—BY ABIGAIL—

I want to take this opportunity to personally thank, on behalf of the community, the two local service organizations, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion, for the fine civic gesture they made last week when they presented the town with four trash deposit receptacles. Faint green and identified by the insignia of the two groups, the containers will go a long way in helping keep the Square policed up. Already the populace has become accustomed to their use as is evidenced by the neat and tidy appearance of the Square. However humorous it may seem to some, it isn't a bit funny to postal clerks who have to check the one placed in front of the Postoffice to make sure that some well-meaning citizens do not mistake the trash can for the night mail depository. I am told this already has happened, oh well.

There's still a bit of time left to have those unsightly large and crooked trees removed. Several property owners have concurred with the idea but are running into difficulty getting the proper help in removing them. Most any time now the resurfacing project will be begun and then it will be too late and if when you do decide to remove them at a later date, you will be required to fill the dangerous and unsightly apertures yourself and at your own expense. Better act quickly.

Reports received to date on the coming Minstrel say that it will be the best ever. No less than six different scenes and oodles of musical and vocal selections are planned for the show which is expected to run about two hours in time. The cast has been completed and the endmen are reported as "straining at the leash." Tickets already are on sale for the big show to be held on April 9-10, so don't say I didn't warn you if you miss this great home-talent show. No commissions will be paid to out-side interests this year. No sir, every cent cleared will be a step nearer to the realization of our much-needed Memorial Hall. And how we do need that hall.

It is no easy proposition to obtain a large enough auditorium in which to stage civic promotions of this type. Practically every large building available for these purposes now has a high-rent tag attached to it and it is almost impossible to clear any where near the amounts we used to realize from such affairs. Between the Federal taxes of 20% and the rental fees of from $20 to $30 for a night or two, it makes it downright tough to realize much profit, even for charity or a non-profit organization. Yes, indeed, we certainly need that hall, and soon. It's not a bit too soon either to make preparations for the annual carnival which also is held for the benefit of the hall. To date about $5,000 has been raised for the building fund. A much more sincere effort must be mustered if we are to realize our goal.

It's high time someone got behind a movement to revise our silly gambling or lottery laws of Frederick County, which our State's Attorney saw fit to enforce when he took over in 1950. It really has been a burden on various organizations, and that includes churches, service clubs and other civic organizations, not to be able to raffie off a turkey, cake, etc., either by spinning the wheel or buying chancebooks, not taking into consideration either the inconvenience of trotting to the county seat every time you want to get a permit to play bingo. Let's face the facts folks! Things are entirely different than they were years ago and these silly laws should be repealed and wiped from the statutes. They really serve no useful purpose and are a hindrance to practically all of us. Let's get rid of 'em at the next general election, which is your know when... just next year!

DAUGHTER BORN

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Houck, Emmitsburg, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter Tuesday morning at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg.

The Rio Grande is 1800 miles long.

Fire Co. Begins Annual Financial Drive

The annual financial drive of the Vigilant Hose Co. officially got under way this week when form letters were mailed to practically every citizen of Emmitsburg and the district. Guy R. McGlaughlin, chairman of the drive, said that over 1000 letters had been sent out and that a good many already had been returned with donations.

The drive will continue for several weeks and then any of those who have not responded will be personally contacted by a canvassing team. The full committee in charge of the fund-raising includes: Guy R. McGlaughlin, chairman; Herbert W. Roger, J. William Rowe, John J. Hollinger, Charles R. Fuss, and Guy A. Baker Sr.

President Herbert W. Roger of the Vigilant Hose Co., issued an urgent appeal to the public for assistance, stating that in order to maintain the high standard of equipment which the organization now has, extra money must be raised to insure the continued upkeep of this equipment.

Improvements added this year to the firemen's paraphernalia include 500 feet of 2 1/2-inch high pressure hose, four asbestos suits (the type used by the U. S. Navy), a pair of high-voltage wire cutters, floor saw and hatchets, five new coats and caps for the fire police, two salvage covers, a portable lighting plant for night fire fighting, and two new Chemoz gas masks. In addition, a large number of new metal chairs were bought for use in the Fire Hall.

The drive usually nets around $3000 annually and is almost the sole means of support the group receives. Citizens are urged to give generously.

Scouts' Mardi Gras Tonight

The Emmitsburg Cub Pack Scout Troop 284 will sponsor its annual Mardi Gras celebration in the Fire Hall tonight at 7 o'clock. Kenneth D. Bond, leader of the pack, said the affair will be held in conjunction with the regular meeting of the group and the public is cordially invited.

SUSTAINS DEEP CUT

Mrs. Thomas Bollinger, who last week painfully sustained a deep cut on her right leg, is able to be about but still is undergoing treatment. The mishap occurred when a butcher knife slipped from her hand while she was assisting her husband at his meat market, making a deep gash in her leg and severing a vein. Mrs. Bollinger was treated at the Warner Hospital.

EMMITSBURG BASEBALL CLUB BOOSTERS

J. Norman Flax, president of the Emmitsburg Baseball Assn., announced this week the following new members of the local club's Booster Members: Houser's Drug Store, Eyster Trucking Service, Dr. W. R. Cadle, B. D. Martin, Roger Liquor Store, Houck's Clothing Store, B. H. Boyle, Recreation Center, Neighbours Esso, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Corporation of Emmitsburg and the Lions Club.

A good-sized crowd turned out last Saturday to watch the new team scrimmage with the Mount St. Mary's College baseball team. Manager Frank Apichela was reposed very well pleased with the initial practice of his squad.

Students Win Poster Contest

Two pupils from St. Euphemia's School, Emmitsburg, came off with top honors in the annual safety poster contest.

The winners are Dorothy Eiker, 8th grade pupil who won the $15 first prize. Her winning slogan was "Watch for Turning Cars"; second prize of $10 was awarded to Michael Topper, seventh grade student. His slogan was "Walk on Left Facing Traffic."

The contest was sponsored by the Civitan Club of Frederick in connection with the national contest held under the auspices of the AAA Club of Washington, D. C.

A banquet, given by the Club, was held Thursday evening at the Francis Scott Key Hotel, Frederick, at which time the winners received their prizes.

Game Wardens Are Guests Of Local Sportsmen

Thirty-five members were present at the regular monthly meeting of the Indian Lookout Conservation Club held in the Fire Hall Tuesday evening. President Everett Chrimer presided.

A treasurer's report disclosed a bank balance of $683.42. Four new members were voted into the organization. They were Louis Topper, James Sanders, Gilbert Eiker, and William Weidner.

President Chrimer reported that bone meal had been placed in feed hoppers on the mountain game preserve. Bone meal promotes the growth of antlers on deer. The report also brought the membership up-to-date on the pleasant stocking program. A discussion was held as to changing the meeting night, but was later tabled and the regular meeting date, the fourth Tuesday of the month, was retained.

Frederick County Game Wardens Kettels and Butts were present at the meeting and an open forum was held with the wardens answering many questions to the satisfaction of the sportsmen.

Following adjournment refreshments were served and two excellent sporting movies were projected. The films, "Shooting Safety," and "The Sedgfields' Story" were thoroughly enjoyed.

Dr. Thorning To Pray At Pan-American Capitol Session

For the ninth consecutive year, Congressional leaders have invited a priest of the Archdiocese of Baltimore and a former faculty member of Mt. St. Mary's College, the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Thorning, pastor of historic St. Joseph's Church, Carrollton Manor, Md., and author of "Miranda, World Citizen," to give the prayer in the Capitol on Pan American Day, April 14. Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin, Jr., will introduce Dr. Thorning.

Principal business on this day is the cause of inter-American friendship. The custom of celebrating Pan-American Day in the Congress began in 1944. In view of the growing menace of Soviet imperialism, special significance is attached to the ceremony this year.

Rev. Galambos Is Lions Club Speaker

Four guests were present at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday evening in the Lutheran Parish House, C. A. Elder presiding in the absence of President J. Ward Kerrigan. Guests were Earl Rice, local businessman; James Spencer, James Redmond and Allen Irish, all of Pikesville.

Secretary Robert E. Daugherty read a communication concerning the annual district convention to be held in Atlantic City in June. A donation of $10 was authorized to the Emmitsburg Baseball Assn.

Guest speaker of the evening was the Rev. Gideon Galambos, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church. The speaker selected as his topic his personal experiences with the Communists in his native country of Czechoslovakia. His highly interesting and informative speech disclosed the nature of many of the hardships his people are undergoing under the mailed fist regime of the Reds and also those endured personally by himself and his family.

District Soldier In Korea

Pvt. Lester L. Pryor, whose wife, Ethel, lives at Seven Stars, Pa., is now serving in Korea with the 25th Infantry Division.

The 25th has been in Korea longer than any other American division. It entered the fighting in July 1950, shortly after the Communist attack on South Korea.

Pvt. Pryor, a signal and message clerk in his unit, entered the Army in September 1952, and arrived in Korea in February 1953. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel P. Pryor, live at Thurmont.

In the process of restoring colonial Williamsburg, Va., 423 old buildings have been restored, and 6616 more recent structures torn down or removed from the restored area.

Benjamin Franklin was the first U.S. postmaster general.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ralph McDonnell, E. Main St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn, to Mr. Donald L. Eyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Eyer, of New Windsor, Md. No date for the wedding has been set.

FRANCIS EARL MCNULTY

Francis Earl McNulty, well-known resident of St. Anthony's, died Mar. 21 at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa., at the age of 59. He was the son of the late Dennis and Stella Menser McNulty. He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg and of the Holy Name Society.

Surviving are his wife, Lillian M. Rosensteel McNulty and the following children: Earl, Baltimore; Lloyd, Taneytown; Mrs. Doris Finnerty, Baltimore; Mrs. Thelma Overholzer, Taneytown; four grandchildren. Also surviving are two brothers, Albert, Emmitsburg, and Charles, McKeesport, Pa.

Funeral services were held Wednesday with requiem mass at St. Joseph's Church, Emmitsburg, at 9 a. m. Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, Taneytown.

MRS. HILDA M. FLEAGLE

Mrs. Hilda M. Fleagle, 52, wife of Paul F. Fleagle Sr., former linotype operator for the Herald-Mail Co., Hagerstown, died Mar. 19 at the Sidley Hospital, Washington, D. C.

She was the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Wastler and the late Charles B. Wastler, Thurmont.

Besides her mother and husband, she is survived by a son, Paul Jr.; a daughter, Mrs. Marilyn M. Needy, both of Hagerstown; brothers, Chester C. Jagerstown; Charles R., Paramont; Lloyd W., Washington, D. C.; W. Arthur, Thurmont; Edgar, Emmitsburg; Merl J., Baltimore; sisters, Mrs. Mabel Troxell, Mrs. Dorothy Welsh and Mrs. Julia Fleagle, all of Thurmont; four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Creager funeral home, Thurmont, with interment in Blue Ridge Cemetery, Thurmont.

GEORGE W. MESSNER

George W. Messner, resident of near Thurmont, died at his home Tuesday evening after a lingering illness. He was aged 85 years, five months and 21 days.

The deceased was a son of the late Joseph A. and Elizabeth Dohmer Messner and was a member of the Emmitsburg Lutheran Church. His wife predeceased him a number of years ago.

Surviving are three sons, Geo. R., Hagerstown; Samuel J., New Castle, Pa., and Melvin E., near Thurmont. One sister, of Illinois, also survives. In addition, 15 grandchildren, 38 great grandchildren and three great great grandchildren survive.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at two o'clock with interment in Creagerstown Cemetery with Rev. Philip Bower officiating.

13 Ex-servicemen Donate Blood

Thirteen members of the local Francis X. Elder Post, American Legion, donated blood Monday at Mt. St. Mary's College where the Red Cross Bloodmobile was stationed. The blood will be used as a replacement for Red Cross blood given to Elizabeth Kugler.

The donors were Louis F. Rosensteel, William D. Smith, F. Sterling Goulden, Henry F. Timmerman, T. Eugene Rodgers, Leo G. Sanders, George S. Martins, Andrew T. Shorb, James A. Bouey, George Ashbaugh, W. J. Dombrowski, Wilbur T. Umble, and Carroll Willis. Robert Wormley is chairman of the American Legion blood bank.

Tavern Sale Of Whiskey Bill Defeated

The Frederick County delegation to the State Legislature at Annapolis reportedly voted not to introduce a bill which would have permitted the sale of liquor by the drink over the bar in the so-called "wet" districts of the county, this week.

The vote was reported as 4-0 with one absentee and one delegate not voting because of a personal interest.

The vote followed the appearance of a half dozen tavern operators of the county with their attorney, Richard E. Zimmerman, who acted as spokesman. Various features of the proposed measure were discussed, one of which reportedly would have been a $500 license fee. It is understood a referendum on the proposed bill was one of the suggestions.

The dealers met with the delegation Tuesday afternoon. Also attending the meeting by invitation of the delegation was Mrs. Hazel Lewis, who was in Annapolis to support the state-wide bill banning Sunday sales of beer. Mrs. Lewis expressed opposition to the proposed county liquor measure.

Considerable pressure had been brought to bear on the delegation to support the bill for the drink-by-drink sale of whiskey. One delegate estimated that some 1,000 to 2,000 cards have been received by the delegation in an apparent organized effort in behalf of the measure.

Each of the printed cards said: "We the undersigned, request you to support the bill which would close taverns on the Sabbath Day and permit the sale by the drink of whiskey in addition to beer and wine in taverns in the so-called 'wet districts' of Frederick County. We believe such a measure to be in the interest of better observance of the Sabbath, stronger law enforcement and for the benefit of the working man."

This proposal to exchange support of the Sunday sales ban for the drink-by-drink sale of whiskey has been discussed since the present session of the General Assembly began. The Frederick County Ministerial Assn. rejected it some weeks ago at a meeting.

Traffic Expert Addresses Public School PTA

Despite inclement weather on Wednesday evening the Emmitsburg High School Parent-Teachers Association was privileged to have as its guest speaker, State Trooper 1/c Joseph F. White, of the traffic staff of the state patrol headquarters at Pikesville.

Trooper White noted that the four chief causes of traffic accidents are: (1) Speed to great for existing conditions; (2) Failure to give right of way; (3) Driving too close and (4) Drunk driving. He observed that the three tried and most satisfactory means of eliminating accidents are: (1) Education of both children and adults; Engineering through road improvement and (3) Enforcement by punishing those who persist in disobeying the laws.

The trooper remarked that at least 72 accidents every 24 hours occur in Maryland.

An interesting movie entitled "Then There Were Four" was projected. A report of the school needs was given by Mrs. Scott, who, with a committee of the principal, Arvin P. Jones, Mr. Creager and Mr. Norman Shriver, made the survey.

The attendance banner was awarded Mrs. Ziebell's fifth and sixth grades and Miss Ruth Stull's sophomore class.

President Glenn Springer, presiding at the meeting, reminded the gathering of the bingo party to be held at the Fire Hall on April 18. Kenneth Waganam, Mrs. John Fuss and Mrs. Harry Scott were appointed as a nominating committee to have a slate of prospective officers ready for the next meeting in April.

Following adjournment refreshments were served by a committee.

EARNs DEGREE

Sister Denise Eby of St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, has completed her work at the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., and has earned a master of science degree.

The U. S. Patent Office has issued more than 8,000 patents on machinery to improve the manufacture of leather soles and shoes.

Red Cross Drive Ending; Final Appeal Made To Public

With the Red Cross drive wind-up coming in less than a week, Daniel J. Thomas, campaign chairman, is making a special appeal to all volunteer workers to redouble their efforts to get in the $20,000 total by midnight, Mar. 31, in order that this county's share in the $93 million national fund be promptly recorded.

Last week-end, approximately 30 per cent of the $20,000 sum was in hand. Most of this was collected in the city and only one district in the county had as yet made a full report, Mr. Thomas said. He called on Tobias Zimmerman, who is chairman of the county fund raising, to obtain reports this week from each district under his leadership and endeavor to have all contributions in on time.

"We have had fine progress reports from most of the districts and all feel confident of meeting or oversubscribing their quotas. I understand that in the Thurmont and Emmitsburg areas the response has been much better than last year, with the possibility of a large oversubscription. This is partly due to the great help given by the Red Cross in obtaining gamma globulin to stop the infection jaundice epidemic which was incipient there," Mr. Zimmerman said.

Although the county was lagging far behind Frederick City in campaign reports, since then the gap has been closing as more rural districts have reported.

"This year we are going to try to reverse the experience of former years when the county districts as a whole have been slow in filing complete reports. They have always met their quotas and have never been found lacking in support," Mr. Zimmerman continued, "but we have been a little bit dilatory."

"Let us emulate the Red Cross itself. Certainly it is never slow in coming to our assistance when called on. It has always been prompt to take care of families burned out or hit by flood in this county. It rushed gamma globulin by plane to Thurmont when it was needed to stop disease and save children and their families from suffering. It has taken immediate action in raising its quota of blood donations so that polio victims will no longer face the fear of paralysis, and it was quick to help the 894 veterans and their families who called on them for all kinds of services last year. These are just a few of the things done promptly and without stint by the Red Cross for people right here in Frederick County and we ought to be just as ready to contribute our amount so that the work of the Red Cross may go on throughout the nation."

Methodists To Offer Special Service

There will be a special Holy Week Communion service, conducted at the Trinity Methodist Church next Wednesday evening, April 1, at 7:30 o'clock. The service will be repeated the following evening at the Tom's Creek Methodist Church, Rev. Byron Keeseecker, pastor, announced this week. The public is invited to the Holy Week services.

Fern R. Ohler Re-elected VFW Commander

Fern R. Ohler was elected to succeed himself as Commander of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the annual election of officers held in the post home on Wednesday of last week. In winning the top position of the organization Ohler defeated three other candidates for the job. Two balloting were necessary when the election ended in a 30-30 tie. About 75 members were present at the meeting.

Other officers elected to office were: senior commander, Roger Zurgable; junior commander, Eugene Kraemer; adjutant and finance officer, Lumen Norris; chaplain, Louis F. Rosensteel; surgeon, Dr. J. R. Allison; post advocate, Raymond M. Baker; board of directors: Fern R. Ohler, Lumen F. Norris, Louis H. Stoner, Gerald N. Ryder, Sr.; Louis F. Rosensteel, Roger L. Zurgable, W. E. Rightour, Kenneth D. Bond and Harold M. Hoke.

Installation of the new officers will take place at the next meeting of the club which was recently visited by the state commander.

There are about 24 living species of crocodile.

Cuba became an independent nation May 20, 1902.

Contract For Blinker Let; Installation Soon

The contract for the spotlight to replace the recently removed blinker on the Square was let this week to the Tri-State Electrical Company of Hagerstown. Installation is expected momentarily and the light will be suspended by guy wires from two poles located in front of the Postoffice and Houck's Quality Shop.

In an effort to establish some sort of a curb line, local property owners are being asked to have their curbs repaired. Those having no curbing are asked to have same installed before the State Roads Commission begins its resurfacing project in the near future. It is the policy of the Roads Commission to pave from the roadbed to any curbing that may be near the road. However, if there is no curbing, ragged effects may appear and uneven alignment of the streets will occur.

The cooperation of residents in this matter is respectfully solicited as there is so mandatory order by local officials. Curbing will be provided for the Square by the Corporation of Emmitsburg.

It is also suggested that anyone with trees extending out past curbing lines to have them removed to insure a near perfect alignment of the resurfacing.

CARD PARTY

The St. Joseph's High School PTA will hold its annual card party on Thursday, April 23, it was announced this week by Guy A. Baker, general chairman of the committee in charge.

Telegrams Go Unheeded

Incomplete returns on a telegraphic-lobby, advocating a referendum on "safeguarded" slot-machine operation in Frederick County Wednesday night reported 1,260 wires from Emmitsburg, Thurmont, Brunswick and Frederick voters to the Frederick County delegation at the State Legislature in Annapolis.

Organizations sponsoring the telegrams on a bill to put the issue up to the voters of this county, reported they had received no replies on the question from members of the Frederick County delegation.

Patently a concerted action, the telegrams were individually signed with the names of senders and read:

"I, as a voter of Frederick County, want you to introduce and pass a bill at this session, submitting to referendum permission of patriotic and fraternal organizations of Frederick County, to own and operate coin-operated machines in accordance with safeguards already outlined to you. Will you do this? If not, why not?"

Given Surprise Birthday Party

A surprise birthday party was given Louise Campbell Mar. 17 at her home near Bridgeport.

Those attending the occasion were David Sanders, George Tyler, George and John Springer, William Glass, Clifton and Harold Liller, Kenneth Koontz, Robert and Dean Campbell, Beulah Glass, Pauline Troxell, Dorothy Wandz, Mildred Tyler, Kathryn Audrey and Janet Springer, Mrs. Campbell, and Louise Campbell.

Many lovely gifts were received. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by those attending.

Exonerated On Hit-Run Charge

A charge placed against a local driver of failing to stop after an accident involving personal injuries to a Knoxville man was dismissed Tuesday night by Magistrate Moats of Brunswick.

Charles Benjamin Harner, Emmitsburg Rt. 2, driver of the car, was accused of hitting John C. Grams, who suffered a brush burn on the left elbow and a bruise on the right side of his pelvis.

Harner told officers he did not see Grams and did not know that his car had struck the man on the Petersville Rd. about 7:10 o'clock last Sunday night.

COMMUNITY FUND MEETING MONDAY EVENING

The regular meeting of the board of directors of the Community Fund of Emmitsburg will be held Monday evening, March 30 at 8:00 o'clock in the Veterans of Foreign Wars home on the Center Square.

Alligators are classified as a species of crocodile.

WASHINGTON — Thus far in this current session of Congress, investigations have drawn more public attention than legislation.

That situation, moreover, promises to continue, at least for a time. There are several reasons for this.

One is that, while there is nothing in the Constitution covering the matter, the U. S. Supreme Court has decreed that Congress has the power to investigate just about anything and everything it wishes.

Another reason is that this new Congress has found many things it wishes to investigate—a number of them being situations which have been held over from the reign of the previous Congress.

A third explanation is that the investigatory process lends itself much more suitably, from the standpoint of public viewing, to television than does the more intricate legislative procedure.

And finally, a new Congress—especially when joined by a change of command in the White House—generally is slow in getting its legislative program solidly launched.

The relatively large number of current Congressional investigations that has been prompted by those reasons, among others, has brought with it some complaint about the way in which some of these investigations are conducted.

It is largely in response to that complaint that a House Judiciary subcommittee, headed by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), is using the first specific set of rules in this new Congress for the conduct of investigations. The subcommittee sees a need for them to insure orderly and exact procedures.

Keating, a lawyer, says the investigative power of Congressional committees is both important and necessary but has developed without restrictions being laid down by either practice or the courts.

"Everyone suffers from this want of order and certitude," Mr. Keating says. "The public, thru its legislators, is often defied improperly in its quests for truths to which it is entitled.

"Witnesses sometimes feel oppressed or badgered, and at times their complaints appear to be justified. The courts have expressed their disapproval on occasion by acquitting defendants in contempt prosecutions. The necessary investigative process must not be allowed to fall into disrepute."

Mr. Keating's subcommittee, which has been conducting a news-making investigation of the Justice Dept., first tested its code informally and then unanimously adopted it as standard procedure.

The rules include: Major investigations shall be conducted only with the approval of a committee majority, although the chairman may authorize preliminary inquiries by the staff.

The nature of the pending investigation shall be made known to the witnesses to be summoned and all questions during the investigation shall be relevant and germane.

Secret testimony shall be kept secret unless and until released by authority of a majority of the committee.

Witnesses shall be permitted to have legal counsel in public hearings and in private hearings as well, unless the Committee rules otherwise in the case of the latter.

Witnesses shall be allowed to submit or make supplementary statements after they have been questioned by the Committee.

Persons who feel that their reputations have been damaged by the testimony of others shall be permitted several avenues of recourse. These shall include the

Conservation Practices Prove Healthful to Crops

Proof that conservation practices make money for Frederick County farmers who raise crops on sloping land has been unearthed by the Committee for Conservation Now.

This proof is based on actual field tests on 12 to 16 per cent slopes made at soil conservation experiment stations. The tests show that planting corn on the contour annually saved up to 69 pounds of nitrogen, 103.8 pounds of phosphorus and 722.8 pounds of potash per acre. Without contouring, these amounts were carried away in water and sediment run-off.

While the Committee explained it is difficult to put an actual cash value on the loss of fertility because not all of it is in usable form, the loss per acre can run from $25 to $75 annually. On 25 acres of corn planted on a 12 per cent slope, this annual loss could amount from $500 to over $1,000.

Besides the form of the plant nutrient and the degree of slope, the value of the loss depends upon the type of soil, the soil structure and the amount of rainfall.

Conservation practices which retain fertility, however, unquestionably result in less expense to maintain recommended degrees of fertility and insure greater yields because the fertility is retained for the crop, the Committee pointed out. In either case, the result is a cash asset to the farmer.

The fertilizer losses are especially significant these days because agricultural experiment stations are discovering that even greater amounts of fertilizer than were previously recommended are needed to obtain maximum efficiency from the soil.

right to file sworn statements, testify in their own behalf, call witnesses in their behalf, or seek permission of the Committee to question those witnesses who used their names.

Comparisons of the losses on 12 to 16 per cent slopes with and without conservation are:

An annual nitrogen loss of 102.7 pounds from the uncontroled acre, as contrasted with 33.7 lbs. from the contoured field.

A phosphorus loss of 142.6 lbs. per acre from the uncontroled field, against 38.8 lbs. from the contoured plot.

A potash loss of 1,327 lbs. from the uncontroled acre, contrasted with 604.2 lbs. from the contoured acre.

Without contours, 61.7 tons of top soil were lost annually, as against 15.6 tons from a contoured field. Eroded sediment carried away 95 per cent of the fertility lost, while 5 per cent was carried away in run-off water.

At 14 cents a pound, the cash value of the lost nitrogen adds up to $9.66 per acre. At 8 cents a pound for phosphorus and potash, the losses amount to $8.30 and $57.82 respectively per acre.

While data is not available on other crops, the Committee added that losses of fertility occur from and field subject to soil washing. The Committee also pointed out that assistance in planning and applying practices to reduce plant nutrient losses can be obtained from Soil Conservation Districts or County Agents.

St. Joseph's High School News

The annual retreat for the students will be conducted by Rev. James G. McAvoy, C.M., from Monday, Mar. 30, through Wednesday, April 1.

The "Slip of a Slipper," a colorful operetta, will be presented by the Glee Club on April 12 and 13. Margaret Rocks and Charles Baker will be featured in the leading roles. Among the supporting cast are Eugene Rosensteel, Mary Ann Sease, Geraldine White, and Theodosia Kelly, who lend humor to the plot. The "perfect" butler is portrayed by Edward Ashcroft, while Patricia Dukehart, as fairy Godmother, will be proof positive that fairies do exist.

Tryouts for the Nat'l Tournament of Orators, sponsored by the Baltimore News-Post, will be held today. The subject for the contest this year is "John Marshall."

A movie, "Road to Peace," starring Ann Blyth and Bing Crosby, one of the Family Rosary Crusade films, will be shown today. The film proves that in ages past the Rosary has cured the world's ills and can thus be used as a cure for twentieth century cancers of Communism and Naturalism.

Eighteen aspirants were received into the Children of Mary Assn. Tuesday, Mar. 24. Rev. John D. Sullivan, C.M., pastor of St. Joseph's Church, officiated; Rev. Hugh J. O'Donnell, C.M., professor and Counsellor of students of St. Joseph College, gave a talk to the aspirants. Benediction music was sung by the fourth-year members of the Glee Club.

ELECTRICAL TIPS FOR THE HOME

3 WIRES GIVE VOLTAGE CHOICE If you want greater electrical capacity, start modernizing with a 3-wire service. When 3 wires are installed, both 115 and 230 volts are available for different appliances. The electric range, clothes drier and air cooler are a few using 230 volts. Most other appliances and all lights work on 115 volts. The 3 wires should be of No. 4 size for homes under 1,000 sq. ft., No. 2 size for larger homes.

MATCH PANEL TO SERVICE WIRE When installing an up-to-date electrical system, make sure your main switch or circuit breaker panel is up to the capacity of your 3-wire service. If it isn't, you lose the benefit of a larger service because the main panel governs the amount of electricity which flows through your wiring system. In selecting a panel, be sure to ask for one that will provide for appliances you may add in the future.

REVERENCE, AT EASTER

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

BEHOLDEN TO NO ONE

NOT EVEN THE CENTURIES CAN TWIST FUNDAMENTAL AMERICAN CHARACTER OUT OF SHAPE. OUR EARLIEST SETTLERS, SENSING THE DIGNITY OF THE INDIVIDUAL, SOUGHT INDEPENDENCE — FREEDOM TO RAISE THEIR FAMILIES BEHOLDEN TO NO ONE, THE OPPORTUNITY FOR MATERIAL AND SPIRITUAL ADVANCEMENT. THEY WERE HAPPY TO WORK WITH THEIR NEIGHBORS, BUT THEY WANTED TO STAND ON THEIR OWN FEET TOO.

TODAY, WE LIVE IN A MORE COMPLEX WORLD BUT, BASICALLY, THE OBJECTIVES WE SEEK FOR OURSELVES AND OUR FAMILIES ARE STILL THE SAME. THE HABITS OF HARD WORK AND THRIFT, THE QUALITY OF SELF-RELIANCE — THE DESIRE TO STAND ON OUR OWN FEET, BEHOLDEN TO NO ONE — ARE PRECIOUS GIFTS TO HAND DOWN TO OUR CHILDREN.

Plenty Of Acreage For Tree Planting

About 20,000 acres in Frederick County are best suited for planting of trees rather than for crops or pasture, according to a conclusion jointly reached by the Frederick and Catoctin Soil Conservation Districts and local foresters.

This acreage includes cut-over land, slopes too steep for cultivation or pasture, eroded areas which can be held best by trees, watershed areas subject to rapid surface water run-off and other such land. The need applies generally throughout the County except in parts of the Monocacy Valley.

The 300,000 trees set as a goal for planting this Spring will cover about 300 acres, or about one and one-half per cent of the area recommended. With orders now nearly reaching the goal, the acreage planted might exceed 300.

Nature doesn't do a satisfactory job of reforesting areas needing trees, according to C. E. Covell, local forester. Honeysuckle, for instance, often crowds out tree growth in areas left to themselves.

Rhea Kincaid, conservationist for the soil conservation districts, pointed out that trees are the most profitable crop of many acres of farm land in the county. They not only produce income in future years, but protect the soil.

Additional orders for trees should be placed immediately for most effective results this Spring, according to sponsors of the tree planting program. Foresters recommend that trees be planted in this part of the state before May 1 for best survival. One to two weeks are needed between ordering and delivery of trees.

Efficient scheduling of tree planting machines also depends upon early ordering. Schedules must allow for routing machines to separated sites and must take into account that rain will interrupt plantings.

Orders for trees, which are furnished without cost by the State Dept. of Forests and Parks, can be placed through Soil Conservation Districts, the PMA committee, the County Agent, or by calling the local forester at MO. 3-5441.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

A few million pounds of beef raised in New Zealand, sold cheaply in a few cities of the nation, raised a much greater beef in Washington.

Sales of this beef for less than half prevailing U. S. prices, came as the drive to repeal all U. S. tariff laws was started.

Butchers bought the beef from Swift & Co. for only 17 cents per pound, or less than half current U.S. price for live beef. 39c steaks not only raised widespread public interest, but also three interesting questions.

Question ONE: New Zealand beef was permitted into U. S. because of an embargo on Canadian beef due to cattle disease. So Canadian beef was shipped to England; New Zealand beef, normally shipped to Britain, was taken into the U. S.

The question: How can tariff laws be suspended without the consent of the Congress?

Question TWO: It developed the beef was in the U. S. for several months. But the now expiring Office of Price Stabilization prevented its sale while able.

The question: By what authority could OPS withhold cheap food from the market?

Question THREE: Out in San Francisco, Milton Maxwell, butchers union head, prohibited sale of the meat in all except two markets, which had contracted for the beef before he made his ruling. He claimed the beef was butchered under non-union conditions. But when informed it was killed by the New Zealand union, he still flatly refused to let his union butchers handle the meat.

The question: By what authority can a union leader dictate what foods can be sold?

But the entire New Zealand beef situation is held to throw into sharp focus the muddling created by everybody in Washington, above the rank of a chief clerk, assuming powers reserved by law for Congress. Assumption of power in matter by union leader creates still further questioning as to just who does formulate U. S. policy.

Some claim situation shows how close U. S. is to anarchy, a system where everybody assumes power at will. Under U. S. Constitution, a strong, controlling Congress is set up to avoid anarchy.

Agriculture Department felt reaction first. Secretary Ezra Benson had just announced intention to bring free competition back to farm marketing. But now Agriculture announces re-annulment of butter price support. In all probabilities, U. S. taxpayers will once again pay many millions of dollars to buy up surplus U. S. butter.

Yet a strong effort is underway to abolish all tariff laws.

Yet, despite tariff, and war conditions, so far it has been impossible for U. S. to handle surplus production without spending huge tax sums.

Many feel use of tax money to keep U. S. agriculture healthy is sound policy under existing conditions.

But it will take a lot to convince taxpayers they should be assessed to take care of foreign farmers, too, which will be the result of tariff repeals.

BABSON

Writes . . .

Babson Discusses War
WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 26—For the last two years I have definitely stated that there would be no War III so long as Stalin lived. This is a fact for which much printed evidence exists. Now that Stalin is dead, I have my "fingers crossed."

Watch The British
Malenkov does not want war. He will try to follow Stalin's policy of "tiring them out."

Give cole slaw a new taste sometimes; add sections of fresh orange to it.

Stalin hoped he could drain us of men and money until we suffered from a depression. He, however, did not understand the American people, who are in no mood to compromise with Russian imperialism.

On the other hand, England is prepared to compromise with China in order to hold Hong Kong, to avoid a complete embargo and to prevent Russia from getting to the Mediterranean. Hence, Churchill could be a great factor in bringing the Korean War to an end. Therefore, I still believe that 1953 will see a Korean truce unless one of the satellites kicks over the apple cart.

Watch The Satellites
Another factor is that the Russian army chiefs do not want war. Although they might make a fine showing the first month by overrunning Europe and destroying one or more American cities, they know they would be whipped in the end. They further know this would result in their death or banishment to Siberia.

This, however, is not true of the satellites—Poland, Czechoslovakia, and China. Although these nations are now "under the thumb" of Russia with their people cowed by fear of the Russian police, yet 90 per cent are for freedom from Russian control. Their people are very patriotic and their stooge leaders are praying for some way to get free without themselves being shot, hanged or sent to Siberia.

Would World War III Free The Satellites?

If World War III should come about, Russia would hesitate to arm the people of Poland and Czechoslovakia for fear these satellite armies would join with us and our Allies. Whatever the Communist leaders in these countries might wish, 90 per cent of the people would want an Allied victory.

Every one of their Communist leaders might like to be another Tito. Furthermore, the U. S. and her allies would have no objection to this provided we are assured they will never double-cross us. Probably both Eden and Tito have been discussing this in London. President Eisenhower does not deny any people a Communist economic system of their own choosing; but he will insist on honest dealings and non-interference with other nations.

Stock Market Indications

In short, while we surely want peace; and Russia probably wants peace, the satellite nations surely would like to see Russia and the U. S. come to blows. Hence, the big question today is: "Will one of these satellite nations do something to start World War III?" The recent action of the stock markets indicates this is a possibility.

SENATE CLOAKROOM

By J. GLENN BEALL

U. S. Senator from Maryland Mar. 15 is now passed. Your income tax has undoubtedly been paid, albeit reluctantly, your savings account has probably been considerably reduced and I am sure you are now wondering what Congress will do about reducing taxes.

It is trite but true that most legislators are in favor of all tax reduction bills and all appropriation bills. The cynical claim this is a sure way to be re-elected.

What is an honest answer to the possibilities of tax reduction? A completely frank reply would be that for the immediate future it is not good, but, barring a great emergency, the outlook for the next couple of years is much brighter.

President Eisenhower has stated that the budget must be balanced before taxes are reduced, but added, "which doesn't mean you may not reform taxes."

The President's desire to have a balanced budget is, in my opinion, very sound. An unbalanced budget leads to inflation and a cheapening of money which always results in higher prices and more inflation. A sound economy is always based on a balanced budget.

The administration believes it can present a balanced budget to the Congress next year. Now what are the possibilities of tax reforms? This is a field in which I believe the Congress can be of great service to the people. A good place to start would be by eliminating some of the inequities in the income tax law.

can present a balanced budget to the Congress next year.

The average family figures its own tax and most of them can claim only personal exemptions. When they write in only $600 as a personal exemption they undoubtedly feel that it is ridiculously low.

The wage earner who deducts reading of "depletion allowances," "capital-gains tax," and of the expense account deductions enjoyed by many businesses. It is only natural that the "little fellow" becomes slightly paranoid on Mar. 15 and suffers a feeling of persecution.

In studying tax reduction I think the Congress might do well to consider increasing the exemption to a more realistic figure, say $1000, than an across-the-board cut. A percentage cut is a small cut to the small taxpayer and a big cut for the big taxpayer.

Study also should be given to permitting employed persons to deduct some business expenses. A widow who works in order to support her children should be entitled to deduct something for the expense of a servant or nursery which cares for the children while she is working.

My efforts toward tax reduction will be in those directions.

The New Secretary Of Interior

WASHINGTON — "If the American people ever lose their self-reliance in any great numbers, Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay said to me, "our nation will be destroyed." We were seated in his office in the Interior Dept. for the second in this series of interviews with key people in the Eisenhower administration. The key word in the American language Secretary McKay feels is "opportunity." The government's primary responsibility is to protect and expand it.

Secretary McKay considers the number one job of the Interior Dept. to be the safeguarding of the natural resources so their development may enrich the lives of all Americans. He believes that in most cases private enterprise can best serve in such developments. At my request Mr. Mr-

Kay related a bit of his life story, but the most interesting details came from talks with some of his intimate associates in the department.

School of Hard Knocks

Douglas McKay's Scotch forebears helped settle the West, but his parents were of such modest means that young Doug at 14, was driving a butcher's delivery wagon while getting his high school education piecemeal. He worked his way through Oregon State College, but the beginning of his career was cut short by World War I.

At war's end he got a job selling Ford cars in his home town, Portland, Ore. He lived thrifty, saved his money, and in 1928 bought a small Chevrolet dealership in Salem. Some of his capital was borrowed money and this he paid back early in the depression because he felt the future was so uncertain he might not have it later.

Larry Smyth, veteran writer on the Oregon Journal, was persuaded by the new Secretary to take a leave of absence and work with him for a time in Washington. Smyth covered McKay's political career in Oregon. "When Douglas McKay got in business for himself and began to progress in Salem, he also got into civic work," Smyth told me. "His theory was, and still is, 'that those who take something out of a community should put something back.' McKay's civic work led to his being elected mayor. He next was sent to the state senate.

When World War II started he cut short any further political career and, although handicapped and over-age, he enlisted in the Army again. He remained in service until the Japanese had capitulated. Back in his Salem automobile dealership once more, he was stunned one day in 1947 when the Governor, the Senate President, and the House Speaker all were killed in an airplane accident. A few days later the Oregon Republicans tossed in McKay's hat for governor. He was elected. In 1950, he was re-elected to a four-year term with the biggest vote any Oregon gubernatorial candidate ever received.

His Philosophy

At 59, Douglas McKay feels that the Interior Secretaryship now gives him an opportunity to "put something back into America," for what America has given him. Two actions as Governor of Oregon characterize his governmental philosophy. He closed Oregon Indian reservation schools, and brought the Indian youngsters into the public schools, and at the same time repealed all state laws discriminating against Indians. And when a vast acreage of Oregon timberland was denuded and left barren, he organized a great locally-financed and locally-managed reforestation project, sowing seed with helicopters, instead of relying on the Federal government to do it.

As Interior Secretary he wants gradually to end the government's jurisdiction over the Indians, give them full citizenship responsibilities and let them become self-reliant. Paternalism for anyone, he thinks, is destructive.

"I believe in private enterprise," he said at the close of the interview. "But it must earn its way. For instance, atomic energy is being developed by our government. It holds great promise for the future. At the proper time, I believe it should be gradually transferred to private industry — but not as a gift. There are, on the other hand, some individual projects that seem fitted to public ownership, and in such cases I think public ownership and private ownership can and must work side by side."

College Professor Script Editor For "Voice"

Amidst all the turmoil and ferment occasioned by the deaths of dictators Stalin and Gottwald, the conclusions of a new publication "The Educational Rights of the Church and Elementary Schools in Belgium," by the Rev. Fr. Gommard DePauw, professor of moral theology at Mt. St. Mary's College, have been beamed behind the Iron Curtain by the Voice of America in recent broadcasts. The aim of the broadcasters is obviously to emphasize the rights of the Church to educate its followers according to the tenets of the Catholic religion without interference from the government—a right that is steadily being ignored in every country—even the most Catholic ones—under Communist control.

Dr. DePauw, a Belgian scholar who was captured by the Germans during the Battle of Dunkirk and later escaped from a German war prisoner camp to continue his theological studies, holds degrees from the University of Louvain and from the Catholic University of America to whom his study of Belgian Church-State relations in education was submitted as a doctoral dissertation.

From his study of the status of education and the scope of school legislation in Belgium, Dr. DePauw concludes that "the Belgian school systems stands, in a world of frictions and conflicts of all kinds, as a living proof that school controversies among the citizens of the same nation can be avoided, and that an equitable solution for the school problem can be found in the harmonious coordination of the rights and duties of families, Church, and State."

Dr. DePauw also points out that "those people who maintain that Catholicism is finally aiming at the totalitarian imposition of its views upon all members of the nation should look into the Belgian elementary system. There is a country where still the overwhelming majority of the citizens are members of the Catholic Church; where that Church can at present day rely on a favorable political majority in both houses of Parliament and totally Catholic government. Under such circumstances the Catholics insist on maintaining a school legislation that actually does not give the Catholic Church any privileged status, but sanctions equality and freedom for all religious and philosophical convictions.

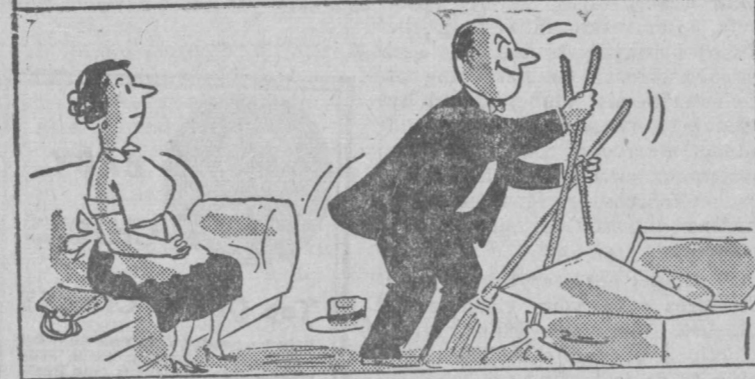

According to Dr. DePauw the Belgian State differs from the authoritarian State which makes itself absolute even in the field of education by recognizing that its part in elementary education is only secondary. Hence it declares itself ready to support each and every school that measures up to its educational standards and submits to inspection. The government lays down a definite curriculum for all communal and State subsidized schools, and requires strict professional training for all licensed teachers. In this way the State guarantees that the technical and civil education of its citizens is fully provided for.

The present Belgian school law also clearly distinguishes between "subsidies to schools" and "school aid to children" which is considered by the legislator as given not to the school, but to the children, irrespective of the school they attend.

ever wonder where you'll be ten years from now? Will you be living the same way as you are now? Will you have a nicer home—more room for your family... for entertaining? Sure you will—if you salt away something every time money comes in. For most folks that's payday. Whatever way your money comes in, there's an automatic way to save. The Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. Either way, you'll be saving in United States Defense Bonds. And remember — Defense Bonds are now even better. STARLIGHT ON YOUR TABLE

EASTERTIDE, THE FORERUNNER of a bright new season, seems an especially propitious occasion for entertaining good friends in your home.

A buffet is one of the more attractive tables to set before your guests, and affords opportunity for originality and imagination, both as to table decoration and choice of menu.

Appropriate to this or any season is Starlight, a pattern in fine china created by Lenox. On the smart Coupe shape, Starlight features a center decoration of brown star-like flowers accented by raised jewel-like enamel centers in a striking powder blue.

Maple Nut Fruit-Jells— For Your Kitchen "Candy Store"

By Frances Barton

A visit to the store for candy used to be one of the biggest treats in our young lives — and children today cherish the same confection. So why not make some Maple Nut Fruit-Jells — the little ones can have this treat at home?

Maple-Nut Fruit-Jells Candy
Yield: about 5 dozen candies (1 1/4 lbs.)
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup light corn syrup

1/2 teaspoon maple flavoring
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
Pour fruit pectin into 2-quart saucepan. Stir in soda. (Pectin will not set if soda is added.) Mix sugar and syrup in another saucepan. Place both saucepans over highest heat. Cook both mixtures, stirring alternately, until foam has disappeared from pectin mixture and sugar mixture is boiling rapidly. (This takes about 3 to 5 minutes.)
Pour pectin mixture in a slow steady stream into boiling sugar mixture, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute longer. Remove from heat. Stir in flavoring and chopped walnuts. Pour immediately into 8x8-inch pan. (Or use 8-inch pie pan or round layer pan, or 9 1/2 x 5 1/4 or 10 x 6-inch loaf pan.) Let stand at room temperature until mixture is firm and cool (about 3 hours). Cut into 1/2-inch squares and roll in confectioners' sugar.
Note: If candies are to be stored in airtight container, let stand overnight at room temperature before storing, to

Your Personal Health

Do you feel that you are looking all the time through a cloudy window?

If familiar objects no longer appear as clearly to you as they used to, your trouble may be a cataract. This is a clouding of the lens of the eye, which grows more dense as the cataract progresses. It reduces vision much as if the eye were misted by a waterfall, from which it takes its name.

If you think you have a cataract, go to a qualified eye physician. He will give you a thorough examination and tell you what must be done.

The most common cause of cataracts is age. They can, of course, and do, occur at any age. Young children may rarely develop cataracts. Cataracts also may be caused by injury to the lens and by such diseases as hardening of the arteries and diabetes, and by vitamin deficiency diseases and kidney disorders. Cataracts are most common after middle age is reached, as the eye lens gradually hardens and its focusing power is reduced.

Of course, not everything which interferes with your vision is a cataract. There are many other afflictions of the eye. The first thing to do is to find out what is wrong. Many eye troubles, including cataracts, can be cleared up, if treated in time. Delay may mean blindness.

The doctor will tell you if you have a cataract, or some other disorder which may be mistaken for a cataract. If his diagnosis is a cataract, he will probably prescribe surgery. If he does, don't be alarmed. In most cases, especially where the cataract is caused by age, this is a fairly simple operation. The surgeon merely removes the cloudy lens, while the patient is under local anesthesia. Usually, the stay in the hospital is relatively brief.

In our grandfather's day, it was the practice to allow the cataract to "ripen" or develop an advanced degree of density before removal was attempted. Today, surgery is so skilled and painless that such a delay is unnecessary. If you have a cataract, let your physician decide when, and if, an operation is needed. It may not be.

For further information, you can write to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, 1790 Broadway, New York 19, N.Y., for its pamphlet "What You Should Know About Cataracts."

Any leftover barbecue sauce around? Serve over shirred eggs for Sunday brunch.

Homemakers' Corner

If you want good service from slip cover fabrics, examine the weave and look for labels.

Home furnishings specialist point out that the way threads are woven will make a smooth, rough, close or open weave fabric. It is suggested that you hold fabrics up against light to see if the weave is tight or open, and if the threads are of regular size. Then examine a thread on the cut end for strength.

Tight weaves resist dust and smooth surfaces resist soil and wear. The weave may be made more dust resistant with a washable coating or filler. This treatment also makes the fabric resistant to soil. Look on the label for the kind of finish used and for washing instructions.

You needn't be caught short when unexpected company drops in at meal time if you'll have an emergency food shelf. Nutritionist says prepared food from the home freezer and canned foods set aside can help you meet such an emergency. If you have sufficient storage space, set aside a special place for canned meats, fruits, vegetables, soups, packaged mixes, cereal products, flavorings and condiments. You'll find this food supply handy, too, if you're unable to get to the grocery store for several days. Careful planning of an emergency food supply and constant replacement of food when necessary will give you a sense of security.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Biff" Falls for His Own Story

Biff Morgan's four-year-old daughter Rusty is something of a night owl. Stays awake way past her bedtime.

Every night Mrs. Morgan complained about how hard it was to get Rusty to go to sleep. Finally Biff decided to handle the situation. "Anyone can get a kid to sleep — takes a little patience! Here, hand me her storybook."

He grabs the book and goes into Rusty's room. About an hour later Rusty comes padding out in pajamas and hands her mother the book. "Read it quietly," she whispers, "so we don't wake Daddy."

From where I sit, Biff won't be so quick to be a "child-care specialist" the next time. If we could just resist being such "know it alls," our neighbors would be better off. Take those who would deny me a glass of beer with my supper — well, I might not care for the buttermilk they like. We all ought to realize that we all have different abilities and different preferences, too.

4 powerful reasons why you get more of what you want...

1953 Chevrolet Advance-Design Trucks do more work for less money!

more engine power!

Advanced Loadmaster engine—standard equipment on 5000 and 6000 Series heavy-duty and forward-control models, optional on 4000 Series heavy-duty trucks.

more braking power!

In 1953, all Chevrolet trucks up to 4000 Series heavy-duty models have "Torque-Action" brakes. Series 4000 and above use extra-large "Torque-Action" brakes in front, "Twin-Action" type in rear.

more staying power!

Now, heavier, stronger, more durable frames increase rigidity, add to ruggedness and give more stamina than ever to all 1953 Chevrolet trucks.

more economy!

The new stamina of Chevrolet trucks, plus extra gasoline economy in heavy-duty models with improved Loadmaster engine, reduces hauling costs per ton-mile.

MORE CHEVROLET TRUCKS IN USE THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

first in demand in volume in sales

Maryland
Farm Front

The first checks in payment of the government's share of the cost of soil building practices carried out under the 1952 Agricultural Conservation Program will shortly be received by Maryland farmers.

According to George J. Martin, chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing State Committee, about 15,000 farmers will receive government assistance for 1952 ACP practices. This is about half of the farmers in Maryland, but it represents about 65 per cent of the State's cropland, he said.

Checks will be received until about the end of May, when payments are expected to be completed. The pay represents about half of the cash cost of carrying out soil-building practices, not including labor or machinery furnished by the farmers, Mr. Martin pointed out.

More than 24,500 farmers are enrolled in the 1953 ACP, according to the State PMA chairman.

Believes Movies' Future Secure

Simon H. Fabian, president of the Stanley Warner Corp., which now operates the Majestic Theatre in Gettysburg, issued a statement, according to Sydney Poppay, manager of the theatre, to all employees, expressing his solid confidence in the future of the motion picture business and his optimistic outlook for increase in public patronage in the next few months.

"We firmly believe," said Mr. Fabian, "that the revolutionary developments of 3-D and Big Screen as well as Theatre Television hold the promise of rewards as great, or greater than those our industry has received in the past. Our experience with the Fabian Theaters has convinced us that today there is a very real potential for recapturing so-called 'lost' audiences and winning new ones.

We are eager to exploit these developments, and the opportunities they afford, to the fullest—utilizing all the resourcefulness
