Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

Here's a chance to have a lot of fun and do a whale of a lot of good for the old town of Emmitsburg at the same time. Ed Emrich and his committees are hard at work in preparations for the staging of the benefit bingo game to be held in the Fire Hall on Saturday, June 23. All net proceeds will go to the building fund of the Emmitsburg Community Hall Assn. The affair marks the initial fund-raising venture for the young organization which has a tremendous task ahead of it for the next several years. Another first was registered by the local Grange last week when that club became the first donor to the fund by presenting the treasurer of the Hall Assn. with a check for $100. My compliments to this fine and progressive organization. They have been extremely busy in local community affairs the past few years and have been instrumental in gaining many necessary improvements to the town. We can't help but wonder how many other organizations and individuals that have pledged support to the project in the past, will, now that the time has come, come through with these pledges of financial assistance. NOW is the time to stimulate interest and back up the committees and officers that were elected and who are carrying the ball for us all. If their first money-raising affair is a dismal failure, it may dishearten these same people and all our hopes for a town hall will vanish into thin air. This project can be made come to a successful conclusion only by a tremendous amount of hard work and sacrifice on the part of all of us. Just about every organization in town is behind this bingo game and feel they deserve your kind of patronage. Let's not fail.

It's a trifle early, in a way, to be talking about the annual Lions Club Horse Show. And in another way, considering the volume of work in staging this enterprise, it isn't too early to be planning. Sept. 23 has been designated as HSD (Horse Show Day). Many out-of-staters have come to look forward to our event here and the affair has brought Emmitsburg more prestige than possibly any other endeavor. We are fast gaining the reputation of staging the "best little show" in the state of Maryland. A good deal of antipathy has arisen in the past between local organizations as to the amount of damage done to the Community Field by the horses showing there. While the Lions have footed the bill to replace the damage done to the grounds annually, this apparently has not been satisfactory. Peace looms on the horizon this year for these organizations (as I hear from the grape vine, that all good gals hear from) that the Lions are endeavoring to find a new location for the promotion. However, nothing is definite. Several locations have been discussed but nothing positive is in the wind as yet. There is a lot of red tape connected with changing the site of a large promotion of this type . . . and I might add a lot of expense also. Perhaps the biggest problem confronting the Lions will be providing seating capacity for the audience. After all, you can't expect the customers to stand through a seven-hour show. At my age I wouldn't think of it. Speaking of age, someone wrote in last week stating that Abigail was the wife of King David. Well, that might have been, but it isn't now. I have remained single and independent for this long and I wouldn't know how to act in regal enclosure anyway. Besides that I would not subject any husband to the harsh criticism that I sometimes get

BONA FIDE ORGANIZATIONS CAN HOLD BINGO

Recent reports intimating strict enforcement of the so-called anti-gambling laws in Frederick County have even served to confuse representatives of organizations who for some years have been securing permits for bingo, it was learned this week.

It is understood that in at least one case, an organization representative secured a letter from State's Attorney Charles U. Price before applying to Sheriff Guy Anders for a bingo permit. Apparently fearful of prosecution for violation of some law of which they know nothing, residents are virtually leaning over backwards, as the phrase goes, to be sure what they are doing is legal.

Authorities said there is no change in the bingo law in Frederick County, Organization representatives who secured permits in the past can do so now without fear of prosecution. Officials pointed out that Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer, in his charge to the special session of the grand jury called to look into gambling, made that plain but said there is still some confusion.

The so-called bingo law makes it lawful for any bona fide fraternal, religious, patriotic, educational or charitable organizations or corporations or volunteer fire companies to conduct bingo games in the county for the benefit of charity or in furtherance of the purpose of such organizations.

It specifically bars the issuance of such permits to organizations, persons, firms, etc., who are not legal residents of the county, except in the case of the Frederick County Agricultural Society which may lease the bingo concession at the Frederick Fair to any person, firm, etc., regardless of residence.

Before such bingo games can be conducted, permits must be obtained from the Sheriff's office and a fee of 25 cents paid for each day the game is operated.

The law stipulates that no prize having a fair market value in excess of $10 may be offered to any person playing such a game and that no player can be offered a cash prize.

Five cents is set as the limit which may be charged any person for playing a game of bingo in the county.

Sheriff Anders said well over 100 bingo permits are issued each year. Since December of last year, between 40 and 50 permits have been issued and the summer season—the big one for the game—is just getting under way. The small amount of money received from the permits goes into the county's general fund.

The "game you love to play" is still okay.

COMMUNITY BIBLE SCHOOL TO BEGIN

There will be a worship service held in the Emmitsburg Reformed Church Sunday evening, June 17, at 7:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Community Vacation Bible School. The service will be in charge of the pastor, Rev. Edmund Welker, and Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, of Gettysburg, Pa. who will deliver an address. Installation of teachers and officers will also be held.

It is the desire of the committee that every officer and teacher be present and that the parents and the children who will attend the school and every interested citizen of the community attend this important service.

The Community Vacation Bible School will open for the fifth time for two weeks beginning Monday morning, June 18, at 9:15 o'clock in the Lutheran Parish House. An organization of 20 teachers and officers will conduct the school, which will include all children of the community from the ages of three to 16 years.

The school will be graded according to the public school grades and will be divided into six departments of nursery, beginners, primary, junior, intermediate, and senior. The cooperating pastors and churches are Rev. Philip Bower, Lutheran; Rev. Edmund Welker, Reformed; Rev. Charles Owen, Presbyterian, and Rev. Adam Grim, Methodist.

A special appeal is made to the parents to send their children to this school for the benefit of religious instruction and inspiration, which we all know we need so much today. A special invitation is given to the people living in the outlying areas as Greenmount, Fairplay, Tract Road, Annandale, Tom's Creek Church, former Ohler and Bollinger Schools, and Motters. The people of these areas are asked to work out the problem of transportation among themselves.

There are ample facilities to take care of 200 or more boys and girls in the school, and it is the hope of the school workers that the enrollment will be near that figure. The school opens daily at 9:15 a. m. and closes at 11:30 with devotions, two class and an assembly for chorus singing, etc. Jasper Wantz will be the pianist, with Robert Simpson and Sue Hays, song leaders. The last day of the school, June 29, there will be a public program given by the school in the Parish Hall. This falls on Sunday night, July, at 7:30 o'clock.

Local Young Couple Is Married In Pretty Church Wedding

A pretty wedding was solemnized Sunday, June 10, at 3 p. m. in the Methodist Church, Emmitsburg, when Lola Mae Liller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Liller of Graceham, and Franklin Wastler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wastler, E. Main St., were united in marriage by their pastor, Rev. Adam Grim. The double ring ceremony was performed.

The altar was beautifully decorated with white gladioli and ferns.

Preceding the ceremony Robert Baumgardner sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because," accompanied by Miss Virginia Baumgardner. During the ceremony Mr. Baumgardner sang "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Baumgardner played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a colonial gown of white organdy over satin. The gown was fashioned with a basque bodice and a full skirt ending in a circular train. The skirt was caught with rosebuds at the front which revealed dainty petticoat ruffles. With it she wore long mitts and an illusion veil of net held by a bandeau of natural daisies. The bride carried a white Bible topped with white rosebuds and a shower of white daisies. Her only jewelry was a triple strand of pearls. Both the Bible and pearls were gifts of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Emmitsburg High School, class of '51. The bridegroom attended Emmitsburg High School and is employed at Mac's Barber Shop, S. Seton Ave. The couple are at home in their newly furnished apartment, E. Main St.

Lions Club Now Sponsoring Four Major Local Projects

Members of the Emmitsburg Lions Club were addressed Monday evening at the regular meeting of the club by Mr. Merwyn C. Fuss, Taneytown Chamber of Commerce president. Mr. Fuss' appreciative audience was presided over by Vice President C. A. Elder, with about 25 members in attendance.

Plans for the annual horse show were discussed and committees will be appointed in the near future. Possible change of location or site for the affair was discussed. A committee to make preparations for the opening of the town playground was appointed with Lion Robert E. Daugherty acting as chairman. A new instructor will be hired this year, because of the resignation of Mrs. Henry Charlton. Plans call for the opening in about two weeks.

President B. J. Eckenrode was granted a member-at-large status due to activities that require his being out of town meeting nights. Lion George L. Wilhide was appointed a committee of one to provide a possible new location for the horse show. Lion Charles Spriggs reported on the recent district convention held in Washington, D. C.

Invitations to attend the next session as guests were extended to Henry H. Charlton, retiring Scoutmaster and Dr. John Spangler, who has taken over the duties. The local Boy Scouts are sponsored by the Lions.

Plans for the annual outdoor meeting of the club were reported as progressing nicely. This year the affair will be held at the Gettysburg Country Club next month.

A $10 donation to Boys Town, Neb., was passed. The organization decided again to purchase milk for an undernourished local girl during the summer months while she vacations from boarding school.

Colonel Thomas J. Frailey Is Elected EHS Alumni Association President

One of the largest gatherings of Emmitsburg High School Alumni ever recorded took place at the annual banquet and dance held last Saturday in the Lutheran Parish House. One hundred and thirty-four members were in attendance. The affair was presided over by Vice President Charlotte Eyster.

Honored classes were the 1901 and 1951. Toastmaster was Col. Thomas J. Frailey. Following the banquet, routine business was transacted and a moment of prayer was observed.

COUNTY TEACHERS GET $200 RAISE

The County Commissioners last Saturday granted all school teachers of Frederick County a $200 a year increase in salaries. The action followed a request for $300 a year, across-the-board.

The increases will become effective with the advent of a new scholastic year in September. The Commissioners first suggested that the matter of an increase be held in abeyance until January, when the new County budget is determined.

The teachers, however, pointed out that more pay in January will not help hold the present teachers or induce others to take jobs in Frederick County in September.

The increases raise the Frederick County scale $400 a year above the State minimum, which is $2200 to $3800. The current scale for Frederick County has been $2400 to $4000. The new scale will be $2600 to $4200.

By starting the increases in September, the County Commissioners placed Frederick County school officials in a better position to negotiate with prospective teachers. Many of the raises recently granted in other counties, such as Carroll, will not be effective until next January.

It was only after considerable consideration that the Commissioners granted the $200 raise, effective in September. It was pointed out that approximately $30,000 not in the current budget will have to be raised to meet the increases from September through December.

All of the Commissioners were in agreement that some increase was due the teachers. Their chief problem was in determining how much to boost salaries and when to make the increases effective.

Last week, the teachers indicated that they would be back in January to ask for the other $100 a year boost that they thought fair. However, they said that unless living costs spiral unusually high before then, they will try to make the $200 raise do.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob L. Topper, Emmitsburg, announced the engagement of their daughter, Anna Roselia, to Mr. Carroll J. Little.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, June 30 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

Mrs. Neighbours Is Heart Victim

Mrs. Helen Kathleen (Crawford) Neighbours, 50, wife of Herbert E. Neighbours, Emmitsburg, died last Friday morning at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa., where she had been admitted on Thursday evening in a critical condition. She had been in failing health for the last year.

The deceased was born at Thurmont and was a daughter of the late Lewis D. Crawford and Mrs. Edna M. (Sheffer) Crawford of Thurmont. She was a member of Elias Lutheran Church of Emmitsburg and had been active in church work as long as her health permitted. She had taught in the public schools of Frederick County and had taught kindergarten in Thurmont and Emmitsburg.

Surviving in addition to her husband and mother are these children: David L., Helen L., Ruth T. and Margaret E. Neighbours; a sister, Miss Ethel Crawford, Thurmont, and a grandchild, Julia Ann Neighbours.

Funeral services were conducted Monday morning at 10:30 a. m., with her pastor, Rev. Philip Bower, assisted by Rev. Charles H. Corbett, officiating.

pallbearers were Bernard J. Eckenrode, Frank Shuff, Harry McNair, Frank Weant, John Law, and Charles Hunter. Interment was in Blue Ridge Cemetery, Thurmont.

Miss Ann Eckenrode, Baltimore, spent the week-end with her father, Prof. Bernard J. Eckenrode and Mrs. Eckenrode.

LOCAL VETERAN APPOINTED POLICE CHIEF

Emmitsburg's new Chief of Police is Raymond M. Baker. The appointment was announced Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the Mayor and Commissioners of Emmitsburg. Selected from a list of nine candidates, Mr. Baker will take over duties next week, replacing Capt. H. C. Woodring, resigned. Capt. Woodring will remain on the staff until July 1 by mutual arrangement with the Town Council.

A delegation consisting of Mr. J. William Rowe and Charles R. Fuss, representing the Vigilant Hose Co., appeared before the Board and appealed for a financial grant to the extent of $1000. No action on the matter was immediately taken, but it is generally believed the grant will be forthcoming.

Chief Woodring reported parking meter revenue for May as $266.92.

The Board granted Town Clerk Louise Sebald a $5 monthly raise in salary.

Mayor Thornton Rodgers called for paying off the last two remaining outstanding bonds of the Town's indebtedness. The two bonds are the last in the series that paid for the town's present sewerage system and were issued some time ago. The bonds will be redeemed immediately. Emmitsburg is now free of debt for the first time since 1929.

A letter from an English veteran was read and filed. The war veteran sought passage to this country for a few months' vacation and agreed to work for the amount of expenses incurred.

Sanitation for Waynesboro road residents was discussed after a conversation with Sanitarian Kenneth Wagaman, but it was explained that the section was out of the corporation limits and that nothing could be done at this time. However, propertyholders on W. Main St. soon will have relief from their sewerage problem. The Council is taking action to have a large septic tank placed at the West end of town, similar to that used by N. Seton Ave. residents.

Complaints arising from the contaminated effluent from the town disposal plant which empties into Flat Run were aired and it is planned to purchase a chlorinator to remedy the condition.

The Town Fathers soon will begin work on revising the ordinance book, bringing it up to date and having books printed for general distribution to the public.

Chief Baker, a veteran of World War II, will begin work next week at a salary of $2800 per annum. In addition to this compensation, he will be allowed car mileage for out-of-town trips. Chief Baker is expected to be deputized by the county and will have his car state-tested and equipped with siren and flashing red light, thus authorizing him to make arrests outside of the corporation limits. At the present time, Mr. Baker is serving in the capacity of guard at Camp Detrick, Frederick.

Mr. Baker, also a Town Commissioner, is expected to resign from that position around July 1.

TROPHY ON DISPLAY

The Arthur H. Malloy Memorial Trophy for Basketball presented by A. D. Packer of New York City to be competed for annually at Mt. St. Mary's invitational tournament, permanent possession to be given to team winning three times, is on display at Crouse's.

The trophy was won this year by St. Joseph's High School basketball team. The competing teams in the tournament are St. Mary's, Hagerstown; St. John's, Frederick; St. John's, Westminster, and St. Joseph's, Emmitsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoffman left last week for Leesburg, Fla., to visit with Dr. and Mrs. Marion O'Kelly and family. Mrs. O'Kelly, their daughter, is to undergo a serious operation.

Miss Kitty Seiss and Paul Eckenrode will be married Saturday, June 23, at 9:30 a. m. at St. Anthony's Shrine Catholic Church.

MARYLAND HOME FRONT

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has taken still another step to help farmers develop more adequate on-the-farm storage facilities. The program of loans to producers for the purchase of new mobile mechanical equipment for drying farm commodities has been extended for another full year, according to Joseph H. Blandford, chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing Administration State Committee.

That program was to have expired at the end of June. But now farmers can take advantage of it for another full year. Under it, the Commodity Credit Corp. offers the loans, or guarantees loans made by approved lending agencies.

The program helps producers take part in price support operations. It enables them to get equipment to dry storable farm commodities, especially grains, so as to make the commodities safe for storage, and thus eligible for CCC loans.

The loans will be for a minimum of three years, with four per cent interest on the unpaid balance. And loans will cover up to 75 per cent of the delivered cost, to the producer, of a single new mobile drier.

Payments Announced
The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has announced a program of payments to encourage the exportation of dried apples. Payments of 10 per cent per pound or up to 50 per cent of the f.a.s. sales price—whichever is lower—will be made to exporters who participate in the program.

Mr. Blandford explains that this export program is intended to provide an outlet for surplus fresh apples which are suitable for drying, and which if not dried and exported would be lost as food. It will also make dried apples available to ECA countries, some of which under normal conditions imported this commodity from the U. S.

The program has been developed under authority of Sec. 32, Public Law 320, 74th Congress as amended, to use a part of the annual customs receipts to encourage the exportation of agricultural commodities through such payments. Application forms to participate will be made available to exporters in the near future and details of the program will be announced later.

Safety Experts Cite Hazards of Speed

When we think of "speed" we should not fix a definite limit in our mind—such as 80, 60 or 50—or even 40 miles an hour. We should think of "speed" as an unknown quantity. We must talk in terms of Safe Speed . . . and we must transmit this concept of Safe Speed to the minds of every driver on every street and highway.

Every motorist must come to realize that the Safe Speed at which he may drive must be determined with each individual mile driven.

Safe Speed depends upon weather conditions, the mechanical condition of your car and even on your own physical condition. Anything less than perfection in any of these factors means it's Time To Slow Down . . . right now! Anything less than perfection in any factor can easily mean that Safe Speed may be a speed far under any limits posted along the roadway.

When the limits of Safe Speed are passed, death moves nearer with every upward quiver of your speedometer needle, the control you have over your car is less than safety demands; swerving to avoid an accident becomes doubly dangerous; a longer distance is required to stop—a margin that can well mean the difference between life and death; in the case of an accident, your chances of dying skyrocket. (In a curing at 20 miles an hour.) are eight times more likely to die of your injuries than if you were injured in an accident occurring at 20 miles an hour.)

The Maryland State Police for the past seven months have been using an additional weapon to reduce the speed of motor vehicles. This new device is a speed measuring instrument known as the Electro-matic Speed Meter.

This device sends out micro-waves from one antenna on a known frequency which bounce back from any moving object at a different frequency, depending on the speed of the object. The wave which comes back is received by a machine on a second antenna and the difference in frequency is measured and indicated on the meter calibrated in miles per hour. The speed is also recorded by pen and ink on a recording graph.

Hope "Cappy" Told Him Where To Get Off!

"Cappy" Fisher—who just retired after thirty-five years as a railroad conductor—was telling about a salesman who was often one of his passengers.

"That man was so busy," says Cappy, "he used to bring a dictaphone on the train to catch up on his letters. On one trip he'd been rushing around so much he clean forgot to bring his ticket. Left it on his desk."

When Cappy started to tell him not to worry about the ticket, the salesman busts out with "Who's worried about the ticket? It's just that now I don't know what city I was going to get off at!"

Cappy might have been pulling our leg, but from where I sit, lots of us get so wrapped up in ourselves we often forget "where we're going." Some folks get so narrow they even begrudge their neighbors the right to enjoy a glass of beer now and then. Let's not forget that just as trains run on steam and oil, democracies run on freedom and tolerance!

The Wonderful Elixir
To the Oklahoma community where I lived as a boy there came one Saturday afternoon a traveling medicine show. It was a wondrous thing. Roustabouts spread sawdust on a vacant lot fronting on the town square and erected a bouncy platform-stage with canvas top and red fringe all around. Then they got out and scattered handbills through the streets and among the wagons and buggies and model-T's that had brought farm families on their weekly trip to town. At nightfall the show went on. The crowd out front, standing on the sawdust, was enormous.

There were six vaudeville acts staged by a company of three people, including a tableau from the life of Sitting Bull, juggling and trio singing. Then came the pitchman, or spieler. He had a tall brown bottle in his hand, a fine voice and a sparkle of friendliness in his eye. He wore a frock coat. At the left of the stage were stacked at least 200 packages of the "Wonderful Elixir." The spieler made his pitch: Here, he said, was the great panacea, an old Indian herb prescription handed down through generations. And it would positively cure anything, eliminate all pain! He related a half-dozen case histories of the astonishing work of the "Elixir." They sounded amazing—but somehow believable.

The "Let-Downs"
Most of the packaged "Elixir" on the stage was sold—at the stiff price of 90 cents a bottle—before the crowd dwindled down. During the following week everybody in town with real or fancied ills gulped down portions from their tall brown bottles—and seemed to feel much better almost immediately. But before the talk ended there began to be talk of "let-downs." (The word "hangover" wasn't in use.)

It then became known that the "Elixir" contained 85 per cent alcohol, a dash of water, and some powdered green herb bitters to give it the medicinal flavor. It didn't cure anything. It merely intoxicated—worked, as a narcotic, to deaden the sensory nerves and cut off momentarily any existing pain or discomfort. The after-effect was, to say the least, unpleasant. Our town recovered from the medicine show's visit, by awakening to the true nature of the spieler's magic "Elixir." As a cure-all, it wouldn't work; as a pain-killer, it merely postponed the suffering.

A Moral
The medicine show story has a moral: There isn't a quick, magical panacea for the ills and pains of the world—or for the troubles and problems of a people. Pain must be traced to its source and adjustment or correction made. Treating pain to kill it, only prolongs the ailment. And trying to solve the problems of nations and peoples with magical schemes and panaceas only intensifies the fundamental trouble.

Since the beginning of history a primary human problem has been the quest for economic security, a sufficiency of the material necessities of life. Though the world has seen 19 civilizations come and go, no one has evolved a plan that will give everybody all their economic wants. The American economic system appears to be questionably the best pattern. Because of the freedom it gives, and the unparallel production it stimulates, our poorest citizens have provided themselves with a living standard better than the average anywhere else in the world.

Something For Nothing?
The American system offers all citizens the wide-open opportunity for a large measure of economic security. But its

Report From Washington

By Sen. Herbert R. O'Connor

Efforts which certain Senators interested in government economy have been making, to reduce the constantly rising Federal payroll, are brought into sharp relief by testimony of Comptroller General Warren that the government is "greatly overstaffed."

The forthright statement to this effect by the head of the general accounting office, upon which the Congress depends for fiscal supervision of the various government agencies, is particularly pertinent right now while the Senate is considering appropriations for the Dept. of Labor and the Federal Security Agency for 1952.

While critical of the President's budget proposals on several accounts, I had publicly declared early in the session that recommended increases in personnel for many departments at this time were indefensible. It was my conviction that great savings could be made in this respect that underlay the recommendations I made for a cut of $5,288,000,000 in the President's budget.

Frequent charges that many of the government's departments and agencies had too many employees for the work at hand were supported by Mr. Warren's testimony that one agency had told him that "he knew he had too many people in his agency and would like to reduce them" but he feared the pressure and criticisms that would ensue.

Two amendments to the Labor-FSA bill approved by the Senate already have cut $350,000 from personnel funds. I was very glad to vote for these amendments and will continue to assist every move made to bring the government's personnel into line with the requirements of businesslike handling of government business.

Supporting the comptroller general's testimony are figures to the effect that more than 90,000 members of the armed forces, enough to man three or four divisions, are doing every kind of office and other detail except along fighting lines.

A Senate subcommittee report shows that enough military manpower is tied up in the performance of duties which could be performed by women or less able-bodied men, to take care of the United States commitment for service in Europe.

The facts revealed by Senate studies in the field of military manpower make clear that a great number of men of limited physical qualifications, who are anxious to make their contribution to the country's defense, promise is based on the principle of self-reliance and the natural law of recompense.

Both the principle and the law are denied in some provisions of the Federal "Social Security" program. The Foundation for Social Research reports, for instance, that under certain age and employment circumstances people are being offered pensions worth $16,000 by paying only $121.50 into the Federal treasury. Millions are eligible, the Foundation reports, may make themselves eligible to receive a $50 a month pension for life, beginning July 1, 1952, at a total cost to the

Navy Seeks Stenographers

The continuing state of national emergency has resulted in a great need for stenographers and typists in the Department of the Navy, Washington D. C., and in Arlington Va.

Salaries for these positions range from $2,450 to $2,875 a year. Annual leave earned—26 days a year; sick leave earned—15 days a year. Excellent in-service training is available; higher grade positions are generally filled from within the department.

A civilian Navy representative will be glad to discuss opportunities further with interested applicants between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m., Mondays through Saturdays or other times by appointment.

The address is Main Navy Bldg., 18th and Constitution Ave., Washington, 25 D. C.

could be used, to release the physically qualified men for active service in the field. Many civilians, also, the disclosures show, could perform the duties of administration, etc., in which able-bodied members of the armed forces are now engaged.

With manpower both for the armed services and for industry at a premium now, every effort must be made to insure against waste. I am convinced that, by and large, members of Congress will vote to eliminate such misuse of available personnel.

Writes . . .

By ROGER BABSON

NEW YORK CITY, June 16 —What is the outlook for prices of foods, clothing and rent for the balance of this year? The scare buying is over. Installment sales are on the decline. Does this mean that the prices of all the things you buy will tumble?

Government Price Fixing
The Federal attempts to lower prices is largely a political gesture. Very few high-quality goods will sell for less for some time. The only way prices will now be lowered is by reducing quality or forcing unemployment. As long as full employment exists, prices will continue to depend — not on Washington rulings — but on supply and demand. If American families go back to having a good beef roast only on Sundays, then the price of beef will decline. If, on the other hand, they decide to have a roast twice a week, then the price will remain high.

Here in New York City is the great central market for men's and women's clothing. Upon inquiries today I learn that the prices which you see in windows and advertisements may be kept down, but the quality will not be good. If you want good-quality suits or dresses you must pay more. This does not mean that the manufacturer of the brand you have always bought has marked up his goods, but that his old best-quality goods are no longer available. Hence, to get good quality you must buy a brand which has always cost more. This applies to almost everything—clothing, furniture, and canned goods.

What About Wages?
The "take home" wages are determined by supply and demand. Labor unions can make manufacturers pay more wages, but they cannot make the public buy more merchandise. The bureaucrats at Washington can set a "fair" hourly wage, but they cannot assure work to the union members. The "take home" pay is the product of the hourly wage multiplied by the number of hours worked. I believe this will hold up for some time; but it must decline before prices of food, clothing, and shelter will tumble.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Shields are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter last week at the Warner Hospital. This is the couple's second child. Mrs. Shields is the former Miss Helen Gelwicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Alan Gelwicks.

Miss Anna Rowe, Richmond, Va., is visiting with her sisters, Misses Carrie and Elizabeth Rowe. Staff Sergeant Aumen Myers, U. S. Army, stationed in Colorado is spending a 20-day furlough with his father, Charles E. Myers, and with his sisters and brother.

Yet, we must remember that only 25% of our workers are now unionized. The great mass are still free to work where they wish, as they wish and for what they wish. These are the true Americans, in my humble judgment. These will supply the foremen, managers and future employers of our great growing country. If, however, you want to be a free man and climb to the top of some business, don't be tied to union rules.

Dollars Are Worth Less
Another reason why the government cannot now reduce prices is because the dollar will be worth less next year. Just now President Truman is balancing the nation's budget; but he can't do this next year. He must print money or bonds to help pay for the military expenditures. Paper dollars are little different from paper dolls or any other commodity. As the supply increases above normal, the price goes down. Government bonds have already dropped in price; dollar bills will tumble again soon.

Many readers of my column send me charts and figures showing how prices have temporarily been controlled in the past, but they forget we are now living in an entirely new economic age. During his administration, President Roosevelt destroyed the gold basis for our dollar bills. This gold basis prevented prices from going too high. Now the only thing that can prevent prices, wages, real estate, etc., from staying up is either "a reduction in the supply of printing press money," or a business bust. Surely the price of gold will again be marked up. Shall You Buy Now?

Don't buy now for hoarding. Prices will not skyrocket. There will continue to be enough necessary goods. On the other hand, don't wait for lower prices on goods you really need. Buy naturally; save naturally; and live naturally. Be neither a hoarder nor a speculator; be neither a scrimpier nor a waster; be a God-fearing, sensible citizen and insist upon quality even if you must buy less.

"Emmitsburg"

In the little town of Emmitsburg, Where peace and love abide, You will find within a rare welcome

As down the street you stride With mountains for a background, and rolling fields below, You'll find a thriving country town that's set And rearin' for to go. The Mayor in his capacity Upholds traditions of democracy

Marylanders like to talk!

This Company is now handling a record volume of 2,375,000 calls a day! What's more, these calls on 611,000 telephones are going through faster than at any time since prewar days. Yet expansion and improvement of telephone service throughout Maryland goes on.

The fleet's in!

In the last five years, telephone trucks and crews have been a familiar sight on the highways and byroads of rural Maryland. It is all part of the Telephone Company's program to bring more and more service to rural communities. More than 23,300 miles of open-wire circuits have been added. Since 1945, the gain in rural telephones in Maryland has been no less than 68%.

"Finished" in more ways than one

As you finish a call, please be sure you replace your telephone receiver carefully. A receiver off its cradle or hook "finishes" all service. Your telephone and all other telephones on your party line are "busy" to anyone who calls until you hang up.

To Our Friends and To Those Whom We May Not Call Friend: During our two years in Emmitsburg we have learned much. We have, in many cases, met people who, if they will permit, we would like to number among our very personal friends. There are those who have not seen fit to honor us with their friendship and to those fine people we wish to say if at any time we have offended you or trampled upon your toes we are truly sorry. To the young people of Emmitsburg we wish to extend our best wishes for a happy future. We wish to leave this one thought in your mind, "Don't talk about it, do it."

we wish to extend our hearty congratulations for a job well done. That job of course is the true American spirit and the creating of the fairly exemplary Christian attitude which is so prevalent in Emmitsburg. There is but one step which you must take to create the more perfect environment which your children need to become the future Mr. and Mrs. America. This missing link is cooperation; cooperation between religious factions, between political parties, between families, cooperation between man and man.

Again we say "good luck and good sailing to the good ship Emmitsburg."

MR. & MRS. H. CHARLTON.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Marjorie Crist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Frailey, celebrated her birthday at her home, "Balmara," entertaining a group of her friends on Monday evening. The guests included the Misses Virginia Baumgardner, Helen Bushman, Betty Ann Glass, Carrie Hahn, Norma Hartle, Sue Hays, Shirley Jones, Lois Keilholtz, Mary Ridenour, Shirley Troxell and Miss Virginia Wantz. Also Fred Bower, Carl Crist, Donald Herring, Euclid Jones and Frank Stinson.

Mrs. George W. Green, Jr., assisted the hostess and her mother in serving.

MARYLAND FEED & GRAIN MARKETS

The Baltimore wheat market weakened slightly last week. No. 2 red winter garlicky wheat declined about two cents per bushel. No. 2 yellow shelled corn gained about a cent a bushel. No. 2 old crop barley made a sharp decline of about five cents per bushel, reflecting the shift to a new crop basis. Western white oats declined about two cents. No. 2 yellow soybeans lost about a cent, but the No. 2 blacks remained unchanged.

National Grain Market

Grain markets weakened slightly at the close of last week, following moderate gains during the previous week, reports to the Dept. of Agriculture indicated. Improved crop prospects as a result of beneficial rains both in the winter and spring wheat areas, continued plentiful offerings in the cash markets, and favorable news from the Korean war situation were the principal weakening influences. Trade expectations of an increased demand for wheat for shipment to India, when relief legislation is finally approved, brought about a firmer market for that grain toward the close of last week. As a result, wheat prices at the close of the period showed a little change from the previous week. Rye has recovered from the previous week's loss by a gain of eight cents per bushel. Corn dropped two to three cents at leading markets and oats declined two to four cents per bushel. Little change was reported in prices for barley and grain sorghums. Soybeans held firmer following the declines of the previous two weeks.

FEED MARKET

Summary for Maryland

The Baltimore feed market showed weakness further during the week ending June 8. Weakness was predominant in linseed oil meal which declined sharply over 4%—$3.75 per ton less than last week. A decrease of about 3% in 50% meat scrap brought that price down $3.35 per ton. Brewers' dried grains and 17% dehydrated alfalfa meal were down over 2%.

During the week ended June 7, DelMarVa producers received an average of 26.6 cents per pound for broilers and had to pay $103 per ton for feed. Based on this average retail cash price for 20% broiler mash on Lower Eastern Shore, one pound live weight of broilers would buy 5.1 pounds of feed.

National Summary

Feedstuff markets continued on a downward trend during the week ended June 5 reflecting ample market supplies and a seasonally slow demand, according to reports to the Dept. of Agriculture. Lower prices for grain and oilseeds were also a weakening influence. The index of wholesale feedstuff prices dropped 2 points and was 228.5 compared with 226.6 a year ago. The feed grain index declined 3 points to 241.5 against 212.6 a year ago. The more important price declines occurred in cottonseed meal which averaged about $1 per ton lower than a week earlier, alfalfa meal, which was down $1.45, distillers' dried grains which averaged $1.20 lower, hominy feed which dropped about $2 and tankage which sold about $3.50 lower on an average than a week ago. In feed grains, oats made the sharpest decline and went down $2.50 per ton from the previous week.

Market supplies of most feeds were plentiful with production continuing to run ahead of last season. The output of the principal feedstuffs October through April this season totaled approximately 9,924,000 tons which was 675,000 tons greater than the output for the corresponding months last season. The April production dropped about 200,000 tons below the March output but totaled 1,212,000 tons of which about 538,000 tons were mill products and around 674,000 were oilseed meals.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Rosensteel of East Main St., were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown, Lantz, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hewitt, Frederick; Miss Lula Bushman, Mrs. Mary Claudia Rosensteel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Wormley, Ernie Rosensteel, all of Emmitsburg and Miss Barbara Klepinger of Fairfield, Pa.

The Entre Nous Sewing Club met Monday evening at the home of Miss Grace Rowe.

How are you fixed for casting spoons and plugs? Before long, if you live in the North or West, you'll be out swinging for bass, northern pike, pickerel, and walleyes... and if you live in the South you just haven't stopped swingin'! So it's a good time to check over your tackle box and see if you are in shape for the summer.

During Old Hi's rambles around the country he's had a lot of fun and success in tossing out red-and-white striped wiggler spoons for those fast-moving bass and largemouth black bass. And pike and pickerel haven't been backward in nabbing these spoons either! Then there is the wiggler spoon joined with a June Bug spinner that is a humdinger for taking these same game fish.

When the bass, pike and walleyes are gadding about the bottom for minnows, heave out a jointed plug in scale finish design or with red head and white body. Fellers, there's something about the wiggle and action of a deep running plug of this kind that sets the fish crazy. And just as an added fact—did you know that even lake trout go for these plugs? Yes, sir, you can bet they do!

As the evening shadows lengthen and the bass come to the surface for bugs, Dragon flies and other insects, or to nab young frogs then you want to cast a short, stubby plug that ducks, pops and struggles along the top. Southern anglers hang up some of their largest bass by means of the popping plugs, and fishermen in the North are finding them to be excellent at many lakes and rivers.

Maybe you haven't tried the mouse-like plug for bass or northern pike, but brother you should give it a whirl at your favorite fishin' hole! Sometimes it's surprising what interest this lure stirs up among these game fish. Perhaps because it offers a different kind of food in many cases. The main thing—besides their enemies—is grub, and they like a change as well as we do. That's one good reason why it pays to put a few different kinds of casting lures into the trays of your tackle kit.

This holds true for salt water fishing as well as for fresh water. You'll find some mighty helpful suggestions along this line by reading Old Hi's booklets "Salt Water Sports Fishing," and "Fishing For The Millions." Just drop a penny post card to me, Old Hi, in care of this newspaper, and you'll get free copies of these illustrated books. Please be sure to write your name and address plainly, so there'll be no difficulty in sending the books to you.

Know Your Social Security

By ED. R. YOUNG

Under the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act, employees of nonprofit organizations may have Federal insurance under certain conditions.

One condition is that the organization for which they work agree to assume the employer's share of the social security tax on its employees' wages. It does this by filing a certificate of waiver from tax exemption with the Bureau of Internal Revenue. A second condition is that at least two-thirds of the employees of the organization eligible for coverage indicate in writing their desire to participate in social security. If these two conditions are met, those workers who signed would come under social security, but not the employees who did not sign. However, any employees hired by the organization after the calendar quarter in which the certificate is filed would have this protection.

Even if a nonprofit organization meets these conditions, certain kinds of work are excluded from social security, for instance, work done by members of the clergy in the exercise of their ministry, or by members of religious orders in the exercise of the duties required by such orders.

The agreements are not necessary for certain other nonprofit organizations whose employees are covered by the social security law if they earn $50 or more in a calendar quarter. Among these are many agricultural and labor groups and voluntary employees beneficiary organizations, both private and Federal. Building and loan associations, mutual savings and cooperative banks are included, also fraternal beneficiary societies, business and civic leagues, chambers of commerce, real estate boards, and boards of trade, social clubs, civic and recreational associations.

Work done for a university or college by enrolled students regularly attending classes is not covered by the law, nor is work done in a hospital by an intern who has completed a four-year course in a medical school. When work is performed in a hospital or nurses training school by a student nurse regularly attending classes, the work does not count toward old-age and survivors' insurance. Domestic service performed for a college club, fraternity, or sorority by an enrolled student who is regularly attending classes is also excepted.

Big Stars In Sunday Sweepstake At Williams Grove Park

Mike Nazaruk, East Meadow, L. I., sensational rookie driver from the east who finished second in the Indianapolis Classic on Memorial Day, has turned in his entry for the "Lee Wallard Sweepstakes" to be run Sunday, June 17, to honor the 1951 winner of the "500" on the Williams Grove Speedway.

Roy Richwine, owner of the half-mile oval, has renamed the 30-lap feature big car auto race in honor of Wallard, who it had been expected would be making his appearance since his well-deserved victory in the Classic. Wallard was severely burned recently after winning the "500" in a race at the Reading Fairgrounds and is confined to the Reading Hospital.

Nazaruk, no stranger to fans at Williams Grove, proved a sensation in his first trip to Indianapolis by finishing in the runner-up position. He will return to drive the Mike Caruso stretched-midget in which he has one feature race to his credit at Williams Grove.

Qualifying for the "500" at a speed of 132.183 miles per hour, Nazaruk piloted the Jim Robbins special to second place.

The Long Island leadfoot was Wallard's closest pursuer in the Classic from 300 miles on, but he lost two laps when he stopped for fuel and tires on his 145th trip around the oval, and with Wallard driving smoothly, Nazaruk never had too much of a chance to catch the new champion after that.

Nazaruk averaged 125.302 miles per hour for the 500-mile grind, close to Wallard's average of 126.244. Both speeds far overshadowed the former 500-mile record of 121.327 miles per hour set in 1949 by Bill Holland.

Summer Driving

Year after year, motor vehicle accidents head the list of causes of accidental deaths in this country. It is estimated that approximately 35,000 people were killed in automobile accidents in 1950.

Vacation days are ahead, and the number of cars on the road will increase from now until fall. While car owners no longer have ice and sleet to contend with, there are seasonal difficulties like rain and fog to create hazards of skidding and poor visibility. Another less obvious hazard, perhaps, is the "summer driver" who has still to learn that safety first is a necessary rule for driving a car.

Anyone who drives should keep his car in top-notch condition by having it checked regularly by a good mechanic, and making any needed repairs or adjustments immediately. Many fatal auto accidents are traced to worn-out brakes, inadequate lights, threadbare tires, or faulty steering mechanisms. An extra check-up at this time is in order if a driver plans long summer trips or week-end use of his car for drives in the country, picnics, or trips to the beach.

The signs and symbols on highways are for the safety as well as the guidance of motorists. Heeding them may well mean the difference between life and death. Any motorist who isn't certain of the meaning of all highway symbols should ask a police officer. He should also make sure what all hand signals for turning and stopping mean, using the signals correctly himself and observing them when used by other motorists.

The wise motorist always avoids speeding. Excessive speed is responsible for one out of every three fatal motor accidents. While speeding in traffic, racing trains to crossings, or beating the traffic light may save a few seconds of time, they also frequently result in loss of life.

Vacation time means that more children are playing in the streets and drivers must use extra caution in going through residential areas. It is also a good idea to drive slowly through streets where cars are parked since children—and adults—may dart out between parked automobiles without looking.

In short, the motorist who makes common sense and courtesy on the road part of his driving habits has cut the possibility of danger to himself and his passengers to a minimum.

St. Mary's College, presided at the ceremonies, assisted by the pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Rev. Francis J. Stauble.

The address to the graduates was delivered by the Rev. Cyril J. Allwein of Waynesboro, Pa.

Glee Club selections, under the direction of Rev. David W. Shaum, were pleasantly received by the audience.
