Cheer up folks, Spring's just around the corner, just in case you haven't given it a thought. Yes, Mar. 21 to be exact. That's the date for all your winter ailments to disappear and the body takes on its various transformations in readiness for the hot weather to come.

Also this is the month when the Blinker is rewarded a happy repose after 25 years of faithful service. Workmen soon will begin the dismantling job, or should I say wrecking job. Now wouldn't it be just too dandy if we had those nice neat-appearing trash deposit receptacles to dress up the Square after the traffic light is installed, new curbing and resurfacing done? Yes, this Spring a transformation will occur to the old town as well as to ourselves. And about those old trees that jeopardize the very existence of cars whose drivers absent-mindedly try to pull under or near them, only to demolish the top of their vehicles. Certainly now is the prudent time and opportunity to remove these ungainly obstacles which serve no useful purpose other than to clog the town's sewer lines and property-owners' rain spouts. Soon the State Roads Commission will begin resurfacing the streets, possibly this month, and then it will be too late. After the work is completed removal of these trees would undo all the efforts of the Town Officials in making the streets a better sight at which to look. Let's have some cooperation, folks. I wouldn't be surprised if free trees for the town couldn't be had from the State Forest Dept., which currently has a large-scale tree planting project under way in this coun-

Most telephones users of Emmitsburg were surprised this week when they received a notice that their bill was being hiked. Yeah, but how about all those extra customers that were dumped on party lines? Just try to get your call through some day and you'll really earn your money's worth . . . there must be at least a dozen on some of the lines by the number of complaints heard. To my way of thinking Emmitsburg should have a rave reduction instead of an increase and I know hundreds more who'll concur with me. For your general information if you are a member of a party line you will pay 25 cents a month more, and if you are one of those who demand privacy by private line you will be assessed 75 cents more. Yes, the price of pri--vacy is getting dearer, "deerie." Just why Emmitsburg was left to practically last on the list for improvement I can't fathom. Most of our neighboring towns have dial service while we still have to crank, reminiscent of the Model T days. Well as long as we put up with it the longer it will be with us. Now if the Chamber of Commerce or the Lions Club happen to be listening, I'm sure they will take the hint.

Well, it seems as though the motorcycle "brigade" was nipped in the bud before it ever got into high gear. I was informed this week that Chief Koontz got the first one before the paper hit the street. Well, I hope they realize the disadvantages of "cutting up" before any more are assessed fines. It doesn't pay, boys.

STILL PAMPERING THE FARM BLOC

The "Great Butter Muddle," as the Wall Street Journal so aptly describes it, provides a sober lesson in how Government can destroy the very thing it sets out at great expense to save.

As a result of heavy farm subsidies and the competition of margarine, the butter market in this country is steadily melting. In 1940, per capita consumption of butter was 16.9 pounds. By last year, that figure had skidded to 8.7 pounds and the end of the decline is not in sight.

Margarine consumption, conversely, has more than tripled since prewar 1939. Last year, for the first time in history, margarine production, at 1.3 billion pounds, outdid creamery butter production by about five per cent.

Now how does one account for this in view of butter's traditional place in the national diet and the fact that many consumers still prefer it to the vegetable substitute which Mark Twain once refererd to as "table lard"?

Part of the answer is to be found in competition. Margarine sells for only about 30 cents a pound while butter fetches around 80.

Why then, doesn't the price of butter come down to meet the competition? That brings the remainder of the answer—national farm policy. Ostensibly to aid the farmer, the Federal Government keeps the price of butter pegged in each column were represented world's seas. Its salt content is the Interior to the Secretary of artificially high; it must buy butter at 90 per cent of by a corresponding number of as low as seven parts in a thou- the Navy. It didn't affect the parity—a theoretical figure that seeks to establish a fair marks. relationship between the price a farmer gets for his produce and the cost of what he must buy-irrespective of demand.

The Government is now buying unwanted butter at the rate of about 2,000,000 pounds a day, or about half the daily output of the nation's creameries. The result is, of course, that the dairy industry long since ceased to produce for the market and began to produce for the Government, which now has about 83,000,000 pounds in storage. This hoard will have to be disposed of in some way at a tremendous loss to the taxpayer.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson could have relieved this situation some by reducing the support price for butter to a minimum 75 per cent of parity after March 31. Instead, he announced last week that the Government will continue to guarantee 90 per cent of parity price supports on butter and other dairy products for another 12 months.

The taxpayer then, will continue to be bled to support the price of a product which he cannot afford for his own table. And farmers are encouraged to produce a product for which the market is rapidly diminishing and which they might have difficulty in recapturing at any price! The result may hasten the end of the butter industry, unless we are to assume that the Government will subsidize it in perpetuity.

property owners pay extra local taxes to take care of it," was the argument against putting up Federal money. That was the way the Appropriations Committee reported the bill to the floor of the House.

I rose to say there are many Maryland areas—especially in our Sixth District-where the "local business" is the "government business"-that's why the schools are crowded—and that it is only right for the Federal Government to share the cost of new ones. "Perhaps," I said, "one solution, if the gentlemen want to get the Federal Government out of local affairs, with which I'm heartily in accord, is to start cutting down on the Federal Government's ac-

Attorney General Brownell met with our Judiciary Committee last week to give us his views on whether oil beneath offshore lands belongs to the Federal Government or to the nearby states. Just before President Truman left of fice, he "gave" the tidelands oil to the Navy, but it was evident from Mr. Brownell's testimony that that was just political window dressing. > A number of people in the Sixth District suggested that GIs and officers, on retirement from the armed forces, should be retired in the highest grade they held for at least three months during wartime, unless they were to reach a higher rank later. Accordingly, I introduced a bill to that effect. It's being studied by the Armed Services Committee ... I also introduced a bill to require written opinions from judges in U. Maryland Farm Front

It is important that Maryland farmers follow specifications when performing Agricultural Conservation Frogram practices. Failure to do so may result in loss of government aid, according to George J. Martin, chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing State Committee.

Government assistance on soil building practices under ACP will be paid only when those practices meet ACP specifications, Mr. Martin said.

For instance, contour strips, terraces, drainage or farm ponds must be surveyed by and performed under the supervision of the Soil Conservation Service.

Tree planting or timber stand improvement work must be planned and performed under supervision of the State Dept. of Forests and Parks.

To date, ACP has made contracts with SCS for transfer of funds to cover engineering costs in 20 of Maryland's 23 counties, Mr. Martin said. He expects that agreements will soon be drawn up in the remaining three coun-

Social Security Is Depression Deterrent

The statement has been made by some economists that if the reserve from the States' unemployment compensation trust fund and the trust fund of old-age and survivors insurance had been available during the depression of the 30's, the depression would have been avoided.

As of Dec. 31, 1952, there were over $17.6 billion in the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund, and on the same date over $8 billion in the unemployment compensation trust fund. These are significant balances that in themselves tend to have a stabilizing effect upon the economy of the nation.

Recently the five millionth survivors insurance claim was filed by a mother with two minor children. This meant the passing of another milestone in the record of the old-age and survivors insurance program. Over one and one-half million of the people receiving benefits are widows, minor children, dependent widowers and dependent parents; nearly three and one-half million beneficiaries are retired workers, their wives, children under 18 and dependent husbands.

The average benefit to a retired worker with no dependents is $47.25; monthly payments to retired aged couples average $81.50; and for young widows with two children the average family payments are $103 month ly. Among newly qualified bene ficiaries, whose benefits are based on earnings since 1950, the average is considerably higher. The average for a retired worker without dependents is about $65 per month; for an aged couple, somewhat more than $100 per month; and for a widow with two children, in the neighborhood of $130 monthly.

The records show that of all the folks drawing benefits through this insurance program, 50 per cent of the group have no other resources. Obviously, amounts of the size referred to are spent immediately for food, clothing, fuel, shelter and other prime necessities of life. Money put into circulation in any of the channels of trade keeps moving so that eventually every economic phase of the community life is touched and benefited. This is true of the neighborhood store, of the business life of any city, and in an ever widening circle which embraces the state and nation.

The regularity of the payments s important. The old-age and survivors insurance checks are dated usually the last day of the month and are distributed through the mail within a few days after the month has turned. Every beneficiary knows how much he will get and when he will get it and, therefore, plans accordingly. This established regularity of payment creates something of a problem if for any reason the issuance of the check is delayed, casions of this kind occur, which are few, the telephones in the field offices begin to buzz. The standard reply to an inquiry about a delay is, "It is in the mail and should reach you soon." That's true-and it does.

The number of individuals receiving benefits is increasing with each month that passes. This is a natural condition because relatively the program is still young. With World War II and the high business activity since then, many people have been continued at their jobs who otherwise might have been laid off. The net effect of such a large working force, and particularly so since the scale of pay has risen in the last few years, is to increase the balance on hand within the trust

BABSON

Writes . . .

BABSON PARK, Fla., Mar. 5 - The constantly increasing shorter hours, combined with which are largely the result of shorter hours, are developing a new industry -namely, the "Do - It -Yourself" industry.

For a time the manufacturers of paint, wallpaper, etc. in order to protect the local painters and paperers, refused to advertise their products for the housewife to use herself. Now, however, you will find large advertisements in leading magazines urging people to "shortcircuit" the local artisan. To further this "Do-It-Yourself" movement, manufacturers now sell wallpaper already to hang, with the blank margins cut off. They are selling paint rollers to take the place of brushes and a new paint with a rubber base for quick and perfect application. What Gillette did to the old-fashioned razor, this new movement is doing to brushes and paints.

Homes and Furniture For several years families have been able to buy unpainted and knocked-down furniture; but the prices were high on the latter. Today, however, one needs to buy only ply-board and certain metal clamps from a lumber dealer. For a small fee the lumber dealer will cut the pieces as needed for tables and chairs. The big development has been in young people building their own homes. Two couples will buy adjoining lots, make joint contracts for the foundations, and then go ahead with different plans. These plans can be bought with complete details for ordering, cutting and erecting the house. For heavy work when two men are needed, they help each other. The only outside help needed is a plumber. This may explain why a prominent columnist stated "The new President's Cabinet consists of 11 millionaires and one plumber!" Practical Hobbies

Physicians are now prescribing hobbies instead of pills. In fact, hobbies are now so used that most drug stores sell Hobby magazines. These magazines urge useful hobbies and show how furniture, toys and other things may be made at home. They are greater boosters of the "Doing-It-Yourself" indus-

Not only does the hobby industry benefit the nation's health, but by it parents set a fine example to their children. It not only is better for the kids to see their Dad working -instead of playing golf-but it enables the father and boy to work together and become better acquainted. Hence, the social and educational advantages.

New Stores Will Open I believe you will see "Do-It-Yourself" stores open. If I were a young chap and wanted to open a small specialty store, I would enter this field, combining some sporting goods with it. The same factors of shorter hours and higher costs are forcing many families to indulge in expensive and healthful sports.

Another suggestion is that you become a salesmen on commission for some lumber dealer to sell "Build - It - Yourself" houses. It would interest almost every young couple to at least hear your story. It also

Need More Revenue From Easter Seals

The Easter Seal Campaign, which annually supports the work of the Maryland Society for Crippled Children and Adults and its affiliates throughout the State, was opened officially in Maryland this week by Governor Theodore R. McKeldin. The campaign will run through April 5.

In urging Statewide support of the drive, the Governor said: 'It is not only an American heritage and responsibility but a privilege awarded the people of this State to assist those less fortunate than others." He added that it was "economically sound to make possible such services as those financed through the Easter Seal fund as a means of aiding our crippled people to become independent and contributing citizens."

might be combined with the real estate business. Before building a house one must secure the land. Something To Consider

I have often wondered why house builders do not sell furniture and home furnishings. Or why furniture dealers do not sell houses. This is a combination which should appeal to many customers and should be advertised in the local newspapers. In fact, as I look into the future, I expect to see much more local advertising of this "Do-It-Yourself" idea. Many newspapers are afraid to push it for fear of offending the local builders, painters, furniture dealers, and other present advertisers. I, however believe this to be short sighted because the future of every newspaper and every present advertiser depends ultimately on the growth of the community, which depends on the adoption of all new ideas.

"Father" and Scout

Girl Scout work is very familiar to Bob Young, star of NBC's "Father Knows Best," since he is the father of four daughters! The Girl Scout organization is celebrating its fortyfirst birthday with a plea for more volunteer help from the nation's adults to help make Girl Scouting available to thousands of young-sters. An interesting fact is that more than twenty thousand men are actually registered members of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., serving as both program advisers and as committee members.

The Communists Dig In

Louis Francis Budenz, who knows the Communist mind and the Communist "line" as well as any American, is afraid we will quit fighting the Red conspiracy within our nation before the danger is over. The former high official of the Communist Farty, who has been a decisive government witness against top Reds, spoke on the Harding College Campus. He voiced a fear that the change in our national administration would lull the citizenry into a false feeling of security against Stalin's Fifth Column. Only a few days after his

Harding visit, the newspapers carried dispatches from Washington reporting that work on two Voice of America radio transmitters costing $18 million had been stopped after Sen. Joseph McCarthy's committee had produced evidence that the transmitters were being built at locations making them utterly ineffective as weapons in the propaganda war against Communist Russia. The sensational disclosures indicate that the Reds have penetrated the Voice of America and are sabotaging its effective-ness. Sen. John McClellan of Akransas, a member of the investigating committee, said: "The thing looks rotten on the face of it."

Check the Record

If Communist conspirators can penetrate the very agency created to fight them, then certainly they have a greater toehold within our government than most people suspect; and we have barely scratched the surface in the work of exposing them and rooting them out. Prof. Budenz, who teaches at Fordham University, made the point that in hunting down the "enemies within," our authorities shouldn't confine the search to seeking "Party members" or card-carrying Reds.

"The question," he said, 'should be: Is the record of this individual, in being a member of numerous Communist fronts, in aiding many Communist causes, in expressing Communist sentiment—is that record such that it aids Soviet Russia against the United States?" If the answer is "Yes," then Prof. Budenz advocates exposing the individual, and rendering him impotent as an ally in the conspiracy. Big Names As Bait

"Within the Communist Party when I was there," he said, 'leading scientists were used —their names were used—in order to induce lesser scientists not only to join the Communist conspiracy, but also to engage even in espionage work. We send the Rosenbergs to their execution—as we should do, for they are traitors and have shown no indication whatsoever of cooperating with the government to destroy treason he:e. Yet those who have been responsible for the creation of the Rosenbergs, certain distinguished scientists who continually lend their names to Stalinite movements are placed in positions of honor and respect. We cannot afford to continue this damage to American security and American morale."

Prof. Budenz named six prominent professor-scientists, holding high positions in five great American universities, who have been singled out for special praise by the Communist Party and its publications. The records compiled by Congressional committees show that all six have long 1sts of affiliations with Communist fronts and other Communist activities.

Six of a Kind

The one-time editor of the Communist Daily Worker named six additional highplaced educators with similar Communist front records and noted that all six recently had refused under oath, when called before the McCarran Internal Security Committee, to state whether they were or had been Communists. He observed that three of the six had subsequently been fired by their universities. All six should have been fired, he said.

He cautioned, however, that "we must keep a sense of proportion." The overwhelming majority of American scientists, educators and professional people in every field, he said, are not Communists. "What is serious" he said, "is that there is a small influential group in all fields who are aiding the Communist cause. A small group is able, because it is secretly organized, conceals itself and is very aggressive, to intimidate larger numbers and to misinform them. That is the method the Communists pursue."

The Communists are well entrenched in our nation; we must not relax the effort to dig them out.

The American game of checkers is known as "draughts" by the British.

may get sinus trouble."

Mother is perfectly right. Blowing your nose violently is one as the disease is called, is an infection of the lining if these air law. spaces, all of which are connected with the nose by small openings. Their lining, or mucous membrane, is continuous with the lining of the nose. For that reason, infections of the nose throat, and chest can travel to the sinuses, with unpleasant results.

Sinusitis is frequently painful. Inflammation of the nose or of the lining of the sinus may close the air space and block drainage. If the sinus is closed for any length of time, the air inside is used up and a vacuum forms which causes pain. Pus or other secretions may form and press on the sinus wall, also causing pain, often severe.

Sinus trouble can be caused in many ways, other than blowing your nose too hard. In addition to respiratory infections like colds, influenza, whooping cough, or diphtheria, causes may be one or more of the following: sudden chilling, poor diet fatigue, allergies, infected teeth or tonsils. enlarged adenoids, or other nasal obstructions.

Frequent use of sprays and antiseptics in the nose may injure the mucous membrane and bring on sinusitis. For this reason alone, it is wise not to use nose drops or inhalants unless the doctor prescribes them. Sinusitis is serious to try to treat yourself. Uncured, it may lead to more serious diseases like bronchitis, mastoid infection, and arthritis.

Symptoms vary from person to person, but the most common are neadaches, or pain over the infected sinus, dry and clogged nasal passages, or post-nasal drip Other symptoms may include fever, cough swelling of checks, eyelids, or forehead, and general fatigue.

If you suspect you have sinus trouble, see your doctor. There are a number of valuable drugs for the treatment of sinus infection. In severe cases, an operation may be necessary to open the sinus and allow it to drain.

From France - With Love

When I return to Bordeaux for the Music Festival in May this year, I shall be reviving memories both painful and pleasurable of the three weeks I spent there waiting for a ship after World War II broke upon us in 1939. Bordeaux, even under such stress, was com-fortable and lovely, living up to her fortable and lovely, living up to her nickname of "petit Paris."

Today Bordeaux surpasses her prewar brilliance. The May Musi-cal, brings world-celebrated talent to perform at the Grand Theatre in the center of the city, in the open air at the elegant Jardin Public, and also at the Gothic Cathedral of St. Andre, as well as in several suburban localities. This year the program lists such shining names as Eugene Ormandy, Yehudi Menu-hin, the Marquis de Cuevas ballet troupe, and the theater company of Madeleine Renaud and Jean-Louis Barrault, which was so popularly acclaimed in New York last Fall.

I find a visit to this sunny and mellow old town worth making any time of year. The city is beautiful, with broad avenues, which the Bordelais call "allees," spacious squares, and a climate kind enough to permit palm trees in the gar-dens. The food is superb, and, of dens. IN THE SENATE CLOAKROOM

By J. GLENN BEALL U. S. Senator from Maryland

The Voice of America has been very strongly criticized for what appears to be good and sufficient

A broadcast in French, for French listeners, supposedly for the purpose of giving the French a better understanding of the U. S. recently included the following statement

"Miss Ferber knows the Texans well, whatever they may say to the contrary. The men drink bourbon by the gallon and the women are nitwits who talk but say practically nothing. And there are also the Mexican peons who work in the ranches and homes as servants and who live simple, harsh and difficult lives.

Michael G. Horneffer, a State Dept. employe, told a Senate committee that the above statement was made as part of a review of Edna Ferber's new novel, "The Giant." Many senators are curious as to what type of American propaganda such statements can be. You may be sure the State Dept. will quickly co-sponsor for the purpose of establishing standby controls. The Senate Banking and Currency Committee, of which I am a member, has heard Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey give the administration's views on economic controls. Following these hearngs, which were held in executive session, I joined Senator Capehart in sponsoring a bill providing standy controls which could be invoked by the President in the event of a national emergency.

The bill provides for controls for a period not exceeding 90 days and would freeze prices wages, and rents. During the 90day period of temporary controls the Congress would have an opportunity to study whatever permanent controls might be needed.

Each Tuesday new Senators are lunching with cabinet officers for the purpose of becoming better acquainted and to exchange information. We have met with John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, and this week we will have as our guest, Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture.

Gov. McKeldin has designated this week as Maryland's "Save Your Vision Week." I urge everyone in Maryland to observe this week which is set aside for the purpose of educating the public in the fundamentals of eye care.

Verdi composed his last opera, 'Falstaff," in his 80th year, and many musicians consider it his greatest.

Animals may for some time in a state of torpor either in hot months in a dry country or in cold months. The former practice is called aestivation, the latter hibernation.

Eyes Reflect Personalities

Your personality and what you Ave. is: likely to have, according to a Inf. Div., APO 112, c/o Postmasstatement issued by the Mary- ter, N. Y., N. Y. land Optometric Assn. in connection with "Save Your Vision Week," Mar. 1-7.

"Nearsightedness is most likely to be found among the studious, Dr. William H. Engel, Jr., president of the association said. "Those who do a great deal of reading and writing, such as editorial personnel are among those mostly likely to be myopic-nearsighted.

"Those engaged in professional sports are likely to have good normal vision but tend toward farsightedness, almost never toward nearsightedness.

"The back-slapping extrovert is more likely to be farsighted than nearsighted. The reverse is true of the quiet introvert."

Whether eyesight affects job selection or eye-use on a job affects vision is a moot question, Many studies indicate that myopia tends to increase with long periods of concentration on close work, according to Dr. Engel. He said that correction of myopia is change the type of broadcasts often best achieved by fitting the which have been made in the patient with lenses that help him to focus better at a distance of Hearings will be held very 2 feet, even though he appears shortly on a bill which I am a to have a near-point problem.
