—BY ABIGAIL

Well, are you happy? Things at the office were reminiscent of a morgue this week after the avalanche of Republican votes laid low the Goliath that once was the Democratic party—now the minority party. This old gal tried to forwarn the boss of the impending slaughter, but like most of the other die-hard Demos, he had to be shown. It truly was a surprise to see Emmitsburg, ever since I can remember Democratic, turn a flip-flop and join up with the GOP. However, Emmitsburg must have used its head, for the nation set the fashion and it is the people's choice, so it must be right and I'm sure the boss will go along . . . for a while, to see how things go. I feel that we should all get behind the Prez and get him off to a good beginning, that's no more than fair. I'm sure Ike's the kind of a character that can handle things the way we want them and I'm certain that all of us are more than glad to have the next President as our neighbor. I imagine his car will be whizzing through old Emmitsburg quite frequently after January 20, when he takes over at Washington. There doesn't seem the usual bitterness about this election as in those past, in my time. It used to be that we actually hated the other guy, but I think that most of us were aware that two of the country's top-flight men were candidates and felt that it did not matter much who won, that we'd have a grand guy for our Chief Executive. Anyway, I'm more than satisfied.

Halloween, the night the spooks are supposed to be on the loose, passed with hardly a sign of any of the ancient destructiveness that used to prevail on that night. Where violence used to be a necessary counterpart of the occasion, now just a few friendly tricks appear to have become the fashion. We personally know of several parties who were won't to return to the old days, but the Town Fathers wouldn't have any of it. The cordon of extra police seemed to deter them from their designs on several local individuals. As to the youngsters, they seem quite content to enter the parade and wrap on people's doors for the usual "trick or treat." I'm afraid some of the local citizens have stirred up the boys, though. It seems that giving out a little knick-knack was too much for a certain woman, who when summoned to her door by the bell, instead, raised the upper-story window and soundly doused with water some of the youngsters with peaceful intentions, standing at her doorstep. There's nothing funny about this kind of activity and I'm certain the young ones will remember this individual next year. We have found out that in the past that if you meet the kids half-way there'll be no trouble, but this sort of thing is what stirs up animosity between certain individuals . . . Personally I won't blame the kids next year if they retaliate!

If that's your dog that has been on the loose recently take my advice and pen it up! Or am I too late? Authorities are on the warpath and it is open season on stray dogs which have been roaming the streets and alleys. We have periodically stressed the point that regardless of the fact that you have a license for your dog, it is not entitled to run wild. All canines, licensed or unlicensed, must be confined to proper quarters. If you value your hound, better keep him leashed or he will be among the missing.

At long last we are about to get some action on the Blinker and just as soon as the fire hydrant inside it can be relocated we will be rid of it. Council definitely has made up its mind that if the streets are to be repaired the Blinker must go and it already has asked the State Roads Commission to resurface the main routes that go through the town in all four directions. The roads commission has demanded that the device be removed and has termed it a distinct traffic hazard.

Council Calls Public Meeting On Natural Gas

A full board was present at the regular meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners of Emmitsburg held Monday night in the Fire Hall. Chairman of the Board Thomas J. Frailey presided. Chief Robert L. Koontz reported meter revenue for October as $232.82.

Clerk Louise Sebold presented the tax, treasurer's and secretary's reports which were approved as presented. The board announced that the tax rate of 50 cents on the $100 would remain the same for 1953. This rate has remained stationary for several decades and is really a combination of two taxes, the sewer bond tax of 15 cents and the regular 35 cent rate. Last year after the sewer bonds had all been retired, the State Legislature empowered the Council to retain the additional 15 cents, making the 50-cent total. Most of the 15-cent tax is turned over to the local fire company.

The Town Fathers discussed the advisability of taking a membership in the Maryland League of Municipalities, but no action was taken pending additional information concerning the society.

Chief Koontz reported that he had received numerous complaints about stray dogs roving the streets and announced that the Sheriff and county dog catcher has granted him the authority to destroy such strays.

Blinker To Be Removed

Council unanimously agreed to have the blinker removed from the Square just as soon as was reasonably possible. First in the line of preparations necessary for the removal is the relocating of the fire hydrant imbedded inside the blinker. The Emmitsburg Water Co. has been asked to find a suitable location for the hydrant as soon as possible. Council is going to ask the State Roads Commission to resurface both Routes 15 and 32 within the town limits, plus a resurfacing of the Square. It is their desire to have the work done as soon as possible.

Chief Koontz was ordered to install four-hour parking signs on W. Main St., beginning at the termination of the parking meters and to run as far as the Doughboy. This will affect both sides of the street. Residents of that area have been protesting the overnight and all-day parking of cars there.

The Solons have decided to make the same preparation as last year for Christmas decorating of the town.

Commissioner Wales E. Rightnour reporting on the recent meeting held with a representative of a natural gas company which the town is trying to induce to service local residents, stated that the meeting was successful and that it was desired that Council call a public meeting to inform the populace of the negotiations and to feel out the sentiment or lack of it as to whether Emmitsburg really wants natural gas. Council unanimously agreed to Mr. Rightnour's request for the public meeting and set the date for Tuesday, Nov. 18, in the Fire Hall. The public is invited to attend this session and it is hoped a good representation will be on hand.

Fire Co. Shooting Match Sunday

The Vigilant Hose Co. of Emmitsburg will sponsor a shooting match Sunday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock at Emmitt Gardens, east of town.

Turkeys will be awarded as prizes and 12 gauge shotguns and still targets will be used. Shells are to be furnished.

President Herbert W. Roger of the fire company, revealed that the recent shoot netted the organization $214 and will go into a special fund for the purchase of new tables and chairs for the Fire Hall.

Cub Scouts Plan Bake Sale

A bake sale will be held Dec. 6 from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. in the local Fire Hall, W. Main St. Proceeds from the sale will go to the Cub Scouts of town. Kenneth D. Bond, Cub Scoutmaster, announced this week. On sale will be such fine delicacies as homemade pies, cakes, rolls, sups, etc.

Mrs. Mary C. Fuss is able to be up and around after having received a bad fall at her home.

College Considers Huge Expansion Program

If old grads of Mount St. Mary's College have their way at the executive meeting of the Lay Advisory Board meeting of the college during Homecoming Week-end beginning today, the 145-year-old institution will have a new look by its 150th birthday in 1958. Main item of business on the alumni calendar for the homecoming is formulation of final plans for a two-and-half million dollar building fund drive.

The alumni and the officials of the college are pressing forward a building fund drive to raise $2,500,000 to complete the modernization and physical expansion of the college.

Plans call for the construction of the new half-million dollar library which will afford increased facilities to the growing student body. In addition to the reading, processing and cataloging rooms, college officials are anxious to provide new audio-visual, microfilm and browsing rooms.

On the construction calendar also is a new Science Hall which will consolidate the departments of biology, chemistry and physics, now spread over the campus. In the projected Science Hall, all sciences will be taught under one roof and laboratory and scientific research facilities will be improved. Estimated cost of the new Science Hall will run more than half a million dollars.

During the past few years, Mt. St. Mary's Seminary has been unable to meet the demands for theological training which have come to it from the American hierarchy. The proposed annex will add some 40 rooms and a new dining room at a cost of $250,000.

While the new alumni gymnasium affords the students one of the finest basketball playing areas in the state, it is felt that physical education activities can be further broadened by adding wings to the new structure. The wings will house bowling alleys, and other recreational facilities necessary for the complete enjoyment of the student body. The estimated cost of the gymnasium additions is $400,000. The college also hopes to increase its endowment by some $750,000. Since its beginning in 1808, Mt. St. Mary's has always prided itself on the fact that great numbers of deserving students lacking sufficient finances always have been accepted at the college. It hopes to continue that practice in the future. The endowment fund also will enable the college to maintain the high caliber of its faculty.

The Lay Advisory Board of the school is composed of the following men: Thomas L. Goliard, Detroit, Mich.; Cletus Keating, New York; Ralph Keating, New York; A. J. Diebold, Pittsburgh; Albert Schmidt, Harrisburg; John Herndon, Penns Grove, N. J.; Edward Hogan, Providence, R. I.; Eaton Chalkley, Atlanta, Ga.; Thomas Pangborn, Hagerstown; J. Francis Reilly, Wash., D. C.; Carl Schmidt, Baltimore and Leo K. Drury, Wash., D. C.

The homecoming affair expects to attract a record crowd of the alumni back on the campus. A banner calendar of events has been scheduled for the get-together of the Mountaineer alumni. Rev. Hugh J. Phillips, secretary of the alumni, announced the following program: Friday, 7:00 p. m., open scrimmage between Mt. St. Mary's and Georgetown; Saturday, 10 a. m., open scrimmage with Georgetown U.; 2 p. m., intramural football championship playoff; 4:15 p. m., a meeting of presidents and officers of the National Alumni Association; 6 p. m., alumni banquet featuring the first concert of the year by the Mt. St. Mary's Glee Club; 7:15 p. m., meeting of the Lay Advisory Board of the college; 8 p. m., alumni dance presented by the Pridwin staff. Trophies will be awarded the intramural champions. Homecoming Queen will be crowned and the Pridwin staff has arranged a series of dance and vocal contests.

Sunday, Mass for the alumni in the college chapel; 10:15 a. m., meeting of the Lay Advisory Board with the College Council.

The attendants were Miss Lucille Wivell, sister of the bride and Clarence Wivell, cousin of the bride.

Movement Begun To Stop Fluoridation Of Public Drinking Water; Branded Lethal

Forces opposed to the fluoridation of municipal water supplies have initiated a drive to have that action stopped immediately, expressing the belief that it was harmful to the welfare of the nation.

A statement by the Citizens' Committee Against Fluoridation of Water Supplies, Philadelphia, Pa., made recently, gives several reasons for the immediate stoppage to the widespread movement. In effect it said:

It is amazing to see the progress of the overall plan of the One World plotters taking shape to fluorinate the water of all cities and towns of these United States. What is behind all this push in time of war to place toxic chemical in our drinking water supplies?

What power is using the American Dental Society—the American Public Health Service—and various state dental and health societies to force this mass medication upon the people without their consent? Even the health and welfare councils are advocating at their meetings the slogan—"Drink away tooth decay with fluorine."

Those interested in the good health of mind and body of God's humanity must speak up and inform city councils and all other authorities of this "plan" to thrust mass medication upon a deluded public in the guise of "reducing dental decay among children." A courageous dentist, Dr. Paul Manning of Springfield, Mass., in a survey of 1,500 dentists throughout the country, (500 of them being from his own state of Massachusetts) revealed that, strangely enough—not one was giving any of his family fluorine! It is a matter of common knowledge that this inorganic fluorine is a by-product of aluminum, a waste material which affects the ulnar nerve and deadens the frontal part of the brain. This potent poison, even in small doses over a period of time, can cause serious results such as, arterial and venous hardening, bone tumors, brittleness of bones causing breakages, vertigo, ulcers and loss of memory.

We can hardly ignore the warning of FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, when he issued a nationwide statement against possible sabotage by "poisoning water supplies." As point II of "The Case Against Fluoridation" says: adoption of fluoridation by any community would provide our enemies with a perfect weapon of attack.

Why place in enemy hands the equipment which some night city's water supplies throughout the nation, would be poisoned by the simple trick of adding more than the one part per million that is being put into water supplies where "fluoridation" is being practiced? Russia doesn't have to send A-bombs to destroy American cities—which, no doubt they would rather preserve undamaged for the production potential—to be inhabited by their millions of Asiatics after Americans have largely been liquidated).

The Alchemists have always used fluorine as a poison to make people lose their natural elements. That is the UNESCO idea to have "peace" by controlling the minds of the people by destroying the mental faculties, eminently fitting them for slavery and servile obedience. Physical languor and moral ruin precedes the people's enslavement. It is high time a citizens' committee against fluoridation be formed in every city like it has been in San Francisco, to turn the limelight upon the conspiracy behind this proposed poisoning of the people of these United States! On June 12, 1951, the California State Assembly by a vote of 34 to 46 defeated a bill to permit the fluoridation of water supplies in that state—and there are other concerted efforts in other communities throughout the country showing their distaste for this experiment.

A veritable earthquake of public wrath will be needed to uproot this act of man to manufacture, poisonous chemicals as an outlet for profiteering politicians and peddlers. A fundamental freedom is removed making citizens of this nation a pawn to the commercial profiteers by blanket medication!

Demand of your Community Civil Defense Agency protection against this chemical warfare! Do it today—tomorrow may be too late!

Three Youths Fined For Halloween Property Destruction; Must Pay Damages

One Emmitsburg youth and two Fairfield young men were apprehended last week by Police Chief Robert L. Koontz, who charged them with destroying advertising letters on the Gem Theatre marquee during Halloween depredations early last Saturday morning.

The youths arrested were Richard, Lee Kemper, 18, Fairfield; James Tully, 18, Fairfield; and Robert A. Brawner, 18, of Rt. 3, Emmitsburg. The offense occurred at 3 a. m. Saturday.

At a hearing before Magistrate Charles D. Gillean, the trio was fined $10 and costs and were ordered to make payment for the damaged property.

Catholic Supper-Bazaar Opens Fall Social Activities Of Church

St. Joseph's Catholic Church annual fall bazaar and supper, one of the oldest affairs of its kind in Frederick County, will be held Saturday.

The affair will feature a turkey and oyster supper and is expected to attract several bus loads of patrons from Baltimore. The usual entertainment and food booths will be on hand for the amusement of the crowd.

Rev. Michael J. O'Brien, assistant pastor in charge of the activity, announced that the popular "country store" will again be operated. Committees in charge report plans completed and a record number of servings is anticipated. Servings begin at 4 p. m. and suppers will be readied for home consumption if desired.

The affair will be held in St. Joseph's High School, DePaul St.

Community Show Emmitsburg Opens To Public Today

Entries started rolling in for the annual Grange Community Show this morning. You still have time to enter the contest and win some of that prize money if you get your exhibit in before 11:30 a. m.

The feature attraction of yesterday's FFA assembly opening ceremony was the presentation and crowning of the Farm Queen, Miss Thelma Bollinger, a vivacious, blue-eyed, brown haired girl of the eleventh grade, was selected by the boys for this honor.

Everyone is invited and encouraged to attend the show at the Emmitsburg High School today and tomorrow. There will be a door prize and free entertainment each night. From all indications, this year's show promises to have many new features and will be considerably expanded.

The show will open to the public tonight at 6:30 o'clock for viewing the exhibits. At 8 o'clock there will be a film shown, entitled "Farmers of Tomorrow." At 9 o'clock the door prize will be awarded.

On Saturday morning at 10 o'clock a food sale will be conducted in the Fire Hall by the women of the Grange. The show will open tomorrow at 2 o'clock. Entertainment for the evening will be an old fashioned square dance beginning at 8 o'clock. At 10 o'clock the calf will be auctioned off for the benefit of the Community Hall Fund, after which the door prize will be awarded, thus concluding the show for another year.

Refreshments will be on sale both nights by the FFA.

No admission will be charged, but a silver offering will be received.

Possibility Of New From State Line To Zora

Construction of a new road between Zora, Pa., and the Maryland State line as a continuation of Route 15 may be undertaken within the next year.

Studies are now being made in the district office of the Pennsylvania Dept. of Highways at Harrisburg. Surveys are expected to follow.

Completion of the road will depend on availability of funds. If money is forthcoming, rebuilding of the road will be undertaken in 1953.

From the intersection at Zora to the Maryland line the mileage is slightly less than two miles. More than three miles of road already have been constructed and thrown open to travel from Fountaineau to Zora.

It also was learned that the Dept. of Highways is pressing the U. S. Army for release of that portion of the Sunshine Trail from Tracey's Corner to the foot of the mountain near Fountaineau.

According to the contract with the Army, this section of the Trail is to be returned to the State some time in March or April. However, most of the heavy shipments over Sunshine Trail to the Raven Rock "second Pentagon" project have been made so that it is felt by the Highway Dept. the Army could well afford to return the road to Pennsylvania at any time.

According to agreement, the Pennsylvania Dept. of Highways will resurface or improve the Sunshine Trail Road and the Army will pay the bill. Enough was set up in the agreement to meet the cost. Thirty thousand dollars was paid for maintenance of the detour road during the time the Trail was being used.

In extending the road from Zora to the Maryland line, the same type of construction as that on the three and one-half mile section from Fountaineau will be followed. The right-of-way will be 50 feet and the roadway at least 18 feet, giving plenty of room for wide shoulders.

Norman Six, Route 2, and Richard Cool, Emmitsburg, were admitted as patients to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Buel Baker are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son this week at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg.

Mrs. Joseph Boyle visited on Friday of last week with her son, Dennis, who is recovering from polio at the Children's Hospital, in Baltimore.

Emmitsburg Accepts Republicanism

Emmitsburgians went to the polls Tuesday in record numbers and in that same fashion flopped over from its traditional Democratic column to that of the Republicans. The same held true throughout the state and the nation.

Thurmont, traditionally GOP, remained steadfast and laced the Democratic ticket nearly two to one there.

Locally the vote was the heaviest ever recorded here and a total of 1284 ballots was cast. Election officials worked till the wee hours of the morning recording the heavy vote.

It was very evident during recent weeks that heavy voting would occur as a keen interest has been displayed in the election and both parties locally were extremely active in getting eligibles to register and get them to the polls.

The turn-about in Emmitsburg

SENATOR NIXON

... Vice President Elect . . . was just about that of Thurmont's as the Democratic party went down to defeat almost two to one.

Official count of ballots cast for the Democrats by Emmitsburgians was:

FOR SEVENSON
Precinct 1	125
Precinct 2	156
Precinct 3	163

TOTAL
444
FOR EISENHOWER
Precinct 1	321
Precinct 2	349
Precinct 3	170

TOTAL

DeWITT S. HYDE

... Will go to Congress . . . Stella Werner, candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District, and George P. Mahoney, seeking the U. S. Senate office, also were victims of the Republican landslide in which General Eisenhower carried 39 states to Governor Stevenson's 9. Emmitsburg electors gave Mahoney 550 votes against his GOP opponent Beall's 710. Mrs. Werner also fell far behind her opposition, DeWitt Hyde. Mrs. Werner polled 539 votes here to Mr. Hyde's 667.

Although the second and third largest voting districts, Emmitsburg and Thurmont, went to the Republicans, Frederick County came through for the Democrats, unexpectedly. The total county vote for the presidency was 14,419 for the Republicans, and 14,808 for the Democrats.

Thurmont cast a total of 1364, of which 866 were Republican and the balance, 498, Democrat. Both amendments to the State's ancient Constitution received heavy favorable votes, both here and state-wide.

Emmitsburg cast five votes for the Progressive candidate, Hallinan.

I see by your column you would like to see a stop light in the center of the Square instead of the blinker. I say let the blinker there and let the Commissioners get the flasher system working in the blinker and see how this will work out: Red on two sides and yellow on two sides. This is the same system used in Pennsylvania, and it works out real well. (You ought to know as you have experienced it by a trip into Pennsylvania.) On the red you will have to come to a complete stop and on the yellow you will proceed at caution speed.

Don't take the Blinker out until you give this a try as you know that the truckers go through this town fast enough. If you give them a straight away down through town they will let her roll and then how will any one get across the street in time.

Let's not be hasty with a stop light. Let's give this flasher system a try. What is the use to go to all the expense of installing a new light system to help traffic, when you have a setup light in the square and you don't use it?

What is the matter with the Commissioners? Are they afraid to try this system? If it works other places, it will work here. What do you say? Let's give it a try.

Abigail, I think that we should hear from other people on this matter. What do you think?

ONE FOR THE ROAD!

One more drink—"one for the road!"

It was the Toast to Death—thousands of men and women, and innocent children, too—last year.

The records do not show how many lives were needlessly sacrificed because of alcohol-clouded driving, but they do show that over 6,000 drivers involved in fatal accidents had been drinking. Another 2,000 pedestrians met death in traffic, while in an alcoholic haze.

Ask the man who has had one or two drinks and he'll probably defend his ability to drive. Perhaps he can—but not safely. Alcoholic stimulation breeds carelessness, speeding, recklessness. In another stage it courts drowsiness. Tests have proved that even a moderate number of drinks lowers a driver's reactions to the danger point. Quick reactions and alert judgment fail in the emergency.

The irresponsible driver is to blame for a particularly heavy share of night-time traffic accidents. Tragically, he endangers not only his own life, but the lives of those riding with him—innocent people in other cars and pedestrians.

So before you take "one for the road," consider the consequences. If you drink, don't drive. You'll never hear better advice.

YOUR UNITED STATES

BY FLOYD CRAMER

PRESIDENT, NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE PRESERVATION OF FREE ENTERPRISE, INC.

Quite frequently we read in our newspapers that a corporation has given away a considerable sum of money to some worthy cause. Private organizations devoted to welfare work, health studies or education all have benefited by such contributions. That's just fine, because every time it happens it shows that American business is waking up to its responsibilities to the community as a whole.

So far, so good. Business, indeed, is waking up, but how awake is it?

Federal income tax law authorizes corporations to deduct up to five per cent for "contributions." That is, five cents on every dollar of net income, can be given to organizations working for community welfare at local, state or national levels. How much is given?

The Russell Sage Foundation is making a study of corporate philanthropies.

In the year 1948, gifts made by approximately 537,000 corporations totaled $212 million. That sum seems impressive, but let's examine it further.

About 100,000 of the donors were corporations with total assets of less than $1 million each.

This group gave, on the average, not five cents on each dollar of its net income, but one and one-third cents.

About 36,000 bigger corporations each with assets ranging from $1 million to $100 million, gave 8 tenths of a cent on each dollar of net income.

And 601 corporations, each with assets of $100 million and more, gave at the rate of 3 tenths of a cent.

These are the figures for 1948. In 1950 a sampling of 326 assorted corporations were re-examined by the Sage Foundation. Their gifts averaged half-a-cent per dollar of net income. In short, America's business corporations appear to be making contributions just about one-tenth of the size that is legally deductible.

Let's compare corporate gifts with individual "deductible contributions." If a husband and wife have $1000 net taxable income, they can legally give 15 per cent of that, or $150. Of course, few can afford to give away that much. But if this husband and wife gave to church and charity only one-tenth of their legal allowance, as our corporations do, they would give $15 between them in a whole year, or just about 29 cents a week.

As the survey showed, 537 corporations gave $212 millions. If they had upped their giving, not to the five per cent allowed by law, but only to three per cent, the yield to our private welfare, health, and educational organizations would have been one and one-third billion dollars in 1951!

It seems to me that business people who believe in Free Enterprise, who want to keep the Federal government out of charity work, and keep it from dominating education, aren't doing as much as they might.

We ought not let the government do any job we can do ourselves.

Just to sit around and holler "Communism," isn't good enough. We have to back up our beliefs with our efforts and our money. Corporations, like individuals, must shoulder their share of civic responsibilities.

TO PEACE AND PROSPERITY

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

The Office of Price Stabilization continues to amaze Washington.

Before Congress adjourned, the appropriation for this mystifying agency was slashed about in half as a move to hasten its demise.

For weeks the air around Capitol Hill was rent with cries of anguish that half of the OPS staff must be dismissed. Presumably, they had been dismissed to the tune of several thousand.

But now the OPS has embarked upon a project that is more ambitious in stature, requires more personnel than perhaps even the most elaborate plan ever launched in Communist Russia.

Ceiling prices on certain grocery items, which account for about 40 per cent of grocery store sales, are now going up in more than half of the nation's half million grocery stores.

OPS officials admit that the ceiling prices are no less, and in many cases, higher, than grocers get in today's highly competitive retail price situation.

Added to this plan is a further announcement.

The grocers will not figure their own ceiling prices. They will be all figured for them by the 54 regional and district offices of OPS. Posters will be supplied the grocers every month with the prices already computed for them, plus weekly amendments.

This is considered by all who have had any business experience, as a very ambitious undertaking calling for avertable host of manpower. It is estimated that the manpower OPS will use in this useless work, if thrown into the front lines in Korea, would end the battle.

"In fact," say some observers, "That would be a fine solution to two problems. OPS officials and Chinese could probably understand each other."

There are indications consumers will pay higher food costs due to this OPS action.

Many grocers are already talking about raising their prices to equal the OPS ceiling prices. Thus enforced regulation may result in competitors reaching some common understanding.

If such is done, it will be illegal, but so far, no one has definitely established the legality of a government bureau dictating price structures without declaration of an all out emergency.

The only parallel to this situation is in Russia where government also establishes prices.

Washington now asks:

How does it happen with substantially slashed personnel, OPS can undertake a job of this magnitude? Or, is it possible, that the agency was 100% overstaffed before it was slashed?

One thing is now certain.

When Congress reconvenes, a much closer scrutiny will be taken of OPS. Congressmen hate to be publicly fooled. This vast, ambitious new project by OPS after weeks of crying that with a reduced appropriation, there would be only enough staff left to open the mail, has put on record that Congress was very badly taken in by the OPS.

State Game Director Explains Regulations

There seems to be some doubt in the minds of many hunters, according to Director Ernest A. Vaughn, Game and Inland Fish Commission, about the open hunting season on game for this fall, especially the mourning dove and squirrel seasons.

Many are under the impression there will be another open season this year on squirrels coinciding with the regular open season, Nov. 15 to Jan. 3 inclusive on quail, rabbits, pheasants, and grouse.

The squirrel season closed as of Oct. 31 and will not again be open until the fall of 1953.

There is a split season on mourning doves; the first period expired as of Sept. 29; however, the second season will open at noon Nov. 15 and run through Nov. 29.

The bow and arrow deer season, either sex, for Allegany, Baltimore, Carroll, Dorchester, Harford, and Wicomico Counties opened Monday and closes tomorrow. The regular season, bucks only, in which firearms can be used in deer hunting will not open until Dec. 1, and then in only 12 counties.

Program Of Improvements For Chronic Ill Patients' Welfare Announced

A survey of chronic illness patients is being made by local health officers in every county in the state under the direction of the Maryland State Department of Health. The purpose of this census is to determine how to make the best possible use of the $5,000,000 which the last Legislature made available to the department for the construction of additions to the chronic disease hospital system.

Dr. R. H. Riley, director of the State Dept. of Health, said the information will be used to decide just how many beds should be provided for patients requiring active treatment and rehabilitation, how many for the permanently bedfast, and how many for the ambulant individuals for whom only custodial care is necessary. Each county health officer will present an estimate of the number of persons in each of these three classes who would, were accommodations available, seek admission to the state hospital system.

The Health Dept. recently named Dr. James A. McCallum, former superintendent of Deer's Head Hospital, as chief of the newly-created Division of Chronic Disease Hospitals. A travel grant from the Rockefeller Foundation will permit Dr. McCallum to visit every important center for the treatment of chronic disease in the eastern section of the U. S. As a World Health Organization Fellow, Dr. V. L. Ellicott, health officer of Montgomery County, observed health and medical services for the aged and chronically ill in England and Denmark the early part of last spring.

At the request of the Maryland State Board of Health, Dr. Riley also made a study of English services for the aged and the chronically ill. Upon his return, Dr. Riley reported that England is far ahead of Maryland in its care of old people. He said that elderly English people, who would once have faced years in an almshouse or a charity ward are now, in many cases, being so helped by active medical treatment that they are able to lead useful and contented lives among congenial companions.

Recognizing the fact that aged and chronically ill persons have become one of the most important health problems in the state, Dr. Riley was especially concerned with discovering ways in which the British have approached a satisfactory solution. Dr. Riley believes that some of the features of the British program could be transplanted in Maryland. In particular, he hopes eventually to provide care for many of the state's chronic disease cases in smaller nursing homes close to their friends and relatives.

There were about 50,000 people over 65 years old in Maryland in 1900. In 1952 Dr. Riley says, there are approximately 171,000 or better than triple the population over 65 in Maryland.

The Dept. of Health is responsible for furnishing hospital care both to those of its aged citizens who are disabled by chronic illness and for whom but little can be done by medical treatment, and for younger patients suffering from long term illness who can in many cases be restored to normal health by good medical care. The older chronic patients greatly outnumber all others and their number is rapidly increasing while the number of younger patients seems to remain almost constant.

At present, the Maryland State Dept. of Health operates two chronic disease hospitals. One, a recently constructed institution at Deer's Head in Wicomico County and the other, a temporary one at Camp Ritchie which soon will be closed and its patients moved to the new plant now being developed at Montebello in Baltimore City. A third hospital is being planned for Hagerstown in Washington County.

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

Maryland tobacco farmers voted in favor of acreage allotments and marketing quotas on the crop of tobacco to be planted in 1953. With 6367 farmers in eight counties voting, 4271 or 74.1 per cent were in favor of the tobacco program, according to James A. Cottman, acting chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing State Committee.

Tobacco producers had three choices in their voting: (1) for allotments and quotas for three years; (2) for allotments and quotas for one year; or (3) against the allotment-quota program. A 66.7 per cent majority in favor of quotas was necessary to put them in effect. There were 4105 growers or 64.5 per cent who voted for a three-year program and 616 who voted for one year, Mr. Cottman said.

Although the three-year program was not approved, a combination of the votes in favor for three years and one year gives approval of the one-year program. This assures price support on the 1953 crop at 90 per cent of parity.

Mr. Cottman pointed out that a shift of only 142 votes from approval for one year or from opposition to the program to approval for three years would have given the majority of 66.7 per cent needed to give Maryland tobacco growers a quota-support program for three years.

Papa David Says:

"I'll tell you an extra advantage of having real confidence in the people you love. . . It means that you don't have doubting troubles—and doubting can be about the most destructive emotion in the world. I'd rather have trust — and maybe sometimes be disappointed — than doubt."

"Sometimes I wonder if people feel that when they have faith in God that it isn't necessary to have faith in their fellow men besides. After all, God made people in his own image, didn't he?"

"It's good to be in love, leben—but being in love and loving, too, aren't always the same thing. It takes a little while, lots of times, to be sure which you feel."

"If you've got a man holding one end of a rope for you, while you hang over a cliff on the other end—you got to have faith in him. But real faith shows up when you could walk away from him if you really wanted to."

"True love includes having trust and belief in the person you love. And very often a man has much more trust in his loved ones than he knows himself. It is the nicest surprise in the world to learn just how much faith someone really does have in you — and a great responsibility."

culosis control work since the first campaign was initiated by Miss Emily P. Bissell in Wilmington, Del., in 1907.

Dr. Nelson pointed out the urgent need for continuing the programs of the county tuberculosis associations which are directed toward the prevention, detection, and treatment of tuberculosis, and stated, "Until this dread disease is eradicated in Maryland, we must make every effort to combat it."

Tuberculosis associations throughout the state are in the final planning stages for the opening of the campaign. Under the direction of the county Christmas Seal Sale chairman, thousands of volunteers throughout Maryland are helping in the preparations for this annual Christmas time health campaign.

Mr. Francis Eigenbrode was named chairman of the Frederick County association.

NBC's "Red Skelton Show" this season is delighting audiences more than ever—and for two very good reasons. One is a novel television filming technique which Red has inaugurated and supervised to take advantage of the very newest techniques available in the television medium. The other is the addition to the famous Skelton repertoire of new characters.

One of these characters is "Weepy," a profound pessimist, to whom nothing is any good, and the other is "Weirdy," an insatiable spook, whose face is never seen by the audience at all!

The new technique is an adaptation of live television procedure to a filmed program to combine the dramatic punch of the "live" with the smoothness of the filmed show.

National Milk Production Makes Slight Decline In Past Year

According to figures just released by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, the total milk production in the U. S. will be 1.5 per cent lower in 1952 than in 1951. Total production is expected to be 114 billion pounds or 1.6 billion pounds less than for the preceding year. Although this total of 114 billion pounds has been exceeded every year since 1941, except for 1918, the average milk production per cow is estimated at 5290 pounds and is the third highest in the history of our country. This compares with 5326 pounds in 1951, 5314 pounds in 1950, 4622 pounds in 1910, 4184 pounds in 1935, and 4218 pounds in 1925. The average increase per cow from 1925 to 1952 is 25.4 per cent.

The number of milk cows in the U. S. reached the all-time high of 25.6 million head in 1944. This number dropped to 22 million head in 1949 or a decrease of 14 per cent. In the last three years the decrease has been much more moderate as there has been only an additional two per cent drop, to 21.55 million head. In 1952 there are only 47,000 less milk cows in the country than there were in 1925. In comparison with this, our population has increased from 115.8 million in 1925 to 157 million in 1952. This is an increase of 39 per cent.

The decline in cow numbers is attributable in part to a decline in demand for some dairy prod-

The Vigilant Hose Co. responded twice last Friday within a half hour to extinguish fires. The first call was to the Swiss ucts, such as butter and other non-fat solids, and in part to the unfavorable returns to dairy farmers in comparison with other types of farming. There will be but little expansion in the dairy industry until such time as a more favorable ratio of returns is restored and demand increases.

The decline in milk production is due in part to a decline in cow numbers but largely to the drought this past summer. Except for this drought and the resultant shortage of green feed, milk production per cow would undoubtedly have reached a new high. This trend in increased production is attributable in part to the feeding of better forages both in the pasture and in the barn. Is it coincidental that the increase in milk production per cow increased 26.4 per cent since 1935, the last year before the AAA or the present ACP program encouraged farmers to improve their lands and to raise better forage crops of alfalfa, clover, etc., by increased use of lime and fertilizer? The question may be resolved at the end of next year.

Trip of a Lifetime for Rogers Fan

Along with 82,000 other youngsters, ten-year-old Clifford Inwood of Sussex, England, entered a contest conducted by the London "News of the World" for the best letter on the subject of "Why I Want to Visit Roy Rogers"—and won! Here he alights from a BOAC plane to be greeted by Roy and his lovely wife and co-star, Dale Evans. Clifford stayed at the Belmont Plaza Hotel in New York, was guest of honor at the Madison Square Garden Rodeo, which Roy and Dale headlined, and received gifts to delight a little boy's heart. Among these were a complete cowboy outfit, a trick lasso, a pair of six shooters and a saddle.

A LUNCH-BOX SPECIAL FOR BUSY BRAINS AND BODIES

WHILE JUNIOR AND SIS are tackling those school problems, here's a way to help you tackle the daily duty of preparing lunches. The trick is to always keep a supply of luncheon treats on hand—cheese, bread, fruit, milk and other popular drinks are indispensable. And last but not least the wonderful standby—home made real fruit spreads—popular with everyone.

Have you always thought you needed fresh fruits for jams and jellies? Why it's only a matter of minutes these days to turn canned juices and frozen and dried fruits into perfectly delicious homemade spreads. And, remember they are truly economical, too. Try this one!

APRICOT JAM
(Using dried apricots)
Yield: about 11 medium glasses

2 tablespoons lemon juice 1 bottle liquid fruit pectin
4 cups prepared fruit 7 cups sugar

To prepare the fruit, Add 3 1/2 cups water to 1/2 pound dried apricots. Cover and let stand 4 hours or over night. Drain, reserving liquid. Grind apricots or chop fine; mix with liquid. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan. Squeeze the juice from 1 medium-sized lemon. Measure 2 tablespoons into saucepan with apricots.

To make the jam. Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses cover jam with 1/2 inch hot paraffin. (ANS Features)

The Most Dramatic Reading

The McCarran Internal Security Committee of the U. S. is digging out some startling facts on the Communist Fifth Column organization in our nation. But the reports on its findings are not getting wide enough circulation throughout the population. They ought to be read and studied by every parent and teacher, by every college student and high school senior in the nation. They shed light on an internal conspiracy that, in spite of a growing resentment against, is still scoring amazing success in its work to communize America.

Anybody can get copies of the Judiciary Committee's transcripts simply by writing his congressman or senator, or the U. S. Government Printing Office. Ask for transcripts of the hearings delving into subversive infiltration. These documents provide the most dramatic reading available in America today. They bring into the reach of your mind and mind's eye exciting and vitally important episodes in the great human conflict of this age—godless Communism vs. Christianity: Freedom vs. Slavery.

The Radio Writers

A Judiciary sub-Committee recently released transcript of testimony taken in its investigation into Communist infiltration of radio, television, and the entertainment industry. The sub-Committee said its hearings in this field sought to determine: (1) To what extent are these media of expression conduits for the poison of Godless Communism? and (2) "To what extent has the Communist Fifth Column succeeded in worming its way into the nerve center of public expression." The sub-Committee's conclusions, based on its findings, are stunning.

It finds that pro-Communist writers have gained the political control of an organization of 1500 radio writers who produce 90 per cent of the spoken words heard on all the radio networks of the country. The Committee concluded, further, that this Red stranglehold was being used in some instances to slant news and dramatic shows in a manner to subtly conform to the Communist line and to just as subtly undermine our love of country and its institutions.

Exposing The Reds

An anti-Communist faction of the radio writers' guild is fighting the Red control. Members of this anti-Communist group have been testifying in the Judiciary Committee hearings. Paul R. Milton, author of 10 books, contributor to such magazines as the Saturday Evening Post and Life, and for the past 10 years a top-flight radio writer, has given testimony clearly exposing the whole body of the danger.

"The more Communist individuals or the Communist element are in control of any element of the broadcasting industry," he told the Committee, "to that degree they lend that industry to the dissemination of Communist ideas . . . This means that the broadcasting industry, through programs, through the publicly expressed attitudes of its personalities, can aid in the dissemination of Communist ideas by means of radio and television . . .

Use Cunning Technique

"Communist ideas and attitudes may be expressed in the most ordinary dramatic programs by holding up to ridicule the various American ideals of free enterprise, of democracy, of capitalism as we understand it, of American institutions in the shape of our legislative arms; of holding up, for instance, the FBI to ridicule . . . It is possible for a writer to hold up to scorn an American ideal without in any sense seemingly carrying out a propaganda activity. This can have the effect of arousing public opinion on a question under an emotional stimulus which has a Communist origin and which is not clear to anybody except close observers of the situation . . . At times it may be extremely critical for the security of our country."

Paul Milton, who is working among them and has been fighting them for years, believes that Communists should be legally controlled—outlawed. "I hope," he told the Senate Judiciary Committee, "that eventually it will be decided within the framework of American history and ideals, that to be a Communist or to subscribe to doctrines of that nature is treasonable." Most sober-minded people who know Communism for what it really is feel the same way. Get these Judiciary Committee transcripts and learn why.

Soldier Elevated

Carl H. Brawner of Emmitsburg, recently was promoted to sergeant while serving with the Third Infantry Division in Korea. Last winter, the unit cracked the 'Communists' line during the battle of "Bloody Angle," one of the bitterest engagements of '51. Sgt. Brawner received his promotion while assigned to the Third Military Police Co. as a policeman.

Amble over to Bob's Restaurant Tuesday for lunch and noticed a new sign "Left Ham Sandwich, 40¢... Right Ham Sandwich, 30¢."

"Why the sign, Bob?" I asked. "Don't tell me you believe hogs scratch more with their right leg than with their left—so's the left ham is more tender?"

"No," he says. "I don't take any stock in it. But, some people have ordered those 'left' sandwiches. When I explain to them that there's nothing to that fable, that the sign is just a business-getter, and I've only one price, they enjoy a regular, old fashioned, plain ham sandwich all the more!"

From where I sit, stories like "right" hams being tougher than "left" ones are with us because some people get ideas into their head and hang onto them for dear life. It's like those who think an adult like myself hasn't the right to a glass of beer with my supper. I say let's keep our opinions free from being "sandwiched-in" by misinformation.

BABSON

Writes...

By ROGER BABSON

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 6 —If Christmas had come last spring or summer when the steel strike was starting, it would have been a poor Christmas for manufacturers, merchants and the rest of us. Early in 1952 the public stopped buying. Television sets, washing machines, and other appliances were filling up storehouses; while the companies making these were discharging workers.

Now May Be Time To Buy

A trip through our Great Central West makes me believe the above situation is changing. Wise buyers are making their Christmas purchases now—especially for the so-called hard goods, such as washing machines, refrigerators, and appliances. Even automobiles appear to be selling well in most sections. They are now being produced at an annual rate of nearly five million because the industry is catching up after the steel strike. However, for the same reason, full-year 1952 will not show such a total.

Probably most textiles can be bought for less now than they can in December. Sheets, blankets, and other household goods will become scarcer as Christmas approaches, although there will be the customary "sales" in January. Carpets, including wool and the blended types, are moving well now even though they were a drag on the market early this year.

Now Houses In Demand

New houses, the sale of which fell off badly during the summer, are again in demand due to the relaxation of credit controls. There is, however, only little demand for large houses—though they are much better built. When well located, with land available for building small new houses, many of these larger old places are better buys than small ones. This is especially true where zoning permits larger houses to be used by two families.

Rents are sure to advance during 1953. This may once again make it profitable to build houses to rent. People have money; and they first want a home. Next, a television set! These are again moving and it is better to buy one either now or wait until after Christmas. They will be higher in December than just now.

What About Prices In General?

Wholesale prices have been declining for some time, and now consumer prices are moving very slightly lower. The Labor Dept. living cost index for September shaded off to 190.8 per cent of the 1935-39 average. That was against 191.1 in August. The immediate prospect is for foods, rents, utilities, and miscellaneous consumer goods and services to show little further change. Apparel may move down slightly. Household furnishings will be unchanged. All in all, little change in the consumer price-index is expected for the rest of the year. Food prices, on the average, appear to be declining a bit. The general upward trend in the cost-of-living seems to have been broken. Any change between now and the end of the year probably will be too moderate to be felt by the average family.

The above outlook is due to full employment in all but a very few sections. Contractors are again seeking workers; the utilities are employing more people; and most people willing to work can get a job. Stenographers, typists, and other office and store help are now in great demand. The situation may be a little less optimistic after Christmas with a chance that there then may be greater-than-usual seasonal employment. The best way for manufacturers and merchants to help prevent this—and thus save their own skins—is to spend more on advertising and selling—but keep prices down.

How To Hold Your Job

A number of persons now employed will be let go during the first few months of 1953, barring war. Defense work will not slack off, but there usually is a general reaction after Christmas. When reducing employees, manufacturers and merchants too often go on the principle of "last employed should be the first to be let go."

The above means that readers should not now change to some other job just to temporarily get more money. Stick where you are and do better work than you have ever done. Remember that Christmas—like other good things—may

McKeldin Will Open New Stretch Of Road

A new five-mile section of the Baltimore National Pike will be opened to traffic next Friday, November 14, following dedication by Governor McKeldin.

The section, under construction for slightly less than a year, extends from Morgan Road, near the town of Cooksville, in Howard County, to a point just east of Ridgeville near the Carroll County border.

It constitutes a continuation of the divided highway that has been under construction between Baltimore and Frederick for several years as a relocation of U. S. Route 40, the century-old National Pike. Like similar sections previously opened, it provides a 24 ft. roadway for traffic in each direction, the two being separated by a wide center parkway. Grade separation structures have been provided for major crossroads along the route.

The dedication ceremonies will take place near the eastern end of the new section at 11 a. m., with members of the State Roads Commission and county officials present to witness cutting of ribbons that will mark opening of the new section to traffic.

Grange Backs Blinker Removal

The Emmitsburg Grange met in regular session Wednesday in the Emmitsburg High School, 40 members present and Master Edgar G. Emrich presiding.

Charles R. Fuss, representing the Town Commissioners of Emmitsburg, asked the Grange to write the State Roads Commission requesting resurfacing of Routes 15 and 32 through town and the Square, plus the removal of the Blinker. The Grange roads board was instructed to comply.

William Baker, chairman of the Community Show, reported all in readiness for the show.

A sizeable group of Grangers have volunteered their services to help with the construction of the local Boy Scout clubhouse. Time and dates to be worked out with the Scout Master.

The following donations were approved: Children's Aid Society, Frederick County and the State Grange Endowment Fund.

It was announced that Brother Norman Six is a patient at the Gettysburg Hospital and is expected to be there at least two weeks.

The annual election of officers will be held at the next meeting on Nov. 19. Members are urged to give this business considerable thought. It was suggested by the Master that a complete change of officers each year would help stimulate interest in the Grange and assure its continued growth.

Following the business session, Lecturer Rachel Emrich presented the program. A talent contest was held for the selection of the best talent in the Grange to be entered in the Pomona Talent Contest. Out of the following entries, Richard Frock was selected to represent Emmitsburg. Contestants included Virginia Baumgardner and Gwenda Creeger, piano duet; Gerhard Duffer, harmonica selection; Mrs. Martin of McKnightstown, Pa., recitation; Shirley Hahn, recitation; Helen Martin, solo; Morris Zentz, Jr., piano selection and Richard Frock, vocal solo.

The Juvenile Grange held its regular meeting then joined the Grange for the program and social hour. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. George Gartrell, Mrs. Daniel Hill and Mrs. Curtis Topper.

Toy Drive Ends

The students of SJHS have started playing Santa Claus in a three-week toy drive which terminated Nov. 1. Many games, dolls, puzzles, etc., were collected to be sent to Northampton Seminary. The articles will be sorted by the future Missionary priests of Northampton, then mailed to the children in Panama for Christmas.

Eugene Sprankle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Sprankle, who has served for the past 36 months overseas with the U. S. Army, is now home on a furlough.

Elwood Eiker Gets Deer

Elwood Eiker of Emmitsburg, bagged a 165-pound buck with a rack of six points as the State's bow and arrow season opened Monday. The local man dropped his buck near Edgewood.

Morris Eyer, also of Emmitsburg, changed his mind suddenly and missed bagging a deer.

Eyer, a calm, calculating bowman, was ready to knock down a fat doe that was in easy 30-foot range when he spied a nice buck deer coming his way. He passed the doe up in favor of the bigger male, but the wise old whitetail winded him and bounded away.

Eiker nearly lost his deer, through hi-jacking. If it hadn't been for alert action by Game Wardens Fielder Crawford and Charles Milton, someone else may have roasted Eiker's venison.

The archer had shot his deer in the chest, a facing shot. The animal, fatally wounded, bounded off and Eiker took up the trail knowing the deer could not go far. Meantime, Wardens Crawford and Milton, who were standing on a road some distance away, saw the buck emerge from brush, cross an open field, and fall.

Suddenly, two archers ran up to the dead six-pointer and one shot an arrow into its neck. Soon Eiker came in view following the trail and arrived at his downed buck. But the archer who had put his arrow in the already dead deer claimed the venison.

An argument ensued but luckily the wardens had witnessed the affair and Eiker dragged his big buck away.

I know you property-owners will be happy about this. What with everything else going up in price, the Town Fathers have been able, through prudent government, to keep the tax rate the same for the next year. They are to be commended for the excellent way in which they have managed the town's financial affairs.
