

Most Anything At A Glance

—BY ABIGAIL

Once again I opened my big trap and once again the unexpected happened. About two weeks ago I wrote a little something on the floods and tornadoes occurring in the Middle-west and that it was a long time, perhaps 25 years ago, that we had one near Harmony Grove. Well, I needn't elaborate further because you know all about last Saturday. We all were very fortunate to escape with our lives. It's getting so that I'm just afraid to write this column for fear that some catastrophe might strike us all down. Just let me mention Route 15 and a wreck occurs; mention the weather and we have a blizzard or tornado; mention anything and I catch h..... No, it isn't that bad, but there does seem some sort of fatalistic fate that seems to cling about me and my writing. Perhaps you better hadn't finish the column as something may happen to you.

Anyway, getting back to the story after my little digression, many Emmitsburgians had narrowing experiences during the storm and were really fortunate to come out alive. Several were in cars driving along and ran smack into the twister. Trees fell all over the roads and some were blocked for as long as two days. Several barn roofs and older properties of all types were among those heavily damaged. However, it's an ill wind that blows no good and lumber and roofing men were in for a boom this week as desperate property owners sought out repairs to their ownings. Hay could be had for any price you wanted to bargain for. Many farmers sold it after their roof departed and the rain threatened to destroy the crop. One thing is certain, this old gal wouldn't have to jockey this typewriter if she had been smart and had a few rolls of tin on hand, which she didn't and no one else did as the article is a bit tighter than some of our neighbors' pocketbooks. You could get almost any price for tin roofing then, and now. Seems as though we were all caught in that well-known position.

From all indications "Harry's Hole" as the "Second Pentagon" is familiarly dubbed, is going to get into operation again. It is understood that contracts are to be let out shortly and the multi-million dollar hole is to be carried on to completion. This project could mean a lot to Emmitsburg if carried through, but with this on again off again method of the government, you and I might never live to see its completion. Anyway, if our money is going to be "blown in" by the government, it might as well blow here.

Fella gals, now is about the time for the annual town election to roll around. Are you registered? If not I exhort you to do so. Now for my annual bit of advice about the election. First of all you have to register. This is a town election, not county or state. If you have registered for the county, state, presidential or other elections, you still have to register on the books of the Emmitsburg Corporation before you are eligible to cast a ballot in this particular election. If you have already registered and voted in this Emmitsburg election, all is well and good. But, if you never have registered here you must do so on April 22, and remember, there is only one day of registration. Each year some confusion reigns about this little matter of registration. Just remember this, this is Emmitsburg's election, nothing else, if you have registered previously you don't have to worry, you're eligible until some year a re-registration is called and then you'll be amply informed. This year the mayor and one commissioner are to be elected. Take an active part in your town government. Elect the officials you want and you won't have to take what somebody else wants. I'm not going to tell you how to vote (you can't tell a woman anything, anyway), but do vote.

The annual nomination of officers of the Vigilant Hose Co. took place at the regular meeting of that organization Tuesday night in the Fire Hall, President Herbert W. Roger presiding.

The incumbent officers all were placed again in nomination for the election to be held at the next meeting. It is understood that the nominations are still open until the next meeting.

Candidates for office are: President, Herbert W. Roger; secretary, J. William Rowe; treasurer, Guy E. Baker Jr.; chief, John J. Hollinger; first assistant chief, Oldrich Tokar; second assistant chief, Guy R. McGlaughlin.

Ten names were placed in nomination for the board of directors. They are Roscoe Shindledecker, Jack Humerick, J. Ward Kerrigan, Guy R. McGlaughlin, Aaron Adams, C. A. Elder, Guy A. Baker Sr., George F. Rosensteel, and J. William Rowe.

The group voted in favor of an amendment which raises from five to seven the number of directors. Kermit L. Lowe was voted into the membership, and two applications for admittance were received from Milton Albert Weaver and John M. Roddy Jr.

Samuel C. Hays appeared before the company in behalf of the Emmitsburg Water Co. and explained conditions existing concerning the installation of two additional fire hydrants in the town.

Assistant Chief Oldrich Tokar reported that five fire calls were answered in March. Three of these were chimney fires, one an oil burner and one a light pole. No damage was estimated.

Chairman of the annual financial drive, Guy R. McGlaughlin, gave a report on the progress of the drive to date. He announced that contributions received totaled $1297. Treasurer Guy Baker reported a bank balance of $1956.18 and that the annual dues were now payable. The company ordered shoulder emblems for those of its members who have completed the 21 weeks fire school training course.

It was agreed to participate in the July 4 parade of the Gettysburg Fire Co. A delegation will attend the next quarterly meeting of the Frederick County Volunteer Firemen's Assn. at New Midway on April 17 at 7:30 o'clock.

Two Cars Are Damaged In Wreck

Two cars were damaged but no one was injured when the vehicles collided at the north end of Emmitsburg about 4:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

State Trooper H. J. Brown said Donald W. Little of Gettysburg, was backing his sedan onto Route 15 when it collided with a coupe operated by Frank James Clear, Martinsville, Va. He said damage to both cars would amount to about $200.

Little was charged with failing to give the right of way and Clear was charged with operating without a license.

FINED $55.50

Robert L. Brown, 21, of Blue Ridge Summit, arrested by state police of the Gettysburg station for failing to reveal his identity, driving a car not registered and driving without an operator's license, paid a total of $55.50 in fines and costs to Justice of the Peace Roger Myers, Fairfield, the police reported Monday.

Brown is alleged to have run off the road and damaged a fence on the property of Earl Stine, Fairfield R. D. 1, on March 11. Damage to the fence was estimated at $20.

Alumni Assn. Completes Planting Of Memorial Trees

Two memorial trees were planted on Wednesday afternoon under the auspices of the Emmitsburg High School Alumni Assn. on the lawn in front of the school in honor of the memory of and in grateful recognition of meritorious service rendered by Clifford Waybright and John Calvin Franklin, deceased past presidents of the alumni association.

The trees planted were malus hoppa, blooming or flowering crab.

The ceremonies were in charge of Col. Thomas J. Frailey, president of the EHS Alumni Assn., and members of the faculty and the entire student body of the local high and public school participated.

The trees were formally accepted by Prof. Arvin P. Jones, principal of the school. Mrs. Andrew R. Eyster, sister of Clifford Waybright Shriver, and Miss Margaret V. Franklin, sister of John Calvin Franklin, were members in charge and assisted in the ceremonies.

The program was as follows: invocation, Rev. Philip Bower; pledge to flag, led by Boy Scouts; "For the Beauty of the Earth," Music Class; "Salute to Trees," Harriet Fite; choral reading, "Shade," fifth and sixth grades; "American," by Music Class; presentation speech, Col. Thomas J. Frailey; planting of trees; "America, the Beautiful," led by Miss Stull and sung by the group, and benediction by Rev. Bower.

Navy Promotes Local Youth

An Emmitsburg youth who enlisted in the Navy January 22 was advanced from seaman recruit to petty officer second class last Saturday at exercises held at the naval center at Bainbridge, Md.

George McDonnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ralph McDonnell of W. Main St., was one of eight selected from a class of 82 to receive the promotion in rank. Petty Officer McDonnell is expected to return home Tuesday for a 14-day furlough. Mr. and Mrs. McDonnell attended the graduation exercises of their son.

Protests Antics Of Teen-Agers

What can we do to eliminate this form of devilry in our town?

Those teen-agers who roam the streets and alleys, jeering ones who mind their own affairs. I lived in a very large city before returning to Emmitsburg and found everyone where I had been, to go on their way peacefully. We can have the same here if we citizens get together and do something about it.

The phrase constantly used by what one may term, this branded "trash," who are nothing themselves, refer to the passersby as U-R-CRA-ZEE. They, themselves, will not show their colors when it comes to a showdown. Their color is a yellow streak down their backs. Now you brats, the question is, U-R-CRA-ZEE?

Local Sprinter Sets New Records

Johnny Beegle, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Beegle, Emmitsburg, broke the mile record for the Gettysburg High School cinder path team Tuesday in a track meet between Gettysburg High School and Chambersburg High School.

Young Beegle, a junior and winner of the 880 and mile runs, established a new school record in the mile with his time of 4:49.3. The old mark was set by Clyde Spangler in 1933 at 4:51.5. Beegle also set another meet record in the 880 with a 2:11.8 clocking to top the 2:13.1 set by Myers in 1950.

There were 162,800 more persons injured in U. S. motor vehicle accidents last year than in 1950.

Tunnel Work Will Resume; Now Letting Out Bids

While the $8,000,000 tunnel in Raven Rock Mountain near here, stands temporarily abandoned, army engineers are seeking bids for completion of the work which is expected to cost at least another $8,000,000.

It is expected that bids will be opened May 1 and a contract awarded some time later for construction of buildings within the tunnel.

Bids are competitive and invitation for the bids, was extended last week.

Basic plans are little changed from the originals of last October, except for deletion of small items—such as certain excavation—which has been accomplished in the meantime.

Bids submitted for negotiation last October ranged from $6,578,425 to $11,500,000. The John McShain firm was the lowest bidder but when a $10,000,000 companion housing project at Fort Ritchie was drastically curtailed, McShain elected to drop the tunnel project.

Contractor Not Bound

The comptroller general in Washington ruled last month that McShain was not bound to take the job at his low bid.

However, according to the current edition of Engineering News-Record, the comptroller general's opinion does not prevent the army engineers from carrying the case to the courts if they so wish.

It had been earlier conjectured that the army engineers may sue McShain. In fact, according to military officials connected with the "second Pentagon" project, some legal papers already have been drawn up.

The Government has pointed out that the job has been seriously delayed by McShain's refusal to proceed without negotiation.

The removal of about 1,000,000 cubic yards of rock was completed two months ago by the S. A. Healy company after 12 months of around-the-clock work by 600 men.

Mountaineers Drop Opening Game

A seven-run rally in the ninth inning gave the Western Maryland College baseball team a 12-11 victory over Mt. St. Mary's College at Emmitsburg Tuesday afternoon.

The Mountaineers apparently had the game cinched after piling up an 12-2 lead after five innings. The Terrors scored three times in the eighth and then won out with their big last frame rally.

In the ninth, Western Maryland made its runs via four hits, two walks, an error, a fielder's choice and a sacrifice bunt by Urion which scored Jordan with the deciding run.

Miss Pollyann Knox of Frederick, is spending a short leave with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knox.

Mr and Mrs. Earl Siggins, Pittsburgh, Pa., are visiting Mrs. G. R. Elder.

Council Studies Removal Of Blinker

The Town Council is toying with the idea of removing the Blinker on the Square after hearing a recommendation from Chief Robert Koontz that it be removed. The Council, meeting in regular session on Monday night in the Fire Hall with Chairman of the Board Colonel Thomas J. Frailey presiding, heard Chief Koontz's plea that the Blinker has long outlived its usefulness as a traffic regulator and is instead today, a traffic impediment. Four stoplights was the remedy for the situation, the Chief explained. The Council is taking the matter under advisement.

Clerk Sebold's tax collector, treasury and general reports were approved as presented. The treasurer reported a bank balance of $15,162 and parking meter revenue for March amounted to $305.95. The meters produced a record revenue net the last week of March when over $100 was deposited in the tillbox.

Samuel C. Hays appeared before the Council in behalf of the Emmitsburg Water Co. and discussed the addition of two additional fire hydrants to the present system.

Adopt Daylight Time

The Mayor and Commissioners passed a permanent resolution that calls for the annual introduction of Daylight Saving Time the last Sunday in April, until such time as the resolution becomes outmoded, if ever.

The Council dipped heavily into the treasury Monday when a record number of requests for assistance financially were received. It voted to appropriate $1000 to the Vigilant Hose Co., $100 to the Emmitsburg Library, and $100 to the Emmitsburg Baseball Assn. A recent donation of $25 was made to the Emmitsburg Municipal Band and the Council agreed to take over the sponsorship of that organization.

Mayor Thornton W. Rodgers announced April 22 as registration day for the town election and appointed Magistrate Charles D. Gillelan as registrar. Magistrate Gillelan and Everett Christner were appointed judges of the election to be held in the Fire Hall on May 5.

Confirmation of an insurance agreement was announced at the meeting and the Corporation is now insured from general liability to the extent of $50,000 and $100,000. George L. Wilhide is the agent.

An ordinance governing the location of house trailers within the corporate limits was adopted by Council and takes effect immediately.

The Council calls to public attention that all candidates wishing to file for office in the coming election must do so 10 days prior to the election on Monday, May 5. Chief of Police Koontz asked Council for permission to move police headquarters to the VFW Home on the Square, which he said had been offered rent-free to the police department. The change of location will take place in the near future Council announced after agreeing to the relocation.

Charles E. Wilson Will Be Speaker At Commencement

The Right Reverend John L. Sheridan, L.L.D., president of Mt. St. Mary's College, has announced that Charles E. Wilson, former president of General Electric, who last week resigned as Director of Mobilization, will deliver the graduation address on June 4 at the 144th commencement exercises of Mt. St. Mary's.

Mr. Wilson will be honored by the college during the commencement exercises with the L.L.D. degree for his outstanding achievements in both industry and government.

St. Mary's has trained some 40 members of the American hierarchy, including seven archbishops and the first American Cardinal, John McCloskey. In addition Mt. St. Mary's has prepared over 70 college presidents and founded through her sons, more than 40 colleges and seminaries, among them Fordham University, Spring Hill College and St. John's of Brooklyn. Her contribution to the state has been equally impressive since she lists such notable public figures as Chief Justice White and minister to Turkey, Carroll Spence among her famous sons.

Red Cross Drive Surpasses Local Quota

The local American Red Cross Fund Campaign was completed on Tuesday with the sum of $69.75 in excess of the quota. The Emmitsburg District quota was $370 and the total amount collected was $439.75.

Despite the increase in the goal from $275 in 1951 to $370 in 1952, the quota was exceeded by the Emmitsburg workers.

Frailey, chairman and co-chairman, respectively, take this opportunity to express grateful appreciation not only to the people of Emmitsburg and vicinity and the organizations contributing, namely, the Emmitsburg Memorial Post No. 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. Tornado Sweeps District Causing Heavy Damage

Tornadic winds left a path of damage through Frederick and Carroll Counties shortly after noon last Saturday. Tons of hail fell in lower Middletown Valley and driving rain added .91 of an inch to the April precipitation total.

Homes, farm buildings, television aerials, garages and chimneys were wrecked or damaged as the storm swept from the southwest, through Frederick and on into Carroll County, where reports indicate the damage was as severe as in this section.

Power company and telephone crews were busy on Sunday restoring service, severed mostly by falling trees and tree limbs.

Telephone company officials said 450 stations were put out of service in Frederick County. About 15 poles were shattered by falling trees, they reported in describing damage as the most extensive for several years.

A tree toppled on E. Main St. in Thurmont, breaking two exchange cables and damaging the parked automobile of Robert Gills, Thurmont. Not until 6:30 o'clock Sunday night was the service reported fully restored. Officials said it was fortunate that Manager Roger P. Heck of the Thurmont office, was in the office when the cables broke. He acted quickly, they said, to keep the entire office from going out of service.

Telephone property damage was reported worst in the Frederick, Myersville, Middletown, Thurmont, and Emmitsburg area.

At Thurmont, the barn on the former Paul M. Little farm was demolished and the roof blown from the house occupied by James Staub and his family. Garages of Lloyd Mackley and Clarence Wastler were wrecked.

On the Roscoe Harbaugh property between New Midway and LeGore bridge, part of the barn roof and a shed roof were blown off and an apple tree uprooted.

Trees blocked the New Midway-Rocky Ridge Rd. and Rocky Ridge was without telephone service. Poultry houses belonging to A. A. Harbaugh and George Moser in New Midway were damaged.

The barn roof on Newton Six place, between Middleburg and Keymar, was reported blown nearly to the railroad tracks. Other damage to buildings were reported. Power was off in the New Midway-Detour area for some time.

A barn on the Dr. Noah Kefauver farm, between Braddock Heights and Middletown, was twisted from its foundation and the roof of a tenant house blown completely away. State police estimated property damage there at $15,000.

The roof on the Frederick High School Building was lifted over the gymnasium, permitting water to flood the interior. Part of the floor may have to be replaced, it was believed.

Arthur C. Flook, on Rt. 17, north of Middletown, reported a combination barn-garage demolished and a large chicken house wrecked. He estimated the damage at $2200.

The rainfall made streams rampant but none of them got out of bank.

The automobile of Ross S. Stull, Rt. 1, Thurmont, was damaged when a tree limb fell on it while it was parked on Record St., in Frederick.

A Civil Air Patrol plane was blown free of moorings at Frederick Airport and tossed onto the airfield. Damage was reported slight.

In the Emmitsburg area damage was reported confined to a silo on the John Long farm on the Taneytown Rd. and an outbuilding blown against the side of the house on the Terpenning property near here.

The barn roof on the Kermit Glass' farm was torn off and numerous trees uprooted in this district.

The Tom's Creek Church annex roof also was blown from its moorings.

Television aerials were reported blown flat against roofs.

So far as could be learned, no one suffered injury during the storm.

Roads crews were kept busy for hours removing trees and limbs blown across roads. Old Rt. 40 was blocked at the foot of the west slope of Braddock Mountain when a big tree fell across the highway near the old fish ponds.

The windowstorm seemed to hit around Keymar, then turn to Har-

TRADE AND EUROPE

In their unremitting efforts to weaken the Western alliance, the Russians are doing their best to tempt Europe with trade offers. Latest and most ambitious offer was made over the weekend in Moscow at the Soviet-sponsored International Economic Conference. There a Russian spokesman set forth a scheme for easing world trade curbs and doing up to 10 billion dollars worth of trade with capitalist nations over the next two years.

While this particular offer seems to have been greeted with something less than universal delight, it would be silly for us Americans to dismiss it as without any appeal to our allies. One of the basic causes of West Europe's economic sickness is the political disruption of Europe's normal trade pattern, in which the western area swaps its industrial goods for the food and raw materials of the eastern. In part, this disruption at present is due to American insistence that no strategic goods go from the West to behind the Iron Curtain. Our policy, of course, makes sense from the standpoint of long-term Western security, although we must be patient if some of our rather down-at-the-heel allies don't see this as clearly or as readily as we do.

But while we in this country may fully appreciate that the Soviets want Western machinery for their arms program, that they look on trade not as peaceful exchange between nations but as a weapon in the struggle for world domination, that their latest offer is actually far beyond their capacities—even so, let's not forget that the present trade situation is abnormal and that the sooner it could be safely eased the better.

This reminder seems especially pertinent in view of the reported comments of our officials who have studied the Soviet trade proposal. These officials proudly emphasize that our Mutual Security aid program considerably outbids the Soviet proposal—in other words, that the nations of Western Europe can make out better financially by taking our dollars than by accepting the Soviet offer (which move would cut them off from our dollars).

Of all the ways to criticize the Soviet offer, this is perhaps the most stupid. For it puts the American taxpayer in the ridiculous role of bidding for Europe with hand-out dollars against what Russia might offer in trade dollars. That is a role which neither the American taxpayer nor the respectable Western European would relish. Our military and economic grants to Western Europe like the broad suspension of the West's trade with Eastern Europe are measures taken in the highest interests of mutual security. But in our pre-occupation with building that security, it would be well to remember now and then that part of our ultimate aim is to get rid of both these measures.

LOOKING AT RELIGION

B.W. AMES

SCHOLARS HAVE LABORED 14 YEARS TO CAPTURE THE TRUTH AND BEAUTY OF THE BIBLE IN 20TH CENTURY ENGLISH. LUTHER A. WEIGLE, ABOVE, LOOKS OVER THE COMPLETED MANUSCRIPTS, WHICH WILL BE PUBLISHED IN 1952.

For the first small groups of men and women who came to America over 300 years ago, as well as for the millions who have come here since, America stands—and stands today—as their chance for freedom.

Laborers, farmers and merchants, scholars, artisans and professional men, they all came away from a world in which government was the master of mankind, and to a world in which mankind was the master of the government.

For some the main attraction was religious freedom; for others, the goal was social and political equality. But for all who came one great and glowing star was equality in economic opportunity—the system of free enterprise under which every man and woman able and willing to work is also able to profit, to save and to invest.

The early Americans built well. From the form of government which they erected upon the foundation of our Constitution comes our freedom to dream, to plan and to act.

From their enterprising spirit, came our inventors, our industry, our scientists, our modern agriculture; in short, our standard of American life, our continued independence and our greatness.

We have inherited much from these early American immigrants, and we are proud of the nation they built.

But what have we contributed, ourselves?

Have we measured up to the faith of our Founding Fathers, or have we stood idly by while our Constitutional government has been riddled by bureaucracy and mocked by unbelievers?

Are we preserving the America we have known for our children? Or do we intend to leave to them a government which in time may enslave them, own them, destroy them?

Man will always search for freedom. But freedom does not mean being coddled by the government. Freedom means facing the world's problems day in and day out in a spirit of hope and courage.

If facing the world squarely has become too much for an American citizen to do, then surely our heritage is in grave danger.

It is up to us to see that America remains a country people want to come to, and not a country they want to get away from.

We have everything to gain by renewing our faith and spirit. We have everything to gain by resisting the constant increase of centralized power—the spawning of agency and sub-agency to a degree that eats into the American love for independence.

Let us remember the thousands upon thousands of sad, oppressed, victimized people who have come here to begin a new life, and to breathe the air of freedom.

Are we less courageous than they?

If they could break the chains which bound them to a throne, are we so weak and so fearful that we cannot cut through the sticky web which a well-paid bureaucracy seeks to weave around us?

Or are we to succumb to all embracing socialism? It is later than you think.

QUESTION: In building a trailer house with waterproof hardboard for outside walls, we have heard much debate over whether to insulate or leave a dead air space between walls. Can you please settle this question?

ANSWER: By using metal foil insulation, you can retain the dead air space, gain protection against summer heat, and save heat in the winter. Apply the foil under the interior wall material, with the foil side facing the exterior.

QUESTION: The interior walls of my concrete block home were plastered right over the blocks. There has never been a baseboard. How can I put up baseboards on these walls?

ANSWER: You can nail the baseboard to the walls with steel cut nails, driving them into mortar joints; or you may drill holes 3 to 4 feet apart and attach the baseboard with anchor bolts; or attach the baseboard to the wall with adhesive fasteners.

QUESTION: I have been getting water in the cellar of my new home through the joint where the wall and cellar floor meet. What can I do to correct this fault?

ANSWER: There are two methods used to cure this defect. First one is to cut out a groove along the joint with a cold chisel and hammer, to a depth of about 2 inches. Fill the groove with waterproof cement. The second method is forming a cove about 2 inches out on the floor and about 2 inches up the wall, using waterproof cement. Where the wall or floor have been painted, the first method is best, as a bond between new cement and a painted surface is rarely successful. You can obtain the waterproofing liquid to mix with cement from building supply dealers.

Forest Park Readies For Opening

Forest Park, Hanover, will open for the season Sunday afternoon and evening, April 20. Workmen have been busy during the winter months, readying the rides and other amusement features and overhauling the picnic grove and tables for outings and family groups. The ferris wheel has been taken away and a new ride called the Ride-O installed in its place. This ride has 18 cars and runs on a circular inclined track, having dips the same as the roller coaster. In connection with school days, the management is preparing to issue approximately 35,000 tickets good for free rides, reduced rates on others, reduced skating prices, contests and prizes. The schedule of school days follows: Sat., May 3, Hanover School; Sat., May 10, Parochial Day; Sat., May 17, Adams County Day; Sat., May 24, York County Day; Sat., May 31, Maryland Day; Sat., June 7, Colored School Day. Another picnic building has been opened in the building formerly the auditorium with tables and benches seating several hundred people. There is now accommodation under shelter for several thousand to eat at one time. Entertainment opening day will feature Pee Wee Riley and His Range Riders, who will present a free show both afternoon and night. A number of picnics and reunions already have been booked for the season. The skating rink will continue to operate every Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday nights and Sunday picnic afternoons. Public and private skating parties will be held other nights. The Big Dipper has been known longer than any other star group.

A MODERN CLASSIC

Classic beauty in a modern fabric gives appeal to this lovely dress, in a new tissue crepe of Avisco rayon and acetate. The smooth flowing fabric is in a weight that's perfect for spring-time comfort—and the style, with its flattering neckline and interesting gathered insets, will bring forth many compliments.

DWARFS AND THEIR IDOL. Here are grouped the principal characters in Walt Disney's famous "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." The musical all-cartoon feature in color by Technicolor, claims new audiences in its second re-release, along with all its song hits, opens Saturday, April 12 for three days at the Majestic Theatre, Gettysburg, Pa.

Homemakers' PRICE FACTS

Effective April 9, sale of white flesh seed potatoes of any kind to, or in, retail food stores, which are subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 15 and 16, at prices higher than the ceiling prices for table stock potatoes is specifically prohibited by the OPS, it was announced by Hugo R. Hoyman, Maryland district director.

This action was taken because of the fact that information reaching OPS indicates that the original exemption from price control of certified seed potatoes has been widely abused.

"This abuse has been so serious and widespread that immediate action is necessary to protect consumers against unwarranted higher prices and to guard against the possibility that supplies of seed potatoes will be depleted to levels inadequate for 1952 plantings," Mr. Hoffman said.

The amendment covering the sale of seed potatoes to retail stores is Amendment 6 to CPR 113 and it provides that the ceiling price for those potatoes shall be the same as the ceiling prices for table stock potatoes.

The amendments to CPRs 15 and 16 require the application of table stock price markups to sales of seed potatoes by retailers.

Growers, wholesalers and retailers are urged to contact the Maryland District Office of Price Stabilization for further information on these new amendments and others affecting seed potatoes.

The new OPS Restaurant Regulation, CPR 134, became effective on Monday. Prices in all restaurants covered by the new order must now be no greater than those charged during the week of February 3 to 9, 1952 and no later than April 25, 1952. All restaurants must have their ceiling prices posted.

Taverns Must Post Prices

"It is also important," Mr. Hoffman said, "that tavern operators realize that they, too, are covered by CPR 134; and that they, too, must post their ceiling prices by April 25.

Mr. Hoffman further pointed out that there are certain important record-keeping provisions in the new regulations and urged all restaurant and tavern operators to familiarize themselves with the entire order.

"Our personnel are at the service of the restaurant and tavern owners of Maryland," Mr. Hoffman said. "We are as close to you as your telephone or mailbox. Also, our people are available to meet with restaurant and tavern groups in any part of the state. Simply contact us at 306 W. Franklin St., Baltimore 1, or call Lexington 4042."

Kefauver Forces Organize In State

The forces of Senator Estes Kefauver and his campaign to secure the delegates of Maryland gathered new strength during the past week with the opening of the Maryland headquarters at Room 329 Emerson Hotel in Baltimore. Volunteer workers from all over the state are contributing their services in an effort to gain for their candidate the 18 electoral votes which Maryland will send to the Democratic National Convention in July.

Supporters of the crime-busting Senator are currently touring various sections of the state to muster interest in their candidate. Visits during the past week have been made to the counties of the Eastern Shore and also several of the Western Maryland Counties. Active organizations are in operation in Montgomery and Prince Georges Counties.

Considerable optimism has been expressed by the enthusiastic young supporters of the Senator from Tennessee and prediction of a successful primary campaign in Maryland have already been made. Senator Kefauver's backers welcome the support of all Americans who believe in honest, efficient government.

Frederick Woman Named Maryland Mother

Mrs. Mary Hancock Gregory, of Frederick, has been named the State Mother of Maryland for 1952, Miss Mary Rockwell of Brunswick, state chairman of the nomination committee for the American Mothers Committee, has announced.

By virtue of her selection, Mrs. Gregory will vie with the mothers chosen by all the other states and territories for the honor of being named as the American Mother for 1952. The national award will be made in New York during three days of special activities the second week in May.

In announcing the award, Miss Rockwell says Mrs. Gregory qualified by virtue of her role of a successful mother, her responsible position in the community and her religious integrity and sense of civic understanding.

Mrs. Gregory is the first Frederick woman ever chosen for the state honor. Maryland State mothers during the past four years have come from Cumberland, Baltimore, Hagerstown and Chevy Chase.

The American Mothers' Committee of the Golden Rule Foundation was inaugurated in 1933. Its principal purpose is to give to the observance of Mother's Day about the nation and the world a spiritual character truly representative of the ideals of mothers everywhere.

The award to Mrs. Gregory will be made at the May 20 meeting of the Frederick Business and Professional Women's Club of which she is a member.

Mrs. Gregory, active in many phases of community life, is the first woman to sit on the Frederick County Orphans' Court bench. She was a successful Democratic candidate for a seat on the court bench in the elections of 1950 and now serves as the chief judge.

Born in Chesterfield County, Va., 65 years ago, Mrs. Gregory is the widow of Curry W. Gregory, who was killed in an automobile accident in 1940. Her home is at 320 N. College Parkway, where she resides with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vona, and their three children. She has one other child, James Hancock Gregory, a photographer of Braddock Heights. Mrs. Vona is active in church work, school, civic and social life and her brother also takes an active part in local affairs.

Mrs. Gregory received an A.M. degree from Woman's College in Richmond, Va., and also did post graduate work at the same school. She belongs to the First Baptist Church, where she teaches the Woman's Bible Class and is mission study chairman of the Woman's Mission Union.

Other of her interests include the Frederick Civic Club of which she is a past president; Daughters of the Confederacy, Interdenominational Church Women and the First District of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs, all of which she has served as president. Mrs. Gregory is the current president of the Frederick County Democratic Women's Club and is on the board of governors of the State United Democratic Women's Clubs. She is on the legislative committee of the local Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

LOOKING AHEAD

BY GEORGE S. BENSON President—Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas

Loose Spending Cripples Progress

With very little assistance from the Federal government, the United States made tremendous progress during the half century from 1850 to 1900. There were some depressions and hardships but these conditions only temporarily slowed down the dynamic power of private enterprise with its incentives and competitive market system. During the 50 years preceding 1900, the Federal government was hardly noticeable; it scarcely touched the lives of businessmen and employees, housewives, doctors, lawyers and candlestick makers. The citizenry as a whole was law abiding and possessed of high moral integrity.

The relationship existing between the Federal government and the states and citizens in 1900 might be likened to the relationship that exists today in many nationwide service organizations. For instance, a local civic club—Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary—holds membership in a national organization. There is a national headquarters. But it is far away and participates scarcely at all in the local club's affairs.

Local Independence The local civic club subscribes to the principles set forth in the national charter of its organization, occasionally gets one of its members elected to a national office, sends two or three members to the organization's national convention, and levies an assessment of $2 or $3 a year on each member to defray the cost of operating the national headquarters. Otherwise, the local club runs its own business, hardly aware of the existence of the national headquarters. That's about the kind of relationship our citizens and states had with their Federal government 10 years ago.

In 1900, members of the civic club "U.S.A."—the American citizens—were paying an average of only $3.88 each in taxes per year to defray the total cost of operating the Federal government. A family of five thus was paying an average of $19.40 a year in all forms of Federal taxes. Today that's hard to believe. On the basis of the present Federal budget, the bite placed on each citizen is averaging $477 a year; and a family of five, $2,371. That's an increase since 1900 of 12,200 per cent in the cost of Federal government to the individual citizen!

Small Government In 1900, after a period of the greatest economic progress a people had ever known, the nation's debt was only $1.2 billion, amounting to a mere $15 per person for the 76 million population of that day, or $75 for a family of five. Thus, in these 1900 figures on per capita debt ($15) and cost of government ($3.88 a year), we see that the activities of the Federal government were small, an insignificant factor in national progress. A growing nation, a progressing nation was scarcely aware of the existence of a Federal government. That's an important fact to remember.

In contrast today, our Federal government is a great sprawling, dominating bureaucracy—interceding in everybody's business, it seems; getting in everybody's hair; holding a hand in everybody's pocketbook; smothering out local self-government and citizen independence. In 50 years we have gone a long way into government regimentation bit by bit. As a people, we have made economic progress but the sound portion of this progress has been made in spite of and not because of the growth and big spending of the Federal government.

Future In Jeopardy Today our future economic progress is seriously jeopardized. With the expenditure of the present 1952 budget of $71.5 billion, the national debt will be $260.2 billion, averaging $1,723 per person. When we consider this together with the average yearly tax of $477 per person, we see in true light how the present income and future income of every family is being crippled by big spending government. It is true, of course, that quite a bit of the spending in recent years has been due to war and the threat of war. It is also true that dishonesty, graft and waste on a huge scale has been uncovered. The fact is apparent that with honesty, good management and common sense in handling of public funds the proposed budget could be cut in half. We, as citizens, must take action to curb the power and wasteful spending of the Federal government—as a measure of self preservation.

Raindrop Test of New Salt Proves Weather-proofing

You'd hardly believe it unless you try it yourself, but here's a salt that you can actually put water on and it will still pour. Besides ignoring the humidity, this new product, Diamond Crystal Weather-proof Salt, has the virtue of dissolving quickly, which is a flavor-perking asset. But here's the test. Put two tablespoons of salt in a shaker. Then add ten drops of water and shake vigorously. Put back the top of the salt shaker, and pour. This is the most extreme treatment you can cook up because it is more dampness than the accumulation of moisture which even many rainy days can produce. The addition of a small percent of calcium silicate, which is a moisture repellent, leaves the salt itself free to pour. It is a harmless ingredient which in the virtue of at last giving us a salt that will defy the weather, does not rue the rain. This salt "Rain or shine, pours."

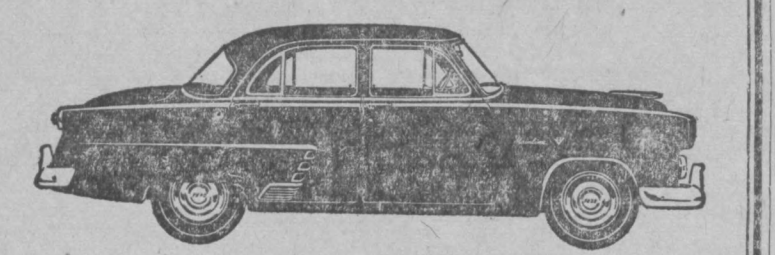

Rosalind Russell, star of stage, screen, and radio, borrowed from Old World folk here the idea of decorating an Easter egg tree at Easter time. Decorating trees with gaily-colored eggs at this season once was a cherished family custom in many localities of Europe, according to the Poultry and Egg National Board. Miss Russell, currently starring in "Bell, Book and Candle" in Chicago, said she finds it is "just as much fun and more practical" in her case to adapt the idea of an Easter egg tree as a centerpiece.

$20,000 Stake Race At Laurel Tomorrow

The eyes of the turf world will be focused on Laurel Race Course tomorrow when the 31st running of the $20,000 added Chesapeake Stakes for three-year-olds will headline the eight-race program. The Chesapeake, a mile and a sixteenth fixture, long has been one of the spring classics for members of the sophomore division. Throughout the years, starters in the Chesapeake have gone on to fame and fortune in the Triple Crown races.

INYUREYE WITH EXERCISE BOY FRANK CUSIMANO

This year's edition follows the same pattern. When entries closed on Mar. 15 this year, Racing Secretary Charles McLennan counted 48 nominations. Of these, some 12 or 13 are expected to stroll post-ward.

The lineup should look something like this: Brookfield Farms' Inyureye, Brookmeade Stable's Congo King or Sky Ship, Mrs. A. B. Eklof's Blue Danube, Emerald Hill Stable's Blue Square or Eternal Moon, Jacob Friedman's Oroo, Mrs. Walter M. Jefford's One Count, Max Kahlbaum's Jampol, Mrs. Alfred Roberts' Cobber, Jouett Shouse's Cinda, Gustave Smith's Handsome Teddy, Gerald F. Strickland's Lord Priam or Flaming Fleet, and Mrs. E. du Pont Weir's Star of Persia.

The Chesapeake was brought to Laurel when the Havre de Grace track was sold in 1951. Among its winners have been Whiskey, Mr. Khayyam, Cavalcade, Flat Eye, War Admiral, Pictor, Porter's Cap, Hampden, Citation, Capot and Repetotre.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barriack and children of Walkersville were visitors at the home of Mrs. Harry Boyle this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Trent and son Coy Jr., Mrs. Geraldine Cool, Leonard and Marlene Trent, Sunday visited Little Peggy Rose Wills at the Kernan Hospital in Baltimore. Peggy underwent plastic surgery on her eye and is reported doing excellent.

Your Personal Health

BABSON PARK, Mass., Apr. 11—Mar. 15 has come and gone. Gone, too, are the hopes of many for that new car or summer vacation, the redecoration of a few rooms, or a new spring outfit.

While you are still smarting, perhaps it is a good time to ask, "Why do we let our Government take so much of our money to spend so recklessly?"

Is The U. S. Really Poorer Today Than In 1929?

I am inclined to believe most of us do not realize the economic facts of life; for, if we did, I feel pretty certain that more people would get out to vote—in the primaries, as well in local and national elections.

How rich is this country when compared with 1929? The National Bureau of Economic Research has reported that in terms of 1929 dollars our total wealth has increased only 12 per cent from 1928 to 1948. Yet in this same period our population has increased 23 per cent! This boils down to the fact that in 1951, a year in which all kinds of economic records were set, the per capita wealth was actually eight per cent below that of 1928!

Government Opiates
The policy of our own Federal government has been to keep us in the dark on such facts. The size and power of our governmental machine, our formidable commitments both at home and abroad, full employment and standard-of-living propaganda—all have dulled our senses to what has really been going on. Many people even now subscribe to the idea that high taxes are good for the country as a whole!

Who gets most of the tax money? Uncle Sam now takes 81 per cent of all taxes collected in this country. This leaves only 19 per cent of the tax money for state and local governments, which is less than one-third of the percentage of these organizations had at their disposal in 1929.

What does Uncle Sam do with all of this money? Get a digest of the Hoover Report and find out if you don't know. Here are a few facts—In 24 years, the Government has increased the number of employees from 578,000 to almost 2.5 million. The total national budget has increased from less than $4 billion in 1928 to approximately $70 billion. From another view the Federal budget expense has gone up from $240 per average family, per year in 1928 to $1400 today. Here is a sample of where the money goes: 29 different agencies make loans; 28 handle welfare projects; 16 are engaged in wild-life preservation; and 50 agencies compile statistics, which often disagree with each other! The Veterans' Administration takes five times as long to pay a death claim, and uses four times as much manpower to do the job as do private companies.

These are but a few samples of what has been going on to cause the demand for more and more dollars in taxes from you and me. The Hoover Commission, an impartial, non-partisan committee appointed by President Truman, made over 300 recommendations to bring about a more efficient government. Hard-hitting, interested citizens who have made their wishes known to their representatives have been able to bring about legislation adopting less than half of the Commission's recommendations.

Our Own Fault
Our government, at local, state, and national levels, is as good as we make it. If we remain complacent or silent or fail to vote, our Government will continue to squander our tax dollars. But if we make good Government our business, just as we would the handling of our own personal finances, we can stop this waste and reduce our taxes. Let us speak up by writing our senators and representatives, by working with organized groups in our own community, as some young people have recently done in Boston, Mass.

Above all, vote for those who stand for efficient government and who will let us help bring about the remaining half of the reforms recommended by the Hoover Commission. Our Government will be as good and as efficient as we demand. It is our money that is being spent! It is partly our fault that our taxes are so high.

Impromptu Performance On TV Turns Out As Excellent Entertainment

Here's one for the books. Producer Len Hall, idea man and expert on all National Brewing Co. television and radio, specializes in the unusual, but on one occasion a sweet gimmick turned just a bit sour. Hall planned a novel opening for WMAR-TV's National Revue on April Fool's Day. The show started with the standard film introduction when the screen suddenly went dark. After a slight pause, a please standby sign was put on the air. An announcer then informed the audience that: "Due to circumstances beyond our control the program usually presented at this time will not be seen." Audio confusion followed and then the cameras picked up two engineers commenting on the talent strike among the show's talent, technicians finally decided to save the station embarrassment and go on with their own show with themselves in the role of performers. The program was to feature interesting and enlightening sections like: the maintenance and repair

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

War has come to America. The revolution to overthrow the American way has started.

Without fanfare, the Mutual Security Agency, successor to the Marshall Plan, published the battle plans of the revolutionary army in a booklet entitled "Simplification" with plans not only to wipe out small business, but to kill any chance of new small businesses starting.

It has long been known that the Marshall Plan, and its successor, MSA, are infested with officials of communist leanings teamed up with monopoly in an unholy alliance to win points. Around Washington they say "the typical MSA official is overpaid, under worked, and far to the left."

Hitler revealed his plans in "Mein Kampf"; Lenin revealed his plans, and now MSA reveals in "Simplification" published with tax money, its plan to wipe out independent enterprise.

The plan is simple. MSA says too many firms are permitted to put out too wide a variety of goods to meet customer desires. So, they say, just eliminate all but the most popular by a two-thirds vote in each industry.

This is the most far reaching communistic dogma yet voiced by any governmental agency.

Here's how it works. For example, the standard white loaf of bread is not only the most popular seller, but also the item controlled by the big bakery combines. Naturally, the vote in that industry would install white bread as the approved variety.

©National Federation of Independent Business

This would mean that a small baker, anxious to start his own business, could compete by putting out specialty items such as a different pumpernickel, or rye bread. But his products would not be approved, so his business would die aborning.

MSA explains its dogma of "Simplification" very tersely.

"The drawing board and the salesman's zeal to give the customer something special are not the proper breeding element for SIMPLIFICATION," MSA says.

The mask is now removed. It is apparent, as long suspected, the Marshall Plan and MSA, are the breeding elements for the overthrow of the American system.

These schemers, giving away billions of American tax dollars, stand today as a far greater menace to America than illiterate Asiatics massed behind North Korean banners.

Obviously the American drawing board which produces so many great products, and the American salesman's zeal which brings these products to the people are foreign to the thinking of the communist minded.

Neither Hitler nor Lenin mentioned the end result of their plan—the firing squad.

Neither does MSA mention firing squads, but that is the next logical step in any compulsory plans.

This is one of the reasons why Washington observers, and thinking patriots are emphasizing "America is not endangered from without, but from within. Unless the people act now, they are going to lose it to the forces of evil working in our midst."

Camp Detrick Wants Land

Col. M. T. Moree, Camp Detrick commanding officer, today announced that the Washington District Engineer is working out plans with the Maryland State Roads Commission to purchase 1.16 miles of the Seventh Street roadway in Frederick in order to make the proposed main camp site a unified plot.

Colonel Moree said it is anticipated that traffic will flow over a of the television camera, an informal interview with Vladimir Zworin, the main who developed the image orthicon tube, three big give-a-ways in which the audience could win program star Bailey Goss, Matt Thomas, Dolores Rebel, etc. The crew of five engineers headed by James Wilson and Charles Cooper did a commendable job on the acting end, sticking religiously to the script. In retaliation the performers took over the technicians' jobs and actually operated cameras and microphones. Naturally there was considerable banter between the two factions and the carefully rehearsed turn-about came off almost perfectly. The engineer-actors learned all their lines and songs verbatim and did a nice job on interpretation. However, there was just one hitch . . . the professional talent either forgot or muffed every one of their lines.

new roadway to be built replacing the portion of Seventh St. taken over by the Washington District Engineer. A possible location of such a roadway is along the extreme northern boundary of the camp, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy A. Trent and son, Coy Jr., visited at the home of his mother, Mrs. Maggie C. Trent over the weekend. Mr. Trent is stationed at Norfolk, Va. as a member of the U. S. Navy. He expects to sail soon for overseas duty in the Mediterranean area.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt J. Paidakovich, Silver Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Wiegand, Silver Spring, Md., were weekend guests of Mrs. Genevieve R. Elder.

YOU and YOUR CONGRESS

WASHINGTON—The steel industry pay dispute has cast a new light on an important question which Congress must answer in the near future—should wage and price controls be continued and if so, on what basis?

Those controls, authorized under the Defense Production Act (DPA), will expire June 30 unless renewed.

The Senate Banking Committee had completed hearings on the subject and was about to start drafting a bill to continue the controls in some form for another year when Defense Mobilization Director Wilson resigned in protest to the Administration's proposed settlement of the steel dispute.

The Senate Banking Committee immediately postponed its bill drafting, pending clarification of the steel situation. Likewise, the House Banking Committee, which was to have begun hearings on extension of the DPA, decided to delay the hearings because of Wilson's resignation.

Two questions now are uppermost in the minds of many members of Congress as a result of the actions of the Wage Stabilization Board and Office of Price Stabilization in connection with the steel dispute.

1—Has the steel situation demonstrated that wage and price controls as now administered are controls in name only and not in fact?

2—Has the WSB in its recommendations gone contrary to policy laid down by Congress?

The Board, with its industry members dissenting, recommended a 26-cent hourly pay increase and a union shop agreement for the steel industry. Under a union shop agreement, a new employee must join the union within a specified period of time after going to work.

Though not mandatory, a WSB recommendation carries great weight. It represents the majority opinion of an official agency which, by presidential request, has entered into a labor-management dispute on grounds of preventing derterment of the defense program.

A WSB recommendation in steel is especially important. Steel is a basic industry and the terms of a settlement there, apt to be affected by the WSB recommendation, are likely to form the pattern for settlement of negotiations and disputes in other industries.

For those reasons Congress sharply feels the impact of the situation in steel.

The United Steelworkers of America, CIO, which had never been able to obtain the union shop through negotiation, gladly accepted the WSB's recommendations, even though the wage boost was less than the union originally asked.

Mobilization Director Wilson said the 26-cent increase, with its repercussions in other industries, and a compensating price increase for steel makers would be highly inflationary.

The OPS said it was not about to grant steel makers nearly as much of a price rise as they declared to be necessary to offset the WSB's recommended wage increase, that the industry could absorb most of the wage increase. Wilson replied that OPS would be going contrary to congressional policy that price ceiling adjustments shall be "fair and equitable."

Wilson preferred less of a wage increase, so that less of a price rise would be necessary. This view took into account the effect of an increase in steel's price on other industries using that metal.

Meanwhile, critics of the WSB recommendations also said the Board had no right to rule on the union shop issue. They noted that the Taft-Hartley Act authorizes the union shop where it has been agreed to in company-union negotiations and that the Defense Production Act says no WSB action shall be contrary to the Taft-Hartley Act.

Rep. Werdel (R.-Calif.), member of the House Labor Committee, told the House that the President has used the WSB to obtain special benefits for organized labor. Chairman Maybank (Dem.-S. C.), of the Senate Banking Committee said Congress never intended that the WSB should rule on such issues as the union shop.

It appeared that, one way or another, steel would affect the DPA's future.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boyle and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Boyle and family of Baltimore, spent the weekend with their mother, Mrs. Harry Boyle. On Saturday evening a dinner was served in honor of Dorsey Boyle's birthday.

Social Security Benefits Explained

Any person who has been in work covered by social security since January 1, 1951, and is now 65 years old has the advantage of a "new start." These "new starters" should be vitally interested in social security beginning with April of this year.

Wilbur S. King, manager of the social security field office, pointed out that a great many employees will have acquired their necessary sixth quarter of coverage under the new law as soon as they have been paid $50 after April 1. This means that many people who are now 65 will have enough employment after 1950 to have their old-age insurance figured under the new formula. Benefit payments to a retired worker will range from $20 to $80 monthly. Monthly benefits to a retired worker and his wife would range from $30 to $120 monthly.

Because these benefits are based on the amounts reported by employers, Mr. King cautioned that employers of domestic workers, farm help, or any other newly-covered groups should file accurate and complete tax returns. Household workers, farm workers and others will lose valuable insurance if their earnings are not properly reported. The Hagerstown social security office has free booklets explaining domestic, farm or other employment under social security.

Mr. King suggests that anyone over 65 in doubt about his or her particular standing with respect to his social security payments should call or visit the Hagerstown postoffice at 74 W. Washington St., Hagerstown.

"Call Date" for Support Loans

April 30 is the "call date" for 1951 price support loans on wheat and barley, according to James A. Cottman, acting chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing Administration State Committee.

He advises farmers with wheat or barley under loan to watch markets carefully, and to sell their crop if the price is to their advantage. Otherwise, unsold grain will be taken over by the Commodity Credit Corporation to settle the loan.

If the farmer sells his wheat before April 30, he must repay the principle on the loan, plus 3% interest. With No. 3 garlicky wheat going into storage about August 1, 1951 at $2.23 a bushel, the farmer would have to realize a market price of approximately $2.50 on April 15, plus the brokers' commission in order to clear any profit.

By allowing the Commodity Credit Corp. to take possession of the wheat on April 30, the farmer will not have to pay any charges and will receive any profit realized by the government.

Weight Tickets Required
Farmers ordering lime, fertilizer or other materials through the county PMA offices should check the weight ticket carried by the driver against the order before delivery is accepted. This is the advice of James A. Cottman, acting chairman of the PMA.

Vendors are required to carry weight tickets with each delivery of bulk materials, Mr. Cottman said. Any shortages noted after delivery is completed should be reported to the county PMA office.

1952 Wheat Support Prices
Support prices for the 1952 wheat crop grading No. 1 clear have been established at a national average of $2.17 a bushel, according to Mr. Cottman.

Maryland prices have run 30 to 40 cents a bushel above this figure, Mr. Cottman said, so Free State Farmers will receive a support price of $2.47 to $2.57 a bushel. This is not a final figure, however.

Final support prices will be announced around July 1. If 90% of parity on this date is higher than $2.17 per bushel, the final support price will be adjusted upward. Mr. Cottman stated that ney and through Detour-Middleburg section before losing a lot of its fury around Westminster. Fred Pease, 42, manager of Westminster Airport, was in serious condition this week at University Hospital, Baltimore, from a head injury suffered when blown against a hangar door. Five planes on the airport were blown from their moorings, two of them blocking Rt. 140 for some time. Eight planes were damaged at the airport. The planes, trees, poles and a tangle of power and telephone wires kept Route 140 traffic-bound for over two hours, State Police reported.

The wind demolished a row of garages at Meadow Brook Church, near Westminster.

At Keymar, seven barn roofs, lifted away from their moorings, were lying in fields. Eight trees in the same vicinity were down. Another dozen trees were lying torn in the fields near Middleburg.

At Harney, four barn roofs were torn away and deposited in the fields several hundred feet from their bases.

At Keymar, Newton Six, a farmer, reported he narrowly escaped being knocked down by a big, flying chicken coop on his farm. Mr. Six said he was about to enter his home when the tornado swooped out of the sky, sucked up his chicken house — which was about 40 feet high — and hurled it straight toward him. It whizzed past, missing him by inches, he said, then slammed into his windmill after knocking down another big coop.

Damage to the radio tower of Barrack B of the State Police was not as serious as first thought. It was restored to service about two hours after being knocked out.

Last year 120,000 school-age children were injured or killed in traffic accidents. Many of these accidents could have been prevented if the drivers had taken a little extra precaution.

Remember this whenever you drive near a school or playground. Slow down so you can stop in an instant. You never know when a child may decide to dash out from between parked cars.

Be Careful—the child you save may be your own!

Luncheon Scoops

ing contributed to the airwaves by the women radio reporters.

The contest is again featured in "People Today." It is open to feminine CBS-ers who want to submit to the judging committee their favorite news stories of the past year will be judged again this year by Allen Chellas, the dynamic young editor of "People Today" Magazine, by Douglas Edwards, who is also on "Wendy Warren and the News" with me, and by me.

But this year, the judges' committee also includes two nationally known ladies, who are as interested as we in furthering the standards of radio reporting and in encouraging interest in good, dramatic scoops. They are Mrs. E. A. Campbell, of Homer, La., who is National President of the American Legion Auxiliary, and whose interests range from the welfare of disabled war veterans, through to the care and activities of children, and Mrs. Hiram Cole Houghton, Mrs. Houghton is President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The marriage of Miss Joyce E. Fissel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eimer B. Fissel, Greenmount, to Cpl. Robert Rothermel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rothermel, Reading, was solemnized Saturday morning at 11 o'clock in Luther Place Memorial Church, Washington, D. C. The ceremony was performed by Chaplain Reiss, assisted by Dr. Ralph Tabor, pastor of the church.

Miss Madeleine Rothermel, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid, wore yellow organdy with white nylon over-dress and matching headress.

Guy W. Fissell, brother of the bride, served as best man.

WHITE TREAT FOR NAVY

THE FRESHEST, YOUNGEST DRESS to greet the first warm days of Spring this year is likely to be navy treated with big white buttons and white collar and cuffs. Here it is presented in a new coat dress made of bengaline of Celanese acetate, the beauty fiber that adds the crispy look and the rich-bodied texture that needs no lining to make it hang properly.

The coat dress is fashionable everywhere this season, and it is just about as practical a style as one can own. Worn over a plain or printed one-piece dress on the cooler days, it serves as a coat to be removed at will. But there are countless other occasions when it will serve as a dress, making a smart ensemble with a white hat and white gloves for Sunday morning Service, and other important dates. Later in the season, the white collar and cuffs which are removable, may be left off permanently, and even the white buttons may be changed to navy for an entirely different effect. This coat dress is designed for Junior sizes, but attention is called to the fact that "Junior" is a size and not an age. Many young women with small figures wear "Junior" clothes. (ANS)

Mahoney Denies Baldwin's Accusations

George P. Mahoney, candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination, this week flatly denied that he had ever sought the support of H. Street Baldwin for the gubernatorial nomination in 1954, or had threatened to "wreck the party" if he did not get such support.

In a statement issued at Union Memorial Hospital in Baltimore, where he is recovering from a virus infection, Mr. Mahoney said:

"The desperation of the bosses who are seeking to force Lansdale G. Sasser on the Democratic party as a candidate for the Senate, is revealed by the vicious and untruthful attack made on me last Thursday night by H. Street Baldwin.

"When Mr. Baldwin told the members of the Fifteenth District Democratic Club of Baltimore County that I had come to him and offered to support Mr. Sasser for the Senate, in return for a promise of support for the governorship in 1954, he resorted to a barefaced and shameless lie.

"When he went on to say that I had threatened to wreck the Democratic party unless the leaders promised me such support, he lied again. As a matter of fact, his entire statement was a tissue of falsehood.

"It is true that I went to see Mr. Baldwin early in the fall of 1951, before there had been any talk of Mr. Sasser, or anyone else being a candidate for the Senate.

"I went to see Mr. Baldwin because I had heard rumors that he was bitterly criticizing and condemning me for the state-wide tour I was making in an effort to restore harmony in the Democratic party.

"I called Mr. Baldwin a number of times, attempting to make an appointment with him. He was evasive, and continually found reasons why he could not see me at the time.

"Finally I called at his office unannounced and found him in. I asked him a direct question. I said:

"Street, I have been told that you are criticizing me for my efforts throughout Maryland on behalf of the Democratic party. I have come here simply to ask you whether or not this is true?"

"Mr. Baldwin was visibly upset and nervous. He became so excited and confused that he seemed almost unable to speak. Finally he managed to stutter:

"No George, I haven't said a word against you!"

"I told him that I had never believed that he could have been guilty of such treachery. That I did not think he could have been such a traitor as to stab me in the back so soon after he and Mike Birmingham had ridden to victory on my coattail.

"Mr. Baldwin kept protesting his friendship and repeating that he had never said anything detrimental to me. Finally he became so nervous that he sprang to his feet, excused himself, and rushed out of the office saying that he had to "see some people."
