybe this increase in "salary" will be an added incentive. Who will be willing to inherit his legacy of civic headaches, criticisms, etc., unless we lighten their load a bit by giving them a few paltry dollars to enlighten the expenses of being mayor. . . . Exquisite Trousseau Linens Featured During National Irish Linen Week

LUCKY THE BRIDE who shops for her trousseau during National Irish Linen Week, May 15th to 20th, for she will find the most exquisite trousseau linens for every household use at the lowest prices in many a long year.

In Irish linen damasks, number one on the trousseau list, whether she prefers traditional florals, classic or modern designs, white or luscious new pastels, the choice is infinite. In bridge, luncheon and tea sets, too, there is something to please every taste in solid colors, gay prints and rich hand-embroidery. Mat sets, which become more and more popular; and which are so practical, go from breakfast in the kitchen to the most formal dinner. Whatever her choice, the bride will want dining linens made in Ireland not only for their beauty but because this most luxurious of fabrics is also the most durable, the most economical. Irish linen pillow cases, hemstitched, embroidered or monogrammed, are a trousseau must and a pair of Irish linen sheets would be the utmost in elegance. Irish linen towels for the bath in regular and guest sizes, in every color under the sun as well as the favorite white, combine luxury with serviceability and thrift and, of course, Irish linen glass and dish towels—super-absorbent, lint-free and almost endlessly launderable, go without saying. Kitchen towels, too, are no longer a drab affair, but appear in bright prints and cheerful plaids and checks to brighten up the kitchen.

So, whether you're shopping for your own wedding or "gifting" the bride, National Irish Linen Week offers you opportunities in the "queen of fabrics", which will open your eyes.

Hanover Shoe Ball Team Setting Pace

An excellent showing has been made to date by the local Hanover Shoe Factory baseball team, a member of the Penn-Maryland Baseball League and coached by Alex Deatherage. The aggregation has triumphed over two teams, Wakefield and Middleburg. According to officials of the local team, if they can hurdle Harney, they will have excellent chances of taking the pennant in that circuit. They explain they have beaten what they consider the best teams in the league to date and feel certain that if they get by Harney, things look rosy.

Harney will be met this evening at Community Field at 6 p. m. Stellar base running by young Frank Wastler of the locals, has placed him leading the league in this department, with a total of four stolen bases in two games.

Both Allen Davis and Eugene Newcomer, pitchers, have displayed excellent prowess on the mound thus far. Davis has a three-hitter to his credit, while Newcomer pitched a five-hitter last Sunday.
This Sunday the locals meet Pen Mar away.

1950 Outlook Favorable
Although prices of farm products are expected to decline about 10 per cent this year, the nation's farmers will still occupy a relatively favorable economic position, according to an Agriculture Dept. forecast. Prices of supplies and equipment used in farm production are likely to decline between three and four per cent, it was predicted.

Penna. Sportsmen To Release 100 Birds In Maryland

At the regular monthly meeting of the Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., Sportsmen's Assn. Monday evening, it was said that plans are being completed to release 100 birds by the association in Maryland. The birds are being furnished by Maryland, but after rearing, will be released by the Penna. club. C. Anderson Warner, president, presided at the meeting.

Highlighting Monday night's meeting was the discussion of the association's fair, which is hoped will be made an annual event. The dates for the mammoth exhibition will be Monday through Saturday, June 19 to 24. Tentatively, May 22 has been set for a special meeting for ironing out the minute details of the coming event in June.

The more than 80 members who attended Monday's meeting enjoyed an informative speech by Representative James F. Lind. His topic was "Wildlife and Forestry." The representative outlined many ways in which sportsmen may prevent fires, which destroy the habitat of wildlife. A guest of the meeting was Mr. William Varn, a member of the Associated Press.

The fish committee reported the release of 16 cans of fingerlings in area streams. The small fry

Miss Jane Fitzgerald, student nurse at Johns Hopkins Hospital, spent several days during the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fitzgerald. Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Arcidiacono of Baltimore.

were released last Wednesday. The club stated that construction of pens for housing 300 birds is nearing completion.

Treasurer Cortright said the membership is running close to that of last year, with 647 members to date. He stated the club hopes to "make it a 1,000" for 1950.

Following the business session, refreshments were served.
